Loretta Gillespie
Tribune Correspondent

CULLMAN – This year's Bloomin' Fest Arts and Crafts Fair at St. Bernard Prep School in Cullman is just in time for all of the gorgeous spring blooms that have come bursting out over the past few days. This year's event is scheduled for April 22-23, 2017.

The annual event, a juried two-day arts and crafts festival, which brings in thousands of visitors, vendors and volunteers, is a welcome respite from the cold days and dreary gray skies of winter, giving people the opportunity to get out and stretch their legs, get some sunshine on their faces and discover new items on display along the sidewalks of the beautiful St. Bernard campus.

This year there are new vendors, as well as your favorites from past events. Stained glass will be sparkling in the sun, along with all kinds of crafts and brightly colored needlework.

You'll also find folk art, hand-painted windows, metal art, recycled sculpture, leather goods, purses, wall art and furniture, handmade soaps and much more.

With approximately 140 vendors on hand, the selection of gifts and artwork at this event is incredible!

Commission proclaims April 1 Colors of Cancer Day; BBB Shred Day this Saturday

Heather Mann
heather@cullmansense.com

CULLMAN – The Cullman County Commission this morning proclaimed Saturday, April 1 Colors of Cancer Day in Cullman County. The Colors of Cancer Day event, sponsored by the Cullman County Bosom Buddies Foundation, will take place this Saturday at the Cullman County Fairgrounds and Sportsman Lake Park.

Taking comments from the public, the commission heard from a representative from the Better Business Bureau, who shared that the BBB Shred Day will take place in the King Edward Plaza shopping center this Saturday, April 1 from 8:30 a.m.-noon.

This is a day when residents can bring confidential documents, old electronics and prescription medications for secure disposal at no cost. The BBB will also be hosting a food drive for Cullman Caring for Kids.

Next, the commission approved an abatement of $19 million to Topre America Corp. for equipment.

Due to a clerical error, the commission moved the public hearing date for the vacating of County Road 1615 to May 23.

The county administrator was approved to participate in an actuarial study for post-employment benefits.

The next two orders of business regarded the Regional Housing Authority. The appointment of Ginger Hicks to the RHA will reflect a 5-year term ending in April 2022, and the reappointment of Linda Cabri will have a term expiration on April 14, 2021.

The commission approved participating in the annual "Free Dump" program in May.

This program will allow residents, on any day of their choosing, to bring their trash to the dump at no cost.

Some restrictions apply: liquids cannot be accepted so they must be mixed with sand or cat litter before disposal, and there is a one-time limit for residents to bring their garbage.

The next three points on the agenda regarded finances. The commission voted to approve paying $60,000 toward the Volunteer Fire Department Training Facility, paying $39,490.63 to UAB for medical services performed on an inmate, and increasing the funds for the Veteran's Day celebration to $4,000.

After that, Chairman Kenneth Walker signed an agreement with the Alabama Department of Environmental Management to work together on collecting and disposing of scrap tires found on roadways.

The last order of business before adjourning was the consideration of a plot of land on County Road 222 for a subdivision, which was approved.

The next commission meeting will be held on Tuesday, April 11, at 10 a.m. in the commission meeting room at the Cullman County Courthouse.

Cullman Council agrees to $800K in cash incentives for Academy Sports + Outdoors

W.C Mann
craig@cullmansense.com

CULLMAN – In its regular meeting Monday evening, the Cullman City Council agreed to offer Academy Sports + Outdoors financial incentives of up to $800,000 over the first eight years the company's store operates in Cullman. Mayor Woody Jacobs and Council President Garlan Gudger were absent (both were out of town); the vote to approve was unanimous among council members present.

The incentive is offered under Alabama Constitution Amendment 772. Project Attorney Trey Hill explained that the amendment "authorizes the City of Cullman to lend its credit to, or grant things of value to a private enterprise, provided that it promotes economic development within the city."

Academy plans to construct a 62,000-square-foot facility on an 8-acre lot on Lee Avenue, with an $8 million capital investment.

The company predicts that the store will create 100 new jobs and generate $12 million in sales per year, resulting in approximately $270,000 in sales tax paid to Cullman annually.

Business licensing and other costs will add to that amount.

In return, the City agreed to grant two incentives to Academy:

• Up to $800,000 in cash payments over an eight-year period. The dollar amount is a ceiling, and the total could be lower. The amount paid each year will be the lower of $110,000 or half of the 1.5 percent sales tax Academy will pay to Cullman. The amount will be tied to the amount of sales tax paid. The incentive payment amounts to a partial rebate of sales tax paid, and payments will cease after eight years.

• The City will run a 6-inch sanitary sewer line to the northern boundary of the site, and remove a storm pipe southwest of Lee Avenue.

Certain protections for the City are built into the plan:

• If Academy does not perform, Cullman will not be required to make payments.

• Academy will have to submit a payment request at least 30 days before payment is expected.

• Money will not be handed over to Academy until after the company has made its tax payment each year.

• Academy will be required to begin construction within 360 days of the passage of the agreement.

According to Academy's Senior Real Estate Manager Marc Millis, who flew in from Texas for the council meeting, the company plans to close on the property by the end of April, and will begin construction in February 2018 with a target opening date in September 2018.

In other business, the council also approved the following measures (from the agenda):

• A request from Sewer Superintendent Chris Freeman to purchase from a city bid 10 flow meters from ADS Environmental Services in the budgeted amount of $52,000.

• A resolution to award the bid for one or more traffic signal preemption systems to the lowest responsible bidder, Temple, Inc., in the budgeted amount of $4,571.42 per system. The systems will allow firefighters to control traffic lights remotely while enroute to emergencies, to stop cross traffic flow.

The council also approved two board appointments:

• Police Chief Kenny Culpepper was reappointed to the City Alcohol Review Committee.

• Wes Moore was reappointed to Medical Clinic Board No. 2.

The Cullman City Council meets at 7 p.m. on the second and fourth Monday evenings of each month at Cullman City Hall.

The public is invited to attend.

Colony plans summer food program for community youth

W.C Mann
craig@cullmansense.com

COLONY – During its regular meeting Tuesday evening, the Colony Town Council approved a summer food program for community youth ages 18 and younger.

The program will be supported by the North Alabama Food Bank, which will provide pre-made breakfasts and lunches. Colony will recruit volunteers to serve meals, supervise kids and provide activities on weekdays. Under the rules of the federally-funded program, the entity providing the meals must also provide onsite educational or enrichment activities.

Based on the motion that passed, the program will begin the first weekday of June and continue until the last weekday of July.

The council also passed motions to hold a special program to honor area veterans on Memorial Day in May (without discussing any details), and to solicit quotes for landscaping around new flagpoles the Town is buying to replace old equipment outside the town hall.

The council then heard a motion from Councilman Curtis Johnson to hire a seasonal maintenance/janitorial worker. The Town previously did away with two part-time year-round positions that were judged to cost too much. After a brief discussion about whether the maintenance position was connected to the landscaping project, and being assured that the two were separate, the council allowed the motion to die without a second.

Committee reports

• Finance: Councilwoman Jamelle Dimbo reported that the budget and operations manual were completed and ready for committee review, before presentation to the council.

• Fire/Police: Councilwoman Tam Malcom reported that a fire extinguisher training class will be held this Saturday, April 1, at 10 a.m. in the library.

• Streets/Drainage: Councilman Julian Fields reported that new stop signs have arrived, along with posts and hardware, and are waiting to be installed.

• Parks and Recreation: Councilman Curtis Johnson reported that he will open the Community Center on Wednesday, March 29, from 8 a.m. until noon.

• Sanitation/Utility: Councilwoman Myra Twitty presented estimates for the installation of new floodlights around the town hall.

The Colony Town Council meets at 6 p.m. on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. The public is invited to attend.

CCSO arrests 7 over the weekend; 4 for chemical endangerment of a child

CULLMAN COUNTY – Three separate search warrants lead to the arrests of seven individuals in Cullman County over the weekend. The arrests were made by the Cullman Narcotics Enforcement Team (CNET), along with investigators and deputies with the Cullman County Sheriff's Office (CCSO). The execution of a search warrant on County Road 1606 in the Berlin community led to the recovery of a meth lab, 2 grams of methamphetamine and a small amount of marijuana. Authorities say two minor children were present in the home where the meth lab was found. The Cullman County Department of Human Resources was contacted and the children were taken from the residence.

February's rate represents 136,826 unemployed persons, compared to 141,217 in January and 130,283 in February 2016. Cullman County's rate is 5.3 %, down from 5.7% in January.

Hanceville council opens bids, awards contracts to resurface 3 streets

HANCEVILLE – The Hanceville City Council met Thursday evening, opening bids for materials and labor to resurface three city thoroughfares: Helen Warren Vogel Street, Whaley Avenue and McNutt Drive. Two separate bids were taken: the first for 950 tons of asphalt, and the second for the resurfacing work (including transportation of the asphalt). The total budget for the project was not to exceed $100,000.

Wallace State baseball coach Randy Putman reaches 1,000 career victories with program after Sunday's DH sweep HANCEVILLE – Wallace State baseball coach Randy Putman achieved 1,000 career victories with the Lions on Sunday after a pair of convincing wins over Calhoun at James C. Bailey Stadium. And, in a season that has been impressive across the board, Wallace State made sure Putman earned the milestone without too much drama. The Lions scored 23 runs in the doubleheader, including hitting six homers on the day. Wallace State won 13-1 in eight innings and 10-0 in five innings.

Go fly a kite!

FAIRVIEW – On April 1 at 11 a.m. Peggie Knop of Fairview will continue a two-decades-old tradition of hosting a kite flying day at her home. "This all started when my niece and her friends were in children's church and they wanted to go flying kites and the big kids asked if they could join," Knop said. "'Well, of course you can join,' I said. I was not going to tell kids they could not fly kites." Knop, who has been teaching Sunday school at Welcome Baptist Church for 50 years, provides the kites, food and drinks. "I get small donations throughout the year to help cover the cost of the kites and the string," she said. "I used to have fundraisers and bake sales, but now I just collect aluminum cans." This year Knop said she will be providing hot dogs, pizza, drinks and desserts. The event is a humble one, with 100 people in attendance being some of the biggest crowds Knop said she has ever hosted. The event takes place at 2723 County Road 1554 in Fairview.

Community comes together for Claire Byars

WEST POINT – The rain may have moved the event indoors, but it did nothing to dampen the fervor of those who turned out to pray together for a little girl this weekend. Community members, family and friends of 2-year-old Claire "Bear" Byars gathered in the gymnasium of West Point High School for a candlelight prayer vigil for Claire and her family. Claire has a rare cancer and is receiving treatment in Philadelphia.

CHS Performing Arts welcomes special guests to "Shrek"

CULLMAN – There were some special guests at last Thursday night's opening performance of "Shrek: The Musical" at Cullman High School. Cullman mayor proclaims April Child Abuse Prevention & Awareness Month

Leanne West, Office of Cullman Mayor Woody Jacobs

CULLMAN – Cullman Mayor Woody Jacobs on Wednesday officially proclaimed the month of April 2017 Child Abuse Prevention & Awareness Month in the city of Cullman. According to current national statistics, five children die from child abuse or neglect every day in the U.S. Approximately four million children are reported abused or neglected each year, with more than 1,500 dying from their injuries and many others carrying the burden of their maltreatment into adulthood. Children younger than the age of 4 are the most frequent victims. Abused children are more likely to suffer from substance abuse, depression, learning disabilities, school failure, emotional and behavioral disorders, criminal activity and an inability to foster healthy relationships. They are also six times more likely to abuse their own children.

Cullman mayor proclaims April Autism Awareness Month; An autism family's journey

CULLMAN – Mayor Woody Jacobs has officially proclaimed the month of April 2017 Autism Awareness Month in the city of Cullman. Jacobs made the announcement on Monday and presented a signed and sealed proclamation to those in attendance. Autism is a lifelong neurological disorder. According to recent statistics, approximately one in 68 children are diagnosed with an Autism Spectrum Disorder. Autism affects everyone differently, and can range from very mild to severe. It knows no racial, ethnic, or social boundaries and affects young and old alike.

DIY Network's Kayleen McCabe tours Cullman Co. Schools, promotes skilled-trade careers

HANCEVILLE – Kayleen McCabe is not what most folks would consider your average woman. Yes, she wears heels and earrings, and carries a purse; but the heels are attached to work boots, the earrings are tiny wrenches and her purse is a tool box. And when she talks about careers in skilled trades, guys and gals alike pay attention.

Rebirth of a theater program: West Point HS Performing Arts presents "High School Musical"

WEST POINT – West Point High School (WPHS) hasn't had an organized theater program since the 1990s, so expectations for its first restart effort could be low. The Performing Arts program took on "High School Musical" with very little budget and without a sound system in its inventory, so expectations could be low. They put on the show in a temporarily-repurposed gym on the opening weekend of Spring Break, so expectations could be low. Expectations could also be wrong. By Saturday afternoon, WPHS Performing Arts Director Ty Parker was pleased with what he had seen. "It has been incredible, so far," said Parker. "We had school performances Thursday and Friday, and those were very successful; the students really enjoyed it. I think it's more than they expected it to be, so that's a great thing to have. It's been awesome."

Two newer epilepsy drugs may not harm the thinking skills or IQs of school-aged children whose mothers took them while pregnant – but an older drug is linked to cognitive problems in children, especially if their mothers took high doses, according to new research from The University of Manchester. Valproate, one of the most commonly prescribed antiepileptic medications, has been associated in the past with birth defects and developmental problems. However, two newer drugs – levetiracetam and topirimate – have had little or no investigations into their developmental impact until this latest research, published in Neurology, the medical journal of the American Academy of Neurology.

A year's course of benralizumab injections has led to a significant decrease in the frequency of asthma exacerbations – cutting the rate of exacerbations by a third to a half compared with placebo among people with the most severe form of asthma, according to two studies published in The Lancet. Asthma affects an estimated 315 million people worldwide, approximately ten percent of whom have severe or uncontrolled asthma. Patients with severe asthma require treatment with high-dose inhaled corticosteroids (ISC) and long-acting beta agonists (LABA) to control the illness – both are delivered in the form of inhalers. However, for patients, current treatments fail to control their asthma.

Benzodiazepines are drugs typically prescribed for the treatment of neurological and/or psychological conditions, including anxiety, insomnia and seizure disorders. Both classes of drugs depress the central nervous system (CNS depressants); however, each has unique pharmacology, safety risks and labeling information related to its use.

An inside look at Cullman's highly-anticipated, record-setting gun range

Take a tour with Cullman Shooting Sports Facility Manager, Doug Long

W.C. Mann
craig@cullmansense.com

CULLMAN – When Cullman Shooting Sports (CSS) opens its new state-of-the-art facility, it will likely be the only one of its kind in the country. Its 110-yard indoor rifle range will be the longest indoor gun range in the Southeast the longest, above-ground, public range in the nation (the current record-holding indoor above-ground range is 101 yards); and its equipment will allow activities from digital video game style shooting in a simulation room, to tactical live-fire exercises against programmable moving targets on the pistol and rifle ranges. Manager Doug Long foresees CSS helping Cullman become a regional or even national center for shooting sports.

The range, which is already under construction, will be located at the intersection of Alabama Highways 157 and 69.

The Tribune toured the CSS site this week with Long, who shared information and pointed out coming features as we walked through the different areas under development.

The facility will include:

• Climate-controlled ranges with air filtration. Long: "The air handlers are massive, the air conditioning system that also filters out the lead, the gunpowder, and everything else in the air. What you breathe inside this place will be cleaner than anything you breathe outside. Because the air handling system actually puts a negative pressure in here so nothing in here ever gets out, you have to pass through an airlock to get into the pistol chamber or the rifle chamber."

• Eight 110-yard rifle lanes. Long: "These are 6- and 8-inch tilt-up concrete walls; they tested these at about 6,000 psi. No real worry about anything getting out. Our bullet trap down at the end is rated for .50 BMG (.50 caliber Browning machine gun cartridge), though we're not going to allow .50 BMG; .338 Lapua, .308--that's fine."

• Nine 25-meter lanes for rifle or pistol use. Long: "The pistol range is also rifle rated. We're using the exact same materials in there that we are in (the rifle range)."

• The ranges will feature automatic target movement and retrieval systems. Long: "We actually sunk the main amount of money (for range equipment) into our retrieval system. We went with their (Action Target brand) absolute top of the line all-wheel drive retriever system that's wireless, so it goes down, it's got the turning targets: it'll do tactical training, it'll do shoot/don't shoot targets, it will rush you. You can tell it to do whatever. It's a very, very cool system."

• The ranges will also have adjustable firing benches that are 3-feet deep to accommodate rifle sleds, with lips on the leading edges to accommodate bipods. Long: "Something completely different from most ranges: our tables will actually adjust in height, all the way from prone up to sitting. It's going to have touch screen controllers on all of these in the rifle and pistol ranges."

• Noise reduction built into the structure of the building. Long: "Outside of these (range) walls, we'll have about a 6-inch air gap in between the walls, and then we're putting up block walls all the way around this. That's for noise. That vapor barrier is the perfect noise killer. We're trying to do everything above standards. We've spent extra money to purchase sound-absorbent material; all the way around behind the firing line and about 12 yards in front will be sound-absorbing material. There's no noise ordinances out here, but we want to be good neighbors."

• Two virtual firearm training simulator rooms, using immersive and interactive technology from Ti Training Corporation. Long: "Kids can go in and pop balloons with a plastic gun that's almost like a Nintendo; but the parents can go in there, and I can put them in a home invasion situation."

• Firearms rental for onsite use, for customers who want to try before they buy. Long: "If you're coming in and looking to buy a firearm, you can rent the ones you want to try out and see if you actually like it before you buy. The last thing we want is for someone to buy a gun, get it home, and go 'Oh, I hate that.'"

• Conference rooms for classes, as well as private and corporate rentals. Long: "It could be for a church group that wants to come in and have a party, or a birthday party; we can have it set up for a bachelorette party! It's for team-building; it's for corporations. You come in, we cater in a meal, and they all go out on the range together or the simulator room. Those will also serve as our larger classrooms for hunter safety, or AR-15 maintenance, or beginners' shooter classes. We can configure it in just about any format."

• Lounge where shooting enthusiasts can just hang out and socialize. Long: "We're hoping to partner with local restaurants to come in and do catering; maybe food trucks to come in. Our lounge area is just a place for people who love guns to sit down, drink a cup of coffee, talk and watch videos. We're not going to have a lot of paper signage; we're going to have digital screens all around."

• Retail store featuring most major firearm brands. Long: "We're going to have six pistol cases that go all the way around. They'll be fully walk-around cases, and then we'll have rifles on the wall. A whole different feel of a gun store. We're not going to have counters. You're not going to walk into our place and have two guys with their arms crossed, looking at you like 'Let's see how we can humiliate this one.' This is going to be very new shooter-friendly, very woman-friendly; plus we're going to make the established shooters feel right at home."

• Eventually a 25-meter tactical range, where shooters don't have to stay on a firing line. They will be able to fire from a regular firing line, and also move downrange all the way to the bullet trap while engaging targets at multiple ranges in the same firing exercise.

W.C. MANN/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

CSS Facility Manager Doug Long

CSS is a subsidiary of Arming Freedom, a longtime Cullman firearms corporation.

"This is a dream of many years," said Long. "We've done a lot of research, a lot of diligence, finding out exactly what we could do, making something that's going to be the best facility available. Cullman deserves that. Cullman should be the shooting destination for the Southeast, if not the nation. This is going to be the premier training facility in the Southeast. This is going to be the place where you can learn how to shoot, or learn how to shoot better. No wasted ammo here."

names, or people who just love walking and looking at pretty gardens decked out in spring blooms. There is something for everyone on the five April Walking Tours.

Some 28 towns across Alabama will be on display during Saturday mornings in April as part of the Alabama Tourism Department's April Walking Tours.

Tour guides will lead the free tours through the historic districts or courthouse square areas of their hometowns. The hour-long tours will start at 10 a.m. on April 1,8, 15, 22 and 29.

Towns and starting places for the April Walking Tours are: Athens, Athens Visitor Center; Attalla, Gazebo at 4thSt.and 5th Ave.; Bayou La Batre, Mariner Park; Birmingham, Birmingham Civil Rights Institute; Courtland, Courtland Heritage Museum; Cullman, Cullman County Museum; Daleville, Chamber of Commerce; Decatur, Old State Bank Building; Elba, Chamber of Commerce; Enterprise, The Rawls Hotel; Eutaw, Prairie Avenue; Fairhope, Fairhope Welcome Center; Florence, various locations; Foley, Welcome Center. Huntsville, Confectionary Shop at Constitution Village (April 1 & 8 only); Livingston, McConnell Field on University of West Alabama campus; Madison, Madison Roundhouse (April15 & 22 only); Mobile, Welcome Center at The History Museum of Mobile; Montgomery; Montgomery Area Visitor Center; Mooresville, Post Office; Moulton, Lawrence County Archives; Pell City, City Hall; Prattville, Prattaugan Museum; Selma, Selma-Dallas County Library; Sheffield, Sheffield Municipal Building; Shelby, Iron Works Park; Troy, Pike County Chamber of Commerce; Tuscumbia, ColdWater Bookstore.

The tours are being coordinated by Brian Jones with the Alabama Tourism Department.

"Alabama is the only state in the nation to hold statewide, simultaneous walking tours. These Walking Tours are a great way to get out and enjoy the spring weather and find out about the history of our state. More than 32,000 people have participated in the walking tours since the beginning of the program 14 years ago, and they keep increasing in popularity every year," Jones said.

"This year's Walking Tour will be in the area around Third Avenue." said Drew Green, museum historian and tour guide extraordinaire.

"On this year's tour we have several interesting stops. You'll find out something unique the location of Carlton's Restaurant and its current owner have with Cullman history."

Did you know that the corner of Third Avenue East and Highway 278 was once known as the "Busy Corner?"

People often made a purchase on the mezzanine of the Griffin Store (the current Methodist activity center) and had it carried across the street before it was delivered to their home.

Learn about the original location of Cullman's oldest restaurant and why it got the name Busy Bee.

The new All-Steak has an interesting connection to historic architecture in Cullman and also a connection to a Broadway play.

The walks start each Saturday at 10 a.m. on the front steps of the Cullman County Museum.

"The tours are rain or shine events and the only reason they would be canceled is dangerous weather," said Green. "The walk usually lasts around an hour."

There will be frequent stops for people who need to sit down. "Each Saturday will have a different local historian as a leader, so come every week to learn more!" said Green.

"Every walk is different because the leaders and the participants bring unique insights each Saturday."

More information about the April Walking Tours is available on the Alabama Tourism Department website at www.alabama.travel.

Locally you may contact Drew Green at the Cullman County Museum for more information.

Aquaponics (from Front)

Loretta Gillespie
Tribune Correspondent

CULLMAN – Want to try something new, innovative and productive? Aquaponics is an intriguing and increasingly popular way of growing fruits and vegetables, integrating aquaculture (gardening or farming under water) with horticulture. This provides homeowners and farmers with fresh fish and vegetables, and a method of controlling both. A special class will be held on April 11 at the North Alabama Agriplex in Cullman.

The semi-intensive nature of aquaponics systems make them perfect for backyard gardeners or people who have tracts of land less than 1 acre.

Alabama Extension specialist in aquaculture and aquatic resources, Dr. David Cline, explained the system, "It maximizes water use and utilizes all the nutrients in fish feed to grow two crops, plants and fish. It helps connect people with their food and builds on the local and sustainable food movements."

The class, under the instruction of specialists from Auburn University School of Fisheries, Aquaculture and Aquatic Sciences, and the AU Horticulture Department, with more than 25 combined years of aquaponics experience, will demonstrate how to begin a system or offer guidance in ways to improve a system already in production.

Beginners, small scale hobbyists or people who want to develop a commercial operation will find this class informative and helpful. Instructors will be hands-on and there to help.

Cline explained that the event is suited for anyone interested in aquaponics, "The purpose of the workshop is to provide an introduction to aquaponics," said Cline. "It is suitable for current producers as well as those who are just curious."

The workshop will include information on selecting fish and plants, putting theory into practice, small scale systems, how to size your system, plant nutrition and pests, and offer small scale marketing tips.

Classes will be held at the North Alabama Agriplex in Cullman on April 11 from 9:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.

It is very important that you register in advance. The cost of the class is $30 in advance (checks must be received by April 4). After initial registration date passes, tickets will be $40, if space permits.

To reserve your seat, please contact the Cullman County Extension Office at 256-737-9386 as soon as possible.

To register, send a check for $30 per person made out to the Cullman County Extension Office to:
