Victim in fatal shooting identified

Homeowner opens fire after two allegedly enter residence

Wendy Sack
wendy@cullmansense.com

BAILEYTON – The victim in Tuesday morning's fatal shooting in the community of Baileyton has been identified as Johnathan Andrew Smith, 34, of Blountsville, according to Cullman County Coroner Jeremy L. Kilpatrick.

Smith was shot when he and another individual, who has not been apprehended or identified, allegedly entered the home of a third person on County Road 1759 some time after 8 a.m. Tuesday. The homeowner, Mike Sweaton, shot Smith.

Cullman County Sheriff Matt Gentry says that an altercation ensued at the residence. "We believe this was an isolated incident. The individuals knew each other, and the individual in the house was targeted by the two suspects. It was not random. We want the community to know they are safe. This was a targeted, isolated incident. We are unsure as to the motive, but we believe it was either an attempted assault or robbery.

Going out to get locked in- Escape Cullman coming soon

craig@cullmansense.com

CULLMAN – Escape games are growing by leaps and bounds across the nation, and now they're coming to Cullman. The Birmingham and Huntsville/Decatur areas each have three; Florence, Tuscaloosa and Gadsden have them. We're next!

The escape game concept is simple. A team of people is locked in a room, and has to get out. The execution . . . not so simple. You get out by finding a series of clues that lead to other clues, eventually leading you to the key or combination that opens the door. Oh, and . . . it's timed. In most places, you'll have an hour to find all the clues, solve the mystery and escape.

The typical need for teamwork in the fast-paced scenario makes escape rooms great places for businesses to bring groups for team-building exercises.

They are also popular with church groups, families and school sports teams.

If you're of the anxious claustrophobic sort, don't worry. The door opens with the push of a button for those who just need to get out. Players are monitored via closed circuit television, and staff monitors might even help out with the occasional clue.

On Monday evening, Allison Meriwether and Tyson Pruett appeared before the City of Cullman Planning Commission to make a conditional use request to open a two-room escape game business at 103 Third St. SW.

"Escape Cullman," as they call it, will feature a sports-themed room to begin, with a likely robbery/heist theme for the P3

Holly Pond council: basketball players, runners and bikers

W.C. Mann
craig@cullmansense.com

HOLLY POND – The Holly Pond Town Council held its regular meeting this week in front of a standing-room-only crowd at the Guy Hunt Library. Almost every seat was filled, and two walls of the library conference room were lined shoulder-to-shoulder, as the council welcomed two very different groups.

First up, Mayor Bill Oliver presented proclamations while the council presented plaques to the Holly Pond High School basketball and track teams, in recognition of their achievements this year. The basketball team made their way into the final four at the State 3A Championship tournament, while setting 17 new school basketball records.

Individual basketball achievements included:

• Dawson Foust - All Area

• Bailey Smith - All County, All Area, All Region, most steals in a season

• Griffin Morris - All County, All Area

• Drew Jones - All County, All Area, Regional MVP, All State, 3A First Team All State, career most 3-pt goals attempted and made, 1,517 career points

• Matt Cahoon - All County, All Area

The boys and girls track teams had numerous achievements, including:

• 4x200 relay team (Jarret Miller, Mason May, Dylan Morton, Todd Schwab) set a school record while winning the event at the state championship.

• Matt Cahoon set school records in high jump and shot put, while winning both events at the state championship. He also set the state 1A-3A record for high jump.

• While not placing first at the state championship, Jarret Miller (60m hurdles), Dylan Morton (400m, long jump), Todd Schwab (triple jump), Haley Higginbotham (60m hurdles) and Kirsten Campbell (high jump) set new school records in their events.

As the student athletes left the meeting, the council began its meeting by opening the floor to public comment.

First up was Rick Cason who, with his son, is opening a new business in Holly Pond. Quicksilver Diesel Repair and Welding is an automotive and truck repair and detailing service operating on Blountsville Road behind Harris Auto Repair. Cason invited the council to attend the shop's ribbon cutting at 11 a.m. this coming Saturday.

Next, representatives from the Holly Pond chapter of Bikers Against Child Abuse (BACA) came to speak. The group introduced itself as the only Alabama chapter of an organization operating in 49 states and several foreign countries, offering protection and encouragement to children who have been abused. Members stand guard outside the homes of abuse victims before their cases come to trial, and accompany them to court when necessary. One representative noted that children who feel like they are safe are able to function better, sleep better at night and are substantially more likely to appear in court to confront their abusers. While members have much of the intimidating appearance of a stereotypical biker gang, they assured the council that all members are required to pass a federal criminal background check, go through a year's worth of training and have a good working relationship with local law enforcement agencies and courts in the areas where they work.

As they got down to regular business, the council noted several expressions of gratitude from the community for the restriping of Cemetery Road. Also discussed was the need for repairs to a motor and rotor assembly at the town water plant. Michelle Bell, the parks and rec. chairperson, said that the park was ready for ball season which was to have started Monday night; but the heavy rains forced cancellation of all opening-night activities. Lou Thomas reported that positive feedback had been received on the town's new welcome signs, but that landscaping still needed to be done around them.

Under old business, the mayor presented a 30-page sewer ordinance proposal drawn up by Town Attorney Dan Willingham. The proposal received no action, being presented only for council review before the next meeting.

Next, Oliver gave an update on Living Waters, the management company for the water plant, which has replaced its plant manager with an interim manager for unstated reasons. The plant was said to be in good shape, aside from the needed repairs to the rotor and motor, and has been found to be in compliance with all regulations.

A motion was brought to floor to approve a "community fun day" at the town park, inviting crafters, local businesses, churches and civic groups to come out and set up.

Wayne White, owner of The Middle of Nowhere antique shop, was put forth in the motion to head up the event. The motion passed unanimously.

Consideration of a request for support from the library in its efforts to expand its hours was tabled, as no specific cost for the expansion had been presented and no library representative was present.

Lastly, the mayor presented a proposed ordinance drawn up by Willingham to delineate the town limits. No action was taken, as the proposal was being put forth for a first reading before future discussion and action.

Under new business, the council unanimously passed a single motion to give $200 to each of the town's three schools to be used for prizes to be given to classes or groups from the schools participating in the PALS (People Against a Littered State) statewide cleanup on April 22.

The principals of each school will determine the criteria for prizes, and will do the awarding of those prizes to the students of their respective schools.

The council temporarily altered its regular meeting schedule due to a conflict, and will hold its next meeting on the first Tuesday of May at the Guy Hunt Library. The public is invited to attend.

Dress-up contest to close out Elvis tribute concert series

Gail Crutchfield
WSCC

HANCEVILLE – Fans of Elvis Presley can enjoy the final night of Wallace State Fine and Performing Arts' concert series paying tribute to the King of Rock 'n Roll by dressing up as the man himself, and maybe even bring a Priscilla Presley look-a-alike along for the fun.

"C'Mon Everybody: The Elvis Presley Songbook" will be presented Thursday-Saturday, April 6-8, at 7 p.m., at the Betty Leeth Haynes Theatre on the campus of Wallace State Community College. On the last night of the show, Saturday, April 8, a contest will be held where concert goers are encouraged to dress up as Elvis or Priscilla Presley. Prizes will be awarded to those deemed to have best represented the pair.

"You can choose whichever version of Elvis you like," said Tiffany Richter, director of the Wallace State Singers and Wallace State Choir. "Come as young Elvis in a leather jacket and pompadour hairstyle, or as the older Elvis in jumpsuit and sideburns. Bring a Priscilla along with a 1960s-bouffant hairstyle and kohl-rimmed eyes. We'd love to see a wide variety of people from all different age groups involved in the contest."

A number of local businesses have donated items to give as prizes to the winners. "C'Mon Everybody: The Elvis Presley Songbook" features the song of the same name from the "Viva Las Vegas" movie plus many other Presley favorites, including "Jailhouse Rock," "Can't Help Falling in Love," "Don't be Cruel," "Burning Love," "How Great Thou Art" and "Swing Down Sweet Chariot," plus many more. Arrangements for the songs will have jazz, rock and roll, classical and country influences, Richter added.

Tickets for the show are available at the door or in advance by calling 256-352-8277. Admission is $10 for adults and $5 for students.

K-9 deputy tracks down fleeing suspect; 111 grams of meth seized

Wendy Sack
wendy@cullmansense.com

BUG TUSSLE – A Bremen man is behind bars after being arrested on Saturday and charged with trafficking in methamphetamine, attempting to elude, unlawful possession of drug paraphernalia and first-degree theft of property.

Events leading up to the arrest of Robert Calvin Mullins, 33, unfolded after a Cullman County Sheriff's Office (CCSO) deputy, patrolling U.S. Highway 91 in Bug Tussle, observed a gray motorcycle traveling at a high rate of speed.

The deputy attempted to conduct a traffic stop on the motorcycle, but the driver, Mullins, allegedly fled.

Authorities say that after a brief chase, Mullins wrecked the motorcycle near County Road 18 and hid in the woods. CCSO K-9 Deputy AJ was brought in and tracked down Mullins.

Deputies allegedly seized 111 grams (3.9 ounces) of methamphetamine from Mullins. "It's good this guy is in jail because that is a large amount of meth that was taken off the streets and won't be distributed around our county," said Sheriff Matt Gentry.

"I would like to commend the patrol deputies and the K-9 tracking team for the outstanding job they did catching this suspect. This is an example of proactive drug enforcement by our patrol deputies on top of their many responsibilities as a deputy sheriff."

Mullins is being held in the Cullman County Detention Center on a $1 million bond.

Escape (from Front)

other.

Players age 14 and older will go in groups of six-eight to find and interpret clues, to work out the code that will open the door.

Pruett explained that many people think of escape rooms as something akin to the haunted houses that pop up around Halloween, but that they are actually something completely different.

"I want everybody to keep 'haunted house' way out of their heads," he said. "A lot of times, when people hear 'escape,' the first thing that pops in their minds is, 'Oh, it's a haunted house with people jumping out at you, and the lights; and it's nowhere near that. It's going to be a family-friendly team building exercise, or something if somebody just wants to go burn an hour and have fun."

The bottom floor of the two-story suite will house the game rooms, while the second floor will be a waiting area.

The commission was concerned about the idea of people being trapped inside a building, but Pruett calmed their fears.

"We've spoken to the fire marshal; there will be a button that someone can press right near the door at any time, if they need to leave, have a panic attack, or anything. And the rooms will be monitored by someone who works for us. If there is an emergency, we will know what's going on in there at all times."

Meriwether and Pruett hope to open Escape Cullman between mid-May and early June. The Tribune will take a team to try it out (They called us guinea pigs--nothing scary there.) as they get close to the time, so watch for our report!

Here's a recap of our online news you may have missed since last Thursday.

Undercover operation nets distribution arrest

CULLMAN – Christine Dawn Myers, 30, of Cullman was arrested over the weekend and charged with unlawful distribution of a controlled substance. Her arrest stemmed from an undercover operation in which she allegedly sold methamphetamine to Cullman City Police Department Sgt. Chris Thomason and Investigator Justin Craft.

Area man arrested for trafficking and distribution

CULLMAN – A Cullman County man was arrested Wednesday night and charged with four counts of trafficking in illegal drugs and three counts of unlawful distribution of a controlled substance. Danny Joe Raley, 56, was arrested by Cullman City Police Department (CPD) investigators Justin Craft and Adam Clark following multiple undercover buy operations conducted by Craft with assistance from Clark and investigator Scott Sanford. According to authorities, at the time of his arrest, Raley had a trafficking amount of hydrocodone 10mg (schedule 2 controlled substance) pills in his possession, which will result in Raley facing an additional trafficking in illegal drugs charge. Raley's bond was set at $3 million.

Peinhardt Homesteaders to present "Medical Care for Homesteading and Hard Times"

CULLMAN – The Peinhardt Homesteaders is a group of folks interested in the ways and means of the "good old days." Some are history buffs, some are survivalist preppers and some just want to be capable of taking care of themselves when the need arises. The Homesteaders hold monthly meetings at Peinhardt Farm in Cullman, at which experts teach various skills.

Cullman Planning Commission approves additional use of cell tower, site development for expanding and new businesses, including Escape Cullman

CULLMAN – On Monday evening, the City of Cullman Planning Commission met at city hall to consider several proposals, including the addition of extra equipment to a cell phone tower, development of a used car facility for a local dealer and the development of a new entertainment venue called Escape Cullman in downtown Cullman.

St. Bernard sweeps West Point in Tuesday soccer action

WEST POINT – The St. Bernard girls' and boys' soccer teams put up strong first halves and continued their play in the second as they rolled to an easy sweep of West Point Tuesday night.

Quality scoring on display at Chesley Oaks Classic

FAIRVIEW – Plenty of good prep golf was on display Tuesday in the annual Chesley Oaks Classic, hosted by Fairview High School. Two individuals handled the course very well, with scores under par, while three others shot even par and there was a playoff between two local performers, who were 3-over par to cap off some of the best scores individually on the 2017 season.

Team Fairview takes top spot in 3rd annual Cullman, AL High School Bass Fishing Classic

TRIMBLE – It was a perfect day for the third annual Cullman, Alabama High School Bass Fishing Classic at Smith Lake Park in Trimble. Cullman County and Cullman City Schools participated in the classic looking to win in three different categories: individual, team and the biggest bass caught. In the team category, Fairview reigned, taking three of the top four spots. Good Hope and West Point took home second and third place, respectively.

Middle of Nowhere antique shop hosts spring open house

HOLLY POND – As the weather starts to warm up, many stores are rolling out new spring-based inventory. The Middle of Nowhere antique store in Holly Pond was so excited to show off some of their new items that they held their third open house since opening last November (the first being the actual opening and the second for Christmas items).

Student Keaton Ramsey, of Cullman, chosen to present at UA Undergraduate Research and Creative Activity Conference

TUSCALOOSA – The University of Alabama's Undergraduate Research and Creative Activity Conference, held March 30, is a premier annual event at The University of Alabama. In addition to bringing attention to the outstanding work being done by UA's undergraduates, the conference allows students to gain experience presenting, become eligible for cash prizes, and form relationships with faculty mentors and fellow conference presenters. Keaton Ramsey, of Cullman, was selected to present a research project titled "Electrodeposition of Ni-Fe Alloy in Porous Anodic Alumina." Ramsey is expected to graduate this year with a bachelor's degree in chemical engineering.

ANDREW CRYER/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

A beautiful day to fly a kite

BAILEYTON – For 20 years, Peggie Knop has held Kite Day at her residence. Actively involved in the Welcome Baptist Church, Knop began the Kite Day tradition for members of her Sunday School class, which she has now thought for more than 50 years. "This all started when my niece and her friends were in children's church and they wanted to go flying kites and the big kids asked if they could join," Knop said. "'Well, of course you can join,' I said. I was not going to tell kids they could not fly kites."

Holly Pond Alumni

The Holly Pond Alumni Association is now taking applications for membership. Mail your check for $10.00 to Holly Pond Alumni Association, P.O. Box 279, Holly Pond, Alabama 35083. Additional donations are accepted and appreciated.

Fairview West Spring Revival

Fairview West Baptist Church will hold a Spring Revival from April 9th-12th. Guest speakers include: Sunday – 5:00 p.m., Jeremy Rollo, Monday – 7:00 p.m., Mark Long, Tuesday – 7:00 p.m., Dale Banks and Wednesday – 7:00 p.m. Scott Guthery. For more information contact Nell Graves at 256-352-5880.

Egg hunters illuminate the night at Fairview Town Park

FAIRVIEW – More than 150 people gathered at Fairview Town Park Saturday night for what First Baptist Church of Fairview hopes to make an annual event: the Fairview Community Flashlight Easter Eggstravaganza. Festivities began at 7 p.m. at the park and included food, drinks, door prizes, the Easter story, and of course, the egg hunt. Community member Kristy Harris took part in leading the event. She says that about 40 members of the congregation volunteered their time to host the event.

Women having C-sections can suffer from a variety of infections. These infections include: endometritis, cesarean wound infection, abscess, septic pelvic thrombophlebitis, pyelonephritis, pneumonia and meningitis. Secondary outcomes include neonatal morbidities and adverse effects. The usual antibiotics being used may not always reduce these infections because they do not control some organisms such as ureaplasmas, which are frequently associated with post-cesarean delivery infections. A cephalosporin antibiotic has been used as the standard to prevent infections in women undergoing cesarean delivery; however, a new study has found that adding azithromycin to the usual antibiotic for non-elective cesarean delivery reduced post-cesarean delivery infections and severe adverse maternal events with no difference in neonatal outcomes.

Nonmedical use of prescription opioids more than doubled among adults in the United States from 2001-2002 to 2012-2013, based on a new study from the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism (NIAAA), part of the National Institutes of Health. Nearly ten million Americans, or 4.1 percent of the adult population, used opioid medications in 2012-2013 a class of drugs that includes OxyContin and Vicodin, without a prescription or not as prescribed (in greater amounts, more often, or longer than prescribed) in the past year. This is up from 1.8 percent of the adult population in 2001-2002. More than 11 percent of Americans report nonmedical use of prescription opioids at some point in their lives, a considerable increase from 4.7 percent ten years prior. The number of people who meet the criteria for prescription opioid addiction has substantially increased during this time frame as well, with 2.1 million adults (0.9 percent of the U.S. adult population) reporting symptoms of "nonmedical prescription opioid use disorder (NMPOUD)," according to the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders, Fifth Edition (DSM-5).

Cullman area music historian's recordings featured in production of 'She Stoops to Conquer'

Tribune Staff
news@cullmansense.com

LYNCHBURG, Va. – Neal Brasher, who teaches accents and dialects as assistant professor of Theatrical Arts at Liberty University in Lynchburg, Virginia, wanted to show the similarities between English and classic Southern U.S. accents. He went big and took his class to the stage, setting the 18th century English comedy "She Stoops to Conquer" in Reconstruction-era Virginia, ca. 1870.

For a musical soundtrack that would help make the transformed setting as authentic as possible, he reached out to former Samford University classmate and Cullman County resident William Craig "Dr. Bill" Mann for music popular during that era. Mann, a historical musician and former resident music historian for the Landmarks Foundation in Montgomery, supplied him with recordings of several period tunes played on either the Appalachian dulcimer or 5-string minstrel banjo (Both instruments had strong Virginia connections in the 19th century). Selections used in the production included "Jordan Is a Hard Road to Travel" (used as the main show theme), "Rose of Alabama," "Natchez Under the Hill" and "Arkansas Traveler."

The show ran for eight performances between March 24 and April 2 at Liberty's Tower Theatre.

After the show wrapped, Brasher commented on the music, "Rarely does any theatrical design element more appropriately set the tone of a production than does the music. The rustic setting of 'She Stoops to Conquer' was authenticated and enhanced by the woody tones of the banjo and dulcimer."

After attending a performance, Dr. David Hahn, chairman of Liberty's Department of Commercial Music, wrote this note of review: "The use of music by Dr. W. Craig Mann on period instruments brought an authenticity to 'She Stoops to Conquer.' Hearing music from the period depicted played on period instruments added to the costuming and sets in setting the delightful character of the play."

"Dr. Bill" is probably best known to Cullman area residents (especially kids) for his banjo and dulcimer performances at the Cullman County Museum during Oktoberfest.

He also teaches dulcimer classes at the Donald Green Senior Center.

Incorporation (from Front)

thinking this shouldn't be done, this couldn't be done," he said. "But I had some lingering questions that, when I did my own research on it, I found out that, no, we actually can make this work. We probably should give a go of it. Through my research and looking into things, I ended up kind of taking over the effort. I don't know how that happened, to be honest."

The community of Berlin sits, basically, within a circle, the radius of which centers on the intersection of County Road 747 and U.S. Highway 278 (the dimensions of the Berlin voting precinct).

Established in the late 19th century, it is among the oldest and most densely populated communities in the county to remain unincorporated.

With the number of residents in the area to be incorporated estimated by Bates to be approximately 750, an incorporated Berlin would have received $248,564.93 in county sales tax revenue in 2015 alone, in addition to other sources of income.

Said Bates, "The primary advantage (of incorporation) is the sole responsibility of towns under our state law, and that is that you're responsible for your own road maintenance. We have sample budgets that show that we can take care of our own roads. The County does as good a job as it can with what it has, but it appears that we will be able to do a better job of resurfacing with our own funds."

According to Bates, the proposed municipality has about 9 miles of roads (excluding Hwy. 278, which would not fall under the town's jurisdiction), with some subdivision roads not having been resurfaced since their initial installations more than 25 years ago.

Under a sample budget, up to $90,000 per year could be dedicated to roads, allowing all roads in the proposed municipality to be repaved or chip sealed every 10 to 12 years.

Bates feels like the time has come for Berlin to get its slice of the County pie. He has begun a push to bring incorporation to a vote in the fall of 2017. He and others have mailed information to area residents, and have even gone door to door in some places to get the word out.

According to Bates, "We just did a direct mailer last week to about 250 households in and adjacent to the proposed boundaries, trying to make sure everyone knows about it."

How is it going? Bates shared, "We started collecting signatures in April of last year. We have about a hundred signatures right now on the petition. That represents between a quarter and a third of all the registered voters in the area that we're looking at incorporating. We could submit with that, but there's a few areas where we don't have enough signatures. We're still lacking a few signatures scattered about, that we need to have everything locked up. We're going to try, over the next three or four months, to finish getting that together.

"We'll have to have this decided, whether we're going to submit it or not submit it, by July. There's an attorney general's opinion out from some years ago, that says the signatures are only valid for 18 months; since we started collecting signatures last April, we're 12 months in now. It's either get it done or don't."

The area to be incorporated, at least initially, runs about a quarter mile to either side of County Road 747, from 2 miles north of Hwy. 278 to roughly a mile and a half south of the highway.

"It's over 900 acres," said Bates. "I think it will be one of the largest initial incorporations in Cullman County history, at least by acreage. It will definitely be bigger than the last few."

Bates thinks that he has good support for the move. He stated, "Of the ones that I've actually spoken to, the vast majority are for it."

If you are a Berlin community resident, Bates and his collaborators want to hear from you, whether you are for incorporation or against it. On Tuesday, Apr. 11, a public meeting will be held at 7 p.m. in the Berlin Community Center to present the plan and hear thoughts and concerns from local folks.

Bates does not seem worried about negative feedback or concerns. He said, "The best thing is to come prepared with your questions. We're all for making sure everyone's informed. My goal of success here is not whether we create a town, but whether or not we have a vote to create a town."

Shooting (from Front)

information that a shooting occurred and that two people fled in a vehicle," said Gentry.

"We located the vehicle on Highway 67. One of the occupants fled on foot."

Smith's body was found in the vehicle in the 5800 block of Highway 67.

A K-9 deputy with the Cullman County Sheriff's Office (CCSO) was brought in to aid in the search, along with a helicopter from the Cullman City Police Department (CPD); however, the second suspect remains at large. Authorities believe he has left the area.

The Baileyton Volunteer Fire Department, as well as the CCSO, CPD and Cullman Emergency Medical Services worked the scenes.

Gentry confirmed that both crime scenes- the house where the shooting occurred and the car where the victim was found- were cleared at approximately 11:40 a.m., but investigators are still following up on leads to identify the driver of the vehicle.

MARY HOVATER

Father Patrick Egan gives the pantry a pastoral blessing.

CULLMAN – In January, Mary Hovater and Martha Lawrence presented the Cullman City Council a novel idea: to establish a self-service food pantry that would help Cullmanites whose needs extend beyond the reach of large-scale charity services like Cullman Caring for Kids. The council gave the green light for a six-month trial run. On Sunday afternoon, that trial began as Cullman's Boy Scout Troop 321 installed the pantry on a donated vacant site next to the Mary Carter hardware store on Fourth Street Southeast.

Called "little free pantries," these emergency food stations are appearing all over the country. Folks who can pick up a few extra non-perishables and canned goods when they shop can put things in the pantry, and those in need can take what they need.

According to Hovater, the little free pantry is not meant to compete with large-scale services, but help people who need a little extra after they have received their quota from those providers.

She said, "The Little Free Pantry would be a gap filler. A way to help tide over folks in need or help someone that just needs a little at that time.

"Our hope is that while those that are able will help keep the pantry filled, the ones that have made use of it will also come back and give a can when they are able."

Boy Scout Troop 321, under the direction of Scoutmaster David Schwaiger, constructed and installed the pantry as a community service project. After the installation, Sacred Heart Pastor Father Patrick Egan came to give the pantry a pastoral blessing.

As of now, the pantry is open for business. Anyone who wishes to contribute is encouraged to stop by and place goods inside.

Hovater said of the project, "The motto is 'Leave what you can...take what you need.' It's neighbors helping neighbors!"

Poet's Corner

FRIENDSHIP

Friendship is like a garden, We care and tend to with love.

Each friend a special flower,

So each time as we gather
In our garden of friendships here,

With God and our friendships
We have nothing ever to fear.
