Keller Williams celebrates 'RED Day' serving at Restoring Women Outreach

W.C. Mann

KAREN TUBBS/KELLER WILLIAMS

Keller Williams volunteers cleaned and refurbished three RWO houses in Cullman on Thursday.

CULLMAN – Around 40 volunteers from Keller Williams Realty took a break from the real estate business Thursday to go work on, what else, houses. For its part in the Keller Williams company annual RED Day program, the staff from the Cullman office visited three houses belonging to the local nonprofit Restoring Women Outreach to clean, refurbish and upgrade the facilities that house women in addiction recovery.

Broker Karon Tubbs explained, "Every office in the world at Keller Williams Realty closes today, and we do a community project.

"Today we've chosen to work on three different homes that are homes for women that are, maybe, coming out of addiction. They help them find jobs. It's a nonprofit; it's a great organization!

"We have pressure washed, we have cleaned windows, we have shampooed carpets, replaced tile in the bathroom, replaced hinges on cabinets, just whatever they told us needed to be done. It's a great day! It's a fun day!"

According to Keller Williams, RED stands for "Renew, Energize, and Donate." The event takes place on the second Thursday of each May, and local committees choose charitable projects in which to participate.

Said Tubbs, "We just have the best agents in the world! You know, who would just give a whole day in the middle of the week, so to speak, to help out somebody? And we do this every year on this day. And we really enjoy it."

Cullman Savings Bank awards Foundation Scholarships to local students

Heather Mann
Tribune Correspondent

CULLMAN – Cullman Savings Bank on Friday held its annual scholarship awards luncheon. The bank, through its foundation, awards scholarships to Wallace State Community College to several area students. Eligibility for these scholarships is based on recommendations from the students' teachers and principals, and the award amounts range from $250 to $5,000. Recipients for the 2018-2019 awards were honored Friday morning at a luncheon at Top of the Town.

CSB President John Riley shared, "We are in the people business, the Cullman business, and that goes in many, many different directions. It's not just making loans, it's not just cashing checks; it's a lot of different things. I love being a part of these things."

Riley said the scholarship program stemmed from the bank's desire to take some of its profits and put them back into the community.

"People don't come ask us for money; we just watch

Wallace State celebrates newly-renovated northern entrance

Heather Mann
Tribune Correspondent

HANCEVILLE – Wallace State Community College on Thursday cut the ribbon on the college's newly-renovated northern entrance on Frances Dodd Drive. The entrance now boasts a new brick sign with the school's name, as well as three new flagpoles. The ceremony saw honored speakers Sen. Paul Bussman, R-Cullman; Rep. Randall Shedd, R-Fairview; WSCC President Dr. Vicki Karolewics; Cullman Area Chamber of Commerce President and CEO Leah Bolin; Cullman Mayor Woody Jacobs; and Hanceville Mayor Kenneth Nail.

After opening remarks from Bolin and an invocation from Michaela Bryan of WSCC Campus Ministries opened the ceremony, Karolewics talked about the accomplishments the college has seen in its 52 years.

This year alone, said Karolewics, school teams won 55 SkillsUSA medals, more than 30 of which were gold. She said tennis, softball and golf teams are playing at nationals, the baseball team is playing at state, and a team of physical therapy and dental students recently went of a trip to Kenya to provide medical and dental care to needy citizens. Karolewics said the college will soon see the groundbreaking for a new welding building and has also been approved for a student center that will house the culinary arts.

HEATHER MANN/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

Wallace State Community College unveiled the college's newly-renovated northern entrance, complete with a new brick sign and flags, on Frances Dodd Drive on Thursday, May 10, 2018.

Karolewics said the new north entrance sign not only represents a gateway to the college, but to opportunity and to a new life that many students might not have had without Wallace State.

"Another great day at Wallace State Community College," smiled Bussman. "It's always amazing to me how one project gets done, and then there's one more right behind it.

"You see a lot of times in schools like this you'll have a project, and it'll be many years before another project goes, but that's not the way we do things at Wallace State Community College. Y'all have a real gem here. When you look at Wallace State Community College and you compare it to other community colleges around the state, and even across the country, we have a tremendous gem here.

"Our industries are better for it, our cities are better for it, and the citizens of Alabama are better for it."

Shedd echoed Bussman's positive remarks on the college. "It's always an honor to be at the events at Wallace State. I commend you on the economic impact that you have on our community, you know, one life at a time, one individual at a time, and the difference that you make," he said. "Today, as we stand underneath these huge flags and have this ceremony, we can all be thankful for the opportunity to be at Wallace State, for being Alabamians and for being Americans."

Jacobs congratulated WSCC on the outstanding training it provides for the county's future workers and thanked Karolewics for the school's significant contribution to Cullman's industries.

A beaming Nail expressed the pride he has for Hanceville's connection to WSCC (literally, now that the last piece of concrete has been poured to connect Hanceville's city sidewalks to those on the college's campus).

Holly Pond outstanding students were recently honored by Holly Pond Civitan Club: Taylor Simmons, Caleb Knedlik, Josie Harbison, Makayla Fields, Andre McCaffrey, Kaytlin Abbott, Yahir Quintero, Aubrey Paige Hudspeth, Evan Rainey, Korey Butler, Molley Barnett, Jose Aguilar, Saylah Daugherty and Alana Phillips.

Good morning Tribune readers and families. Aren't these beautiful spring days truly a gift from God? We look out at the gorgeous fields and woods around Holly Pond and everything is so green that it almost hurts our eyes. It is a very busy time for everyone, as well with all the decorations, homecomings, reunions, graduations and festivals. I hope you are able to get out and take it all in.

Holly Pond celebrated Decoration/Homecoming Day this past weekend. The cemetery has never looked better! Holly Pond Lions Club and Historical Society spent a couple of days cleaning and straightening old monuments. They also walked all over the cemetery placing American and Confederate flags on the gravesites of veterans. Holly Pond Homemakers Club cleaned the Chapel and welcomed visitors at the Chapel and main entrance. Dan Scott and Mike Wisener oversaw grounds maintenance and upkeep. Mowing and trimming is an ongoing project of Holly Pond Homemakers Club with various fundraising activities such as bake sales and quilt raffles.

Holly Pond Civitans have had a busy spring, also. They recently honored the accomplishments of Holly Pond students. Selected as Good Citizens were Alana Phillips and Jose Aguilar from Holly Pond Elementary; Molley Barnett and Yahir Quintero of Holly Pond Middle School; Korey Butler and Evan Rainey of Holly Pond High School. Civitan Club Essay Contest winners from the High School were Josie Harbison, 1st Place; Andre McCaffrey, 2nd Place; Conner Lowery, 3rd Place. Civitan Club Essay Contest winners from the Middle School Division were Kaytlin Abbott, 1st Place; Makayla Fields, 2nd Place; Aubrey Paige Hudspeth, 3rd Place.

Holly Pond Civitans also are sponsoring Taylor Simmons and Caleb Knedlik to attend the Youth Leadership Forum in Searcy, Arkansas in June. A $1000 College Scholarship was presented to Saylah Daugherty.

Holly Pond Civitans were honored to be able to provide breakfast for cancer survivors last week to kick off the Relay for Life event. Holly Pond Key Club members also assisted with serving the survivors and caregivers.

Christian sympathy is extended to the family of Mr. Ottis L. Shedd. Although he is from Blountsville, he made a lasting impact on the Holly Pond community. As one of his many accomplishments, Mr. Shedd established the Holly Pond Funeral Home in 1998. It continues to be owned and operated in Holly Pond by the Shedd family.

Stay save and well and enjoy this delightful weather.

BILLY BOB'S STORIES AND STUFF

I sure wish I could call my Mama

Bill King
Tribune Contributor

After I was grown, married, and living away from home, my Mama used to constantly say two things to me. Every time I went to see her, she reminded me how long it had been since I had been to see her. Then she always said, "I wish you would come more often." Every time I called, she always said, "Well, I haven't heard from you in a while." I might say, "Mom, I called you only a couple of days ago." She would say, "Are you sure? It sure does seem like longer than that." Before I hung up she would say, "Don't forget to call and come when you can."

She used to also say she wished I would bring my guitar when I came and sing her a song. The funny thing was, when I was a teenager playing some good ole rock and rock on the red electric guitar, she constantly said, "Would you please quit banging on that guitar, or at least turn it down." My, how things change once we are grown and gone. It wasn't that I never went to see her, or that I never called, but as an adult, I almost always lived several hours away. The truth is, I could have gone every week and called every other day, but she would have still said those same things.

Oh, your mom did, or does, those same things too? They aren't trying to be nagging parents; they just love us and miss us.

Susan Balducci said her mother was a master of guilt trips. Once, her mother showed her a picture of herself waiting by the phone that never rings.

Susan said, "Mom, I call all the time, if you had an answering machine you would know that." Soon after that, her brother installed one for their mom. The next time Susan called, she got her mom's answering machine. The recording said, "If you are a salesperson, press one. If you are a friend, press two. I you are my daughter, who never calls, hang up and call 911 because the shock of you calling will probably give me a heart attack!"

Many years ago, the late coach Bear Bryant did a television commercial for South Central Bell. Their slogan back in those days was, "Reach out and touch someone."

In the commercial, Coach Bryant said, "One of the first things we tell our players is to keep in touch with their families.

"When our freshmen first arrive, we ask them to write a postcard home, right them. You know, we keep them pretty busy, but they always have time to pick up the phone and call. It's real important to keep in touch. Have you called your Mama today? I sure wish I could call mine."

I realize that Mother's Day is a day of mixed feelings and emotions for some.

Some never knew their mother and unfortunately, some may wish they hadn't known theirs. Some, myself included, had a great mother who loved them dearly, but now she is gone. We know how Coach Bryant must have felt.

Mine has been gone for sixteen years and I still miss her greatly. I can still enjoy sweet memories and laugh at some of the things she used to do and say. Some of you are blessed enough to still have yours.

If so, have you called your Mama today? Better yet, go see her if you can.

Thank you moms for all the love, sacrifice, and wonderful things you do. I hope you have a blessed and wonderful Mother's Day.

Poet's Corner

The Last Orchid

By: Randy C. Hale

It's 2006, the first Mother's Day without her.
I've stopped my car at the end of the driveway, paralyzed by the reality that she's really gone and with her the rich tradition of my gift, an orchid to wear to church.

How will I go on, choked with these emotions.
I've never felt so alone in my life as I hear the sound of a distant automobile making its way unaware of my plight, buying me time.

I'm expected at church with a sermon to bring,
but my mind goes back to her a year before,
the white and rose dress, a picture with Dad and I, smiling into my heart, wearing the last orchid.

Authors note: I did make it to the church that Sunday and a friend gave comfort to me sharing with me about losing his mother when he was young.
Thanks Brother William Murray

Hasting, Williams spar at Cullman GOP town hall meeting

W.C. Mann
craig@cullmantribune.com

W.C. MANN/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

Circuit court judge challenger Melvin Hasting (left) and incumbent Judge Martha Williams (right) had the liveliest exchanges of the evening at Thursday's Cullman County Republican Party town hall forum, with Williams fending off repeated verbal attacks by Hasting and his supporters in the audience.

CULLMAN – The Cullman County Republican Party on Thursday held the last of its community town hall meetings, this one at West Point before a standing-room-only crowd which, after outbursts at the previous meeting at Fairview, included a substantial number of Cullman County Sheriff's Office (CCSO) personnel.

In attendance were several elected officials, including Sen. Paul Bussman, Circuit Judge Martha Williams, County Commissioner Kerry Watson, County Sheriff Matt Gentry, Circuit Clerk Lisa McSwain, County Commissioner Garry Marchman, Revenue Commissioner Barry Willingham, Baileyton Mayor Johnny Dyar and West Point Mayor Kenneth Kilgo. The crowd heard from Bussman and Marchman, whose challengers did not attend the event. As County Probate Judge Tammy Brown did not attend, challenger Carol Berry addressed the crowd alone.

Alabama House of Representative challengers Scott Stadthagen and Justin Morrow went head to head in a tame session. A little excitement ensued when the candidates were pressed on the sources of their funding. Morrow stated simply that he had received no funding from liberal sources, while Stadthagen responded that he did not keep track of the political leanings of every person who gave him a check.

He assured the questioner that no monetary contribution would change his positions.

The real excitement of the evening came when incumbent Circuit Judge Martha Williams and challenger Melvin Hasting took the floor.

Melvin, who in media advertisements has attacked Williams' handling of certain cases, cited the "Canons of Judicial Ethics" to claim that he is within his legal right to campaign in that manner, and stated that he would continue to do so.

Hasting told the crowd that too many things go on behind closed doors at the circuit court, and that ads he had posted were exposing actions the public needed to know about.

"It may be ugly for some people," said Hasting, "but it's the truth, and you're entitled to know it."

Williams spent the question and answer portion fending off verbal attacks from Hasting supporters in the audience, some citing evidence presented against the judge in ads by The Victims Voice PAC in the Community Shopper's Guide.

One supporter was escorted out of the building by Sheriff Gentry and deputies while Williams said that the information in the ads did not present a complete picture of her work.

In her conclusion, Williams told the audience, "As you can see throughout this campaign, and as we've talked, clearly the job of a circuit judge is not an easy one.

"It is sometimes very difficult; it's sometimes not very fun; it sometimes is controversial and often people are unhappy about the rulings they might get. But I have spent 30 years doing everything I know to be fair and honest, and a good officer of the court."

On Friday, Brown sent the following message to The Tribune:

Good afternoon. I just wanted to provide you both information about the West Point Town Forum.

The West Point Town Hall Forum was scheduled for Thursday, May 10, 2018. I provided a message that I had a scheduling conflict. My intent was to attend my first meeting and then go to West Point. On the way to the forum I was sent a text that it was over. I want everyone to know the reason I did not attend and it was definitely not intentional.

Thank you

ELECT GARLAN GUDGER FOR ALABAMA STATE SENATE DISTRICT 4

"I was elected to the Cullman City Council in 2004. In 2008, I was elected President of the City Council and still hold that position today. No longer was it 'What can I do to make Cullman better?', It became 'What can WE do to make Cullman better?" Our primary objective was to build up the city to make it the best place for its citizens to live, work, play and worship. We've seen unprecedented economic growth from 2004-2018, surviving the recession of 2008 and rebuilding after the 2011 tornadoes. We invested back into our community continuously, improving the quality of life, and empowering all citizens to care a little more, work together a little more, and to believe a little more until our aspirations started to meet our achievements! This campaign is no different than my story above. It's going to take hard work, determination, and honest, open conversation, but I believe that together, we can make District 4 a Powerhouse in Alabama, in which all other communities are able to look at for a blueprint for success!"

– GARLAN GUDGER

Remember to cast your ballot for a man who cares as much for your community as you do your own. Vote Garlan Gudger for Alabama Senate District 4, which includes Cullman County, most of Lawrence County, and portions of Marion and Winston Counties, on June 5.

and look for different things," he said. "When we see something good happening that needs a little push, we don't just throw money at it, we go get involved in it and find out what they're doing. We make sure that it's money well-spent and that the money being spent is actually doing good. Over the years, one of the greatest things to do, that we've found, is to get involved with the school system. When we see that we can invest in these young people, it's amazing to watch that financial gift that we give make such a difference in people's lives."

Cullman County Schools Superintendent Shane Barnette shared. "I'd like to say how much I appreciate Mr. Riley and his staff at Cullman Savings Bank. This wouldn't be possible without you and your board of directors, and we're very grateful and appreciate that. I'd also like to recognize our principals and our guidance counselors and the impact that you have on our young people. Then I'd like to congratulate our young people, and I guess the challenge that I'd like to give y'all is to be a success story. Don't take this for granted. Somebody saw something in you, and they knew you would follow up on this and continue this path, so I challenge you to do that." In addition to the scholarships, recipients were given gift bags. First-time recipients were given Galaxy Tab E tablets and Bluetooth keyboards, returning recipients received smart watches and Wallace State students who graduate this year were given cash.

"The recovery centers serve as a central location for survivors who need one-on-one help," said Thomas McCool, FEMA federal coordinating officer for the disaster.

"State and federal professionals will be available to assist eligible survivors to get help as quickly as possible."

According to FEMA on hand to answer questions at the centers will be specialists from the State of Alabama, FEMA, the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA), nongovernment organizations and the local community.

Get your fix at Southern Mix!

HEATHER MANN/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

The ribbon was cut on new Hanceville eatery and catering company Southern Mix on Thursday, May 10, 2018.

HANCEVILLE – For four years, Cassie Williams and Rhonda Abbott have been catering parties, weddings and pretty much any event one can imagine with their company, Southern Mix, but the duo has been looking for a place to permanently set up shop. Now, they're proud to say that Southern Mix Catering can be visited at 107 Bangor Ave. NE in Hanceville. The shop is in the right-most area of the Joann Walls Center.

Southern Mix will cater just about any event: weddings, wedding showers, baby showers, birthday parties, office parties, graduation parties or even funerals.

It offers a large selection of baked goods, fruit treats, cheeses, sandwiches and salads and can accommodate dietary restrictions such as nut allergies.

Vegetarian options are available; gluten-free and vegan options are not available yet, but Williams said she and Abbott are looking into those choices.

For those who want to eat Southern Mix's food but don't have any events that need catering, the store offers dine-in and carry-out lunches Wednesday- Friday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Regular lunches include sandwiches, salads and sides; weekly specials are listed on the store's Facebook page.

Customers can walk in and place their orders or call ahead and pick them up, though dine-in seating is limited to about 12 people.

As a special treat for their hard work, faculty and staff at Wallace State Community College will receive free drinks if they present their Wallace State IDs.

Shared Williams, "We've felt like this (Hanceville) was our home from the beginning, and we've really felt at home here."

And what does Williams recommend the most from the Southern Mix menu? Strawberry-pretzel salad, she said, though the chicken salad is also highly recommended for those who want a savory dish.

Find out more by calling Southern Mix at 256- 347-5692 or 256- 708-4858, emailing southernmixalabama@yahoo.com or visiting www.southernmixalabama.com or www.facebook.com/SouthernMixAL.

Holly Pond's Elizabeth Thompson interns with Alabama Farmers Federation

Marlee Moore
ALFA

MONTGOMERY – The Alabama Farmers Federation welcomed Elizabeth Thompson to its Organization Department for a summer internship May 9. Thompson, a junior majoring in agricultural economics at Auburn University (AU), will work at the Montgomery home office until August.

"I am excited to have the opportunity to advocate for and serve the Alabama agricultural industry through Ag in the Classroom (AITC)," said Thompson, a native of Holly Pond in Cullman County. "The possibilities for sharing information about our No. 1 industry are endless."

Her responsibilities include assisting with AITC Summer Institute, ag literacy projects and curriculum development, said the Federation's Kim Ramsey.

"Elizabeth's passion for agriculture and background growing up on a farm will be an invaluable asset for our ag literacy programs this summer," said Ramsey, director of Alabama AITC and the Federation's Women's Division. "We are confident this summer will offer her personal and professional growth."

At AU, Thompson is social chair of the Ag Ambassadors and is Ag Council secretary-treasurer. She is also a student employee for the Agricultural Economics & Rural Sociology Department.

She is the daughter of the late James Thompson and Teresa Thompson of Holly Pond and graduated from Holly Pond High School in 2016.

Wallace State's Talent Search students recognized during annual TRIO Day

Russell Moore
WSCC

HANCEVILLE – Wallace State's Talent Search students were celebrated recently at the annual TRIO Day on campus.

TRIO Day is for students in 6th-9th grades from participating service area schools, many of whom are first generation potential college attenders, voluntarily participating in a wide variety of college readiness activities.

The group was treated to an exciting day on campus, which began with a welcome from Wallace State President Dr. Vicki Karolewics and an exclusive performance from Wallace State's Singers.

"I'm excited and delighted you are here at Wallace State Community College and that you care enough about college to participate in this program. You are already aspiring to be something better, whatever you define better to be.

"The jobs you'll have when you graduate high school and college may not even exist today. Every job is changing through technology and automation. That's why it's important to get a head start," Karolewics said. "We want to be a part of your future. I invite each of you to attend Wallace State. It's a good lift for your future. Wherever you decide to go, find that lift that will better yourself."

Selected students in attendance were recognized with medals for most improved academic achievements and good attitudes through the entire school year.

For Hanceville Middle School, Jessica Marshall and Ramses Garcia were selected as the students with the Best Attitude and Shanna Helms and Darius Marshall were the Most Improved.

At Falkville, Savannah Garrison and Jennifer Wright earned the Best Attitude medallions, while Whitney Kemp and Ryan Lee were Most Improved.

"We are proud of all of you and we want to celebrate you. You're here because you chose to be in Talent Search and want to be a better student. You said you wanted to make progress in your academic work, and that's why you meet with tutors weekly," said Kristi Nyquist, Wallace State's Talent Search Project Director. "You are also here because you said you wanted to learn more about college and the process involved to get ready for college. We're thrilled you are a part of this program."

Wallace State students Joshua Dia and Valarie Yarbrough, both participants in TRIO, shared their positive experiences from being involved with the program.

Dia is active in the Rotaract Club and Baptist Campus Ministries at Wallace State. He's a member of Phi Theta Kappa, serves as a SGA Senator and is a staff writer with The Mane Issue.

Yarbrough is a Phi Theta Kappa and Kappa Beta Delta member, a SGA Senator and active with the Rotaract Club.

Talent Search students also had the opportunity to learn more about Systems Management and Production (SMAP), an organization at the University of Alabama at Huntsville that conducts research in support of the U.S. Army at Redstone Arsenal.

Though many full-time engineers, computer scientists, and other specialists work at SMAP, the organization also invites undergraduate students at UAH and other colleges to assist in research projects such as drone development and 3D visualization/animation.

Dr. Norven Goddard of SMAP served as the event's guest speaker and encouraged the students to attend college, pursue their passions and observe the SMAP display tables in the Bailey Center lobby.

Before the day was complete, the students toured the following Wallace State programs: Criminal Justice, Salon and Spa Management, Visual Communications and Welding.

DHR (from Front)

craig@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN – About 200 colorful pinwheels line the walkways and curbs across the front of the Cullman County Department of Human Resources (DHR) office. The bright and cheery pinwheels were placed on Thursday afternoon, and the breeze had them doing the things pinwheels do, but pretty isn't the point. Each one represents a Cullman County child who's currently in foster care.

DHR's Amanda Buchanan explained, "Today we're just trying to bring awareness to Foster Care Awareness Month, and the fact that we need more foster homes for our children in Cullman County.

Anywhere from five to 20 new kids will enter the local foster system each month, balanced by typically comparable numbers leaving. The most common reason kids enter the system is drug use by their parents. According to Buchanan, Cullman County currently has 194 children in foster care, but only 47 homes to take them in. At this time, 67 of those kids are housed in other counties. DHR hopes to see that change.

Said Buchanan, "Whenever kids have to come into care, we'd rather them be in a home that's close to where they were already living, ideally continuing to go to their same school, you know, change their environment as little as possible. But if the resource is not available, sometimes it's not possible."

Once kids enter the system, 70 to 80 percent will eventually return to a parent or other family member, according to DHR.

"Reunification is the number one goal, usually," said Buchanan, "and so that's another reason why it's so important to have kids being able to be placed in their same community or close to their community, because it helps in the reunification process. They're able to visit more often. A lot of times our foster parents will even befriend and support the parents and help in that reunification and be there as a support for them.

"I feel we do have some of the best foster parents in the state, regarding how hard they work for our kids and advocate for them, and also with the families, and partnering, truly partnering with us and the families."

DHR needs more local families to open their homes to foster children. This August, the local office will host an expo in Cullman to increase awareness and introduce the program, and to connect prospective parents with those already serving the community's foster kids.

Buchanan said, "We're hoping this is going to be a discussion for the community to understand and see how many children we actually have, the amount we have, and why the need is there."
