'Like Me or Not': Link director Owens takes on approval addiction

W.C. Mann
craig@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN – As if Dawn Owens didn't have enough to do as director of The Link of Cullman County, she decided to add "author" to her resumé. Worthy Publishing has just released her book "Like Me or Not," which deals with approval addiction, an unhealthy preoccupation with pleasing or gaining the approval of other people.

Counselors will say that an emotionally healthy person should want the approval of others, but that approval, or lack of it, should not determine a person's sense of self-worth.

This is the dilemma Owens sought to address in her faith-based approach to healthy self-esteem.

Sixteen chapters, including the introduction and conclusion, address various aspects of approval addiction and offer biblical principles for identifying and overcoming issues like people-pleasing, insecurity, comparison and jealousy.

Originally conceived as helpful tool for 20- to 40-year-old women, the book has received a positive reception from men as well, and from readers of all ages from young adult up, according to Owens.

"From what I've been hearing so far," said Owens, "it's been very helpful and tangible for people to read through a chapter and get a good grasp of how to work on that area of struggle for them."

On Tuesday, the official launch day for "Like Me or Not," Yates-Chance Christian Bookstore hosted a book signing.

During a short lull in a steady stream of customers who threatened to buy out the available stock of copies, The Tribune talked with Owens.

"Originally, I started to write the book because I recognized that I was probably not the only person that struggled with approval addiction, and, as I talked with others, they kept saying, 'Oh, yeah, with social media it's becoming even more of a struggle, but that was about seven years ago.

"Then I went through a journey of trying to start The Link of Cullman County, and found myself stuck in the struggle of trying to navigate listening to others, believing their opinions, beliefs--and a lot of times they were naysayers in what I was trying to start--and so, through that battle, realized that there might be a story in this for others to hear, and not only get a picture of what it looks like to overcome approval addiction, but then what it also looks like to walk out your purpose in it. And so, that's really what the book is about: to inspire others to do what God has called them to do."

"Like Me or Not" is now available in bookstores, as well as online from distributors like Amazon. For more information, visit https://dawnmowens.com.

Pet of the Week: Help Reggie find his forever home

W.C. Mann

CULLMAN – Donna Ruttkay from the Cullman County Animal Shelter introduces us to The Cullman Tribune's Pet of the Week. "Rejoice," whom the staff calls Reggie, is a mix with a little bull in him. He's a laid-back, low- to medium-energy pet who enjoys playing in the yard. He has even tried out the shelter's kiddie pool! Reggie is skilled at leash etiquette and would likely make a worthy therapy, service, companion or comfort dog.

Reggie's adoption fee is $90, which includes: DHLPP vaccine, Bordetella vaccines, rabies vaccine, wormer, general exam at the vet, neutering, microchip, free 45-day health insurance policy issued by 24PetWatch (with valid email only) and a free bag of food from Cullman Pet Depot (you must pay sales tax).

Contact the Cullman County Animal Shelter at 256-734-5448 or visit them at 935 Convent Road NE. Reach them by email at cullmancountyanimal-shelter@gmail.com.

Co-prescription of the anticonvulsant gabapentin is associated with an increased risk of opioid-related death in people who are prescribed opioid painkillers, according to a new study published in PLOS Medicine. Gabapentin is often used together with opioids to treat chronic pain, but both drugs have been shown to suppress breathing, a potentially deadly side-effect. Additionally, gabapentin use may also increase the amount of opioid absorbed by the body, effectively increasing the opioid dose..

Among patients with nonvalvular atrial fibrillation, concurrent use of certain commonly prescribed medications with non-vitamin K oral anticoagulants was associated with an increased risk of major bleeding, according to a study published by JAMA. Oral anticoagulation has been proven to prevent ischemic strokes and prolong life for patients with atrial fibrillation. Non-vitamin K oral anticoagulants (NOACs) are being used more frequently because of their ease of administration and comparative efficacy compared with warfarin in reducing blood clots and major bleeding. However, for patients with atrial fibrillation, NOACs are often prescribed with other medications that share metabolic pathways that may increase major bleeding risk.

A study in the journal Environmental Health Perspectives shows that mothers who take recommended amounts of folic acid around conception might reduce their children's pesticide-related autism risk. In the study, children whose mothers took 800 or more micrograms of folic acid (the amount in most prenatal vitamins) had a significantly lower risk of developing autism spectrum disorder (ASD) – even when their mothers were exposed to household or agricultural pesticides associated with increased risk..

ELECT GARLAN GUDGER FOR ALABAMA STATE SENATE DISTRICT 4

"I was elected to the Cullman City Council in 2004. In 2008, I was elected President of the City Council and still hold that position today. No longer was it 'What can I do to make Cullman better?', It became 'What can WE do to make Cullman better?" Our primary objective was to build up the city to make it the best place for its citizens to live, work, play and worship. We've seen unprecedented economic growth from 2004-2018, surviving the recession of 2008 and rebuilding after the 2011 tornadoes. We invested back into our community continuously, improving the quality of life, and empowering all citizens to care a little more, work together a little more, and to believe a little more until our aspirations started to meet our achievements! This campaign is no different than my story above. It's going to take hard work, determination, and honest, open conversation, but I believe that together, we can make District 4 a Powerhouse in Alabama, in which all other communities are able to look at for a blueprint for success!"

– GARLAN GUDGER

Remember to cast your ballot for a man who cares as much for your community as you do your own. Vote Garlan Gudger for Alabama Senate District 4, which includes Cullman County, most of Lawrence County, and portions of Marion and Winston Counties, on June 5.

CHILD DEVELOPMENT CENTER

CLASS OF 2018

Graduation is Tuesday, May 22, 2018, at 1:00 p.m., in the Child Development Center Gymnasium.

"The day of Graduation marks a special time of completion and beginning in a person's life. The CDC graduates, parents, CDC faculty and staff should feel a sense of great pride and take time to enjoy this time. So many people have made this graduation day possible. We want to wish the graduates good luck in their future but also say thank you to all that helped make this day of graduation possible. At the CDC, we celebrate the little things as well as the big and graduation is a special day of recognition of all that made a difference. All need to enjoy this day and reflect on the many days that lead up to this celebration of accomplishment."

Goat Island takes top honors at Daphne Beer Festival

CULLMAN – Accolades are becoming a common thing for the folks at Goat Island Brewing. After winning the March Madness Competition at Slice Pizza & Brewhouse in Birmingham with its Blood Orange Berliner Weisse, the Cullman brewery took on 31 other breweries last Saturday, in the 99 Bottles of Beer on the Lawn craft beer festival hosted by Southern Napa Fine Wine House in Daphne. The competition featured beers from top Alabama breweries like Yellow Hammer, Back Forty Beer Company and Straight to Ale and also drew national entries like Sierra Nevada and Goose Island, and even those from as far away as Belgium with Hoegaarden Brewery joining the contest.

Goat Island walked away from the festival with the Best Brewery Overall and Best Alabama Brewery prizes, and its newest brew, "Duck River Dunkel," tied with Fairhope Brewing for the People's Choice Award for the Best Beer.

In a conversation with The Tribune Wednesday afternoon, Goat Island President and CEO Mike Mullaney described Duck River Dunkel as "a dark German lager: very malty, not a lot of hops, so pretty smooth and easy drinking."

In a press release, Goat Island Vice President John Dean commended Head Brewer Paul White, saying, "Paul is a fine brewer who is meticulous with his brewing technique. I am very proud of him, and our whole team."

In the same release, Mullaney shared, "This is the first competition where Goat Island has tested its beers against national and international brands. To beat out Sierra Nevada, one of the most prestigious and respected breweries in the world, is truly an accomplishment."

Mullaney said, "We were extremely excited about that win, because we just won the March Madness thing, and so it seems like we're on a roll, getting a lot of notoriety, and people are recognizing that our beer is really good. So we're excited!"
