Ribbon cut on new City of Cullman Water Department facility

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN – For the second time in as many weeks, the City of Cullman has cut the ribbon on a new city facility. On Tuesday, May 15 it was the new street department, and on Thursday, May 24, the water department got its turn. Mayor Woody Jacobs along with several members of the Cullman City Council were there to celebrate.

City Council President Garlan Gudger talked about the importance of the water department and the new facility.

"As all of you know, this department is one of the pieces to the puzzle that makes Cullman great. I mean, where would we be without them?" Gudger said. "This new 23,000-plus-square-foot compound is evidence of Cullman's growth and how the city of Cullman is looking ahead and planning for the future.

"I appreciate (Department Head) Chris Freeman and all the waste/wastewater employees for the excellent job they do for the citizens of Cullman."

Gudger said the department will be able to run more efficiently with the new building and thanked the council for helping to make the facility possible.

"I know you will be happy to be in one location instead of scattered all over the city. This will allow you to operate more efficiently," he said.

"I am proud of the insight and leadership of this city council, thank you for all you do. This administration seems to always step up and do what needs to be done to ensure the city departments and staffs have the resources necessary to provide our city services."

Jacobs spoke briefly about the old facility and the positive attitude the department's employees carry to work every day.

"We did the street department and now we're doing the water department, and these are great facilities, I'm telling you," Jacobs said.

NICK GRIFFIN

The ribbon was cut on the new City of Cullman Water Department facility on Thursday, May 24, 2018.

"From where they came from, we had them both cramped in a little bitty place and they didn't complain, they just did their jobs, and now, as Cullman normally does, when we do something, we do it right. We appreciate these guys."

Said Freeman, "I'd like to thank the mayor and the council for allowing us to build this facility and the equipment and personnel we've increased upon.

"We had to have it, we were way understaffed, and we didn't have the equipment to do some of the things we needed to do, and we're getting all that now and we appreciate that immensely. These guys are fantastic. They work above and beyond every day in the heat, the cold, the rain, it doesn't matter; they're out there all the time.

"Most people don't see it, but even on Christmas morning they'll be out there working. So, I'd just like to thank everybody."

The City of Cullman Water Department's new headquarters is located at 1717 Eva Road NE.

A parcel of land lying in the E ½ of the NE ¼ of the SW ¼ of Section 34, Township 8 South, Range 3 West, being all that portion of the twenty acres lying and being west of the center line of the public road and being more particularly described as follows: From the northwest corner of the twenty acres, the point of beginning, thence east to the center line of a public road; thence southwest along said center line to the western boundary of the twenty acres; thence north along said twenty acre line to the point of beginning.

Less and except an easement for public road granted to Cullman County by instrument recorded in Deed Book 484, Page 628 in the Office of the Judge of Probate of Cullman County, Alabama.

Local attorney Randy Hames indicted on multiple counts of human trafficking

Wendy Sack
wendy@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN – Local attorney Randy Allan Hames, 76, was indicted by a Cullman County grand jury last week on multiple counts of human trafficking and other offenses. The indictments stem from his arrests earlier this year on Feb. 22, March 5 and March 10 and involve alleged crimes against three women. Hames' case is being presided over by Madison County Circuit Judge Donna Pate.

According to court documents obtained by The Tribune on Thursday, Hames has been indicted for the following:

Indictment no. 1
- second-degree human trafficking
- sexual extortion
- soliciting prostitution
- second-degree stalking

Indictment no. 2
- first-degree human trafficking
- second-degree human trafficking

Indictment no. 3
- second-degree human trafficking
- sexual extortion
- soliciting prostitution
- second-degree stalking

Background

Hames was arrested on Feb. 22 for two counts of second-degree stalking and two counts of promoting prostitution, misdemeanor charges. Kayla Carreker and Tomeka Bartlett accused Hames of requesting sex for rent payments.

The two lived at Hames Trailer Park, owned by the accused. Carreker and Bartlett also accused Hames of making crude sexual remarks to them.

The two were also the first to file civil complaints against Hames. At least four women have now filed civil complaints against him.

Hames was out on bond and practicing law inside the Cullman County Courthouse when he was arrested again on March 5 for two counts of second-degree human trafficking. He made bond that same day.

Bond was $15,000 property for each count of human trafficking.

A Cullman County Sheriff's Office spokesman said the Cullman County District Attorney's Office decided to move forward with the human trafficking charges after reviewing the case and speaking with the victims and others.

Hames was arrested again on March 10 and charged with first-degree human trafficking and second-degree human trafficking. He was booked on an $80,000 bond. He made bond and was released.

What is human trafficking?

According to the Alabama Criminal Code, Section 13A-6-153:

(a) A person commits the crime of human trafficking in the second degree if:

(1) A person knowingly benefits, financially or by receiving anything of value, from participation in a venture or engagement for the purpose of sexual servitude or labor servitude.

(2) A person knowingly recruits, entices, solicits, induces, harbors, transports, holds, restrains, provides, maintains, subjects, or obtains by any means another person for the purpose of labor servitude or sexual servitude.

(3) A corporation, or any other legal entity other than an individual, may be prosecuted for human trafficking in the second degree for an act or omission only if an agent of the corporation or entity performs the conduct which is an element of the crime while acting within the scope of his or her office or employment and on behalf of the corporation or entity, and the commission of the crime was either authorized, requested, commanded, performed, or within the scope of the person's employment on behalf of the corporation or entity or constituted a pattern of conduct that an agent of the corporation or entity knew or should have known was occurring.

(4) Any person who obstructs, or attempts to obstruct, or in any way interferes with or prevents the enforcement of this section shall be guilty of a Class A misdemeanor.

(b) Human trafficking in the second degree is a Class B felony.

The Tribune reached out to Kathy Wilson, the chair of the Cullman County Human Trafficking Task Force for her thoughts after Hames' third arrest this year. Here's what she had to say:

"Human trafficking is defined as modern day slavery and involves the use of force, fraud or coercion to obtain some type of labor or commercial sex act. People often confuse trafficking with human smuggling, which involves movement of persons. These are not interchangeable terms. Smuggling is transportation-based and trafficking is exploitation-based. I wish the language could be changed to 'Human Exploitation.'"

About Hames' charges, Wilson said, "It appears his charges are using force or coercion to obtain some type sexual acts from his victims.

"Our society has been led to believe that human trafficking is based on the movie 'Taken,' which is just not true. (The CCHTT) encourages people to research and educate themselves as to the signs of human trafficking. We welcome concerned citizens to our meetings. Follow us on Facebook at Cullman County Human Trafficking Task Force."

CULLMAN – Cullman Mayor Woody Jacobs and City Council President Garlan Gudger, Jr. on Thursday presented 50 United States flags to Cullman VFW Post 2214's Post Commander Jerry Willibey and Director of Flags Van Hutchens.

The City of Cullman recently purchased the flags to donate to Cullman's VFW Post 2214 for display throughout the city during patriotic holidays. The flags were purchased from the Office of Congressman Robert Aderholt, R-Alabama. "We really appreciate all that the City of Cullman does to help the VFW," said Willibey.

VFW members place U.S. Flags alongside major highways in Cullman during patriotic holidays to honor both living and deceased veterans from the Cullman area. Motorists driving through town will notice the U.S. Flags this Memorial Day weekend. The VFW also places miniature flags on the graves of veterans at cemeteries throughout Cullman each year during patriotic holidays.

"Today, VFW members and lots of volunteers helped us place flags on the graves of our local veterans," said Hutchens. "We placed over 900 flags at the City Cemetery and Memory Gardens, and we appreciate all of those who came out to help us."

Gudger praised the VFW members for their service to our country and to our community. "I know it takes a great passion and dedication to serve our community in this way," he said. "The City of Cullman is honored to help. We thank you, Mr. Willibey and Mr. Hutchens, for working so hard to put these flags out for patriotic holidays throughout the year."

"The flags placed by VFW members in cemeteries and alongside the highways are beautiful," said Jacobs. "We also appreciate Congressman Robert Aderholt and his staff for their assistance in helping us obtain these flags to donate to the VFW."

The VFW has a "flag fund" to help replace old and worn flags. Its accepts donations, which can be sent to VFW Post 2214, 112 Veterans Dr. SW, Cullman, Alabama 35055. All donations are tax deductible.

Party faithful turn out for annual Cullman GOP dinner

CULLMAN – The Cullman County Republican Party on Thursday evening held its annual candidate dinner and fundraiser at the Cullman Civic Center, inviting those running for state office to address the crowd, presenting awards to noteworthy members, offering those present the opportunity to bid in a silent auction and giving a report on the state of the organization over the last year. Local Republicans, party officials, and candidates filled every table set up in the center's main hall, sending latecomers searching for seats.

Gubernatorial candidates Scott Dawson and Bill Hightower were present and addressed the audience.

Gov. Kay Ivey was originally scheduled to attend but could not come; Rep. Randall Shedd, R-Fairview spoke on her behalf.

Other state office candidates in attendance included (with office sought):

- Rusty Glover - Lt. Governor
- Will Ainsworth - Lt. Governor
- John McMillan - State Treasurer
- Lyn Stuart - (Incumbent) Alabama Supreme Court Chief Justice
- David Black - State Treasurer
- Rick Pate - Commissioner of Agriculture
- Stan Cook - State Auditor
- Donna Beaulieu - Alabama Court of Criminal Appeals
- Christy Edwards - Court of Civil Appeals, Place 1
- Brad Mendheim - (Incumbent) Alabama Supreme Court, Place 1
- John Bahakel - Alabama Supreme Court, Place 4
- John Merrill - (Incumbent) Secretary of State
- Jeremy Oden - (Incumbent) Public Service Commissioner
- Chris McCool - Court of Criminal Appeals
- Terry Willingham Thomas - (Incumbent) Court of Civil Appeals
- Michelle Thomason - Court of Civil Appeals
- Richard Minor - Court of Criminal Appeals

Local candidates in attendance included Circuit Judge Martha Williams and challenger Melvin Hastings, Probate Judge Tammy Brown and challenger Carol Berry, Rep. Corey Harbison and challenger Alex Chaney, County Commissioner Garry Marchman and challenger Andy Coffee, Sen. Paul Bussman and challenger Garlan Gudger, along with numerous unchallenged incumbents.

Alabama Republican Party Chairperson Terry Lathan said, "It is great to be a Republican any day, any hour, any month, any year, for the state of Alabama.

"It is great to be here in Cullman tonight. You have to rent a civic center to put everybody in it, folks; that is wonderful news! . . . It is great to be an American. It is great to get up in the morning and say, 'Thank you, God, that I was blessed to be in the greatest nation on planet Earth.' It is great to be an Alabamian.

"It is great to be in a place where we stand for the national anthem.

"It is great to be in a place where we are not afraid to lift our hearts in praise to the Lord above. It is great to have Alabama values and principals in our hearts, and work hard for our families."

Lathan went on the attack against conservative Democrats:

"Don't tell me you can be a conservative Democrat in the great state of Alabama when you take a pen and you sign your name on a pledge to pledge the platform of the Democratic Party.

"You know the people at their convention that had the floor fight because they wanted to take the word 'God' out of their platform?

"I am not going to sit by in this election as a state party chairman and let any Democrat say, 'I am a conservative Democrat, so that makes it okay.' It most certainly does not . . . This is a Republican state. We're not blinking, we're not backing off, and we're going to cut the head off that wicked little 'blue wave' I keep hearing about in November with our great candidates."

Lathan concluded by encouraging audience members to make sure their friends are registered to vote, and to get out when the time comes to vote.

Annual report

Outgoing county GOP chairman Waid Harbison reported on the organization's activities over the last year, including:

- 10 monthly breakfast meetings
- achieving a 79 percent vote for Roy Moore in last year's special Senate election

- executive committee adopted several resolutions supporting conservative legislation

ALDOT: Drive alert and prepare for increased traffic this holiday weekend

MONTGOMERY – For the safety of the traveling public, construction industry workers and maintenance crews, the Alabama Department of Transportation (ALDOT) will limit temporary lane closures on interstates after noon, Friday, May 25, through midnight, Monday, May 28.

In Birmingham, I-59/20 northbound at milepost 124 will be closed Friday, May 25 and Saturday, May 26 from 11 p.m. - 5 a.m. Detour routes will be marked for motorists to follow. No other temporary lane closures are planned around the state.

"While most ALDOT construction will halt during the holiday, driving within the speed limit and watching out for shifting lanes and other changes in the roadway is still important in a construction zone," said Allison Green, Drive Safe Alabama coordinator, ALDOT. "Before getting on the road, drivers can find out if there are construction zones along their route or traffic congestion by checking ALGOTraffic.com or the ALGO Traffic app."

Holiday Driving Tips

With increased traffic expected on roads around the state, ALDOT is asking travelers to allow extra time to reach their destination. ALDOT offers the following reminders for the Memorial Day holiday weekend:

1. Don't drive under the influence of alcohol or drugs. People are seven times more likely to die in a crash when the driver is under the influence of alcohol or drugs, as shown in ALDOT crash reports. Designating a sober driver before drinking is key to preventing these deadly crashes.

2. Wear your seat belt, in both front and rear seats. Surviving a crash is much more likely when wearing a seat belt. Latest stats from Drive Safe Alabama show that almost 60 percent of people dying in crashes on Alabama highways are not wearing a seat belt.

More safe driving tips are available on the Drive Safe Alabama Facebook page.

Meek Wins Over Bear Creek, 18 To 0

The Meek football team met Bear Creek in a very interesting game on Friday afternoon. Meek scored in the first quarter of the game, then again in the third quarter and still again in the fourth quarter.

Meek's offense consisted of line drives, with several first downs made in this way, while Bear Creek relied mostly upon passes.

Voyte Cleghorn, the quarterback, made two touchdowns and Lois Lindley, one of the halfbacks, made the other. The entire team showed team spirit and played a great game of ball. In the line, Delma Hendon, Austin Wade, Joe Thomas and Elber Hendon were outstanding. Voyte Cleghorn, Lois Lindley, Garfield Woodard and Malcolm Baldwin did some splendid playing in the back field.

Malcolm Baldwin and Christine Parris were crowned King and Queen of the Halloween Carnival, held in the Meek High School auditorium on Thursday night, October 31st. They are of the Senior III Class, which also sponsored the carnival. The runner-ups in the contest were: Helen Hyatt and Lois Lindley, Junior III's.

The other candidates were: Margaret Cox and Austin Wade, Senior II's, Maxine Baird and L.H. Lindsey, Senior I's, Gladys Williams and Leldon Lay, Junior II's and Colene Wisner and Travis Burton, Junior I's.

BILLY BOB'S STORIES AND STUFF

You can't make a tomato sandwich without a tomato

Bill King
Tribune
Contributor

Sometimes, there is nothing quite as good as a homemade tomato sandwich, especially in the middle of the hot summer when they are fresh from the garden. That and a cold glass of milk, or a tall iced tea, is the stuff Kings eat – well, these Kings do. Of course, we can buy tomatoes almost any time of year, but in the winter, they don't taste like tomatoes. As a matter of fact, they don't taste like anything. They may look beautiful, but please don't be fooled by looks. I can usually tell I'm eating one because I'm chewing on something, but not because of the flavor. They don't taste bad, they don't taste anything! You might as well eat one of those plastic ones out of that fruit bowl sitting on your mama's dining room table. If you want tomato flavor, pour a little ketchup on them. The best option for a tomato sandwich that time of year, is a peanut butter and banana sandwich. Just forget about the tomatoes until next summer.

The best tomato sandwiches, in my humble opinion, are made with fresh soft white loaf bread, a generous covering of Duke's mayonnaise on both sides, and a little salt and pepper. If you want to get fancy, add a slice of cheese, or even a couple of pieces of bacon, but be careful, if you add lettuce it is no longer a tomato sandwich but a BLT. A few nights ago, Jean and I were trying to decide what to have for dinner. We had eaten a big lunch, so neither of us was terribly hungry. One of us said, "A tomato sandwich would be good, except we don't have any tomatoes." I volunteered to make a quick grocery store run. Jean said, "Pick up a bag of chips to go with it." I knew that meant two bags of chips, well, for two reasons. One is because they usually have a "buy one get one free" on chips. The other reason is because Jean likes barbecue chips with her tomato sandwich, and I like salt and vinegar with mine. I got back home and unbagged the groceries. I pulled out soft white bread, two bags of chips, and a giant block of extra sharp cheddar cheese that is so strong it will whiten your teeth. The cheese wasn't on the list, but I went ahead and bought it in case we decided to get fancy. Jean looked around at everything and asked, "Where are the tomatoes?" Remember what I said earlier about just forgetting about the tomatoes? That's exactly what I had done. I had forgotten the tomatoes. You can't make a tomato sandwich without tomatoes, but you can make a banana sandwich, or a bacon and cheese sandwich, without them.

Well, I've come to that age when I get free coffee at some places. This also means that I need to make a grocery list and then remember to look at it. As you probably know, Monday is Memorial Day. This a holiday to help us remember. No, not what we went to store to buy. It is a day to remember those who sacrificed their lives so that we might live in freedom in this great nation of ours. According to the figures I've read, 657,961 Americans have died on the battle fields and another 310,178 have died in the theatres of war. May we never forget to remember those who gave everything, even for those of us whom they didn't even know. Thank You!

Poet's Corner

A Good Boy

By: Robert Louis Stevenson

1850-1894

I woke before the morning, I was happy all the day,
I never said an ugly word, but smiled and stuck to play.

And now at last the sun is going down behind the wood,
And I am very happy, for I know that I've been good.

My bed is waiting cool and fresh,
with linen smooth and fair,
And I must be off to sleepsin-by,
and not forget my prayer.

I know that, till to-morrow I shall see the sun arise,
No ugly dream shall fright my mind, no ugly sight my eyes.

But slumber hold me tightly
till I waken in the dawn,
And hear the thrushes singing in the lilacs round the lawn.

ELECTION 2018

What you need to know for June 5 Primary Elections

Wendy Sack
wendy@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN – The Democratic and Republican Primary Elections are next Tuesday, June 5. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Alabama voters have to declare a party before they cast their ballots. That means, when you show up to your polling place, you'll have to choose to vote in either the Republican or Democratic Primary. You can't vote in both. Important to remember is whichever party you choose on June 5 is the party you have to stick with if there happens to be a run-off election. For example, if you vote Republican on June 5, and there's a run-off on the Democratic ticket, you can't vote in that run-off. That rule, the crossover voting rule, only applies to primary elections. In the November general election, both parties will be on your ballot.

Also remember, all Alabama voters are required to show photo identification before voting. Types of IDs accepted are valid driver's license, valid nondriver ID, valid Alabama photo voter ID, valid state-issued ID, valid federal-issued ID, valid US passport, valid employee ID from federal government, State of Alabama, county, municipality, board or other entity of this state, valid student or employee ID from a public or private college or university in the State of Alabama (including postgraduate technical or professional schools), valid military ID or valid tribal ID.

Find out more, including your polling location, at https://sos.alabama.gov/alabama-votes.

END OF BALLOT

Veteran (from Front)

FAIRVIEW – When decorated combat and special operations veteran Col. Donald Fallin retired from the United States Army in 2016, he wasn't giving up his life of adventure. He was just changing shoes, trading his combat boots for the hiking variety. At Springer Mountain, Georgia on March 27, Fallin started up the Appalachian Trail on a mission to raise awareness and money for the Johnny Mac Soldiers Fund, an educational fund for veterans and military families, with a special emphasis on serving the children of soldiers who have given their lives in service to their country.

The colonel completed 534 miles on the trail before pausing to return to Fairview for his nephew's graduation.

After the ceremony, he will return to Marion, Virginia to pick up where he left off. While he was "in the neighborhood," The Tribune caught up with him to find out more about what he's doing.

"I was just about to enter the job market, and it just didn't feel like it was the right thing to do," said Fallin. "And I was wanting to do something to try to give back, so I talked with Rep. (Randall) Shedd about a couple of things, and he had some ideas. So, long story short was a friend of mine that I went to school with introduced me to the Johnny Mac Soldiers Fund, so we came up with an idea to do the first Johnny Mac Soldiers Fund Challenge, which is an endurance event to raise awareness.

"There's two primary missions: one is raise awareness for the fund, and then two is certainly try to get support and donations to help our veterans' family members. So I thought it would be a great opportunity.

"I've been blessed: grew up here in Fairview, had a very rural life, entered the service and had just a wonderful career. And I just thought it would be an opportunity to try to do something to give back a little bit for all the blessings I had been given.

"So, about a month after I talked with my friend Bob, who is on the board of directors for the Johnny Mac Soldiers Fund, I told him I'd do it, so here I am. The main reason is just an opportunity to give back, and then we'll figure out what's next after this one."

Johnny Mac Soldiers Fund

According to the organization's website, "Johnny Mac Soldiers Fund honors military service and sacrifice by providing scholarships to veterans and military family members, particularly children of our nation's fallen and disabled.

"Time and again, our soldiers and their families are asked to give of themselves for the rest of us.While they ask little in return, we owe them so much. Through education, we give back to those who gave. We give back to 'Our Own.' It's the least we can do."

The fund was named for Col. John McHugh, who was killed by a suicide bomber in Afghanistan on May 18, 2010.

The West Point graduate and Army aviator left behind five children, who were aided in obtaining educations through a fundraising effort that became the Johnny Mac Fund.

An organizational fact sheet said: "What began as a small effort to help one fallen soldier's family quickly transformed into our vision to help as many military families as we can. Johnny Mac Soldiers Fund was created in 2014 to give back to those who gave—especially to those who gave their all, like Johnny Mac. Now he is symbolic of all who have served and sacrificed.

"Research shows that over 20,000 children have lost an active-duty military parent over the last 35 years. While those children are eligible for education benefits, often there are substantial college funding gaps remaining. We proudly work to alleviate this burden from those families who have already given so much to our nation.

"Since 2014, Johnny Mac Soldiers Fund has awarded $7.5 million in scholarships to 1,000 veterans and military family members... and growing."

Fallin and McHugh were acquainted during their time at West Point, and occasionally served together in joint aviation operations. Fallin spoke highly of him, referring to McHugh as a quiet professional who placed faith, family and country above himself and called him "an all-around great guy."

Col. Fallin's colorful career

Fallin graduated from Fairview High School and enlisted in the Army in 1982. After a short assignment to an artillery unit in Germany, he was appointed to the United States Military Academy at West Point, New York where he graduated in 1988 and was commissioned as an infantry officer. Over the next 34 years, he held posts in Airborne, Aviation and Special Operations units prior to his retirement in August 2016.

Fallin served eight combat tours in Operations Desert Shield and Desert Storm, Operation Iraqi Freedom, Operation Enduring Freedom and Resolute Support.

He was the Special Operations Task Force Commander for the 2010 Vancouver Winter Olympics and was Operations Officer for the mission to rescue Maersk Alabama Capt. Richard Phillips depicted in the movie "Captain Phillips."

He holds the Combat Infantryman's Badge, Combat Action Badge, Legion of Merit, five Bronze Star Medals, two Defense Meritorious Service Medals, four Meritorious Service Medals, the Combat Air Medal and four Army Commendation medals, as well as the Order of St. Michael for his contributions to Army Aviation. His military certifications include Airborne Ranger, Pathfinder and Senior Army Aviator.

And most importantly for some local folks, the colonel was Fairview High School's 2006 Alumnus of the Year.

Fallin holds a bachelor's degree from the United States Military Academy and master's degrees from Troy State University and the National Defense University.

He is married to the former Megan Mitchell from New City, New York. Their daughter Casey is a graduate of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, and their son Sean is a cadet at West Point.

Walking the Appalachian Trail

With an almost 2,200-mile route through often steep terrain, the Appalachian Trail is far from a walk in the park.

Said Fallin, "I'll tell you, I thought, having been in the military for a long time, I was in decent shape--granted, I had been out for a little over a year, but it has absolutely humbled me. I overestimated how much distance I would cover per day, and, before I came off the trail, I was probably about 12 days behind what I thought was a decent schedule. But those mountains in Georgia and the Smoky Mountains were punitive in nature; they were punishing!"

Fallin has climbed up and down steep grades and faced five-degree wind chills during a snowstorm, all while living out of a 35-lb. backpack and sleeping in a small shelter tent.

Now he will have to concern himself with heat and staying hydrated, mapping out the distances between places along the trail where he can restock his food and water supplies. And because of precarious ground conditions at points along the trail, Fallin is far more concerned about a twisted ankle or broken bone in his feet than wildlife or bad weather.

"It's a lot more complicated than I thought," he said. "It's not just walking, as my family likes to tell me: 'Dad, you're just walking!'"

Fallin will have a little more than 1,600 miles to go when he gets back on the trail, and he hopes to reach the northern trail terminus at Mt. Katahdin, Maine in late September.

The final word

Said Fallin, "Growing up on a farm here in Fairview, I certainly wanted to go to school after I graduated from Fairview, but my dad was a plumber and a chicken farmer, and we just didn't have those kinds of funds. So I enlisted as a private in the Army; I signed up for this college fund. And I knew how difficult it was to pay for college, and I've got one daughter who's finished college and another son who's in college now, who's also at the Military Academy.

"So I know first-hand how hard it is to pay for your own education, and add to it to pay for family members. So the thing that, I guess, resonates with me personally is it's the opportunity to help those folks because I think education is the most important investment we can do in our country, because if you invest in our children and our citizens, then the return on that investment can't be measured. You can't put a dollar amount on it.

"You know, education is the one thing that no one can take from you, and it just opens up the doors for the opportunities to live the American dream that we all strive for."

PROVEN ACCOUNTABILITY

Transparency and honesty are more than buzzwords. It's how I run my office. When it comes to serving as Cullman County's Chief Election Official it's my job to make sure our voters know where and when to cast their vote. While some may criticize me for allocating extra funds to publish our voters' list in more than one publication, I feel it's my responsibility to make sure the people in Cullman County have access to the information they need to let their voice be heard. I am careful with taxpayer dollars and have always worked within the budget allotted for my office. During my tenure as Probate Judge, I have had two clean audits proving my fiscal responsibility. Don't forget to cast your vote on June 5th.

Local first responders enjoy annual cookout

Guests at the annual First Responders Cookout enjoy a game of cornhole Thursday evening.

CULLMAN – As part of EMS (Emergency Medical Services) Week, Cullman EMS hosted the annual First Responders Cookout at Sportsman Lake Park Thursday evening. EMS workers, Air Evac Lifeteam, members of the local law enforcement and firefighters from several of the area's departments enjoyed food, friends and the chance to win door prizes.

EMS employees provided all the food and drinks - barbecue, hot dogs, sausage, baked beans, chips, cookies, ice cream and soda - as well as one of the door prizes: a wooden plaque honoring the medical services.

The other prize, a cooler, was brought by Air Evac Lifeteam. In addition to the food and prizes, guests enjoyed games of corn hole and an inflatable slide for the kids.

Cullman EMS Director James Curtis described the cookout as a way for first responders to come together and see everyone outside of their stressful work environments.

"It's just a good time for us to get together with all our community partners - you know, the sheriff's department, the volunteer fire departments, us folks in the EMS, the hospital - for everybody to come together and just fellowship a bit away from all the stresses of work," said Curtis, who shared that a lot of first responders also use the meal to spend time with their families, as many often spend more time at work than at home.

Curtis shared some ways to avoid needing to call EMS during the summer.

"This is what we call the trauma season," he explained. "There's a lot of people doing activities outside, and so we get a lot of people that unfortunately get injured.

"The biggest thing is a lot of heat-related injuries, so drink plenty of water and don't overdo it, everything in moderation.

"If (people are) out there riding their ATVs or they're out on the water, (they should) have their lifejacket on out in the water and helmets when on their ATVs to help keep themselves safe."

PAUL BUSSMAN

VOTE PAUL BUSSMAN ON JUNE 5
IN THE REPUBLICAN PRIMARY

PAID FOR BY PAUL BUSSMAN FOR STATE SENATE

Cullman County First

As your state Representative, I fully support and appreciate local law enforcement leaders like Sheriff Matt Gentry and their efforts to protect and serve our community.

The School Resource Officer programs are vital to prevention and response to issues facing our schools, and deserve stronger funding that I am working to secure.

I will work with our Police Chiefs, Sheriffs and Superintendents to support their efforts to provide safe schools for our children.

On June 5,
Re-elect

Corey Harbison

Alabama House of Representatives, District 12
