Satisfy your sweet tooth with Fudge Swirl!

CULLMAN COUNTY ANIMAL SHELTER

Fudge Swirl

CULLMAN, Ala. – Cullman County Animal Shelter Volunteer Donna Ruttkay shared Monday that the last Cullman Tribune Pet of the Week, Spencer, has been adopted. Here, she introduces us to a new canine friend:

Fudge Swirl is a serious eye catcher with her dramatic brindle coloration, often referred to as "tiger striping." She's a 1-year-old mixed breed whose color may indicate some Tennessee Treeing Brindle or Staffordshire/bulldog in her lineage. She's a laid-back, low- to medium-energy pet who's submissive to humans and great on her leash. She enjoys sun and fresh air in the yard and retreating for a little peace and quiet in the shade of the shelter's walnut tree. Fudge Swirl has the makings of a good companion, emotional support or walking/hiking dog. Animal shelter staff and volunteers work with their dogs to make sure they are accustomed to being around people, walking on a leash and practicing good behavior. Several of the shelter's dogs have even been "hired" to work as therapy and special needs service dogs.

Fudge Swirl's adoption fee is $90 which includes: DHLPP vaccine, Bordetella vaccines, rabies vaccine, wormer, general exam at the vet, spaying, microchip, free 30-day health insurance policy issued by 24PetWatch (with valid email only) and a free bag of food from Cullman Pet Depot (you must pay sales tax).

Please consider adopting, to give a rescued pet a chance at a happy and healthy life. Contact the Cullman County Animal Shelter at 256-734-5448 or cullmancountyanimalshelter@gmail.com. Visit the shelter at 935 Convent Road NE.

EDUCATION

Wallace State/CCBOE partnership puts students on fast track to success

W.C. Mann
craig@cullmantribune.com

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – Tucked away on a corner of the Wallace State Community College (WSCC) campus is a collection of non-traditional classrooms designed to serve a group of non-traditional students. In classrooms that are part computer lab and part den (Prefer easy chairs and recliners to school desks? You might want to take a look!), students come and go on a flexible schedule to work on their high school credits through an online program while attending regular college classes through a partnership between WSCC and the Cullman County Board of Education (CCBOE) known as Fast Track for Industry and the Fast Track Academy, which allow students to work toward employment credentials and even college degrees while still in high school. Some of the students in the various programs even receive their associate degrees from WSCC before they get their high school diplomas.

Fast Track program Counselor Dr. Ginger Hogeland told The Tribune, "Cullman County students have a unique opportunity through the Fast Track program, a partnership between Cullman County Schools and Wallace State College.

"Our students at Fast Track have the opportunity to attend Wallace State during their junior and senior years in high school. Many of them earn their two-year associate degree almost a month before graduating high school. They take their high school classes with the Fast Track teachers in the general studies building on the campus of Wallace State and their college courses with regular college students in various buildings on campus."

The program offers a wide array of academic/vocational pathways for its students to pursue, including:

- Agriculture/Horticulture Agribusiness
- HVAC General Technology
- Automotive Service Technology
- Child Development
- Collision Repair General Technology
- Computer Science with options of Programming, Microcomputer Applications, Cyber-Infused Networking Technology and Mobile Web Technology
- General Diesel Technology with a specialized option of Commercial Vehicle Applications
- Electronics Technology with options of Biomedical, Communications and Mechatronics
- Emergency Medical Services (EMT)
- Engineering Technology
- Health Information Technology
- Machine Tool Technology with options of CNC, Tool and Die and Injection Molding
- Medical Assistant
- Medical Laboratory Technician
- Accounting
- Administrative Assistant
- Medical Administrative Assistant
- Paralegal Studies
- Pharmacy Technology - short term certificate only
- Welding

Most of the pathways offer both an associate of applied science degree for students starting at the beginning of their junior year, and multiple short-term certificates that can benefit students even if they wait until their senior year to enroll.

Students who do both their junior and senior years in the program have the opportunity to get out of school and into the workforce up to four years ahead of their classmates who follow a traditional high school to college track.

Said Hogeland, "A lot of our students can come through here and finish their two-year degree at Wallace, and immediately start to work at 18 years old, making as much money as most people would make with a four-year degree.

"And then they have no student loans to deal with, so they're better all the way around. Their families are better off, they're better off, they get to start to work earlier."

Fast Track students enjoy certain financial advantages through innovative funding offerings.

Hogeland explained, "Students in our program are awarded a scholarship covering two college courses each semester.

"Additional scholarships may be used to cover the cost of added college courses. Also, Wallace is currently participating in the PELL Experiment allowing high school students to apply for and receive PELL Grant funding if they qualify.

"These additional funding sources allow students to take a full load of college courses. While other college graduates are making monthly payments on student loans years after finishing college, our students are enjoying the freedom of being debt-free."

The WSCC/CCBOE partnership is currently the only one of its kind in Alabama offering PELL Grants.

Susan Harris oversees high school science studies for Fast Track students.

She told The Tribune, "We're just excited because our students are able to come and get a jump on life. Actually, it changes their lives and their families' lives.

"I taught in a traditional classroom for a long, long, long, long time, and there are some students who are just not made for school: to sit in a classroom for seven hours a day and hand write and do schoolwork; that's just not them. This program is perfect for those students.

"I actually had students I taught at Good Hope, and then when we transitioned down here, they came with me. They were those average students, and then they excelled when they got in their welding or their diesel class, because that's what they're good at.

"I can't say enough good things about it. It's just that we've had a lot of successes and hope to see a lot more successes."

The Tribune will be highlighting some of the programs of CCBOE's Fast Track through the school year, so check back for more!

Friends ride to remember Wayne Mills

Christy Perry
christy@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – On what would have been Wayne Mills' 50th birthday, Hawg Engineering hosted the second annual Wayne Mills Memorial Ride Saturday to remember their friend and popular musician. Gary "Sarge" Sargeant, owner of Hawg Engineering and one of Mills' closest friends, hosts the ride each year and donates the proceeds to Mills' son Jack's education fund.

Mills was a native of Arab, Alabama and played baseball for Wallace State before transferring to the University of Alabama where he earned a degree in education. An outstanding athlete, Mills also played football at the University of Alabama under Gene Stallings.

Mills' passion was music and he found success with the Wayne Mills Band. The band toured with Blake Shelton and Jamey Johnson and released five studio albums and two live albums including hit songs "The Last Honky Tonk" and "One of These Days."

In Nov. 2013, Mills was shot and killed as he was walking out of a bar in Nashville. News of the popular singer's murder devastated his family, friends and fans including his wife and then 7-year-old son Jack. In March 2015, Chris Ferrell was convicted of second-degree murder for shooting Mills in the back of the head and in 2019 a Tennessee appeals court upheld his 20-year sentence.

Sarge, who delivered Mills' eulogy, will continue to honor his friend each year on his birthday and vows to help his friend's family in any way possible.

"People were drawn to Wayne. He was talented and people love his music, but it's the size of his heart that made him special. I miss him. Today would have been his 50th birthday, so we will ride to Arab and visit his grave to pay our respects to our fallen brother."

Several musicians performed at Hawg Engineering Saturday evening after the ride to honor Mills. American Idol alumnus Brandon Elder, Joe Pritchard and Kara Clark traveled from Nashville for a night of great music and remembrance of a friend gone far too soon.

PREP FOOTBALL

3rd annual Brandin' Iron Bowl headlines Thursday slate of opening games

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

Several teams will open the 2019 football season on Thursday night, including a pair of matchups between local squads. The West Point Warriors will travel to Fairview for the third annual Brandin Iron Bowl, Meek will host the Cold Springs Eagles and the Cullman Bearcats will be headed to Jasper for a highly anticipated showdown with the Vikings.

Cullman (6A, Region 7) at Jasper (5A, Region 7)

The Bearcats will kick things off with Jasper once again but this year, they'll be travelling Ki-Ro Gambrell Field to play on the Vikings' new artificial turf. Cullman took last year's matchup 28-27 after Max Dueland found Dylon Wallace in the corner of the end zone in the final seconds and Luke Andrews booted through the extra point. The dramatic win evened the all-time series between Jasper and the Bearcats at 34-34-2. After their loss at Cullman to open the season, the Vikings went on to win their next 11 games before being put out of the state playoffs in the third round by Mortimer Jordan, finishing the season 11-2. Jasper buttoned up defensively throughout the season and allowed just under 18 points per game the rest of the way after losing in Oliver Woodard Stadium. The Vikings were also a perfect 7-0 a season ago and with the new playing surface making its debut this week, the Bearcats will definitely be walking into an electric atmosphere.

Meek (1A, Region 6) vs. Cold Springs (2A, Region 5)

Both the Eagles and Tigers are coming off disappointing 2018 campaigns and both plan to bounce back and take a run at the playoffs this season, making this season opener critical for each of them. Cold Springs took last year's season-opening matchup at home 34-20 but this year the Eagles will travel to Arley to face the Tigers.

The Eagles jumped out to a 14-0 lead by the start of the second quarter last year and stretch their lead to 28-0 by the halftime break. Those early points were thanks in large part to running back Ayden Alexander, quarterback Brodi Williams and wide receiver Roberto Ayala, all of whom will be back on the field this season. The Tigers responded in the second half and got some points on the board, but they couldn't overcome the early burst of offense from Cold Springs. The pressure will be on Meek's defense to keep the Eagles' offense contained early so the offense can give them a chance at a 1-0 start to 2019.

Fairview (4A, Region 7) vs. West Point (5A Region 7)

The year was 2010 the last time the Fairview Aggies knocked off the West Point Warriors. The Aggies defeated West Point 35-28 in Dafford Smith Stadium in George Redding's fourth year at Fairview High School and he, along with his team and fans, will be looking for a similar result Thursday night. At Cullman County Schools Media Day, Redding touched on the recent one-sided trend in the rivalry and knows his guys are anxious for another shot at the Warriors.

"We've kind of been on the other end of that and we've hard some hard-fought battles, last year not so much. I feel like our guys did a lot growing from that game throughout the season that kind of showed later in the year," Redding said.

"They bring such big size; they're always going to be bigger than us and it's just kind of gotten to that point that we as a team just have to draw a line in the sand and say we're not interested in getting pushed around anymore."

Last year's matchup was a 55-27 win for West Point that saw the Warriors build a 34-6 lead going into the half. The early lead was too much for Fairview to overcome and West Point pulled away to secure the season-opening win. The Aggie defense will have to hold up better on Thursday if Fairview wants to turn the tables in this rivalry and start this season with a big win.

NICK GRIFFIN/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

The Fairview Aggies will host the West Point Warriors Thursday night in the third annual Brandin' Iron Bowl.

Alabama Football Holds Second Scrimmage of Fall Camp

Crimson Tide works in game-like conditions for nearly two hours on Saturday

UA Athletics
Contributor

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. – The Alabama Crimson Tide held its second scrimmage of the fall on Saturday afternoon at Bryant-Denny Stadium. The workout lasted roughly 140 plays and just under two hours on a hot, sunny Saturday afternoon in Tuscaloosa.

The scrimmage was Alabama's second and final of the fall in preparation for its season-opening contest with Duke in the Chick-fil-A Kickoff Game at Mercedes-Benz Stadium in Atlanta, Ga., on Saturday, Aug. 31.

The matchup between the Crimson Tide and Blue Devils is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. CT on ABC.

The team will be off this Sunday before getting back to work on Monday.

Nick Saban Post-Scrimmage
Opening Statement:

"The thing I asked the players after the last scrimmage and challenged them to do was, 'How much will you improve from the last scrimmage to this scrimmage?' That's going to happen by what you invest and what you commit to doing every day in practice, so you're focused on what's happening right now so that you can make that improvement.

"I would say we had a significant amount of guys that made strides and were better in this game, a lot less anxiety, especially for the young players, but not where we want to be.

"I think we're still not tackling well on defense. We had too many missed tackles, too many guys breaking down.

"(We were) not aggressive enough. Not enough cleanup. We gave up a few too many big plays on offense.

"Last week, we were really good in terms of turnovers and taking care of the ball.

"Today, we had the ball on the ground more than we'd like, threw a couple picks – which we've got to not do – so we've got to do a better job of taking care of the ball.

"When you're playing against each other, if this guy is doing good, and that guy playing against him, who is still on your team, may not be doing so good, so it really is hard to evaluate the overall consistency of performance until you watch the film."

KENT GIDLEY/UA ATHLETICS

CULLMAN, Ala. – In today's world of social media bickering and political divisiveness, many could learn a lesson from two amazing young women from Cullman County. The pair could easily be bitter rivals, but instead, they are best friends and each other's biggest supporters. Fairview High School senior Morgan Haynes and Holly Pond High School senior August Floyd are competitors in many things, but they rise above and embrace their commonalities.

The girls met in the spring of 2018 on a trip with what was called the Cullman County "Super Band." Fairview, Holly Pond, Vinemont and Good Hope marching bands performed as one unified band on the streets of Universal Studios and Haynes and Floyd became fast friends. The fun days in Orlando were the beginning of a beautiful friendship.

Now Haynes and Floyd are seniors and their paths will cross more than they could have ever imagined. Each is the drum major for her school's marching band and the Cullman County Fair Queen Representative for her school.

"We met at Universal and we stayed in touch," said Haynes. "We follow each other on social media. We get to see each other sometimes. We're both busy with different things and now we are both drum majors and fair queens and we have to prepare for the pageant and do different things for the band. It's been kind of crazy trying to get with friends."

"We are always busy! I'm always texting Morgan when it comes to drum major and stuff. For tryouts, I called her and was like, 'You're going to have to help me with a routine.' We keep in touch a lot and we text a lot," Floyd added.

Haynes and Floyd will have full calendars throughout September and October as marching band season will be in full swing and the Cullman County Fair approaches. The pageant is Oct. 8. When asked which role was the more daunting, the girls viewed their roles differently.

Haynes said, "Drum major because you are over an entire band. Fair queen, when you compete at the school level, you are representing yourself. When you go to compete at county, you are representing your school. With drum major, you always have to make sure you know who is where at what times and you have to keep up with seventh graders who are new to band, so they don't know exactly what to do at what time. You have to make sure everybody's doing what they are supposed to do. At least for right now, it's been drum major, but I think leading up to the pageant, it might shift gears and become fair queen."

For Floyd, fair queen is the more stressful role; she shared, "Before drum major, I was band captain, so being in a leadership position really isn't new to me. I am used to having to take care of other people, keeping everybody in their place and making sure everyone is prepared. Being drum major really isn't different from that, but fair queen is. I'm not used to the pageant life!"

While Haynes and Floyd have been in a couple of pageants, this will be the first pageant they've been in that requires a talent to be performed. Both girls have chosen to showcase their singing talents. Haynes will sing "For Good" from "Wicked," and Floyd will sing "Never Enough" from "The Greatest Showman."

Floyd, who is also a percussionist in the band, opted to not play drums as her talent, joking, "I thought about it, but that's not very sophisticated."

One thing both girls fully agree on is that this year's band camp week was great. They were happy that the weather turned cool that week.

Haynes said of the Fairview show, "Our show is titled 'One Giant Leap,' and it's songs from Apollo 11 and different songs about space. It's for the 50th anniversary of the moon landing. We have different props this year which is something we have never had. We have some different surprises with the color guard. They have some new props and it's really fun. I'm very excited about it this year!"

As for the Holly Pond Broncos, Floyd explained, "Our show is titled 'Emergency,' and I've never seen anything like it before. We have songs like 'Bad Medicine,' 'Stitches' and 'Hot Blooded.' This year we have some new things that Holly Pond has never seen. We have a sound system, majorette and color guard features and maybe even some special effects in the majorette spectrum. Everybody has new uniforms and we are excited about that. The show's going to be pretty good this year."

The girls were excited to learn that another "Super Band" trip is in the works for their senior year. They will travel to Orlando again to perform together at either Universal or Disney World, but Floyd said she thinks it will be Disney. The bands are fundraising now for their spring trip.

Spare time is limited for both Haynes and Floyd, and despite attempts to make plans over the summer, school started before they were able to make that happen.

Floyd recalled, "The one time we did get to see each other this summer was for fair queen."

"The night that August won, I had actually gone to Holly Pond and didn't even know she was doing fair queen," said Haynes. "I saw August and I was like, 'Oh my gosh, August is in the pageant!' When she won, we got pictures together and everything and we were excited. Then, when I won, she called and was real excited for me. It's really nice to have a supportive friend that really encourages you to do different things. I'm glad we have each other to lean on and support each other, especially during fair queen; it can be stressful."

"I was calling her for tryouts I was like, 'Morgan, I need some help with some cues! I don't know what to do,'" Floyd laughed about her drum major audition.

Haynes laughed, "I said, 'I don't know what to do either. I would help you, but I don't know what I'm doing!'"

Floyd continued, "We talk about stuff like that and other people are like, 'What's a cue or what's this?' I'm like, Morgan understands."

"People ask me all the time how I juggle my schedule. I'm an officer in everything I do. Being fair queen representative plus drum major and constantly having stress on you, it's really nice to have someone understand how much is on your shoulders," said Haynes. "I can just be like, 'You stressed out this week?' It's nice to know you're not alone."

This year's Fairview/Holly Pond game will be at Holly Pond and both girls are looking forward to it. The meet and greet will be special and it's the last game of the regular season for both schools. Haynes and Floyd will also cheer for each other at the band exhibition following the Cullman County Fair Parade Sept. 28.

When the girls aren't busy with the band, pageants and the many clubs they are involved in at school, somehow, they do find time to just sit and watch television.

Haynes enjoys reading, playing guitar and piano and time with family.

Floyd likes being at home and said, "I don't consider myself a typical teenager because I don't like getting out a lot. I like staying home and spending time with my mom."

After school both girls plan on starting out at Wallace State Community College. Floyd hopes to begin at Wallace before transferring to Jacksonville State. Haynes plans on taking basics at Wallace. She hopes to be a speech therapist and has several schools she is looking into.

Haynes is the daughter of Doyle and Margaret Haynes. Floyd is the daughter of Nathan and Bridget Pannell.

OPINION

Worldview, part 2

Tom Fillinger
Tribune Correspondent

In this article we provide a general definition of worldview. We also provide a definition of a biblical worldview. Using these definitions, determine where you stand on this vital issue.

1. What is a worldview?
A worldview is the framework from which we view reality and make sense of life and the world.

It is a combination of all you believe to be true, and what you believe becomes the driving force behind every emotion, decision and action.

Therefore, it affects your response to every area of life: from philosophy to science, theology and anthropology to economics, law, politics, art and social order — everything.

For example, let's suppose you have bought the idea that beauty is in the eye of the beholder (secular relative truth) as opposed to beauty as defined by God's purity and creativity (absolute truth).

Then any art piece, no matter how vulgar or abstract, would be considered "art," a creation of beauty.

2. What's a biblical worldview?
A biblical worldview is based on the infallible Word of God.

When you believe the Bible is entirely true, then you allow it to be the foundation of everything you say and do.

That means, for instance, you take seriously the mandate in Romans 13 to honor the governing authorities by researching the candidates and issues, making voting a priority.

Do you have a biblical worldview? Answer the following questions, based on claims found in the Bible and which George Barna used in his survey:

- Do absolute moral truths exist?
- Is absolute truth defined by the Bible?
- Did Jesus Christ live a sinless life?
- Is God the all-powerful and all-knowing creator of the universe, and does He still rule it today?
- Is salvation a gift from God that cannot be earned?
- Is Satan real?
- Does a Christian have a responsibility to share his or her faith in Christ with other people?
- Is the Bible accurate in all its teachings?

Did you answer yes to these? Only 9% of "born-again" believers did. But what's more important than your yes to these questions is whether your life shows it.

Granted, we are all sinners and fall short, but most of our gut reactions will reflect what we deep-down, honest-to-goodness believe to be real and true.

3. How does a biblical worldview get diluted?
Here is the big problem. Non-biblical worldview ideas don't just sit in a book somewhere waiting for people to examine them.

They bombard us constantly from television, film, music, newspapers, magazines, books and academia.

Because we live in a selfish, fallen world, these ideas seductively appeal to the desires of our flesh, and we often end up incorporating them into our personal worldview. Sadly, we often do this without even knowing it.

A biblical worldview embraces the premise that there is Absolute Truth and this Truth is that which God has revealed to us in the Scriptures.

There are other issues which we will consider in this series.

As a rule, people have a number of reasons for getting married, ranging from love to making a public declaration of commitment to financial security. In the Season 4 finale, "The Groom," however, Nate (Jason Jones) heads to the altar for a motive that's certainly commendable but not ideal: to save his (real) family. Since that suggests the bride is someone other than Robin (Natalie Zea), it's hard to see how this ends well for the Parker clan.

Natalie Zea stars in "The Detour" on TBS.

Holly Pond Broncos

The Broncos are coming off their third consecutive trip to the postseason this fall but they'll be looking to replace seniors in the backfield, the line of scrimmage, linebacking corps and everywhere in between. Holly Pond Head Coach Mike Bates has several spots to fill before week one but the holes standing out to him are up front.

"We've got two starters coming back on offense and two starters back on defense. Some of the obvious guys you think of from last year are Jeremiah (Holmes), you think of Alex Corneglio and Tyler Boatright and Brody Rowell and guys like that. We'll miss those guys don't get me wrong, but you know Isaac Schwaiger, Colyn Cofield and Jacob Ring and our offensive line and linebackers and people like that, those guys will be severely missed," Bates said. "They were tough competitors that kind of set the tone for us. They weren't afraid of contact, weren't afraid of a challenge and those guys are the really hard ones to replace."

The numbers are down a little bit for Holly Pond this season, but Bates has already seen good things out of the group they have. Attendance in the offseason has been great and Bates and his stuff are anxious to get to work with the group they have.

"There's good and bad news, I think. The biggest disappointment I think is our numbers are way down after three really good years. We lost several kids that either didn't come back out or didn't stay with it or whatever so we're probably looking at about 25 kids which is tough to play with in our league but the good news is we've averaged about 22 kids per night in the weight room," Bates said. "So, just about everybody that's playing has been 100% here for the summer workouts. So, there's good and bad in that and one thing I always tell our coaches is 'We can only coach the guys we got'. It's hard to coach those guys that aren't playing."

One of those guys that will be playing is senior quarterback Kyler Chaney. Chaney has been the signal-caller for the Broncos for several years now and his role may even grow during his senior campaign.

"Kyler's such a competitor and the thing about him is we just want to keep him healthy because he's probably going to start on both offense and defense this year. Our numbers are going to dictate that, and skill will dictate that too because he's probably as good a defender as we have. We may even move him around to linebacker before it's over with, we'll have to wait and see," Bates said. "That's a lot of licks for an option quarterback to take playing linebacker too so we're hoping someone can come through and take some pressure off that and we've got some candidates that can do that. We'd love to keep playing (Kyler) at free safety a little bit more but we've had a young kid come through there, Landon Perkins, that has stepped up his game so I think he has a chance to take over that spot and do well."

The priority is always running the football at Holly Pond but this year, the Broncos' personnel may dictate some offensive adjustments. Bates believes the group of linemen he has up front and the players he has in the backfield fit more of a power style of running game.

"I think we're a little bit bigger and more physical than we have been so some of the things that we've done where we relied on our quickness more may not be as prevailing as they were. We're still going to try and do everything that we do but I think there are some places where we might be a little better with power than quickness," Bates said. "We might have to adjust some things like that but we've got some young guys like Gavin Phillips and Jacob Persall and Jebb Bryan, those three guys are all new but they've all three got a little bit of talent and I think they'll all help us on the interior. Todd Sears is another young lineman we're counting on and the only starter back on that front is Colin Leathers and he is everything that high school football is supposed to be. He's a kid that's restricted a little talent-wise, but he is not restricted when it comes to hard work and heart. He has made himself into a football player and as a matter of fact he's going to be one of our team captains this year."

Bates is very optimistic about the group of guys he'll have on the field this year and believes the biggest challenge for himself and his coaches this season is keeping everyone healthy for Friday nights.

"A lot of these guys followed those other leaders that we had, and I think some of them were paying attention and they'll develop into leaders. It can be kind of a culture that you develop. They understand that hard work is what's important and I think our challenge as coaches is to find a way to practice with this number of kids and still be physical but be smart and not get guys hurt at practice or anything like that," Bates said. "So, those are the challenges we're looking at and if these guys are as quality kids as I think they are, then as long as we stay healthy, I think we'll stay competitive. I don't know what that means win-wise but if we stay healthy, I think we can be competitive and like anybody if we get the wrong injuries, we could struggle. But, I'm really high on this group as far as what they can do it's just a question of being smart and getting our physical work in a way that we don't lose kids during the week."

With Chaney returning under center and some promising young athletes on the offensive front, the running game should be there for the Broncos once again, but they'll need to stay healthy to take a run at a fourth straight postseason berth.

Vinemont Eagles

Head coach Stephen Robinson is entering his third season with the Eagles and in that time, he's established strong relationships with his players, and he believes that will help their chemistry this upcoming season.

"I just love these guys. These guys are what makes it fun for me, being around them and just having the camaraderie that we have as a team," Robinson said. "We've got 13 seniors and it's kind of an anomaly because every senior that we have contributes. 12 of them start and every one of them contributes so that's an awesome situation to be in for us."

One of those seniors, Travis Hopper, will unfortunately not be able to contribute between the lines this season. Hopper suffered a head injury in July that will force him into something of a coaching role for the Eagles this year, but Robinson knows that he'll be an asset on the sidelines for Vinemont even if he's not in the starting lineup.

"Obviously one of the biggest losses ever is Travis. Because of his injury, he's not going to be able to play this year so that's a huge loss to our team but I know Travis will find a spot out there and get on to people and I told him the other day that we just gained a new coach," Robinson said. "That's how it feels so he's going to have his role and I'm sure he'll do a great job at that."

Hopper is disappointed that he won't be able to contribute on the field as much as he would like this fall but is still looking forward to seeing what he and his team can accomplish after the work they've put in to prepare.

"We've been working really hard all summer to get ready for this point and it's always been a dream for us since we were younger to be senior leaders out on the field and seeing what's going to happen," Hopper said. "I think everything happens for a reason and even though this happened, I still want to be part of the team and help as much as I can. I think we're going to do great things."

One of the guys that will be missing from last year's squad, Dustin Moore, will certainly be missed in the starting lineup and on the stat sheet but Robinson has been happy to see several young guys step during the offseason. The size of the Eagles' roster this fall will also give Robinson and his staff some options when filling out their offensive and defensive lineups.

"One of our biggest losses from last year was just a playmaker. We lost Dustin (Moore) and as far as output and stats-wise, he was one of our biggest guys so we're just getting guys to try and fill that role. We've actually got some sophomores that have stepped up this year and it's possible we could start three sophomores on offense in a skill position. According to how we are on that, we're really looking at two-platooning," Robinson said. "It's very possible for us to have nine people on the field that are only one-way players and if we can do that in 3A that's huge. Of course, we have to be confident in those guys, but we feel confident in what we have right now. We've had Gabe Friedrich really step up, he's a sophomore. Marcus Callingwood has really stepped up; Colby Miller has stepped up and Colby may also start on defense so he might not start on offense, but we've still got a long way to go to see how the react in game-like situations."

Robinson took time to point out one senior in particular that his impressed him this offseason and believes his work ethic represents a positive attitude within the program.

"As far as putting in work between our last snap last year and the start of camp, there probably aren't many people in this state that have put in more time than Dallin Dinkle," Robinson said. "You see him on Saturday mornings up there running bleachers by himself, after school he'll pull up to the field house out there by himself and sometimes, he has a buddy with him or another player so that's encouraging. When you get kids that start doing that kind of work, and he's not the only one. A lot of these guys have been around to camps in state and out of state at different colleges and things so when you get kids to start buying in for their own good and the team's good, everything kind of starts to change."

The Eagles lost some tight games last season in which they put themselves into position to win but couldn't seal the deal. Coach Robinson chalks those losses up to critical mistakes at critical times and when you play a tough schedule, those mistakes cost even more. After learning those lessons in 2018, Robinson is excited to see his team take that experience to the field this season.

"Last year if you look back, we had some key turnovers that cost us some wins, it really did. Everything we do is kind of based on timing, like a lot of teams, so everything we do is kind of based on that. If you take away those mistakes we had last year, our record is a lot different. We were in the game with some very tough teams last year. I think seven of the 10 teams we played made the playoffs," Robinson said. "Our guys see the hard work that we put in and how it changed stuff last year on Friday nights and to work as hard as they worked and then have a mental mistake cost you, it bites them just like it bites me. That's what I love about these guys is it's not just the coaches that are out there upset about it, the kids are too. That's how I know that we are getting to where we need to be."

maggie@cullmantribune.com

GARDEN CITY, Ala. – The Garden City Town Council on Monday night voted to enter into a township deputy contract with the Cullman County Sheriff's Office (CCSO). The council had, in previous months, debated over having the deputy or establishing a police department, but in the end chose the former

In the work session prior to Monday night's meeting, Cullman County Sheriff Matt Gentry was present to answer questions for the council.

Questions the council had for Gentry:

1. If the deputy is pulled off for another call, will his or her hours be made up for the Town?

Gentry said: "In a township deputy contract, the deputy is assigned 86 hours every two weeks, but if the deputy is called to be of assistance to another deputy that is responding to a situation, any loss hours will not be made up."

2. Will the deputy be designated to handle the Town's paperwork as far as ordinances or any other form that needs to be delivered to a resident?

Said Gentry: "Deputies typically cover Title 32 and 13 which are the criminal laws and traffic laws in the state of Alabama. What we typically will do is we will assist the town or the city's attorney; we've had several instances where Good Hope has filed civil process. And once the attorney did that, then they would come to the deputy and the deputy would serve the civil process for the town.

"But it wouldn't be going out and writing an ordinance."

3. What are we going to get out of it and what are we not going to get?

Gentry: "Municipalities under a township deputy contract can establish what they want to do with their deputy. Deputies will enforce Title 32 and 13 always, however."

4. What will be the deputy's routine as far as speeders or anyone not following the law?

Gentry said, "Every town is different."

5. Will the deputy be spending the majority of the time in Garden City?

Gentry: "Unforeseen for us," in other words, it just depends on what happens.

Councilman Michael Black said, "We just need more of a police presence down here."

The rest of the council agreed with Black, voting to enter into a one-year township deputy contract with the CCSO.

In other business, the council adopted two resolutions and an ordinance.

The first resolution was Resolution 2019-401- Vendors Exempt from Vending License Oct. 12, which exempts vendors from having to purchase a vendor spot or license for the fundraiser the Town of Garden City will be holding for the volunteer fire department Oct. 12.

The second resolution, Resolution 2019-402- Rebuild Alabama Transportation Plan, which is related to the 10-cent fuel tax increase signed into law by Gov. Kay Ivey earlier this year.

The resolution states the Town will use the funds for streets, as funding allows. Garden City will receive an estimated $10,411.

Ordinance 2019-213 Establishing the Use of Electronic Vote Counting, which allows electronic vote counting devices in the municipality for all elections.

The council also voted to allow the fire department to purchase two K-1 thermal imaging cameras, as requested by Chief James Johnson.

Lastly, the council went into executive session with Cullman County Board of Education Representative Kenny Brockman.

The council revealed after the session that the CCBOE has offered the Garden City School building and property to the Town.

Mayor Tim Eskew said, "The land and everything."

The council voted to accept the offer.

The Garden City Town Council meets on the third Monday of each month at 6 p.m. at Garden City Town Hall.

West Point talks new website, County Road 1143

Christy Perry
christy@cullmantribune.com

WEST POINT, Ala. – The West Point Town Council on Monday night continued its discussion about the creation of a new town website. The council had heard from a couple of site developers prior to Monday night's meeting, when Larry Riley from {a man and a mac} Print and Web Design presented his ideas. The council is in favor of the creation of a site that would help promote the town and also allow residents to take care of business, such as ball registration, through the site.

The council said it was impressed with Riley, but it did not make any final decisions Monday as it plans to evaluate other websites to get a better idea of what it would like West Point's site to look like.

The council will continue the discussion at its September meeting.

The council also discussed and approved the construction of three West Point signs.

The brick signs will be built by Jimmy Brewer and the Town approved $6,000 for the project. The first sign will be located at the town hall.

Signs will soon be going up along County Road 1143 by West Point High School to keep drivers from parking on the sides of the road.

The cars are creating an obstacle for emergency vehicles that might need to access the road.

Mayor Gerald Schafer said of the problem, "If there is an emergency where they have to get the big truck through there, if it was time critical, they would have to weave through there."

Food delivery trucks for the school's cafeteria also need to access the road.

Schafer added, "A regular car, there's no problem getting through there, but that big fire truck is really big and bulky."

Frankie Jones added, "We are thinking about the kids' safety," before making a motion to designate the road an emergency lane with no parking on either side.

The council unanimously agreed.

The town playground will be getting some new equipment to replace the glass bubbles currently in place. The bubbles have deteriorated and a couple have broken or broken out completely. The Town will spend up to $5,000 to find fun new pieces to add where the bubbles were. A slide, tic-tac-toe board and a couple of other ideas were mentioned.

There is barricade tape currently on the piece of equipment as it is not safe until the bubbles can be replaced.

The next town council meeting will be held Sept. 16 at 6 p.m. at West Point Town Hall.

A work session will be held prior to the meeting to discuss the town's FY2020 budget.

City school board holds 1st FY2020 budget hearing

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Cullman City School Board held its first proposed budget hearing for the upcoming fiscal year Monday, with its regular board meeting following shortly after the hearing. Chief Financial Officer of Cullman City Schools, Russell Raney, gave a presentation to the board on the upcoming budget and changes from the previous year. Outside of the 4% pay raise for all employees put into effect by the state, Raney reported no major changes for the upcoming budget.

The official General Fund Synopsis from Cullman City Schools reads:

"The General Fund is the primary operating fund of the school district. This fund includes the majority of state and local revenues and related expenditures, except for those required to be accounted for in a different fund type.

"The primary source of state revenues is derived from the State of Alabama Education Trust Fund. Act #2019-403 passed by the Alabama State Legislature during the 2019 regular legislative session, appropriated $7.1 billion of the Education Trust Fund in support of public education for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2020.

"For K-12 public education, this reflects an increase in funding for the Foundation Program of $470 million, when compared to the fiscal year ending September 30, 2019. The State Education Trust receives the majority of its funding from sales and income tax, which are more susceptible to changes in economic conditions.

"Cullman City Schools state allocations through the Foundation Program increased by $1,052,543 for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2020, when compared to fiscal year 2019. This increase is attributed to a slight rise in ADM, resulting in 1.47 more state funded certified units and the state mandated 4% pay raise.

"In order to receive funding from the State Education Trust Fund through the Foundation Program, all school systems must provide a 10.0 mill property tax equivalency match. Cullman City Schools match to participate in the Foundation Program is $3,215,450 for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2020 an increase of $191,640.

"Budgeted revenues and other financing sources in the general fund increase by $716,186 or 2.6% for fiscal year 2020. This increase is due primarily to the additional Foundation Program funding for the pay raise and an increase in budgeted revenues from local tax sources.

"The increase in budgeted local revenue is derived primarily from the increase in sales tax appropriations. The City of Cullman appropriates one cent of sales tax to Cullman City Schools, which reflects $3.6 million in revenue for fiscal year 2020.

"Additionally, local revenue budgets increased in county wide property and sales taxes that are shared with other county districts on the basis of enrollment. As Cullman's student enrollment has increased relative to the county, so has its proportionate share of these revenues.

"Budgeted General Fund expenditures and other fund uses increased by $727,169, or 2.7% for fiscal year 2020. This is due primarily to the pay raise and the associated employer benefits. The school district continues to transfer $550,000 to the capital projects fund for roofing needs/turf replacement and for future building projects.

"The General Fund projected ending fund balance as of September 30, 2020 is $6,537,692. This represents approximately 2.9 months of operations in the General Fund. Local boards of education are required by act of the Alabama State Legislature to develop a plan to establish and maintain a minimum reserve fund equal to one month's operation expenses. The Board of Education has established a goal of a three month's operating reserve."

The board will hold a second budget hearing in September before next month's regular board meeting. To watch Raney's full presentation, check out The Cullman Tribune's Facebook page at www.facebook.com/CullmanTribune/videos/481426145986511.

The regularly scheduled board meeting followed the proposed budget hearing and Superintendent Dr. Susan Patterson got things started with a few recognitions. Cullman County 2019 PALS (People Against a Littered State) Beautification Awards were presented to Cullman High School, West Elementary, the City Board of Education's Central Office, East Elementary and Cullman City Primary School.

A Cullman High student, Grant Holland, was recognized next for receiving an International Thespian Festival Superior for a Solo Musical Performance and he was joined by CHS Theatre Director Wayne Cook and Choir Director Sarah Jane Skinner.

After recognizing Holland, Cullman High School Athletic Director Mark Stephens and Cullman City Schools Athletic Director Mark Britton were recognized by Patterson after CHS earned the Alabama High School Athletic Association's Sportsmanship Award in July.
