Annual West Fest rocks West Elementary campus

Maggie Darnell
maggie@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – Despite busy activity elsewhere in Cullman with the Cullman County Fair opening and Oktoberfest well underway, West Elementary's campus was bustling with kids wanting to dance and play Thursday evening at the school's annual festival, West Fest.

West Elementary PTA President Jessica Svarney shared, "West Fest is our annual fall fundraiser that we do every year; it's our biggest fundraiser of the year. Kids are only charged two tickets per game; they get a prize no matter what. We have tons of candy that we give out to them and we have the inflatables! This year we have a DJ and we're doing a dance-off and kids can request a song for one ticket, and then of course we have all our food inside."

This is Svarney's fifth West Fest. She shared a bit of the event's history.

"They've had West Fest since the 80s, but I think it was called something else back then and it was inside, in the classrooms and such. Just within the last four or five years, we moved outside," she said.

West Elementary Receptionist LaQuita Dixon noted West Fest was originally called the "Fall Festival."

All funds raised Thursday evening at West Fest will go back to the school.

"They go straight back to the school! We're using that money hopefully this year to buy a new projection screen for the lunchroom and a sound system," said Svarney, who said she felt positive about the evening.

"I'm just really glad that so many have come out to support the school tonight. I know it's hot, but I'm so glad everyone came out, and it's great to see all these families out here having fun, too!"

A variety of games was available at the annual West Fest Thursday evening – you could make a spider jump!

UAB Athletics

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. – The UAB football team is set to host Rice on Saturday night, Oct. 5, at Legion Field. Kickoff is slated for 6 p.m. on ESPN+.

The Blazers have won 14 straight at Legion Field and have the nation's seventh longest active home winning streak.

UAB also looks to get back into the win column after sustaining its first loss of the season last week at WKU.

The Owls are 0-5, but their five opponents have a combined record of 19-3 (Army, Wake Forest, Texas, Baylor and Louisiana Tech). Three of those five games were decided by one possession.

Who: UAB (3-1, 0-1 C-USA) vs. Rice (0-5, 0-1 C-USA)

Where: Legion Field - Birmingham, Ala.

When: Saturday, Oct. 5 - 6 p.m. CST

Watch: ESPN+

On the Call: Will Kollmeyer (play-by-play), Lee Roberts (color)

Listen: WJOX 94.5 FM

On the Call: David Crane (play-by-play), Steve Irvine (color), Trey Ragland (sideline)

Series: UAB leads, 4-3

Last Meeting: Oct. 13, 2018: UAB 42-0

WHAT TO WATCH FOR

UAB is 2-0 against Rice since returning to action in 2017 and has won those games by a combined score of 94-21. Last year in Houston, the Blazers blanked the Owls 42-0, which was one of UAB's three shutouts as it set a Conference USA record and led the nation in that category.

Spencer Brown became UAB's career rushing leader last week at WKU and aims to become the first player in school history to rush for 3,000 career years.

Brown has 2,818 career yards. He also needs one more 100-yard rushing performance to be the career leader in that category as well.

Brown has found the end zone in each of his last two games, and his score at WKU was the 30th of his career (29th rushing). He is seven rushing touchdowns away from the program record and 10 away from the all-time total touchdown record.

UAB's top three receivers in Austin Watkins Jr., Myron Mitchell and Kendall Parham continue to lead the way as they have combined for 737 of the Blazers' 927 receiving yards (79.5%). Markus Grossman has also emerged as a reliable third down option, pitching in with six catches for 52 yards.

The Blazer defense continues to be one of the most disruptive units in the country. Along with ranking 12th nationally in total defense (266.2), UAB also ranks 8th in sacks per game (3.75), 12th in third down defense (27.3%), 15th in scoring defense (15.5) and 18th in tackles for loss per game (7.8).

UAB has yet to allow more than 20 points in any game, and opponents have scored just 62 total points on the Blazers. At 15.5 points per game against, UAB is leading Conference USA in this category, and Louisiana Tech is second at 23.4 ppg.

Additionally, UAB only allowed 33 rushing yards at WKU. The Blazers lead Conference USA and rank 12th nationally allowing just 79.8 rushing yards per game.

Rice is coming off back-to-back games where they held Baylor to 21 points and Louisiana Tech to 23. Linebacker Blaze Alldredge leads the team with 42 tackles, 8.0 TFL and one sack. His 8.0 TFL ranks second in C-USA, and he picked up a career-high 4.5 TFL against Texas.

Along with it being UAB Family Weekend in Birmingham, the Blazers will be honoring the late Mike Slive and the Mike Slive Foundation for Prostate Cancer Research this Saturday.

Tickets to the game can be purchased by calling the UAB ticket office at 205-975-UAB1.

Following the Rice game, the Blazers head to San Antonio for a game at UTSA on Oct. 12 and will return home on the 19th to host Old Dominion for Homecoming.

Saint Bernard Preparatory School honors senior class

Joyce Nix
St. Bernard

CULLMAN, Ala. – It was a beautiful day at St. Bernard as students from the middle and high schools joined together in the Abbey Church to honor the Class of 2020 for the annual tradition of the Senior Dedication Mass.

Abbot Marcus Voss served as homilist for the occasion and reminded students, faculty, parents and other family members of the important role the members of the senior class play in the St. Bernard Prep School community.

"Your leadership, your ability to guide others and your dedication to doing what is right and good all set a tone that others will follow. Being a senior means you have a role to play in the overall well-being of our student body. May you excel in your role of leadership so that all students of St. Bernard Preparatory School may prosper and be well."

Each member of the senior class was called to the altar by Headmaster Fr. Linus Klucsarits as members of the faculty and staff followed behind. School President Fr. Joel Martin and the faculty and staff implored God's blessing upon the seniors that they may faithfully serve as leaders in the school, worthy of the 128-year St. Bernard tradition.

Following the Blessing of the Seniors, Senior Class President Alison Gongre thanked parents, faculty and staff at St. Bernard for the wonderful opportunities presented to the seniors and for their selfless acts of providing them with the St. Bernard experience.

Benedictine Crosses were presented to each senior class member as a reminder of the commitment to God they are entrusted with as Christian servants of the student body.

Choral music was provided by St. Bernard Preparatory School's choir under the direction of Fine Arts Director Michael Kastner. Br. Peter Le was organist.

Following the Mass, lunch was held in the Abbey Byre.

Labor of love: caring for strays at the Hanceville kennel

Christy Perry

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – On a hot Wednesday afternoon, Hanceville City Clerk Tania Wilcox spent her lunch break visiting with and taking care of a handsome black and white lab mix who was found as a stray in the city. The lab is lovingly referred to as "Snoop."

It is always her hope to reunite lost pets with their rightful owners and to ensure the animals are well cared for while staying in the kennel at Hanceville City Hall.

Oftentimes, when a stray dog is picked up in the jurisdiction of the Hanceville Police Department, it is brought to the city's kennel.

Wilcox explained, "We try to hold a stray for five days before taking it to the Cullman County Animal Shelter. This gives our residents an opportunity to find their lost dog, and it's closer."

Taking care of stray dogs has its challenges, but Wilcox, an animal lover, is willing to put in the extra time to achieve a happy ending.

"We always take their pictures and put them on the City's Facebook page and hope the owner will come by to claim their dog," she said. "We are not set up to take in surrenders. Owners will still need to take animals to the county shelter to do that."

CHRISTY PERRY/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

Snoop is a recent resident at the City of Hanceville's kennel. He has now moved on to the Cullman County Animal Shelter.

Wilcox takes a personal interest in the dogs who do find their way to the Hanceville kennel.

"I check on them as much as I can," she said. "I worry about them being too hot or too cold or if they have spilled their water or food.

"Especially on these really hot days, I am running out here to give them fresh, cool water."

Wilcox said she's appreciative of community members who voice concerns.

She said, "I welcome it. If you see that they have spilled their water or need something, I want to know, and it's nice to know the community cares about them, too."

Dogs not claimed by their owners in Hanceville after five days are taken to Cullman County Animal Shelter where they will be placed on an additional seven-day stray hold.

Wilcox encourages Hanceville residents to always check with the City of Hanceville and the Cullman County Animal Shelter when searching for a lost pet.

Snoop has moved on now from the Hanceville kennel to the Cullman County Animal Shelter.

For more information on the process of reclaiming a pet in Hanceville, contact Hanceville City Hall at 256-352-9830.

The Blacklist

Season 7 opens not long after the jaw-dropping climax of the Season 6 finale, when Red (James Spader) was taken by surprise by Katarina Rostova (Laila Robins), who stabbed Red with a syringe, then kidnapped him. As most fans recall, Katarina is, in fact, the previously-presumed-dead mother of Liz (Megan Boone), who hasn't laid eyes on her mom since childhood. Series creator Jon Bokenkamp calls Katarina "the most formidable Big Bad we've ever introduced," adding that the character will loom large in the new season.

Katie (Katy Mixon) has been feeling ambivalent about her outside-the-home party-planning gig, so her life is completely turned upside-down when her notoriously elusive boss, Whitney (recurring guest star Kelly Ripa), unexpectedly blows into town and impulsively promotes Katie to vice president of events in the new episode "Bed, Bath & Beyond Our Means." Meanwhile, the death of a colleague leads Greg (Diedrich Bader) into a full-blown existential crisis. Meg Donnelly, Daniel DiMaggio and Julia Butters also star.

Host Zachary Quinto returns for Season 2 of this familiar unscripted series, which takes viewers on a journey into the unknown in each episode, starting with "The Loch Ness Monster, Part 1." The hour revisits decades of alleged encounters across Europe and uses modern science to evaluate information gleaned from those reports to create a brand-new "profile" of this creature. The conclusion airs next week at the same time.

The Graham Norton Show

When it comes to talk shows, few hosts can get their guests to open up so uninhibitedly as Irish funny guy Graham Norton, and that's not entirely because he cheekily plies celebrities on his couch with cocktails even while they're on camera. There's also the matter of his naughty-boy charm, plus his jocular interview style that keeps his guests feeling they're in safe company. He opens Season 26 by welcoming actors Helen Mirren and Jack Whitehall, plus filmmaker Simon Reeve and RuPaul.

James Spader stars in "The Blacklist" on NBC.

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Cullman Festhalle was the place to be Thursday as area seniors celebrated Oktoberfest. Despite the record-breaking heat, the venue was packed and the party was lively as seniors from throughout the county and as far away as Florence, Attalla and Irondale attended the much-anticipated event.

Several of the attendees took to the dance floor donning lederhosen or colorful dirndls, showing everyone just how a polka is done.

The band played crowd favorites such as "The Chicken Dance" and "Roll Out the Barrel."

Those in the crowd were very supportive as they clapped along with those tearing up the Festhalle dance floor.

There were a few special guests in attendance as the cast of the Donald E. Green Senior Center "Hee Haw Show" was having a fabulous time.

They were excited to announce that they are busy rehearsing for two new shows this February.

The seniors were treated to a free hot dog lunch served by the volunteers from the event's sponsors.

Representatives from the Cullman Elks Lodge, Cullman Savings Bank, the Cullman County Commission on Aging and others helped serve lunch and made sure everyone had plenty of cold water.

The Mug root beer keg was much appreciated by the crowd as the afternoon temperature approached 100 degrees.

Cullman County Commission on Aging Director Dusty Baker laughed, "We still had a great turnout, although I am sure we probably had a few that opted to stay home on this 72nd day of July.

"This is always a fun day and luckily, we have these tents and fans."

Members of the Irondale Senior Center didn't let the heat stop them, with one member pointing out, "Hey, its hot back in Irondale, too. We always have a fun time here."

The group plans to continue making the trip in the future.

After lunch, 2019 Cullman Oktoberfest Burgermeister Steve Moore began one of his most important duties- calling BINGO! Lucky winners took home some great gifts including cash and gift cards.

Before heading out, many stopped at the vendor booths for some shopping before loading up for the trip home.

Old friends and new enjoyed a carefree day at Oktoberfest, with a member of the Florence Senior Center saying goodbye to a new friend, "Thank you so much for the amazing hospitality. We'll definitely be back."
