BREAST CANCER AWARENESS MONTH

Cullman Regional hosts 2nd annual Think Pink Luncheon

Christy Perry
christy@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – Hanceville native Renee Quick shared her inspirational story of battling breast cancer as the keynote speaker at this year's Think Pink Luncheon Thursday. This is the second year Cullman Regional has hosted the luncheon, in a continued effort to bring awareness to breast cancer detection, treatment and research. This year's event saw more than 120 guests at Top of The Town, easily doubling the participation from last year's inaugural luncheon.

Quick, a professor at Wallace State Community College, was diagnosed with breast cancer when she was 51. Her diagnosis was followed by a double mastectomy, reconstruction and a full course of chemotherapy. She spoke candidly about her struggles and the worry of who would take care of her twin boys.

She knew one thing, she said, "I wanted to live!"

She shared a picture of lemons and encouraged everyone, men and women, to "know your lemons."

The illustration uses lemons to show the many ways breast cancer can present itself, including the example that best fits what Quick said she first saw during a self-exam that led to her first doctor's visit and diagnosis. To learn more about your lemons, visit www.knowyourlemons.com.

Cullman Regional's Women's Diagnostic Center offers many services that once required a trip out of town to obtain. » PAGE 2

'I'm just very proud of these kids'

Hanceville High Leo Club hosts successful blood drive

Maggie Darnell
maggie@cullmantribune.com

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – The Hanceville High School Leo Club hosted a blood drive at the school Thursday, seeing a huge response.

At midday, Leo Club sponsor Tina Weldon was excited about the turnout.

"The blood drive is amazing," she said. "We had over 50 sign-ins; we except over 65 people by the end of the drive.

"Ninety-five percent of our donors have been students, and we still have students coming in to sign up that weren't even scheduled!"

According to Weldon, one unit of blood has the potential to save three lives.

"Alabama is in a huge blood shortage right now, so I've just been reiterating that to the students over and over," she said.

"They loved the free T-shirt idea, they loved the sponsorship points from their teachers, but they're also interested in that whole 'I'm making a difference in my community!'"

Weldon said the blood donated Thursday has the potential to save up to 180 lives.

"I'm just very proud of these kids, all of them, not just my Leo Club," she said. "I have about 35 Leo Club members, and they're down here helping me man the station, they've been helping pass out snacks, but then just all of the Hanceville High School students in general, they're just so ready to jump up and help when the need arises. I've taught in several schools before and I've never seen this kind of student participation before!"

U.S. Rep. Bradley Byrne speaks at Wallace State

maggie@cullmantribune.com

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – Wallace State Community College welcomed U.S. Rep. Bradley Byrne, R-Alabama Thursday morning, the second of two meetings the college hosted in order for constituents to meet and ask questions of members of Congress. The first meeting was held Sept. 30 with Sen. Doug Jones, D-Alabama.

Byrne began Thursday's meeting with an update on Washington.

"It's an interesting time in Washington right now," he said.

"We have to get control of that (health care pricing).

"We need to get control of our pharmacy costs. Let's find ways to reduce the federal government's footprint in health care. I think the federal government is way too involved with health care."

Of immigration, Byrne said, "Eighty percent of immigrants that call asylum do not show up to their asylum hearings. This is a serious problem for our country."

He was also steadfast in his support of President Donald Trump regarding the impeachment inquiry launched against the president Sept. 24 by Speaker of the House of Representatives, Nancy Pelosi.

"It reached a new level when House Speaker Nancy Pelosi called for an impeachment inquiry on President Trump," he said.

"I have great concerns on the process. If we're going to go down this way, we should go down the right way."

He said, "Bribery, treason or committing a high crime or misdemeanor" are the only grounds for impeachment.

In a statement sent to The Tribune Wednesday, Byrne said, "With each unprecedented action, it becomes clearer that Nancy Pelosi, Adam Schiff and their cohorts have been scheming since Day 1 to impeach President Trump by lying to the American people, violating the Constitution, and using whatever deceitful and nefarious means they can muster.

"By rejecting House rules and precedents to ensure fairness and transparency, Democrats are pulling away the veil from their long-held but long-denied intent to overturn the results of the previous election at all costs.

"Democrats' impeachment push is not about oversight or transparency but is a viciously partisan coup against our very system of free elections. Their hypocrisy and neglect for the law reinforces the illegitimacy of this farce impeachment inquiry. Democrats should brace for a fight, because the American people will not stand for this attack and neither will I."

When Byrne opened the floor to questions Thursday, an attendee asked about Byrne's response to Trump ordering the withdrawal of some U.S. troops from Syria's border with Turkey.

"Will you tell Trump it's wrong to abandon our allies?" the attendee asked.

Byrne responded, "We should stick by the Kurds. I want us to stand by the Kurdish forces."

Byrne also addressed the importance of the upcoming 2020 Census, saying "If we get a bad count, we lose a seat. That's 15% of the population. Everybody needs to respond!"

To view a video of Byrne's full remarks, visit: www.facebook.com/CullmanTribune/videos/2446351312085604/.

Luncheon (from Front)

Besides mammograms, the center is now equipped with the Automated Breast Ultrasound System (ABUS) for women with high-density breast tissue. Women older than 40 need to have a yearly mammogram, along with monthly self-exams.

Mammograms are the only procedure the hospital offers that does not require a physician's referral. Appointments are preferred, but walk-ins are also welcome. For more information about scheduling a mammogram, call 256-737-2270.

Cullman Regional provides waterproof shower hangers to help remind a person when it's time for a thorough self-exam.

The hanger also illustrates the 4-step exam process, with easy pop-out tabs to keep up with the schedule.

Hanceville talks festivals, new local historical book

Christy Perry
christy@cullmantribune.com

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – The Hanceville City Council had a short agenda Thursday night. With Mayor Kenneth Nail out of town and Mayor Pro-Tem Jim Sawyer leading the meeting, the council discussed a few final details as the city readies for this year's Mud Creek Arts & Crafts Festival. This year, the festival will be held the same weekend as the Mud Creek Marching Festival at Hanceville High School, which is expecting at least 25 marching bands from Alabama as well as an exhibition from The University of North Alabama Marching Band.

Both events will take place this Saturday, Oct. 12. The arts & crafts festival will be held in downtown Hanceville from 8 a.m.-3 p.m. and the marching festival will run from 10 a.m.-10 p.m. at the high school.

The council agreed to change this year's bus routes. Buses will be turning down Blountsville Street then turning in front of Church Street before turning toward the school. This route has the buses avoiding Commercial Street during the Mud Creek Arts & Crafts Festival.

Just in time for this weekend's festival, Volume II of "Hanceville, Alabama: The People of Hanceville-Late 1800s to early 1900s" is now available for purchase for $19.

The books can be purchased at the Hanceville Drug Company, the Hanceville library and Hanceville's Merchants Bank.

The book is published by the Hanceville Historical Preservation Group and is dedicated in memory of Joann Walls and Quinton Nigg.

Councilman Charles Wilson is a member of the group and said of the new book, "It's all old stuff going back to the early 1900s."

He pointed out the pages featuring the 1955 Hanceville Bulldog football team that beat Cullman 7-0 that year.

The book revisits the mayors, doctors, business owners, teachers, school activities and other historic notables that make up the history of Hanceville.

CHRISTY PERRY/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

Councilman Charles Wilson shows off a copy of Volume II of "Hanceville, Alabama: The People of Hanceville-Late 1800s to early 1900s."

"It's a good book. Lot of good things in here," said Wilson.

The proceeds from the book will go to the Hanceville Historic Preservation Group.

The council also approved the reappointment of Eddie Burkhart to the Zoning Board of Adjustments. Charles Mann was reappointed to the Historical Preservation Commission. The council tabled its Tree Commission appointment.

The next council meeting will be Oct. 24 at 6 p.m.

2nd-ranked Trojans handle Bearcats 45-0

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

MUSCLE SHOALS, Ala. – Thursday night was a tough one for the Cullman Bearcats. The Black and Gold traveled to Muscle Shoals to take on the second-ranked Trojans and were sent home with a 45-0 loss from J.F. Moore Stadium. Muscle Shoals moved to 8-0 and remains on top of the region after the win and the Bearcats slide to 3-5 with just one more region opponent left in front of them.

Cullman managed to pick up a couple of first downs on its opening possession but was eventually forced to punt. After an explosive play got them deep into Bearcat territory, the Trojans had a pass tipped up and intercepted by Cullman's Griffin Barksdale. The 'Cats were forced to punt, however, and a high snap on the play gave Muscle Shoals the ball at the Cullman 8-yard line. After being held on first and second down, the Trojans connected on a 1-yard touchdown pass to take a 7-0 lead late in the first quarter.

After another defensive stop, Muscle Shoals got the ball back and threw a 29-yard strike to the back of the end zone that made it a 14-0 game going into the second quarter. The Trojans added two more scores in the second quarter, one coming on a 6-yard touchdown pass midway through the period and a 12-yard scoring run just before the half that made it 28-0 at the break. The Bearcats were held to just 61 yards of offense in the first half while Muscle Shoals collected 271.

Cullman saw more of the same in the third quarter, being unable to move the ball consistently on the ground or through the air and with eight minutes to play in the quarter, the Trojans hit a 1-yard shuffle pass on the goal line to go on top 35-0. A 14-yard touchdown pass stretched the lead to 42-0 late in the third quarter and a 41-yard field goal midway through the fourth brought the final score to 45-0.

Running back Jayden Sullins led the way offensively for the Bearcats, finishing with 55 yards on 19 carries. Muscle Shoals posted 395 total yards in the game while Cullman finished with just 97.

The Bearcats will return home next week to face the rival Hartselle Tigers in a showdown for that third spot in region 7.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. – The UAB football team travels to San Antonio this weekend for a C-USA West Division matchup with UTSA. Kickoff on Saturday, Oct. 12, is set for 5 p.m. on ESPN+ from the Alamodome.

Both the Blazers and Roadrunners are coming off league victories last weekend as UAB defeated Rice and UTSA topped UTEP, making Saturday's matchup critical for west division positioning.

Who: UAB (4-1, 1-1 C-USA) vs. UTSA (2-3, 1-1 C-USA)

Where: San Antonio, Texas – Alamodome

When: Saturday, Oct. 12 – 5 p.m. CST

Watch: ESPN+

On the Call: Lincoln Rose (play-by-play), LaDarrin McLane (color), Brooke Shoemaker (sideline)

Listen: WJOX 94.5 FM

On the Call: David Crane (play-by-play), Steve Irvine (color), Trey Ragland (sideline)

Series: UAB leads, 2-1

Last Meeting: Nov. 3, 2018: UAB 52-3

WHAT TO WATCH FOR:

• UAB is 2-0 against UTSA since returning to action in 2017. Two years ago, the Blazers registered a 24-19 road victory, while last year UAB put up school records for total yards (668) and rushing yards (419) in a 52-3 victory at Legion Field.

• The Blazers will be tested by the UTSA pass defense which leads Conference USA and ranks sixth nationally, allowing just 153.8 passing yards per game.

• Tyler Johnston III has thrown for 1,209 yards, 11 touchdowns and eight interceptions this year. His top three receivers in Austin Watkins Jr., Myron Mitchell and Kendall Parham have combined for 994 of those 1,209 yards (82.3%).

• Conversely, UTSA's rush defense ranks 13th in conference. The Blazers demonstrated a dominant rush offense in the second half of the Rice game amidst a torrential downpour.

• The Blazers rushed for 109 yards in the second half against Rice in inclement weather behind Lucious Stanley's career night. Stanley established career bests in carries (19), yards (88) and touchdowns (2), both of which came in the third quarter to secure a 35-20 victory.

• UAB enters this weekend's contest ranked ninth nationally in total defense. The Blazers held Rice to just 48 total yards in the second half of last week's victory and are yet to allow more than 20 points in any game this season.

• The Blazers recovered four fumbles last week and now rank second nationally in fumble recoveries. UAB has eight on the year and only trails Mississippi State, who has recovered 10.

• Leading the defensive charge is junior linebacker Kristopher Moll. The Miami native had a career high 15 tackles against Rice and added 2.5 TFL, 1.5 sacks, one forced fumble and two quarterback hurries. Despite missing the first game of the season, Moll leads the team in total tackles (35) and ranks seventh in C-USA at 8.8/ tackles per game.

• Along with ranking ninth in total defense, UAB also boasts lofty national ranks for sacks per game (9th, 3.75/game), third down defense (12th, 27.1%), scoring defense (18th, 16.4/ game) and tackles for loss per game (24th, 7.6/game).

Following the game at UTSA, the Blazers return home to host Old Dominion for Homecoming on Oct. 19 at 3 p.m.

UAB will once again honor Children's Harbor by wearing its alternate grey and lime jerseys with the names of patients on the back.

Crimson Tide in the NFL Spotlight: Week 5

UA Athletics

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. – The fifth week of the 2019 season in the National Football League wrapped up on Monday. Below is a look at some of the highlights from former Crimson Tide players currently in the NFL.

Amari Cooper was a force at wide receiver this past Sunday. Cooper hauled in 11 catches for 226 yards and a touchdown for the Dallas Cowboys. Thanks to another standout game, Cooper moved to 512 receiving yards on the season, a total that currently ranks second in the NFL.

Another former Alabama receiver that impressed was Calvin Ridley. The Atlanta Falcons' wideout tallied five catches for 88 yards and found the end zone once.

Week five was also highlighted by yet another strong performance from Josh Jacobs. The rookie running back carried the ball 26 times for the Raiders, totaling 123 yards on the ground and reaching the end zone twice.

Jacobs also caught three passes for 20 yards, contributing in a big way to Oakland's 24-21 win over the Chicago Bears overseas in London.

On the defensive side of the ball, two-time Super Bowl Champion Dont'a Hightower put together arguably his best game of the year.

The Patriots' linebacker led the team in stops with eight, including 4.5 tackles for loss and 1.5 sacks. Hightower paired that with a pass breakup to help New England down the Washington Redskins. In that same game, Jonathan Allen recorded five tackles with a sack for the 'Skins.

Also excelling on defense were three former Alabama defensive backs. Dre Kirkpatrick posted eight tackles and two pass breakups for the Cincinnati Bengals while fellow AFC North defensive back, Minkah Fitzpatrick, totaled seven tackles and added a pass breakup. In Houston, cornerback Kareem Jackson led the Texans in tackles, contributing a forced fumble and double-digit tackles with 10 stops.

CCBOE (from Front)

craig@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Cullman County Board of Education (CCBOE) on Thursday night passed a resolution to request that the Cullman County Commission set an election in March 2020 to permit the voters of Cullman County to decide on a countywide sales and use tax of 1 cent.

This comes almost six months after the commission in April 2019 rescinded the half-cent sales tax it passed on March 12, 2019.

CCBOE Superintendent Dr. Shane Barnette provided The Tribune with a list of projects he'd like to see happen if voters approve the tax:

• Build a modern career tech center that will include a high school
• New elementary classrooms on various campuses
• Expand and modernize lunchrooms system-wide
• Upgrade security-fencing, more school resource deputies, creation of entry barriers
• Combination gym/ auditorium for two schools
• Update all science labs system-wide
• Upgrade the agri-science and consumer science facilities on all campuses

Said Barnette, "We will hold several meetings every month from now until March to talk about what will happen on each campus. Every campus will have improvements and new buildings if this tax passes."

The resolution passed reads:

The Cullman County Commission on Education is charged with providing the best possible public education to the students who live in Cullman County, and the board is wholly committed to meeting that charge.

Whereas, appropriate funding, especially local funding, is critical to providing the educational resources needed and expected by the students, families and other residents of Cullman County, both in its cities and in unincorporated areas,

Whereas, sales and use tax for education are an important component of the appropriate local revenue mix for the school system. Alabama Code 40-12-4 of 1975 authorizes the county commission to levy franchise, excise and privilege license taxes which are of the nature of sales and use taxes for public school purposes.

The education sales taxes are countywide taxes, meaning they are to be collected throughout the whole of the county and distributed countywide to local boards of education in Cullman County on the same basis of the total calculated costs for the foundation program for those local boards of education within the county.

Education sales taxes have to be used exclusively for public school purposes and the board would pledge to use these funds for facilities and public school safety, both of which are great needs within this county.

The board does not have taxing authority and cannot independently levy, collect or increase taxes, but must instead rely on the county commission to assist with adopting the education sale taxes.

Whereas, this code also permits the county commission to, in its discretion, submit the question of levying any such tax to a vote of the qualified electors of the county to decide whether such a tax should be put in place.

Now, therefore, be it resolved the Cullman County Commission on Education at this board meeting, duly assembled, with a quorum being present, as follows:

That the Cullman County Commission is requested to take any and all appropriate steps or other pertinent authority to set an election in March 2020 to permit voters of Cullman County to decide whether a countywide sales and use tax of 1 cent to be collected throughout the county and distributed to local boards of education in Cullman County and used exclusively for public education purposes should be levied and then to levy such tax to the voters to approve.

That the superintendent, as the secretary of the board has hereby requested to forward a certified copy of this resolution to the county commission of Cullman County in order to respectfully request them to take action requested hereby

That this resolution shall become effective immediately upon its adoption by the Cullman County Commission on Education.

"We have just finished up a series throughout Cullman County of community meetings, and overwhelmingly, I feel like the people of Cullman County would like to have new schools, would like to have facilities upgraded, and we'd like to update our security," said Barnette.

The resolution was passed unanimously by the CCBOE and will now go to the Cullman County Commission.

Hanceville Elementary class donates hygiene goods to Victoria's Hope

Heather Mann
heather@cullmantribune.com

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – Since 2018, Victoria's Hope has served low-income families and disaster victims of Cullman County by offering assistance with clothing and household goods and necessities. A year later, Founder April German opened a full thrift store - Victoria's Hope Thrift and Treasures- as a way to raise even more money for families and local charities, and community support is still going strong. Thursday afternoon, German traveled to Hanceville Elementary School to receive a gift from teacher Tonya Hamilton's fourth-grade class: four baskets of personal hygiene donations.

Hamilton said the class started collecting donations at the beginning of the school year.

"I started out the year planning on my classroom theme being kindness, and that's what we've been concentrating on," she said.

"We thought of a way that my kids could give back to the community - just give back, period - because that's one thing that's important to me to teach them.

"So I called April and decided that this could be a way my kids give back - little things like a bar of soap or even a 99-cent tube of Chapstick that they can give back and learn the meaning of needing things and being kind to people."

Hamilton said her students took her message to heart and brought items nearly every day.

When German addressed the students during the donation presentation, she was overwhelmed by the kindness the students had shown.

"I've never seen another class do anything like this," she told them.

"Things that we take for granted, like toothpaste and soap, some people don't have them. But thanks to you guys, you're gonna make their day!

"You are going to be the ones who help make them happy! You have no idea how happy this makes me, and you should be so proud of yourselves."

Her words were met with cheers and applause from the students, especially after she asked them how it felt to help other people.

In a separate interview, German said she hoped the donation project helped the kids learn that there are people in the world, even in the community, who are much less fortunate than they are, saying, "You know, we're put on this Earth to help others. That's what it's all about.

"We all should have hearts like children, because they're just the purest form of love you can find."

While she did not make an exact count, Hamilton estimated 10-15 bottles of body soap, 20 tubes of toothpaste, 15 bars of solid soap, 20 toothbrushes, and 10-15 sticks of deodorant, as well as other items like hand sanitizer, Chapstick, shampoo and hair brushes were donated. She said the class plans to keep collecting donations.

German said she hopes this class will inspire other schools around the county to do the same.

Victoria's Hope is currently in need of men's clothes, especially pants and T-shirts, as well as sanitary products and toiletries.

As it gets closer to Christmas, Victoria's Hope will offer discounts for shoppers who bring in new or slightly-used toys.

Find out more at www.facebook.com/victoriashope1952. Victoria's Hope Thrift and Treasures is located at 1430 Fourth St. SW in Cullman. Contact Victoria's Hope at 256-385-0917.

Hanceville 3rd grader launches 'Safety First' campaign

Christy Perry
christy@cullmantribune.com

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – Aistin Gable is a little boy with an enormous heart who enjoys helping others but shies away from the spotlight. The Hanceville third grader spent time Monday during his fall break picking up litter left behind at Hanceville's Veterans Park. He worried about the ducks or other visitors being harmed by the discarded hooks and fishing line. He also worries about his classmates at Hanceville Elementary and thinks of ways he can help make their lives better.

Recently, Aistin approached his parents, Jeff and Amy Gable, after taking part in an active shooter drill conducted at his school.

His mom explained, "They went over the lockdown drill and things the students were to do if the shooter was on one side or the other and how they were to respond. He had told me that the classroom doors were just regular locks. He said, 'I wish there was a way we could lock the doors so the teachers don't have to hold them and they can hide, too.'"

The kids are also instructed to run to safety if they are outside or if the shooter is determined to be on the other side of the school.

Aistin said, "There are kids with physical disabilities; they can't run; they can't escape. There has to be a way to lock those doors."

He continued, "I don't like the drills because I have to get in a crowded space. I hate crowded spaces. We have to go in the corner and hope nobody gets in."

The kids are instructed to stay away from the windows. and the windows are closed and covered at all times.

With all of this in mind, Aistin sprang into action and began his "Safety First" campaign. He hopes the community will help him.

The Gables began researching safety locks, but the first ones they found were against fire code and not approved secondary devices.

The approved secondary locks are a deadbolt that is engaged by a safety button.

Said Amy Gable, "We've talked to Sen. (Garlan) Gudger, and he said he was looking into it because he felt the safety of the children was very important. We just want to ease the minds of the community."

Aistin is trying to raise $14,000 for the purchase and installation of the new locks for every room at Hanceville Elementary School.

"I've had people ask me, 'What are the odds of a shooting here in Hanceville?'," said Aistin's mom. "Well, hopefully slim to none, but every school that's had a shooting has thought that, especially when it's been an elementary shooting."

She continued, "We will start a GoFundMe if necessary, but we are hoping enough people in the community will realize that this is their children, their grandchildren or themselves that work here at the school and they will step up and help us with this.

"By donations, fundraisers or if they have an idea they want to throw at us, we are game- $14,000 is a lot of money, and I understand the school board can't do this kind of lock for every classroom in every school in Cullman County.

"We also don't want this project to take two to three years to get done. The world is changing and it's not the world we grew up in as children. It's no longer the safe place where you could play outside until the street lights came on and you knew it was time to get home.

"Our children are going from class to class keeping their guard up, watching for strangers, practicing active shooter situations and discussing whether or not to put a bucket of baseballs under the desk to throw in case someone comes in the classroom. Our kids shouldn't have to go through that. We are hoping the community will help us out so the kids can focus on their studies and teachers can focus on teaching and have peace of mind. This could be the one barrier that saves more lives."

Aistin loves his classmates and his teachers and worries about them.

"He worries more than people would ever know," Amy Gable said.

Aistin also helps with Knapsacks for Kids, the Bulldog Pantry, the Campus Clean-Up Group and Christmas Love. Giving to others brings him more joy than receiving gifts for himself.

Aisitn told Hanceville Mayor Kenneth Nail, "I'm coming for your job, so don't get comfortable as mayor. Just keep the seat warm for me."

Added his mom, "He loves Hanceville and wants to make it a better place for everyone."

For those who would like to donate, she said, "They can PayPal me, drop off at school, cash or check. All money will be accounted for. Anything left over will be used for other things the school needs.
