BREAST CANCER AWARENESS MONTH

Survivor's Story: 'You need to be aware of your body'

Christy Perry
christy@cullmantribune.com

Keith and Renee Quick got up on a Saturday morning in July 2016 excited about their plans to meet best friends Dennis and Hollie Barnhart for a day on Lake Guntersville. Their twin boys, Kiefer and Brody, had recently graduated from Cullman High School and the Quicks were enjoying having some freedom to relax. As Renee was getting ready, she noticed something strange in her right breast.

She explained, "It was an indentation. It was like if somebody pokes the Pillsbury Doughboy and his stomach goes in and eventually it fills back out; well mine didn't. It was like someone poked me in my sleep or something and that indentation was there. I knew that was a sign. I mean I knew! I absolutely 100% knew."

Renee had always been aware of her body and of any changes due to a family history of breast cancer. That morning, she went ahead and got ready to meet the Barnharts.

Renee told Hollie as they were out on the boat, "A really strange happened. I have this dent in my breast. It's unusual and I know that's a sign of breast cancer."

Hollie told Renee, "You better go the doctor!" Renee has been an instructor at Wallace State Community College since 1988. She went to the doctor the following Friday » PAGE 7

Funny Things from Yesterday: Our town was in confusion

Robert N. Tidwell, Sr.
Tribune Contributor

Two weeks ago I wrote my column about the death of a dear friend that Rudene and I had in Germany.

The title of the article was, "Today's article is not a funny, but a sad loss of a dear friend."

I probably should have been clearer in the title of my article.

Some of our readers were confused and thought that I was the one that had passed away. Someone put it on Facebook that I had passed away.

A friend of Rudene called her on her cell phone and asked about me and told her about the item on Facebook.

Rudene said, "I hope he hasn't passed away, for he's the one driving the car."

I was also glad it wasn't me.

The item was far reaching, for a person from First Baptist called Seventh Street Baptist and gave them the news. Our pastor didn't want to call our house, so he called my brother, Jim, and asked him.

Jim said, "I don't know but I'll find out."

So I had a phone call from Jim. Jim called back to the church and told them that all was OK.

On Thursday, Rudene went to the beauty parlor and a lady there asked about me to be sure I was OK.

The only thing I can say is read the whole article before putting it on Facebook.

I will try to use clearer titles on future articles. Thanks to all who were concerned.

BILLY BOB'S STORIES AND STUFF

We witnessed a miracle in five days

Bill King
Tribune Contributor

Part of the American dream is to own a home. Building one is perhaps the biggest project in the life of most families. The average house takes about six months to build. Jean and I have owned four houses. One of those we had built. I've often heard people say if a marriage can survive having a house built, it can survive almost anything. Our experience was actually quite enjoyable, but it did take about six months, and we found ourselves homeless before it was completed. That was because our old house sold in three months; long before the new one was completed.

Last week we witnessed a housing miracle in Beauregard, Alabama. This was not a "snap your finger and watch it happen" kind of miracle, but a miracle born out of much planning and hard work.T his year that community has been the place of many miracles. As you most likely know, tornadoes ripped through the small community back on March 3rd.

Twenty three individuals lost their lives. The fact that this number wasn't much higher was a miracle. How some crawled out of the destruction was almost unbelievable. How that community has rallied together under the slogan of "Beauregard Strong" is another miracle. How so many others, from all across the nation and even from other nations, have supported this small community is amazing.

Around three-hundred families lost their homes and hundreds more were severely damaged. Over the past seven months, several of those homes have been rebuilt.

Eleven of them were built last week. Rome may not have been built in a day, but last week in Beauregard, eleven new houses were built in five days!

Can you imagine building eleven houses in only five days? Did I just hear you say, "It can't be done?" Well, it has been done. I probably wouldn't have believed it either had I not seen it for myself. It took me longer than that once to build a toy house out of Lincoln Logs! I spent two-weeks once putting together a model car. It was a 1957 Chevy, but when I finished, it looked more like a cross between a Ford Edsel and a Massey Ferguson tractor than a '57 Chevy! These workers, who for the most part were not professional carpenters, put together eleven houses that looked like houses when they finished! In fact, they looked great.

This labor of love was spearheaded by The Millard Fuller Legacy Build. MEND helped coordinate the efforts. Providence Baptist Church, once again, served as the base for the ministry. The necessary funding to buy the material was given by various churches, organizations, and individuals. The builders came from all over.

Some came from across the street, some from across the state, some from across the country, and some even from across the waters. They came from twenty-nine states and four countries. Some came for a few hours, others for a day, and many for the entire week. A total of around 1200 volunteers came. Most paid their own way, and they gave their time, labor, and love.

Even with temperature in the high nineties or more each day, the mission was accomplished. Last Friday afternoon dedications were held for eleven families, on site, at eleven new homes. The new home of the family of Ben and Megan Robertson was funded by the Beauregard Community of Faith. Dr. Rusty Sowell, Dr. David Dismuke, and I were blessed and honored to have the privilege of leading that dedication service.

The front porch and yard were filled with people who were laughing, crying, and applauding. That was a day the Robertson family will never forget, but neither will the rest of us who were there. Thank you is not enough for those who gave so much, but "Thank you!"

Cold Springs edges Winston County on the road 20-14

sammy@cullmantribune.com

DOUBLE SPRINGS, Ala. – The Cold Springs Eagles looked to stay in the playoff race Friday night when they traveled to Double Springs to take on Winston County. The road trip was a successful one as the Eagles defeated the Yellow Jackets 20-14.

Cold Springs' first drive started out strong when Ayden Alexander and Brodi Williams got the run game going early, but Williams' first pass attempt of the game got picked off and a 15-yard face mask penalty after the play put Winston County in excellent field position.

A 1-yard touchdown run put the Yellow Jackets on the scoreboard first with 8:14 remaining in the opening period.

The Eagles were forced to punt on their next series, but their defense forced a punt on the ensuing possession.

Cold Springs mixed the run and pass on its next series and got something going on offense, but an Alexander fumble to end the quarter quickly stopped the momentum.

After another punt by Winston County, Williams continued to find his receivers as he hit Jordan Lacey for 8 yards and later on, found Roberto Ayala for 21 more, putting the Eagles at the 9-yard line. Williams scampered in from a yard out to give the Eagles an 8-6 lead after the 2-point conversion.

After a punt and a failed fourth-down conversion and another punt, the Eagles looked to add to their lead just before the half. Williams found Dylan Gable for a 42-yard pickup, which put them at the 6-yard line, but they ran out of time and went into the locker room still leading 8-6.

Winston County quickly found the end zone on its opening possession of the second half with a 54-yard touchdown run down the left sideline that gave the Yellow Jackets a 14-8 lead with 9:50 remaining in the third quarter. Cold Springs quickly crossed midfield after a 15-yard pass play from Williams to Ayala but went backward after that and was forced to punt. The Yellow Jackets were forced to punt on their next possession and a great return by Alexander put Cold Springs in amazing field position at the 13-yard line. Alexander put the finishing touches on the drive with a 6-yard run to tie the game up at 14.

The Eagles picked a perfect time to force their first turnover of the game as Chase Allcorn recovered a Winston County fumble at the 31. Huge runs by Ayala and Alexander, plus big passes by Williams to Lacey and Burgess, put the Eagles at the 3-yard line and Lacey finished off the 11-play drive with a 1-yard run to give Cold Springs a 20-14 lead with 9:30 remaining in the game.

Cold Springs forced its second straight turnover when Houston McCarn picked off a pass at the 23-yard line and the Eagles managed to kill a lot of time on the clock but were forced to punt.

They pinned Winston County at the 13-yard line and the Yellow Jackets gained a first down, but that was all they could muster as Matthew McKinney got a huge sack after the first down and the Cold Springs defense forced them to turn the ball over on downs. The Eagles then took a knee for the remaining 1:07 to stay in the playoff race with a 20-14 win.

Williams had an efficient night throwing the ball, going 13-for-16 for 130 yards and an interception, plus a touchdown on the ground. Alexander finished with 98 yards on 30 carries and a touchdown.

The Eagles improve to 4-3 on the season and more importantly, 3-1 in the region, and will head home to take on Tarrant in another huge region game next Friday night.

Bulldogs leave Tanner with 44-25 region win

Todd Walker
Tribune Correspondent

TANNER, Ala. – Addison traveled to Rip Swanner Field in Tanner, Alabama to take on a rebuilding Tanner Rattlers team in a region game. What looked like a mismatch on paper, well, turned out to be a mismatch on the field. Addison looked like it was playing a junior varsity squad due to the Rattlers going with a plethora of younger players. In most instances, Tanner was playing several eighth and ninth graders against the veteran Bulldogs.

The game opened with Addison taking the opening kickoff from its own 27-yard line and driving down the field for a Bulldog touchdown. "Mr. Versatile" Grant Rice started at quarterback and carried the Dawgs down field connecting on a nice 21-yard pass to WR Luke "You throw it I catch it" Chambers. Running back Weston "Big Game" Smith finished the drive off with a strong 19-yard touchdown run. The 2-point conversion was good and Addison led 8-0.

This is when the game clock decided it had seen enough and quit working for the remainder of this very long game.

After a Tanner series which saw the Rattlers lose 12 yards on three plays, they punted to Addison. After an exchange of punts, Addison took possession at Tanner's 27-yard line.

Quarterback Christian Roberts then found wide out Brody Dollar for a nice 17-yard catch and run for the touchdown. The 2-point conversion was good and Addison led 16-0 in the first quarter.

The second quarter was more of the same. Addison's Justin Mather picked off a Rattler pass and returned it 35 yards to the Tanner 20-yard line.

Two plays later, running back Caleb "The Bus" Crider pounded his way into the end zone from 12 yards out. The 2-point conversion was no good and Addison was up 22-0 in the second quarter.

Addison kicked off and Tanner finally got a spark from return man, Nick Gibson. Gibson returned the kickoff down to the Addison 41-yard line.

After a short run, Tanner's eighth-grade quarterback Skylar Townsend found receiver J.J. Jones for a 40-yard touchdown pass.

The extra point was good and Addison's lead was cut to 22-7. Townsend is the first cousin of Alabama running back Chadarius Townsend.

Addison responded to the challenge and scored on a Crider 1-yard touchdown plunge. Addison had driven the ball 49 yards with Crider being responsible for 39 of the yards gained. The 2-point try was good and Addison extended the lead to 30-7.

After forcing another Tanner punt, Roberts hit Rice for a 25-yard touchdown pass on a nice corner route.

The extra point by Eli Howse was good and Addison took a commanding 37-7 lead into intermission.

The Dawgs took their first possession of the second half and drove 56 yards for another touchdown. Smith took it in from 15 yards out. The extra point was good and Addison held a dominating 44-7 lead with about six minutes left in the third quarter.

At this point, Head Coach David Smothers turned the game over to his second team and the junior team. What we learned was that Tanner's starters are better than Addison's junior team.

Tanner took over after an Addison fumble at its own 1-yard line and Alex Guster took it 99 yards on the next play for a Rattler touchdown. The 2-point conversion was no good and the Dawg lead was cut to 44-13.

Tanner picked off a Bulldog pass and turned a fourth-and-9 into a 65-yard touchdown pass from Townsend to Coby Horton. The conversion was no good and the score was 44-19.

Tanner's next possession resulted in another Townsend to J.J. Jones touchdown pass. This was a thing of beauty as Jones went up over the young Bulldog defender to make a great 30-yard touchdown catch. The conversion was no good and the final tally was Addison 44, Tanner 25.

Addison played well and did what it had to do by beating an undermanned Rattler team. Tanner is obviously rebuilding and the future bodes well for the Rattlers due to players like Townsend and Horton.

Addison moves to 6-2 (3-1 region) while Tanner falls to 1-6 (1-3) region. The Bulldogs are at home next week against Tharptown while Tanner goes on the road to region-leading Red Bay.

Tigers drop region matchup against Pickens County

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

ARLEY, Ala. – After dropping last week's matchup on the road against Brilliant, Meek returned home Friday night to host the Tornadoes of Pickens County. The Tigers were hoping to bounce back after falling to Pickens County last season, but the Tornadoes were just too much to handle and Meek fell to 0-8 after losing 44-13.

Pickens County scored early and often in this one, jumping out to a 14-0 lead in the opening minutes of the game. The Tornadoes stretched that lead to 20-0 by the start of the second quarter and continued to pile on before the half. Two quick touchdowns made it 32-0 midway through the second and Pickens County found the end zone two more times before the half to take an imposing 44-0 lead into the break.

The Tigers were able to find the end zone early in the third quarter, cutting the lead to 44-6 but couldn't chip away more before the start of the fourth. Meek got on the scoreboard once again early in the fourth quarter to make it a 44-13 game but neither team moved the score again after that and the Tornadoes handed the Tigers their eighth loss of the season.

Meek will be back on the road next week for a region game at Marion County.

Raiders collect 17-11 region win at Haleyville

Jason Russell
Tribune Correspondent

HALEYVILLE, Ala. – Coming off a tough loss to Northside last week, the Good Hope Raiders hit the road Friday night for a region matchup with Haleyville.

Haleyville got the ball first only to chew up some clock and be forced to punt the ball.

Good Hope took the ball down the field and punched it in for a touchdown before the end of the opening quarter to make it 7-0.

Haleyville got the ball back, but the Raider defense held them to a quick three-and-out, forcing a punt.

The Raiders then drove the ball down inside the 20-yard line only to turn the ball over on downs.

The Raiders held the Lions to another quick three-and-out and forced another punt, stepping up big and blocking the punt to take over in Lion territory.

The Lions made a big defensive stand and held Good Hope to just a field goal, ending the half with the Raiders in front 10-0.

The Raiders came out in the second half and received the kickoff but couldn't get anything going on offense.

The Lions capitalized on the good field position and took a lengthy drive down the field and punched it in for a touchdown followed by a 2-point conversion that cut the Good Hope lead to 3.

The Raiders got the ball back but still couldn't get anything going and were forced to punt again.

Good Hope was able to make another stand on defense, forcing a fumble and taking over possession in Lions' territory.

The Raiders took the opportunity to make it a two-score game at 17-8 with the fourth quarter coming up.

The Raiders drove down the field only to throw an interception and the Lions took over.

Good Hope's defense held the Lions to just a field goal late in the fourth, bringing the score to 17-11 with less than two minutes left, and after recovering an attempted onside kick, the Raiders got in victory formation to finish the game with a 17-11 win.

Raiders Head Coach Alan Scott was happy with the win.

"This was a good team win," Scott said. "This was the first time in school history that Good Hope has beat the Lions at their home stadium."

Good Hope will celebrate homecoming against Curry next week.

Warriors edge Dora in 28-21 thriller

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

DORA, Ala. – The West Point Warriors were coming off a tough, 42-7 loss at home against top-ranked Jasper last week when they arrived in Dora Friday night looking to bounce back with a big region win.

The Bulldogs scored on a 48-yard touchdown to take an early 7-0 lead in the opening quarter and maintained that advantage by the start of the second.

After a mostly scoreless second quarter, West Point got on the board with a 7-yard touchdown run from Brodie Rusk and Logan Selby's extra point tied the game with just 33 seconds remaining in the half.

The teams went into the halftime break knotted at 7 apiece.

The Warriors started the second half on the right foot, taking the opening possession and scoring on a 15-yard touchdown pass from Will Cochran to Will Brown.

The score made it 14-7 with a little over nine minutes remaining in the third. Dora managed to tie the game at 14 with an 11-yard touchdown run midway through the third and the score stayed locked at 14 at the start of the final frame.

The Bulldogs moved back in front 21-14 early in the fourth quarter with a 5-yard touchdown run but West Point answered on its ensuing possession.

A 3-yard touchdown run from Cochran tied the game at 21 with just under nine minutes to play.

The game stayed tied deep into the fourth quarter until a muffed punt from the Bulldogs set the Warriors up with great field position and Cochran capped off a game-winning drive with an 11-yard touchdown run that gave West Point a 28-21 lead with just a minute left to play.

Levi Farley picked off a pass to seal the deal on the ensuing Dora possession and the Warriors left Horace Roberts Field with a critical region win.

West Point improves to 3-4 on the season with the road win and the Warriors return home next week to host another region foe in Corner.

Vinemont (from Front)

Ryan Guthery
Tribune Correspondent

VINEMONT, Ala. – It was homecoming night for the Vinemont Eagles, who hosted the Hornets of Locust Fork, and the Eagles came out on top in a thrilling back-and-forth affair. It was also a huge region victory for Vinemont.

Both teams went three-and-out to begin the game and the Hornets' second possession was cut short when Colby Miller intercepted a pass. On the next play from scrimmage, Dallin Dinkle raced 40 yards to the end zone to put the Eagles up 8-0 with 7:29 left in the first quarter. On the ensuing possession, the Eagle defense forced another turnover when Dinkle knocked the ball loose on a sack and Teague Whatley recovered to give the ball back to the Eagle offense. Four plays later, Miller scampered for an 8-yard touchdown to put the Eagles up 14-0 with 4:24 remaining in the opening quarter. The Hornets answered with a lengthy drive to cut the lead to 14-7 with 40 seconds still remaining in the opening half and the teams headed to the locker room with Vinemont on top 14-7.

Vinemont received the second-half kickoff and quickly added to its lead when, on the second play of the possession, Dinkle raced 67 yards and put the Eagles up 20-7 with less than a minute to play in the third quarter.

The Hornets answered and returned the ensuing kickoff all the way back for a touchdown, cutting the lead to 20-14 with 10:55 remaining in the third. Not to be outdone, Whatley returned the favor as he took the next kickoff back for a touchdown himself, putting the Eagles up 28-14 with 10:40 left in the quarter.

On the Hornets' next possession, it looked like they were going to score, but the ball was knocked out and recovered by the Eagles in the end zone, resulting in a touchback. Vinemont was unable to capitalize as the drive stalled and the Eagles failed to convert on fourth down.

The Hornets faced their own fourth down next, and they not only converted, but scored, cutting the lead to 28-20 with 11:48 left in the ballgame. After forcing a punt, the Hornets were able to find the end zone again to tie the game at 28, but with 4:07 left in the game, Miller scampered for a 47-yard touchdown to put the Eagles back on top 34-28.

The Hornets took the field needing a touchdown and with 1:11 left in the game, that is just what happened.

Locust Fork pulled ahead 35-34. Facing a fourth down on the next Eagle possession, Miller found Whatley to extend the drive and on the very next play, Colby Miller found his brother Lucas Miller for a 23-yard touchdown with just four seconds left in the game, putting the Eagles up 42-35. The Hornets called for a fair catch, giving them one last chance, but the pass fell incomplete to seal the victory for Vinemont on homecoming night.

"It shows we got guts," said Eagles Head Coach Stephen Robinson. "We've got guys that are supporting their teammates the way they should be. Coach Harris and the defensive staff did an awesome job. This team was so tough to prepare for because they do so much."

Vinemont improves to 3-4 with the win and will be on the road next week to take on J.B. Pennington.

Fairview holds off West Morgan 35-28 for region win

Gary McGriff
Tribune Correspondent

FAIRVIEW, Ala. – On a beautiful fall evening at Dafford Smith Stadium in Fairview, the West Morgan Rebels took on the Aggies in a Class 4A, Region 7 showdown and Fairview looked to continue its winning ways from last week.

The Aggies won the toss and the Rebels began the game on offense at their own 15-yard line. West Morgan wasted no time as Glavine Segars hit Jakobe Fletcher for 85 yards and a touchdown. The PAT was good and with just 13 seconds off the clock the Rebels jumped out to a 7-0 lead.

Fairview started its drive on its own 28-yard line. Quarterback Parker Martin took over with a run of 22 yards and on the fourth play hit Eli Speegle on a 42-yard touchdown pass. Jesus Hernandez converted the extra point and with 9:38 left in the first quarter tied the game 7-7.

Both teams failed to sustain drives for the remainder of the quarter and started the second quarter tied at 7. Fairview started the second quarter with its third drive of the game. Aided by two personal foul penalties on the Rebels, Fairview had the ball at West Morgan's 2-yard line. With 6:43 left in the half, Tyvn Ellis scored on a run making the score 14-7.

On their next drive, the Rebels began a 13-play scoring drive. The highlight of the drive was a pass completion of 6 yards from Segars to Jakobe Griffin. Fairview's Dalton Payne tipped the pass and Griffin completed the catch while sitting on the ground. Zachary Alexander ran in from the 1-yard line to complete the scoring drive and with 1:12 left in the half the score was tied at 14.

Taking over at the 23-yard line, it appeared the score would be tied at half. The Aggies had other ideas, and when Martin hit Ellis for 50 yards, Fairview was quickly in scoring position. Ellis completed the drive on the next play, running for 18 yards and a touchdown. Hernandez added the extra point and with 39 seconds left in the first half Fairview led 21-14.

Fairview took its second drive of the third quarter and using back-to-back 22-yard runs by Tyler Simmons and Martin scored a touchdown in just five plays. Simmons ran for the touchdown from the 14-yard line and Hernandez extended Fairview's lead to 28-14 with 4:41 left in the third quarter. It was the only score of the quarter.

Continuing their drive from the third quarter, the Rebels were facing a fourth-and-1 from their own 40-yard line. Alexander's pass appeared to fall incomplete, but the Aggies were flagged for pass interference, giving West Morgan a first down at Fairview's 45-yard line. On the fourth play, Segars and Fletcher hooked up again for a 29-yard touchdown pass. With the PAT good and 10:00 minutes left in the game, the score was 28-21 Fairview.

Fairview was penalized on the kickoff for a personal foul on West Morgan's PAT and the Rebels kicked off from the Fairview 45-yard line.

The Aggies averted a turnover, recovering a fumble at their own 9-yard line. With the game in doubt, Fairview needed to answer and the Aggies did just that, marching 91 yards in 13 plays, using up 5:16 on the clock. Simmons had a run of 22 yards to highlight the drive and punched in a 3-yard touchdown run to extend the score to 35-21 with 4:44 left in the game.

On West Morgan's next drive, it appeared that Fairview had closed out the game when Speegle recovered a fumble by Caleb Terry on West Morgan's 47-yard line. On the second play, Andrew Bradford of the Rebels intercepted Martin's pass and returned the ball 33 yards. A penalty against the Aggies gave the Rebels excellent field position at the Fairview 16-yard line and just five plays later, Alexander scored on a 1-yard run and West Morgan narrowed the score to 35-28 with 1:07 left in the game.

Fairview knew an onside kick was coming and put its "hands" team up front for the kickoff. The Aggies recovered and looked to close out the game. Ellis had one more run in him and almost scored. He was tackled at the 5-yard line and the Aggies went into their victory formation to run out the clock, winning the game 35-28.

The first half was played evenly with Fairview going for 212 total yards to West Morgan's 208. In the second half, Fairview held the Rebels to just 112 total yards while maintaining consistency with 213 total yards.

GARY MCGRIFF/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

Fairview's Mason Black (6) stiff arms a West Morgan defender during the Aggies' 35-28 win Friday night.

Ellis led all rushers with 122 yards on 14 carries. Martin completed the night throwing for 130 yards while going 11-for-16 passing.

When asked about that first play for a touchdown by the Rebels, Fairview Head Coach George Redding said, "We expected that play at some point in the game. We didn't execute and they scored on a long pass play. Our team showed mental toughness by not getting down. We stuck with the game plan and got a big win."

Fairview improves to 5-2 and 4-1 in region play. The Aggies travel to Huntsville next week to take on the Randolph Raiders.

J.B. Pennington spoils homecoming for Broncos

Doug Bates
Tribune Correspondent

HOLLY POND, Ala. – Friday night was homecoming for the Holly Pond Broncos and they faced off against the Tigers of J.B. Pennington. In the end, Pennington was too much for Holly Pond.

The Broncos, wearing their dark green uniforms, received the opening kickoff and started on their own 37-yard line.

Their running game looked strong against the Tiger defense as they drove the ball to the Tigers' 41, but the drive ended early when the Broncos fumbled the ball away.

After both teams traded punts, J.B. Pennington, starting on its own 34, put a strong drive together and crossed into Bronco territory.

The Tigers dropped back to pass and found an open receiver for a 44-yard touchdown to take a 7-0 lead with 3:33 left in the opening quarter.

Following the kickoff, Holly Pond started at its own 34-yard line before turning the ball over on downs at its own 28.

Three plays later, J.B. Pennington ran the ball in for its second touchdown of the night, this time from 20 yards out, to make it 14-0.

Holly Pond put together a long drive at the end of the first quarter and down to the Tiger 20-yard line before turning the ball over on downs again.

The Tigers, with quick passes and a hard-running game, went 80 yards to score their third touchdown as time expired in the half to make it a 20-0 game at the break.

J.B. Pennington started the third quarter off just like it ended the first half, with a sustained drive capped off by a 14-yard run that gave the Tigers a 27-point lead.

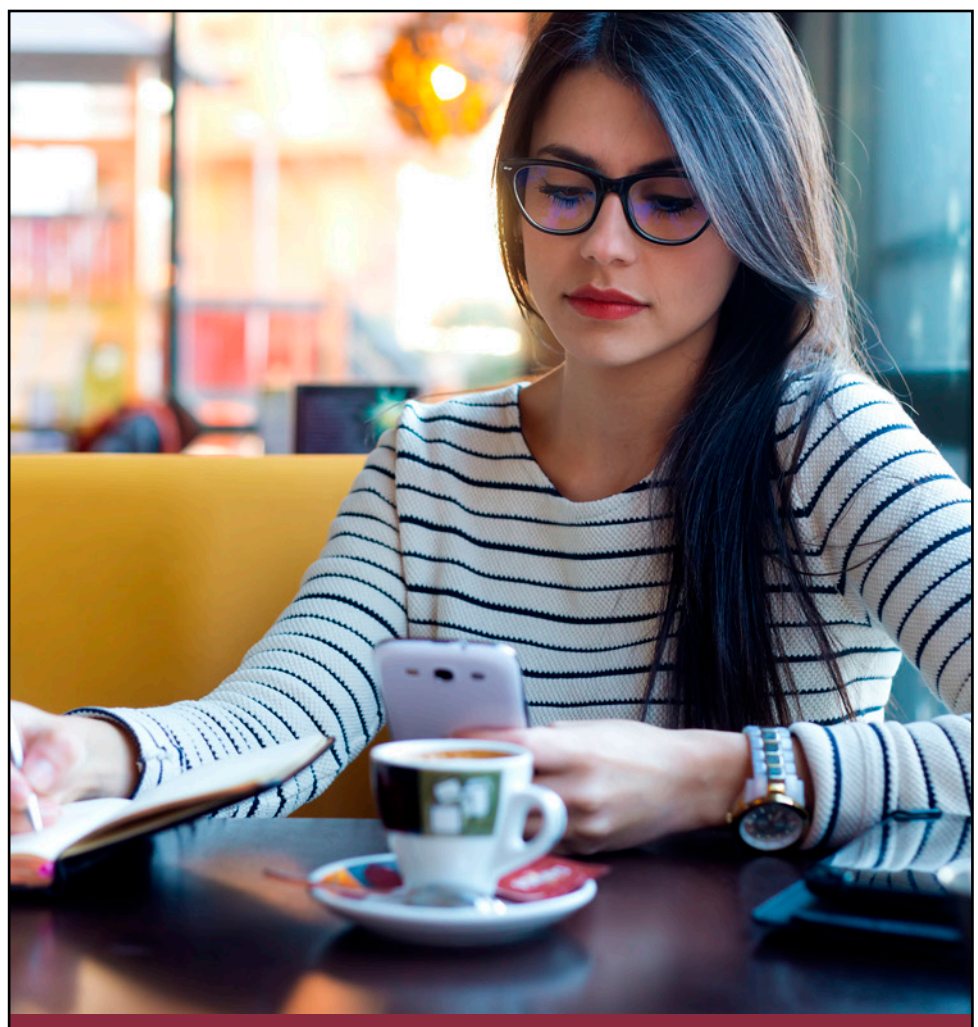

Holly Pond finally got on the board late in the third when Kyler Chaney ran one in from 15-yards out to cut it to 27-8, but J.B. Pennington scored once again in the fourth to cruise to a 34-8 victory over the Holly Pond Broncos.

The Broncos are idle next week and will return to action against the Vinemont Eagles in two weeks.

Agriplex 'Little Farmers' pick cotton, meet chickens

Maggie Darnell
maggie@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – Cotton, chickens and monarch butterflies were the hot scoop Friday morning at the North Alabama Agriplex, where one of its programs, the Little Farmers preschool program, got together for its monthly meeting. For the month of October, the Little Farmers learned all about cotton.

North Alabama Agriplex Director Rachel Dawsey shared what the Little Farmers program is about, saying, "It's a class for our smallest farmers. This program is geared for children ages 3-4 with a parent.

"The kids love to play; we offer sensory bins for them to feel what we're learning about while they also get to play!"

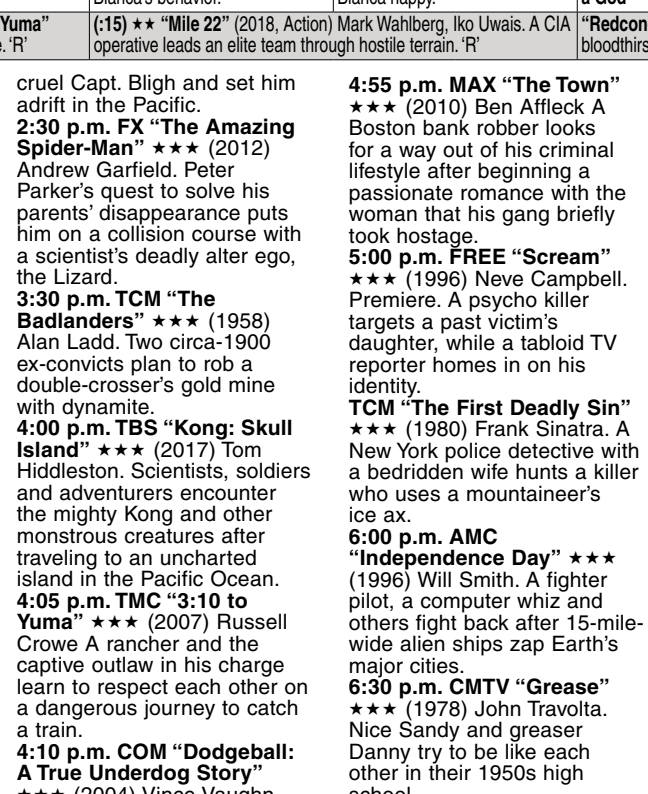

After learning where cotton comes from, the Little Farmers ventured across the street from the Agriplex and got to pick cotton themselves.

They also had the chance to meet the Agriplex's hens and roosters and watch as Dawsey released monarchs.

The Little Farmers explore a different topic in the world of agriculture through hands-on activities each month.

Dawsey noted the programs usually last from 10 a.m. until 11 a.m. Registration is required, and class fees are $5 per child. To register, visit www.agriplex.org.

Next month, the Little Farmers will meet Nov. 8 at 10 a.m., and the topic will be "The Green Tractor," which will entail the history of John Deere and his tractor.

Cancer (from Front)

when she didn't have classes.

"I was still two months away for being due for my mammogram. I have one every October, so it had only been 10 months. My previous mammogram was fine; it had been clear," she said.

Renee had dense breast tissue, so the nurse practitioner sent her to the Women's Diagnostic Center at Cullman Regional for an Automated Breast Ultrasound System (ABUS) breast ultrasound.

"Usually they will say, 'Get dressed,' but the technician told me I needed to see the radiologist," Renee recalled.

She was there all alone when she realized a mass had been detected. The surgeon came in and performed a biopsy the same day.

She added, "My husband only knew I was going in for a mammogram."

Renee tells everyone, guys and girls, "You need to be aware of your body. You need to be aware of any change. If someone laughs and says you are silly or paranoid, if something is different, go to the doctor. Get it checked. Don't wait. Don't let anyone tell you it's nothing unless they have a medical degree and they have examined you. I am just really adamant about that."

Renee was at work on a Thursday when she got a call from the nurse practitioner, who wanted her to come by the office.

Renee said, "No. If it was good news you would have already told me. Its 4:30 and I am ready to go home and eat supper. Just go ahead and tell me."

That's when she heard, "Renee, it's ductal carcinoma."

"I was very calm," she said. "I gathered my things and I went to get in my car to go home. I fell apart about halfway home. Have you ever driven in a rain so heavy that you could not see?

"It wasn't raining, but it looked like that to me. It was devastating and I got home and lay in the kitchen floor and just cried.

"Finally, Keith got home from work, and as soon as walked through the door, he knew."

Renee described her husband as a "man's man" who continued to reassure her that everything was going to work out. She made the decision to tell her parents next.

She remembered vividly, "I thought my dad was going to pass out. I think he took it worse than my mother did."

As word got out, Renee noticed people would whisper the word 'cancer' or avoid saying the word.

She said, "I have cancer. I didn't ask for it, but I'm going to deal with it. It's not embarrassing.

"It's not embarrassing to talk about. People get cancer. It's like they are afraid to talk about it."

Renee experienced a range of emotions, including calm, devastation and shock.

"I am the one that makes the casserole and takes it to the person who is sick or has cancer or surgery. I'm the one that does those things.

"It's very hard for me to let go of being the one in charge."

Next, Renee met with Dr. Donald Marecle for a PET scan that she admits she was terrified to do.

"It wasn't as bad as I thought," she laughed. "Of course, they gave me an Ativan, and that helped. Slept right through it."

At the follow-up, Renee was Marecle's last patient of the day-something he does for new breast cancer patients so he can take his time.

She smiled, "Oh, I love Dr. Marecle. I just wanna squeeze him up and hug him. He's an awesome person and an awesome surgeon. My whole team here in Cullman couldn't have been any better. I felt so at ease with Dr. Marecle. Then I met Dr. (Steven) Seidel; he's very straight-forward, very smart and really thorough. He's so to the point, and I'm a talker. I just talked at him until he just couldn't stand it anymore and he had to talk with me. He is probably one of the gentlest people that you would ever want to do anything to you."

Renee had a double mastectomy and latissimus dorsi flap reconstruction and breast implants before undergoing chemotherapy.

"Dr. Seidel is just wonderful. He knows what he's doing. He knows his stuff. Dr. Marecle does, too," she said. "They are both phenomenal. I wouldn't have anybody else. There's just no way. You could tell me that the most world-renowned surgeon on Earth is at UAB and I would say, 'There's two in Cullman, too, and their names are Marecle and Seidel."

In January 2017, Renee began her three months of chemotherapy with Dr. Johnny Nacilla. She said she appreciated his sense of humor and they shared many laughs.

She recalled her first chemo, how she thought, "My hair's going to fall out and I'm going to be sick."

She decided to schedule her chemo on Thursdays to give herself the Friday and weekend to recover before teaching classes the following Monday. She said the first night she felt good but woke up the next day with a terrible sore throat.

"They give you this stuff called 'magic mouthwash,' which is a wonderful thing to have."

When she went back for lab work the following Wednesday, her system had crashed.

Nacilla stressed to Renee that she couldn't go anywhere and she needed to stay home.

She told him, "I have to work. I really can't lay around at home. I will go stir-crazy and I want to work."

He let her go to work, but she had to wear gloves and a mask. She taught with the mask and gloves, and her hair began falling out. She wore scarves and toboggans, but wigs were too itchy.

Several of Renee's students would come to class early and wipe down all the surfaces with Clorox wipes to help make the classroom safer for the teacher they loved so much.

Her co-workers helped cover her classes and gave Renee their own vacation time to make sure she continued to get paid on days she had to miss.

Renee described the only time she had a "pity party."

"The one time I really got down and out was on a Saturday morning. I got up with giant welts. They were huge and they were all over my head, and I was bald. They were on top of each other and on my ears. The only way to describe the itch was 'terrifying.' Keith drove me to urgent care and the doctor felt it was the toxins from the chemo trying to escape through my skin. It spread everywhere ...everywhere. I got home and got in the bed and I told Keith, 'I'm dying, I am going to die. Just let me die. This is horrible.'"

It took several days for the steroids she received from urgent care to begin working.

"I was determined that I was going to live," she said. "I was going to be OK. I was going to watch my kids through whatever: school, life, marriage, grandkids to spoil and send back to them. That was the couple of days there when I said 'I'm done! I give up!' but my husband wouldn't let me."

Keith told her to get out of the bed, and she did.

"He pretty much told me that I had to get up. He is a strong man. I got a good one."

She described her husband as her rock and greatest supporter. Her boys were scared and she was worried about them.

"My husband and two boys took care of me. If I needed or said I wanted anything, my boys would just up and go get it."

After three months of chemo, Renee had an appointment April 20, 2017 for a PET scan at Marecle's office.

She finally heard him say, "There is no evidence of disease from your scan."

She doesn't remember what he said after that.

That night she went with Hollie and her other best friend Teri Seymore for a painting party at the Shop Around the Corner to celebrate being cancer-free.

She continues to see her doctors for routine maintenance, but has remained cancer-free.

"I am more blessed that I deserve to be. I really am," said Renee. "I think back over that year of crazy. It's such a blur, but there are so many standout things that are good things. Food just appeared at our house. I still don't know if I thanked everyone appropriately. I had people message me on social media that I didn't even know who were praying for me. It's unbelievable, the good people in this community. It's the best place you can be; Cullman, Alabama is the best place you can live. The people here take care of each other and they love each other. I wouldn't live anywhere else."

Keith Quick owns Quick Tire Sales in Hanceville. The Quicks' twin sons are now 21: Keifer is a senior at Troy University and Brody manages the tire center.

The family loves the outdoors and has always participated in motor sports. Stony Lonesome OHV Park is one of their favorite places to spend time together.

Renee loves her job of 32 years and said she has no plans to retire. She said she does look forward to traveling the country in the family's RV in the near future with spoiled dog, Baby, the "chipookie."

Man (from Front)

CULLMAN, Ala. – A Cullman man was arrested this week, charged with transmitting obscene material to a child.

Randall Kirk Means, 32, was arrested Monday, Oct. 7 by the Cullman County Sheriff's Office (CCSO).

CCSO investigators recently conducted an investigation into Means and found that Means was transmitting obscene material to a minor over social media.

"I warn parents continuously about social media apps and monitoring who they let their children be friends with," Sheriff Matt Gentry said. "It's a good idea to have your children's passwords and also to randomly check who they speak with and what apps they have on their phone as some apps are a disguise and are really social media apps."

Means could be facing more charges as the investigation continues.

In a statement to The Tribune, the CCSO expressed gratitude to Brooks' Place Child Advocacy Center for its assistance in the case.

Obituary Announcements Oct. 9 - 11

Memorial service will be held on Saturday, Oct. 12, 2019 at noon at Damascus Baptist Church, County Road 38, Hanceville, Alabama for Mr. Lester Windfield Phillips, 82, of Hanceville. Poet's Corner

Mount Cheaha In Autumn

By: Randy C. Hale

On a chilled day in Autumn, a friend and I have set the day aside together.
The leaves are turning brown, crimson, glowing orange, sunlight yellow.
Some still in summer green, rare ones with a purple hue.

There is power on Mount Cheaha, with trees grown twisted from years of sustaining winds.
We sense the majesty, drawn in,
baring our souls with life stories, giving as this mountain gives.

The lake reflects October blue skies, with crisp air filling our lungs.
A message here, that with age comes complimenting color,
a sundry setting for one to gaze and dying presenting our finest hour.

THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE • ALABAMA'S OLDEST CONTINUOUSLY PUBLISHED WEEKLY NEWSPAPER

"THE 67-COUNTY, ALABAMA GARDEN PARTY"

TALLADEGA COUNTY

Ben Johnson South
Tribune Correspondent

IT'S FUN TO GO FAST! And, Talladega County, Alabama is synonymous throughout the world for speedy fun. The Talladega Superspeedway was built in the 1960s and is still the largest and longest racetrack in the NASCAR circuit.

For a full, fast-fun year, I managed a NASCAR driver, car and team. I had pitched a marketing idea to a major corporation that it could reach its target audience through stock car racing, though at the time it was not something I'd ever witnessed live. However, the market research on demographics supported it.

Before I hung out at the tracks, stock car races mostly seemed overly loud, overly long, with a lot of left turns. One of the quotes collected in Talladega was, "If the driver isn't about to lose control of the race car, he's just not going fast enough."

Kix Brooks of the country duo, Brooks & Dunn, was celebrating with me and others after a NASCAR race in Tennessee and he said, "Son, you gotta drive the car like you stole it!"

The corporate executives said they'd back a NASCAR campaign if I agreed to manage it.

So, the client selected a driver to champion, we designed the race car and the driver and team uniforms and the branding campaign. And, for a year it was off to the races from Daytona to Darlington and lots of tracks in between.

All this to say, THE BEST RACING AND RACETRACK FOOD IN AMERICA IS AT TALLADEGA.

Talladega County was established in 1832 and was fast-growing from the "git go." It was as if some announcer at the Alabama-Georgia line and the Alabama-Tennessee line had said, "Gentlemen (and ladies) start your wagons!"

Eager settlers rushed into this beautifully green land of promise to join the winners' circle.

IT'S FUN TO GROW FAST! I'm not talking about those HGTV shows where a garden-ish backyard is populated in a day from sod grass and designer-y containers.

There are some plants that simply thrive on expeditious, hypersonic, greased lightning—FAST!

In Alabama, we've all heard the jokes of the invasive Japanese import, kudzu. Kudzu grows so fast you can plant it in your back yard, and it will outrace you to the porch.

Kudzu has its fans but many more foes. In fact, some towns hire goat herders- goats will eat ANYTHING- to have the goats control rampant kudzu.

10 GREAT, FAST-GROWING PLANTS FOR ALABAMA- Let's give these the starting flag (Note: the racy descriptors are mine):

• BRISK BUTTERFLY BUSH (Buddleja davidii)- One of the goals of "THE 67-COUNTY, ALABAMA GARDEN PARTY" project is to establish a "Pollinator Garden" in every county in the state. This butterfly-adoring bush would be an ideal addition for any gardener who loves seeing butterflies flit and float as they help keep Alabama beautiful for another 200 years.

• JUMPSTART ASIAN JASMINE (Trachelospermum asiaticium)- A genus of shrubs and vines in the olive family. The name is derived from the Persian "Yassameen" meaning "gift from God," and the fragrant blooms are indeed heavenly.

• NIMBLE NASTURTIUMS (Tropaeolum)- Related to watercress, most varieties are edible and nutritious while adding beautiful color to salads and pastries.

• ACCELERATED ALABAMA BLACKBERRY (Rubus occidentalis)- Alabama's state fruit (I know, you thought it was your funny uncle.) produces small, dark purple sweetness and is perfect for homemade jams and cobblers. In this PLANTS + PEOPLE series we've shared a number of recipes that call for berries; search the series for a delicious, 1819 Alabama Bicentennial Berry Pie.

• PRONTO PRIVET (Sunshine Ligustrum)- It's an evergreen, ornamental shrub that grows well in warmer climates and flourishes in full sun. This is a better choice for Alabama gardeners than the more common North Privet (Ligustrum ibolium) and promises greater, faster "greening" success than boxwoods.

• FLEETFOOT (actually BIGFOOT) CLEYERA (Ternstroemia gymnanthera)- This heat-loving, drought-resistant, winter-hardy evergreen grows up to 20 feet tall and 6 feet wide. It's ideal as a privacy border and soundbreak.

• MERCURIAL MARIGOLDS (Tagetes)- These herbaceous, low-to-the-ground beauties are in the sunflower family and delight with a variety of colors: gold, yellow, orange, bronze and white. Native to both North and South America, these plants will grow in most soils but prefer well-drained terrain.

• UP-TEMPO THUJA GREEN GIANT ARBORVITAE (Thuja standishii x plicata)- Choose this swift-grower instead of the oversold Leyland Cypress which is riddled with disease issues. The Green Giants grow 5 feet taller per year and in 10 years will add a 50-foot evergreen to your landscape. Find out more at www.conifersociety.org.

• WARPSPEED WAVE PETUNIAS (Petunia x hybrid)- Since early this century, this plant, which spreads beautifully across flower beds with stems up to 4 feet long, has taken the gardening world by storm. These peppery-scented petunias prefer a sunny location in humus-rich, well-drained soil and will bloom from spring to frost.

• BREAKNECK SPEED BLUE HYDRAGEA (Hydrangea macrophylla "Nikko")- Native to Japan, these big, bold, blue-blossoming plants are hugely popular in landscapes in the American South where their broad leaves and cool blue color refresh the eyes. They are not considered difficult to grow and can bloom from spring until fall.

The Alabama honeysuckle border was inspired by an 18th century, Southern applique quilt.

Lastly, one fast-growing plant we do not need in Alabama unless it is grown in a barrel or bucket, so it doesn't overwhelm native plants, is BAT-OUT-OF-HELL BAMBOO. Our state has welcomed and loved many Asian plants, even our state flower, the camellia, arrived in America with the "tea trade," but we must vigilantly corral highly-invasive plants like bamboo and kudzu. I'm thinking of Hank Williams and sangin', "My bucket's got bamboo in it. My bucket's got kudzu in it." Both of these are great plants with lots of attributes, but if you want either in your Alabama plant collection, tuck it in a bucket.

Now, let's slow down a quick minute and salute other positive and pleasurable ways PLANTS + PEOPLE come together in this fast-growing part of Alabama, including a recipe for Talladega County Racetrack Pizza Hot Wheels, Garden Fresh (But, FAST!):

• HELEN KELLER FARMERS MARKET AT JOE TOM ARMBRESTER CENTER- West McMillan Street, Talladega, AL 35160; Thursdays 9-11 a.m. starting in September

• SYLACAUGA FARMERS MARKET- 423 North Norton Ave., Blue Bell Park, Sylacauga, AL 35105; Fridays 7 a.m.-noon, June-August and October-November

• TALLADEGA FARMERS MARKET- 210 E St. South, parking lot next to Chamber of Commerce, Talladega, AL 35160; Tuesdays 3-6 p.m., June 5- Aug. 14

• TALLADEGA COUNTY FARMSTANDS- Four Mile Farms (Sylacauga), Huckleberry Hills Farm (Alpine), Kelley Cates (Childersburg), Comet Grove Community Garden (Sylacauga)

• TALLADEGA COUNTY BLUEBERRIES- Craft's Blueberry Farm (Talladega)

• THE ALABAMA INSTITUTE FOR DEAF AND BLIND- (Talladega) I worked here after college and while completing a master's degree with a focus on blindness and vision impairment. Founded in 1858, the leafy, beautifully landscaped campuses of AIDB in Talladega headquarter the world's most-comprehensive education, rehabilitation and service program, helping individuals of all ages who are deaf, blind, deafblind and multi-disabled. AIDB serves more than 24,000 people with hearing and vision loss throughout Alabama each year.

• TALLADEGA COLLEGE- It has 50 beautifully landscaped acres in the city of Talladega and 32 buildings on the National Register of Historic Places. Founded in 1865 by former African slaves, this is Alabama's oldest historically Black college. My favorite building on this impressive campus is the DeForest Chapel, built in 1903, named for Reverend Henry Swift DeForest, D.D., president of the college from 1879-1896.

• PLANTING AN IDEA- Talladega County would be an ideal place to create a horticulture program with a focus on fast-growing plants. This could involve rehabilitation and plant nursery job skills taught at the Alabama Institute for Deaf and Blind and the award-winning, natural science programs at Talladega College. Global warming seems to indicate we need more focus on drought-resistant plants and quickly "re-greening" parts of Alabama with intelligently selected, non-invasive vegetation.

EXTRA! EXTRA!! SPEEDING METEORITE HITS TALLADEGA, ALABAMA WOMAN!!— This "real news" happened in 1954 to Ann Hodges, the only known survivor of such an event. I wanted to end this visit to Talladega County on your 67-County Alabama Garden Party tour with a quick note about something speedy. Y'ALL COME! HURRY!!!

Many thanks to Laurie Johnson for her original, delicious, healthy and FAST recipe for Talladega County Racetrack Pizza Hot Wheels.

The Cullman Tribune is celebrating the Alabama Bicentennial (1819-2019) with statewide field reporting by Alabama Master Gardener/Botanical Artist Ben Johnson South. This year-long feature, "The 67-County Alabama Garden Party," will spotlight different counties each week. Each county will get its own "quilt block," along with a historical profile, and we'll share a recipe specific to the area. At the end of the year, all 67 counties will be put in a book to commemorate the Bicentennial.

Talladega County

RACETRACK PIZZA HOT WHEELS, GARDEN FRESH (BUT FAST)

Alabama's Talladega 500, like other world-class NASCAR races, is beloved by millions of fast, fun fans. Whether at the track or at home in front of the 65-incher, fans love race day food almost as much as the race itself. As we learned from Ricky Bobby, favorites include pizza, fried chicken, big ole Wonder bread sandwiches, pork rinds and (now Talladega famous) huge fried meatballs. But race day food doesn't have to be fat- or salt-laden to be fun and fast. These garden "hot wheels" combine fresh veggie pizza toppings with some heat from jalapenos and red pepper flakes and the convenience of prepared dough and a jar of pizza sauce. They're SPEEDY to bake, FUN to eat with familiar pizza flavor, but lots lighter so you can go FASTER!

INGREDIENTS

- Extra virgin olive oil
- 1/2 sweet onion and 1/2 each green red and yellow bell pepper, diced
- 1/2 lb. fresh mushrooms, chopped
- 1/2 jalapeno pepper, seeded and diced (For more heat, keep the seeds and inner membrane.)
- 1 tube of refrigerated "crescent" dough sheets (or crescent rolls)
- One 14 oz. jar of garden-fresh pizza sauce (Or make your own from fresh tomatoes and herbs.)
- 1 lb. shredded mozzarella and 1/2 cup grated parmesan cheese
- Ground black pepper, dried Italian seasoning and red pepper flakes
- 1 small can of sliced black olives, well drained (use green olives if preferred – or both)
- 1/2 lb. baby spinach leaves, pull off extra-long stems and tear
- A handful of fresh basil leaves, coarsely chopped or torn

INGREDIENTS

1. Preheat oven to 375F.
2. Very lightly sauté the onions, peppers, mushrooms and jalapenos in a swirl of olive oil. Leave them just barely softened. Remove onto paper towels to drain excess oil.
3. Lay out the dough sheets on a layer of parchment paper. (If using crescent roll dough, press the seams together to create a sheet.) Cut sheet into four, roughly 4 x 6 inch, rectangles.
4. On each rectangle, brush with olive oil and spread with a thin layer of pizza sauce and then cheeses. Season with black pepper, Italian seasoning and red pepper flakes (as hot as you want your hot wheels!) You will have some sauce left over for serving.
5. Scatter on the sautéed veggies and drained olives and then a layer of spinach and basil leaves.
6. Top with another thin layer of cheeses.
7. Roll up the dough from the 4-inch side as tightly as you can and pinch the seam together.
8. Using a sharp serrated knife, slice each roll into 3 or 4 slices, depending on your preference. Use a slow sawing motion to cut through the tender dough without smashing them. Place onto a parchment paper-covered pan and bake for 12 – 15 minutes until browned.
9. Serve hot or even at room temperature with warm pizza sauce and snips of fresh basil.
