CATA Cosmetology students heading to competition at Premiere Birmingham show

W.C. MANN/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

Main: Elyse Koloski and Savannah Sivley's practice run on Aaliyah Daugherty nears completion Tuesday afternoon. Bottom right: Savannah Sivley and Elyse Koloski turn Aaliyah Daugherty into a "nymph forest fairy" during an in-house competition at the Cullman Area Technology Academy ahead of this weekend's Premiere beauty show in Birmingham*

CULLMAN, Ala. – Students in the Cullman Area Technology Academy (CATA) Cosmetology department on Tuesday spent time taking part in teacher Tasha Flanigan's annual fantasy hair and makeup competition. Mannequin heads covered shelves and chair backs, made up as fairies, elves, witches, unicorns and any number of other things the students wanted to attempt under the theme "fairy tales."

Flannigan told The Tribune, "It gives them a chance to be very creative. A lot of them don't know what they can do until they're pretty much in a position where they have to do it."

First year cosmetology student Mollie Hall said about being new to the program, "Sometimes it's really stressful, because it's just a lot of things thrown at you. But if it's something you love, then it makes it fun and not as stressful as it could be."

Despite the pressure, Hall said she would advise upcoming students considering the program, "Go for it, because in the long run, it can benefit you a lot."

Tapanga Needham, also a newbie, called the competition "nerve wracking, but it's fun!"

Two students, though, had a live mannequin in their shared chair, with eyes on a bigger prize. Elyse Koloski and Savannah Sivley, along with model Aaliyah Daugherty, were creating what Flannigan called a "nymph forest fairy" as practice for a student competition with the same fairy tale theme at the Premiere Birmingham regional beauty trade show at the Birmingham Jefferson Convention Complex this Monday. The student contest rules, from the Premiere website, are short and simple: "Create an elevated avant-garde hair and makeup look depicting a fairytale creature including but not limited to: Unicorns, mermaids, fairies and witches."

Sivley, a veteran of student competitions, told » PAGE 7

Newborns with vitamin D deficiency have an increased risk of schizophrenia later in life, according to a recent study published in Scientific Reports. The study found that newborns with vitamin D deficiency had a 44 percent increased risk of being diagnosed with schizophrenia as adults, compared to those with normal vitamin D levels. Schizophrenia is a group of poorly understood brain disorders characterized by symptoms such as hallucinations, delusions and cognitive impairment.

With the aim of preventing birth defects, most American doctors recommend that women start taking prenatal vitamins before trying to conceive to make sure folic acid, iron, calcium and other nutritional levels are adequate. Most prenatal vitamins contain 400 international units (IU) (10 micrograms) of vitamin D per tablet. The federal government has not set a recommended daily intake of vitamin D, though many agree the dietary intake of the vitamin should increase with age. The Institute of Medicine of The National Academics recommends that females 1 to 70 years old consume 600 IU (15 micrograms) of vitamin D daily, regardless of their pregnancy status. The group sets tolerable maximum levels at 4,000 IU (100 micrograms) for pregnant and non-pregnant women who are 19 and older.

Good Hope, Cullman, West Point, Cold Springs returning home Friday night; Addison hosting Tharptown Thursday

nick@cullmantribune.com

With most of the regular season in the books, several local teams have already punched their tickets to the playoffs and more still have a chance to play their way in these last two weeks. Addison will play on Thursday this week and host Tharptown, West Point will be at home against Corner, Good Hope will welcome Curry to campus, Cold Springs will host Tarrant and Hartselle is making the trip to Oliver Woodard Stadium to face the Cullman Bearcats.

(6-2) Addison (2A Region 7) vs. (1-5) Tharptown (2A Region 7)
The Addison Bulldogs have won four straight games since falling to Red Bay in September and are outscoring their opponents 135-49 in that stretch. Tharptown on the other hand, has lost five in a row after winning its season opener at Shoals Christian and have had some real struggles on both sides of the ball.

Red Bay will be tough to overcome in region 7 but Addison is still in good shape to secure the second spot in the region if they can continue to win. The Wildcats are giving up nearly 40 points per game this season and scoring under 10 so the powerful Bulldogs running game and stout defense will get some favorable matchups Thursday night.

(6-1) Good Hope (4A Region 5) vs. (0-7) Curry (4A Region 5)
Last week was a low-scoring, physical affair for the Good Hope Raiders and now they'll return home to face Curry in another regional clash. The Raiders have already secured a playoff spot this season but will need to avoid an upset Friday night to maintain their current position in the region standings. Good Hope is currently tied at second with Fayette County and the Tigers will be in town next week.

It's been a long season for the Curry Yellow Jackets. Still winless on the year, Curry is allowing just under 40 points per game and scoring fewer than 15 points per game. Meanwhile, the Good Hope defense is holding its opponents to just under 21 points per game this season and are putting up nearly 30 point per game offensively. The Raiders are certainly the favorites in this one but can't afford to get caught looking ahead to Fayette County next week.

(4-3) Cold Springs (2A Region 5) vs. (2-4) Tarrant (2A Region 5)
The Eagles are returning home this week after collecting a huge region win on the road against Winston County and they'll have a chance to make another splash this week against Tarrant. Cold Springs has already clinched a postseason berth but has a chance to wrap up second place in the region with a strong finish.

That mission will begin Friday night against a Tarrant team that is scoring just over 11 points per game.

The Eagles are allowing nearly 24 points per game defensively but will have a chance to show out again this week against a struggling Wildcats offense. Cold Springs and Sulligent are on a crash course to play for second in the region next week, but the Eagles will have to avoid the upset against Tarrant this week and continue improving to keep those hopes alive.

L-R: West Point's Will Cochran (10); Cullman's Max Dueland (2); Good Hope's Tanner Malin (11)

(3-4) West Point (5A Region 7) vs. (4-3) Corner (5A Region 7)
The Warriors collected a massive win in dramatic fashion at Dora last week to keep their playoff hopes alive, but they'll have to refocus for another big game this week when Corner comes to town. Last week's road win may give West Point the boost it needs to finish this season on a high note and play their way into the postseason.

The Yellow Jackets are scoring and allowing 18 points per game this season and are coming off back to back wins over Hayden and Corner.

The Warriors on the other hand, are putting up just over 20 points per game thanks in large part to their passing attack.

At 2-3 in the region, West Point is still very much alive but with Jasper, Hamilton and Russellville dominating the top half of the standings, the Warriors will need every win they can get before the playoffs arrive.

(3-5) Cullman (6A Region 7) vs. (3-4) Hartselle (6A Region 7)
The Bearcats have already locked up a playoff spot this season but something that would make year one under head coach Oscar Glasscock even sweeter is a win over their biggest rival. The Hartselle Tigers will be at Oliver Woodard Stadium Friday night to renew their rivalry with Cullman in their first year with a new head coach as well.

The Tigers have had some uncharacteristic struggles this season, allowing over 23 points per game and going winless on the road up to this point but they're coming off sizable wins over Columbia and Decatur.

The Bearcats are 2-1 on their home turf this year but are dealing with an injury bug that had several Cats sidelined during last week's game at Muscle Shoals. It's always a big game when Cullman and Hartselle come together but this week's matchup will also decide the third place finisher in region 7, which will be huge when it comes to playoff seeding in a couple of weeks.

Lady Warriors defeat Fairview to win this year's Cullman County Tournament

NICK GRIFFIN/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

West Point celebrates after scoring the winning point against Fairview in the final match Tuesday night.

WEST POINT, Ala. – It's been 55 years since West Point last held the Cullman County Tournament title, but that drought ended Tuesday night when this year's Lady Warriors squad defeated the top-seeded Fairview Lady Aggies to win the county crown. West Point actually swept Fairview twice during day two of the tournament, once earlier in the winner's bracket and then again in the final match.

Lady Warriors Head Coach Regina Jones was proud of the way her team competed throughout the tournament and maintained their level of play for both days.

"Those girls played hard the entire time. They played together and every one of them picked their play up and did whatever it took to win," Jones said. "They just wanted it so bad. It was on their home floor and we hadn't won one, so they wanted it bad.

"They never got down no matter what the score was because we were behind in the Cold Springs match, but they believed the entire time they could win it and just got one point at a time and kept playing."

West Point jumped out to a 4-0 lead in the first set of the title match and managed to stretch that lead to 7-2.

"The Lady Aggies were able to trim the lead to 9-7 but a 6-0 run from the Lady Warriors quickly made it 15-7. West Point built a 19-13 lead as the set progressed as was able to pull away and start the match 1-0 with a 25-19 win.

The second set of Tuesday night's final match may have been the tightest of the tournament. The score was knotted at 3 early and both teams traded leads until tying each other again at 10 apiece.

Fairview took a 12-10 lead after that, but the Lady Warriors bounced back to tie it up at 14. The set stayed tied at 16 before West Point began to create a little bit of separation to close out the match.

The Lady Warriors took a 21-18 lead late in the set and even though Fairview was able to cut it to 23-21, West Point scored the final two points to win the set 25-21 and claim its first county championship in over 50 years.

Lexi Shadix racked up 24 kills, three blocks and a dig in the wins over Fairview and Molly Pendley added 17 kills, seven digs, a block and an assist for the Lady Warriors.

Gracie Thompson finished with 36 assists to go with six digs and an ace, Braelee Quinn posted 11 kills and Kyla Kilpatrick finished with 14 assists, two aces and two digs.

After the final match, this year's All-Tournament and All-County teams were presented as well as this year's Samantha Purdue Award winner.

Local organizations receive donations from Merchants Bank Charity Classic golf tournament

Nick Griffin

CULLMAN, Ala. – Merchants Bank held its 26th annual Charity Classic golf tournament in September and on Wednesday, several local organizations were at Merchants Bank to receive the proceeds from this year's event. Cullman Caring for Kids, Good Samaritan Health Clinic and Cullman Regional Home Health and Hospice each received a $7,000 check from this year's tournament and Merchants Bank's Ross West was happy to see those organizations benefit from this event again.

"This is our 26th annual tournament so we've been supporting this for a long time and we look forward to it every year. I think all the players look forward to it every year and we couldn't do it without the sponsors, people playing in the tournament, Terri Pines hosting it and just all the community support we get," West said. "We're looking forward to year 27 coming up. I think this is one of the best tournaments we have in Cullman. We're usually always full with 36 teams and we have people waiting that want to play so I think that's a good testament to the tournament and the support we get from the community."

Merchants Bank also makes a separate donation to the Boys and Girls Ranches of Alabama after the golf tournament every year.

Good Samaritan Health Clinic Executive Director Jolanda Hutson was there to receive the donation and is grateful that GSHC is involved in this event each year, especially because it helps with a major need in the area.

"We're very grateful to be the recipient of the proceeds once again this year and it's really an honor because we know how much work goes into an event like this. If you've ever had to put one together, you can really appreciate all of the hours that go into it so we're very grateful for that. At Good Samaritan Clinic we really are an agency that meets the needs of all of Cullman County's uninsured, so it really is a community giving back and I think that's one thing that makes it so special," Hutson said. "All of the proceeds will go towards meeting the health care needs of Cullman County's uninsured and there are a lot of them. Cullman County has one of the highest uninsured rates of anyone in the state so there is a great need here and we're very grateful to have partners like Merchants Bank."

Cullman Caring for Kids Executive Director Javon Daniel was also at Merchants Bank Wednesday and says this annual donation comes at a great time for them each year.

"Merchants Bank started including several years ago. We love it, it is one of the biggest donations we get each year and it always comes at a good time. This is the end of the slow time and the beginning of the busy time and it always hits us just right," Daniel said. "The staff here, the people that work the tournament and the people that participate make it an incredible event for Cullman County and Cullman Caring for Kids loves it."

NICK GRIFFIN/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

CCFK Assistant Director Nancy Bryant, CCFK Executive Director Javon Daniel, CRHCH Director Tonya Foster, GSHC Executive Director Jolanda Hutson, GSHC Administrator Cindy Barnett.

Daniel is thankful that Merchants Bank works to help them with this event every year and he is even more thankful for the community going out of its way to contribute to a worthy cause.

"It really is wonderful to know that this community sees there is a need and is willing to do something to help fulfill that need," Daniel said. "We can't thank the folks who came out and participated enough because they're why we're here. Just knowing that people are willing to come out and help makes all the difference and that's why Cullman is such a special, special place."

Competition (from Front)

The Tribune that going to such events "means a lot to me, because I know this won't last forever. So I'm enjoying it while I'm here."

Koloski, who is entering her first competition, enjoys the creative aspects of a fantasy competition, saying, "Every time I get an option to give an idea out, I give it out or something. If something's looking a little plain or a little too much, I'll give the idea out. I'm just very crafty in general."

About her first competition, Koloski said, "I'm excited, but I'm also nervous, because it's the first of many."

Both admit to being competitive and are looking forward to Birmingham.

Model Daugherty had to sit quietly through hair teasing, painting and the gluing on of natural materials--some picked up right on CATA's campus--to her hands, feet and face.

She told The Tribune, "It's really fun. I get to sit here and watch these girls work very, very hard doing something they've never done before."

The Premiere Birmingham beauty show is Sunday and Monday, Oct. 20-21, with student competition on the 21st. The Tribune will follow the students and let you know how they did.

Day (from Front)

craig@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – This Saturday, Oct. 19, 2019, the Peinhardt family will open Peinhardt Living History Farm will to the public for an educational day of traditional rural life.

According to the Peinhardt Living History Farm Foundation, "The entire family can enjoy hands-on experiences from hayrides, farm animals, quilting, crafts, old-time music, antique tractors, crop picking, painting pumpkins and much more! Step back into the 1930s and 1940s for a fun day on the farm."

The farm includes multiple preserved or reconstructed buildings including log cabins, the Red Hill Schoolhouse, working blacksmith shop, sorghum mill, saw mill, grist mill and others, museum of early 1900s rural life, antique agricultural equipment and working farm fields with pumpkins, potatoes, cotton and okra.

Saturday's event will feature live bluegrass and old-time music, food vendors, craft and traditional skill demonstrations and hands-on activities (paint a pumpkin, make a birdhouse, try your hand with farm tools and tasks and much more), wagon rides, live animals - exhibited and working and a chance to hit the fields for harvest time.

Activities will be happening across the farm grounds, and the North Alabama Agriplex next door will also host exhibits and events.

On its website, Peinhardt Living History Farm's mission statement reads: America's children are drifting further and further away from their agricultural roots and heritage. Many adults grew up in the days when visits to Grandma and Grandpa's farm were common occurrences.

But few of these farms remain and children today do not have that same opportunity. To most children, milk does not come from cows and eggs do not come from chickens; they come from the grocery store.

The goal of this program is to help fill this void in children's experience that is creating an agricultural illiteracy.

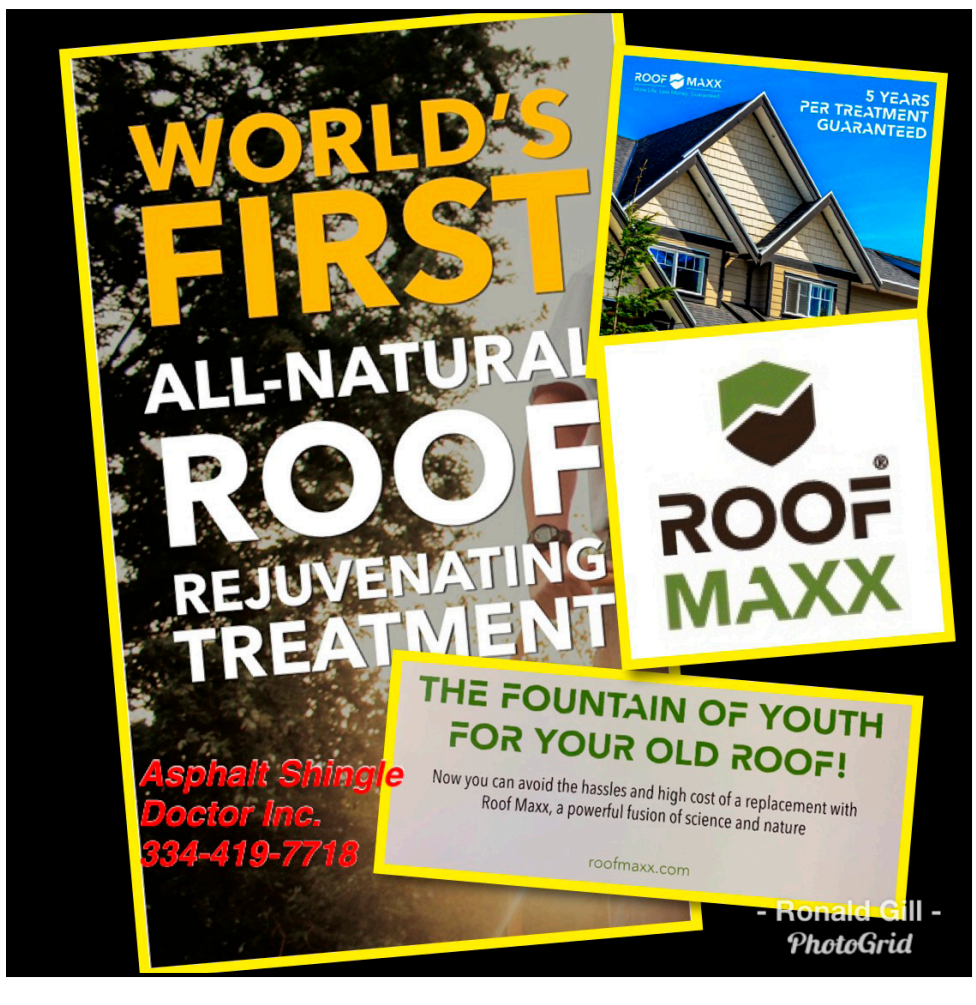

The program theme is Life and Living on a Working Family Farm. The focus is that the barnyard and animals, the house and garden, the field, the woods and the horses all have an important purpose in helping the farmer make a living for him and his family.

Wallace State student Tesia Humphrey named state SkillsUSA president, Stephen Hollis named parliamentarian

Wallace State student Tesia Humphrey, left, and Stephen Hollis have been named the SkillsUSA President and Parliamentarian respectively for the 2019-2020 academic year.

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – Wallace State Salon and Spa Management student Tesia Humphrey has been elected as the state SkillsUSA college/postsecondary president for the 2019-2020 academic year.

Stephen Hollis, a Wallace State Machine Tool Technology student, has been elected parliamentarian for the same term.

Humphrey, 31, is currently in her second semester in Wallace State's Salon and Spa Management program.

"I'm excited to be elected president. It's such a great honor. I'm looking forward to representing Alabama, Wallace State and our Salon and Spa Management program through my position with SkillsUSA," said Humphrey, a Hayden native.

Humphrey is enrolled at Wallace State for a new career path after previously completing her general studies classes in Hanceville.

She went on to graduate with a political science degree from Athens State and worked professionally before deciding to return to Wallace State.

Humphrey's goal is to be a cosmetologist.

"I have a different perspective than many students here. I hope I can be a good leader and help people understand all of the skills needed to succeed in the workplace," Humphrey said.

Wallace State maintains a strong presence on the state and national SkillsUSA levels, producing champions and leaders on an annual basis. The college had three students win gold medals at the national competition in June and is two years removed from having student Maci Key serve as a national SkillsUSA officer.
