'Celebrate Life:' First Source for Women holds annual banquet

W.C. Mann
craig@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – First Source for Women (FSW) on Thursday evening held its annual fundraising dinner, the "Celebrate Life" banquet, at Loft 212 in Cullman, where more than 200 attendees were treated to a meal catered by Designs by Grace and a challenging keynote address by Christian minister, author and speaker Bob Reccord.

Reccord, borrowing the Dickens phrase "It was the best of times; it was the worst of times," talked about the positives and negatives facing the pro-life movement today. He pointed out that 697 abortion clinics operate in the United States today, compared to 2,176 in 1991, a 67% decrease. He also noted that pregnancy resource centers like FSW now outnumber abortion clinics five to one, and shared the numbers of pro-life federal judges and United States Supreme Court justices appointed in the last three years.

On the other side, Reccord described the 2019 California law requiring all public universities to make abortion pills available free of charge to female students, and stated that such rules could be "coming soon to a college near you." He talked about the increasing number of states using online resources to make abortion drugs easier to access.

In the end, Reccord challenged attendees to support the programs of FSW through financial pledges. The audience also got an update on the travels of FSW's mobile unit, the Storkmobile, especially to Huntsville and Tuscaloosa, where the unit has become a resource in direct face-offs between pro-lifers and abortion providers for the clinics' patients.

Ellie Hermann, a pro-life activist from Tuscaloosa, told the audience that she requested the Storkmobile make a special trip down to her city.

When FSW called to tell her the unit was coming, she said, "I was just so excited and so happy. And First Source, they aren't just helping this part of the state; they're helping in Tuscaloosa. And they're now coming one day a month . . . I can't thank you all enough, because your efforts are helping us down in Tuscaloosa."

State of the program
In 2018

- FSW saw 626 clients, most coming more than once, for a total of 1,316 visits, or an average of 115 visits per month.
- FSW's parenting classes, for women and men, drew a total of 949 visits.
- Clients checked out 1,844 items from FSW's audio, video and literature library.

From July 2018 to June 2019

- FSW performed 644 pregnancy tests and sonograms.
- FSW's baby boutique, which offers free clothing, diapers and numerous other baby necessities to participants in the center's programs, saw 9,548 visits.

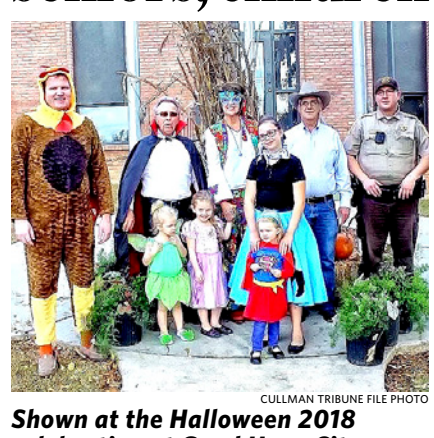

FSW Director Catherine Bethell said, "Thanks to all the wonderful, caring people of life who attended our 'Celebrate Life' banquet last Thursday evening. You are the foundation of the pregnancy center, and together, we are a lifesaving, winning team. Your passion for serving those facing unplanned pregnancies has allowed us to assist and share Christ's love with many clients. Because of you we are changing lives, spreading hope and saving babies. Thank you."

Alabama reaches record low 3.0% unemployment rate; Cullman County's rate falls to 2.2%

Tara Hutchison
Contributor

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – Alabama Department of Labor Sec. Fitzgerald Washington announced Friday that Alabama's preliminary, seasonally adjusted September unemployment rate is 3.0%, a new series low, down from August's previous record setting rate of 3.1%, and below September 2018's rate of 3.8%. September's rate represents 2,194,158 employed persons, a new record high, up 75,426 from September 2018's count. There were 66,919 unemployed persons counted in September, setting yet another record low, compared to 70,608 in August and 84,568 in September 2018.

Cullman County's September unemployment rate is 2.2%, down from August's rate of 2.5% and September 2018's rate of 3.0%.

The state's civilian labor force grew to 2,261,077, a new high, up from 2,255,088 in August and 2,203,300 in September 2018.

"Here we are again, Alabama! Once again, we're breaking economic records: new low unemployment rate, more people working than ever before, fewer unemployed people than ever before, and the largest labor force we've ever seen," said Gov. Kay Ivey. "While we continue to be proud and amazed at these wonderful numbers, we cannot become complacent and forget our commitment to Alabama – to make sure that everyone who wants a job can have one. We're working hard to make that a reality, and we will keep pushing for even more economic opportunities for hardworking Alabamians."

"The job growth that Alabama is experiencing in 2019 is outstanding," said Washington.

"Since January, our economy has grown 55,900 jobs – more than double what economists predicted our job growth for the year would be – and we still have three months to account for!

"We're outpacing the nation in over-the-year job growth as well, reaching our largest job growth percentage of the year at 2.3%."

Alabama's economy has gained 55,900 jobs since January 2019. Economists predicted that 2019 total job growth would measure 22,200 (source: 2019 Alabama Economic Outlook, published by the Center for Business and Economic Research, Culverhouse College of Business, University of Alabama).

Over the year, wage and salary employment increased 46,600 to a new record high of 2,093,800, with gains in the professional and business services sector (+11,900), the leisure and hospitality sector (+9,400), and the education and health services sector (+5,400), among others.

This represents 2019's highest over-the-year job growth percentage at 2.3%, which surpassed the national job growth percentage of 1.4%.

This is the eighth consecutive month in which Alabama's job growth percentage either sustained or surpassed the national job growth percentage.

Wage and salary employment increased in August by 10,600. Monthly gains were seen in the government sector (+8,100), the education and health services sector (+2,200), and the manufacturing sector (+1,300), among others.

"Not only are we growing jobs, earnings are also increasing," continued Washington. "In September, Alabamians' average weekly earnings reached their second highest level in history."

Total private average weekly earnings increased by $11.97 over the month to $862.70, which also represents an over-the-year increase of $12.81.

The only time average weekly earnings were higher was in December 2018, when they measured $866.63.

All counties and major cities experienced rate drops both over-the-month and over-the-year. Wilcox County, which is traditionally the county with the highest unemployment rate, saw its rate reach a record low in September at 6.2%.

Counties with the lowest unemployment rates are: Shelby County at 1.9%, Morgan, Marshall, Madison, and Limestone Counties at 2.1%, and Tuscaloosa, Lee, Elmore, Cullman, Crenshaw, and Baldwin Counties at 2.2%. Counties with the highest unemployment rates are: Wilcox County at 6.2%, Dallas County at 5.2%, and Clarke County at 5.1%.

Major cities with the lowest unemployment rates are: Northport at 1.5%, Vestavia Hills at 1.6%, and Homewood at 1.7%. Major cities with the highest unemployment rates are: Selma at 5.9%, Prichard at 4.9%, and Bessemer at 3.7%.

Funny Things from Yesterday: A vacation at the lake

Robert N. Tidwell, Sr.
Tribune Contributor

Since the weather has changed from blazing hot to much cooler, I decided to use one last vacation story before bathing suits are put away for the winter.

Several years ago when our children, Robin and Robert, Jr. were small, and our budget was even smaller, we drove a Volkswagen. We called it a "doodlebug" - a little green doodlebug.

Doodlebugs are nice cars, but you can outgrow one in a hurry. When we were able, I traded this green one in on a bigger car - a big blue super doodlebug. It was a full inch wider and a half-inch higher. We came up gradually in car sizes, no need to rush into something too big all at once.

Anyway, this particular summer we decided to spend our two-week vacation at Smith Lake. Smith Lake was new, and Daddy had purchased a cabin there. We thought the children would enjoy swimming, fishing and boat riding there. Rudene and I just wanted to relax and not travel.

We filled our little doodlebug up with groceries and didn't have enough room for any clothes. We took the groceries out and started loading the car again and put the clothes in first. This way, we filled the doodlebug with clothes and didn't have room for the groceries.

This is when I should have rented a U-Haul trailer. We finally had to make two trips to the lake to carry all the items that Rudene insisted we would need. She said that she was not going to interrupt her vacation by having to drive 8 or 10 miles home to get something we might need. I'm sure we must have carried two changes of clothes for each day we planned to be gone.

As it turned out, I think we wore our bathing suits every day we were there. But Rudene has started packing lighter for a two-week vacation now. She only carries six suitcases full, where it use to take two carloads. I'm glad she has matured.

Some people may think I make these stories up, but I just tell it like it is.

If anyone would like to contact me, my email is robertntidwellsr@gmail.com.

BILLY BOB'S STORIES AND STUFF

Well, I'm afraid they have done it again

Bill King
Tribune Contributor

I knew I had missed the beginning of the game, but I figured as early as it was that neither team had scored yet. I couldn't believe my eyes when I saw the opponent already had ten. The score was ten to nothing. That's like a touchdown, extra point, and a field goal, except I'm not talking about football. I'm talking about ten homeruns...in the first inning. I'm talking about my beloved Braves. The Atlanta Braves have become the Buffalo Bills of baseball. The Bills made it to the Super Bowl four years in a row and lost all four. Well, at lease Atlanta has won the World Series once, but that was twenty-four years ago. They have played in the world-series five times, but not lately, and lost four of them. This year we had our hopes up once again.

I have been a Braves fan most of my life. The Milwaukee Braves moved to Atlanta in 1966. That's when I starting following them. I don't remember all the players on that team, but they had Felipe Alou, Eddie Matthews, Phil Niekro, Joe Torre, and of course, hammering Hank Aaron. Their team colors were black and white, as were every other team's, at least on my television set. Not many games were televised back then.

That was long before Ted Turner, TBS and the beginning of daily Braves' baseball. We usually got only one or two games a week, and even that wasn't often the Braves.

I followed them in the newspaper and listened to them on the radio...a.m. radio. In the back yard I pretended to play for the Braves. I knew only one thing would prevent me from playing for them one day - I stunk at baseball! I was pretty good at everything except batting, catching, and throwing.

Through the years, I've noticed certain times when the Braves are sure to lose and one is when I go. I finally got to go watch them play in person.

They probably wouldn't have won that day had I played, but they didn't win without me, either. In fact, almost every time I've gone to watch them in person, they've lost. One time, at the old Atlanta Fulton Stadium I lost too.

They lost the game, and I lost my car. That was in 1986, and I owned a still almost new 1984 Buick Regal. That evening I watched Bob Horner become only the eleventh player in history to hit four homeruns in one game. Unbelievably, the Braves still managed to lose that game eleven to eight, to the Astros. I was upset but not nearly as much as when I returned to the parking lot and couldn't find my car. Someone had driven it home...to their home, not mine! All they left me was a screwdriver.

Another time the Braves are bound to lose is in the playoffs, usually in the first round. This year they won their division in regular season. Their division's runner up, the Washington Nationals, have advanced to the league championship games, while the Braves have advanced to the house!

They lost that final playoff game by a score of thirteen to one, but they made history. No other team has ever allowed ten runs in the first inning of a championship series!

So, why do I still root for the Braves? I guess for the same reason some people believed in me when I wasn't doing so well in life.

I believe God, more than anyone else, pulls for us when we aren't doing well. I'm so thankful He doesn't leave us or forsake us. As for the Braves, you just wait until next year!

Fairview Aggies win big at Randolph

Doug Bates
Tribune Correspondent

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. – The Fairview Aggies traveled north to face the Randolph Raiders Friday night. It was senior night at Randolph, but it was the Aggies who left with a 42-20 win.

Fairview received the opening kickoff and was unable to gain a first down. After a Fairview punt, Randolph went 6 yards before punting the ball away. A 33-yard Raider punt put the Aggies starting on their own 25.

The Fairview offense started hitting on all cylinders with a strong running game by Tyvn Ellis. After a completed pass to J.T. White put the Aggies on the 5-yard line, Ellis took it in for the opening score with 7:36 left in the first. The Raiders' next drive was a three-and-out with a Levi Garner sack on the Randolph quarterback. Garner had three sacks on the night.

Fairview's next drive stalled and the Raiders took over after a 44-yard punt. Starting at their own 10-yard line, the Raiders went 90 yards for their first touchdown with 34 seconds gone in the second quarter.

The Aggies put together a strong drive from their own 34-yard line thanks to excellent runs from the Fairview backs.

Tyler Simmons scored from 6 yards out to cap off the drive, and with 7:24 left in the half, Fairview retook the lead at 14-7.

The Aggies played an almost flawless first half. Their only miscue of the half came on special teams as the snap sailed over the punters head, giving the ball to the Raiders on the Fairview 20-yard line.

Randolph capitalized on the mistake and scored with 39 seconds left before halftime to make it a tied game at 14 at the break.

Following an excellent halftime performance by the Aggie Band, the Fairview offense came alive.

Ellis scored on Fairview's first possession of the third with a 51-yard run touchdown run that gave the Aggies a 21-14 lead.

The Aggie defense saw three different players come up with interceptions: Scott Perry, Eli Speegle and Simmons.

Mason Black scored next for the Aggies on a 35-yard screen pass in the third to give Fairview a 28-14 lead with 1:53 left in the quarter, and Simmons scored again for the Aggies in the fourth on a 63-yard touchdown run with 36 seconds gone in the quarter to make it a 35-14 game. The final score for the Aggies came from Ellis with a 2-yard plunge, and with 5:31 left in the game, Fairview led things 42-14.

The Raiders did manage to score one last time with 28 seconds left, but the PAT was missed, bringing the final score to Fairview 42, Randolph 20.

The Aggies will finish region play next week when they travel to Danville.

Cold Springs falls to Tarrant late, 24-20

Sammy Confer
sammy@cullmantribune.com

BREMEN, Ala. – Cold Springs took on Tarrant on senior night Friday, and it was a crucial region game for the Eagles if they had any hopes of hosting a playoff game. Unfortunately, though, turnovers hurt them, and the Wildcats came back late to win the game, 24-20.

Cold Springs got the ball to start out the game but turned the ball over on a fumble on the first play. The defense got a huge fourth-down stop on its opening possession, and the offense took over at the 14 on its second series. An 83-yard touchdown run by Ayden Alexander got taken off the scoreboard because of a sideline warning on the Eagles. After an offsides penalty moved the ball to the 3, Roberto Ayala found the end zone on the next play to put Cold Springs on the scoreboard first with 8:03 remaining in the opening period.

Tarrant tied the game up at 6 on its next series on a 39-yard touchdown run. Alexander fumbled the ball on the first play, but the Eagle defense forced a punt on the next series.

Cold Springs looked to get something going, and it did on the ground, picking up a pair of first downs, but it quickly went backward, turning the ball over on downs.

After a Tarrant punt, Alexander fumbled yet again, but the defense forced another punt. After back-to-back punts, the Eagles looked for a spark offensively.

On a third-and-13 from the 36, Brodi Williams found Lawson Burgess for a 26-yard gain, putting them at the 10, then Ayala took it in from there on the next play to give Cold Springs a 14-6 lead with 1:53 remaining in the first half. Back-to-back interceptions to end the half kept the score at 14-6 at the break.

The defense continued to shut down Tarrant, forcing a punt on its opening series of the second half.

A huge 23-yard run by Ayala put Cold Springs at the 7, but an illegal block in the back flag moved the ball back to the 20-yard line.

Two plays later, Williams found Burgess for a 20-yard score to increase the Eagles' lead to 20-6 with 7:26 remaining in the third period. Tarrant quickly struck on its first play of the series on an 80-yard touchdown run to make it 20-12 just 19 seconds later.

Another Alexander fumble later led to a 20-yard touchdown pass for the Wildcats as they cut the Cold Springs lead to 20-18 with 1:21 remaining in the quarter. An interception, followed by a turnover-on-downs, saw the Eagles get the ball back, but Williams got sacked on fourth down, forcing them to turn the ball over. A 19-yard touchdown run saw Tarrant take a 24-20 lead with 7:48 remaining in the contest.

The Eagles got the ball back as they looked to get the lead right back. Behind some huge runs by Ayala and Alexander, plus a 12-yard pass from Williams to Burgess, they saw themselves at the 15-yard line, but they fell just 2 yards short on a fourth-and-10 play. Cold Springs fell to Tarrant, 24-20.

Williams finished 8-of-16 for 80 yards, a touchdown and two interceptions. Alexander added 155 yards on 18 carries, and Ayala finished with 66 yards on 11 carries and a pair of scores.

Burgess ended up with 69 yards on five receptions and a touchdown. Dylan Gable added an interception on the defensive side of the ball. The loss drops Cold Springs to 4-4 overall and 3-2 in the region. The Eagles are now tied for third place in the region with Tarrant.

The Eagles will look to quickly clean up their turnovers next week before their final region game of the season at Sulligent.

Meek falls to Marion County on the road 35-20

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

GUIN, Ala. – After falling to Pickens County at home a week ago, the Meek Tigers hit the road Friday night to take on Marion County.

The Red Raiders jumped out to an early lead over the Tigers and pulled away in the second half to win it 35-20.

Meek fell behind 14-0 quickly in the opening quarter and was down 20-0 at one point in the second.

The Tigers managed to cut the lead to 20-6 but couldn't get any closer than that before the halftime break.

Meek scored again to make it 20-14 game early in the third quarter, but the Marion County Tigers responded with two quick touchdowns to pull ahead 35-14 before the start of the fourth quarter.

The Tigers found the end zone once again at the start of the fourth, but it was too little, too late and the Red Raiders pulled away to win it 35-20.

Meek drops to 0-9 on the season with the loss and will be back on the road at Lynn next week to finish the regular season.

Raiders cruise past Curry 42-6

Jason Russell
Tribune Correspondent

GOOD HOPE, Ala. – Coming off of a big win on the road against Haleyville last week, the Raiders returned home Friday night to face the Curry Yellow Jackets for their homecoming game.

Good Hope kicked the ball off to start the game and the Yellow Jackets came out and drove the ball down inside the Raiders' 30-yard line only to turn the ball over on downs and give Good Hope the ball on the 3-yard line.

The Raiders drove the ball down the field to score and make it 7-0 early in the first.

Curry got the ball back but was forced to punt immediately and the Raiders took advantage by scoring another touchdown on the ground, taking a 13-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Curry got the ball coming into the second quarter and got some positive yards only to throw an interception and give the Raiders the ball back in Curry territory.

Good Hope scored a quick touchdown run after the turnover to bring the score to 20-0 early in the second.

Curry got the ball back and did more the same, punting it back to the Raiders. Good Hope then hit its first touchdown through the air and a successful 2-point conversion made it a 28-0 game.

Good Hope's defense stopped the Yellow Jackets on fourth down to get the ball back and the Raiders threw for their second touchdown of the night, bringing the score to 35-0 at halftime.

Both teams came out struggling offensively in the second half, but each managed to find the end zone one more time and bring the final score to 42-6, Good Hope.

The Good Hope Raiders will host their last region game of the year next week against Fayette County with home field advantage on the line for the first round of playoffs.

After Friday night's game, Good Hope Head Coach Alan Scott said, "These guys came out in the first half and executed plays, followed the assignment and showed what they needed to work on going forward. Overall, it was a great day to be a Raider."

When asked what was in store for next week, he replied, "Just getting ready for Fayette and preparing for one of the biggest games of the year. We hope to have covered all we needed and just be ready."

Fultondale tops Hanceville 33-8

Ty Watwood
Tribune Correspondent

FULTONDALE, Ala. – The Hanceville Bulldogs were dealt a solid defeat by the Fultondale Wildcats Friday night as the Bulldogs scored late in the fourth quarter to narrowly avoid a shutout.

(3-5) Hanceville held (7-1) Fultondale to only a safety in the first half of the Class 3A, Region 5 matchup, but the momentum belonged to Fultondale in the second half.

The Wildcats piled on 31 more points after halftime to pull away and create separation between them and the Bulldogs.

Bulldog junior Brodie Malcom scored a touchdown with 17 seconds left in the game and the 2-point conversion cut the lead to 33-8, but it wasn't enough for the Hanceville Bulldogs and Fultondale held on to win it.

The Bulldogs will return home next Friday to host Locust Fork.

Bearcats (from Front)

nick@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – It was another typical showdown between Cullman and Hartselle at Oliver Woodard Stadium Friday night as the Tigers and Bearcats took every second on the game clock to decide a winner. It was a low-scoring affair that Cullman led just 3-0 at the half before its offensive front and running game took over in the fourth quarter and helped pave the way to a dramatic, 15-10, victory. After falling behind 10-3 with just over eight minutes to play, the 'Cats rallied to score twice in the latter half of the fourth quarter, punctuated by a 1-yard touchdown run by quarterback Max Dueland with just six seconds to play. Hartselle's ensuing Hail Mary attempt fell incomplete and Cullman collected its first win over the Tigers since 2013.

The Bearcats struck first with a 30-yard field goal by Brody Adams that made it 3-0 midway through the first quarter and Cullman's defense kept it that way for the rest of the opening half. Field position was huge and special teams plays were a big factor throughout the game. Tanner Heatherly pinned the Tigers inside their own 1-yard line with a beautiful punt early in the second quarter, but Hartselle made up for it by blocking Cullman's next punt. The Bearcats forced the Tigers to attempt a field goal and when the kick fell short of the end zone, Sam Brand caught and returned it all the way out to midfield. After the big special teams stop, Cullman went into the locker room with a 3-0 advantage after two quarters.

Hartselle managed to get on the board with a 21-yard field goal after a long drive to start the third quarter and the score was knotted at 3 going into the final period. The Tigers were the first to find the end zone, taking a 10-3 lead on a 2-yard scoring run early in the fourth, but it was all Cullman the rest of the night.

The offensive line and three-headed backfield of Dueland, Jayden Sullins and Jaylen Hughey took control of the game and after Hartselle's go-ahead score, Sullins broke free for a 41-yard touchdown run on the ensuing possession. However, the extra point was wide left and the Tigers maintained a 10-9 lead. Cullman's defense was able to get off the field yet again and get the ball back to the offense with just over three minutes to play. The Bearcats converted a fourth-and-1 on their own 34-yard line on a Dueland keeper and proceeded to methodically work their way down the field, largely on the legs of Sullins.

With the clock running down to the final seconds, Cullman took a timeout before calling another quarterback keeper on the 1-yard line that Dueland stretched over the pile to give the 'Cats a big, 15-10 win over Hartselle.

Cullman Head Coach Oscar Glasscock is very familiar with this matchup, having been on both sides of it, and was thrilled for his senior class who had never beaten the Tigers.

"I've been on both sides of it. I was a defensive coordinator at Hartselle for five years and I still know some of those guys and they've played some great football for a lot of years, but man I just love it for the seniors," Glasscock said. "They kind of stuck it out and this hasn't really been a rivalry. Cullman has to win for it to be a rivalry, so hopefully it's a rivalry again."

The offensive front was huge in this win for the Bearcats, especially in the second half, and that's the way Glasscock wants to win games.

"I think the one thing I wanted to do when I came here is reestablish the offensive line at Cullman," Glasscock said. "You've got tough kids here and we want to lean on them and I think we just wanted to send the message that we were going to win with the offensive line and not take any chances otherwise."

The win wraps up the third spot in the region for the Bearcats and they'll be gearing up for round of the state playoffs after next week's final regular season matchup at home against Fort Payne.

Addison moves past Tharptown 37-7

Todd Walker
Tribune Correspondent

ADDISON, Ala. – It was homecoming week at Addison as the Bulldogs hosted region foe Tharptown at A.G. Hicks Stadium. After Addison senior Macey Butler was crowned 2019 Homecoming Queen, she got to oversee her hometown Bulldogs sleepwalk through a game that was not as close as the score would indicate.

Addison came into the game 6-2 (3-1 in region) while Tharptown was struggling at 1-5 (0-4 in region).

Addison kicked off and Tharptown began what was its longest drive of the night. It started at the Wildcats' own 25-yard line and 16 plays and only 46 yards later ended at the Addison 29-yard line. Tharptown ran on every single play and was assisted by two Addison penalties and two successful fourth-down tries. Addison finally stopped the Wildcats when linebacker Matthew Harris stuffed Tharptown's 250-pound fullback, Ruben Alfaro, on their third fourth-down try. The opening Wildcat drive consumed almost eight minutes of the first quarter.

Addison came out throwing the ball with quarterback Christian Roberts completing three straight passes for 58 yards.

A Luke Chambers fumble, after a nice 36-yard catch and run, stopped Addison at the Tharptown 16-yard line.

Addison's defense, which played solidly all night, stopped the Wildcats for a three-and-out. Addison got the ball back at the Wildcat 43-yard line. Seven plays later, Roberts hit running back Nelson Martin on a screen pass and Martin took it in from 20 yards out. The 2-point conversion was good, and at the 11:30 mark of the second quarter, Addison led 8-0.

After another Wildcat three-and-out, they punted and "Mr. Versatile" Grant Rice took the punt to the house. Rice returned the punt 42 yards for the touchdown and after the 2-point conversion, Addison led 16-0.

The rest of the half played out with Tharptown unable to move the ball and punting to Addison. Addison couldn't stop getting penalties long enough to do anything either. The half ended with Roberts throwing an interception deep in Wildcat territory.

At halftime, it was a surprisingly close score. Addison only led 16-0.

Tharptown came out and surprised the 'Dawgs with an onside kick to start the half and recovered the ball at the Bulldog 46-yard line.

On Tharptown's first play of the second half, quarterback Dominic Baker found Preston Bailey for a 46-yard touchdown pass down the sideline.

This play accounted for half of Tharptown's total yardage for the night. The extra point was good and at the 11:45 mark of the third quarter, Tharptown had cut the Bulldog lead to 16-7.

After a nice pep talk from Head Coach David Smothers, Addison immediately responded by taking charge of the game. The ensuing kickoff had Addison starting at its 39. Addison only needed three plays: a Chambers run for 25 yards, a Roberts run for 3 yards and a Chambers scoring run from 33 yards out. The 2-point conversion was good and Addison led 24-7 with 10:17 left in the third.

Tharptown's next drive ended with a Rice interception of a deep Wildcat pass.

Addison took over at its own 19. Then seven minutes, 13 plays and 81 yards later, senior running back J.P. Pellicer took it in from the 1-yard line.

Pellicer has battled injuries for two consecutive years and was just cleared to play yesterday. Smothers inserted Pellicer, and he immediately responded by scoring on his only carry.

This was a special moment for the Bulldogs as they all eagerly awaited to congratulate him on the sideline.

The Pellicer score made it Addison, 31-7. The extra point was kicked by Eli Howse.

Another Tharptown three-and-out yielded a one-play Addison drive. Roberts hit freshman running back Sage Smothers on a screen pass and a nifty move and some good downfield blocking resulted in a 47-yard touchdown pass. The extra point was no good and Addison led 37-7 at the midway point of the fourth quarter.

Coach Smothers emptied the bench and the "young pups" played the rest of the game.

The final score was Addison 37, and a game but undermanned Tharptown team, 7.

Addison travels to Hatton next week where it will look to lock up the second seed in the region. It doesn't get any easier for Tharptown as it will host region-leading Red Bay.

Vinemont drops road matchup at J.B. Pennington 27-18

Ryan Guthery
Tribune Correspondent

BLOUNTSVILLE, Ala. – It was an absolutely perfect night for some football between the Vinemont Eagles and J.B. Pennington Tigers Friday night, but unfortunately for Eagles' fans, it ended with a 27-18 loss for Vinemont.

Vinemont received the opening kick and found the end zone in just six plays as Colby Miller scampered into the end zone from 31 yards out to put the Eagles up 6-0 with 8:56 remaining in the opening quarter.

Pennington answered right back to go up 7-6 with 5:28 remaining in the first.

Vinemont regained the lead when Miller went 16 yards for his second touchdown of the night, putting the Eagles up 12-7 with 1:00 remaining in the opening quarter, but the Tigers regained the lead 14-12 thanks to a touchdown pass with 2:48 remaining until halftime.

Once again, the Eagle offense drove down the field, and five plays later, Miller found Teague Whatley for a 47-yard touchdown with 1:21 remaining in the half.

With 13 seconds left until the break, the Tigers took the lead back and headed to the locker room with a 21-18 advantage.

Vinemont had several opportunities in the second half, recovering a fumble in the end zone for a touchback, not being able to capitalize on a first-and-goal from the 3-yard line and stalling on fourth down several times.

J.B. Pennington put the game out of reach late when it found the end zone again to pull ahead 27-18 and hold on for a win at home.

The Vinemont Eagles will be back home next week for its final regional matchup against the Holly Pond Broncos.

Corner hands West Point 35-7 loss at home

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

WEST POINT, Ala. – After winning in dramatic fashion on the road against Dora last week, the Warriors returned home Friday night to take on Corner.

Unfortunately for West Point fans in the home stands, the Yellow Jackets scored early and often in this one and handed the Warriors a 35-7 loss.

Corner jumped ahead 7-0 midway through the first quarter and stretched the lead to 13-0 just before the start of the second quarter.

The Yellow Jackets made it 21-0 with just under nine minutes to play in the second quarter and stretched that lead to 28-0 just one minute later.

West Point found the end zone late in the second quarter to make it a 28-7 game at the half, but Corner got those points back midway through the third, going up 35-7 and keeping the Warriors off the scoreboard the rest of the way.

The loss drops West Point to 3-5 on the season with the final regional matchup against Hayden coming up next week.

GOOD HOPE, Ala. – The City of Good Hope is busy preparing for two fun Halloween events that will be held at Good Hope City Hall.

The first will be the Sizzlin' Seniors Halloween Bash, planned for Tuesday, Oct. 29 at 10 a.m. On Halloween, from 3-5 p.m., it will be the kids' turn to come out for a spooky good time.

The senior Halloween party will feature activities, games and a hot lunch.

Don't forget your costumes, as there will be a contest.

The best-dressed senior will win a free ticket to one of the upcoming senior mystery trips. Lunch will be served at 11:30.

On Thursday, Oct. 31, families can come by for candy and fun.

Mayor Jerry Bartlett and city council members and staff will be handing out candy and will have a spooky room set up in the basement for the kids.

They will also have a fun Halloween backdrop for pictures, and each child will be entered into a costume contest. The winners will be chosen the next day with the grand prize winner receiving a $50 gift card. Second- and third-place winners will each take home $25 gift cards.

Both events will be held rain or shine.

CULLMAN, Ala. – Cullman County Child Development Center (CDC) students had the chance to get up close and personal with local first responders Friday afternoon at the fourth annual Restore Love event, hosted by Cook Ministries.

"It's for the kids; it's really just a matter of everybody that has a heart for kids in the community...I know all it seems I do is just organize it, but it's really a matter of just talking to people and asking them to come out and be a part of this," said Cook Ministries Chaplain Karen Cook.

"Everybody loves to come out, and blessing these kids is just, we get more of a blessing and probably more of a smile than most of these kids do. We really do, it's just great. It's just a fun day!"

CDC students not only got to meet the men and women from some of Cullman County's emergency responder organizations, but they also had the chance to explore things like fire trucks, ambulances and helicopters. Said Cook, "It brings some things that they wouldn't normally see or maybe not even see, except in a bad situation, and they need to know that the fire department, police officers and ambulances are here to help them."

Hanceville-based Cook Ministries' stated mission is to "restore love." The nonprofit has five rules:

1. "To bring something special back, to choose a new beginning."

2. "To always give second chances."

3. "To replace rejection with acceptance through deliverance."

4. "To find our value within."

5. "To always find God, ourselves and others."

First responders and other agencies who participated at the CDC Friday included the Vinemont-Providence Volunteer Fire Department, Cullman County Sanitation, Alabama State Troopers, Cullman EMS, Cullman Police Department, Cullman County Sheriff's Office, the Cullman chapter of the Christian Motorcyclists Association and Wal-Mart.

Dead End Haunted Trail promises frighteningly good time

Organizers say you'll be too scared to notice the décor when walking through the Dead End Haunted Trail.

CULLMAN, Ala. – Take a drive down to 191 County Road 741 and you'll see an unpaved road that leads to a "dead end" sign; keep driving and you'll find a fenced area with what looks to be an abandoned hiking trail. When approaching the trail and exploring with a guide, you'll come to find out there's a murderer on the loose with a chainsaw...

The Dead End Haunted Trail began in 2014, but after that first year was not opened again until 2017, when Angelia Selvage and John Cox started it up again.

This scary Halloween trail operates for a frighteningly good cause. Admission is a donation of a gently used or new toy or non-perishable, in-date food item. All donations will go to local nonprofit Saving Forgotten Warriors. There is no charge for parking. The trail will be open every Friday and Saturday night through Oct. 31, from 7:30 p.m.-?; it's also open Oct. 30-31.

Selvage said the trail's donation box has quickly filled up over this season's first two weekends, with visitors coming from all over Cullman County, Boaz and Athens.

"Every group that's been through has come back," she said.

She said some groups claim the Dead End Haunted Trail is better than the Atrox Factory in Leeds.

So what attracts visitors to the trail? Some of the workers joked, "The chainsaws!" but Selvage said it's returning groups who enjoyed the experience before, plus word of mouth.

Organizers said what sets the Dead End Haunted Trail apart from other trails is that every experience is unique. It's a different "performance" from each actor on every run-through.

All ages are welcome to walk through the trail, and organizers noted that if someone gets too scared or needs to leave, they will be escorted out with no hassle. If a child gets too scared, the actors will reveal that they're actors and not actually scary.

Selvage said feedback about the trail is welcomed.

For more information, contact Angelia Selvage at 256-347-9361 or Lisa Bates at 256-531-8446 or visit www.facebook.com/groups/1962365247384581.

Poet's Corner

Packing Up

By: Harry Moore
For Georgia Crumbley, 1921-2018

Throughout the house, under primal dust—
we find Christmas and birthday cards, bank statements, half-used lipstick tubes, perfume bottles, old dresses, shoes, hats, purses, magazines she thought she might use again, tax records, cake mixes and canned goods long out of date,
three sewing machines, four vacuum cleaners,
a phonograph from the fifties, Ball jars and lids, yellowed newspaper clippings saying someone died or won a prize, receipts for water and electricity month after month, for roofing and nails after the tornado came,
hospital bills for back surgery, three generations of dolls, toy tractors, plastic army men that children and grandchildren have outgrown, quilting scraps, quilt tops, batting for quilts, dozens of letters from Aunt Jessie, an entire filing cabinet of Sunday school lessons, a ponderous set of World Books describing life before Sputnik, pictures of children as babies, of the late husband shirtless, relaxed after work.

At ninety-five she moves into neat new living quarters, with sitting room, bedroom, compact kitchen, and we are left to sift, toss, shred, store in one sturdy trunk what makes the cut—packing, tucking, smoothing, till all that remains fits firmly in the box.

Harry Moore is from Decatur Alabama and author of four poetry books. His poems have appeared in the South Carolina Review, Alabama Literary Review, Anglican Theological Review, and other journals.

THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE • ALABAMA'S OLDEST CONTINUOUSLY PUBLISHED WEEKLY NEWSPAPER

"THE 67-COUNTY, ALABAMA GARDEN PARTY"

CHEROKEE COUNTY

Ben Johnson South
Tribune Correspondent

"Darling, why in tarnation are we galivanting all the way from Alabama to Vermont to look at some dadgum leaves when we could see prettier ones over in Cherokee County and eat fried chicken in Centre?" This was from my not-all-that-sophisticated Alabama hillbilly dad trying to understand mama's appreciation for something exotic, meaning not in our own backyard.

Why go all the way to Vermont, indeed? As I'm writing this, the sky is Alabama October Blue and the gold, yellow, scarlet leaves all shimmer on the Cherokee County trees.

Cherokee County may be the wildest part of our rather wild state. And, the fall foliage is when the wooded hillsides are the most vibrant. This is the perfect time and the perfect place for dendrophiles. A day trip here is a great escape for overly citified folks from Birmingham and Atlanta and offers world-class, panoramic views of Instagram-ready mountain vistas.

The narrow, slow-moving, country roads that wind through this part of Alabama have a de-stressing, calming effect.

You are way off the interstate highways and into God's country which the deity painted with a gorgeous, shimmering, gilded palette. Even though it's autumn, you might still need your sunglasses because of the golden splendor. The forests are aglow and putting on a show.

Even 200-plus years later, there are not many Native Americans in this part of the state after the Indian removal known as the Trail of Tears. That was in 1838, only two years after Cherokee County was established by the Alabama Legislature.

It is easy to empathize with the heartbroken Cherokee families who were forced to leave the natural beauty of this beautiful land.

The place names in Cherokee County celebrate how PLANTS + PEOPLE come together. Cedar Bluff is your destination for viewing evergreens amongst the craggy rock cliffs.

Pleasant Gap is just that, a lovely natural opening into a new world. Round Mountain is rounded and mountainous. Billy Goat Hill is mostly livable for those animals and somewhat challenging for us less nimble humans.

The county seat is Centre, Alabama. It's in the center of things in this remote wilderness area, but it's still decidedly distanced from anything overly blanded by so-called civilization. Centre is where I remember having "The Best Fried Chicken" of my six decades of fried chicken appreciation. Because even Alabamians are eating healthier in the 21st century, the "Fall Foliage Picnic Menu" we're sharing includes oven-baked chicken, and it is delicious, but Lordy, those folks in Cherokee County can sho-nuff fry some fine chicken with the fixins.

"Get Centre-ed in the Middle of Nowhere" is an invitation I extend to anyone who has become unbalanced by 21st century busyness and whiz-bang, technological overload. Come sit under a centuries-old tree in the unspoiled, natural beauty of Cherokee County and become naturally grounded, again.

Arborists say this part of Alabama has more than 100 species of native trees, including an array of hickories and sweetgums and all the red-leafed and yellow-leafed beauties you'd hope to see on a picture postcard. Up here in northeast Alabama is a cooling Eden in our hot-as-Hades summers, but the peak time for jaw-dropping plant-lovers is autumn.

Somewhere between the tranquil blue of the waterfalls and lakes and the celestial blue of an October sky you are halfway to heaven in Cherokee County, Alabama.

When I shared my notes with Laurie Johnson, who is creating the recipes for each stop along the 67-County Alabama Garden Party tour, she said every autumn, her mother used to read her this 1893 poem by Helen Hunt Jackson:

OCTOBER'S BRIGHT BLUE WEATHER

SUNS and skies and clouds of June,

And flowers of June together,

Ye cannot rival for one hour

October's bright blue weather;

When loud the bumble-bee makes haste,

Belated, thriftless vagrant,

And Golden-Rod is dying fast,

And lanes with grapes are fragrant;

When Gentians roll their fringes tight

To save them for the morning,

And Chestnuts fall from satin burrs

Without a sound of warning;

When on the ground red apples lie

In piles like jewels shining,

And redder still on old stone walls

The Alabama honeysuckle border was inspired by an 18th century, Southern applique quilt.

Are leaves of woodbine twining;

When all the lovely wayside things

Their white-winged seeds are sowing,

And in the fields, still green and fair,

Late aftermaths are growing;

When springs run low, and on the brooks,

In idle golden freighting,

Bright leaves sink noiseless in the hush

Of woods, for winter waiting;

When comrades seek sweet country haunts,

By twos and twos together,

And count like misers, hour by hour,

October's bright blue weather.

O suns and skies and flowers of June,

Count all your boasts together,

Love loveth best of all the year

October's bright blue weather.

That poem would be good to tuck into your Cherokee basket for your autumn outing.

Here are other positive and pleasurable ways PLANTS + PEOPLE come together in this part of Alabama, including a recipe for delicious and healthy chicken for your own "Fall Foliage Picnic":

• CHEROKEE COUNTY FARMERS MARKET- Park Street (Centre City Park) Centre, AL 35960; Thursdays 7-10 a.m., May 30-Sept. 26; Mondays 3:30-5:30 p.m., June 3-July 29

• CHEROKEE ROCK VILLAGE- (Leesburg) This elevated, naturally vertical maze of boulders is peppered with wild vegetation to explore; plant-enthusiasts, hikers and rock-climbers come from all over the nation to explore this treasured land near Little River Canyon.

• ALLIUM SPECULAE- It is a native flower which grows most abundantly in this area near Little River Canyon- a prized plant for photographers.

• PLANTING AN IDEA- Baskets made by the Cherokee natives in this part of the state were woven so intricately and tightly they could be used to carry water. This Bicentennial year would be a prime time to revive this craft. Basketweaver Billy Ray Sims, who learned to weave with "sweetgrass" in South Carolina, has relocated to Alabama and has switched to using white oak, which is native to Cherokee County. White ash is another natural, basket-weaving material. It's the same wood used in baseball bats and hammer handles. You can find Mr. Sims' artistry at www.billyraysimsbaskets.com. Mr. Sims or another skilled artisan could teach how to make an Appalachian Egg Basket or an Alabama Sweet Potato Trug. Someone could create a cottage industry and salute our heritage by launching The 1819 Alabama Basket Company.

Y'ALL COME and rewild your adventurous spirit with a picnic on your 67-County Alabama Garden Party tour in Cherokee County.

Many thanks to Laurie Johnson for our Cherokee County picnic menu and recipe.

The Cullman Tribune is celebrating the Alabama Bicentennial (1819-2019) with statewide field reporting by Alabama Master Gardener/Botanical Artist Ben Johnson South. This year-long feature, "The 67-County Alabama Garden Party," will spotlight different counties each week. Each county will get its own "quilt block," along with a historical profile, and we'll share a recipe specific to the area. At the end of the year, all 67 counties will be put in a book to commemorate the Bicentennial.

CHICKEN LEGS FOR A BLUE SKIES, FOLIAGE PICNIC

("OVEN FRIED" CHICKEN DRUMSTICKS)

What's better than a picnic? A fresh meal outdoors on a blanket, a loaf of bread, a bottle of wine and of course, fried chicken. Chicken legs, with their moist, flavorful meat and built-in handles, are perfect for a picnic.

We long for picnics in the first warm days of spring, but... there is all that pollen. We love picnics in the green summer, but... it is so hot and, oh - those pesky bugs! I think that the perfect picnic is in the fall when our foliage showcases a pallet of beautiful shades of yellow, orange and red and the sky paints the clearest, bluest color. Every October, my mother recited a poem that her mother read to her. In her 1893 "October's Bright Blue Weather," poet Helen Hunt Jackson confirms that for over a century, the foliage is most stunning, and the sky is bluest in October. It's the perfect time for a Blue Skies, Foliage picnic. This recipe is for a non-deep-fried version of our favorite picnic chicken. A garlic-herb marinade and a hot baking method yield crunchy, flavorful Blue Skies, Foliage Picnic Chicken Legs!

INGREDIENTS

- ~ 10 fresh chicken drumsticks (skin on)
- 1 cup herb, garlic marinade – whisk up from ingredients below or purchase "ready-made"
  - 1/2 cup water, 1/4 cup white wine vinegar, 2 tbsp. lemon juice, 2 tbsp. olive oil, 2 tbsp. minced garlic, 1 tbsp. salt, 1 tsp. each ground black pepper, fresh basil, thyme, dried red bell pepper, paprika, 1/2 tsp. each cayenne pepper (to taste only), sugar (optional) and 1 tsp. corn starch (to thicken and help stick to chicken)
- 1 1/2 stick salted butter
- ~ 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 2 tbsp. ground black pepper
- 2 tbsp. paprika

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Whisk up marinade or use "store bought" and marinate chicken legs in a shallow pan or plastic bag for at least 3 hours or overnight – shaking or stirring around a few times.
2. Preheat oven to 450F and line a rimmed cooking sheet with aluminum foil.
3. Once the oven is preheated, place the butter, cut into pieces, in the pan and melt in the oven. (Remove before it darkens or burns!)
4. Mix flour and additional black pepper and paprika in a gallon plastic bag. Drain marinade from the legs and shake them in the bag to coat, a few at a time. Place them in the pan onto the melted butter. Discard extra flour mixture. Baste or spoon some butter on the top of the legs.
5. Bake for 30 minutes. Remove from oven, turn the legs over and return to oven for another 20 minutes, or until done and brown (at least 165F at the thickest part of the leg).
6. Enjoy warm or at room temperature. Refrigerate if not eaten within a few hours and enjoy them in the next days. As with many dishes, the flavors get better with time! This is the perfect, take-along, but not deep-fried, picnic food!
