Cullman voters will decide on 1-cent tax increase on March 3 ballot

Christy Perry
christy@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – Cullman County voters will see a referendum for a countywide one-cent sales and use tax for education on the March 3, 2020 primary election ballot. The Cullman County Commission passed a resolution Tuesday morning ordering the referendum be added. The request for the referendum was made by the Cullman County School Board (CCBOE) and Superintendent Dr. Shane Barnette; the CCBOE passed a resolution at its meeting Oct. 10 to request the commission set an election in March 2020 to permit the voters of Cullman County to decide on the tax.

"We are asking for a one-cent sales tax to be placed on the ballot for the people of Cullman County to vote on," Barnette said to the commission Tuesday morning.

"This money will be spent on the local school campuses, upgrading facilities and security. We have an outline of what we would like to do on each campus, and we've been sharing that in community meetings over the last couple of months. During those conversations, we feel like the people of Cullman will support this and really through those meetings have asked for us to come to you guys and ask for this to be put on the ballot."

Prior to approving the resolution, Commissioner Garry Marchman said, "People are out in the communities and talking about it and one of the things they are saying is that, we don't mind voting for a tax, but we want to know what's going to happening to the money and where it's going to go."

CULLMAN COUNTY ANIMAL SHELTER

Luna

CULLMAN, Ala. – Good news from the Cullman County Animal Shelter: Volunteer Donna Ruttkay shared that the last two Cullman Tribune Pets of the Week have been adopted! The shelter still has dogs available, so here's a new canine companion:

Luna is an Irish Setter mix with maybe a little Greyhound, just under 2 years of age. She's a playful medium-energy pet. Ruttkay said, "Her playful behavior reminds one of a foal playing in the pasture."

Luna has the makings of a good companion, hiking or therapy dog.

Animal shelter staff and volunteers work with their dogs to make sure they are accustomed to being around people, walking on a leash and practicing good behavior. Several of the shelter's dogs have even been "hired" to work as therapy and special needs service dogs.

Luna's adoption fee is $90 which includes: DHLPP vaccine, Bordetella vaccines, rabies vaccine, wormer, general exam at the vet, spaying, microchip, free 30-day health insurance policy issued by 24PetWatch (with valid email only) and a free bag of food from Cullman Pet Depot (you must pay sales tax).

Please consider adopting, to give a rescued pet a chance at a happy and healthy life.

Contact the Cullman County Animal Shelter at 256-734-5448 or cullmancountyanimalshelter@gmail.com. Visit the shelter at 935 Convent Road NE.

Cullman Regional gives update on Stephen K. Griffith Memorial Fund

Fund honors memory and supports mental health services for Cullman citizens

Lindsey Dossey
Contributor

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Stephen K. Griffith Memorial Fund was established in June 2018 to honor the memory of Stephen K. Griffith and to expand mental health services in Cullman County.

The Fund was established by Steve's wife Jackie, son Wyles (Brandy) Griffith and daughter, Sarah Frances (Donovon) Lovell.

Steve was taken from us too soon as a direct result of the mental health crisis in our community.

He was killed July 17, 2017 by a man the Cullman County Sheriff's Office deemed mentally unstable.

Through this fund, the Griffith family hopes to raise mental health awareness and fill the tremendous gap in mental health care services available in our community.

Steve was a husband, father, grandfather, friend, mentor and great contributor to the community.

In the spirit of his generosity, the Griffith Family established this Fund to continue his legacy and seeks to honor his memory by helping address the mental health crisis in the Cullman community, especially among the indigent population. The Fund is a part of Garrison Gives Hope, Inc., a nonprofit corporation.

The Stephen K. Griffith Memorial Fund Committee Members are Steve Donaldson, Steve Glasscock, Shawn Nelson, Shay Persall and Dr. Tom "Big Doc" Williamson.

There are also three Fund Committee Member Advisors: Charna Brown, medical advisor; Fess St. John, legal advisor; and Jeb Williamson, accounting advisor. All are operating on a volunteer basis.

"The goal of the Fund is to assist Cullman County citizens who are struggling with mental illness and are unable to afford mental health treatment," said Glasscock.

"At Cullman Regional, we are consistently working to provide the best care we can for the patients coming to us.

"Unfortunately for mental health patients, the resources available, particularly for those without insurance, are limited," Cullman Regional Chief Nursing Officer Charna Brown, RN said.

""In 2018, Cullman Regional's emergency department provided medical care to more than 1,000 behavioral health patients.

"Many of these patients return for additional care due to the lack of resources available to provide adequate ongoing follow-up treatment.

"The Stephen K. Griffith Foundation is working closely with Cullman Regional in order to make sure patients who need behavioral health care have access to the care they need."

2017 ALABAMA MENTAL HEALTH STATISTICS

According to the Alabama Department of Mental Health 2017 Annual Report:

- 106,740 people sought treatment for mental illness in Alabama
- The State of Alabama only has 2,775 inpatient psychiatric treatment beds available throughout the state, many of which will not accept patients without insurance. State facilities, which typically are the only facilities that treat the uninsured, only treated 857 patients in 2017.

According Mental Health America 2017 State Mental Health Access Data:

- On average, 21% of adults with mental illness in Alabama are uninsured. Statistically speaking, that means more than 20,000 people did not receive adequate inpatient treatment.
- Alabama ranks 50 out of 51 for access to mental health services for patients.

2018 Cullman County Mental Health statistics:

- According to Cullman Regional, 1,027 people sought mental health treatment in Cullman Regional's Emergency Department in 2018.
- Nearly 30% of patients seeking treatment were unable to obtain care due to lack of insurance or inability to pay for care.

"These numbers are indeed startling; however, what's even more startling," Glasscock said, "is that these are just the people who are seeking care or have been mandated to receive care."

According to Mental Health America 2017 State Mental Health Access Data, 54% of adults (382,000) with mental illness in Alabama did not receive treatment in 2017.

The Fund hosts several fundraisers throughout the year and gratefully accepts individual and/or corporate donations in any amount.

Contributions can be mailed to: The Stephen K. Griffith Memorial Fund, P.O. Box 1544, Cullman, AL 35056-1544 (EIN: 83-2471932).

If you have questions about the Fund, call Meagan Tucker at 256-255-5547.

Shooting (from Front)

Wendy Sack
wendy@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – Two people died and one was critically injured in a shooting and knife attack at a residence along the 8500 block of County Road 223 in the community of Prospect Mountain in Cullman County Monday evening.

Cullman County Coroner Jeremy L. Kilpatrick on Tuesday identified the two deceased victims as Thomas Frank Dewille, 76, of Owens Cross Roads and Rollan Frank Edwards, 75, of Prospect Mountain.

Dewille was pronounced dead at the scene. Edwards died after being transported to UAB Hospital in Birmingham.

The third victim, Jody Jay Tudor, 48, of Prospect Mountain remains in UAB Hospital in critical condition.

Matthew LeWayne Clayton, 30, of Prospect Mountain has been charged with two counts of murder and one count of attempted murder.

He was picked up by Alabama State Troopers and the Limestone County Sheriff's Office Monday night on Interstate 65. He was extradited to Cullman County, where he is being held in the Cullman County Detention Center without bond.

Cullman County Sheriff Matt Gentry said in a press conference Tuesday that the three victims and the suspect knew each other and that at least two of them are related.

"We do know that the individuals were all known to each other," said Gentry. "The motive, we believe, or what we're starting to learn, was something that happened in the past.

"We're still working with investigators to determine all the incidents, what we believed happened."

Gentry took time to praise the work done by law enforcement and other first responders.

"Throughout any horrific tragedy, any horrific incident that we deal with in law enforcement," he said, "one of the things that I noticed yesterday, and over the last 20 years in law enforcement, is how those first responders, how the men and women of the sheriff's office and those first responders who arrive on scene run in without fear."

The sheriff reminded the media that Cullman deputies each work 150 square miles alone.

He continued, "Those deputies and first responders arrived on scene without hesitation. When you're talking about something like this, and they are arriving by themselves to an unknown situation, that takes courage."

Gentry said the three victims lived together and the suspect was a neighbor. He said the three victims had lived together for many years.

5 local teams wrapping up region play Thursday night

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

With wet weather moving in this weekend, several local squads have opted to play their games Thursday night and for a couple of them it'll be the final game of the regular season. Addison will travel to Hatton to finish up its regular seasons while Cold Springs, West Point, Fairview and Good Hope will be wrapping up region play and locking up their potential playoff positions.

(7-2) Addison (2A Region 7) at (4-4) Hatton (2A Region 7)

The Bulldogs got off to a bit of a slow start at home against Tharptown last week but managed to pull away and win it 37-7, setting them up to finish second in the region with a win this week. However, Hatton has won three straight and outscored its opponents 113-32 in that stretch, so the Hornets aren't going to make it easy for Addison to lock up the second seed.

Despite having a .500 record, Hatton is allowing just under 16 points per game this season defensively and have been clicking on the offensive end in recent weeks. The Bulldogs are bringing a stout defense of their own, one that allows just 12 points per game and has helped Addison win five straight since falling to Red Bay. Home field advantage is on the line in this one for the Bulldogs and its shaping up to be a physical game between two strong defensive units.

(4-4) Cold Springs (2A Region 5) at (7-1) Sulligent (2A Region 5)

The Eagles dropped a tough one last week against Tarrant in which they turned the ball over seven times and fell 24-20, but they'll have to bounce back this week to face one of the best teams on their schedule on the road. Cold Springs will travel to face Sulligent this week and can lock up the third spot in region 5 with an upset. An Eagles loss and a Southeastern win over Tarrant could create a 3-way tie.

Sulligent is holding its opponents to just 19 points per game this season and has won four straight since falling to Aliceville in September. Cold Springs has been held to 20 the last two weeks and has been affected by the turnover bug in recent games, so it'll take a solid showing on both sides of the ball to knock off Sulligent Thursday night.

(6-2) Fairview (4A Region 7) vs. (5-4) Danville (4A Region 7)

After cruising past Randolph 42-20 on the road last week, the Aggies will return home Thursday night to take on Danville with a region title on the line. Home field advantage is already secure for the Aggies in round one, but a region championship would be a great accomplishment for this Fairview team.

The Aggies are putting up 35 points per game this season and have scored at least that many in their last three wins over North Jackson, West Morgan and Randolph. Danville has been able to put points on the board this season as well but are allowing over 30 points per game defensively. The Hawks are coming off a 63-34 loss at St. John Paul II last week. With a region crown on the line, Fairview will be anxious to hit the filed Thursday night and add to the momentum it has built going into the postseason.

(3-5) West Point (5A Region 7) vs. (3-6) Hayden (5A Region 7)

As of last week, the Warriors no longer control their own destiny in the playoff hunt, but they are not officially eliminated yet. Regardless of what happens elsewhere in the region, West Point has to get past Hayden Thursday night.

The Warriors have been held to just seven points in two of their last three games, so they've had some recent struggles offensively but this week they'll face a Wildcats defense that is allowing just under 30 points per game.

West Point is giving up 30 points per game as well so we could be looking at a high-scoring affair. With a potential playoff berth still out there for the Warriors, Thursday night's showdown will be one of the most important of the season for West Point.

MARTHA NEEDHAM/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE, BILL PIPER/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

(7-1) Good Hope (4A Region 5) vs. (6-2) Fayette County (4A Region 5)

After routing Curry 42-6 last week, the Raiders are in position to secure the second seed in region 5 at home against Fayette County Thursday night.

Good Hope won last year's matchup with the Tigers in dramatic fashion so they'll be looking for some pay back at James W. Shabel Stadium this time around.

The Raiders are scoring 30 points per game right now and holding their opponents to fewer than 20.

Fayette County is putting up 29 points per game so both offenses have had some success this season and this matchup will likely come down to which defense can make big stops and get off the field at critical times.

Good Hope has allowed just 17 points combined in its last two games so things are clicking for the Raiders defensively right now and with home field advantage on the line, they'll be aiming for another great performance Thursday night.

City School Board recognizes system's 1st dyslexia interventionist

Patterson addresses Alabama State Report Card, 1-cent sales tax vote

Maggie Darnell
maggie@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – "I'm not sure if you're aware, but October is Dyslexia Awareness Month," said Cullman City Schools Superintendent Dr. Susan Patterson at Tuesday evening's school board meeting, "and Cullman City Schools has had a strong partnership with our city council, and through this, we have received additional funding and we were the first in the state to have a dyslexia teacher in our system. "That's something we're very proud of and the city council has been instrumental in providing funding for this teacher unit. We thank them."

The board recognized that teacher, dyslexia Interventionist Rhonda Smith. Smith is a certified academic language therapist.

The board also recognizes three of its members for achieving new levels in the 2019 Alabama Association of School Boards Academy. Joey Orr achieved Level 3, while Chris Branham and Lee Powell achieved Level 2.

Patterson joked when board members were recognized, saying, "They have to go to school just like the rest of us."

The board also recognized Cullman Middle School's FFA chapter for achieving Gold Chapter status at the 2019 Alabama FFA State Convention and for the students' first-place finish in the Cullman County Forestry Contest.

In other business, the board went through its annual reconstitution, which is required annually. Orr was named the new board president, and Branham was named new board vice president.

The Alabama State Department of Education (ALSDE) last week released its 2018-2019 Alabama State Report Card, its report card for public schools statewide. Cullman City Schools, after a one point drop last year, rose two points to a new high score of 93.

Patterson shared her thoughts on the report card.

"I am so proud of all of our schools, the staff and students, as each of them earned an A on this year's report card. Cullman City Schools is one of only eight school systems in Alabama to have all the schools earn an 'A.' Our focus as a district is to make sure we are always moving forward in providing our students the very best educational opportunities and outcomes," she said. "Cullman High School implemented several positive changes and due to their diligence was able to achieve a four-point increase, moving them from an 89 to a 93. As our city continues to grow and more businesses locate here, having the 'A' quality, along with annually being recognized as a top 10 school district within the state, provides our leaders a great recruiting point. We will be reviewing each area of the report card by school and the district as a whole to find additional improvement opportunities that can assist us in raising our success together."

Patterson also addressed the news that a one-cent sales and use tax for education will be the March 3, 2020 ballot for Cullman County voters.

"(Superintendent) Dr. (Shane) Barnette shared with me that the Cullman County Board of Education passed a resolution to request the (Cullman) County Commission add a one-cent sales tax proposal to the March 2020 ballot, and I understand the County Commission approved the request in their meeting."

According to Barnette, the tax revenue would go to both the Cullman city and county school systems, based on the number of students in each system. He said the distribution would come out to approximately 23% for Cullman City Schools.

The Cullman City School Board's next scheduled meeting is Nov. 14 at 5 p.m. in the Central Office board room.

RAYBURN BAKER

Rayburn Baker was born in Cullman County Feb. 13, 1930. In Dec. 1952, he purchased 40 acres of farmland in Blount County. Although he was ready to get started on his new farm, he was drafted into the Army March 11, 1953. After receiving his draft notice, he had to report to Fort Jackson for basic training with the paratroopers. Upon completion of training, he and many other soldiers boarded a ship bound for Germany. The Army trained Rayburn to be a medic and he served our country well behind the Iron Curtain. He carried wounded soldiers across the Rhine River and cared for many other medical needs.When Rayburn returned from Germany in March 1955, he was automatically placed in the Army Reserves for an additional seven years. He knew he could have been called to active duty anytime, but that did not keep him from getting busy on his new farm.

On July 28, 1956, Rayburn married Jessie Merrell. They were married 44 years. In 1958, after Rayburn got his farm under control, he interviewed for a job at Buettner Brothers Lumber Company in Cullman. On the day of the interview, he went right to work. Rayburn enjoyed his farm life and his job with Buettner Brothers. In his lifetime, he has only collected three unemployment checks. At a time when work was slow at Buettner Brothers, layoffs were necessary

Although Rayburn had seniority to keep his job, he asked his boss to allow him to be laid off, so a young man with a family could keep working. Rayburn knew he could survive on his farm for a while. Three weeks later, he returned to work. Rayburn was a perfectionist with his work. He wanted to produce excellent and beautifully-finished products. He worked in many homes as well as a large nursing home in Jasper where he was responsible for building and installing cabinets for each of the rooms.

The builder of the new nursing home was so impressed with Rayburn's work and his work ethic, he got a job building cabinets for 80 apartment units in Ashville. Rayburn was a dependable and loyal employee for 33 years, until he retired at age 62. Although he retired, he did not go home to rest. He continued to work hard with his farm and cattle. Rayburn is honored to have served our country.

He will tell you, being drafted was a good thing as it taught him a lot. He is proud to have worked with Buettner Brothers and he is thankful for his life as a farmer. We must all be thankful for each and every soldier who has served and is serving our country protecting our freedom. We must also be thankful for our farmers who help provide the food we eat. Today, Rayburn enjoys sharing stories and visiting with his many friends, especially Mae Brown.

Winners! CATA Cosmetology students take 1st place at Premiere Birmingham regional trade show

W.C. Mann

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. – Cullman Area Technology Academy (CATA) Cosmetology students Elyse Koloski and Savannah Sivley, along with model Aaliyah Daugherty, on Monday won first-place honors with their "nymph forest fairy" design in the fairy tale-themed student competition at the Premiere Birmingham regional beauty trade show at the Birmingham Jefferson Convention Complex.

The student contest rules, from the Premiere website, were simple: "Create an elevated avant-garde hair and makeup look depicting a fairytale creature including but not limited to: Unicorns, mermaids, fairies and witches."

Teacher Tasha Flanigan told The Tribune, "Premiere Show Group is one of the most successfully managed shows in the beauty industry, providing education for hair, skin, nails and skin care professionals. I am so proud my students got the chance to compete in a competition like this. They represented our department and school very well, displaying great teamwork and skills to win this competition. There were 15 teams: four high school and 11 college; a lot of the teams were from different states."

Imagine yourself in a DeKalb County party barn sittin' on a hay bale with someone you hold dear, and the country, Southern rock and gospel music is provided by the world-renowned band, who proudly named itself for its beloved home state, Alabama.

These local boys done good. Randy Owens and his cousin, Teddy Gentry, and another cousin, Jeff Cook, hail from this rocky top of Alabama, where they started their band in Ft. Payne in 1969.

The band Alabama has so many no. 1 hits and Grammy-winning songs that it was a challenge to gather just a handful for our DeKalb County barn party as we look at all the fun, friendly and beautiful places where PLANTS + PEOPLE come together in the northeast corner of the state. Now, let's...

• TAKE A LITTLE TRIP- "If we could leave this big ole city and head for the cabin we love...take a little trip up to heaven tonight...take a little time to leave it all behind." After the forced removal of Native Americans in this area, the eager white settlers uprooted to leave almost everything behind in North Carolina and across the line in Tennessee to live upland in the piney woods of DeKalb County, which was established by the Alabama Legislature in 1836.

• MOUNTAIN MUSIC- "Oh play me some mountain music like Grandma and Grandpa used to play... swim across the river...just bein' nature's friend...climb a long, tall hickory." The musical cousins could have been singing about Little River Canyon National Preserve on top of Lookout Mountain near their family homesteads. This 15,288-acre preserve surrounds the Little River, which is one of the cleanest and prettiest, and maybe the longest, mountaintop rivers in America. Over eons, Little River has carved out one of the Southeast's deepest canyons, now heavily forested. There is a day-use campground near the mouth of the canyon which is perfect for picnics and some pickin'-and-grinnin' mountain music.

• HIGH COTTON- "We didn't know the times were lean, round our house the grass was green...I bet we walked a thousand miles, choppin' cotton and pushin' plows...we were walkin' in high cotton, old times there are not forgotten... Leavin' home was the hardest thing we ever faced." DeKalb County has grown cotton since the early days, but the rocky soil made this area more appealing to hardscrabble farmers who were happy living up in the green hills providing for their families. The major agricultural crop harvested in this part of Alabama today is soybeans. The county is also a top producer of poultry and eggs in the state. And, DeKalb is regularly ranked among the top counties for cattle farming.

• MY HOME'S IN ALABAMA- "No matter where I lay my head. My home's in Alabama, Southern born and Southern bred...I'll speak my Southern English, just as natural as I please." The band Alabama has played packed arenas around the globe, but it always comes home to the state that gave it its name. Its home's in Alabama. As for the natural language of the locals, when you hear a Pine Ridge gardener "go on" about her "maters" or a Chigger Ridge farmer all braggish about his "taters" you're hearing a bona fide, DeKalb County accent not nuthin' nobody around these parts ever heard tell of on that "Hee Haw" television show.

• BORN COUNTRY- "Clear creeks and cool mountain mornings. Honest work out in the field. Cornbread in Mama's kitchen...I was born country and that's what I'll always be. Like the rivers and the woodlands, wild and free." The DeKalb County source for farm feed, garden plants, seed and even cornmeal is Ft. Payne Feed and Garden Supply, 1954 Gault Ave. N, Ft. Payne, AL 35967, 256-845-5946. Here's what a couple of locals had to say about this community hub where PLANTS + PEOPLE come regularly connect: "My foster dogs eat A LOT, so the lower prices are very important." And, "I'll forever remember the cornmeal."

• DIXIELAND DELIGHT- "Spend my dollar, parked in a holler 'neath the mountain moonlight...whitetail buck deer munchin' on clover, red-tailed hawk sitting on a limb...chubby ol' groundhog, croakin' bullfrog, free as a feelin' in the wind." That captures the feelin' of being at DeSoto State Park, a public recreation area created in the 1930s by the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC). The 3,502 acres of forest, rivers, waterfalls and mountain terrain were named for the 16th century Spanish explorer, Hernando de Soto, who was the first European to hike DeKalb County. Today, there are 25 miles of hiking trails and 11 miles that allow mountain biking. CCC-built lodge and cabins are available as rentals and all can enjoy the nature center.

• ANGELS AMONG US- "Sent down to us from somewhere up above. They come to you and me in our darkest hour to show us how to live, to teach us how to give, to guide us with a light of love." The Church with a Rock in It is how most people know of the Sallie Howard Memorial Chapel. It was imagined by a loving widower in 1935 and is built around a giant boulder at one end. Stones from Little River were used to construct the altar. This active church in Mentone was deeded to the DeKalb Baptist Association in 1974.

• DANCIN' ON THE BOULEVARD- It harkens back to the early days of the band Alabama when it drew crowds at honky-tonks and music festivals on the Carolina coast. These entertaining DeKalb County boys don't claim to be gifted dancers, but the ladies who follow them have on occasion pulled them onto a dance floor. Though a cover song on their hit album "Southern Star" celebrates "Barefootin'," the band members generally wore boots and growing up they wore socks woven in Ft. Payne, which at one time was "The Sock Capital of the World." Today, DeKalb County environmentalist and entrepreneur Gina Locklear has revived the sock-making legacy at Zkano Socks Mill, which makes colorful, creatively-designed socks and stockings from organic cotton. On the 27th of this month, Gina and her family and team at Zkano will celebrate the 10th anniversary for this Alabama visionary company. Check their website or better yet, go visit them at Zkano Socks Mill, 1715 Airport Road, Ft. Payne, AL 35968, 256-845-9801.

• DOWN HOME- "Where they know you by name and treat you like family...kids drivin' 'round the old town square" is where you'll find eateries that celebrate DeKalb County-grown fruits and vegetables. Three to savor are: Vintage 1889, Wildflower Café and Green Leaf Grill. Voted "The Best Catfish in Alabama," the Green Leaf Grill has sides that deserve an award, too.

• SONG OF THE SOUTH- "Song, song of the South, sweet potato pie and I shut my mouth. Gone, gone with the wind, ain't nobody lookin' back again." We'll end our DeKalb County barn party with this hit from the band Alabama and some sweet dessert. As the song reminds us, life here was not always easy, but the natural beauty of forests and grand vistas is easy to love.

Dekalb County gardeners and farmers grow a variety of edible and ornamental plants. Here are places to find them: DeKalb County Farmers' Market (Ft. Payne), Ft. Payne Family Farmers' Market (Ft. Payne), Ft. Payne Main Street Farmers' Market (Ft. Payne), Henagar City Park Market (Henagar), Mentone Farmers' Market (Mentone).

The Mentone Rhododendron Festival is held annually in mid-May and is a lovely time to come celebrate these native beauties that thrive in the cooler temperatures of Lookout Mountain. There are lots of hiking trails to entice you in the area, so bring your boots and buy some DeKalb County-made socks. Google for bed-and-breakfast places in the area and plan to make it a weekend of fun, great food, rest and regeneration.

PLANTING AN IDEA: How about IDER CIDER from Ider, Alabama? According to the latest census, Ider, Alabama in DeKalb County has 723 residents. It could take a number of those folks to grow apples and press cider but could be a great opportunity for PLANTS + PEOPLE to come together in this part of the world. Also, IDER CIDER could be bottled in vessels designed by the award-winning Ft. Payne, Alabama glass artisans, Cal and Christy Breed at www.orbixhotglass.com.

Y'ALL COME enjoy the lively, toe-tapping pleasures of northeast Alabama in DeKalb County on your 67-County Alabama Garden Party tour! It'll make your heart sing.

Many thanks for the words I referenced from the great band Alabama and the other gifted songwriters who wrote the timeless lyrics quoted in this salute to their part of the state. Also, thanks to Lori Wheeler, coordinator of the DeKalb County office of the Alabama Cooperative Extension System, for her many suggestions, insights and ideas. And, thank you to Laurie Johnson for the "Shut Your Mouth" Sweet Potato Pie" recipe.

The Cullman Tribune is celebrating the Alabama Bicentennial (1819-2019) with statewide field reporting by Alabama Master Gardener/Botanical Artist Ben Johnson South. This year-long feature, "The 67-County Alabama Garden Party," will spotlight different counties each week. Each county will get its own "quilt block," along with a historical profile, and we'll share a recipe specific to the area. At the end of the year, all 67 counties will be put in a book to commemorate the Bicentennial.

"SHUT YOUR MOUTH" SWEET POTATO PIE WITH ORANGE BOURBON WHIPPED CREAM

As a child, "Song of the South" was a cool Uncle Remus, Disney movie. In my 20s, "Song of the South" was entirely different: a hit song by the band, Alabama, featuring "Sweet potato pie and I shut my mouth" in its earworm chorus. I hate to admit that I was in my 40s before tasting sweet potato pie as a gift from a friend. It is only now that I've baked my first sweet potato pie, twisted up with multiple orange flavors plus cayenne to shake up the traditional "sugar, spice and everything nice." Garnished with crust leaves and topped with orange bourbon whipped cream, this pie is a sweet, spicy surprise that will leave you.... speechless.

INGREDIENTS

- Cooked (peeled) pulp from 3 large Alabama sweet potatoes
- 1 cup evaporated milk
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 2 beaten eggs
- 2 tbsp. fresh-squeezed orange juice and the zest from the orange
- 1 tsp. orange extract and 1 - 2 tbsp. orange liquor, like Grand Marnier (optional)
- 1/4 cup melted butter
- 1/2 tsp. baking powder
- 1/2 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. cayenne pepper (to taste) and 1 tbsp. pumpkin pie spice
- Pie crust for a 9-inch deep dish pie pan, plus additional crust for leaf cutouts
- A bit of extra melted butter and some turbinado sugar or coarse granulated sugar
- For the orange bourbon whipped cream: One small carton of heavy whipping cream, 1/8 cup sugar, 1/2 tsp. orange extract and 1 tsp. vanilla bourbon

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Preheat oven to 350F and spray pie plate with cooking spray.
2. Roll pie crust to fit, press into pan and flute the edge. Cut leaf shapes from additional pie crust and place onto small parchment paper-lined cooking sheet.
3. In a large bowl, mash the sweet potato pulp and add evaporated milk, beaten eggs, melted butter, sugar, baking powder, juice, salt, extracts, liquor and spices. Stir to combine and then beat with a mixer until smooth. Taste and adjust flavors to your liking/loving!
4. Pour filling into crust and bake for ~ 30 minutes. Concurrently, bake leaf crusts with the pie.
5. After the first 30 minutes, place partially cooked leaves onto the pie, brush them and the pie with melted butter and sprinkle all with turbinado sugar. Bake another ~ 20 minutes until set. Cover crust with foil or silicone shield if getting too brown before the filling is firm.
6. Prepare whipped cream: Chill a large bowl and beaters. Start beating at medium speed until cream starts to thicken and add the sugar and flavorings gradually. Once incorporated, taste, adjust and then beat on high for another 2-3 minutes until soft peaks form. Don't overbeat or you will end up with a butter-like consistency. Should keep in the refrigerator for up to a day.
7. Serve this sweet, yet spicy, Southern tradition dolloped with orange bourbon whipped cream that will leave you and your guests speechless.
