Dodge City seniors earn state medals at the Masters Games

Christy Perry

DODGE CITY, Ala. – The Dodge City Senior Center earned a few bragging rights recently after competing in this year's Masters Games of Alabama in Valley, Alabama. The center's representatives brought home several medals, including two state champion ones in Rook.

Dodge City Senior Center President Ann Rice and her Rook partner Sherrell Johnson won three out of three games and captured first place in the state of Alabama for their age group (75-79).

When asked how it felt to be a state champion, Rice laughed and said, "No different."

Rice and Johnson had an interesting journey to the top.

"When we went to Huntsville (district) we just won by luck. If you don't follow the rules, you get disqualified," said Rice. "The couple that played against us, the lady got the bid. You are supposed to discard five cards, OK. We played the game and she didn't have a card left when we were supposed to play our last card. She had discarded six instead of five.

"You couldn't talk or (any) thing. You had to raise your hand like the teacher come to you in school and so she said, 'OK, y'all win. They're disqualified."

The next group was also disqualified for not playing the bird when the rules required.

Rice continued, "'The man said, 'Oh, I made a mistake. I didn't play the bird.' (So they said,) 'You're disqualified, they're the winners!' So, that's how we won, so no, we don't have the big head."

Rice and Thompson did win the three games at state without help from disqualification.

Harold and Judy Thompson also competed in the Masters Games. Harold Thompson placed third in horseshoes, Nerf ball and frisbee in his age division. Both earned walking medals.

VICKI OGLETREE

The Dodge City seniors meet every Tuesday at the senior center next door to Dodge City Town Hall. Games and activities begin at 9 a.m. and lunch is served at 11:30.

On Tuesday, Oct. 29, the center will celebrate with a fun Halloween party.

The men will be competing in a womanless beauty contest and all are encouraged to wear their best Halloween costumes. There will be games, prizes and tons of fun.

Men who use androgenic anabolic steroids – such as testosterone – may face a higher risk of early death and of experiencing more hospital admissions, according to a new Journal of Internal Medicine study.

Misuse of prescription opioids or benzodiazepines (such as Xanax) was associated with suicidal ideation in a study of United States older adults. In the International Journal of Geriatric Psychiatry study of 17,608 adults aged 50 years and older, past-year use (without misuse) of prescription opioids or benzodiazepines was not associated with past-year suicidal ideation. In contrast, past-year opioid misuse was associated with an 84 percent increased odds of past-year suicidal ideation and past-year benzodiazepine misuse was associated with twofold increased odds, after controlling for various factors related to suicide in other work. While 2.2 percent of United States older adults not engaged in either opioid or benzodiazepine misuse reported past-year suicidal ideation, the rate was 25.4 percent in those who misused both medication classes.

In a study of 15 patients affected by major depressive disorder and complaining of insomnia, initiating treatment with vortioxetine for their depressive symptoms led to significant improvements in subjective sleep quality and daytime sleepiness. The British Journal of Clinical Pharmacology findings may have important clinical implications because sleep problems affect an estimated 70 to 90 percent of patients with depression. Vortioxetine differs from selective serotonin reuptake inhibitors that are prescribed to treat depression because it has a multimodal effect on serotonin transport and reuptake.

2019 Caring for Cullman Concert could be a record breaker

craig@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Good Samaritan Health Clinic (GSHC) on Tuesday evening held its annual Caring for Cullman Concert in a new venue at Northbrook Baptist Church, featuring repeat headliner Triumphant Quartet and Christian comedian Mickey Bell. The turnout may have set a record.

GSHC Executive Director Jolanda Hutson told The Tribune, "We couldn't be more excited about this evening's event! If advanced ticket sales are any indication, this is definitely going to be our best event to date.

"We're grateful for all of our sponsors, for everyone who helped promote the event, and we're grateful for Cullman Savings Bank to be our platinum sponsor for the second year, and thankful for Northbrook Baptist Church for allowing us to have our event in this beautiful facility.

"We really appreciate all of the community's support, because that's why we're able to have a successful event, and all of the proceeds going to help provide medical care to the people right here in our community that do not have health insurance and would, therefore, not be able to access healthcare services."

Cullman Savings Bank President John Riley talked about his organization's participation in the concert, "I got involved with the Good Samaritan clinic probably about 10 years ago, with their board, got to see from the inside the good work that they did. And when I rolled off the board, the Cullman Savings Bank Foundation kind of kicked in for funding and helped them along the way. Every year we like to sponsor them in one of their events; this is a big one for them."

He continued, "I think the board of directors and the employees, the officers, we look at our marketing in a different way. We think making the community a stronger community is the way we do our marketing, so this is part of our marketing. The Good Samaritan Health Clinic, it's a vital part of our community to help people who don't have health insurance, and we see it as our responsibility to step in there where we can. The community's been good to us, so we try to give back in that way. It's good for everybody."

W.C. MANN/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

Triumphant Quartet brought its usual mix of entertainment and inspiration to the Caring for Cullman Concert Tuesday evening.

The entertainers, in their own words

David Sutton, Triumphant Quartet's high, clear-as-a-bell tenor, said, "You know what? We've been coming and doing this benefit concert for several years now; I can't remember exactly how many years straight. Any time there's a call such as this, naturally we are honored to be a part of it. This being Eric (Bennett)'s hometown makes it even, I think, that much more special to us, because he is a member of our group, of course.

"Any time we can go back to one of the guys' hometowns and be a part of an event like this, it's always a special time. We're just thankful that they continue to bring Triumphant in every year to be a part of this really good cause."

Bell, who was last year's master of ceremonies, approached GSHC himself with an offer to return.

He told The Tribune, "Last year, Jolanda asked me to come to emcee the event, and after I did my research on the Good Samaritan Health Clinic and what they were doing here in Cullman, I made it a point to tell her that I wanted to be a part of it next year, as well.

"I don't do any benefits, I don't do a lot of fundraisers, but this is one that I will be sure that I do, because I believe in what they're doing.

"I believe that, at a time that we are in our country and nation, I think this is something that everybody needs to look at. And I just appreciate what they do here in Cullman."

Hanceville Nursing & Rehab Center receives Commitment to Quality Award

ORLANDO, Fla. – In front of a crowd of more than 2,000 people from across the country this month, eight Alabama nursing homes received awards for achievement in health care quality.

Four nursing homes received the American Health Care Association's (AHCA) Silver – Achievement in Quality Award, and four nursing homes received the AHCA's Bronze – Commitment to Quality Award. The awards are part of the AHCA's National Quality Award Program.

Alabama's Silver – Achievement in Quality Award recipients are: Bill Nichols State Veterans Home, Alexander City; Capitol Hill Healthcare & Rehab First, Montgomery; Mobile Nursing & Rehab Center, Mobile; and Westside Terrace & Rehab First, Dothan.

Alabama's Bronze – Commitment to Quality Award recipients are: Cypress Cove Care & Rehab, Muscle Shoals; Hanceville Nursing & Rehab Center, Hanceville; Hillview Terrace Rehab Select, Montgomery; and Regency Retirement Village, Huntsville.

"We are very pleased, and it makes us concentrate on quality and trying to do excellence in all things," Hanceville Nursing & Rehab Center Administrator Donna Guthrie said in a statement to The Tribune.

"It's up to us if we want to apply for the award. There are standards you have to meet. You have to look at your processes and make sure the processes work.

"It considers your vendors and your relationships with them and how you work with them.

"We are dependent on doctors, pharmacists, medical supplies, food and it just goes through all areas of what you do."

The awards were presented during the AHCA's 70th Annual Convention and Exposition in Orlando, Florida.

With the 2019 winners, 79 Alabama nursing homes that have earned the Bronze award, and 13 nursing homes have earned the Silver award.

About the Bronze – Commitment to Quality Award

To earn the Bronze award, skilled nursing care centers develop an organizational profile with fundamental performance elements such as vision and mission statements and an assessment of customers' expectations. Bronze applicants must also demonstrate their ability to implement a performance improvement system. Trained examiners review each Bronze application to determine if the center has met the demands of the criteria.

As recipients of the Bronze – Commitment to Quality Award, the centers may now move forward in developing approaches and achieving performance levels that meet the criteria required for the Silver – Achievement in Quality Award.

About the Silver – Achievement in Quality Award

To earn the Silver – Achievement in Quality Award, nursing homes must demonstrate systematic advancements in quality, plans for continual improvement and sustainable organizational goals.

The centers may now move forward in developing approaches and achieving performance levels that meet the criteria required for the Gold – Excellence in Quality Award, which requires them to address the Baldrige Health Care Criteria for Performance Excellence in its entirety.

About the AHCA National Quality Awards

Implemented by the American Health Care Association in 1996, the National Quality Award Program is centered on the core values and criteria of the Baldrige Performance Excellence Program.

The program assists providers of long-term and post-acute care services in achieving their performance excellence goals. The program has three levels: Bronze, Silver and Gold.

CULLMAN, Ala. – Employees of Cullman Florist visited Rumors Deli and several other area businesses Wednesday, handing out colorful bouquets of flowers two at a time- one for the recipient and one for the recipient to give to someone else. Wednesday was Petal It Forward day.

According to the Society of American Florists: "This marks the fifth year SAF has coordinated Petal It Forward. During this random acts of kindness effort, consumers receive two bouquets — one to keep and one to share — to demonstrate the Rutgers University research that shows flowers make people happy, as well as new research from the University of North Florida demonstrating that flowers also relieve stress."

Cullman Florist Co-Manager Stephanie Cook shared, "Today is national Petal It Forward day; it's a nationwide event.

"There's florists in every state participating and basically what we do is go out and we hand out two bouquets, one is for person to keep, the other to give it away, so we go out and we get to hear all kinds of cool stories!"

Cook shared some of what her team heard Wednesday.

"Someone earlier today, their birthday was today, so you know they were very excited to get one and then they get to give the other bouquet away to anyone," she said.

"They (other Cullman Florist employees) met someone this morning, her husband had passed away a couple years ago, but today was their anniversary, so it turned out really neat that she got flowers.

"It's just a cool way to show appreciation to people and then that gives them a way to, if there's someone that's helped them recently, a lot of times people will know someone that's sick or something, they can give it to anyone they want to.

"There was a guy we met at Rumors, he went, 'No, I don't want it,' and we went, 'It's free!' and he said, 'Well, I'm on a work trip,' and we're like, 'Just give it to the gas station attendant, whoever,' you know.

"With people, it really makes them happy just to get flowers!"

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Cullman Festhalle was bustling with activity as the City of Cullman held its annual Citywide Employee Safety Meeting Wednesday morning.

Assistant to Cullman Mayor Woody Jacobs, Leanne West, shared what the event was all about.

"What we do is we have a big safety meeting, of course with all the departments, and we have food and door prizes," said an enthusiastic West.

"The door prizes are purchased by donations from our sponsors; we had 29 sponsors this year. The main point of this is the safety meeting for all the employees. It's just a great event that the employees look forward to."

Jacobs echoed West, saying, "This is kind of a reward for our employees for participating in our health fair and it also earns us a discount on our insurance, which we're quite happy to do.

"We thank all the people, our sponsors, and we gave away a lot of door prizes today, so it looks like we got a lot of happy employees!"

About serving lunch to his employees (helped by the council members), Jacobs said, "It's kind of a tradition for the council and everybody to serve them every year, you know kind of swap roles with them! It's a lot of fun!"

Kitchens (from Front)

christy@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – Former Cullman County Commission Chairman, Republican Wiley Kitchens, has officially announced his plans to run for the position again in 2020. Kitchen served on the Cullman County Commission from 2002-2008. From 2004-2008, he was commission chairman.

Kitchens said in a statement Tuesday:

Upon leaving the office of the Cullman County Commission our county was blessed having all bills paid and a surplus of over $11.5 million. The County Commissioners' responsibility is "to collect and distribute" tax revenues to all county departments according to their needs.

Besides roads and bridges, another very serious problem is alcohol and drug abuse. To families who are dealing with this problem, it is a very serious and devastating issue. Working on a rehab program for over 17 years, I am very much aware of this problem.

My pledge to you:

1. Sit down with law enforcement, sheriff-judges-mayors and even local ministers, all with an input as to how we can deal with this problem. Regular meetings trying to help resolve this problem.

2. I will work with all departments the commission funds to make sure greatly needed funds are given as much as possible to do the job and challenges we all as citizens of Cullman County have.

3. Only as we unite together will we be able to accomplish this challenge.

4. My goal will be to work in a united way with our commissioners to achieve our mission. We all are elected by you, the public, and all should be held accountable to you for how our tax dollars are spent. My door will always be open to you, your phone call will be answered very courteously. Your presence will always be respected in my office.

Thank you for your vote and support.

Kitchens lives in Vinemont with his wife Irene. He has lived in Cullman County since 1972. He served in the Air Force for almost four years and is proud of his military service. He enjoys hunting and fishing but admits that hunting is difficult due to an injury he received while in the Air Force.

Kitchens laughed, "Somebody asked me, 'What are you doing running at your age?' I said, 'Well, at what age do you quit caring about what's going on?'"

Kitchens is the first to announce his candidacy for the commission chairman position currently held by Republican Kenneth Walker. The primary election will be held March 3, 2020.

MIDDLE SCHOOL FOOTBALL

Fairview outpaces West Point in 41-32 shootout to win Cullman County Championship

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

FAIRVIEW, Ala. – It was a near-perfect night for football at Dafford Smith Stadium in Fairview Tuesday night and fans were treated to a high-scoring, competitive showdown between the Aggies and the West Point Warriors for this year's Cullman County Middle School Football Championship. After trading scores for four quarters, Fairview finished the game on top 41-32 and got its hands on the championship hardware.

The Warriors received the opening kickoff but on the first play from scrimmage, a pass was intercepted by Fairview's Kobe Payne and set the Aggies up with great field position right out of the gate. However, Fairview was forced to punt on the ensuing possession, West Point pounded the ball on the ground and capped off a long scoring drive with a 2-yard touchdown run from Noah Laney and the Warriors took an 8-0 lead late in the opening quarter.

The Aggies responded with a scoring drive of their own and cut the lead to 8-7 when Jameson Goble found the end zone from 12 yards out with just a few seconds remaining in the first quarter.

West Point was ready to answer and used another time-consuming drive to get deep into Fairview territory and take a 14-7 lead when Garit Roberson scored from 5 yards out with four minutes to play in the half. Just a few snaps later, the Aggies tied the game at 14 when Goble took his next handoff 65 yards to the house with 1:45 to play in the second quarter.

However, the Warriors weren't quite done in the first half and tacked on six more points when quarterback Parker Marks hit Eli Sims for 60 yards and a touchdown that made it a 20-14 game at the break.

The Aggies received the opening kickoff of the third quarter, but West Point was able to regain possession deep in Fairview territory when Patrick Adcock stripped the ball from an Aggies runner and returned it all the way down to the 14-yard line.

Just a few plays later, Dawson Smith punched one in from 3 yards out to give the Warriors a 26-14 advantage with under three minutes to play in the third. Fairview's next offensive play cut into the West Point lead when Eli Frost took one 60 yards for a score and made it a 26-21 game.

The Warriors had yet another answer as Marks took the ensuing kickoff 60 yards for another West Point touchdown and stretched the lead to 32-21 with just under two minutes to play in the third. The Aggies mustered a response and capped off another scoring drive with a 5-yard Goble touchdown run to make it 32-27 and got a shot at even more momentum when they recovered a fumble on the Warriors' ensuing kickoff return.

A scary moment delayed the game for a little over half an hour when a West Point player went down with an apparent neck injury but was safely moved into an ambulance and received an ovation from both crowds on his way out of the stadium.

When play resumed, Fairview took over at midfield after recovering the fumble and took its first lead of the game when Frost scored from 14 yards out and put the Aggies on top 34-32 with just under six minutes to play. West Point began driving after that, needing a field goal of better to take the lead but another fumble gave Fairview the ball back on its own 26-yard line with less than two minutes remaining on the clock. While attempting to move the chains and run out the clock, Goble broke free for his fourth touchdown of the night, this time from 43 yards out, and put the Aggies up 41-32 with less than a minute to play and putting the game out of reach for the Warriors.

NICK GRIFFIN/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

Cullman County Schools Superintendent Dr. Shane Barnette presents this year's Cullman County Middle School Football Championship Trophy to the Fairview Aggies after Tuesday night's game against West Point.

After the game, Fairview Head Coach David Martin talked about his two standouts during the game, Goble and Frost, after a pair of phenomenal performances. Frost racked up 196 yards and two touchdowns on 12 carries while Goble collected 187 yards and four touchdowns on 14 carries. Frost also caught two passes for nine yards. The pair accounted for 392 of Fairview's 393 total yards of offense and all six scores. Fairview's Jesus Avalos Hernandez was also a perfect 5-for-5 kicking extra points for the Aggies, including the kick that made it a 9-point game with less than a minute to play.

"We've leaned on them all year. They've carried the load for us all year and that's what we expected tonight," Martin said. "West Point did a good job of slowing us down in the first half and we just kept giving it to them because that's who we depend on. That's us so we just wanted to stick with what we do and hope that it worked out."

This was a game full of momentum swings and Martin is proud of his team for the way they fought through all the punches West Point could throw and held on to win this year's county title.

"They've fought hard all year and they never quit and that was kind of a gut check for us, it really was," Martin said. "I was proud of the way they responded and they could've tanked it and gave up but that's not the way they are so I'm really proud of them."

Offensively, the Warriors were led by Laney, who ran for 75 yards and a touchdown on 12 carries, and Roberson who finished with 46 yards and a touchdown on 10 carries. Marks completed three of his 10 passes for 89 yards, a touchdown and an interception and Sims caught all three of them for 89 yards and a score. Marks also rushed for 93 yards on just six carries and returned a kick for a touchdown as well.

White House (from Front)

Christy Perry

ARAB, Ala. – Randy Harwood has always loved Christmas, and decorating for Christmas has always been one of his passions. This November, he will get to check one big item off his bucket list when he travels to Washington D.C. to help decorate the White House for the holidays.

Harwood was active duty in the Alabama Army National Guard for 23 years before retiring four years ago. He said his love for Christmas decorating started long before that.

"When I was 18 years old, I went to a Christmas play at the church," he said.

"After the play, they had an alter call, and I got saved after the Christmas play. Christmas has just always been my favorite holiday and time of year."

As for his dream of decorating at the White House, he said, "Being in the military for so long, whoever was the president was my Commander in Chief, that's how I have always looked at it.

"Last year, I found out they were taking applications for volunteers and I missed the deadline, so I didn't even get to apply."

He was disappointed but knew he had to apply for this year, and he did. He filled out the application on the White House's website and the site said selections would be made by Sept. 25, 2019.

The 25th came and went, so Harwood was a bit disappointed but then had a glimmer of hope.

He said, "After the 25th, I got this email saying that they had so many applications they just weren't able to meet that deadline and would be sending out notifications shortly."

A few days later, Harwood checked his email... Out of 8,000 applicants, he was one of 125 selected.

"Chill bumps!" he exclaimed, "This is pretty exciting. How do you get this in your mind that you are actually going to the White House and helping them decorate for Christmas?

"I've always watched the show on HGTV where they show the decorations and they do the little tour of the White House after it's decorated. I've always thought, 'OH MY GOSH!! If I could just see that in person it would be like amazing! Now I'm going to get to see it AND help!'"

Harwood said he has admired the decorations going back to the Jimmy Carter administration.

He added, "It's kind of an obsession and it (doesn't) matter to me who's in the White House. The amount of work and the amount of detail they put into them... amazing."

Harwood's own home will see Christmas trees and decorations a little early this year because during the time he would normally dedicate to his own decorations, he will be in D.C.

He will leave the Sunday before Thanksgiving and fly back on Thanksgiving Day.

"We have to go back on the 2nd, which is the Monday after Thanksgiving. The First Lady is having a reception for everybody that helped. I'm not going to miss that for anything!"

Harwood said he has no details about this year's theme and is excited to find out.

"I can't believe I actually got selected," he smiled. "This is a once in a lifetime for me!"
