BERLIN, Ala. – The Berlin Town Council at its regular monthly meeting Monday evening officially adopted a policy it has held in practice since it first convened: the body passed an ordinance declaring that the mayor and council members will work for no salary. No member has ever accepted any pay.

Bates explained that the State requires that new municipalities have an ordinance establishing salary rates at least six months before their next election.

The council is also seeking applicants for the position of town clerk. Those interested make contact through the town's Facebook page. As of Monday's meeting, no applications had been received.

The Berlin Town Council will hold a special called meeting next Monday evening, Nov. 25, at 7 p.m. in the Berlin Community Center to consider options for town clerk. The public is invited to attend.

Cullman County cleans up at annual PALS Governor's Awards

CULLMAN, Ala. – Cullman County was well represented in Montgomery last Wednesday at the Alabama People Against a Littered State (PALS) Governor's Awards Program luncheon. Alabama PALS hosts the annual luncheon to "recognize groups and individuals who demonstrate outstanding commitment in the areas of litter control, recycling, local cleanup efforts, environmental education and volunteerism."

Local schools were among the winners as Hanceville Elementary School took home second place in the Clean Campus Awards.

The school received a plaque and a check for $750. Parkside Elementary and Cullman City Primary School tied for third place and each received a plaque and $250.

Cullman County PALS Chairperson Cherrie Haney said, "In all my years going to these awards, I have never seen a tie. That's great!"

Governor's Awards winners included the City of Cullman Sanitation Department, which won the Outstanding City Award.

The Governor's Award for Law Enforcement went to Sheriff Matt Gentry and the Cullman County Sheriff's Office for its dedication to picking up litter on Cullman County roads.

The Cullman County PALS Committee won the Governor's Outstanding County Award for overall excellence.

Haney said of the honor, "As you can see with the other winners, we have a great team in Cullman County with everyone working together.

"We all want Cullman to shine."

‘Today, we are celebrating life’

Sammy Confer
sammy@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – The weather was cold and windy but the participants were fired up for this year’s Cullman Heart Walk Saturday at Depot Park. The annual walk is a major fundraiser or the American Heart Association (AHA) and is organized each year by Cullman Regional. It brings awareness to heart disease and stroke.

According to the AHA, “Heart disease is the no. 1 killer worldwide and stroke ranks second globally.”

The AHA has “invested $4.1 billion in research, more than any U.S. nonprofit organization.”

Each year Heart Walks take place across the country as teams can raise money, honor the memory of those lost to heart disease and stroke while also celebrating the survivors.

AHA Executive Director for the Birmingham market, Lizzie Wilkerson, welcomed everyone to Saturday’s walk in Cullman, saying, “Today, we are celebrating life, and life is why the American Heart Association exists. Our mission is to be a relentless force for a world of longer, healthier lives and you are here doing just that.

“By being here you are taking a stand against the number one and four killers in our community, heart disease and stroke. While heart disease continues to be the greatest health threat for Alabamians, we know that 80% of cardiovascular disease is preventable through diet and exercise.”

Prior to the start of the walk, heart disease and stroke survivors were recognized by the energized crowd. Heart disease survivors wore red caps while stroke survivors wore white ones.

Participants take part in this year’s Heart Walk Saturday in Cullman.

Teams raised money for Saturday’s event. The top team this year was God’s Miracles, with the Cullman Electric Cooperative coming in second.

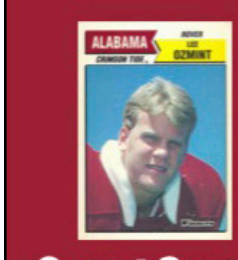

This year’s Heart Walk offered much more than just a 5K and 1-mile walk. Cullman Regional was onsite offering free health screenings at the park as well as several inflatables, games and a photo booth.

Hanceville's Pickett signs with Shorter

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – A crowd of students, teammates, coaches and family gathered in Lane Horton Gymnasium at Hanceville High School Friday to see one of the school's standout athletes sign to continue her playing days in college. Lady Bulldogs point guard Kelly Pickett signed her national letter of intent to play at Shorter University next season, adding another highlight to a stellar high school career.

Pickett eclipsed the 1,000 career points mark in her junior season, earned All-County honors and landed a spot on the Class 3A All-State third team. Pickett was also invited to the AHSAA's inaugural Elite 100 Showcase in Hoover during the summer.

Pickett admits that she will miss her time at Hanceville and all of the relationships she made here but is already excited about the new obstacles and opportunities that will await here in college.

"I'm definitely going to miss my teammates and the home crowd and my coach here is literally the best, but in college I just can't wait to be challenged," Pickett said.

"It's a new chapter in life, you get to meet new people, face different things and I just can't wait to take that next step."

When asked how her time in high school has helped prepare her to play at the next level, Kelly credited her coaches for pushing her to improve and change her perspective on the game.

"It was really the coaches here at Hanceville. We have the best coaching staff ever," Pickett smiled. "They challenged me to look at the game in a different way than I ever thought I would."

Lady Bulldogs head coach Christian Watson shared a few words about Pickett for the home crowd and not only praised her star point guard for her work ethic and accomplishments, but challenged the students and athletes attending the ceremony to learn from her example.

"Kelly I am super proud of you and I hope that all of your classmates have seen how hard you've worked over the years and how deserving of this scholarship you are.

"To all of you aspiring athletes, I hope you learn from Kelly," Watson said.

"It takes work and it takes dedication. She's in here before practice, after practice day in, day out and she also gets it done in the classroom. If you need a role model, you definitely need to look at Kelly."

Kelly then took a few moments to read a statement of her own, thanking her coaches, family, friends and teammates for helping her achieve her goals of playing college basketball.

To cap off Friday's ceremony, Pickett sent the crowd off by thanking Hanceville High School and declaring, "I will always be a Bulldog.".

Alabama Football's Jeudy, Smith named semifinalists for Biletnikoff Award

UA Athletics
Contributor

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. – Alabama wide receivers Jerry Jeudy and DeVonta Smith were selected as semifinalists for the Biletnikoff Award, the Tallahassee Quarterback Club Foundation announced on Monday morning.

Alabama has had two winners in program history, including Jeudy, who is the reigning Biletnikoff Award winner from a season ago. Also taking home the hardware was Amari Cooper in 2014.

Jeudy, leads all Tide receivers with 64 catches totaling 867 yards and nine touchdowns.

The junior wideout leads UA with 44 catches that have gone for a first down or touchdown this season while he is tied for the team lead in explosive plays of 16-plus yards with 23 in 10 games.

The Deerfield Beach, Fla., native ranks fifth on the Alabama career receiving yards list with 2,446 and has totaled nine games of 100-plus yards receiving, including four of 10 matchups in 2019.

A big play threat every time he touches the ball, Smith has totaled a career-high 56 catches for a 1,026 yards, a number that is second in the SEC and sixth nationally.

He has added 11 touchdown receptions to lead all Alabama pass-catchers and ranks second in the league while tying for sixth nationally in that category. In 2019 alone, Smith has recorded two 200-plus yard receiving games, making him the first Crimson Tide wideout to achieve that feat since Cooper in 2014.

The duo is part of a group of 12 pass-catchers selected as semifinalists for the Biletnikoff. The Biletnikoff Award is presented annually to the season's outstanding college receiver at any position that may receive a legal forward pass.

The 2019 winner will be announced live on Dec. 12 at The Home Depot College Football Awards at the College Football Hall of Fame in Atlanta, Ga.

Alabama coaching staff selects seven players of the week

UA Athletics
Contributor

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. – The Alabama coaching staff selected seven players of the week following the Crimson Tide's 38-7 win over Mississippi State on Saturday at Davis Wade Stadium. Tua Tagovailoa and Jedrick Wills Jr. on offense; Shyheim Carter, Trevon Diggs and Anfernee Jennings on defense; and Jordan Battle and Joseph Bulovas all earned the recognition for their efforts in Starkville.

OFFENSE
Tua Tagovailoa
- Finished 14-of-18 for 256 yards and two touchdowns in the first half before the junior exited with an injury
- Hit on touchdowns from 19 and 35 yards out to help the Crimson Tide build an early lead
- Averaged 18.3 yards per completion and 14.2 yards per pass attempt against the Bulldogs

Jedrick Wills Jr.
- The junior turned in a dominant performance from his right tackle spot
- Played 53 snaps while not allowing a sack, hurry or quarterback pressure
- Did not miss an assignment as the Alabama quarterbacks combined for a 196.55 passer rating

DEFENSE
Shyheim Carter
- Totaled seven tackles on the day, including one tackle for loss (-1 yard) from the senior
- Helped direct an Alabama secondary that held State to only 82 yards passing on the day

Trevon Diggs
- Contributed four tackles, including half a stop for loss (-1 yard)
- The senior also broke up one pass, just missing a one-handed interception as the ground broke the ball loose

Anfernee Jennings
- Ranked second on the Tide defense with eight tackles, including one tackle for loss (-3 yards)
- Played a key role on an Alabama defense that limited MSU to only 270 total yards of offense

SPECIAL TEAMS
Jordan Battle
- Made a heads-up play, fair catching the opening kickoff to give the Tide good field position to begin the game
- Added one tackle on punt coverage, part of the freshman's two stops on the day

Joseph Bulovas
- Contributed eight points on the day with the redshirt sophomore going 5-for-5 on PATs and adding one field goal from 22 yards out
- Also kicked off seven times for a total of 290 yards

Rodeo (from Front)

W.C. Mann
Craig@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – Cullman County Sheriff Matt Gentry has announced the 21st annual Cullman County Sheriff's Office (CCSO) Jimmy Arrington Memorial Rodeo, coming Dec. 13-14, 2019 to the Cullman Agricultural Trade Center, 17645 U.S. Hwy. 31 N, Cullman. The event will open at 7:30 each evening.

It's a popular local draw; last year's rodeo drew close to 4,000 in attendance over the two nights. The rodeo is the primary fundraising event for the CCSO, with the money used to purchase equipment for patrol deputies and computers for the office. Additionally, it supports community events like the Citizens' Academy and firearm training and allows the office to donate more than $15,000 per year to local schools with special needs educational programs.

While it is a fundraiser, it is also a serious event on the rodeo circuit. Hosted by 4L & Diamond S Rodeo and sanctioned by both the International Professional Rodeo Association and Professional Cowboy Association, it will feature bareback bronc riding, bull riding, calf roping, cowgirls' barrel racing, saddle bronc riding, steer wrestling and team roping.

As always, the event will be preceded by the CCSO Special Needs Mini Rodeo, this year on Thursday, Dec. 12. The preview event features exhibitions of events like calf roping for men, break-away roping for ladies, team roping, bull riding, and ladies' and juniors' barrel racing.

After the regular rodeo events conclude, the arena floor will open to students, assisted by volunteers and rodeo staff, so they can try their hands at barrel racing on stick horses, roping dummy calves and taking hayrides in wagons pulled by deputy-driven tractors. At every step, deputies and volunteers will be on hand to make sure that students' limitations will not limit their fun.

With special needs students coming from every public school in the county, and some even expected to make the trip from other counties, the event is expected to see 1,400 guests.

Gentry told The Tribune, "We're on track for it to be as big as it was last year, or bigger. Our sponsors have come out in droves, and they're looking forward to being with the kids in the Special Needs Rodeo. That's one of the highlights that we've had, is that our sponsors have been engrossed with us, with those kids that day.

"And 4L and Diamond S, they're getting ready for the rodeo this year, to kick off their new 2020 season. I just can't thank everybody for all their hard work: from the sponsors to the deputies that are participating in the rodeo event."

LOCAL GOVERNMENT

Garden City approves one-time bonus, meets township deputy

Maggie Darnell
maggie@cullmantribune.com

GARDEN CITY, Ala. – The Garden City Town Council at its meeting Monday night approved a one-time $150 bonus for Town employees. It was also visited by Philip Widner, candidate for Cullman County Commission chairman, and new township deputy, Sgt. Jeff Rainwater.

Councilman Scott Arnold urged Widner to come back if elected, saying, "We only see the commission when it's election time. Once folks get elected, they forget about us."

Mayor Tim Eskew introduced Rainwater. The council thanked Rainwater for the service he's provided so far.

The council also discussed the Alabama Retired State Employees' Association (ARSEA) wanting to convert local government Tier II employees to Tier I employees, but tabled the discussion in order for Town Clerk Shannon James to receive more information from ARSEA.

The council also tabled a discussion on a plan Garden City Volunteer Fire Department Chief James Johnson brought forward, a new Alabama League of Municipalities endorsed program, the Alabama First Responders Benefits Program.

The program was created for counties and cities within the state of Alabama. It is insurance that covers cancers based on legislation, including bladder, blood, brain, breast, cervical, esophageal, intestinal, kidney, lymphatic, lung, prostate, rectum, respiratory tract, skin, testicular and thyroid cancer.

It will also cover leukemia, multiple myeloma, Hodgkin's lymphoma and non-Hodgkin's lymphoma. There are two plans: the Basic Plan, which covers Long Term Disability (LTD) and the 21 cancers required by law, or the Enhanced Plan, which covers LTD and all known cancers.

If the Town chooses option one, it would cost $1,155.84; option two would cost $1,249.92.

Eskew said of the program, "I feel like it's something we need to do."

MAGGIE DARNELL/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

The Garden City Town Council met for its November meeting Monday evening.

Johnson noted that the Cullman County Association of Volunteer Fire Departments will discuss the program its next meeting. The council expressed interest in the plan, but no action was taken.

The Garden City Town Council meets the third Monday of each month. The next meeting will be Dec. 16 at 6 p.m. at Garden City Town Hall.

Join the next Master Gardener class

Tony A. Glover
Cullman County Extension coordinator

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Master Gardener program has been successful all across America and even in Canada. The first program was in King County Washington in 1973 and the first program in Alabama was in 1981 in Madison County. I started working with the program in Jefferson County in 1984 and have worked with the program ever since. Cullman has an active group of trained Master Gardeners who make a huge impact in our community as they volunteer their time and use their expertise.

Participants of the program need not have any particular gardening skills. The Alabama Cooperative Extension System provides the experts who train Master Gardener interns over a three-month period. We start the class the last Wednesday in January and meet from 9 a.m.-2:30 p.m. each Wednesday covering different topics each week.

In addition to the training classes, each participant agrees to provide 50 hours of horticulture-related volunteer service to the community. We will help you plug in to ongoing projects or find new projects of your own.

Some projects our Master Gardeners are currently involved range from community gardens, display and demonstration gardens, school gardens, fair activities and assisting the North Alabama Agriplex with programs it offers all across the area. Recently our Master Gardeners re-landscaped the Richter Chapel grounds. We even have volunteers who help at the Birmingham and Huntsville Botanical Gardens.

Master Gardeners also meet monthly for continuing education, project planning and fellowship. These meetings, which occur the fourth Thursday of the month from 10 a.m.-noon, are open to the public.

If you are just curious, drop by and see what it's all about. They meet at the County Extension office at 402 Arnold St. NW across from the Folsom Center in the Cullman Office Building.

If you are interested in signing up for the next program to begin Jan. 29, 2020 contact me or Beth Glasscock at the Extension Office. We can provide you program cost details and an application to complete. Our email is cullmancounty@auburn.edu or you may call us at 256-737-9386.

OPINION

Healthy Church, no. 8

Tom Fillinger
Tribune Columnist

Today we continue in our series – The Characteristics of a Healthy Church. Is the church you attend healthy? Listen up and be brutally honest in answering this question.

The NT model for the presence and ministry of qualified leaders in a local church is the training and equipping of men within each local assembly. It is extremely rare for this to be found in most evangelical churches today. There are some models that claim to produce leaders, but, when the NT qualification for leadership is applied, they fall far short.

Who are these people that serve in the role of elder/pastor?

From 1 Timothy 3 and Titus 1, we see that these were men in the congregation. We see this by the masculine terms used.

He must be husband of but one wife and a man (emphasis mine) whose children believe (Titus 1:6). These men must have impeccable character; their homes must to be in order; they must not be given to wine or arguing and fighting.

The primary skill set they must have is teaching (1 Tim 3:3). Therefore, they must know the Word of God in order to teach the church and also refute false doctrine.

"He must hold firmly to the trustworthy message as it has been taught, so that he can encourage others by sound doctrine and refute those who oppose it" (Titus 1:9).

These men are called to care for the congregation, which includes all the roles of a shepherd. They should feed the congregation by faithful exposition of the Word. They must give the members of the church guidance.

They must at times correct or discipline the church. They must also protect the church from all the works of the devil.

It is a very comprehensive and difficult position. What also stands out in the text is that they are shepherds of God's flock (v. 2). It is not the pastor's church or the pastor's congregation. It is the Lord's, but God has made these men to be under-shepherds over God's flock. Christ is the Chief Shepherd. This again says that these men must be abiding in God's presence, knowing his Word, so they can best direct the flock according to God's will.

Peter next gives us vices or bad tendencies that are common in the leadership of our churches, as well as virtues that should be encouraged in elders. Because godly elders are to be examples to the flock, these are also challenges for each member of the church to take to heart.

Credible leadership is not a matter of the number of earned degrees a man has. It is not a matter of the marketplace position he may have (Lawyer, Bank President, etc.). The qualification for leadership is godliness expressed with consistent faithfulness. This reality is often ignored.

The evidence of this paucity of leadership development is verified by examining the funding plan for leadership development. Often the funds allocated for this are $1,000 a year or less. That is simply not adequate. Your church?

THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE • ALABAMA'S OLDEST CONTINUOUSLY PUBLISHED WEEKLY NEWSPAPER

"THE 67-COUNTY, ALABAMA GARDEN PARTY"

CLEBURNE COUNTY

Ben Johnson South
Tribune Correspondent

ANNOUNCEMENT: CLEBURNE COUNTY SELECTED "THE MOST ROMANTIC PLACE IN ALABAMA"

Before making this selection and after visiting all 67 counties in the state, I returned to Cleburne County yesterday to make sure this is "ALABAMA'S MOST ROMANTIC DESTINATION." It is, indeed. The hills were alive with "The Sound of Music" and scrapbook-filling, heart-soaring, super-mega-panoramic vistas from the state's highest point, Mt. Cheaha. Romantic love here is high as a mountain and deep as a valley. We saw rows and rows of grapevines at the vineyards; walked the charming, Hallmark movie-ready streets of Heflin and had a delightful meal surrounded by happy couples of all ages at Flora's Table.

Cleburne County would be a good place for a "Farmer Wants a Bride" festival or an ongoing series in a magazine or The Cleburne News. If you can't find romance in this part of Alabama or renew the one you have, you might check your pulse.

There was an American reality television show a few years ago called "Farmer Wants a Bride." It was based on the same-name British telly concept. The idea was a bachelor farmer chooses a potential romantic partner from a bouquet of 10 single, city ladies. The American series only ran for eight episodes and I'm guessing a reason for the limited success was that it was filmed in not-very-romantic Missouri. Even the way the state names are pronounced tells you Missour-EEE, which sounds like someone saw a rat, is less romantic than Alabam-AHHH.

So, let's revive the "Farmer Wants a Bride" show in Cleburne County, Alabam-AHHH. And, it could be modernized to let a lady farmer have her pick of the litter occasionally.

Before driving back to Cleburne County this week, I chatted with Tanya Maloney, the dynamic and fun director of the area's successful economic development initiatives. When I told Tanya we were proclaiming "CLEBURNE COUNTY, ALABAMA'S MOST ROMANTIC DESTINATION," she told me of all the wedding venues. Cheaha and Cleburne County are for coupling. We also talked about the chalets in Mt. Cheaha State Park and the wineries.

It was Ms. Maloney who suggested eating at Flora's Table in downtown Heflin. Caron Duckworth, who own's Flora's Table, said she relies on produce from the Cleburne County Farmers' Market, which is in easy walking distance from the restaurant, throughout the warmer months. Flora, which means "distinctive plants from a particular region," was the name of Ms. Duckworth's beloved mom. There is a lovely framed photo of sweet Flora near the daily array of delicious pies. This pretty and laugh-filled café would be a great setting for part of the Hallmark movie that should be made in this romantic part of Alabama. Can we talk, Alabama Film Commission?

Lunch yesterday was a delish pork chop, fried cabbage, hot collards and some of the best cornbread in our "Top Cornbread State." Madeline, our delightful server, brought us more, hot-out-of-the-oven cornbread after she saw we'd plowed through the first serving. Cornbread may be even better for romance than chocolate. Next Valentine's Day, I'm giving heart-shaped, Cleburne County corn muffins from Flora's Table.

Another fun eatery in the area I'd heard about from others is Damn Yankees, but that popular spot was not open for lunch yesterday. Get this, out-of-staters who think of Alabama as sometimes too romantically attached to the past. Damn Yankees, near the interstate, has a huge menu, not everything Southern-fried, but they do that cooking technique so well, you'll want at least a dish of fried something. AND, Damn Yankees also has plugs to charge your electric vehicle while you nosh.

Romantic Cleburne County is a good place for us to write a love letter to plants that will add romance to your garden or love nest. Here is a flower cart of some of the most-loved:

• LILACS- grow better in north Alabama counties like Cleburne. Lilacs run the color gamut from magenta to white, but the most romantic are the "pale purple" which mean "first love."

• DAISIES- These happy-faced charmers grow abundantly in Cleburne County and many parts of Alabama; "She loves me. She loves me not."

• CAMELLIAS- Alabama's state flower immigrated with the "Tea Trade" and are an ideal symbol for "faithful love."

• BLUE IRIS- Symbol of faith and hope; Iris is the Greek Goddess of Love.

• RED ROSES- Roses are the most popular flower to express love and deep red roses mean "deep, long-lasting love."

• CASABLANCA LILIES- These huge, white, swooningly fragrant trumpets symbolize "intense love and desire;" think of the cottage filled with these in the romantic novel, "The Great Gatsby."

Now that you've added some floral romance to your home and garden there are many other romantic things to enjoy in Cleburne County: Walk hand-in-hand on the Pinhoti Trail Spur, stomp muscadine grapes together at The Fruithurst Winery, purchase a pottery vase for your romantic flowers at the Cleburne County Pottery Show at the Mountain Center, see the beautiful watershed at Cahulga Creek Park, learn to say "I love you" in the native Creek language, take a bubble bath at the mountain lodge at Mt. Cheaha State Park, get the deli at WM Grocery to fill your picnic hamper, dance to LIVE music at a mountain festival, write a love song or a love as you inspired on one of the many overlooks on the Cheaha Scenic Drive, listen to the bird's mating calls on the Ladiga Trail, play Twister in a cabin you rented in the mountains, have a romantic "haycation" at Bennett Family Farm, paddle a canoe-for-two on the Loyd Owens Canoe Trail, go "glamping" at a campground, get a local realtor to show you a dream retreat in the mountains of your own, have your engagement photographs made at Instagram-worthy spots throughout the county, dance on the deck of outside Cheaha State Park restaurant where you've just enjoyed a candlelight dinner, get a slice of cheesecake and two forks at Flora's Table, count the stars together so close to the heavens you don't need a telescope, say your vows at possibly the prettiest courthouse in Alabama, mail a valentine from "THE MOST ROMANTIC PLACE IN ALABAMA," and, "rewild" your passion with the wildflowers and wildlife of Cleburne County as inspiration.

The Alabama honeysuckle border was inspired by an 18th century, Southern applique quilt.

Here are other pleasurable and positive, PLANTS + PEOPLE places to help you plan your trip to romantic, Cleburne County:

• CLEBURNE COUNTY FARMERS' MARKET- Ross Street at Chamber of Commerce, Heflin, AL 36264; Tuesdays and Saturdays 8 a.m.-1 p.m., late April – mid-May

• CLEBURNE COUNTY FARMSTANDS- Charles Wright (Heflin), Lost Creek Gristmill (Ranburne), The Tasteful Garden (Heflin)

• CLEBURNE COUNTY WINERIES- are highlights on the popular, North Alabama Wine Trail (www.northalabamawinetrail.com); Fruithurst Winery Company has 15 acres of muscadine grapes they use for their wines, 27091 County Road 49, Fruithurst, AL 36262, 256-463-1003; High Country Cellars, blend and bottle their wines here and have a charming retail shop at 849 Almon Street (Highway 9), Heflin, AL 36264, 256-463-3456

Y'ALL COME to Cleburne County, "ALABAMA'S MOST ROMANTIC DESTINATION" on your 67-County, Alabama Garden Party tour! There is lots to LOVE here.

Thank you, Laurie Johnson, Alabama cook and hostess extraordinaire, for this creative and delicious menu of pairings, couplings, couplets, combinations, combos, partners, marriages, yokemates...I hope the folks in Cleburne County LOVE our salute to "ALABAMA'S MOST ROMANTIC DESTINATION" and they thank us with a couple of glasses of locally-made wine paired with cornbread from Flora's Table.

The Cullman Tribune is celebrating the Alabama Bicentennial (1819-2019) with statewide field reporting by Alabama Master Gardener/Botanical Artist Ben Johnson South. This year-long feature, "The 67-County Alabama Garden Party," will spotlight different counties each week. Each county will get its own "quilt block," along with a historical profile, and we'll share a recipe specific to the area. At the end of the year, all 67 counties will be put in a book to commemorate the Bicentennial.

Main Course – Grilled beef tenderloin Oscar

ROMANTIC DINNER WITH WINE PAIRINGS

Whether you're celebrating an anniversary, Valentine's Day or simply a romantic date night at home, nothing says romance like "special occasion" foods, each coupled with the perfect wine. With this four-course menu, keep serving sizes small, plate intimately and share the best bites and sips. Plan on leftovers and re-cork the wines to savor the next day to remember your special night.

Set the mood by arranging flowers, lighting candles and playing your favorite smooth music. Mix and match plates and napkins for an eclectic and appealing ensemble. Start with a sparkling wine toast over chilled raw (aphrodisiac) oysters with a champagne mignonette drizzle. Follow with a cool fresh Bosch pear, pecan and bleu cheese salad with a glass of crisp white pinot grigio. Accompany your main dish, hearty beef tenderloin Oscar, with a full-bodied red cabernet sauvignon or merlot. End with a decadent (but very easy/make ahead) chocolate dessert, Pots de Crème, and a glass of red zinfandel. Together, take your time to cook, delight in the ambiance and savor the paired food and wine flights. True romance on a plate and in a glass!

STARTER
Fresh raw oysters with a champagne mignonette – toasted with sparkling wine

- Champagne mignonette - Combine 2 tbsp. finely minced shallots, 3 tbsp. champagne or white wine vinegar, 1 tbsp. of freshly ground pepper, 1 tsp. minced parsley and a pinch of salt. Chill well and splash in ~ 3 tbsp. chilled champagne just before serving.
- Serve chilled oysters on their half shell, on ice with a spoon of mignonette and a glass of champagne or sparkling wine to toast the start of your romantic evening.

SALAD
Crisp pears, pecans and bleu cheese on fresh spring greens – paired with pinot grigio

- Top spring greens with fresh pear slices, toasted pecans and bleu cheese. Dress with olive oil, salt and pepper and enjoy with a crisp white wine such as pinot grigio.

MAIN COURSE
Grilled beef tenderloin Oscar – coupled with cabernet sauvignon or merlot

- Bring your tenderloins to room temperature with a brush of olive oil and a good sprinkle of salt, pepper, onion and garlic powders and herbs of your choice (on both sides).
- Preheat oven to 350F.
- Sear the tenderloins on the stove top in a hot, oven-proof grill pan with olive oil ~ 2 minutes per side. If very thick, turn on their edges and sear the sides ~1 minute.
- Place in the oven for ~ 10 minutes or to an internal temperature of 130F for medium rare. Remove to a serving platter, place a pat of butter on top and let rest.
- In the meantime, sauté 6 fresh asparagus tips in olive oil or butter, salt and pepper and warm some lump crab meat in a little butter. Lightly roast a few cherry tomatoes at 350F for about 10 minutes with olive oil, salt and pepper.
- Top the steaks, Oscar style, with crab and asparagus and serve with the roasted tomatoes. Enjoy with a full-bodied red cabernet sauvignon or merlot.

DESSERT
Chocolate Pots De Crème - paired with a ted zinfandel

- In a blender, shred 11 oz. of semisweet chocolate chips with a pinch of salt, 1/2 cup sugar and 1 tbsp. cayenne pepper (optional) until it's a crumbly mixture.
- Heat 2 cups heavy cream on stovetop until very hot, just before boiling.
- Pour the hot cream into the chocolate crumble and run the blender until smooth. (Be careful that the hot liquid doesn't blow out on you.) Blend in 2 tbsp. vanilla extract.
- Pour into ramekins and chill, at least 3 hours until set (can be made several days ahead).
- Serve with whipped cream, shaved chocolate and fresh berries coupled with a rich, sweet red zinfandel.
