February 20 1880- (an untitled poem regarding planting fruit trees)
Set your fruit trees in the Fall
That they may root by Spring
Never put it off at all
Till your crop you must begin.

If you set them in the Spring
They will not do so well
So don't neglect anything
Till all the buds have swelled.

They take root in our warm state
If planted in the Fall.
And they will grow a rapid rate
And run up very tall.
If planted after winter's gone
When sap is rising fast
When rain is gone and drought is come
They will and can not last.

Why not do such work on time
And have a 1st rate orchard.
I've resolved to plant all mine
In November or October.

But this I've said often times
I've never done it yet
My orchard is not very fine
My course I'll change you bet.

But little grapes I've set out yet
I've always been too slow.
My farmer course I much regret
All wrong, I well do know.

Cold Springs splits area, home opener with Southeastern; Monday scoring recap

Nick Griffin, Sammy Confer

BREMEN, Ala. – For the first time this season, the defending 2A state champion Cold Springs Lady Eagles were back on their home floor Monday night for a big area matchup against the Lady Mustangs of Southeastern. Cold Springs routed the Lady Mustangs by a score of 78-25 but in the boys game that followed, Southeastern bounced back to defeat the Eagles 56-41.

Cold Springs 78 – Southeastern 25 (varsity girls)

The Lady Eagles started this one about as fast they could. Thanks to quick three from Neely Ellison and a pair of steals from Shay Sellers, Cold Springs built a 6-0 lead with just 23 seconds gone in the opening quarter. The lead was up to 11-0 early in the first quarter before Southeastern could get on the board and the constant pressure from the Lady Eagles defensively helped them take a 24-7 lead going into the second quarter.

Back to back three-point baskets from Brooke Crider made it a 34-7 game early in the second and Cold Springs stretched that lead to 41-8 by the midway point of the period. The Lady Mustangs managed to get some buckets late in the second, but the Lady Eagles went into the half with a commanding, 46-18 advantage.

Cold Springs continued to build its lead in the third until a three-pointer and a running floater by Toni West on back to back possessions made it a 61-21 game late in the third quarter. The Lady Eagles carried a 41-point lead into the final frame and back to back threes from Emma Chambers and Kyla Aaron widened the gap to 71-23 with just a few minutes remaining. Cold Springs pulled away to defeat Southeastern and win its home opener 78-25.

West led the Lady Eagles with 15 points in the win followed by Ellison and Crider who each finished with 12. Elizabeth Hill added nine points for Cold Springs, Sellers posted eight, Madison Bruer scored seven and Aaron and Chambers each finished with five points.

The Lady Eagles will be back in action on Thursday when they travel to face Decatur Heritage.

Southeastern 56 – Cold Springs 41 (varsity boys)

The boys matchup was very low-scoring out of the gate. A three-pointer by Micah Calvert gave the Eagles and early 3-0 lead but the Mustangs rallied to take a 12-5 lead by the end of the first quarter. Cold Springs struggled to make inside shots in the first half and offensive rebounds were giving Southeastern a chance to add to its lead. The Mustangs pulled ahead 24-7 midway through the second quarter and took a 30-14 advantage into the halftime break.

Southeastern maintained a 37-18 lead midway through the third but the Eagles were able to end the quarter on a 5-0 scoring run and cut the lead to 37-23 going into the fourth. Another Calvert three cut the lead to 39-29 early in the fourth and Brody Peppers scored a bucket later in the period to keep it a 10-point game at 43-33. A layup by Robert Ayala made it a 48-40 game with two minutes to play but the Eagles couldn't get any closer than that and fell to the Mustangs 56-41.

Calvert led Cold Springs with 14 points in the loss, followed closely by Ayala with 13. Adam Hill and Logan Rice finished the game with six points and Peppers added two for the Eagles.

Cold Springs will be back in action Thursday when it travels to take on Holly Pond.

NICK GRIFFIN/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

Cold Springs' Toni West (4) led all scorers with 15 points in the Lady Eagles' 78-25 win over Southeastern Monday night.

Vinemont 59 - St. Bernard 47 (varsity girls)

Vinemont held a slim 12-9 lead after the opening period as Sadie Stanley scored eight of the Lady Eagles' 12 points in the quarter. The second quarter was all Vinemont as they outscored the Lady Saints 17-5 to take a 29-14 lead into the locker room. The second half was more of the same as St. Bernard couldn't dig themselves out of a double-digit hole despite their best efforts to get back in the game and Vinemont wound up taking the game 59-47 to collect its first win of the season.

Stanley led the way for Vinemont (1-3) with a game-high 27 points while St. Bernard's (1-3) Emma Tafazoli finished with 18 points and Claire Sanders added 10 points for the Lady Saints.

Vinemont 54 - St. Bernard 51 (varsity boys)

Jose Zatarain scored the first six points of the game to help St. Bernard take an early 6-1 lead, but a pair of treys by Katch Johnson gave Vinemont a 7-6 lead after first quarter. The Eagles continued that momentum going into the second period, with William Rhodes leading the way and scoring 11 second quarter points and helping Vinemont suffocate the Saints defensively, holding them to just 10 points in the period and taking a 28-16 lead into the locker room at halftime.

St. Bernard looked to get back in the contest early in the second half, but Vinemont tried its best to keep the double-digit lead. With Vinemont holding a 39-28 lead, John Christian Rose got a huge steal and a layup to make it a 39-30 game going into the final period.

The Saints started out the fourth quarter strong as a 10-2 run made it a 41-39 game. Vinemont looked to regain control of the contest, but it wasn't easy thanks to the early surge by St. Bernard. Free throws by Jordan Hall and Collin Teichmiller made it a 52-48 contest, but a deep three by Rose cut the lead to 52-51. Colby Miller was fouled by Rose with 2.7 seconds remaining and Miller drilled both shots from the line to make it 54-51. A last-second heave by Rose went over the backboard and the Eagles hung on to win the game, 54-51.

Johnson finished with 18 points for Vinemont (1-3) while Rhodes added 11 and Teichmiller chipped in with 10. For St. Bernard (1-3), Rose finished with a game-high 26 points, 17 of which came in the fourth quarter, and Zatarain added 10.

Vinemont will travel to Winston County on Tuesday, while St. Bernard will take a road trip to West End on Tuesday.

Other Monday night scores:

- Hanceville 45 – Corner 25 (varsity girls)
- Corner 63 – Hanceville 50 (varsity boys)
- West Point 58 – Jasper 41 (varsity girls)
- Jasper 77 – West Point 61 (varsity boys)

No. 19 Auburn blows past Colgate, 91-62, to start 5-0

Greg Ostendorf
AU Athletics

AUBURN, Ala. – Jumping out to a 15-2 lead in the first five minutes, it was rinse and repeat for No. 19 Auburn who followed Friday's 46-point win with a 91-62 win over Colgate on Monday in the second regional game of the Legends Classic.

The Tigers won the two regional games at Auburn Arena by a combined score of 207-132 and are now 5-0 to start the season for the first time since 2004-05.

"That was a really good first half – really, really, special basketball," Auburn head coach Bruce Pearl said. "We played fast, we shot it, we spread it, executed, got after them really hard and just suffocated them. We didn't give a good team a chance."

Just like Friday, it was senior Samir Doughty who scored the first basket of the game and who finished with a game-high 20 points. The highlight for Doughty came in the first half when he crossed his defender (who fell down), stepped back and drained a 3-pointer. It was the first of two Auburn plays worthy of Sportscenter's Top 10.

"I originally wasn't going to shoot the ball until I saw him fall," Doughty said. "I just stepped back and shot it. I didn't expect him to fall like that. I knew the shot was going in."

The second highlight came early in the second half when freshman Isaac Okoro drove down the lane and threw down a monstrous two-handed slam, posterizing one of the Colgate defenders.

Okoro finished with 11 points and has now scored in double figures in all five games to start his Auburn career.

He also put the exclamation on the first half with an alley-oop dunk from J'Von McCormick with one second remaining to give the Tigers a 53-21 lead at the intermission.

As a team, Auburn had five players score 11 or more points Monday's victory.

"We have a great team," Doughty said. "It's not just surrounded by me, Isaac or J'Von. Anybody can go off. We know that anybody is capable of coming out and playing great. Some nights I might be in single digits, and we still have five other players in double digits. It's really a team effort all-around. It can be like this every single night."

McCormick didn't quite match the single-game assist record he set Friday with 16, but the senior was active once again on the offensive end with 14 points and a team-best eight assists. He now has 24 assists to just three turnovers over the last two games.

The Tigers also won the rebounding battle yet again thanks in large part to senior big man Austin Wiley who recorded his first double-double of the season with 13 points and 10 rebounds.

Fellow senior Danjel Purifoy made it five Auburn players in double figures with 11 points on 4 of 6 shooting. Nine of those 11 points came in the first half as he was 3 of 4 from long range in the first 20 minutes, including two 3s in the first two-and-a-half minutes.

The Tigers shot a blistering 62 percent from the field in that first half and finished the game at 53 percent, making 35 of the 66 shots they attempted.

"I thought the ball movement was great (in the first half)," Pearl said. "The spacing was great. The understanding was really good. Timing was good. The guys were having fun and making good reads. It was an outstanding 20 minutes."

After playing five games in 13 days, Auburn will get a week off before traveling to New York to compete in the Legends Classic. The first-round game against New Mexico is scheduled to tip at 8:30 p.m. CT next Monday and will be televised on ESPNEWS.

JONES CHAPEL, Ala. – A vehicle chase instigated when a suspect failed to stop for a traffic violation ended in Jones Chapel Tuesday night.

No injuries were reported.

Cullman Police Sgt. Joey Duncan said, "Officer Cole Kelley attempted to stop a vehicle near Temple Baptist Church on 157 for a traffic violation, but the suspect accelerated."

Duncan said the suspect's vehicle traveled backroads to U.S. Highway 278 then headed toward Jones Chapel.

"Officer Kelley saw the suspect was slowing down to turn, so to safely end the pursuit, he attempted what we call a pit maneuver, causing the suspect's vehicle to slide," said Duncan.

"The suspect's vehicle collided with the push bar of a Cullman County Sheriff's Office vehicle, causing minor damage."

Christopher Wayne Williams, 42, of Cullman was arrested, charged with attempting to elude, reckless endangerment and various traffic violations.

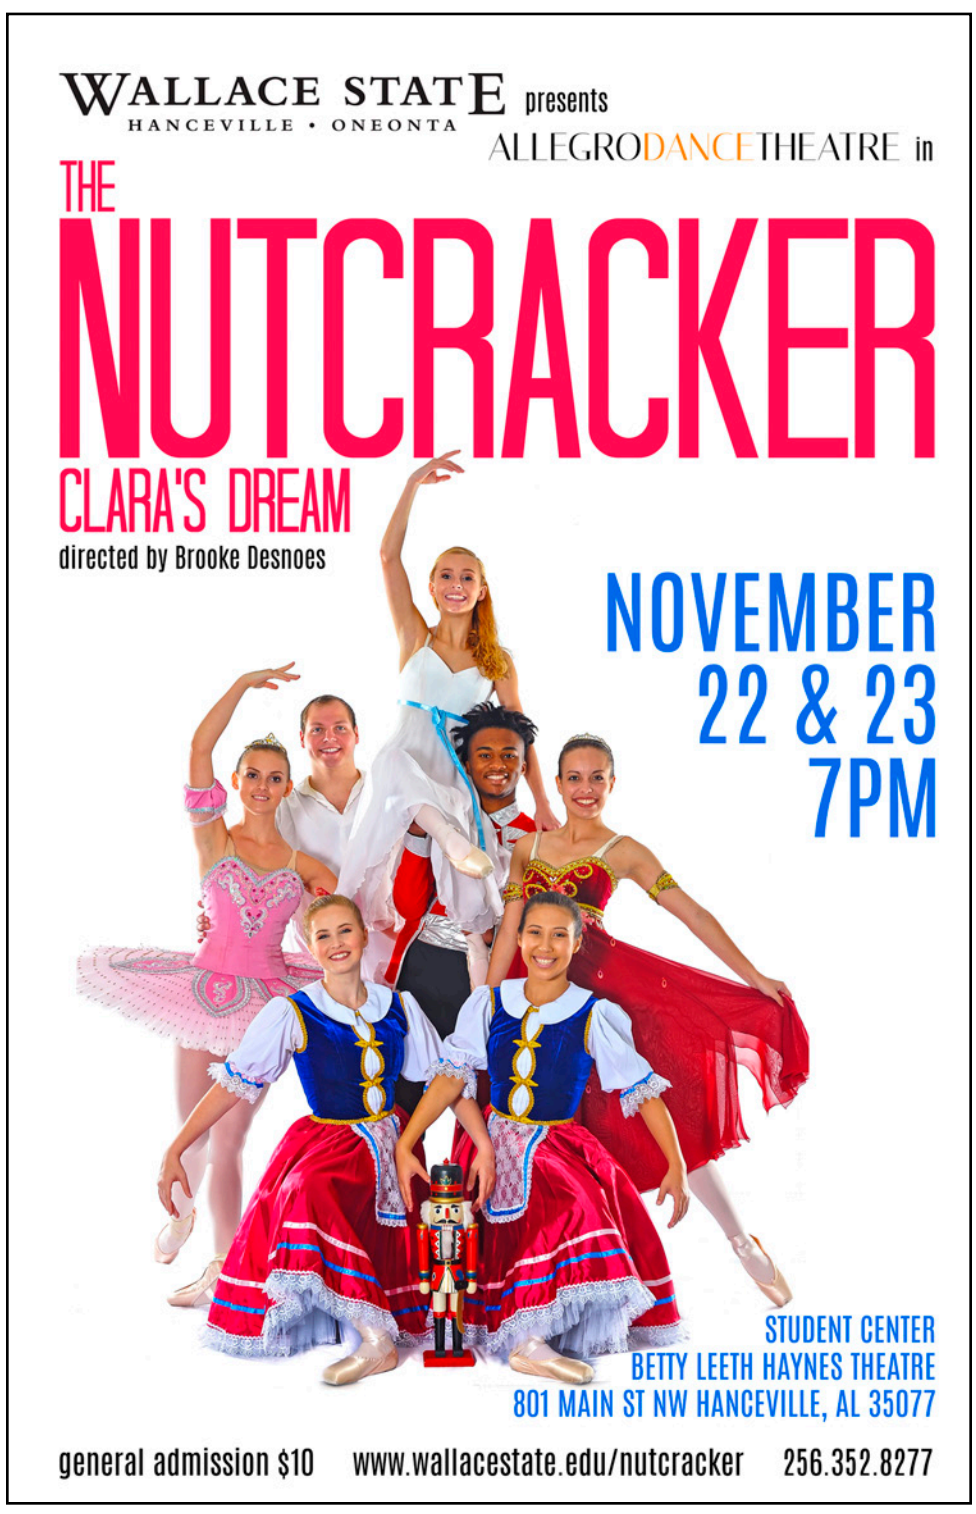

He was wanted by the Alabama Department of Corrections for parole violations.

Williams' female passenger was also arrested, on warrants with the Morgan County Sheriff's Office.

Added Duncan, "The Cullman County Sheriff's Office really helped us out with this incident."

year Band Booster Miranda Reeves has organized the event.

"We have 93 booths this year," she said. "Saturday we will have the $1,000 cash giveaway, and we will have tickets for that at the door both days.

"We have everything from coasters to pet supplies. You name it, we've got it- all kinds of gifts and stuff."

The Vinemont Band Booster Holiday Craft Show has been a Christmas shopping tradition for more than 20 years.

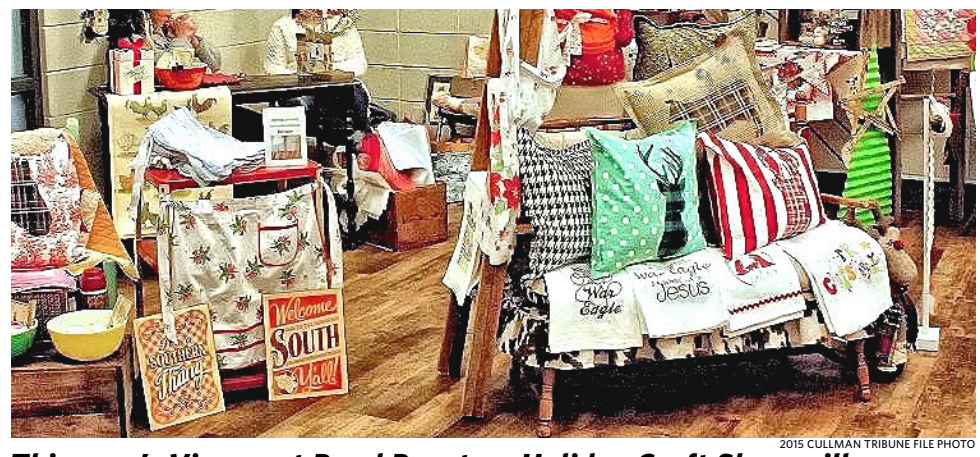

This will be the last one taking place at the Cullman Civic Center, according to Reeves.

The civic center has been sold to Desperation Church.

Admission to the two-day craft show is free. Concessions will be sold at the event and door prizes will be given to lucky winners each day. The $1,000 cash giveaway winner will be drawn at noon Saturday. Tickets for the giveaway are $1.

The band boosters and band members will be serving hamburgers, hot dogs, homemade chili, nachos and more.

CATA (from Front)

VINEMONT, Ala. – On Tuesday, students at West Point and Vinemont Middle Schools got visits from the Cullman Area Technology Academy (CATA) Career Caravan, during which student ambassadors representing each of the career center's 14 programs talked about their departments, displayed tools of their trades and even let the younger students get hands-on with some simple projects. The caravan program visits all middle schools through the course of the year, introducing middle schoolers to CATA's course offerings and explaining the advantages of career technical education in the current job market.

CATA Counselor Diane Barnett, who oversees the Career Caravan project, told The Tribune, "It's to showcase our programs that we have at CATA, and we have 14 different career technical programs. We take it to every middle school in the county, and we let our middle school kids rotate between them. It gives them just a glimpse of the programs; it gets them interested.

"It's a good recruiting tool for us. It's good for my kids, it's good for the middle school kids. Then we, in the eighth grade, bring them up to our campus for eighth grade tour. It just gives them a glimpse of what they might want to do in a future career and what we have to offer."

CATA programs represented in the Career Caravan include:

- Auto Collision Repair
- Auto Service Technology
- Building Construction
- Cosmetology
- Culinary Arts
- Electrical Technology
- Engineering Technology
- Health Sciences
- Heating/Air Conditioning-HVAC
- Horticulture
- JROTC
- Mechatronics Technology
- Precision Machine Technology
- Welding

Within the various programs are courses that can help prepare students for different career paths within the larger fields. For example, Health Science students can get CNA and EMT certifications while still in high school, and can proceed into nursing or other medical training at Wallace State or a four-year institution.

Asked what she hopes the middle schoolers get from the caravan's visit, Barnett said, "I hope that, by seeing this, it will get them interested in a certain pathway; there are 16 career pathways.

"They need to be thinking, at this point in time, about: do they want to work inside or outside? Do you want to work with people, animals, cars? Do you want to work alone? Are you a good team member? Those kinds of things.

"We hope to get them started down a path. And then, when they come to our school, most of my kids leave and go straight on to Wallace or into a job, but most of them go to Wallace and continue their education, and then get a high-paying job with the skills they've learned."

Wallace State Dental Hygiene celebrates 25th anniversary

Gail Crutchfield
WSCC

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – The Wallace State Community College Dental Hygiene program marked its 25th anniversary during its annual Clinical Research Presentations earlier this month in the Bailey Center Auditorium.

"This is one of my favorite events of the year," said Dr. Sharon Alley, director of the Dental Hygiene and Dental Assisting programs. "The students prepare for months and every year we're so proud of their accomplishments. This is an extra special year because we're celebrating the 25th anniversary of the Dental Hygiene program here at Wallace State."

Wallace State President Dr. Vicki Karolewics shared her congratulations to the program and her thanks to alumni attending the event. "I know that we have some outstanding alums in the audience as well as some past department chairs, pointing out Barbara Ebert Sharp, who recently retired as director of the program. "Congratulations on 25 outstanding years of excellence and I'm certainly looking forward to the next 25."

Dr. Alley recognized two of the alumni from the Class of 1996 who were among the 11 students entering the program when it began in 1994: Annie Hendon, of Arley and Betty Brooks of Altoona.

Hendon was 46 when she received her diploma. Hendon said she was working at a furniture factory when another employee there was thinking about coming to Wallace State to study. That woman didn't go into the program, but Hendon did after coming to talk to the first instructor, Kim Gay. She took night classes to complete her academic prerequisites and quit her job to attend college full time once she entered the Dental Hygiene program.

"I went from there and it changed my life completely," Hendon said.

Brooks was in her late 20s when she entered the program after talking with Dr. Fred Halstead, who was her biology instructor and served on the program's staff as a supervising dentist.

Brooks said she and her fellow students felt the pressure of being the first group of Dental Hygiene students. "There was a lot riding on that if we didn't do well," she said. "I want to say all of us had to graduate for the accreditation. So that was a little bit of pressure hanging in the back of your mind."

All 11 did graduate. One of those graduates was the inspiration for one of the current students in the program.

"As we were preparing for today, we placed a picture of the class that started in 1994 in our lobby," Dr. Alley said. "One of our students who is presenting today noticed that the dental hygienist that inspired her to become a dental hygienist was in that first dental hygiene class."

That student is Sunni Hulsey of Hackelburg and her dental hygienist is Kelly Powers from the Class of 1996.

"I've been going to her since I was little," Hulsey said. "I started talking to her about how I wanted to do dental hygiene and she told me that she came to Wallace and she graduated the year before I was born."

Hulsey said because of Powers' outgoing personality, she's never been afraid to go to the dentist. "It wasn't something you dreaded because you knew she was going to talk to you and ask you about your family," Husley said. "She always made you feel so comfortable. That's how I always wanted to be when I got into the field."

Along with recognizing alumni from the first and previous years, Dr. Alley also recognized the most recent graduates. The Class of 2019 earned 100 percent success rate for the regional clinical board exam.

The Dental Hygiene and Dental Assisting programs accepts new students each fall, with applications accepted from March 1 to June 1 each year. For more information, visit www.wallacestate.edu and look under the Programs tab, or call 256-352-8000.
