'We love building relationships with our patients'

Baileyton Family Medicine holds grand opening

Christy Perry, Maggie Darnell

BAILEYTON, Ala. – Baileyton Family Medicine celebrated its grand opening with a ribbon cutting ceremony Friday morning. The clinic, which offers "personal, one-on-one care," is located next to Baileyton Town Hall at 105 Fire Station Road.

The clinic is operated by Dr. Josiah Daily and Nurse Practitioner Kindra Edwards and offers primary and urgent care services, DOT physicals, sports/employee physicals, x-rays, allergy testing, minor office procedures and women's health services.

"I am not from Cullman County, but Fairview and Baileyton took me in as family," said Daily. "They treat me like I grew up here.

"So, it's something we can give back to the community."

Added Edwards, "The main reason why we chose Baileyton is because it's a rural area. There's a massive need for that.

"There're so many people here with no insurance and there's not access to health care around here.

"We love building relationships with our patients. This has always been my heart before I even started school."

Edwards' husband Dwight explained, "She's the kind that figures out what is best for each person.

"In medicine, you know what someone needs to do, but are they going to do that and comply with that? You have to formulate a plan and work together. She really works at that hard."

Edwards has dreamed about bringing a practice to Baileyton.

Cullman prepares for trial run of Christkindlmarkt outdoor Christmas Market

CULLMAN, Ala. – It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas . . . in Germany! On Friday, Cullman's record-setting (at least in the U.S.) Weihnachtspyramide (Christmas pyramid) on the grounds of the Cullman County Museum was joined by booths being assembled at the Festhalle which will, on Saturday, become the city's first traditional German-style open-air Christkindlmarkt, or Christmas Market.

Christkindlmarkt?

FUNNY THINGS FROM YESTERDAY

An unexpected squeeze

Robert N. Tidwell, Sr.
robertntidwellsr@gmail.com

It was great to be dismissed from the Hanceville Nursing Home Sunday morning. If I had been able, I would have jumped up and clicked my heels together, but alas, that was not possible.

However, I was very glad to finish two weeks of exercise to get my strength back after having a hip replacement.

It has been two weeks and four days since I slid under the cover of my old familiar bed for a night of rest. Hospital beds and nursing home beds just don't give you the same feeling. Tonight will be wonderful as Granny and I can snuggle together for a night of rest.

Our daughter, Robin, and one of our grandsons, Will, came over to help us get into our house. Rudene, Robin and Will put up our Christmas tree and other decorations for Christmas.

I'm glad they were able to do that, for all I can do is hobble around the house at the present time.

Starting Monday morning I will have a nurse come once a week and another person come three days a week to give me exercise. It is sure good to be at home.

Since this a column about funny things, I need to get back to that.

I was in a semi-private room. It worked out well. My wife knew the man's wife, and they renewed their friendship.

One day I needed some assistance with something and the man across from me also needed help. So two ladies came in to help us. One lady came beside the curtain and faced me.

The other lady went beside the curtain and faced the man on the other side. So the ladies helping had their backs to each other.

As they were working, their behinds bumped together as they were still on separate sides of the curtain. The lady on my side reached out with her hand and squeezed the lady's behind on the other side. This took the lady by surprise and she jumped and fell, missing the man's wife, and flipping out across the foot of the man's bed.

No harm was done and the lady on my side and I burst out laughing. The lady on the other side of the curtain scolded us a little for laughing.

All the employees work very well together and there was actually no problem because we laughed.

I am very glad to be at home and in my own bed. I will always be grateful to the people at the Hanceville Nursing Home for the excellent care they gave to me.

BILLY BOB'S STORIES AND STUFF

In everything, let us give thanks

Bill King

Thanksgiving has changed since I was a kid. Oh, there are a few things that have remained the same. The Detroit Lions still lose to whoever they play that day, but now there are usually three NFL games to watch and perhaps even a college game as well.

These days, we have more sports channels to carry these games than we had channels all total back then. What I eat has changed too. We usually have turkey, dressing, cranberry sauce made with real cranberries, and pies.

We always had sweet potato when I was growing up, but I have since discovered that pumpkin isn't bad either. In a pinch, southern pecan pie will do just fine too. Truthfully, I don't think I've ever met a pie I didn't like!

When I was a kid we never had turkey for Thanksgiving, or any other time for that matter. Mama always said she didn't like turkey because it was too dry. I wanted to make that judgment for myself, but somehow I never had a vote. I think the real reason we didn't have turkey was because it cost more than chicken. I heard my family had turkey once, but I don't think that was for Thanksgiving.

Long before my arrival, my family owned a live turkey. Every time my older sister got near old Tom, or maybe it was Tammy, the turkey chased and flogged her. One day Tom attached Sis one time too many and they had turkey for dinner.

Everyone especially enjoyed dinner that evening... everyone except ole Tom. The family never owned another turkey, and I never enjoyed eating one at Thanksgiving. I watched families on television eating turkey and stuffing.

I was a little nauseated watching them dig stuff out of a turkey. I asked Mama what that "stuff" was, and she said, "that stuff is stuffing." The only stuffing I knew about was how we stuffed ourselves with all that good food.

I asked "How come we don't have stuffing in our turkey...I mean chicken?" Mama explained that we eat dressing instead. Since we don't stuff dressing inside our turkey, I mean chicken, I understand why we don't call it stuffing. I don't understand why we call it dressing. I thought dressing was when we put on clothes or what we drown our tossed salad in. Maybe we should put our Thanksgiving dressing on top of our turkey, I mean, well, you know what I mean. I think the real reason we don't put it inside is because the inside is not big enough to hold it all. We cook a pan full of dressing that is about the size of the Detroit Lion's football field. That would take some more big turkey to hold all that.

Thanksgiving is far more than a time to eat too much food and watch too much football. More importantly, this is a special time of year when we pause to give thanks to God for all He is and all He has done. Yes, we should give thanks for the turkey, the dressing, and the pies but for far more than that. It's not simply about material or tangible things, but about things that can't be seen as well. I am thankful for my family and friends.

I'm fine with the fact that my family didn't have turkey back then. What we ate didn't and doesn't matter as much as whom we are blessed to eat with and that we have something to eat. I am thankful that ole Tom didn't do serious damage to Sis, but I do have to admit, I would have loved seeing him chase her one time around the yard...just a little. Happy Thanksgiving.

Raiders, Lady Raiders sweep Holly Pond at home

Sammy Confer
sammy@cullmantribune.com

GOOD HOPE, Ala. – The Good Hope Raiders hosted the Holly Pond Broncos in Thursday night hoops actions and both Raider squads came out victorious. The Lady Raiders defeated the Lady Broncos 55-37 and the Raiders pulled away in the second half to take down Holly Pond, 85-66.

Good Hope 57 - Holly Pond 37 (varsity girls)
Good Hope (2-1) jumped out to an early lead over Holly Pond behind Ivey Maddox as she scored eight of her team's first 10 points to give the Lady Raiders a 10-2 lead and wound up leading 15-5 after one. Good Hope stretched its lead to 29-14 at the half and then the three-ball in the third quarter helped the Lady Raiders break the game open and push the lead to 46-23 going into the fourth. Good Hope held on to win the game by 20, 57-37.

Maddox led the way for Good Hope with 20 points, Rudi Derrick added 12 and Bailey Tetro ended up with 11. For Holly Pond (1-3), Elizabeth Miller finished with 12 points and Kaylee Stallings and Tate Duke each chipped in with nine points.

Good Hope 85 - Holly Pond 66 (varsity boys)
Good Hope's Drew Maddox drilled four threes in the opening quarter and finished with 15 first-quarter points in the varsity boys showdown. Holly Pond's Kyler Chaney added six for his team and the Broncos got a big lift from Jayden Perkins as he added nine points in the quarter as well, but the Raiders led things 26-17 after one.

Chaney started to get red-hot in the second period, scoring 12 points and Levi Boatright added seven for the Broncos as they kept pace with Good Hope.

Some late baskets by Chaney, plus a big free throw by Perkins, helped cut the Holly Pond deficit down to 42-38 going into the half.

A Perkins layup made it 42-40 to start out the second half, then a Landon Rowell trey cut the lead to 44-43, but Good Hope took back control of the contest behind the red-hot shooting of Drew Maddox.

He and Cole Maddox helped lead a 15-4 Raider run that pushed their lead to double figures at 59-47. A three by Chaney made it a 61-53 contest, but a big rebound and put-back by Good Hope's Michael Lowe made it 63-53 going into the final period.

An early 6-2 run by the Raiders increased their lead to 69-55 and despite multiple attempts by Holly Pond to get back in the contest, Good Hope would counter with huge baskets of their own and wound up pulling away at the end to take the game 85-66 and improve to 3-0 on the season.

Drew Maddox had a career-high 38 points, with 21 of those points coming from behind the three-point line. Cole Maddox added 16 points and Eli Phares ended up with nine points as almost every Good Hope player found the scoring column.

For Holly Pond (0-4), Chaney finished with 30 points. Perkins added 13 points and Levi Boatright ended up with 11.

Good Hope's girls will participate in the Encore Girls Basketball Classic on Saturday while the boys will be participating in the Marx Optical Classic in Priceville on Monday. Holly Pond will host Cold Springs Friday night.

Fairview sweeps Vinemont on the road; Thursday scoring recap

nick@cullmantribune.com

VINEMONT, Ala. – After tipping off the 2019 season against Holly Pond earlier this week, Fairview made the short trip up to Vinemont for a pair of varsity showdowns with the Eagles. The Lady Aggies took the first game 57-23 and the Aggies toppled the Eagles 70-48 in the nightcap. Fairview will travel to take on East Lawrence Friday and Vinemont will be in the field at the Curry Thanksgiving Tournament this weekend.

Fairview 57 – Vinemont 23 (varsity girls)
This was a low-scoring matchup early in the opening quarter as the Lady Aggies held just a 4-2 lead midway through the first, but a 12-0 run quickly stretched the lead to 16-2 by the start of the second. Back to back baskets by Daisy Manasco made it a 24-3 game early in the second quarter and Fairview managed to stretch it out to 31-6 with about four minutes to play in the half.

Katie Ball dropped in a floater late in the period and gave the Lady Aggies a 35-6 advantage at the break.

The Lady Eagles scored the first basket of the second half, but Fairview went back to work after that, moving in front 43-13 after back to back buckets from Morgan Lindsay midway through the third.

The Lady Aggies continued to pull away, adding to their lead and taking a 52-15 advantage into the fourth quarter. Vinemont picked up some baskets in the final frame, but it was too little, too late and Fairview pulled away to win it 57-23.

Manasco led all scorers with 24 points in the win, followed by Ball with 11, Lindsay with eight, Emma Garcia with six and both Jaycee Aleman and Molly McKelvy added four for the Lady Aggies. Bailey Preiss led Vinemont with seven points, followed by Abby Young with six and Kanasta Daniel with five.

Fairview 70 – Vinemont 48 (varsity boys)
The Aggies jumped out to a fast start in the late game, building a 10-0 lead early in the first quarter. An and-one play by Preston Ryan gave Fairview a 13-2 lead midway through the first but Vinemont's Katch Johnson answered with a deep three-pointer on the other end.

The Aggies took an 18-7 lead into the second quarter but another three from Johnson cut the lead to 21-15 early in the period.

A quick scoring run, capped off by a three from Peyton Bailey, put Fairview on top 30-16 midway through the second.

Johnson answered with yet another three-pointer to trim the lead and the Eagles managed to cut it to a 34-21 game at the halftime break.

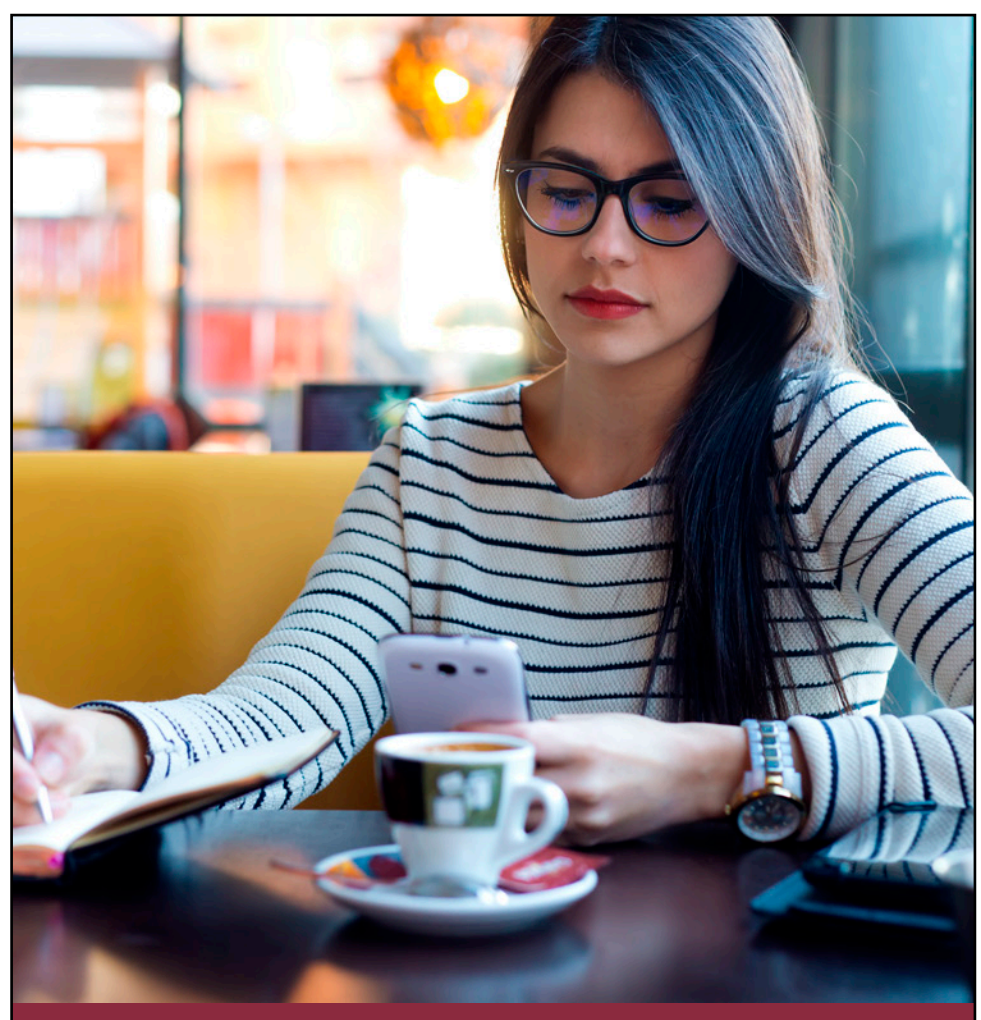

Both teams got things going offensively in the third quarter. 10 points in the quarter by Sawyer Daniel helped keep the Aggies on top while Johnson and Collin Teichmiller each knocked down a pair of threes for Vinemont to make it a 55-40 game going into the fourth. Fairview managed to pull away after that, holding the Eagles to just eight points in the quarter and winning it 70-48.

Daniel and Austin Turner led the Aggies with 11 points in the win, followed by Ryan and Austin Johnson who each finished with nine, Mason Black with eight and Bailey and J.T. White with six. Johnson led all scorers with 19 points in the loss, Teichmiller posted 10 and Jordan Hall added eight for Vinemont.

Other Thursday scores:

- Gardendale 70 – Cullman 41 (varsity boys)

went into it," she said, "to be able to give medical access to people who are hard-working, salt of the earth people who may not have the insurances others might be provided was important.

My dad is from this area, too, so I have family here and we are all just normal people."

Dwight Edwards smiled, "She could have taken a job at a larger established place, but her faith in Christ led her here to do what she needed to do."

The clinic is open Monday 8 a.m.-6 p.m., Tuesday 8 a.m.-5 p.m., Wednesday (Doctor's Diet only with Dr. Daily) 10 a.m.-7 p.m., Thursday 8 a.m.-5 p.m. and Friday 8-11 a.m. seasonally.

The clinic takes walk-ins and appointments and accepts most major insurances including Medicaid. It also welcomes uninsured patients.

Christkindlmarkt (from Front)

or Nuremberg, depending on which town's citizens are telling the story.

The market features multiple booths staffed by townsfolk selling gifts, food and drink, and operates during the Advent season in the four weeks leading up to Christmas.

The opening of the market is often accompanied by live music, dancing and parades.

The name comes from the tradition of a visit to the market at its opening by the Christkind (Christ Child) portrayed by a local youngster. Today, the Christkind is usually represented by an adult female actor as more of a "spirit of Christmas" character.

Cullman Mayor Woody Jacobs got the idea for a Christmas Market in Cullman when he visited one in Chicago about three years ago.

"I thought we needed to do that here in Cullman to give our folks a chance to experience it, so we did some research on the ones in Germany, because that's the origin of the Christkindlmarkt," said Jacobs.

"When the Christmas Pyramid was constructed, I thought, 'This has to happen now!' So, we're starting small and growing into it."

As a trial run, this year's Christkindlmarkt will not have all the bells and whistles of its cousins back in the old country, but if this one goes well, Mayor Jacobs hopes to see the market grow and become a regular part of the city's seasonal celebration.

Winter Wonderland (from Front)

Christy Perry

CULLMAN, Ala. – The annual Sportsman Lake Park Winter Wonderland kicked off Friday evening, following weeks of preparation by Cullman County Parks and Recreation (CCPR). This year's attraction has added more displays and fun features.

"We are ready to kick it off tonight," CCPR Director Doug Davenport said Friday. "It's going to be a wet night for it, but it is what it is."

The Winter Wonderland will be open rain or shine except, of course, in severe weather.

Davenport estimated close to 2 million lights will greet guests as they make their way through the park.

"We've added 20 more animated features this year. What we are trying to do is phase out some of the older ones. They are not LED and not as bright," he said.

Davenport said the older strands of lights are harder to fix when bulbs go out and the LED lights are more energy-efficient.

Guests can drive through the park and simply enjoy the splendor of the lights or they can choose to park and experience the extra attractions including train rides, carriage rides and sleigh rides.

Santa will also be appearing at the Winter Wonderland. Parents can take pictures of their kids with Santa or purchase a 5x7 photo in a souvenir frame for $5.

Davenport added, "We have a new backdrop for Santa this year that is better than the one we've used in the past. I think everyone will really like that.".

More lights and features have been added to the train ride, with archways and displays along the route. Passengers will surely catch the Christmas spirit as they listen to Christmas music while riding choo-chooing around the lake. The price to enter the Winter Wonderland remains affordable. The cost is $10 (cash only) per vehicle, regardless of how many people are in it.

Davenport reflected on a phenomenon from last year's Winter Wonderland event, smiling, "People came with the Christmas spirit and would show it by paying for the cars behind them."

He said the pay-it-forward movement would continue throughout the night.

The schedule for the Sportsman Lake Park Winter Wonderland:

- Nov. 22-26 and Nov. 30: 5-9:30 p.m.
- December- Wednesday-Sunday: 5-9:30 p.m.
- Dec. 23 is the last day for Santa and the train.
- Closed Thanksgiving, Black Friday, Christmas Eve and Christmas Day
- Dec. 26-29- Drive through only: 5-9:30 p.m.

THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE • ALABAMA'S OLDEST CONTINUOUSLY PUBLISHED WEEKLY NEWSPAPER

"THE 67-COUNTY, ALABAMA GARDEN PARTY"

CLAY COUNTY

Ben Johnson South
Tribune Correspondent

Colorful gardens, colorful landscapes, colorful people, colorful Clay County. When it was established in December 1866, this place was thickly forested and emerald green, as much of it still is today. Colors in this sun-infused part of Alabama are more intense. The skies aren't just blue, they are Cerulean blue.

The soil isn't simply brown in Clay County; it's rich, hickory brown, and some of the winding, dirt roads through the emerald forest are paprika red like the spice every respectable cook here dusts on deviled eggs. This is only one of three counties in the state with no federal highway.

Sunshine here isn't soft and buttery, it's a gilded, saffron yellow. If Vincent van Gogh had come to America, Clay County, Alabama is where he would have wanted to paint.

Clay County's most famous, native-born son had the name of a color. He was Supreme Court Associate Justice (1937-1971) Hugo Black, born in the Harlan community in 1886. Considered somewhat liberal in his decisions from the bench, this Alabama gentleman and scholar who was twice on the cover of Time Magazine and honored with his image on a United States postage stamp, was buried at Arlington National Cemetery. His headstone, identical to the tens of thousands of military markers there, simply reads, "Hugo Lafayette Black, Captain, US Army."

I became familiar with Clay County because of another well-known, and well-loved, colorful native, First Lady of Alabama, Patsy Adams Riley, wife of popular twice-elected Governor Bob Riley, who also served Alabama as a U.S. Congressman.

I've never met a Riley I didn't like, but Miz Patsy is the most colorful. I'm pretty sure her first word as an adored and beautiful baby in Ashland, was "MORE!"

Miz Patsy comes by her colorful personality honestly. The apple didn't fall far from the tree. The First Lady's mother, Miz Verna Mae, one of Alabama's adored storytellers, had a full-out, purple bathroom: purple sink, purple tub, purple floor, purple walls, purple towels, purple bathtub, purple throne. It wasn't shrinking violet, it was, tah dahhh...PURPLE!

Former First Lady Patsy Riley is an avid gardener. She doesn't just direct gardeners, she loves digging in the dirt. For her, as it is for many of us, planting her garden boots literally in the homeland is spirit-lifting therapy.

I happily served as her events chairman at the Governor's Mansion in Montgomery, and with her guidance we turned an abandoned grove beyond the tennis court into a lovely prayer garden abloom with peaceful, white flowers.

The Rileys christened the garden with soaring Alabama gospel music and dinner on the grounds. Governor Riley joined a quartet on the Mansion's front porch singing one of his favorite hymns, "Beulah Land."

The Governor's Mansion was the "Alabama peoples' house" while the Rileys lived there. Passionate, generous-spirited gardener, Miz Patsy, welcomed hundreds of plant enthusiasts to "Open Garden Days" with free lectures on everything from soil testing to poking posies in sweeping, floral arrangements. As she would say, "Bouquets so big and beautiful that bees and butterflies could flit through the branches."

Color in a garden, whether it's sunflower yellow or Alabama state flower red camellia or Japanese iris blue, brings joy and smiles.

The most toured monochromatic garden is the white garden created by Vita Sackville-West at her English country estate, Sissinghurst. In America, another favorite to visit for inspiration is The Blue Garden in Newport, Rhode Island designed in 1908 by Frederick Law Olmstead.

Both of those gardens are quite grand, but even modest-sized gardens designed to highlight a single color make a big impact, as do monochromatic container plantings. Here are some plants selected by color that Alabama gardeners should consider:

YELLOW

• GOLDENROD- Perennial, sun to partial shade, flower prolifically in late summer and early fall, disease-resistant

• FORSYTHIA- Shrub with big, arching branches laden with bright yellow, star-like flowers that herald springtime at times against bleak, late-winter skies

• JONQUIL- Trumpet flowers in the full-range of yellows from palest to deepest, grown from bulbs (e.g. buttercups, daffodils)

• YARROW- Perennial with flat flowerheads nicely contrasted with fern-like foliage, summer blooms

• GINKO- Fan-shaped leaves turn a brilliant yellow in fall; this is a slow-growing tree so you may want to invest in more mature specimens.

PINK

• RUBRUM LILY- Richly perfumed, large trumpets that are carmine pink dotted with white, grown from bulbs

• CLEMATIS- Sun-tolerant and want alkaline soil, this flowering vine comes in a variety of colors, but the pinks are among the most pleasing; provide a trellis or other support structure.

• PETUNIA (bubblegum pink)- Annual, loves sun but will hold up in rain and bloom all summer

• HYDRANGEA- Substantial shrub, most desire partial shade and moist soil; the globe-shaped heads of flowers come in a wide range of colors and the choice is subjective, but there are some truly splendid pinks.

WHITE

• IMPATIENS- Ideal to punctuate a bit of brightness in a shade garden; shade to partial shade

• EUPHORBIA- Annual, sun to partial shade; graceful, lacy flowers

• DAISY- Perennial that wants sun to dappled shade

ORANGE

• LANTANA- Annual, sun-loving; butterflies love the blooms that blossom in hottest summer.

• DWARF FOTHERGILLA (Fothergilla gardenia)- Shrub, sun to some shade, grows 2-3-feet tall with stunning fall foliage

The Alabama honeysuckle border was inspired by an 18th century, Southern applique quilt.

• DAHLIA- Perennial, late-summer flowering and come in a variety of colors, but a great orange hue is "prime time."

• CHINESE LANTERN (Physalis alkekengi)- Bright orange "bladders" enclose a white flower, one of the most child-delighting curiosities in a garden; tolerates sun and partial shade.

• CHINESE PISTACIA- Tough but beautiful, wonderful fall color

RED

• LUCIFER (crocosmia)- Perennial, beautiful in cut flower arrangements; multiply readily

• PELARGONIUM- Perennial that can be a house or conservatory plant but does well outside in full sun in summer; "Red Elite" is a smashing color.

• ROSES- Look for great reds in climbing roses and also in shrub roses, the most-popular fragrant flower.

• VERBENA- Useful as a low-growing plant in borders and beds and also cascading from the edge of a container

• LENTEN ROSE (Helleborus orientalis)- Evergreen perennial with flowers in a variety of colors, but the dusky reds provide a rich contrast with the bright green leaves.

• JAPANESE MAPLE- Decorative tree with leaves that turn bright red in autumn before falling

PURPLE

• ANGELFACE BLUE (Angelonia)- Annual, sun to partial shade, height works nicely in containers surrounded by lower plants, intense purple

• IRIS- Perennial; many of the tall bearded varieties are deep purple, the flowers are short-lived with sword-like foliage, most prefer partial shade and wet soil or bog garden conditions.

BLUE

• SALVIAS- Like "May Night," perennial, want moisture and cool nights

• GRAPE HYACINTH (Muscari)- Small bulbs with dense flower spikes, prefer sunny spots

• BLUE CHIP BUDDLEIA- Dwarf butterfly bush, blooms all summer, prefers full sun and should be cut back hard in spring

• AGAPANTHUS- Perennial, sun to part shade, good to start as bulbs, good container plant with awesome globes of flowers in summer

BLACK- Hugo Black _____? Petunia? Dahlia? Hellebore? Tulip? There's not one yet but shouldn't this Clay County-born, great statesman have a colorful, botanical tribute?

The color green is so naturally bountiful in Clay County that it could be taken for granted, but look for shiny leaves of magnolia grandiflora, the proud stands of pines and cedars, the shaded fern glades and the bright, sunny grasses of the meadows.

All the greens provide a verdant grounding for this color-filled place and the colorful people who thrive in this part of Alabama.

Here are other positive and pleasurable ways PLANTS + PEOPLE come together in Clay County, Alabama including our original recipe that salutes First Lady Patsy Riley's mama's favorite color... PURPLE!!

• PLANTING AN IDEA- Gardens are a wonderful way to teach children colors. Clay County could be a charming location for an ALABAMA CHILDRENS GARDEN OF COLORS. Maybe it's four planted areas for red, yellow, blue and green. And, the red area, for example, could have strawberries, redbirds, monarch butterflies and an Alabama red camellia. Seems like a great project for some colorful Clay County folks to explore.

Y'ALL COME to Clay County on your 67-County, Alabama Garden Party tour and add some color to your life.

Many thanks to Laurie Johnson for her colorful, purple, people-pleasing recipe for Frozen Grape Sorbet.

The Cullman Tribune is celebrating the Alabama Bicentennial (1819-2019) with statewide field reporting by Alabama Master Gardener/Botanical Artist Ben Johnson South. This year-long feature, "The 67-County Alabama Garden Party," will spotlight different counties each week. Each county will get its own "quilt block," along with a historical profile, and we'll share a recipe specific to the area. At the end of the year, all 67 counties will be put in a book to commemorate the Bicentennial.

FROZEN PURPLE HEAVEN GRAPE SORBET

This is perhaps the most purple, most elegant and easiest dessert I've ever seen, made or eaten. Perfect for a colorful garden party! Fresh Concord grapes only need a little sugar, lemon juice and a tiny bit of effort to transform them into a simple dessert that is ultimately beautiful, satisfying and refreshing. Serve frozen purple heaven with frozen sugared and lemon zested grapes, some fresh mint and edible purple pansies and violas.

INGREDIENTS:

- 1 1/2 lb. purple grapes – seedless and organic if possible
- 1/2 cup sugar plus more for sugared grapes
- 1 tsp. fresh lemon juice and zest from the lemon
- Fresh mint and edible flowers (pansies or violas) for serving

INSTRUCTIONS:

1. Wash the grapes and pull them off the stems.
2. Reserve a little bunch of grapes for garnish. While they are wet, roll them in granulated sugar and lemon zest and freeze.
3. Place the remainder of the grapes, 1/2 cup sugar and lemon juice into a blender and blend until fully liquefied.
4. Press the blended mixture through a fine sieve/strainer into a bowl, straining out and discarding solids/seeds (if any) and skins. If the sieve blinds over and quits draining, scrape the good juice off the bottom of the sieve into your juice bowl, rinse the sieve and continue to strain/press the rest.
5. Chill the grape juice mixture for an hour or more and process in an ice cream machine as directed. (If no ice cream machine, freeze in a shallow pan and scrape out like a granita.)
6. Move the sorbet from the ice cream machine into an air-tight storage bowl and keep frozen.
7. To serve, scoop grape sorbet balls into chilled compote bowls or pretty glasses. Tip – Sorbet melts quickly, so you might think about scooping balls onto a pan and re-freezing the balls – they will last longer when you serve. Garnish with the reserved frozen grapes, some of the frozen sugar and zest that will inevitably fall off them, a fresh lemon slice, edible purple pansies or violas and fresh mint leaves to serve.
