Sacred Heart roof repairs finished

Maggie Darnell
maggie@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – Scaffolding began going up around Sacred Heart of Jesus Catholic Church's towers back in September. Now, just more than three months later, it is coming down.

Sacred Heart General Manager Philip Frappaolo was excited to share with The Tribune Wednesday, "The roof job is completed! All new zinc shingles and shielding are now in place. The crosses were redone in 24-carat gold leaf. Lightning protection was improved with new arrestors placed at the tip of each cross. What remains is to get the scaffolding down and clean up."

The work done was the result of significant denting to the zinc shingles during the March 2018 hail-storm. The denting raised concerns that more damage would be revealed as time progressed.

Frappaolo told The Tribune back in September: "CopperWorks of Decatur installed this roofing ma-terial a number of years ago and asked our insurance carrier to wait until the real damage would show. This company specializes in metal roof fabrication and are experts in this field. This past summer a metallurgist from the insurance company visited and they and the roofing company went up on the towers to evaluate the situation. Sure enough, the zinc panels had developed holes that would allow the entry of water into the towers and perhaps the interior of the church if » PAGE 8

CULLMAN COUNTY ANIMAL SHELTER

Daisy

PET OF THE WEEK

Even in winter, you can pick a Daisy!

W.C. Mann
craig@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Cullman County Animal Shelter's Donna Ruttkay shares The Cullman Tribune Pet of the Week:

Daisy is a 1.5-year-old terrier mix, a seriously laid-back, low-energy pet with expressive eyes, who will climb in your lap if you allow her. If you're a healthy eater, she loves yogurt (Greek's a favorite) and pumpkin! She has good spatial awareness and is skillful on her leash.

Daisy has the makings of a great therapy, comfort or reading companion.

Daisy's adoption fee is $100 which includes: DHLPP vaccine, Bordetella vaccines, rabies vaccine, wormer, general exam at the vet, spaying, microchip, free 30-day health insurance policy issued by 24PetWatch (with valid email only) and a free bag of food from Cullman Pet Depot (you must pay sales tax).

Animal shelter staff and volunteers work with their dogs to make sure they are accustomed to being around people, walking on a leash and practicing good behavior. Several of the shelter's canine friends have even been "hired" to work as therapy and special needs service dogs.

Please consider adopting, to give a rescued pet a chance at a happy and healthy life.

Contact the Cullman County Animal Shelter at 256-734-5448 or cullmancountyanimalshelter@gmail.com. Visit the shelter at 935 Convent Road NE.

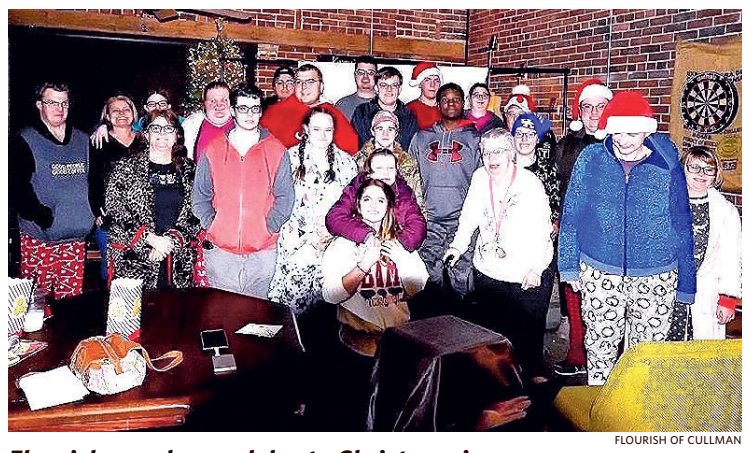

End of year reports: Flourish of Cullman receives state-level recognition

W.C. Mann
craig@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – Flourish of Cullman has only been around for three years, but the organization that works to enable those often considered unable has already seen enough success to draw state-level attention and recognition.

Co-Founder and Executive Director Melissa Dew described the origin and purpose of Flourish:

"For many years, my partner Sharon Kane and I worked with people with disabilities in school settings and through occupational therapy. We often worried about how our students would live their best lives after they were no longer eligible to attend public schools. Where would they get ongoing skills training and support to help them be productive members of the community? We envisioned and created Flourish of Cullman to provide these important services. Flourish of Cullman assists disabled individuals in developing independent living skills through life coaching, job » PAGE 7

Doctor: 'I consider Governor Ivey to be cured'

Wendy Sack
wendy@cullmantribune.com

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – Governor Kay Ivey's physician on Wednesday said he considers Ivey to be cured from the lung cancer for which she was treated in the fall.

"Yesterday, my doctors performed a follow-up examination on the site where I received three radiation treatments last September to treat the small, isolated malignancy that was discovered on my lung," Ivey said in a statement. "Needless to say, I was extremely appreciative to receive another good report from my doctor."

The governor's physician, Dr. Alex Whitley of Central Alabama Radiation Oncology, released this statement after Ivey's exam:

"Governor Ivey is now three months removed from Stereotactic Body Radiotherapy Treatment (SBRT) for her Stage I lung cancer. She had a follow-up surveillance imaging that demonstrates an excellent response to treatment with no concerning features. She will continue on routine surveillance imaging, but I consider Governor Ivey to be cured."

In the statement issued from Ivey's office, the governor said, "I am profoundly grateful for this good news. Naturally, I want to thank the Good Lord for His abundant grace in my healing. This is one more of the many blessings He has bestowed on my life. I am also incredibly grateful to my dedicated team of physicians who have been candid with me during this entire process. Alabama is home to world-renown researchers and innovators in medicine, and I am so very proud of the work they do in our state.

"Most of all," she added, "I want to thank the good people of our great state for your many prayers and continued support. As I travel throughout Alabama, I have been reminded at every stop that Alabamians are the most thoughtful and loving people one will ever meet. I have been humbled by your support during my recovery, and it is my life's highest honor to serve as your governor. As we start a New Year, I am both hopeful and excited that we can continue moving Alabama forward. May God continue to bless each of you and this great state we call home."

By taking a high-cost drug with a low-fat meal – instead of on an empty stomach, as prescribed – prostate cancer patients could decrease their daily dose, prevent digestive issues and cut costs by 75 percent, according to a new study in the March 28, 2018 issue of the Journal of Clinical Oncology (JCO). Abiraterone acetate, marketed as Zytiga, is the standard medicine used to treat metastatic castration-resistant prostate cancer. Patients taking Zytiga are told to take four of the 250 milligram pills first thing in the morning. Then, having gone without food overnight, they must wait at least one more hour before eating breakfast.

Brackets set for 2020 Cullman County Basketball Tournament

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – All seven county squads have been playing each other for the first half of the season to determine seeding for this year's Cullman County Basketball Tournament and the brackets were finally filled out Wednesday afternoon. Local coaches met at the Cullman County Board of Education Central Office to discuss the brackets and necessary tiebreakers. The seeds for the tournament were based on each team's record against county opponents.

In the varsity boys division, Good Hope earned the top seed with a 6-0 record and West Point claimed the second seed with a record of 4-2 but we had a three-way tie between Hanceville, Fairview and Cold Springs for the third seed. Since all three teams defeated each other this season, their records against the higher seeds was used as the tiebreaker. All three teams fell to the Raiders, but Cold Springs defeated West Point earlier in the season, earning the Eagles the third seed.

The Bulldogs held the head to head victory over the Aggies and so Hanceville was able to claim the fourth seed, moving Fairview to the fifth seed. Vinemont and Holly Pond each finished with the same record as well but the Eagles' head to head win over the Broncos earlier in the season makes them the sixth seed and puts Holly Pond at seventh.

Things were a little less complicated on the varsity girls side. Cold Springs' head to head victory over West Point gave the Lady Eagles the top seed over the Lady Warriors and the Fairview Lady Aggies earned the third seed with a 4-2 record. Good Hope then filled in at the fourth seed and the Holly Pond Lady Broncos claimed the fifth seed with their win over Hanceville earlier in the season, making the Lady Bulldogs the sixth seed. The Vinemont Lady Eagles closed out the bracket as the seventh seed.

The Good Hope Raiders took the first seed in the JV Boys bracket as well, edging out West Point with a head to head win. Fairview earned the third seed with a record of 4-2 and Vinemont's head to head win over Hanceville gave the Eagles the fourth seed ahead of the Bulldogs. Holly Pond finished as the sixth seed with a 1-5 record and Cold Springs rounds out the bracket as the seventh seed.

We have just six teams in the JV Girls division this year, led by 5-0 West Point as the top seed. Good Hope earned the second seed with a 4-1 record and Holly Pond landed in third after finishing 3-2. The Cold Springs Lady Eagles finished just behind the Lady Broncos to take the fourth seed, Fairview claimed the tournament's fifth seed and the Vinemont Lady Eagles are the sixth seed.

The 2020 Cullman County Basketball Tournament will begin Jan. 18 at Tom Drake Coliseum at Wallace State Community College. Admission will be $7.00

West Point's Pendley signs with Snead State

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

WEST POINT, Ala. – Wednesday was a big day for three-sport athlete Molly Pendley as family, friends, teammates and coaches gathered in the library at West Point High School to celebrate the advancement of her athletic career. Pendley signed to play softball at Snead State Community College after impressing scouts on the diamond throughout her high school career. With her senior season approaching, Molly is sitting on a career average of .400 at the plate with 179 hits, 54 doubles, five triples, 15 homeruns and 132 RBIs with a .491 on base percentage. Pendley collected nine homeruns in her junior campaign, including two grand slams in area matchups and a game-winning 2-run bomb in the Cullman County Tournament Championship Game.

Molly is excited for the chance to play at the next level but admits that she has a lot of people here at West Point that she will miss after graduation in May.

"I'm definitely going to miss my teammates," Molly said. "They're the best people ever and I love all of them and I'm definitely going to miss all my friends, teachers and coaches. They're all amazing."

Molly has spent her high school playing days with her father, Eric Pendley, coaching her and she knows it'll be an adjustment for both of them once she's playing for the Parsons, but she believes it will be a good adjustment.

"Well he's always going to be my coach in my heart because he'll always be there no matter what and supporting me and he'll always be there for me," She said. "It's going to be difficult with him not being on the field with me now but it's going to be a good adjustment for both of us."

Moving on to play in college will give Molly a chance to meet new people and she's excited for that opportunity but will also be playing with a former Lady Warriors teammate and friend.

"I'm excited to see what I'm going to be able to put out there and to meet new people and hopefully continue to go further in my career after two years," Molly said.

"It'll be heartwarming for me to get to play with my friend Makayla (Brown) that played with me through high school so I'm excited about that too."

Molly's father and coach, Eric Pendley, has known for years that a day would come that he wasn't coaching his daughter's team and while its sure to be a big adjustment, he's looking forward to relaxing a little more on the other side of the fence when she plays.

"She and I have both talked about it over the last few years and just over the last year and a half I feel like I've gotten better at being Dad. It was so hard for me to cut it off when I got home and over this past year and a half, our relationship has really grown," Pendley said. "One day ball is going to be over and I have to have a relationship with my daughter outside of ball and since we've come to realize that, I've enjoyed it more and she's enjoyed it more."

Pendley has seen his daughter and standout player grow and mature throughout her high school career and is confident that she will continue to impress at the college level.

"Just seeing her mature over the last couple years has been great. This summer she hit the weight room three or four times on her own without Dad or coach telling her to go do it, so I have no fear with her moving off to go play for Coach Tracy (Grindrod)," Pendley said. "She knows that in life, hard work is going to get her where she's going and she's been through adversity, she's tasted defeat and she hates it. She's a competitor and I'm just really proud of the maturity she's shown."

Lady Raiders edge Hanceville 52-48 in OT, Raiders topple Bulldogs 72-61; Tuesday scoring recap

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

GOOD HOPE, Ala. – After dropping a pair of home matchups Monday night, Hanceville hit the road Tuesday for a big showdown with the Good Hope Raiders and Lady Raiders. Four quarters wasn't enough to settle things in the varsity girls meeting between Good Hope and Hanceville and the Lady Raiders pulled away to win a tight one, 52-48 in overtime while the Raiders pulled away in the final frame to knock off the Bulldogs 72-61. Good Hope will be back home Friday to host Oneonta in an important area clash and Hanceville will be on the road that night for an area battle against Susan Moore.

Good Hope 52 – Hanceville 48 (OT) (varsity girls)

The Lady Raiders built a 15-9 lead by the end of the opening quarter, but Hanceville was able to go on a 10-4 run and tie the game at 19 early in the second. A basket from Kelly Pickett gave the Lady Bulldogs a 21-20 lead midway through the second quarter but a Rudi Derrick score put Good Hope back in front 24-21 with just two minutes remaining in the half. A three-pointer from Ivey Maddox gave the Lady Raiders a 27-23 lead with under a minute to play in the period and after a Pickett basket on the other end, Maddox drilled another three at the buzzer to put Good Hope on top 30-25 at the halftime break.

A triple from Bailey Tetro stretched the lead to 34-26 early in the third quarter but a triple from Jessica Thompson on the other end cut it to 34-29. Cassidy Campbell got a shot to fall for Hanceville to make trim the lead to 36-31 with under four minutes to play in the third and a Heather Tetro trey, followed by another Pickett layup, made it a 39-33 game with just over two minutes to play in the period.

Another Pickett basket cut the lead to four, but Cayleigh Garmon scored on the other end to put the Lady Raiders up 41-35 with 20 seconds left in the third quarter. However, Campbell drilled a three-pointer with seven seconds left in the period to make it a 41-38 game going into the final frame.

Pickett scored six straight points to start the fourth for the Lady Bulldogs and give them a 44-41 lead, but Bailey Tetro answered with a three-pointer that tied the game at 44 with five minutes to play.

Both teams cranked things up on the defensive end and kept each off the score board the rest of the way and despite getting some decent looks at the basket late in quarter, we went to overtime knotted at 44.

Katelynn Boyd scored to give Hanceville an early two-point lead but a jumper from Abby Neighbors on the other end tied things at 46. A pair of Pickett free throws put the Lady Bulldogs ahead by two with two minutes to play in overtime but a triple from Heather Tetro on the other end gave Good Hope a slim, 49-48 advantage. Things picked up again defensively, and neither team was able to get on the board again until Maddox knocked down a pair of free throws with six seconds remaining to go ahead 51-48 and she added one more from the charity stripe with just a couple seconds on the clock to secure the 52-48 win for the Lady Raiders.

Maddox led the way for Good Hope with 22 points in the win, followed by Heather Tetro with nine, Bailey Tetro with eight and Garmon with five. Pickett led all scorers with 25 points in the loss. Campbell added nine for Hanceville and Thompson finished with seven.

Good Hope 72 – Hanceville 61 (varsity boys)

This one was tied at two early in the first quarter until a jumper from Zach Campbell gave the Bulldogs a 4-2 lead. Good responded with a triple from Tanner Malin and a basket from Cole Maddox to go up 7-4 but Hanceville retook a 10-9 lead after a steal and score from Brodie Malcom with just over three minutes remaining in the first. Back to back buckets by Ephram Milne and Raiden Morgan gave the Bulldogs a 16-11 lead with a minute to play in the opening period and that score held going into the start of the second.

A pair of free throws by Malcom and a bucket from Izayah Glenon put Hanceville in front 20-11 early in the second quarter but a basket by Drew Maddox and back to back scores from Malin cut the lead to 20-17. A three-pointer from Dawson Turner cut the Hanceville lead to 22-20 midway through the period and a triple from Drew Maddox tied the game at 24.

Morgan knocked down a pair of free throws to give the Bulldogs a 28-26 lead with fewer than three minutes to play in the half but back to back baskets from Michael Lowe tied the game at 30 late in the second and the Raiders were able to pull ahead 33-32 by halftime.

Lowe scored five straight for Good Hope to start the second half and take 38-34 lead but buckets by Morgan and Tyson Bellmon cut it to 40-38 at the five-minute mark of the third quarter. Morgan added a pair of free throws to tie the game at 40 and an 8-0 run by the Raiders gave them a 48-40 advantage with two minutes remaining in the third. A three-pointer by Malin made it 51-43 late in the quarter and Good Hope held onto a 54-47 lead going into the fourth.

A quick steal and layup by Malcom trimmed the lead to 55-49 early in the fourth but a basket from Lowe put the Raiders in front by seven with just over five minutes to play.

Cainon Moore scored down low for Hanceville to cut the lead to 61-55 midway through the fourth but five straight points for Drew Maddox made it a 68-57 game with under three minutes to play. Malcom got another shot to fall with under a minute to play but it was too little, too late and Good Hope pulled away to win it 72-61.

Lowe led the Raiders with 22 points in the win, followed closely by Drew Maddox with 20, Cole Maddox with 14 and Malin with 10. Morgan led the way for Hanceville with 20 points. Malcom added 18, Campbell and Moore each finished with six and Bellmon finished with five in the loss.

Update on Cullman Civic Center closure

maggie@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – The City of Cullman sold the Cullman Civic Center to Desperation Church last fall for its appraised value of $3,125,500. The sale will help fund the construction of the City's new sports and events complex, where most of the events that usually take place at the civic center will be hosted in the future.

But what about this "in-between" time?

The Tribune spoke with Cullman Parks, Recreation and Sports Tourism (CPRST) Acting Executive Director Christy Turner to find out.

"There is not an official close date (for the civic center)," she said. "The last official event there will be Missoula (Children's Theatre)."

The Missoula Children's Theatre auditions, rehearsals and performances will take place Jan. 20-25.

Read more about that at www.cullmantribune.com/2020/01/07/missoula-childrens-theatre-returning-with-sleeping-beauty-auditions-jan-20.

As for where all of the events usually held at the civic center will take place now, Turner said, "Our civic center director was great to provide a list of community facilities and assist some of our events (coordinators) in finding a new location in our community.

"Once the new events center is built, we look forward to exciting new opportunities for both old and new events."

As for the CPRST's central office staff, Turner said, "Our temporary home, for the time being, will be (Cullman) City Hall. Our permanent home will be the new events center and sports complex."

The CPRST's phone numbers remain the same. For more information, visit https://cullmanrecreation.org.

Flourish (from Front)

attainment and social integration. We offer training, job placement, counseling, social interaction, structured play, and other services that enable people with disabilities to increase their independence. Your donation will help these members of our community live flourishing lives."

Flourishing in 2019

Dew told The Tribune, "We currently have 45 participants enrolled with Flourish. We receive the majority of our funding through ADRS (Alabama Department of Rehabilitation Services); we had 56 referrals from them last year for milestone services. This is to help individuals with different abilities to gain employment in our community. We have placed 22 individuals in jobs and job coached them to success. We provide life coaching and social interaction to help with maintaining a job. We also help individuals to see a vision for their life."

In 2019, Flourish got the opportunity to provide the ADRS-funded Job Exploration Training (JET) program for 10th through 12th grade Cullman city and county students with disabilities.

They received two weeks of soft skill training and two weeks of paid work experience. Flourish will repeat JETS in June 2020.

The group also worked in the county and city systems to provide other ADRS programs like Smart Work Ethics, Financial Literacy and career interest inventories to students in the 9th through 12th grades to assist students in finding career paths.

Flourish also started a laundry service to give individuals the skills they need to move into employment in the community.

At present, four individuals are working and getting paid. Customers can drop off their laundry at the Edelman Properties coin laundry on Highway 278 West near West Elementary School, or Flourish's worker will pick up and drop off.

Lastly, Flourish also developed a volunteer program that allows participants to volunteer their time with various community nonprofits for three days per week.

Big time recognition: Agency of the Year

Flourish was recognized in July 2019 by the Alabama Association for People in Supported Employment (AL-APSE) as Agency of the Year.

Dew told The Tribune at that time, "The criteria for it was that, you know, what do you do to go above and beyond what a person needs. Really, the only thing that Vocational Rehab requires us to do is to job coach and help them find jobs. But we realized that, if a person cannot communicate with others or get along with others, that's a barrier to employment. We do social gatherings for them once a week, where they are planning the activities, and we're doing things out in the community. We also do life coaching, so if they want to live independently in Cullman, we help them through life coaching develop a vision for their life and where they want it to be in five years."

Volunteers, partners and supporters make a big difference

Said Dew, "We love our volunteers!

"Friends of Smith Lake started Dream Day for us last year and will continue doing it this year in July. We spend the day on boats and at different lake houses enjoying, and volunteers mentor the participants on how they have been successful.

"You can follow the event on Facebook with Dream Day on Smith Lake. Emily Chamblee is the organizer. This is a completely free event for Flourish participants. All money is raised through our Friends of Smith Lake.

"Cullman (Electric) Co-op is a big volunteer for us, hosting bingo socials and attending different social events for mentoring.

"We were awarded Agency of the Year at the State AL-APSE, Alabama Association for People in Supported Employment, for our numbers and our overall success with placing individuals in employment. Cullman businesses are awesome, they have opened doors for individuals that want to work!

"We have an annual bingo and silent auction at Goat Island (Brewing). This year the theme is 'Roaring 20s;' it will be lots of fun. The event is sponsored by Lee Powell at Country Financial. Last year we sold 150 tickets; this year we are on track to sell 250 tickets! The event is Feb. 8. Tickets are on sale now; you can purchase them on our web page or at our office.

"We also do a golf tournament in September called Putting FORE Independence at Cross Creek Golf Course. Last year, we raised $2,000."

A new home and new plans

In November 2019, Flourish moved into its new location in the country, at 1244 County Road 735 between Berlin and Welti.

Dew said, "All the $12,000 we raised (for the property) came from community donations and Facebook donations. We are now working on the second half, which will be an independent living skills apartments to assist individuals in becoming independent in living.

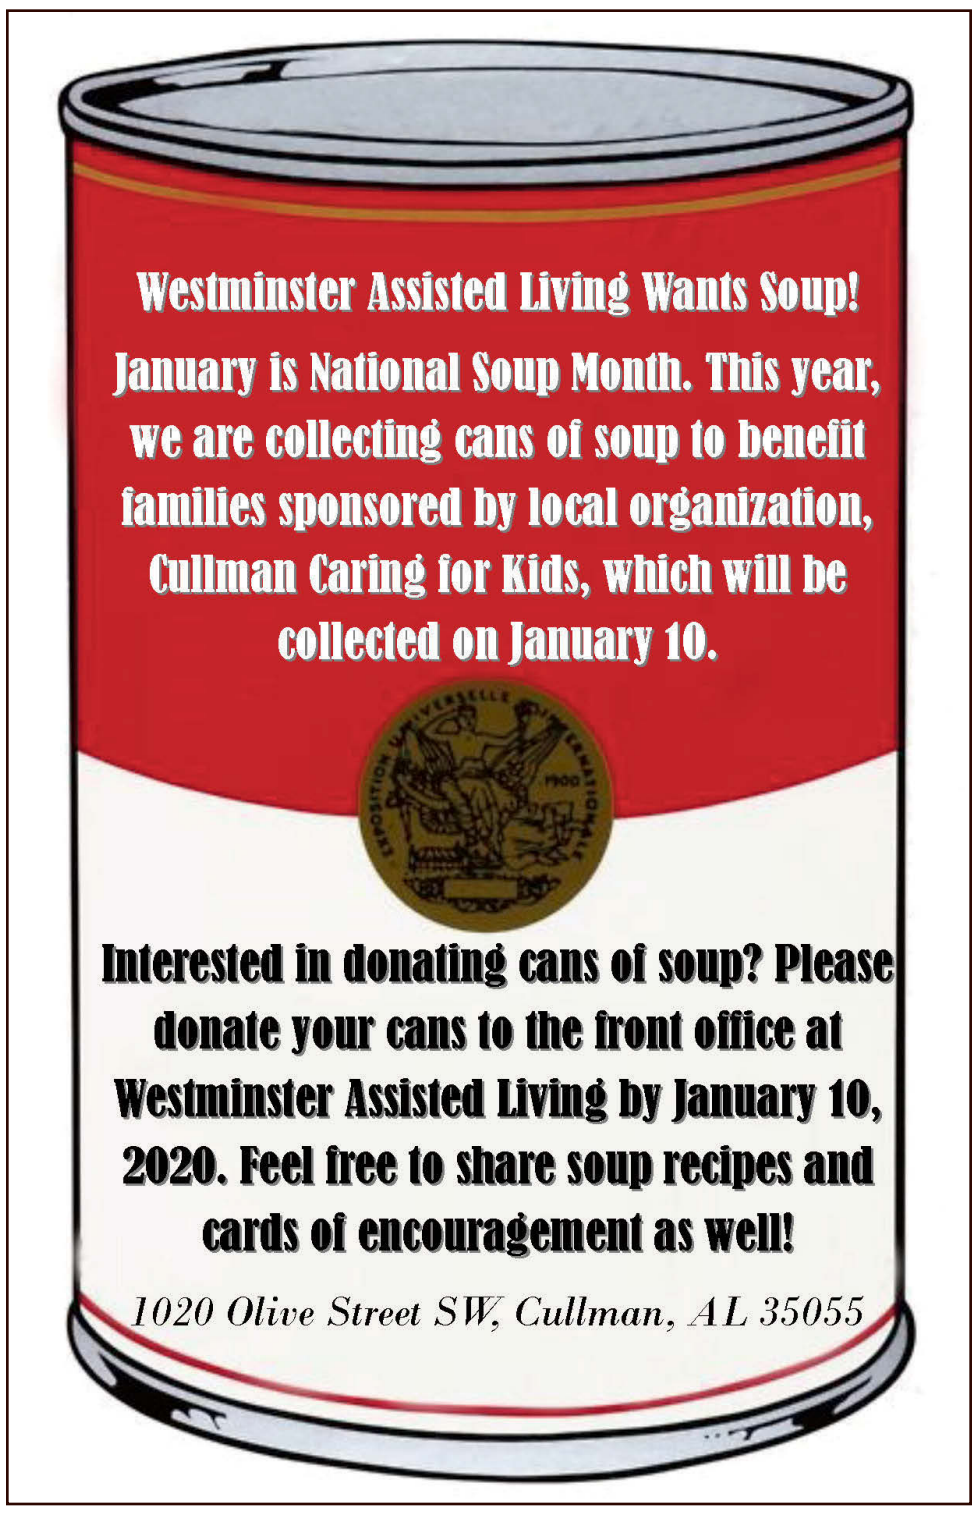

"We are currently working on getting CARF accredited; this is Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities. It is like a gold stamp of approval that our business is self-supporting.

"This will be a big accomplishment for us and will make us eligible to provide more services funded by ADRS. We hope to have everything in place for that survey at the end of 2020. The cost for the survey is estimated to cost us $12,000."

The final word

Dew told The Tribune, "Myself-executive director-and Sharon Kane-director of services-are the founders of Flourish. We have been in business since 2016. We started with just $1,000 and we have assembled a dream team! We have seven employees other than ourselves. They work for pennies on a dollar because they believe in the impact we make on individuals' lives and our community. Teamwork makes the dream work!"

not taken care of in a timely manner."

Wednesday, he shared, "CopperWorks was indeed the contractor. They completed the work back in 1999 and also did the towers this time.

"They are one of the few expert metalwork companies that do metal fabrication all over the U.S. and in Europe."

Frappaolo said the recent rains delayed the repairs somewhat.

"The rainy weather did interfere and added approximately an additional two weeks to the pro-ject," he said.

"Guenther Huber of CopperWorks had intended to be done by Christmas. We are currently working on a January 12 completion date; however, I do not believe the scaffolding on the north tower will be down until near the end of January. That job is under a sub-contract."

He continued, "For a building originally completed in 1916, the church is holding up well.

"We keep up with repairs and maintenance which you must commit to when caring for such structures. Our next project will be to replace the front doors with new doors made of white oak. We expect that project to occur in February of 2020.

"The doors that are currently in place were fabricated at St. Bernard Abbey back when they had a woodworking facility and monks that were craftsmen.

"We can trace the doors back to 1916; however, they have been recladded a few times, the last time we believe during the 1950s."

Frappaolo also shared that the towers have two new residents.

"We do have two large barn owls in the towers, a mother and one of her offspring," he smiled. "They keep the pigeon population in check during the year.

"Mom has quite a wing span according to the roofing crew.

"They had to work carefully around her and the owlet during the recent repairs.

"She can be an angry parent when she wants to be and we rarely see her. We do hear her at night when she is out hunting for food."

Grants

Gov. Kay Ivey last week awarded grants totaling $46.2 million to assist low-income families in Alabama with energy bills. The grants will enable 21 community service agencies throughout the state to provide emergency funding to help low-income families heat their houses this winter.

CAPNA, which serves Cullman, Lawrence and Morgan Counties, received $2.3 million.

The Alabama Department of Economic and Community Affairs (ADECA) is administering the grants from funds made available by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services for the Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP).

LIHEAP helps eligible low-income households afford the energy required to heat their houses.

Residents apply for assistance through local community service agencies who determine eligibility based on income, family size and available resources.

CULLMAN, Ala. – Author Rosemarie Reinhard Musso grew up in the village of Sterbfritz (Hessen), Germany. Wednesday, she spoke to a crowded Cullman County Public Library, greeting those gathered to hear her by saying, "I want to share my story with you about growing up under Hitler."

Of her homeland, she compared the countryside to "The Sound of Music," sharing, "Everything was beautiful and serene, but it was chaotic."

Her father was a dentist in their village during World War II, and Musso said the Nazis took advantage of that. She said her father tried to get around the atrocities the Nazis wanted inflicted on his patients. Prisoners from concentration camps, forced to do hard labor in a nearby quarry, were brought to her father for dental care. Many had vitamin deficiencies and gum disease, which made their teeth fall out. Her father fed them with food he had stored in his basement.

"My father was a dentist and he was the only dentist, except one other dentist came several years later, but for a long time, like 30 years or so, he was the only dentist in our village," she said. "So, he had a number of people every day, like 80 to 100 patients a day. During the war, the Nazis ordered the Jews to come to my father. They (the Nazis) came to my father and ordered him to pull all the (Jews') teeth out and forbade him to give any anesthetic.

"My father went in the basement and the Nazis checked out everything because my father was hiding some Jews in our basement. He'd talked to the Jews and he had an assistant and told the Jews to stay in the basement and he's not going to take them in his practice, he's going to pull their teeth in the basement. What the Nazis didn't know- after they left, he had someone go to the basement to give them anesthetic, and that was after the Nazis had left. It was not long, several months my father was doing that, that somebody snitched on him and the Nazis found out what my father was doing. Because of that, he received a letter in the mail. It was a summons, actually. He was supposed to come to Danzig, Germany and he was supposed to be executed."

Musso tried to relay what it was like growing up in Germany during that time. She was one of eight children, and food was scarce.

"Have you experienced maybe to wake up in the morning and not know if you have any breakfast or anything to eat at all or even wake up at all? This was a daily occasion for us, because with the bombings on a daily basis and the (Nazi) soldiers would come in our house and search every room for weapons and make sure you didn't have any weapons," she said.

"They confiscated all the guns and everything; that was a frightening experience. We had food rations. There was never enough food with eight children. Could you imagine having to feed eight children? There were a lot of times when I went to school and I was lucky to have a piece of bread to take to school."

She continued, "My uncle lived in Chicago and occasionally he'd send us a care package. When those care packages arrived, myself and my sisters and brothers, we turned into vultures. We looked in the package and one time I saw a shiny little can in the package and I was real little and skinny. I stuck my hand in the package and grabbed that little can and hid it and I ran upstairs into our attic and I found something to pry it open. Whatever was in it, I started eating it and I thought I died and went to heaven. It was a can of pineapple! I was so scared I stole that can of pineapple from the package, I ran into the garden and took a shovel and buried the can! I was labeled as the 'pineapple thief.'"

Continuing the story of her father the dentist, Musso shared, "The punishment if he had gotten caught was imprisonment or death. My father pretended to have a disdain for the Jews, but eventually the Nazis found out what he was doing, and that's why he received the summons to go to Danzig. He had a patient who was a baroness (who was formally a governess in the household of Kaiser Wilhelm).

"She was very influential; my father went to see her and he showed her the summons he got to be executed. He asked, 'What am I going to do?' and she said, 'Well you know what that means,' and he said, 'Yeah, death for me and my family.' So, he asked if she could help him. She immediately contacted a general that was a personal friend of hers at (Adolf) Hitler's headquarters about the dilemma and the general issued orders immediately from Berlin to Hanau not to execute my father."

Despite the general's efforts, the executions of the Reinhards were set. They were to be hung.

"My father was a prayer warrior, and I know God honored that," Musso said, "and on the morning of our hanging, the American troops came in our village. The people in our village and patients ran to the troops and went, 'You have to save the Reinhard family! They're supposed to be hung this morning!' And the troops came to our house and saved our lives. When the Nazis saw the American troops were on their way coming up our driveway, they took off!"

Musso exclaimed, "Hitler tried to kill my dad in World War II, and you know something? He lived to be 97!"

On a lighter note, she humorously shared her first experience with an American soldier.

"The first American (I saw) was a black American and he came in our yard. I had never seen a black man before. So, I slowly approached him and I just looked at him. He was smiling and he reached in his pocket and handed me a chocolate bar! I thought, 'This is it! He's my buddy now!' And so, they (the soldiers) were living in a house across from us where they were placed and they became good friends of our family, and life's just strange. I love the American soldiers; they saved our lives."

Rosemarie Reinhard Musso moved to Alabama in 1961. She is author of "Father Forgive Them: The Four Laws of Forgiveness." Visit www.fatherforgivethem.com to find out more.
