HUMAN TRAFFICKING TASK FORCE

Human Trafficking Awareness Month: What is sex trafficking?

Kathy Wilson, W.C. Mann
Contributors

CULLMAN, Ala. – January is Human Trafficking Awareness month across the United States, and the Cullman County Human Trafficking Task Force is working with its media partner The Cullman Tribune to help the public better understand the complex issue of human trafficking. Task Force chairperson Kathy Wilson begins with the well-known but often misunderstood topic of sex trafficking.

According to Wilson, "Sex trafficking occurs when someone uses force, fraud or coercion to cause a sex act with an adult or causes a minor to commit a commercial sex act.

"A commercial sex act includes prostitution, pornography and sexual acts done in exchange for any item of value, such as money, drugs, shelter, food or clothes." » PAGE 8

WEATHER

Strong storms, tornadoes cause damage across Cullman County

W.C. Mann
craig@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN COUNTY, Ala. – A line of strong storms powered through Alabama, including Cullman County, Saturday, bringing three confirmed tornadoes and powerful winds that caused damage at numerous locations throughout the area. The National Weather Service (NWS) on Sunday confirmed an EF-1 tornado in Joppa, an EF-0 tornado in Holly Pond and an EF-2 tornado in Union Grove in Marshall County.

Trees and power lines came down, causing localized power outages and blocking or hindering traffic on Alabama Highway 91 near the Walter community, and along Section Line Road in Hanceville. From Cullman's southeast side, downed trees, trees on houses and structural damage were reported on County Roads 700 (Bolte Road), 702, 703 (Welti Road approaching Cullman), 705, 706, 711, 712 and others.

As the line of storms entered Cullman County around lunchtime, NWS radar showed images indicating tornadoes could be forming near Good Hope and South Vinemont.

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Cullman County Animal Shelter's Donna Ruttkay shares The Cullman Tribune Pet of the Week:

Chevy is a 1.5-year-old Lab/Catahoula mix. He's an active, medium-energy pet but submissive to his humans. He's a big baby, an overgrown lap dog who likes to stay close to his folks, but he's developing his understanding of personal space and leash etiquette. Chevy has the makings of a good therapy, companion or hiking dog. Chevy's adoption fee is $100 which includes: DHLPP vaccine, Borde- » PAGE 8

Eagles down West End 65-34, Lady Eagles roll past Lady Patriots 61-15; Friday scoring recap

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

BREMEN, Ala. – After splitting a pair of matchups at Southeastern earlier in the week, Cold Springs returned home Friday night to host an area showdown with West End. The Lady Eagles smothered West End defensively to collect a convincing, 61-15 area win and the Eagles put up 23 points in the third quarter to pull away from the Patriots and win it 65-34. Cold Springs will hit the road next Tuesday night to take on Phillips.

Cold Springs 61 – West End 15 (varsity girls)
Six straight points from Elizabeth Hill gave the Lady Eagles a fast start in the opening quarter and a Neely Ellison steal that led to a Lacey Rice basket that made it a 10-3 game with just two minutes off the clock.

Kylon Hamby knocked down a three to stretch the lead to 15-6 late in the period and a shot off the glass from Hill gave Cold Springs a 20-7 lead going into the second quarter.

Another basket for Hamby made it 25-7 early in the second and an acrobatic reverse layup by Hill added to the lead with five minutes to play in the period.

Madison Bruer netted a pair of free throws to give the Lady Eagles a 30-9 lead with three minutes to play in the half and she later found Emi Harbison under the basket after a steal to stretch the lead to 33-9 with a minute remaining in the quarter.

Cold Springs took some big momentum in the locker room at the break after Bruer basket, followed by a triple from Brooke Crider, gave the Lady Eagles a 38-9 advantage at the end of the first half.

Cold Springs finished the second quarter with a 7-0 run in the final minute.

Toni West drilled a three-pointer to start the second half and add to the Lady Eagles lead and another basket by Hill made it 47-13 midway through the third quarter.

A pair of free throws from Bruer extended the lead to 50-13 with under two minutes to play in the third a steal by Emma Chambers led to a Harbison jumper at the buzzer and made it a 52-15 game going into the fourth.

Kyla Aaron knocked down a pair of free throws to put Cold Springs in front 54-15 midway through the fourth and after Chambers added another three-pointer with just over two minutes to play, the Lady Eagles pulled away to take the area matchup 61-15.

Hill led Cold Springs with 17 points in the win, followed by West with 10, Bruer with nine, Hamby with seven and Harbison with four. Chambers, Aaron, Crider and Ellison each added three for the Lady Eagles.

Cold Springs 65 – West End 34 (varsity boys)
A deep three from Micah Calvert gave Cold Springs an early 3-2 lead in this one and a pair of free throws from Brody Peppers extended that lead to 7-4 later in the first. A Logan Rice bucket gave the Eagles an 11-7 lead midway through the opening quarter and another Peppers basket, off a beautiful pass from Adam Hill, made it 13-7 with under three minutes to play in the first. A strong basket by Tanner Kilgo gave Cold Springs a 17-8 lead with a minute remaining in the period but the Patriots knocked down a three at the buzzer to make it a six-point game going into the second.

Another bucket from Kilgo made it 19-12 early in the second quarter and a triple from Roberto Ayala stretched it to 22-12 midway through the period.

The Eagles got a lot of shots to fall just before the half, starting with another Peppers basket and a three-pointer from Rice that gave them a 27-15 lead with a minute remaining in the second.

Another perfect pass from Calvert led to an easy Peppers bucket with 20 seconds on the clock and Rice knocked down a three in the final seconds of the half to give Cold Springs a 32-18 lead at the break.

During halftime of the boys matchup, this year's state champion Cold Springs Boys Cross Country Team was recognized and presented with their championship rings.

The Eagles went undefeated throughout the course of the season and capped off a great year with a first-place finish in the 1A/2A race at the Oakville Indian Mounds in November.

A three-pointer from Hill and a basket from Peppers stretched the lead to 38-18 at the start of the second half and another three by Rice put the Eagles on top 45-22 at the five-minute mark of the third.

Calvert added a triple of his own after that to make it 48-24 midway through the period and netted another shot from beyond the arc to extend the lead to 51-26 late in the third quarter.

Cold Springs led the way 55-30 at the start of the fourth quarter and after Kilgo knocked down a pair of free throws to put the Eagles up 63-33, they pulled away to win it with the clock running 65-34.

Peppers led Cold Springs with 17 points in the win, followed closely by Rice with 16. Kilgo added 12 for the Eagles, Calvert finished with nine and Hill scored six.

VINEMONT, Ala. – After dropping a pair of games at West End on Thursday, Vinemont looked to rebound against New Hope at home in a pair of area showdowns. Unfortunately, they dropped both games to New Hope, with the Lady Eagles falling to the Lady Indians 61-32 and the Eagles dropped their game to the Indians 63-48. Vinemont will travel to Hanceville next Tuesday.

SAMMY CONFER/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

Vinemont's Katch Johnson finished with 13 points in the Eagles' 63-48 loss to New Hope.

New Hope 61 – Vinemont 32 (varsity girls)
The first quarter was very low scoring, but New Hope held a slim, 9-7 lead after one. It was all Lady Indians in the second period as they outscored Vinemont 23-2 and the Lady Eagles' only points came on a pair of free throws from Sadie Stanley. Vinemont went into the half trailing 32-9.

The Lady Eagles went on a 6-2 run to start out the third period as they cut the lead to 34-15. But they traded three-pointers with the Lady Indians for a while before finishing the quarter on a 5-0 run to make it a 43-26 game after three. That was as close as they would get the rest of the game and they wound up dropping the area game to New Hope, 61-32.

Stanley led Vinemont (6-14, 1-4) with 19 points. Bailey Preiss and Magdalen Burks each added four, Jessica Ortiz ended up with three and Abby Young chipped in with two.

New Hope 63 – Vinemont 48 (varsity boys)
Vinemont got on the scoreboard first with 6:34 remaining in the opening period on a William Rhodes free throw. New Hope got its first points of the scoreboard at the line 43 seconds later and stretched their lead to 6-1. Colby Miller hit a free throw, then Katch Johnson got the Eagles' first basket of the game with 1:52 remaining in the quarter on a put-back shot to make it a 6-4 game. A 7-2 Indians run pushed their lead to 13-6 after one.

New Hope stretched its lead to 19-6 to start out the second quarter, but a pair of Johnson free throws, followed by a Jordan Hall shot, made it a 19-10 contest.

The Indians held a 23-12 lead before Hall and Collin Teichmiller each hit a shot to cut the deficit to 23-16, but they wound up trailing 28-18 at the half.

After New Hope made it 32-18 to start out the third period, Hall nailed a three to make it 32-21, but the Indians scored 11 points in a row to push their lead to 43-21.

Connor Handley hit a three to stop the run, but New Hope held a 47-29 lead after three.

The Indians scored the first eight points of the fourth quarter to push their lead to 55-29. Johnson hit a shot to stop the run and looked to make one of their own to get back in the contest.

After trailing 59-36, the Eagles scored four in a row to make it 59-40 and later scored eight in a row to make it 61-48. Despite their late comeback, Vinemont wound up falling 63-48.

Hall finished with 16 points, five rebounds and two steals for Vinemont (8-13, 2-3).

Johnson added 13 points and a pair of steals, Curtis Kennedy ended up with seven points and two steals, Teichmiller added five points, Rhodes (five rebounds and a pair of steals) and Handley each ended up with three points and Colby Miller (two steals) chipped in with a point.

Spring 2020 registration continues at Wallace State through Jan. 15

Gail Crutchfield
WSCC

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – Registration for the Spring 2020 semester continues at Wallace State Community College, with multiple options for new and returning students to enroll in classes.

Registration will be held through Wednesday, Jan. 15 for the regular Spring 2020 term, which began Jan. 8 and continues through April 30.

Registration for Flex Term II classes, which run from March 5 through April 30, also continues through Jan. 15.

Registration for Flex Term II will reopen for one day on March 5.

Flex Term classes are offered in two separate 8-week mini terms each semester, offering students the opportunity to complete more classes within the semester.

Most of the classes offered during Flex Terms are core classes, such as biology, English, math, history, etc., as well as some elective courses.

A new option offered this spring includes Open Learning courses, with registration dates of Jan. 13-17 for Open Learning Term I and Jan. 20-24 for Open Learning Term II.

Students may register anytime during these windows for these self-paced online classes offered for college credit.

Open Learning Term classes include Art Appreciation, English Composition I, Precalculus Algebra, Music Appreciation and General Psychology.

Students now have at least six start dates each semester through Wallace State.

Online classes, day, evening, and weekend option make pursuing higher education and convenient for any schedule.

Non-credit workforce training options are also available.

For more information about Wallace State or to register for classes, visit www.wallacestate.edu or call 256-352-8000.

Good Hope talks sirens, 2020 Census, Human Trafficking Awareness Month

Christy Perry
christy@cullmantribune.com

GOOD HOPE, Ala. – The Good Hope City Council Monday night proclaimed January Human Trafficking Awareness Month in the city of Good Hope. Mayor Jerry Bartlett and the council signed the proclamation, which read, in part: "It is not enough merely to denounce this horrific assault on human dignity; we must actively work to prevent and end this barbaric example exploitation of innocent victims."

The council discussed the city's tornado warning sirens, one of which was out of service for this past weekend's spate of severe weather. The City warned residents Friday that the sirens were not working, ahead of the forecasted storms Saturday.

City Planner Corey Harbison explained, "We had put in a work order to have them repair the one siren.

"Then, this past Wednesday, while they were testing, the siren on the north end's battery blew up while they were testing it."

Crews did work on the sirens Friday before the storms, but only one was able to be repaired.

The siren on the north end was the only siren within Good Hope not working Saturday.

Officials urged all residents to not rely solely on the siren system during severe weather.

Councilwoman Susan Eller urged residents to make sure they are counted in the 2020 Census, saying, "It could affect us in federal funding, it could affect us in D.C. with our seats and our electoral college."

Harbison also reminded residents that sales tax, gas tax and internet sales taxes are split throughout the state based on population.

To raise awareness for the 2020 Census, Good Hope is planning a fun event with door prizes, food and more for those who come and get counted.

Volunteers will be on hand to assist those who need it.

Those who have completed their census forms can still be entered to win a 50" TV and other prizes. The Good Hope Census Event is scheduled for April 4, 2020.

The council also voted to renew the City's contract with AirMedCare. The annual cost to the City is $8,975. It covers any resident of the city of Good Hope if transported by AirEvac from within Cullman County.

Baseball and softball registration for Good Hope Parks and Recreation begins Jan. 14 and will run through Feb. 14.

The International Education Program at Good Hope High School was granted approval for a 5K run that will take place Feb. 8 and begin at 9 a.m.

Cullman (from Front)

craig@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Cullman City Council on Monday evening voted to affirm its pledge to continuing an existing 7.5 mil property tax for city schools. The stated purpose of the tax is "providing various capital improvements for the public school system operated by the Board," and the payment of debts associated with those projects. According to council president Jenny Folsom, the ordinance will help the city school system's credit rating, should it need to borrow money. Mayor Woody Jacobs told the council he had spoken to Superintendent Dr. Susan Patterson and school board members, and was told the system is not in the process of borrowing money for any projects at this time.

The council also held a public hearing on the previously proposed creation of an arts and entertainment district on Cullman's west side, the boundaries of which would include portions of Fifth Avenue Southwest, Sixth Street Southwest, Fourth Street Southwest, Hickory Avenue Southwest, First Street Southwest and Third Avenue Southwest.

City Clerk Wesley Moore explained the arts and entertainment district "is more like a special events district. It's a place where you can have festivals, community events- things that support local art and are family-friendly."

Alcohol could be served at special events within the district, but the same rules would apply as with events held in locations like the Warehouse District during Oktoberfest.

At all other times, regular city alcohol ordinances would apply.

Moore explained the proposed district to the council and audience. When invited, no one came forward to oppose the plan.

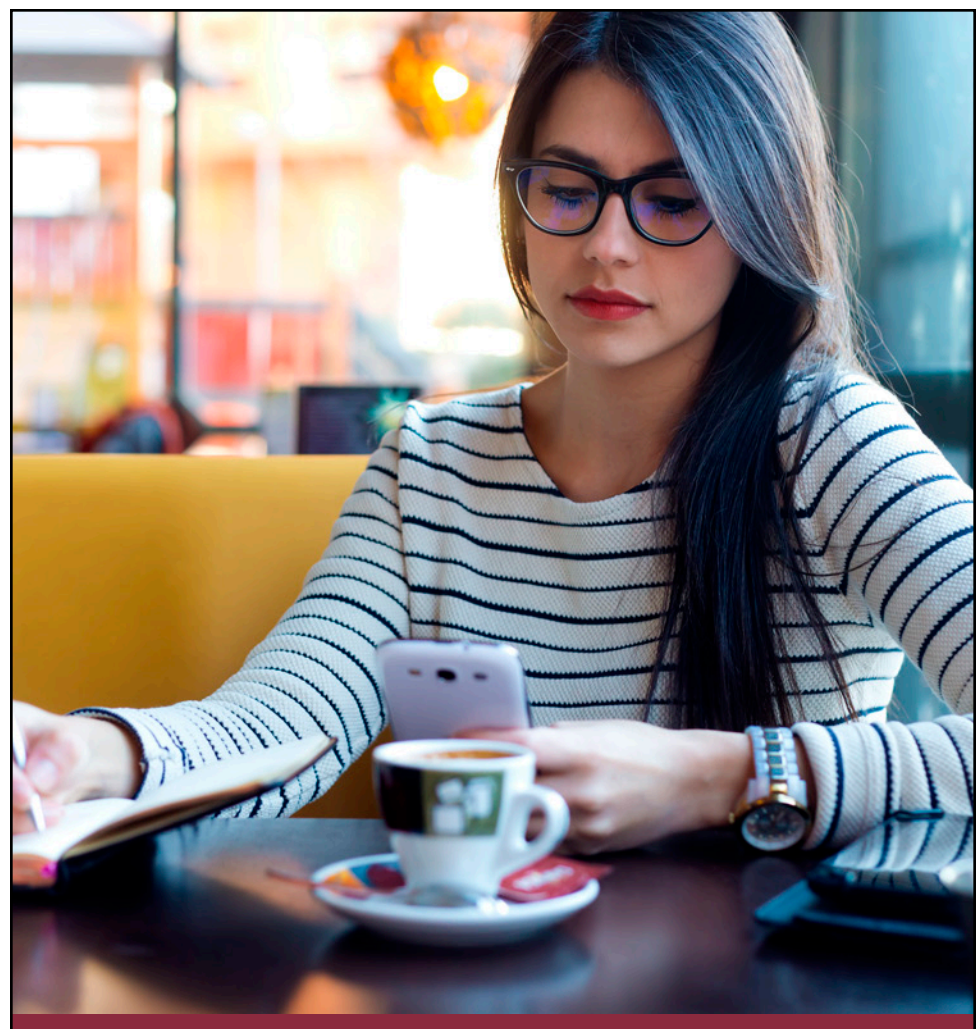

During his remarks, Jacobs took the opportunity to recognize and thank city workers who put up a tremendous number of decorations around town before and during the Christmas holiday season.

The council noted the upcoming retirement of City of Cullman Sanitation Superintendent Larry Jones after 45 years of service, and named Samuel J. Dillender the City's new sanitation superintendent. Jacobs said that a formal recognition of Jones will take place at the next council meeting.

Other council business

- The council approved the annexation of 39 acres of property near Main Avenue Southwest owned by Charlotte Cruce as a residential district.
- The council approved a request from Steve Smith of the Cullman High School Softball Boosters to hold a 10K run to support Cullman High School Softball Feb. 8, 2020 at 8 a.m., starting at Desperation Church.
- Jacobs appointed Selvie Carrera to serve on the City's Housing Authority Board.
- The council approved an ordinance to vacate a utility easement on Lot 57 in the Derby Creek Subdivision "not needed by the City of Cullman for public or municipal purposes." The site, according to City Attorney Roy Williams, does not have a utility line beneath it, and the property owner is granting the City an easement where the line actually runs.

The Cullman City Council meets at 7 p.m. the second and fourth Mondays of each month in the auditorium at Cullman City Hall. The public is invited to attend.

Students face off in Elks Hoop Shoot

Maggie Darnell
maggie@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – More than 100 students ages 8-13 participated in the Cullman Elks Hoop Shoot Sunday afternoon at Cullman Middle School. The hoop shoot is a free-throw competition, and local winners have the chance to advance through district, state, regional and national hoop shoots.

"It's exciting," said local Elks Hoop Shoot Director Donnie Handley. "We had about 120-140 kids in Cullman County shoot from 21 schools. A lot of people ask, 'How do you get 21 schools?' Well see, we have five schools like elementary, junior high and intermediate, so they don't just shoot from one school. We got all of them here and they shoot in each age bracket; there's 8-9, 10-11 and 12-13 for age brackets.

"We try to shoot them as fast as we can. We have four (basketball) goals; we split up the girls on two goals and the boys on two goals so they can go a little bit faster."

Handley talked about the different competition levels.

"It's just a great competition," he said, "they can go up six different levels. They have the school level, the local level, then district in Decatur, then the state in Birmingham, the regional in Valdosta, Georgia, and we have the national in Chicago."

"Depending on how they place determines if they get to the next level," said Cullman Elks Lodge Exalted Ruler Dale Ball.

"This is totally funded by the Elks," Handley continued. "We don't receive any money from anybody- we don't raise money; this is just funded by Elks and the Elks put it on."

"We at the lodge recruit volunteers," said Ball. "We're an all-volunteer association, so those who have an interest in it come out and help us. It's a great contest we do annually."

Handley noted it takes 25 volunteers to be able to host the hoop shoot, "It takes a head scorer, a head referee, two ball chasers (to catch rebounds) and three scorers with me and my assistant on the court."

Best Bets

7 p.m. on WBIQ
Finding Your Roots With Henry Louis Gates, Jr.

Host Henry Louis Gates Jr. challenges widely held preconceptions about America's past as he reveals unexpected details in the family trees of singer-actress Queen Latifah and Jeffrey Wright ("Westworld"). The discoveries wind up clarifying and redefining both guests' senses of the black experience in the new episode "This Land Is My Land."

7 p.m. on WBRC
The Resident

While they're working at their nonprofit clinic hours away from Atlanta, Nic and Mina (Emily VanCamp, Shaunette Renée Wilson) treat a patient whose ventricular assist device is failing and needs a new battery as soon as possible in the new episode "Best Laid Plans." Back at Chastain, Conrad (Matt Czuchry) gets a call from a desperate former patient being sued by Red Rock Medical to collect medical expenses he can't come close to paying. Manish Dayal, Bruce Greenwood and Morris Chestnut also star.

8 p.m. on WVTM
This Is Us

The hit family drama returns from midseason hiatus with a new episode called "Light & Shadows," which finds Kevin (Justin Hartley) setting out on a serious quest to find a romantic partner. Elsewhere, Randall (Sterling K. Brown) makes a trip to Los Angeles to be with Rebecca (Mandy Moore), and Kate (Chrissy Metz) meets Toby's (Chris Sullivan) friends from the gym.

8 p.m. on FOOD
Chopped

Four college students who love cooking hope they can make the grade as they take over the Chopped kitchen in the new episode "Chopped U." A challenging culinary puzzle lurks in the appetizer basket, which contains a humble pizza and a common protein. Although the competitors already are jumpy from competition nerves, the entree round includes a drink with a high caffeine load, while the dessert basket includes peanut butter and a banana. Scott Conant, Amanda Frietag and Martha Stewart are the judges.

9:01 p.m. on WVTM
New Amsterdam

Helen and Max (Freema Agyeman, Ryan Eggold) find themselves in a potentially deadly situation when the hospital goes into lockdown after patients from Rikers escape from their beds in the new episode "Code Silver." Elsewhere, Iggy (Tyler Labine) is forced to confront some issues in his marriage, and Bloom (Janet Montgomery) must set aside her pain to help a patient in need.

9:03 p.m. on HIST
Kings of Pain

This engrossing docu-series wraps up its freshman season with two new back-to-back one-hour episodes. First, "Execution Day" finds biologist Adam Thorn and animal handler "Caveman" Rob Alleva in Indonesia, dealing with the aftereffects of their two worst bites to date: venom from a giant Asian centipede and a 16-foot reticulated python. Vomiting, stitches and lots of blood ensue. Then, a special episode called "Behind the Bites" reviews some of the most compelling and dangerous moments from the duo's journey.

Sterling K. Brown stars in "This Is Us" on NBC.

The Sovereignty of God, no. 2

Tom Fillinger
Tribune Columnist

I want to Thank those who read these articles each week. Many of you express your appreciation. My prayer is that what you read and apply in your life brings blessing to you and honors the Lord Jesus Christ.

Today we continue in our study of the Sovereignty of God.

We are considering the practical value of understanding God's Sovereignty. This sets the believer free from ignorance, free from prejudice, free from error, free from the wiles of Satan, free from the power of evil. But if the truth is not "known"—then such freedom will not be enjoyed.

Observe the order of mention in the passage with which we have opened. All scripture is profitable, first for "doctrine!"

The same order is observed throughout the Epistles, particularly in the great doctrinal treatises of the apostle Paul. Read the Epistle of "Romans" and it will be found that there is not a single admonition in the first five chapters. In the Epistle of "Ephesians" there are no exhortations until the fourth chapter is reached. The order is first doctrine—and then admonition or exhortation for the regulation of the daily walk.

The substitution of so-called "practical" preaching for the doctrinal exposition which it has supplanted, is the root cause of many of the evil maladies which now afflict the church of God.

The reason why there is so little depth, so little intelligence, so little grasp of the fundamental verities of Christianity, is because so few believers have been established in the faith, through hearing expounded and through their own personal study of the doctrines of grace.

While the soul is un-established in the doctrine of the Divine Inspiration of the Scriptures—their full and verbal inspiration—there can be no firm foundation for faith to rest upon.

While the soul is ignorant of the doctrine of Justification— there can be no real and intelligent assurance of its acceptance in the Beloved. While the soul is unacquainted with the teaching of the Word upon Sanctification— it is open to receive all the crudities and errors of the Perfectionists or "Holiness" people.

While the soul knows not what Scripture has to say upon the doctrine of the New Birth— there can be no proper grasp of the two natures in the believer, and ignorance here inevitably results in loss of peace and joy. And so we might go on right through the whole range of Christian doctrine.

It is ignorance of doctrine which has rendered the professing church helpless to cope with the rising tide of infidelity. It is ignorance of doctrine which is responsible for thousands of professing Christians being captive to the numerous fallacies of the day.

Trafficking (from Front)

Supply and demand

"We have a huge problem," said Wilson. "Sex trafficking thrives because of the demand. Without demand, there would be no product."

Meeting the demand

The "hiring" practices of traffickers are among the more misunderstood issues related to human trafficking. Thanks to the entertainment industry, the popular image of trafficking almost always involves young women being snatched off the street or abducted by force from their homes and driven off into the night in a nondescript van. Some Tribune readers have even drawn on that image to question the task force's concerns and efforts, since "that doesn't happen here."

While it is true that street-level abductions are not a common issue in Cullman County, the reality of human trafficking is far more complex, and often much more subtle, than the popular image. Traffickers in places like Cullman do less kidnapping and more recruiting.

Wilson said, "Traffickers find their victims through social networks, internet, school or even in a home neighborhood. They then lure them in with the promise of gifts, protection, housing and love. Once they have secured their victim, the traffickers use threats of violence, fear and intimidation to make certain the victim complies with their demands."

Wilson also noted, "The common age for a child who enters sex trafficking is 12-14 years old."

Cullman County cases

Cullman County has three pending human trafficking cases. None appear to have involved forcible abductions, though one involves the alleged transportation of a minor across state lines.

All three Cullman County cases are still pending. Defendants are considered innocent until proven guilty in court. The Tribune presents the formal charges and allegations, while offering no opinions on guilt or innocence.

• May 9, 2017 – Kenneth Loyd Woods, a previously registered sex offender, was arrested on two counts of first-degree human trafficking along with electronic solicitation of a child, second-degree rape, transmission of obscene material to a child and enticing a child for immoral purposes. According to the complaint, he supplied alcohol and drugs to students at Fairview High School, then demanded payment from them in the form of sex acts. In the words of the law, Woods allegedly recruited, enticed, solicited and induced a minor for the purpose of sexual servitude.

• Sept. 1, 2017 – Stefanie Nichole Weaver of Vinemont was arrested on one count of first-degree human trafficking along with second-degree sodomy and facilitating the travel of a child for an unlawful sex act. According to the complaint, she met a minor on Facebook, traveled to Ohio to have sex with her, and brought her back to Alabama to continue their activities. The minor was reported in Ohio as a runaway. In the words of the law, Weaver allegedly obtained, recruited, enticed, solicited, induced, harbored, transported and maintained a minor for the purpose of sexual servitude.

• March 5, 2018 – Cullman attorney Randy Hames was arrested on two counts of second-degree human trafficking. According to the complaint, he requested rent payment from two female residents at a trailer park he owns in the form of sex. On March 10, while out on bond, he was re-arrested on an unknown number of additional human trafficking charges, including at least one in the first degree. In the words of the law, Hames allegedly attempted to subject another person to sexual servitude through use of coercion and attempted to solicit another person for the purpose of sexual servitude.

Alabama law has, for several years, criminalized human trafficking, and for victims under the age of 19, proof of coercion or deception is not required.

Wilson concluded, "Thanks to laws like this one, Alabama has an A (94.5 out of 100) for the 2019 Shared Hope International report card. In 2011, we had a D (66). Progress is being made in our state to combat human trafficking."

Unless the public and government agencies are well-informed, though, she warned, "Victims go unnoticed and unidentified, so they are instead treated as drug addicts, delinquents and criminals. It's time that we stand up and stop human trafficking once and for all."

Damage (from Front)

Mayor Kenneth Nail, who was out of town Saturday, shared on social media, "Well I have just spoke with our Public Works director Rusty Fields and police chief Bob Long and they have reported to me that there is very little damage in Hanceville a few trees down and (one) power line down on Section Line Road."

In southeast Cullman County, County Road 747 was blocked by a falling tree.

Other roads reported by readers to The Tribune as blocked or obstructed included Highway 69 near Bremen, Cupp Road (Good Hope) and County Roads 793 (near Holly Pond), 946 (Logan), 1224 (Vinemont), 1238 (north of West Point), 1682 (Holly Pond), 1725 (southeast of Baileyton) and 1727 (Holly Pond).

Hardest hit seems to have been the northeast portion of the county, including Holly Pond, Brooklyn, Baileyton and Joppa. A fallen tree blocked Summit Road near the Baileyton Good Time Dragstrip, and the area from Joppa to Arab and Union Grove in Marshall County saw numerous downed trees and several instances of significant structural damage including trees on houses, peeled or collapsed roofs and awnings and broken utility poles. One family was displaced in Joppa, but was with other family Saturday night. The Red Cross was contacted to help that family, and to survey other possible needs around the county.

The NWS said of the tornado in Joppa: "Numerous trees were snapped and uprooted as the tornado moved along Alabama Highway 69, moving from Joppa to the Hog Jaw community. The tornado caused damage to structures in this location, with numerous trees down on or beside houses in this community. EF-1 tornado damage was officially found in the city of Joppa, with wind speeds of 100 mph.

"Trees were snapped and uprooted along Highway 69, causing minor structural damage. The tornado continued rapidly moving north east, ending in Hog Jaw at a farm across from the Westside veterinary Hospital on Alabama Highway 69. Little to no damage was noted beyond this point to the northeast, aside from tin that was strewn from the barn that it last came in contact with across from the veterinary hospital. Witnesses in the city of Joppa reported a rain wrapped tornado along the tornado`s path, noting that damage ended almost as quickly as the heavy rain began and ended."

A tornado caused damage in a line from Holly Pond to Brooklyn. From Lick Creek Road on Holly Pond's southwestern side, wind blew down trees and damaged power lines, peeled sheet metal roofing from the abandoned Waterbrook Restaurant building and threw it into trees and around the base of a cell phone tower behind the building (The roofing was being removed for salvage and stacked on pallets in the parking lot; that metal was blown away as well, leaving empty pallets on the ground.), and caused extensive damage at Holly Pond High School, peeling up a sidewalk awning, collapsing part of the school's greenhouse and breaking windows out of four school buses in the west parking lot. To the west of the school two flag poles in front of the Guy Hunt Library were broken, while to the east the Pure gas station and Middle of Nowhere antique shop suffered minor roof damage. Farther east out U.S. Highway 278, a wall collapsed at Bread of Life Church and a utility pole was snapped off at the ground next to the church.

The NWS said of the Holly Pond tornado: "A tornado touched down in the Holly Pond community near the center of town. The tornado caused minimal tree and roof damage as it quickly moved through the city. Minor roof damage was caused to the old Waterbrook restaurant, also blowing off siding at this location, and wrapping it around a cell phone tower northeast of the restaurant. From there, the tornado skipped northeast, causing minimal roof damage to the southwest corner of Holly Pond High School, where less than 20% of the roof was damaged, and portions of the awning were also damaged. As a result of the survey teams findings, EF-0 tornado damage was determined at this location in Holly Pond, with damage associated with 80 mph winds. No additional damage was found northeast of this location."

Holly Pond Mayor Bill Oliver, whose own home suffered minor damage, was relieved that no one was injured, telling The Tribune, "As bad as it was, it could have been worse."

Utility crews were at work minutes after the storm passed. Witnesses in Holly Pond reported that utility trucks were already in the area, having staged ahead of the storm to make a quick response.

No injuries or fatalities were reported in Cullman County.

More damage was reported in Union Grove in Marshall County.

Here's what the NWS had to say: "The tornado initially touchdown just south west of Brindlee Mountain Primary School. At this location, the school gymnasium, 10 classrooms, and the cafeteria were destroyed. Numerous beams in the roof of the gym were also twisted and bent, and large bolts used to attach it to the foundation were ripped from the structure. EF-2 tornado damage was determined at this location, with wind speeds 120 mph.

"In addition to damage to the school, several trees were snapped or uprooted at this location near the ballfield. A set of bleachers was hurled over 150 yards from one side of the school to the other. Several dumpsters were displaced as well, along with three or four power poles snapped at their bases. This led to additional damage at the school property when the poles fell on the school awning and roof.

"Little to no additional tornado damage was noted to the northeast of the school, aside from roofing materials strewn from the damage at the primary school itself. The tornado ended as it crossed Union Grove Road west of the Union Grove Fire Station."

Clinic (from Front)

craig@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – Good Samaritan Health Clinic, which serves uninsured residents of Cullman County between the ages of 19 and 65 who meet eligibility requirements, had a busy 2019, serving almost 3,000 patients.

For those who may not be familiar, Executive Director Jolanda Hutson described Good Samaritan: "We operate as a primary care clinic providing a full range of services including medications and referrals to specialty physicians as needed. We offer care for routine illnesses, as well as comprehensive care for patients with chronic conditions like diabetes, heart disease, hypertension, high cholesterol and COPD. We also offer dental extractions, hearing evaluations, vision care for high-risk individuals, social services, patient education classes and community health screenings, all through Good Samaritan Clinic."

By the numbers

In 2019, Good Samaritan Clinic:

• Served 2,958 total patient visits, with a slight increase in CRNP visits from 2018

• Accepted 187 new patients

• Referred 351 patients to a specialist

• Referred 66 patients for dental extractions

• Had 1,174 total hours volunteered directly at clinic or at community health screenings

• Dispensed 13,327 prescriptions having a retail value of $3.7 million

"Much needed and appreciated skilled volunteers allow us to expand our service offerings," said Hutson. "Licensed nurses, (Wallace State Community College) nursing students, and (Cullman High School) Medical Academy students enable us to take our services out into the community to people who may not be aware of the clinic or our ability to provide them access to health care services. In 2019, the clinic participated in six community events by offering blood pressure, glucose and body mass index (BMI) checks and made referrals for follow-up care with patients' primary care physicians or encouraged the uninsured to apply for the clinic's services.

"In June 2018, the clinic added a social services volunteer whose role is to connect our patients with additional resources in the community, specifically our patients who require more specialized care than the clinic can provide. In 2019, 77 of our patients were assisted by our social services volunteer.

"Since May 2004, the clinic has been blessed to have a certified audiologist volunteer her time and expertise for the benefit of our patients. She performs hearing evaluations, just as a patient would receive in an ENT's office, on our patients who need them. And, if the patient is determined to need hearing aids, they receive them at no cost to them. In 2019, 18 of our patients received hearing evaluations, five patients were fit and 10 hearing aids were dispensed."

Patient gratitude

Hutson shared, "Our patients are thankful to receive the services provided by the clinic. In fact, several of our patients give back in numerous ways as a token of appreciation for the care they receive. One of our patients who works at an area restaurant periodically brings the staff and volunteers pizza or donuts as her way of saying 'thank you.' She says, 'There are no words that can explain how much I appreciate all the help from the staff at the clinic. I feel like they are family.'

"Another patient purchases everyday items like paper products and cleaning supplies and brings them with her to her appointment. As of this past year, all patients now have the opportunity to donate monetarily through the patient donation box in the clinic's waiting room. Many are taking advantage of this opportunity as indicated by increased donations during the year."

Community support

Said Hutson, "It is through generous donations, grants and the support from local organizations, churches and businesses in the community that we are able to provide health care services at no cost to our patients.

"Many local businesses donate products and services on a routine basis that allow us to use our financial resources for more direct patient care. We certainly could not provide the services we do each day without the overwhelming support of the Cullman community.

"Cullman Regional provides invaluable support to the clinic. Last year, Cullman Regional contributed more than $2.36 million, not only in monetary support, but also through in-kind services for our patients including ED visits, lab analysis, diagnostic/imaging exams, inpatient care, surgical services as well as coordinating care for our patients who need more specialized services than we can provide.

"USA Healthcare and Econo Med faithfully support the clinic. USA Healthcare has graciously provided the clinic's space rent free since the clinic's inception in 2004. In addition, they provide utilities, garbage disposal and medical waste management each month. We are thankful to be one of 17 United Way partner agencies. Not only does this relationship provide us with much needed funding, but also allows us to partner with other like-minded charitable organizations to meet the diverse needs in our community.

"We are grateful to the City of Cullman, the CCCDC (Cullman County Development Commission), CAPNA (Community Action Partnership of North Alabama), Cullman County Commission, Cullman county municipalities, Alabama Association of Free and Charitable Clinics (AAFCC), as well as the numerous businesses, churches, civic organizations, local schools and individuals who faithfully support our mission.

"We are also thankful to everyone who consistently supports and attends our signature fundraising event, the Caring for Cullman Concert benefiting the Good Samaritan Health Clinic, each year. This year's was the best yet. Through event sponsorships, ticket sales, and love offering, funds were raised to provide care for 92 Good Samaritan patients for an entire year."

The final word

Hutson said, "I am grateful for God's continued provision for Good Samaritan Clinic through the generosity of so many in our community. The Clinic's ability to meet the needs of our uninsured depends on the faithful support of the Cullman community who understands the value and need for our services and supports our efforts in countless ways. I am thankful for our faithful donors, specialized network of physicians and dentists, dedicated staff, selfless volunteers and benevolent community partners for choosing to invest in the lives of our patients. Together, we are making a valuable difference in our community."
