2 charged in connection with Cullman Electric Cooperative thefts

GRANDVIEW, Ala. – Two Grandview men have been arrested in connection with thefts of Cullman Electric Cooperative property and a stolen car.

Cullman County Sheriff's Office (CCSO) investigators on Friday arrested James Raymond Brown, 37 and Clyde Michael Brown, also 37.

Each is charged with three counts of first-degree theft of property.

A media release from the CCSO said the Cullman Electric Cooperative recently had a large generator and approximately 152 pounds of copper stolen from its Ryan's Creek substation.

It said investigators received a tip that James Brown and Clyde Brown were in possession of the stolen items, and when CCSO investigators went to their residence in the Grandview area they saw the generator in plain sight. They also located a stolen vehicle.

"Once CCSO investigators located the vehicle they continued their investigation, which led them to a local recycling business. CCSO investigators were able to identify the suspects and confirm they had taken the 152 pounds of copper to the recycling business shortly af- » PAGE 2

Local state lawmakers to introduce bills on county commission, county tax structure

What else is on tap for upcoming 2020 legislative session?

W.C. Mann
craig@cullmantribune.com

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – As the Alabama Legislature gears up for the 2020 session starting Feb. 4, The Tribune takes a look at bills set to be considered and talks to Cullman County's state legislative delegation about bills they plan to introduce, including one to increase the Cullman County Commission from three seats to five and one to alter the county's tax structure.

The 10 bills drawing the most statewide attention include (in the order in which they are trending in online sources, starting with the "hottest"):

• House Bill (HB) 39, the highest trending bill, would create a single "statewide standardized process" for the issuance of concealed carry permits, in place of the various mechanisms used by individual counties. The system would be maintained by the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency (ALEA), and would be linked to the driver's license system. Applications for permits would continue to be made and processed through county sheriff's offices.

• HB 35, which "would provide that public K-12 schools may not participate in, sponsor or provide coaching staff for interscholastic athletic events at which athletes are allowed to participate in competition against athletes who are of a different biological gender, unless the event specifically includes both biological genders." At events intended for a single biological gender, students would only be allowed to compete according to the sex indicated on their birth certificates.

• HB 43, which would allow Baldwin County to levy a tax of up to 10% on "alternative nicotine products and electronic nicotine delivery systems," as well as industrial hemp and hemp products like CBD oil, except those used for medicinal, agricultural or manufacturing purposes. Tax revenues would be used to create a mental health diversion program through a "mental health court" within the county circuit court.

• HB 45, which would create regulations to govern microblading (eyebrow tattooing) and microblading facilities. The bill would require facilities to be licensed and technicians to be certified, and would prohibit the microblading of minors without a parent's permission.

• HB 36, which would expand protections for "critical infrastructure" like power plants, transmission towers, water facilities and others by including pipelines under the definition of critical infrastructure, and by prohibiting the use of drones at altitudes of less than 400 feet over such facilities except by certain authorized persons.

• HB 20 is similar to HB 35 in that it provides that "no public K-12 school may participate in, sponsor, or provide coaching staff for interscholastic athletic events at which athletes are allowed to participate in competition against athletes who are of a different biological gender, unless the event specifically includes both biological genders; and to provide that neither the state or any of its political subdivisions may use or permit or allow to be used any property that it owns or controls for interscholastic athletic events at which athletes are allowed to participate in competition against athletes who are of a different biological gender, unless the event specifically includes both biological genders."

• HB 3, which proposes an amendment to the state Constitution for a sweeping move "to eliminate the business privilege, inheritance and estate taxes and income taxes." Additionally, according to the bill, "The Legislature shall enact general laws as necessary to implement a single rate consumption tax in Alabama. These laws shall include provisions to repeal the current state sales (and) use taxes, rental and lease taxes, lodgings tax, utility gross receipts tax, corporate tax income tax, individual income tax, mortgage and deed taxes, financial institutions excise tax, business privilege tax and insurance premium tax and replace all revenue generated from these taxes with a broad-based single rate tax based on consumption expenditures contributing to Alabama's Gross Domestic Product (GDP). The single rate consumption tax rate shall also replace state tax revenues allocated to local governments as well as levied tax revenues which are collected using the same basis as the current state taxes."

• Senate Bill (SB) 40, which would continue the existence and functioning of the Alabama Athletic Commission until Oct. 1, 2021.

• SB 10, which would set a cap on tuition ben- » PAGE 7

Wallace State hosting VEX IQ Lion's Pride Tournament Feb. 1 and Feb. 8

Russell Moore
WSCC

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – Wallace State Community College is hosting the VEX IQ Robotics Challenge Squared Away on Saturday, Feb. 1 and VEX Robotics Competition Tower Takeover, Saturday, Feb. 8 at the Wellness Center.

The VEX IQ Robotics Challenge, tabbed the Wallace State Lion's Pride Tournament IQ and administered by the Computer Science STEM Club, will feature elementary and early middle school robotics students on Saturday and late middle school and high school robotics students on Feb. 8. Both events begin at 8 a.m.

The Robotics Education and Competition (REC) Foundation's mission is to increase student interest and involvement in science, technology, engineering and math (STEM), by engaging students in hands-on, affordable and sustainable robotics engineering programs.

VEX IQ is a snap-together robotics system designed to provide opportunities to students in elementary and early middle school.

The VEX IQ competition allows students to build and program robots, encouraging teamwork, problem solving and leadership as teams construct and operate their robots.

"We have 31 teams registered for the VEX IQ event this Saturday and 23 for the Feb. 8 event. Teams can still register for both dates.

"Any school that has the VEX hardware can charter a team, register for the event and compete," said Terry Ayers, Wallace State's Computer Science Chairperson and event organizer.

"I look forward to seeing the robots that are built and the creativity each school demonstrates during the competition, especially the elementary-aged teams."

In addition to the game competition, teams are judged on items like robot design, programming and engineering notebook as part as their overall scores.

The top game winner and overall excellence winner on both dates – as long as they're an Alabama-based school – will advance to the state VEX competition at Auburn University on Feb. 25.

Saturday's field includes teams from Huntsville, Fultondale, Selma, Wetumpka, Hartselle, Attalla, Greenville and South Pittsburg, Tennessee among others.

CULLMAN, Ala. – A Hanceville man was arrested this week, charged with sexual abuse of a child less than 12 years old.

Jesse Lee Moore, 34, was arrested by Cullman County Sheriff's Office (CCSO) deputies and investigators.

The CCSO said the arrest came after a short investigation with the assistance of Cullman County DHR.

"It was discovered that the suspect, Mr. Moore, had sexually molested the minor more than once. The victim came forward to CCSO investigators with the help of family," said a media release from the CCSO.

Due to the graphic nature of the crime, no details will be released.

Moore is being held in the Cullman County Detention Center on a $15,000 bond.

ter the Ryan's Creek substation had (its) copper stolen. CCSO investigators were also able to confirm the stolen car in the suspects' possession came from I-65 after it had broken down and was left on the side of I-65," said the release.

"Anytime we are able to arrest thieves and recover property, we feel that's a win for the community," said Sheriff Matt Gentry.

"I would also like to thank the investigators who constantly work hard to make our community safer by arresting these suspects."

Other charges may be pending as the investigation continues.

Clyde Brown is being held in the Cullman County Detention Center without bond. James Brown has made bond.

CULLMAN, Ala. – Forty-five years. That's dedication, and such commitment warrants recognition. City officials and sanitation department workers did just that Friday, recognizing retiring Cullman City Sanitation Department Superintendent Larry Jones for his milestone. Attendees included Cullman Mayor Woody Jacobs, former Cullman Mayor Max Townson and former Cullman City Sanitation Department Superintendent Delwin Kilgo.

"I already miss the ones I work with," said Jones. "You stop and think about it- you're at work really more than you are at home, and they treat you like another family. I know I'm going to miss it; it means a lot to me."

Administrative Assistant to Jacobs, Leanne West, said, "He will be greatly missed. He's just an awesome guy who worked his way up through the department. He's done it all. Plus, he's humble, nice and funny. We need more like him in this world."

Jacobs smiled and said he wished he could do more to celebrate Jones' retirement.

"Larry came to the council meeting Monday night and they kind of put their blessing on all this, and unfortunately the State won't let us really buy you anything from the City," he said "You're going to do well and you have a path ahead of you Good luck with that."

Jacobs gave Jones a City of Cullman commemorative coin, joking, "I wish I could buy you a gold watch, but I'd get in trouble!"

Jones said he is looking forward to spending time with his grandkids.

The City announced Jan. 13 that Samuel J. Dillender will take Jones' place.

Funny Things from Yesterday: The missing B.C.

Robert N. Tidwell, Sr.
robertntidwellsr@gmail.com

I am not the author of this article and I do not know where it came from, but I though some might get a laugh out of it.

There is less misunderstanding when you tell it like it is. If you don't tell it like it is, there can be a serious communication gap.

A newly married couple was looking for a home in the country.

After finding what they thought was suitable they moved in and made it their home.

Upon arriving, they noticed that they didn't have a bathroom commode, so, the wife wrote the landlord, but being shy and modest she hesitated to mention commode. Instead, she put B. C. The landlord, not knowing what she meant by B.C., pondered for a while and decided she meant Baptist church.

He answered, "Dear Madam, I regret very much the delay in answering your letter, but I take pride in informing you the B.C. is located 9 miles from your house and capable of seating 250 people.

This is very unfortunate indeed if you are in the habit of going regularly, but no doubt you will be interested in knowing that a great number of people take their lunch and make a day of it. They usually arrive early and stay late.

The last time my wife and I went six years ago, we had to stand the whole time. It may interest you to know a supper has been planned to raise money for more seats. I would like to say it pains me very much to be unable to go regularly, but it surely is not a lack of desire on my part. As we grow older, it seems more of an effort, particularly in cold weather. I hope to see you there, and if possible, we will sit together.

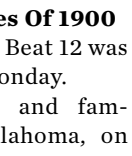

Very Truly Yours,

Your Landlord

BILLY BOB'S STORIES AND STUFF

Would you like biscuits or cornbread?

Bill King
Tribune Contributor

I need to make a confession. I need to come clean and tell you something about myself that you may not know. Let me preface my confession by saying I'm not necessarily proud of what I'm about to tell you. I'm a little embarrassed about it, and I'm hoping you won't think less of me once you've found out. Oh, my goodness! No, it's nothing like that. What are you thinking? Here it is: I don't like cornbread. There, I said it. As Gomer Pyle once said to Barney, "I said it, and I ain't taking it back." I don't know about you, but I feel better. Confession really is good for the soul. While I'm at it, I might as well get it all out. I don't like okra either. I don't care if you fry it, pickle it, bake it, or boil it and serve it slimy, I don't like it in any shape, form, or fashion. I'd rather eat cornbread. Trying to eat boiled okra is like trying to chew a raw oyster…you can't. Oh, did you add raw oysters to my list?

Now, before you start asking questions or making unkind accusations about me, just for the record, yes, I most definitely am southern. I was born in Fort Payne, Alabama and grew up on Sand Mountain. That's more southern than Miami, Florida. I've lived in Georgia, Mississippi (a stone's throw from Tennessee), and Louisiana, but never outside the southeast. I even have a subscription to Southern Living magazine.

As long as Rick Bragg is in there each month, it will be in my mailbox each month. I am southern to the bone, but to add insult to injury, I kind of do like northern-cornbread. Yes, I know they put sugar, or molasses, in theirs and it tastes more like cake than cornbread, but I love cake.

Maybe this will make you feel better about me…I do love biscuits. When the restaurant server asks "Biscuits or cornbread," I always answer, without hesitation, "Biscuits." When I was growing up, Mama made biscuits almost every morning. She didn't take them out of a bag in the freezer or whop them on the counter, but she made them from scratch. I loved Mama's biscuits, but I've loved my Aunt Lula's more. Aunt Lula lived over in Georgia. She made cathead biscuits. As a boy, one of those rascals was all I could eat, but I always wished I could eat another one. I mentioned cathead biscuits once when I was doing a program up in Cadillac, Michigan. This little lady in the crowd turned up her nose and said "Ugh!" I knew what she must have been thinking, so I had to enlighten her. I said, "Ma'am, we call them that because they are about the size of a cat's head. They are made from flour and milk."

I don't want to leave you with a bad taste in your mouth. I will eat cornbread under certain conditions, or under certain other things. If it is under a pile of pinto beans, with lots of juice, or a gob of greens swimming in pot liquor (pronounced pot likker), bring it on. I can handle hushpuppies and I love cornbread-dressing, so you see, I'm not totally opposed to cornbread. Would you pass the biscuits, please?

When Jesus was in the wilderness and hungry, he quoted Deuteronomy and said, "Man shall not live by bread alone." Jesus obviously ate bread (although I don't think they had cornbread or biscuits back then). Jesus knew that bread is a staple of life, and we should know that He is too. He said of himself, "I am the bread of life."

Poet's Corner

Eldorado

By: Edgar Allan Poe

Eldorado was written in 1849 and Poe's response to the California Gold Rush.

Gaily bedight,
A gallant knight,
In sunshine and in shadow,
Had journeyed long,
Singing a song,
In search of Eldorado.

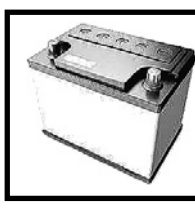

But he grew old—
This knight so bold—
And o'er his heart a shadow—
Fell as he found
No spot of ground
That looked like Eldorado.

And, as his strength
Failed him at length,
He met a pilgrim shadow—
'Shadow,' said he,
'Where can it be—
This land of Eldorado?'

'Over the Mountains
Of the Moon,
Down the Valley of the Shadow,
Ride, boldly ride,'
The shade replied,—
'If you seek for Eldorado!'

GOOD HOPE, Ala. – Thursday night was senior night at Good Hope and both the Raiders and Lady Raiders welcomed Mortimer Jordan for a pair of varsity matchups before area tournaments tip next week. The Lady Raiders fought tooth and nail with Mortimer Jordan for three quarters but were outpaced in the final frame, falling 61-42 while the Raiders pulled away from the Blue Devils in the second half to collect a 79-66 win. The Lady Raiders will head to Fairview High School for their area tournament to take on Oneonta Monday at 5:30 and the Raiders will travel to Oneonta High School for a matchup with Fairview Tuesday at 5:30.

Mortimer Jordan 61 – Good Hope 42 (varsity girls)
The Lady Blue Devils took an early 2-0 lead in a low-scoring first quarter, but Good Hope was able to pull ahead 6-4 late in the opening period after a three-pointer from Heather Tetro. Mortimer Jordan was able to seize some momentum going into the second quarter, ending the first on a 10-0 and taking a 14-6 lead.

A layup from Bailey Tetro made it 16-8 early in the second but the Lady Blue Devils were able to get back in front by 10 midway through the second. Back to back buckets from Cayleigh Garmon cut the lead to 23-14 with just under three minutes remaining in the half and Ivey Maddox drilled a three to make it a 23-17 game at the half.

Mortimer Jordan started the second half hot, but Abbi Neighbors laid one in to stop the run and make it 29-19 early in the third. Another three from Heather Tetro trimmed the lead 29-22 around the five-minute mark and she followed it up with a steal and layup that held the lead to eight midway through the period. Savanna Derrick netted a pair of free throws to cut it to 34-29 with three minutes to play in the third quarter and Heather Tetro knocked down her third triple of the game to make it a 37-32 game.

Another basket from Garmon made it 42-34 with 40 seconds remaining in the quarter and the Good Hope went into the fourth trailing the Lady Blue Devils by eight.

The final frame belonged to Mortimer Jordan. A 12-0 run to start the final period stretched the lead to 20 before Derrick laid one in to stop the bleeding and trim the lead to 54-36 with just over four minutes to play. Maddox dropped in a floater to make it 59-40 with just over two minutes on the clock and Derrick was able to score one more time but it wasn't enough to keep pace with the Lady Blue Devils and the Lady Raiders fell 61-42.

Heather Tetro led Good Hope with 11 points in the loss. Garmon finished with eight, Derrick added seven, Bailey Tetro posted six and Maddox scored five.

Good Hope 79 – Mortimer Jordan 66 (varsity boys)
A bucket from Drew Maddox gave the Raiders an early 4-0 lead but the Blue Devils were able to rally and pull ahead 7-6. Michael Lowe knocked down a jumper midway through the first to give Good Hope a 1-point lead and Dawson Turner buried a three from the left corner to stretch the lead to 13-7 later in the period.

Lowe hit another turnaround jumper to make it 15-9 with less than two minutes to play in the opening quarter but Mortimer Jordan ended the first on a big run and the Raiders led just 17-16 at the start of the second.

Good Hope began to create separation in the second quarter. A basket from Cole Maddox tied the game at 19 early in the period but Tanner Malin got a floater to fall that gave the Raiders a 2-point lead around the five-minute mark.

Back to back treys from Cole Maddox stretched the lead to 29-19 with three minutes remaining in the half and his third triple of the second quarter made it 36-25 with a minute on the clock. Eli Phares pulled down a big offensive rebound and put it back through a foul with six seconds to play in the half. Phares drilled the free throw and gave Good Hope a 39-25 advantage at the break.

A pair of Cole Maddox free throws made it 43-32 early in the third and Lowe laid one in to keep the Raiders in front 47-40 midway through the quarter. Malin buried a three-pointer to extend the lead to 10 late in the period and Drew Maddox scored in the final seconds of the third quarter to put Good Hope on top 52-45 going into the fourth.

Cole Maddox scored back to back buckets to make it 56-45 at the start of the fourth quarter and Lawton Farr and Turner followed him with back to back threes that stretched the lead to 62-48. Another three-point from Farr gave the Raiders a 69-55 lead with just under three minutes to play and Good Hope pulled away to win it comfortably, 79-66.

Cole Maddox led the Raiders with 28 points in the win, followed by Phares with 12, Lowe with 10, Malin with seven and Farr, Turner and Drew Maddox each posted six.

Movie: Alita: Battle Angel

Adapted from a popular 1990s manga series by Yukito Kishiro, director Robert Rodriguez's 2019 cyberpunk action flick has no less a power player than James Cameron as a producer and co-writer, but the project still went through a tortured preproduction process between its 2003 announcement and the commencement of filming in 2016. Rosa Salazar ("Man Seeking Woman") provides the voice of the titular cyborg heroine, who awakens in an unfamiliar body. Jennifer Connelly, Christoph Waltz, Mahershala Ali and Jackie Earle Haley co-star.

Movie: The Best of Enemies

Robin Bissell made his feature film directorial debut with this 2019 historical drama, which also marked a professional reunion for leading lady Taraji P. Henson and her "Empire" producer Danny Strong, who works in the same capacity here. The actress stars as Durham, N.C., civil rights activist Ann Atwater, who clashed bitterly with KKK leader C.P. Ellis (Sam Rockwell) until the two agreed in 1971 to co-chair a two-week community meeting about a school desegregation. The event changed both their lives. Anne Heche and Wes Bentley also star.

Movie: Pride and Prejudice and Zombies

In 19th-century England, Elizabeth Bennet, mistress of martial arts and weaponry, teams up with zombie killer Mr. Darcy to battle the undead in this 2016 adaptation of Seth Grahame-Smith's 2009 literary mash-up of Jane Austen and horror flicks. Alas, this period comedy spoof proved more dead than alive at the box-office and failed to recoup its $28 million budget. Lily James ("Downton Abbey") and Sam Riley ("Maleficent") star.

Cat Bowl II

Among the featured "alternative programming" leading up to tomorrow's NFL championship game telecast, Beth Stern, Larissa Wohl and Cameron Mathison co-host this one-hour special spotlighting a group of adorable — and even more important, adoptable — adult "cat-letes" vying in a feline gridiron game for the ages (or at least for an hour late on Saturday night). The program also showcases stories of senior and special needs cats that have overcome staggering odds and would love a forever home at last.

Sam Rockwell stars in "The Best of Enemies" on Showtime.

Session (from Front)

efits paid to certain members of the National Guard, allowing reimbursements to students at private colleges to equal only the amount of tuition charged at the currently most expensive public institution in the state. The bill would also extend tuition benefits to high school students who are Guard members and are in dual enrollment educational programs.

• HB 51, which would "establish a preference for bidders on state contracts which are geographically disadvantaged business enterprises and would require state contracts for goods or services to be let to geographically disadvantaged business enterprises if the bid is within three percent of the lowest responsible bid." "Geographically disadvantaged business enterprises" are defined as those located in "opportunity zones" with 20% poverty rates and average incomes less than 80% of the regional median income.

Bills prefiled by Cullman County's state legislative delegation

Rep. Scott Stadthagen, R-Hartselle filed HB 25, which would increase the crime of eluding a law enforcement officer from a Class A misdemeanor to a Class C felony. In cases where the flight or attempt to elude causes death or physical injury to an innocent person, the bill would change the crime from a Class C felony to a Class B felony.

Stadthagen also sponsored HB 34, which amends current law concerning driving without a license. Current law allows law enforcement officers to remove a person from a vehicle and impound the vehicle if the person has a suspended or expired driver's license. The amendment would extend the penalty to persons who have never procured a driver's license.

Once the session starts

Sen. Garlan Gudger, R-Cullman; Rep. Corey Harbison, R-Good Hope; and Rep. Randall Shedd, R-Fairview have not prefiled bills. Bills do not have to be prefiled, though, and can be introduced during the session.

Shedd told The Tribune about legislation he is working on, including a bill for the Alabama Department of Senior Services that would make establishing a quorum easier, a possible bill to make improvements to the ALDOT Accountability Act and an unspecified bill requested by the Cullman County coroner.

Shedd also said, "I'm working closely with House Majority Leader Nathaniel Ledbetter on mental health and will either be helping him with his mental health legislation or I will introduce it if he needs me to.

"I've been chair of the Committee working on improving service and reducing wait times in the driver's license exam offices in the state. I'm working on a bill dealing with that issue that I plan to introduce.

"We're discussing several local bills. I expect one I will introduce is legislation to change the county commission in Cullman County to a five-member commission. Most likely it would be full-time chair with part-time commissioners required to live in the four areas of the county- northwest, southwest, northeast, southeast portions of the county- so that every area of the county has an opportunity to have representation on the commission."

Harbison told The Tribune that he plans to introduce two bills, including a local bill that would modify the tax structure in Cullman County, so that newly-incorporated municipalities would have to generate their own tax bases instead of drawing from the tax pool shared by all municipalities.

"We're the only county in the state set up like we are," he said. "You've got a county-wide sales tax that everybody basically shares off of. All other counties in the state, they've got a small county tax, plus each municipality has their own tax within their municipalities."

All currently-existing municipalities would continue to share the tax as they have done.

Harbison also plans to introduce a statewide bill that would require municipalities establishing their own school systems, separate from their county systems, to fund their own central offices and central office staffs from federal or local sources. Teachers and classrooms would continue to be state-funded.

Harbison said, "Every time a city school (system) forms and breaks away, the state has been putting money into their central office for administrative staff for administrative cost, which is equivalent to $250,000 to $300,000 a year per city system that we're paying out of the Education Trust Fund into administrative cost to these new central offices."

Harbison estimates that the state currently spends up to $20 million per year on "duplicated services."

Currently existing municipal systems would not be affected.

Gudger, who reported that he has been appointed to a legislative mental health commission with Shedd and Stadthagen, told The Tribune that he is working on a mental health bill: "My goal on that is to be able to pull some mental health funding so that we are able to do that into the school systems so they have counselors inside the school system."

Gudger said that he also plans to introduce a bill to require licensing of vaping shops.

"Right now, they don't pay any licensing fees, registration fees; they're not regulated by the state," he said. "They're kind of just the wild, wild west, and I just want to kind of get them under some type of like an ABC-type control, that somebody's just regulating them, doing sting operations like they do with alcohol, and just making sure that they're selling to the right people."

Gudger expressed particular concern about vaping among minors.

The senator also said that the small business commission to which Lt. Gov. Will Ainsworth appointed him hopes to produce some small business legislation during the session.

In recent local presentations:

Stadthagen said that, in his role on the mental health commission, he will be working on the Stepping Up Initiative, which is intended to reduce the number of mentally ill persons in jails and prisons.

Shedd mentioned several issues he expects the Legislature to take on, including gambling, medical marijuana, prisons and prison reform, rural health care, Medicaid expansion, the education budget, the general fund budget and mental health.

Harbison talked about medical marijuana, saying, "I'm interested to see what comes out of the final studies on that, because if it helps people and gets them off of other prescription medication, me personally, I would be willing to entertain what helps people. That's what we are down there to do, is to help people do what's best."

Harbison also expressed concern about what he referred to as the "monopoly" on gaming held by the Poarch Band of Creek Indians, and mentioned the idea of a lottery, saying, "Whatever we do with that, it will be a constitutional amendment and the people will get the final vote to decide what they want to do."

Gudger said he will push for projects to resurface County Road 1564 (Welcome Road) in Fairview and Alabama Highway 69 near Bremen. He also expressed concerns about a lottery.
