Cullman City Council approves study for traffic light at Cherokee Ave./24th St. SW, hears protest of RV park

Maggie Darnell, W.C. Mann

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Cullman City Council on Monday evening passed a resolution to enter into a contract with Sain Associates for a traffic signal warrant evaluation and timing plans for the intersection of Cherokee Avenue/Alabama Highway 69 and 24th Street Southwest in the amount of $32,600. A traffic signal warrant evaluation is made to determine if the installation of a signal at a particular intersection can be justified. If the signal is to be installed, the timing plan helps determine how long the various approaches to the intersection should have right of way, and if particular approaches should receive priority.

The Cherokee Avenue/24th Street intersection is known to be quite busy at various times, and was the scene of a December 2018 wreck that claimed the life of Hanceville resident April Dawn Landinger, who was a passenger in one of the vehicles. Both drivers were charged with criminally negligent homicide, with additional individual charges of failure to yield right of way and exceeding reasonable and prudent speed.

The light is also needed for industrial development projects.

CCPS faculty, staff participate in 'poverty simulator' to gain better understanding of students in need

W.C. Mann
craig@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – Cullman City Primary School (CCPS) faculty and staff spent their Presidents Day holiday at school, learning about the predicaments of Cullman's low-income families and their children who attend Cullman-area schools. Taking part in a "poverty simulator," they formed families and had to figure out how to live through the course of a month while working, paying bills that might represent more money than they had, keeping kids fed and in school and finding resources for the needs that they could not meet themselves.

Representatives of local agencies, businesses and churches played the roles of employers, bankers, grocers, payday loan and pawn brokers, social workers, school administrators, health care providers, bill collectors and law enforcement officers (Yes, police! If your young child stayed home alone while you went to work, even on a school holiday, you would be arrested.)

In materials provided to The Tribune, the Missouri Association for Community Action (MACA), which offers the program, said, "The Community Action Poverty Simulation (CAPS) was developed to help raise awareness » PAGE 7

Fairview falls to Anniston 57-35 in Northeast Regional Semifinals

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

JACKSONVILLE, Ala. – Fairview and Anniston met in a rematch of last year's Northeast Regional Final early Monday morning and the Lady Aggies were looking for some revenge against the defending state champions. Fairview hung with the Lady Bulldogs in a messy game that saw over 30 combined turnovers but couldn't keep pace with them forever. The Lady Aggies were held scoreless for the final four minutes of play and Anniston pulled away to take a 57-35 win.

It was a tough loss for Fairview, but Head Coach Justin Billings is proud of the way his team fought and all they were able to accomplish this season.

"Even though we didn't win today I am still extremely proud of my girls," Billings said. "We have worked really hard this season and we have had some amazing memories. Hopefully we enjoyed this experience and we can use this loss as motivation for next year."

Baskets from Katie Ball and Molly McKelvy kept the game tied at 4 early in the opening period but Anniston was able to create a little separation as the quarter progressed. Both teams were plagued by turnovers in the early morning start, but the Lady Bulldogs were able to pull ahead 8-4 midway through the first and stretched it to 12-4 with just under three minutes to play in the period. McKelvy buried a deep three to cut the lead to 12-8 late in the first quarter but Anniston was in front 14-8 by the start of the second.

Ball drilled a three-pointer to make it a 3-point game at the start of the second quarter and added a pair of free throws to cut it to 14-13. Daisy Manasco dropped in a floater to keep Fairview within one but the Lady Bulldogs managed to get back in front 20-15 with just over four minutes to play in the half. A pair of free throws Golden trimmed the lead to three with three minutes remaining in the period and she knocked down a three on the ensuing possession to make it a 22-20 game. Anniston ended the quarter on a 5-0 run and laid one in just before the buzzer to take a 27-20 lead into halftime.

Golden netted two more free throws to make it 29-24 early in the third and a three-pointer by Morgan Lindsay kept the Lady Aggies within six midway through the quarter. The Lady Bulldogs pulled ahead 37-27 with three minutes to play in the quarter but back to back buckets from Golden held the lead to 41-31 going into the final frame.

Anniston led 43-32 early in the fourth but McKelvy drilled another three to make it 45-35 with under five minutes to play. Unfortunately, that was the last basket of the day for Fairview. The Lady Bulldogs locked down the Lady Aggies defensively and finished the game on a 12-0 run to win it 57-35 and advance to the Northeast Regional Finals.

Golden led Fairview with 11 points in the loss. Ball and McKelvy each posted eight, Lindsay added three, Manasco and Maddie Yeager each finished with two and Isabella McGukin scored one.

The Lady Aggies finish the season with yet another trip to the Northeast Regional and a 19-12 record and even though they'll lose Ball, Golden and McGukin to graduation in May, there is a lot of talent retuning to the hardwood for Fairview next season.

Good Hope's postseason run ends in sweet 16 with 66-58 loss to Anniston

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

JACKSONVILLE, Ala. – The Good Hope Raiders were on the court for a Regional Tournament game for the first time since 2008 this morning and it was at Jacksonville State University's Pete Matthews Coliseum to face the Anniston Bulldogs. The Raiders overcame a slow start and a big Anniston run at the end of the first half to get within six of the Bulldogs with less than a minute on the clock but couldn't get any closer than that. Thanks in large part to a strong performance at the free throw line, Anniston was able to hold on and eliminate Good Hope 66-58.

Both teams struggled to score early in the first period and Cole Maddox laid one in to tie the game at 2 midway through the quarter. A 10-0 run gave the Bulldogs a 12-2 lead late in the first, but Drew Maddox drilled a three in the final seconds of the quarter to stop the bleeding and make it a 12-5 game at the start of the second.

Drew stayed hot, knocking down another triple early in the second to cut it to 15-8 and Cole Maddox added a three of his own to make it a 15-13 game with six minutes to play in the half. Drew Maddox buried another three-pointer to make it a 1-point game midway through the second quarter, but the Bulldogs finished the half on a 12-3 run to take a 29-19 lead into the locker room at the break.

Anniston held a 32-21 lead early in the third, but Dawson Turner nailed a three to make it 34-24 with just over five minutes to play in the period. Cole Maddox put one in to hold the lead to 10 with three minutes in the quarter but the Bulldogs pulled back in front 40-26. Turner drilled another three to cut it to 40-29 and a bucket by Lawton Farr made it a 40-31 game with just over a minute to play in the third. Anniston stretched its lead back to 13 late in the quarter but Turner banked one in just before the buzzer to trim the lead to 44-33 going into the fourth.

Cole Maddox tried to take over at the start of the final frame. He laid one in to hold the lead to 12 at the start of the period and knocked down four straight free throws to make it a 49-42 game with five minutes to play.

Unfortunately for the Raiders, foul trouble began to rear its head midway through the fourth quarter and make things even more difficult against a great Bulldogs team.

Anniston built a 56-42 lead before Tanner Malin drilled one from beyond the arc to cut it to 11 with three minutes to play. After a free throw from Lowe made it a 10-point game, Cole Maddox knocked down a three to cut it 56-49 with two minutes to play. Lowe added another free throw with just over a minute to play to make it a 58-50 game and Cole Maddox hit two from the line to trim the lead to 58-52.

Maddox traded two more free throws with the Bulldogs to make it a 60-54 game with 45 seconds and after another Anniston bucket, Cole laid another one it to hold the lead to six with less than 30 seconds to play. Two more free throws stretched the Bulldog lead to eight with 24 seconds on the clock and Good Hope just didn't have enough time to keep chipping away. Anniston held on to win it 66-58 and will advance to play in the Northeast Regional Finals.

Cole Maddox the Raiders with 28 points in the loss, adding to his new career record total at Good Hope. Drew Maddox finished with 11, Turner posted eight, Lowe added six, Malin scored three and Farr finished with two.

The Raiders finish the season with a county championship, a sweet 16 appearance, a record of 26-5 and even though a large and highly decorated class of seniors; Drew Maddox, Cole Maddox, Harper Chiaranda, Dawson Turner, Eli Phares, Michael Lowe, Max Bavar and Colton Williams, will be departing in May, the foundation they've laid makes the future look bright for Good Hope Basketball.

JACKSONVILLE, Ala. – After surviving a thriller in the sub-regional at home against Locust Fork, the Hanceville Bulldogs traveled East Saturday night to face the top-ranked Piedmont Bulldogs in the Northeast Regional semifinals. After trailing for most of the game, Hanceville climbed back to tie the game at the end of regulation and extended the game into not one, but two overtime periods. The free throw line is where Hanceville was able to finally create some separation in double overtime and the Bulldogs kept their postseason hopes alive with a 52-50 win.

Hanceville Head Coach Stephen Chandler was proud of the resilience his team showed throughout the game that kept them in arms reach and gave them a chance to rally and win it late in the fourth quarter and overtime.

"We tried to just take things one at a time. Get a stop, try to get a bucket and really try to keep no. 1 from getting going again.

"He's a really good scorer and their best player so we tried to keep it out of his hands and did a good job on him. Then on the other end we just had different guys stepping up," Chandler said.

"Zach Campbell, Raiden Morgan, Cainon Moore and Izayah Glenon all stepped up and made some timely buckets and I'm just really proud of all the guys for pushing through and finding ways to stay in it."

The Bulldogs have now played three overtimes in their last two games so they're getting used to playing under pressure. It'd be hard to pick against Hanceville in any close game right now and Chandler credits his players' poise for their late-game success.

"This whole year we've tried to play a tough schedule along with the teams in our county and that's been good for us.

"We're just kind of figuring out ways to win at the end and not freaking out and always being in control," Chandler said. "We've kind of got that right now, just an idea of how to figure it out late in games."

Both teams were knotted at 12 at the end of the first but turnovers allowed Piedmont to pull ahead as the second quarter progressed and take a 30-23 lead into the locker room at halftime.

Piedmont maintained a 7-point lead after three quarters, but Hanceville was able to chip away in the final frame and tie the game at 46 by the end of regulation, sending the game into overtime.

Neither team was able to get on the board early in the overtime period, but Izayah Glenon knocked down a pair of free throws to give Hanceville a 2-point lead with around two minutes remaining. Piedmont laid one in to tie the game at 48 with just a few seconds to play but Hanceville wasn't able to answer on the other end and the game went into double overtime.

Raiden Morgan scored to retake the lead for Hanceville at the start of double overtime, but Piedmont netted a pair of free throws to tie the game at 50 with just over a minute to play.

After creating a turnover, Hanceville took over possession with 50 seconds on the clock and Glenon hit one of two shots from the free throw line to give Hanceville a 51-50 lead with 25 seconds remaining.

Piedmont missed a pair of shots on the other end and Zach Campbell was fouled with six seconds on the clock.

Campbell drilled one of two from the line to make it a 52-50 game and after Piedmont's final heave fell short, Hanceville was able to celebrate a huge upset victory and begin shifting focus towards the Northeast Regional Finals next week.

Morgan led the Bulldogs with 17 points in the win, 11 of which came in the second half and overtime. Campbell finished with 14, Cainon Moore posted 10 and Glenon added seven.

Hanceville will take on Midfield Wednesday at 2:40 with a spot at the state tournament in Birmingham on the line.

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – Your defending state champion in Class 2A hit the floor at Wallace State's Tom Drake Coliseum Friday night to compete in the Northwest Regional semifinals and after overcoming a slow start, the Cold Springs Lady Eagles were able to pull away from Tanner as the game progressed and advance to the elite eight. Cold Springs trailed midway through the opening quarter but after taking the lead later in the first, the Lady Eagles never gave it back and went on to win it 54-42.

The Lady Eagles took an early 2-0 lead after Lacey Rice netted a pair of free throws, but Tanner managed to move in front 4-2 midway through the period. Kylon Hamby scored inside to tie the game at four and on Cold Springs' next possession, she buried a three-pointer from the top of the key to take a 7-5 lead. Brooke Crider drilled one from three-point range to stretch the lead to 10-7 with just over a minute to play in the first and West added a triple of her own to make it 13-7. West drove to the basket and scored again in the final seconds of the opening period and Cold Springs took a 15-9 advantage into the second.

Crider knocked down another trey to make it an 18-12 game early in the second quarter and she added a pair of free throws to keep the Lady Eagles in front 20-14 with less than five minutes remaining in the first half.

Elizabeth Hill laid one in through a foul and hit the free throw give Cold Springs a 23-14 lead and two more Crider free throws made it 26-14 with less than three minutes to play in the period. Neely Ellison knocked down two from the charity stripe to maintain a 28-17 lead for the Lady Eagles late in the second before Hill and Crider each scored another basket and three-pointer respectively to make it a 33-21 game at the break.

An Ellison bucket kept Cold Springs in front 35-23 at the start of the third and another score by Hamby made it 37-24 with just over minutes in the quarter.

Ellison drilled a three from the right wing to extend the lead to 40-25 midway through the period and Hamby pulled down an offensive board and put it back to make it 42-29 with under two minutes on the clock.

Emi Harbison scored inside to add to the lead with a minute remaining in the third quarter but a three by Tanner in the final seconds of the period trimmed the lead to 44-35 at the start of the fourth.

Rice knocked down a pair of free throws to give the Lady Eagles a 46-37 lead at the start of the final period and another West bucket made it 48-37 with six minutes to play in the game. After Cold Springs was able to kill a lot of time dribbling around and away from Lady Rattler defenders, West added two more free throws to extend the lead to 50-39 with three minutes on the clock. Hill laid one in to make it 52-39 game with less than two minutes remaining and after she buried a pair of shots from the free throw line to stretch the lead to 15 with a minute to play, the Lady Eagles cruised to a 54-42 win.

Crider led Cold Springs with 13 points in the win, followed by West with 10 and Hill and Hamby each posted nine. Ellison added seven, Rice finished with four and Harbison scored two for the Lady Eagles.

Cold Springs will face Hatton in the Northwest Regional finals Tuesday at 4 p.m. with a spot at the State Tournament in Birmingham up for grabs.

West Point rallies to defeat Mortimer Jordan 51-48 and advance to Northwest Regional Finals

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – Play at this year's Northwest Regional Tournament resumed Saturday morning and at noon, the West Point Lady Warriors tipped off their regional semifinal clash against Mortimer Jordan. After trailing at halftime and falling behind early in the fourth quarter, West Point rallied late to knock off the Lady Blue Devils and advance to the elite eight.

The Lady Warriors fell behind 3-0 early in the opening quarter but Mackenzie Carter laid one in to cut the lead to one and Lexi Shadix netted a free throw to tie things up around the five-minute mark. Carter scored inside again to give West Point a 5-3 advantage midway through the first and a Miriam Oldacre basket kept the Lady Warriors in front 7-6.

Molly Pendley down an offensive board and scored to make it 9-6 with less than three minutes to play in the period.

Pendley knocked down a three to add to the lead with two minutes on the clock and Carter buried two more from the free throw line to make it a 14-6 with just over a minute remaining in the first and West Point carried a 14-8 lead into the second.

Shadix drilled a three-pointer to keep the Lady Warriors in front 17-11 early in the second quarter and Carter knocked down two more free throws to make it 21-16 midway through the period. The Lady Blue Devils were to able to cut the lead to two late in the second and a three from the top of the key gave them a 1-point lead.

Mortimer Jordan built a 25-21 lead in the final minute of the half but Shadix was able to score one more bucket before the buzzer and West Point went into the locker room trailing 25-23 at the break.

Micah Oldacre drilled back to back three-pointers to get the third quarter started and put the Lady Warriors back in front 29-25.

Ryleigh Jones scored inside to add to the lead but a three from the Lady Blue Devils on other end cut the lead to 31-28 with five minutes to play in the period. Both teams struggled to make shots for a lot of the third, but West Point held a 33-30 lead with a minute to play in the quarter.

Mortimer Jordan hit a three with 20 seconds remaining to tie the game but Pendley responded with a three on the other end to put the Lady Warriors back in front 36-33.

However, the Lady Blue Devils were able to tie the game and take the momentum into the fourth after a corner three knotted the score at 36 just before the buzzer.

Carter laid one in to keep the game tied at 38 early in the fourth quarter but Mortimer Jordan knocked down another triple to go back on top by three. Carter scored again to cut the lead to one at the six-minute mark, but the Lady Blue Devils dropped in another shot from beyond the arc to make it 44-40 with just over five minutes to play.

Pendley buried another trey to trim the lead to one midway the period and Micah Oldacre added a three of her own to reclaim a 46-44 lead for West Point with three minutes remaining.

Carter drilled a pair of free throws to stretch the lead to four and that's when the Lady Warriors began to take time off the clock.

After a long possession that took nearly a minute off the clock, Miriam Oldacre hit one of two free throws to make it a 49-44 game with less than a minute to play. Mortimer Jordan hit a jumper to cut it to three on the ensuing possession and retook possession down 49-46 with 14 seconds remaining.

After being fouled on a three-point attempt with four seconds to play, the Lady Blue Devils hit two of three from the line to make it a 1-point game but Carter buried two more from the line with less than a second on the clock to ice the 51-48 win for West Point.

Carter led the Lady Warriors with 18 points in the win. Pendley finished with 11, Micah Oldacre added nine and Shadix posted eight for West Point.

The Lady Warriors will play Madison Academy in the Northwest Regional Finals Wednesday at 8 a.m.

Athens man steals Hanceville PD vehicle; pursuit ends in north Cullman

Wendy Sack
wendy@cullmantribune.com

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – An Athens man stole a Hanceville Police vehicle Saturday night, leading the Hanceville Police Department, Cullman Police Department and Cullman County Sheriff's Office toward Garden City and back up through the city of Cullman along U.S. Highway 31 before CPD Sgt. Joey Duncan performed a pit maneuver just north of Alabama Highway 157, stopping the suspect.

The suspect, identified as Robert Clyde Adams, 29, was transported to Cullman Regional to be checked out. The HPD vehicle and a CPD vehicle were both damaged in the incident.

According to Duncan, Adams "came through town at a high rate of speed, causing cars to run off roads, almost colliding with several vehicles. Officer Levi Dees placed a spike belt across the roadway near the Cullman Shopping Center, and that slowed him down enough for the pit maneuver to be performed."

Duncan said, "His vehicle got pinned in with a patrol car and he immediately exited the vehicle on the passenger side and starting running in an attempt to avoid arrest.

"A taser was deployed to get him to stop. It slowed him down enough for law enforcement to escort him to the ground and place him in handcuffs."

Adams was transported to Cullman Regional to be checked out. The HPD vehicle and a CPD vehicle were both damaged in the incident.

Hanceville Mayor Kenneth Nail said it all started with an alarm call.

"Our guys was answering an alarm call and stepped out of the vehicle, and apparently the window was cracked just enough," said Nail, "and he was able to reach in the window when the officer stepped out of sight checking the building and he reached in the window and unlocked the car and jumped in our car and took off."

Nail said the HPD vehicle is equipped with GPS, which made it easy for Adams to be tracked.

"He was transported to Cullman Regional just to get checked out. He's a little scratched up here and there," said Nail.

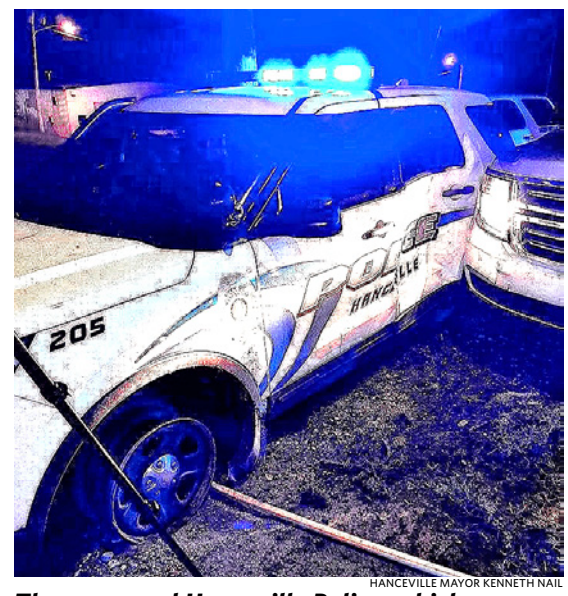

"Of course, our vehicle looks like hell. Luckily, nobody is hurt. That's the main thing."

He said Adams had the car "20-25 minutes total. He ran up through the middle of Cullman and they done what's called a pit maneuver just a little north of 157 about where Lee's Veterinary Clinic is, and he hit a light pole and took down a guide bar."

Nail said the CCSO will take lead on the investigation.

"The Hanceville PD, Cullman County Sheriff's Office and Cullman PD worked as a team to bring this dangerous pursuit to an end," said Duncan.

Adams has been charged with attempting to elude, driving while suspended, reckless driving, resisting arrest, running a red light and first-degree theft of property.

West Point gearing up for 2020 Census

Christy Perry
christy@cullmantribune.com

WEST POINT, Ala. – The West Point Town Council on Monday night discussed the 2020 Census and ways to make sure all residents are counted.

A family fun day will be held April 18 in an effort to boost participation. An enclosed trailer with computers will be at the park to help people fill out their census information. The Town will provide free hot dogs and hamburgers.

Bouncy houses and other activities will be also be available. Prizes, including a 50-inch flat-screen TV, will be raffled off.

Those who fill out their census forms or can provide proof of completing them will be entered into the raffle.

The Town is also actively seeking residents interested in having their properties annexed into the town limits of West Point.

Mayor Gerald Schafer said, "That is getting about the cutoff time for that. If we have anyone else, we'd have to do it by the end of next month."

VESTAVIA HILLS, Ala. – Cullman High School Theatre (CHST) sent 18 students to last weekend's 2020 Alabama Thespian Festival, known as ThesFest, and they brought home eight superior medals.

AWARD WINNERS

- Grant Holland – Male Musical Theatre, Group Musical Theatre
- Reagan Martin – Female Musical Theatre, Group Musical Theatre
- Chandler Greer – Female Musical Theatre
- Kaitlyn Smith – Female Monologue
- Laci New – Group Musical Theatre
- Gracie Smith – Individual Choreography (Dance)

CHST Director Wayne Cook told The Tribune, "Cullman Theatre had a great showing at the Alabama Thespian Festival.

The festival features workshops with nationally recognized presenters who share important insight into art of theater.

Numerous students received eight superior medals and were named All-State Thespians with an invitation to represent Alabama at the International Thespian Festival in Bloomington, Indiana this coming June.

"It was also a great honor for Grant Holland, Laci New and Reagan Martin to be chosen to perform at the Alabama Thespian Showcase.

This is a special honor only reserved for the highest scorers in the state. The three students performed their Group Musical Theatre selection and Reagan performed her Female Musical selection. Congrats to these outstanding thespians."

CHST ThesFest attendees included Caleb Brown, Devon Campbell, Avery Drake, Emiley Gable, Chandler Greer, Grant Holland, Samuel Jones, Reagan Martin, Jenn Netherton, Laci New, Olivia Noblett, Mary Claire Page, Kate Rains, Annie Reichert, Gracie Smith, Kaitlyn Smith, Natalie Thrasher and Lydia Wells.

In April, CHST will present Steve Martin's Broadway show "Bright Star," a bluegrass musical set in the Blue Ridge Mountains of North Carolina in the 1940s. Look for a full story coming soon.

Cullman (from Front)

meeting of the Cullman County Commission, Cullman Economic Development Agency Director Dale Greer spoke of two potential projects that would bring as many as 130 jobs to the area- 50 from one project and 70-80 from the other.

Greer explained, "It (one project) is being combined with a new project that is in Industrial Park II."

He said that as an incentive, the industrial prospects have requested a traffic signal be added at the intersection of Alabama Highway 69 and 24th Street Southwest.

He said he had met with the City of Cullman and the City of Good Hope about the project as well.

The council passed a resolution authorizing Mayor Woody Jacobs to apply for grant funds of up to $500,000 from the TVA Invest Prep Program to do site work on property at the Cullman Regional Airport as part of the airport's five-year plan.

The funding, if approved by TVA, would be a 50/50 matching fund grant. Since the airport is jointly owned by the City of Cullman and Cullman County, each would be responsible for half of the matching funds, or 25%, of the overall project cost.

The council also approved a request from Jay Ganga, Inc./Jet Pep Foodmart 54 located at 645 Alabama Highway 157, at the intersection of that road and Alabama Highway 69, for a Beer and Wine Off-Premises alcohol license.

Additionally, the council approved a resolution to award the bid for a 12-inch grit augur classifier unit to the lowest responsible bidder, Cahaba Water Solutions, in the amount of $30,688.

One other supplier, Jim House & Associates of Irondale, submitted a bid of $42,500.

The council also approved a last-minute resolution to amend the City's position control to allow the creation of a new position for a mechanic at the city garage.

RV park protest

During the public comment portion of the agenda, the council heard from a local resident unhappy about the development of an RV park at the City's Burrow property on County Road 222. Elizabeth McDowell, who supports the development of a botanical garden at the site, began reading comments and 67 names from an online petition she started through change.org until council president Jenny Folsom pointed out her time limit. McDowell said that she would submit the names in writing.

McDowell argued that plans for the park were hidden from the public until construction had already started "with a complete disregard for the community's wants and needs," and linked the development to Rock the South, saying that the park's sole purpose is "so the wealthy can have their own private parking lot during this event."

She told the council that she and other opponents would be "pursuing boycotts and protests until this is rectified."

The Cullman City Council meets at 7 p.m. the second and fourth Monday evenings of each month in the Cullman City Hall auditorium. The public is invited to attend.

Best Bets

6 p.m. on HBO
We Are the Dream: The Kids of the Oakland MLK Oratorical Fest

Oscar winner Mahershala Ali ("Green Book") is an executive producer on this touching documentary filmed during the Martin Luther King Jr. Oratorical Festival, an annual event at which hundreds of young people from across the United States perform a combination of published and original poetry and speeches. The film follows top-placing students from the Oakland Unified School District as they compete.

7 p.m. on WBRC
The Resident

Nic (Emily VanCamp) is forced to work with Cain (Morris Chestnut) again as Red Rock finally opens the doors to its new neurosurgery center, but she and the rest of the staff almost immediately discover that the center is a far cry from what had been promised in the new episode "Last Shot." Mina and The Raptor (Shaunette Renée Wilson, Malcolm-Jamal Warner) get an unexpected result while working with a new surgeon on a heart transplant. Bruce Greenwood and Matt Czuchry also star; Alex Hernandez guest stars.

8 p.m. on WBIQ
Frontline

The new "Amazon Empire: The Rise and Reign of Jeff Bezos" explores the business dynasty created by this New Mexico-born entrepreneur. Bezos has grown his "etail" venture into a corporation that is unprecedented in the history of capitalism, delivering a virtually endless line of products, entertainment and technology innovations to online customers. Amazon's staggering expansion into all corners of American life has come at the cost of safety and quality of life for many of its employees, however, its critics say.

8 p.m. on WTTO
DC's Legends of Tomorrow

After Sara (Caity Lotz) leaves Ava (Jes Macallan) in charge while she's away on business, Ava tries to impress the team as they take on their next Encore, Marie Antoinette, in the new episode "A Head of Her Time." Behrad (guest star Shayan Sobhian) convinces the group to take Zari (Tala Ashe) along on their mission. Meanwhile, Constantine (Matt Ryan) has a confrontation with someone from his past that leads him on a personal journey. Brandon Routh also stars.

8:30 p.m. on WABM2
black-ish

Bow (Tracee Ellis Ross) is heartsick to discover Diane (Marsai Martin) no longer is friends with her longtime BFF Sophie (guest star Cleo Fraser) because it reawakens painful memories of a past middle-school "breakup" of her own in the new episode "Friendgame." Meanwhile, Dre (Anthony Anderson) discovers a damaged wall that Junior and Jack (Marcus Scribner, Miles Brown) had concealed from him, and forces them to repair their expensive mistake. Fred Savage directed this episode.

9 p.m. on WIAT
FBI: Most Wanted

A new episode called "Prophet" finds a cult leader and the most trusted members of his flock on the run after he orders the cold-blooded murder of his own family. As Jess (Julian McMahon) and his team step up their pursuit of the fugitives, they begin to uncover illuminating information of this "man of faith" in his previous life as a con artist. Kellan Lutz, Roxy Sternberg, Nathaniel Arcand and Keisha Castle-Hughes also star.

For Life

As Aaron Wallace (Nicholas Pinnock) continues his fight to overturn his life sentence, some in his prison crew resent his decision to provide counsel to a white supremacist to settle his debt to Wild Bill (guest star Peter Greene), another inmate, in the new episode "Promises." Meanwhile, District Attorney Maskins (Boris McGiver) steps up his game when Aaron sues the New York Police Department hoping to gain access to his case file.

Emily VanCamp stars in "The Resident" on Fox.

OPINION

The Sovereignty of God, no. 7

Tom Fillinger
Tribune Columnist

There can be no progress in Divine things—until there is the personal recognition that God is Supreme, that He is to be feared and revered, that He is to be owned and served as Lord. We read the Scriptures in vain—unless we come to them earnestly desiring a better knowledge of God's will for us. Any other motive is selfish and utterly inadequate and unworthy. Every prayer we send up to God is but carnal presumption, unless it is offered "according to His will." Anything short of this is to ask "amiss," that we might consume the thing requested upon our own lusts. Every service we engage in is but a "dead work" unless it is done for the glory of God. Experimental religion consists mainly in the perception and performance of the Divine will—performance both active and passive.

We are predestined to be "conformed to the image of God's Son," whose food it always was, to do the will of the One who sent Him; and the measure in which each saint is becoming "conformed" practically, in his daily life, is largely determined by his response to our Lord's word, "Take My yoke upon you, and learn of Me; for I am meek and lowly in heart."

3. The doctrine of God's sovereignty repudiates the heresy of salvation by works.

"There is a way that seems right to a man—but its end is the way to death" (Proverbs 14:12). The way which "seems right" and which ends in "death," eternal death, is salvation by human effort and merit. The belief in salvation by works is one that is common to human nature. It may not always assume the grosser form of Popish penances, or even of Protestant "repentance;" that is, sorrowing for sin, which is never the meaning of repentance in Scripture—anything which gives man a place at all is but a variety of the same evil genus. To say, as alas! many preachers are saying, God is willing to do His part—if you will do yours—is a wretched and excuseless denial of the Gospel of His grace. To declare that God helps those who help themselves—is to repudiate one of the most precious truths taught in the Bible! The Bible alone, teaches that God helps those who are unable to help themselves, who have tried again and again only to fail. To say that the sinner's salvation turns upon the action of his own will—is another form of the God-dishonoring dogma of salvation by human efforts. In the final analysis, any movement of the will is a work: it is something from me, something which I do.

Simulator (from Front)

about different aspects of poverty that can lead to discussion about the potential for change in local communities," and offered this description of the simulator:

"During a simulation, participants role-play the lives of low-income families, from single parents trying to care for their children to senior citizens trying to maintain their self-sufficiency on Social Security. The task of each family is to provide food, shelter and other basic necessities during the simulation while interacting with various community resources staffed by low-income volunteers.

"Although it uses 'play' money and other props, fictional scenarios, and time limits, CAPS is not a game. It is a simulation tool that enables participants to view poverty from different angles in an experiential setting, while empowering low-income volunteers by allowing them an opportunity to interact with leaders from their community."

CCPS Principal/Head Start Director Tricia Culpepper told The Tribune, "The goal is for our teachers and our staff to have an awareness of what it looks like for some of our families that are going through-that live in-poverty. Right now, we have 43% of our students who are on free and reduced lunches, and we also have our Head Start program, which serves families in need. We have 94 students in our Head Start program that serves our 3- and 4-year-olds."

CCPS personnel, from office staff to teachers and even custodians, took part in the simulator, as Culpepper explained, "It's (for) our entire staff, to create more of an awareness of how hard it is and can be to do the things that you do in a period of a week, to take kids to school, to pay your bills, to get food on the table, to get appropriate health care for our families."

Monday's simulation facilitator, Phyllis Wyne, told The Tribune, "We're trying to make sure that all of our schools and school boards and personnel, anybody who works with children, understand all the things that low-income people go through, so that we can serve them better. It's very, very good for teachers, because it makes them recognize things, signs from what they see in the classroom, and then then they'll know little Johnny is acting up probably because something happened at home. We're hoping that, by doing this, we'll be able to lift our grades all the way across the system."

Reflecting on previous events like this, Wyne shared, "After this, everyone is just so amazed at what they've gotten from it. We have, in the debrief-after this, we'll debrief, we've had people crying and people working together to see what they can do within their school, and that's why it's good to have a whole school do it, because everybody can be on the same page."

CORRECTION

In the story "ALERT: Jury duty scam hits Cullman," printed Feb. 15, 2020, in the sub-headline, Judge Gregory Nicholas was referred to as "District Judge." He is a circuit judge. We regret the error.

Friends visited with the family in the funeral home chapel Monday, Feb. 17, 2020 from 6-8 p.m. Holly Pond funeral Home is honored to serve the Yount family.

Linda Ann Patterson Finney, 77, of Guntersville passed away at Marshall Medical Center North after battling Stage IV metastatic breast cancer. She was born in Cullman, AL Sept. 29, 1942 to Robert Walton and Alta Pascal "Pat" Burns Patterson. Ann was preceded in death by a sister Margie Lou Patterson; her parents Robert and Alta Burns Patterson; and grandson Jebidiah Walker Searcy. She is survived by her husband of 37 years John Finney of Guntersville. Her children include Stephanie Jill Ponder Searcy (Owen Searcy) of Newnan, GA; Ashley Heath Ponder (James Lesti) of Atlanta, GA; and Alta Patricia Finney McCrary (Mac McCrary) of Guntersville, AL. Grandchildren are Joshua William Searcy, Jericho Walton Searcy, and Savannah Hamilton Searcy. Mrs. Finney was a 1960 graduate of Cullman High School. Ann was a sister of the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, a City of Guntersville election worker and was a former president in The Guntersville Lake Homemakers' Club. She was formerly employed by Heilig-Meyers Furniture Company in Arab. Linda Ann enjoyed baking for the public and cross stitching. In 2004, she was featured on the show, "Style Court" on the E! Network. One of her favorite trips was traveling cross-country with her son. Additionally, she was a cheerleading coach for her younger daughter, Alta, who cheered in college. Arrangements are provided by Guntersville Memorial Chapel, with visitation Feb. 19 from noon-2 p.m. Service will begin at 2 p.m. with interment at Holly Pond Cemetery following the service. The family has requested, in lieu of flowers, that donations be made to The Russel Hill Cancer Foundation in Huntsville, AL.

Kornfield Kounty comes to Cullman

SETH MILLER/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

Part of the cast of "Hee Haw" is seen at Thursday's performance at the Donald E. Green Active Adult Center in Cullman.

CULLMAN, Ala. – Folks filled the Donald E. Green Active Adult Center Thursday afternoon for a hand-clapping, knee-slapping, foot-stomping, side-splitting good time as the "Hee Haw" gang took to the stage. Directed by the Senior Outreach program, the show saw Cullman-area seniors reprising characters of the legendary variety show.

This year's production was bigger, with new skits, more singers and a larger set. And, of course, Buck Owens (Wayne Roberts) and Roy Clarke (Tommy Kohlenberg) got the show started with a few korny jokes straight from the fields of Kornfield Kounty!

Several guest stars made appearances to sing some timeless classics. Gene Watson (Charlie Albright) belted a flawless "Farewell Party" and The First Lady of Country Music, Tammy Wynette (Barbara Whitehead) reminded the ladies to "Stand by Your Man."

She was then joined by the one and only George Jones (Gary Nunn) for their fabulous duet, "Golden Ring."

Crowd favorites Dolly Parton (Ann Anderton) and Porter Wagoner (Jim Anderton) delivered the classic "Before I Met You."

Also making special appearances were Willie Nelson (Gary Nunn), Mel Tillis (Terry Austin), Johnny Cash (Buddy Campbell) and Roy Orbison (Buddy Campbell).

It wouldn't be "Hee Haw" without Grandpa Jones (Roy Moon) and Minnie Pearl (Jolene Hammick), who had the crowd bursting with laughter! Minnie even performed a helpful tune explaining to the ladies her advice on finding a man- a bear trap!

The jokes and gossip were plentiful in this star-studded trip down memory lane with The Culhanes, The Naggers and Lulu Roman (Judy Albright), who is still serving up questionable meals at the truck stop. Lulu was still gossiping with the Gossip Girls, too.

"Hee Haw" must-haves, "Gloom, Despair and Agony on Me," "Where O Where Are You Tonight?" and "Mountain Dew" were also part of this entertaining show, directed again by Jamie Brown. The cast has been rehearsing for four months, three times a day.

Brown fought back tears as she was given a bouquet of roses at the conclusion of the performance.

"These guys really outdid themselves," she smiled. "At practice, sometimes they did real good and sometimes they didn't. It seems when they get in front of an audience, they show out."

If you missed it, don't worry! Thursday's "Hee Haw" show was just the first of two show's this year. The whole gang will return Feb. 29 at the Hanceville Civic Center at 2 p.m. Tickets will be $5 at the door.

Until then, "May your pleasures be many, your troubles be few!"

CULLMAN, Ala. – Those who had a chance to stop in at Berkeley Bob's Friday evening were given a talented treat by local band the Cotton Pickin' Kids. The coffee shop was filled with energetic lively music in celebration of the band's first CD, "Slemish Mountain,", which it said was inspired by the mountain in County Antrim in Northern Ireland. The group performed originals off the CD and covers of artists from which the it draws inspiration.

Performing for three years now, the band is made up of the Cipollari family, with members ranging from the age of 9 to 17.

The Cotton Pickin' Kids are:

- Savio Cipollari, 17, on mandolin
- Therese Cipollari, 16, on lead fiddle
- Cecilia Cipollari, 14, on acoustic guitar
- Rosalinda Cipollari, 12, on back-up fiddle
- Gianluca Cipollari, 11, on banjo
- Giovanni Cipollari, 9, on resonator guitar

Accompanying the kids is their father, Fabio Cipollari, on double bass.

Savio Cipollari shared a brief history of how he and his siblings started performing.

"Our dad went to this barbeque in Jones Chapel and we were all little, I was probably 2 years old," he said, "but he met this man- and my dad wasn't into bluegrass at the time- but our dad asked the man to teach our aunts and uncles because our grandfather was looking for someone to teach music, Eventually we grew up seeing our uncles and aunts playing music, so we started wanting to play! After a little while, we just started learning from him and eventually he got us going as a band!"

As for where the name Cotton Pickin' Kids came from, he said, "As for the name, we went to this bluegrass festival going into a band competition and at registration they asked, 'What's your band name?' and my dad went 'We need a band name?' and he then said, 'Oh, it's those Cotton Pickin' Kids,' and it just came to him and it stuck."

Friday evening, the band performed an original piece composed by Savio Cipollari, "Slemish Mountain," an Irish-inspired tune bearing the same name as the CD.

"I've always wanted to go to Ireland and I love the music there," he said. "The song kind of came to me, but at the same time I was inspired by just movies seeing the beauty of Ireland. For me, when you imagine that, you just hear and imagine the song happening at the same time, so I wanted to write a song that had that feeling you get when just staring at the nature. It just came to me and I devoted the song to my Saint Patrick. It's Slemish Mountain; it's the mountain that Saint Patrick was a shepherd's slave on."

The CD's cover art has special meaning as well.

"We were looking for a picture of Slemish Mountain and we found this really great one and so we contacted the photographer who was all the way in Ireland," said Savio Cipollari, "and we asked if we could use his photo and responded saying he'd thought it'd be really cool if we used it and so he let use it. He also told us, 'When you're done, send a CD!'"

Cecilia Cipolarri said with a smile about the CD release, "It's really wonderful!"

Savio Cipollari echoed his sister's excitement, smiling, "It's really exciting and it's really good!"

To purchase a copy of the CD, visit www.Facebook.com/CottonPickinKids.

You can catch the band at its next live performance March 14, 2020 at Festus' "Night of Bluegrass" at 5 p.m. at the Gold Ridge Community Center located at 5225 County Road 1545.
