late in the game to defeat Cold Springs 58-45 and capture the 2A Girls State Championship.

Lady Eagles Head Coach Tammy West credited the Lady Panthers' performance on the defensive side of the ball for making things tough on her team. West and her players are disappointed with Friday morning's result but know that they lost to a good team that played a great game.

"I'm just extremely proud of my team. We played in the game we wanted to play in all year long, it didn't work out the way we wanted it to, but I told them all year if we're going to lose to somebody we want to lose to somebody that we're worthy of losing to and today we ran up against a very good team," West said.

"They were very well-rounded, fundamentally sound, didn't make a lot of mistakes, rebounded well, shot the ball well and just had great composure. We fell short but it was to a really good team as is our team. I want to give all the credit to their defense for causing us to have to rush our shots and not making anything easy for us."

Collinsville knocked down a pair of threes to take an early 6-0 lead, but Toni West responded with a trey on the other end to get Cold Springs on the board. Elizabeth Hill dropped in a floater to make it a 1-point game midway through the opening quarter and Kylon Hamby netted a free throw to tie the game at 6.

Lacey Rice drilled a three from the left corner to keep the game tied at 9 with two minutes to play in the first and after the Lady Panthers pulled ahead 13-9, Neely Ellison knocked down another three to cut the lead to one. Ellison laid one in off a turnover to give Cold Springs a 14-13 lead, but Collinsville got another shot to fall in the final seconds of the period to take a 15-14 lead into the second quarter.

West hit three-pointer to put Cold Springs back in front by two at the start of the second and buried another triple from the top of the key to keep the Lady Eagles up 20-18 with six minutes to play in the half.

The Lady Panthers retook a 22-20 lead midway through the period and added a pair of free throws to stretch the lead to four. Collinsville pulled ahead 28-21 in the final two minutes, but Ellison drilled a three just before the buzzer to cut the lead to 28-24 at halftime. The first half featured six lead changes and three ties between the two teams.

The Lady Panthers extended their lead to eight early in the third quarter until West stopped the bleeding with another three that made it a 32-27 game. Collinsville was able to pull ahead 36-27 midway through the period, but Hill laid one in underneath the basket to trim the lead to seven. Another three-pointer by West made it 38-32 with just over a minute to play in the third but the Lady Panthers ended the quarter with a pair of baskets to take a 42-32 lead into the final frame.

Rice knocked down a jumper cut the lead to eight early in the fourth quarter and Hill put one in off the glass to make it 42-36 with five minutes to play. A three-pointer from Collinsville stretched the lead back to nine midway through the period but Hill netted a pair of free throws on the other end to make it a 7-point game.

Another Hill bucket held the lead at seven with just under three minutes to play but the Lady Panthers converted a three-point play to move back in front by 10. Hill completed an and-one play of her own to make it a 50-43 game with less than two minutes remaining but senior forward fouled out on the ensuing Collinsville possession. The Lady Panthers knocked down four straight from the line to take a 54-43 lead with just over a minute to play and the Lady Eagles ran out of time to chip away, falling to Collinsville 58-45 and finishing as this year's 2A Girls State Runners-up.

West led the way for Cold Springs offensively with 17 points. Hill finished with 13, Ellison posted eight, Rice added six and Hamby scored one in the loss for the Lady Eagles. Hill and West also earned spots on the 2A All-State Tournament Team.

Ellison, a senior on this year's Cold Springs squad, has enjoyed every minute of her playing days with the Lady Eagles and is already looking forward to seeing what West and her other returning teammates can do next season.

"I've loved the past four years playing here. I can't wait to come back and watch Toni (West) and I know they're going to have another successful year next year," Ellison said. "I've just loved every minute of playing with them and it was great to make it back this year."

Hill will be graduating from Cold Springs in May as well and while she's disappointed that she and her team fell short Friday morning, she recognizes what they have accomplished in their time playing together.

"I'm just really thankful for all my teammates and coaches and this community we have," Hill said. "It couldn't have been a better four years and to make it here twice is a big accomplishment so I'm just really proud of everybody."

West will return next year for her senior season with the Lady Eagles and is proud to have been such a big part of back to back championship runs. She knows there a very small number of teams that get the chance to compete at this level and she's proud to have been on two of them so far in her career.

"We're just really blessed to be here, especially for the past two years. There are lot of other teams that would love to be in our position as the runner-up or winner," West said. "We're in the state finals so I'm just proud of this team and how far we've come."

Neely Ellison, Kylon Hamby, Emma Chambers, Elizabeth Hill and Emi Harbison will be gone when the Lady Eagles hit the court again next season but after putting together another impressive championship run this year, don't be surprised if you see Cold Springs chasing another blue map in 2021.

FUNNY THINGS FROM YESTERDAY

Cooking on the wood burning heater

Robert N. Tidwell, Sr.
robertntidwellsr@gmail.com

This will be the first story of a series of articles about "Old Traditions and Modern Trends." As many of you know, old traditional items are again becoming very prominent. For instance, the wood heater, or more correctly stated, the wood burning heater, has again become a popular item. A few years back we lived in a house and had a heater in our basement living area.

I remember seeing a cartoon that had a picture of a heater made of wood with the caption, "Wood Heater - Guaranteed to Burn for Four Hours."

They do work better if they are made of metal and you burn the wood in the heater. Anyway, there is just no better way to warm on a cold winter night than to back up to a wood burning heater and, as they say at the local cafe, "toast your buns." Ah, this is the best heat in the world.

In order to keep moisture in the house, you need an old iron kettle to set on the heater with water in it. When the heater gets too hot the kettle will boil over and you can see little beads off water skip across the top of the heater and disappear in a puff of steam.

You can also cook on the wood burning heater. We cooked a chicken on ours one Sunday morning while we were at church. It baked real well. As a matter of fact, it cooked so well that it collapsed and was lying flat in the bottom of the pan. A flat chicken looks kind of funny.

Granny sure did fuss at me, since I was the one who advised her to cook it on the heater. You can't judge a book by its cover and you can't judge a flat chicken by the way it looks. That flat chicken was delicious. I have, however, been a little more cautious about advising Granny how to cook. We moved and no longer have a wood burning heater.

BILLY BOB'S STORIES AND STUFF

Blessed are those who wait

Bill King
Tribune
Contributor

I'm sitting in my truck, at a railroad crossing, waiting for a train to pass. It has been passing for a while, so I've been waiting for a while. I'm running late, so naturally the train is running slowly. "Running" may not even be the right word. I can't recall if two Christmases have passed since I've been sitting here or if it has only been one, but hopefully I'll be home before the next one.

I can remember a time in my life when I would have loved sitting here watching a train. That was before I had a driver's license and before I was concerned about getting somewhere on time.

I am not as enamored by trains as I was back then. I hate running late, and I'm not a great fan of waiting. I grew up in a town that did not have trains. The neighboring town had trains and I thought they were privileged because they did. I used to think we didn't have trains because I grew up on a mountain.

Later in life, when I realized that a town several miles south of us but also on the mountain had trains, I realized the fallacy of my logic. Since then, everywhere I have lived has had trains...slow trains.

I could have gone another way. I usually look to see if a train is passing before I turn down this street, but this morning I turned before I looked.

I could have turned around and gone another way, but I figured the train would pass quickly. I figured incorrectly!

Now I have vehicles behind me, as well as beside me, and a train in front of me. I feel like Moses and the Hebrews must have felt when they reached the Red Sea with Pharaoh and his armies coming up behind them.

My problem is I've never read or heard anything about a train being parted so someone could pass through. I've decided I might as well make the best of my situation. That means that I pulled out my cell phone. I checked my email, both accounts, and then looked at Facebook.

I soon realized this was not a good idea. Several of my friends had posted pictures of what they had for breakfast.

One had a beautiful picture of a slab of country ham, two over-easy fried eggs, grits, a cathead biscuit smothered with sawmill gravy that overflowed it sides, and a bowl of fried apples.

My stomach reminded me that I had not eaten breakfast, so I decided to play Wordscapes rather than look at Facebook. In case you aren't familiar, Wordscapes is a word game. It is a fill-in-the-blanks crossword puzzle. They don't give you clues but give you six or seven random letters which you use to create words. I must confess that I am addicted. I love words and I love to play with words. As much as I love this game, I'm going to put it down and watch the train pass. I'm finding words like time, slow, patience, endurance, wait, and linger! At least they weren't food words!

Someone told me that the Bible says, "Patience is a virtue." That must be in the book of Somes...some things some people say the Bible says, but it doesn't. Actually, a poet named William Langland was credited with this saying in a poem back in 1360 A.D.

Patience is, however, taught in the Bible and listed as one of the fruits of the Spirit. The Bible also says much about the virtue of waiting. I've decided rather than fussing about this long, slow train, I'm just going to wait and be blessed! I can't go anywhere anyway.

PREP BASEBALL

Addison blasts Falkville 10-0

Todd Walker
Tribune Correspondent

ADDISON, Ala. – On a brisk night at lovely Addison High School, the bulldogs hosted the Falkville Blue Devils in both teams' second game of the season. Both teams came in with a 1-0 record, but the Bulldogs sent the Blue Devils home after just five innings with a 10-0 loss.

Addison's Luke Waldrep got his second start of the season and he was dominant once again. Waldrep got the Devils three up and three down on the opening frame and was assisted by right fielder Jake Wilson who made a highlight reel diving catch that brought the Dawg faithful to their feet. Addison shortstop Jessie Brock opened up Addison's half of the first with a leadoff walk. After an infield popup, Colton Tyree walked and with runners on first and second and one out, Nelson Martin singled to center to load the bases. Wilson drew a walk to bring Brock home for the Bulldogs first run. That is how the first inning ended with Addison up 1-0 over Falkville.

Falkville got a little rally going on Waldrep in the second inning, but the question was could they score. After a lead off groundout, the Devils came through with back to back singles, putting runners on first and second with only one out. Just when it looked like Falkville was going to plate a run, Waldrep buckled down and struck out the next two Blue Devils to end the threat.

Addison's second inning proved to be the downfall of the Blue Devils. Lawson Alexander reached on a leadoff error. Brody Dollar hit a fly ball to center and the ball popped out of the fielder's glove, putting runners on first and second with no one out. Cannon Hiller stroked a single to center, loading the bases. Brock walked again, scoring Alexander. Bret Smith lined a single to score Dollar, but Hiller was thrown out at the plate by a tremendous throw from the center fielder Wyatt King. Tyree singled to score Brock and Martin doubled to score Smith and Wilson. Will Tuggle reached on an error to load the bases again and a passed ball allowed Martin and Wilson to score. The inning ended with the Bulldogs plating six runs to take a commanding 7-0 lead after two.

Waldrep again breezed through the third inning notching another strikeout. Addison scored their final runs in the bottom of the inning. Brock walked for the third time and Smith was hit by a pitch. One out later, Martin picked up his third hit of the night with a single to right, loading the bases. After a strikeout, Tuggle singled scoring both Brock and Smith. Martin scored on a wild pitch and the Dawg rally ended. At the end of three, Addison led 10-0.

The final two innings were Waldrep continuing to confuse the Devil bats. Waldrep scattered a hit and walk while striking out four in the last two innings. Waldrep got the complete game victory as Addison run ruled the Devils 10-0 in five innings.

Addison Head Man John Everett picked up his second win of the season and is proud of the way his unit is playing at this early point of the season.

"I was very impressed how we hit the ball tonight. We missed some opportunities in the Good Hope game. We had many quality at bats tonight. Our guys are getting it and are proving to be patient hitters," Everett said. "I got what I expected from Luke tonight. He is a leader and he trusts his defense. He has great stuff, but I told him you don't have to strike everybody out. The guys behind you will pick you up."

Reflecting on the game, Everett had to mention Wilson's defensive play in the first inning that set the tone for the night and kept runs off the board.

"I thought that Jake set the tone for the game in the first inning with the first batter. He made a tremendous catch which robbed Falkville of a hit," Everett said. "I mean the next batter walked and if Jake doesn't make that catch, they have two on and no one out. It could have changed the game."

Stat lines for the game: Waldrep pitched five innings, three hits, two walks and nine strikeouts. That gives Waldrep 19 strikeouts in nine innings of work this season.

Brock had three walks, an RBI and three runs scored. Smith had one hit, an RBI and two runs scored. Tyree finished with a hit and a run scored. Martin had three hits including a double with an RBI and two runs scored. Tuggle had one hit and an RBI and Wilson had two walks with an RBI.

Addison moves to 2-0 on the season and the Bulldogs will host Hanceville Friday night at 4:30.

Seniors crown 2020 'Queen' of the Fairview Senior Center

Christy Perry

FAIRVIEW, Ala. – Beauty and high fashion collided at the Fairview Senior Center Friday morning in the Womanless Beauty Pageant. Six "ladies" competed for the crown and the admiration of their senior center peers. A crowd of about 50-60 gathered to see the beauties strut their stuff.

Fairview Senior Center Director Angie Carter provided everyone with brief bios on each of the lovely contestants.

Contestant number one was Josephine (Jerry) Paris who immediately tried to appeal to the judges by presenting each with a single red rose. "Josephine enjoys long walks on the beach and picking up seashells. Her hobbies include working on cars and trucks and her favorite thing to do is attend church with her husband Jo."

Contestant number two was Loretta (Larry) Hodges "who enjoys exercising and going to the aquatic center. Her hobbies are talking and playing dress-up." She said, "If you are looking for a good time, call 1-800-LORETTA."

Contestant number three was Michelle (Michael) Stidham "who really enjoys the nightlife. She has been featured in several magazines for her outstanding pole-dancing abilities. Her hobbies include skating and dance classes. If you are interested in pole-dancing lessons, Michelle says just give her a call."

Contestant number was Wendy (Wallace) "Whataburger" Pearson. "She enjoys watching western movies and dancing at the comedy club. Her hobbies are baking and grilling whataburgers, and she can often be found at Wally World dancing to 'Boot Scootin' Boogie.'"

Contestant number five was Tabby (Tony) Johns "who enjoys collecting reptiles and raising snakes. Her hobbies also include building things and having babies. She is currently expecting her 12th child next month and is excited to be having her first son. She plans on naming him Copperhead."

Unfortunately, contestant number six was unable to make it to the pageant. Perhaps Roxy Linton discovered a run in her hose at the last minute.

"An avid gardener, Roxy lists her favorite flower as the Venus Fly Trap. She also enjoys collecting Pokemon cards."

Contestant number seven was Katherine (Kenneth) Graham "who loves playing cards and visiting the nearest nudist camp. Don't worry, she claims to never go in the camp but simply looks over the fence.

"Her hobbies also include running and staying in shape in case she gets caught looking over the fence."

Each contestant had a turn on the stage alone to impress the crowd and the panel of judges followed by an intense interview round. The "girls" did remarkably well and remained poised under the pressure.

The judges asked to see all the contestants together for one last look before calculating the scores. The crowd was also faced with a difficult decision when selecting the "People's Choice" winner. The "ladies" really worked the crowd as they tried to earn support.

After an intense wait, the nerves began to show a bit on the faces of the contestants as they made adjustments to their various "assets." Finally, the time had come for the results.

Letter to the Editor: Vote out politicians who do not support Biblical principles

Marti Smith
Contributor

I am a Christian, an RN who has worked for over 40 years, a wife, mother, and grandmother. The politics and politicians in Washington are being used by the devil to destroy the United States created by our forefathers. We were a country with values based on the Bible. What we have become is not based on the Christian values that I and the majority of Christians support. It is time that the Baby Boomers (those born from 1946-1964) and all Christians vote out the politicians that do not support biblical principles!

I will vote based on the stand the politicians take. I am not swayed by "political correctness" which is being used to condone murder of innocent babies in the womb with the catch phrase of "women's rights," etc. Exodus 20:13 NIV states "You shall not murder."

Data has proved that life begins at conception. Psalm 139:15-16 NIV "My frame was not hidden from you when I was made in the secret place, when I was woven together in the depths of the earth.

"Your eyes saw my unformed body; all the days ordained for me were written in your book before one of them came to be."

Same sex marriage does not match up with the Bible's definition of marriage. Matthew 19:4-5 NIV "Haven't you read," he (JESUS) replied, "that at the beginning the Creator 'made them male and female, and said, 'For this reason a man will leave his father and mother and be united to his wife, and the two will become one flesh."

Christians are to love... as JESUS loved HIS church. We are to pray for our country and our leaders. We are to pray for those who are deceived by the enemy. Let us pray for those who believe things contrary to the WORD of GOD. Let us rise up this Election Day and vote according to GOD's principles found in the Bible! We can make a difference! Let us pray that GOD restores America once again to a godly nation.

Chiaranda (from Front)

maggie@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – After almost three decades of service, Cullman Police Department (CPD) Lt. Todd Chiaranda is retiring. Chiaranda's colleagues celebrated his career Friday morning with a reception. Chief Kenny Culpepper presented him with his service firearm and a plaque recognizing his years of service from August 1991 to March 2020. Cullman Mayor Woody Jacobs presented Chiaranda with a certificate of retirement and City of Cullman commemorative coin.

Chiaranda is not going far, however, telling The Tribune, "I'm actually going to work with the circuit clerk's office as a magistrate part time."

He reminisced about his days with the CPD, saying, "I'm going to miss the people, all the people I've worked with over the years and a lot of the contacts that I've made from other agencies. I'm sure I won't get those phone calls as frequent as I used to."

Receiving his service weapon is something Chiaranda says is important for a retiring law enforcement officer.

"It's very big," he said of the importance. "It's something that you always carry with you.

"It's always been by your side throughout your career and it's a symbol of your service just as your badge is."

Chief Culpepper had nothing but praise for Chiaranda.

"Todd is one of those quiet professionals," he smiled.

"I like to call him a quiet professional because he's always here, he always does his job, but he's not a squeaky wheel.

"He's not one of those ones that's complaining or anything. He's just super reliable and a super competent officer.

"We're really going to miss him. We wish him the best in the future plans that he has."

Culpepper shared with another smile, "He always shames us.

"He's very physically fit- very conscious about his physical fitness- and he's by far the best dressed officer in the department.

"He's such a good example for us in those regards and has done a fantastic job. We're going to miss him very much."
