Wallace State Community College Theatre students Jorelle Webster, left, Riley Adams, center, and McCoy Cleghorn, right, practice the "Alabama Stomp" with other cast members during rehearsal of "Big Fish The Musical." The play will be staged March 12-15 at the Betty Leeth Haynes Theatre. Shows are at 7 p.m. Thursday-Saturday, March 12-14 and 2 p.m. Sunday, March 15. Tickets are $10 or $5 for children younger than 12. For more information, contact Heather Gillikin at 255-352-8277 or heather.gillikin@wallacestate.edu.

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – The work of an Alabama author with ties to Cullman County will be staged March 12-15 by the Wallace State Community College Theatre program. "Big Fish the Musical" based on the 1998 book "Big Fish: A Novel of Mythic Proportions" by Daniel Wallace, will be presented March 12-15 in the Betty Leeth Haynes Theatre on the Hanceville campus of WSCC. Wallace is scheduled to be at the college March 12, where he will speak to students at an afternoon appearance and be on hand for an opening night reception.

"Big Fish The Musical" is a two-act play that goes back and forth from history to present time as 60-year-old Edward Bloom reflects on his life while his son Will prepares to welcome his first born. We watch Edward's adventures from his teen years through adulthood, as he encounters unique characters like the witch, a giant, a mermaid and love of his life, Sandra. As the story unravels, Will discovers secrets his father never revealed.

The cast includes Riley Adams as Edward Bloom; Eli Parker as Will Bloom; McCoy Cleghorn as Sandra Bloom; Jady Pipes as Karl; Chloe Nutt as Jenny Hill; Samuel Hewitt as Amos Calloway/Red Fang; Jorrelle Webster and Isabella Garlowich as The Witch; Doc Porter at Young Will; Conner Gully as Don Price; Caleb Douglas as Zacky Price; Marie Bean as Josephine; Talia Ponas as Dr. Bennett; Beatriz Ianucci as Mermaid; Claudio Ramirez as Mayor/Fisherman; Deanna Brunetti as Schoolteacher; Courtney Bryant as Nurse; Isaiah Washington as General Patterson; John Isaac Richter as Will's son; Boyd Porter as Cub Scout.

The fictional town of Ashland (Ashton in the musical) where Wallace's books "Big Fish" and "Watermelon King" are set was inspired by Wallace's childhood trips to Cullman to visit his grandparents who once owned the All Steak, according to numerous interviews with the author.

"Big Fish: A Novel of Mythic Proportions" is the Common Read selection for the 2019-2020 academic year. A piece of literature is chosen each year as the Common Read and used across campus in multiple subjects, bringing together students, faculty and staff in discussions and activities centered around each selection.

Along with its adaption into a Broadway musical, the book was also made into a blockbuster film directed by Tim Burton and starring Ewan McGregor. Wallace was involved in all adaptations of his work, including a cameo appearance in the film.

Wallace will attend the March 12 opening night performance and a 5:30 p.m. invitation-only opening night reception in the Student Center. Earlier in the day, Wallace is scheduled to speak from 1 to 2:15 p.m., in the Burrow Center Recital Hall. The public is invited to attend and can RSVP at www.wallacestate.edu/bigfish.

"Big Fish The Musical" will be presented Thursday-Saturday, March 12-14 at 7 p.m., and Sunday, March 15 at 2 p.m., in the Betty Leeth Haynes Theatre. Tickets are $10 and $5 for children younger than 12. Tickets may be purchased at the door or in advance by contacting Heather Gillikin at 256-352-8277 or heather.gillikin@wallacestate.edu.

CULLMAN, Ala. – On Super Tuesday, Cullman County voters gave Jeff "Clem" Clemons 49.66% of the vote for chairman of the Cullman County Commission, almost double those of runner-up incumbent Chairman Kenneth Walker's 27.66%. With more than 98% of the vote in and only provisional ballots still to count, Clemons needed only 50.1% to avoid a runoff. Probate Judge Tammy Brown, who oversees Cullman County elections, has previously pointed out, though, that she has never seen the typically small number of provisional ballots change the outcome of a vote during her tenure at the Probate Office.

Awaiting the last box of non-provisional ballots, Clemons told The Tribune, "Man, it would be an honor if we could go ahead and get that 50.1; that would be an honor," and if the race goes to a runoff, "I'll hit the ground running. That's what I've been doing since November, and I'll continue to do that because, you know, I want to continue to serve the great people of Cullman County to the best of my ability.

"We can do a lot of good for each other; we just have to work hard every day to make a difference, and I hope that's me.

"I'm just an everyday person that's always worked hard for the people of Cullman County, and it's an honor to serve the people of this county.

"We've just got to work hard. And, you know, we've got a lot of work to do. It don't matter who wins; we've got a lot of work to do to serve the people of this county."

Philip Widner, who finished with a disappointing 13.77% of the vote, said afterward, "We just want to thank everyone who has come out and supported us.

"We just really appreciate everyone who has helped us. Of course, it didn't turn out like we wanted it to, but the people have spoken.

"Whoever our new chairman might be, right now we don't really know, but whoever it is, Linda and I want to encourage everyone to pray for them. Again, we thank everybody and God bless Cullman County."

Last-place finisher Wiley Kitchens said, "I thought it was a good campaign. I didn't hear any mudslinging and I tried to run a positive campaign on the issues that I ran on- drug and alcohol abuse and mental health. You do what you can do and let it go at that. I'll be around here. I'll probably take a couple vacations though."

Said Walker, "I feel good about it. I'm a little disappointed; I thought we'd be a little bit closer than we were. It's going to be very tough to beat a candidate that the sheriff's sponsoring, supporting. But I do feel good about it. It's going to take some hard work, and we're going to work hard and do what we can. I'm still asking for everybody's prayers, support and their vote."

The runoff election will be March 31, 2020.

County education sales tax fails

In a close vote, the proposed 1-cent county sales tax for education failed to pass, receiving 43.36% "yes" votes to 56.54% against.

After the results were known, Cullman County Schools Superintendent Dr. Shane Barnette released this statement:

"First, I want to thank everyone that supported our endeavor to pass the tax referendum and to all those that asked questions and shared input as we met across the community.

"Although the vote did not go as we had hoped for, we accept the outcome of the vote and the voice of the voters.

"Our school system will continue to strive for excellence and to put the students of our county first.

"We have had great success over the last few years with increasing our graduation rate and college career ready indicator. Please know that we have the best interest of your child at heart and will continue to work hard for them."

Cullman County School Board

Incumbent Gene Sullins defeated Wayne Willingham for Cullman County Board of Education District One (West Point) with 58.54% of the vote, for his third term in office.

State Board of Education constitutional amendment fails

Amendment One, that would have changed seats on the Alabama State Board of Education from elected to appointed, also failed, and by a wide margin of 79.23% against to only 20.77% for.

Gina Maiola, press secretary for Gov. Kay Ivey, issued this statement:

"Amendment One was a bold and ambitious effort to transform our state's public schools. Governor Ivey was willing to step out and support this idea because she firmly believed leadership – and change – started with the Board itself.

"Tonight, however, it appears the fear of losing the right to elect our State School Board members was greater than the confidence we had that fundamental change could be made. While disappointed, the governor's resolve to improve our public education system remains intact. Amendment One is not where her plans for education stop, and you'll see her continue to be more innovative and creative with her approach to improving Alabama."

Cullman County goes big for Tuberville in U.S. Senate race

Cullman County voters gave Tommy Tuberville 45.35% of the local vote, followed by Jeff Sessions with 26.03%. Tuberville and Sessions were also one and two statewide, and will face each other in a runoff.

For a full summary of all local races, visit www.CullmanTribune.com.

Rodeo (from Front)

behind the "rodeo" portion of the event shared what the rodeo will feature:

- bareback riding (bucking horses)
- saddle bronc riding (also bucking horses)
- tie-down calf roping
- breakaway roping
- steer wrestling
- team roping
- Intermission with a calf scramble for the kids
- barrel racing
- bull riding

"Before the rodeo starts," said Coleman, "we will do what's called 'mutton busting' where kids ride sheep and that'll be at 6:30 p.m. with the show starting at 7 p.m."

During the mutton busting Friday night, there will be a rodeo clown contest for the kids ages 0-6 and 7-13.

The winner's prize from each age group will be $100 cash.

West Point Band Booster President Josh Sellers said all funds raised at the rodeo will benefit the Warrior Band.

"We want to cut down on band fees for students to plan for new uniforms and for their transportation costs," he said.

CULLMAN, Ala. – Beverly Burke, who has in the last few years raised more than $3,500 for the Cullman County Sheriff's Office (CCSO) Special Needs Rodeo, is stepping up again to help Deputy Adam Clark, who is facing an extended recovery period after being critically injured last month in a vehicle crash.

Burke has never put price tags on her handmade jewelry; she accepts donations and turns all the proceeds from her donation box over to the recipient.

This Saturday, March 7, she will be at the Cullman County Republican breakfast, and then, around 9 a.m., will be at the Warehouse Discount Groceries along Alabama Highway 157 in Cullman with her Dixie Dog Designs banner, jewelry collection and donation box.

Burke contacted Clark's family and got permission to hold the fundraiser on his behalf.

Burke told The Tribune, "It's never been something that I've made money myself.

"It's never been part of it. I consider it my ministry; that's really what I think it is.

"You know, the Lord's blessed me, and it's just a way to give back to the community."

If you are out and about Saturday and want to help Deputy Clark and his family, visit the Dixie Dog Designs table at Warehouse Discount Groceries at 5754 Highway 157 on Cullman's north side.

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – Students enrolled in Career Technical Education programs at the Cullman Area Technology Academy (CATA) brought home awards from the North District SkillsUSA Competition at Wallace State last Friday.

Dakota McDaniel from Fairview High School is North District Champion - Class Project Display for his "CNC Engraving" project.

Alex Black and Parker Odeneal from Holly Pond High School earned silver medals - Class Project Display (Team) for their "Fluid Flow Fiesta" physics project.

CATA Carpentry teacher/SkillsUSA advisor Mike Burkett reported that the three qualified for and will participate in the state SkillsUSA competition in Birmingham, coming up in April.

Burkett said of his students, "These CATA students have what it takes to be champions: they work hard, have big hearts, and they take their learning seriously.

"I am not only very proud of them, but constantly amazed at how much they want to excel in their acquisition of knowledge."

CATA Cosmetology students took first-place honors in the Class Project Display (Team) category. Students Brooke Bowers, Elyse Koloski and Jazmin Bice won for their special effects makeup, a style in which Koloski and other CATA students competed and won at last year's Premiere Birmingham beauty show. They will take part in the upcoming state competition in April.

Duke (from Front)

craig@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Cullman County Animal Shelter's Donna Ruttkay shares The Cullman Tribune Pet of the Week.

Duke is a big boy, a 2.5-year-old Great Dane mix. He's a lively-but-not-hyper medium-energy pet who's very good on the leash and has good spatial awareness. He enjoys getting out and running around the exercise yard at the shelter, but always pays attention to where his people are. He likes to hang around but won't crowd your space.

Ruttkay said Duke has a "kindhearted personality."

Duke has the makings of a good therapy, hiking or companion dog.

Duke's adoption fee is $100 which includes: DHLPP vaccine, Bordetella vaccines, rabies vaccine, wormer, general exam at the vet, neutering, microchip, free 30-day health insurance policy issued by 24PetWatch (with valid email only) and a free bag of food from Cullman Pet Depot (you must pay sales tax).

Animal shelter staff and volunteers work with their dogs to make sure they are accustomed to being around people, walking on a leash and practicing good behavior.

Several of the shelter's canine friends have even been "hired" to work as therapy and special needs service dogs.

Please consider adopting, to give a rescued pet a chance at a happy and healthy life.

Contact the Cullman County Animal Shelter at 256-734-5448 or cullmancountyanimalshelter@gmail.com. Visit the shelter at 935 Convent Road NE.
