Candlelight vigil for Curt Wilson March 16; commission votes to support veterans

Christy Perry
christy@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – A candlelight prayer vigil in memory of Curt Wilson is scheduled for Monday, March 16, 2020 at 6 p.m. on the front lawn of Cullman First Baptist Church. The Cullman County Commission at its Tuesday meeting granted permission for the event to Patti Ward, cousin of Curt's mother, Ashley Wilson. Organizers moved the event from the courthouse across the street to the church because they do not know how many people will show up, and they did not make a request to the City of Cullman for use of the sidewalks » PAGE 4

Cullman Kiwanis 64th Annual Pancake Day this Saturday

Maggie Darnell

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Cullman High School cafeteria will be packed this Saturday morning when the Cullman Kiwanis Club hosts its 64th annual Pancake Day. Diners can eat in or carry out. Tickets are $7. Kids 6 and younger eat free (dine in only).

Cullman Kiwanis Club Member Martha Burchell shared, "Our priority is children, so we support children in the area and also give scholarships to high school students, seniors, every year. We have four or five schools, at least four, in which we support the Key Clubs. We train youth how to be leaders, that's what our main focus is, is to support our youth."

The funds raised at pancake day will go toward Kiwanis community project funds, which cover the scholarships.

"Most of the funds are used for fun projects for children," said Burchell, "it doesn't all go to scholarships.

"Sometimes we may have another project we want to fund, but it goes to support our children. It's just a great little civic organization that doesn't have a lot of fluff. We're a global organization serving children all over the world."

For information or to purchase tickets, call or text 256-297-1513 or email pancakes@cullmankiwanis.org.

Cold Springs tops Holly Pond at home 9-3

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

BREMEN, Ala. – Cold Springs returned home Monday night to host the Broncos of Holly Pond and after taking a 4-1 lead in the second inning, the Eagles pulled away to win it 9-3 and improve to 3-0 on the season. Andrew Weaver got the start for Cold Springs and was relieved by Brodi Williams after two innings of work. Williams earned the win after tossing a pair of hitless innings and Grayson Mashburn took the mound to put things away in the final three innings.

An RBI triple off the bat of Lawson Burgess gave the Eagles a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first and Burgess later crossed the plate on a Dylan Gable sacrifice fly to make it 2-0.

An error allowed Seth Whiting to score for Holly Pond and trim the lead to one in the top of the second, but a big double play helped Cold Springs get out of the inning with no further damage.

An RBI double from Burgess brought Ayden Alexander in for another run to make it a 3-1 game and an error allowed Burgess to score and stretch the lead to three.

After a scoreless third inning, Gable doubled into right field to score two more runs and give the Eagles a 6-1 lead.

One pitch later, Gable scored on a fielder's choice to give Cold Springs a 7-1 advantage going into the fifth inning.

An error brought another run in for the Broncos in the top half of the fifth and a sacrifice fly from Andrew Light brought Kyler Chaney home to cut the lead to 7-3.

The Eagles pulled away for good in their half of the fifth when Williams and Alexander both scores on fielder's choices to go up 9-3 and they kept Holly Pond off the board the rest of the way to secure the 9-3 win.

Burgess collected three hits at the plate and drove in three runs for Cold Springs.

Gable (one hit) posted three RBIs as well and Alexander and Williams each finished with a pair of hits in the win.

Light and Thomas Bell each collected RBIs for the Broncos in the loss.

The Eagles are slated to travel to Good Hope for a doubleheader Thursday while Holly Pond returns home to play Locust Fork.

OTHER MONDAY SCORES

Vinemont 11 – Good Hope 1 (varsity baseball)
The Eagles put things away early in their matchup with Good Hope Monday night. Three singles, three walks and a triple helped Vinemont put seven runs on the board in the bottom of the first and the Raiders were never able to recover from the early barrage, falling on the road 11-1.

Travis Hopper collected four hits at the plate and a pair of RBIs in the win.

Deacon Samples (two RBIs) and Mason McKinney (one RBI) each posted a pair of hits for Vinemont and Will Rhodes (one hit) drove in two runs as well.

Zander Noblett picked up the win on the mound after tossing four innings for the Eagles, allowing just one run on three hits and striking out nine batters.

Fairview pulls away to win area-opener at Good Hope 10-2

Sammy Confer
sammy@cullmantribune.com

GOOD HOPE, Ala. – After splitting a pair of games Saturday, Fairview traveled to take on Good Hope in its area opener. A pitcher's duel through five innings quickly turned into an offensive outburst from the Lady Aggies as they pulled away late to defeat the Lady Raiders 10-2.

Fairview struck first to start the game. Alyssa Wooten led off the game with a single and Katie Ball later drew a one-out walk to put a pair of runners on the bases. Allyson Wooten hit an RBI single to center field to give the Lady Aggies a 1-0 lead, but Good Hope countered in their half of the inning with an RBI single from Angelina Flanigan that tied the game at one.

After a scoreless second inning, Fairview broke the tie in the third when Ball blasted a solo home run over the center field fence. The Lady Raiders looked to counter in their half of the inning with runners on second and third and no outs, but Ball was able to get out of the inning without any damage. Good Hope got another rally going in the fifth inning with two more runners on, but Ball got a groundout and a strikeout to end the inning unscathed once again.

The sixth inning saw the Lady Aggies create some distance between them and the Lady Raiders. Ball drew a leadoff walk and Allyson Wooten drove her in with a double to left field to make it a 3-1 game. After a fielding error by Good Hope, Kaitlyn Benson and Kyleigh Aleman added an RBI double and RBI single respectively to increased their lead to four.

Fairview blew the game wide open in the seventh inning with just after a hit batter loaded the bases for the Lady Aggies. Kennedy Johnson scored on a Good Hope error and Aleman and Emma Garcia followed that up with back-to-back 2-run doubles to make it 10-1. The Lady Raiders added a run in their half of the seventh on a Herring RBI groundout and looked for more, but Ball struck out Bailey Keef to end the game and Fairview (7-3) wound up winning its area opener 10-2.

Aleman led the way for the Lady Aggies with two hits and three RBIs. Allyson Wooten (two hits) and Garcia (one hit) each finished with a pair of RBIs and Benson and Ball each added a hit and an RBI in the contest. Ball gave up just four hits and two unearned runs, walked three and struck out six in a complete game effort. Vinemont council talks shaved ice, ball season, Census event

christy@cullmantribune.com

SOUTH VINEMONT, Ala. – It was a light agenda Tuesday evening for the South Vinemont Town Council. The only item of business pertained to the surplus of the ice machine and shaved ice machine used at the town's ball fields.

Shaved ice fans need not worry. The older machine is being replaced with a new machine that is easier to operate.

Mayor Radginal Dodson explained, "It was more aggravation trying to freeze the blocks of ice necessary to feed the shaved ice machine than it was if we could have manufactured our own bagged ice and put it in a different type of machine to still make available Icees for the kids."

The new machine will allow the park to use the ice it already has.

The surplus equipment will be sold on GovDeals. The Town will still have the trailer that houses the shaved ice.

The first ball tournament is scheduled for the weekend of March 21.

South Vinemont Parks and Recreation has tournaments scheduled every weekend until at least July 4.

The parks and recreation games will begin the second week of April.

The town hall has a new look as larger lettering has been added to the front of the building to hopefully make differentiating town hall from the post office easier.

Dodson thanked Public Works Supervisor Mike Graves for a job well done.

The council invites all residents in and around the entire Vinemont area to come out April 11 from 11 a.m.-2 p.m. to enjoy the town's census event.

The event will be at the South Vinemont Community Center.

Volunteers will be available to assist in making sure everyone is counted.

Free food, activities for the kids, T-shirts and prizes will be available to those who come out.

On March 27 at 11 a.m., Haven Counseling Services will celebrate opening in South Vinemont with a ribbon cutting.

Located at 18291 U.S. Highway 31. The new counseling service is owned by Mandy Wilhite, a licensed independent clinical social worker.

Local students elected, earn honors at FCCLA 2020 State Leadership Meeting

Stephanie Blair
Contributor

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – More than 1,000 attendees from all over the state of Alabama traveled to Montgomery March 5-6 for the Family, Career and Community Leaders of America (FCCLA) 2020 State Leadership Meeting. This two-day conference offered FCCLA members opportunities to strengthen leadership skills, explore career pathways and compete in career-applicable skill demonstration competitions. FCCLA is a dynamic and effective national student organization that helps young men and women become leaders and address important personal, family, work and societal issues through family and consumer sciences education.

During this FCCLA State Leadership Meeting, Madeline Mitchell from Cold Springs High School and Kate Rains from Cullman High School ran for an FCCLA State Officer position. Thirteen total students from all over the state of Alabama ran for the six officer positions. The students had to complete an interview and impromptu speech for judges, and then answer a question on stage and present a speech on stage for their peers to judge. Mitchell and Rains were voted in by their peers to be on the 2020-2021 FCCLA Executive Council. Mitchell is the new vice president of Students Taking Action with Recognition (STAR) Events and Rains is the new vice president of Programs.

During their time of office, the two students will review the aims and objectives of the state program of FCCLA; recommend the establishment of programs, projects and activities; plan the program for the State Leadership Meeting and Joint Leadership Development Conference and attend the national meeting in Washington, D.C.; conduct the official business of the organization at the National Leadership Conference; and interpret and advocate the goals and program activities of FCCLA to groups and individuals within the organization.

STAR Events are competitive events in which members compete at the region/district, state and national levels and are recognized for proficiency and achievement in chapter and individual projects, leadership skills and career preparation. STAR Events allow students to compete individually or as a team. There are more than 30 STAR Events students can choose to compete in, all which recognize participants who demonstrate their knowledge, skills, and abilities to actively identify an issue concerning families, careers or communities, research the topic, and develop and implement a project to advocate for positive change.

Cold Springs High School and Cullman High School Students competed this year in the FCCLA STAR Events competition in Montgomery.

Vigil (from Front)

in time, according to Ashley Wilson.

Curt Wilson was killed by a drunk driver May 7, 2017.

The driver responsible for the crash, Bradford Neal Meeks, faced a murder charge in the case, but was found guilty of the lesser charge of criminally negligent homicide Jan. 30, 2020. Meeks will be sentenced March 17.

Ward explained to the commissioners the reason behind the vigil, saying, "Our goal is to provide a positive and peaceful showing of support for Ashley and Curt and their immediate family.

"We will be praying for our community, as well, that we will be united by the tragedy of Curt's death to be more thoughtful, more careful, wiser in our choices and kinder in spirit."

In a Facebook post Tuesday afternoon, Ward shared, "As we prepare to close the most difficult chapter in our family's history, we want to invite the community of Cullman to take part in a candlelight prayer vigil on March 16, at 6 p.m. (on the) First Baptist front lawn, across from the courthouse. Worship music will be provided by Curt's cousin, Walker Caretti and the FBC praise and worship team.

"Friends and family will share 'Curt' stories. Candles and prayer cards will be provided. Let's show Ashley some love as we prayerfully lift her up during this most difficult time. Please share this post!"

In the morning work session prior to the meeting, Chairman Kenneth Walker talked about supporting efforts to assist local veterans suffering from post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD).

A new treatment for PTSD is the stellate ganglion block (SGB) shot, and back in December, Cullman nonprofit Saving Forgotten Warriors (SFW) officially launched the local effort, the "800 Club," to help area veterans receive the shot. The effort was named as such because that is the price per veteran to participate. (See more at www.cullmantribune.com/tag/sgb.)

Walker said, "I think we ought to do at least four."

Commissioners Kerry Watson and Garry Marchman agreed to donate $3,200 to the local VFW.

The commission also amended a resolution passed in 2018 for a tax abatement to American Classics.

Stanley Kennedy, project manager for Cullman Economic Development Agency, explained, "They ended up spending more money on equipment than they expected. It was in the $600,000s is what they predicted on equipment, but they ended up spending $1.5 million. This will result in additional use tax, roughly about $8,000 in use tax, for education, and over the term of the abatement another $13,000 in property tax. It's a little bit of change but a little bit more money for kids in our schools, and once the abatement passes, more money for the county as a whole."

Cullman County Emergency Management Agency (EMA) Director Phyllis Little updated the commission on damages caused by heavy rainfall in the month of February.

"Roughly the damage is just for the county road department in culverts and the bridge (County Road 827 between Logan and Bethel)," said Little. "We are looking at $124,000-plus on labor and materials for culverts and other damage. Then, $150,000-$200,000 for the replacement of the bridge."

Little said she will turn those totals over to the State, but she is unsure what, if any, assistance the County may receive.

The commission last month declared a local state of emergency dating back to Feb. 5, 2020. The local emergency was terminated at Tuesday's meeting. Alabama Gov. Kay Ivey declared a state of emergency for all 67 counties in Alabama beginning Feb. 18.

Little also addressed concerns about the 2019 novel coronavirus (SARS-CoV-2), which causes the disease known as COVID-19.

"We have actually added a link to our webpage for the public to be able to have easy access to all the (Centers for Disease Control and Prevention) CDC updates or information of any kind. Still, at this time, we still do not have a confirmed case of coronavirus yet."

In other business, the commission took the following actions:

- Set a public hearing to consider the vacation of a portion of County Road 2101 for April 28. 2020 at 10 a.m.
- Approved the purchase of an engine from Southland International for a 2015 Tandem dump truck
- Approved the annual spring clean-up "Free Dump Day" during the month of May. Vouchers will be included in upcoming utility bills.
- Approved the surplus of six Kenworth three-axle dump trucks
- Authorized Walker to sign an auction agreement with JM Wood Auction Company to dispose of six Kenworth three-axle dump trucks on or before June 2020.
- Extended bid for recycled asphalt pavement (RAP Millings) to Good Hope Contracting
- Awarded bid for structural steel to Harris Steel.
- Awarded bid for reinforcing steel to Harris Steel.

The next work session will be Tuesday, March 24, 2020 at 8:30 a.m. in the commission conference room followed by the commission meeting at 10 a.m. in the commission meeting room.

Veterans (from Front)

maggie@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – A new treatment for post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD) is being used to treat veterans: the stellate ganglion block (SGB) shot. Local nonprofit Saving Forgotten Warriors (SFW) officially launched the local effort, the "800 Club," Dec. 12, 2019, with a $12,000 donation from Apel Steel. So far, 10 local veterans have received the treatment, with all reporting dramatic success. On Tuesday, four of those veterans shared their testimonies at the Cullman VFW.

The 800 Club earned its name from the shot costing $800. Apel Steel President Ronny Steel was honored by those four veterans at the event. Apel was presented with a photo of the veterans his donation helped, as well as a sculpted metal American flag.

The SGB shot is FDA-approved and is now being given at military hospitals, but the procedure has not yet been made available to VA hospitals around the country.

Retired Col. Ken Brown provided context before the four gave their testimonies, saying, "The purpose of this presentation is to thank one of our citizens who has stepped up to help us finance the effort to get some of our veterans up to Annapolis, Maryland, to get the SGB shot. Back in December, we had the opportunity for a couple of our veterans to go up to Annapolis, Maryland to retired Navy Seal Dr. Sean Mulvaney to get a shot that has been perfected by him and others. It is a shot in the neck; it's administered to the stellate ganglion nerve in the neck which controls the fight or flight mechanism, and basically what it does, for those who are suffering from PTSD, is it resets or 'reboots' the nervous system and basically resets it back to the way it was normally before whatever trauma they experienced took place. A lot of our veterans who have been suffering for years and years with PTSD have been getting treatment through the VA, a long process of drug treatment and counseling and they've had about a 30-40% success rate with that.

"We have 22 veterans a day across the United States with PTSD committing suicide. Every day- 22 a day, committing suicide. That's over 8,000 folks a year committing suicide, and so many other are thinking about it but haven't done it yet. A lot of these young men and women have stepped up to serve, they've been on two or three combat tours, they've seen a lot of things that none of us should ever have to see and it's very difficult with them to deal with the effects of PTSD. I have four of the veterans here that recently went up to Annapolis, Maryland and received the SGB shot thanks to one of our local citizens. They're going to share how it affected each of their lives and how it changed their lives."

The veterans requested to remain anonymous.

First testimony

"I went to Iraq in 2007-08 and did convoy missions with gun trucks and went from the bottom to the top and east and west, so there were a lot of things that I had to do to get back here to my family. I have six kids and we're seven months pregnant with one on the way.

"A little on the shot and how it helped me- my youngest son is 11. I gave him anxiety when he was 7. He was eaten up with anxiety because of my PTSD. Because of my angry outbursts, because I would leave from home and not come back. I went through a drinking spell thinking it was a cure; it helped in the moment, but I still had to face everything when it was done and over with. I was just this big ball of rage. I didn't know if I could continue being here at the VFW, because it was stressing me out and there was no need for it to stress me out because I love it.

"After the shot, it's like this big weight is lifted off your shoulders. I work three days a week delivering to convenience stores in Huntsville and Madison. I deal with a lot of crazy people at those stores. Normally on my way to all that, I'm just (on edge), I don't know what's going to happen next, I'm always on my guard and I feel, my body feels like someone beat me up. After the shot, I get there when I get there. I do my thing. I'm not worried about anything. Somebody does something, I'll just look at them and laugh.

"My kids call me 'Dad 2.0' and they'll mess with me and try to get into an argument on purpose and when I go to get onto them, they say, 'Well wow you have been done a little different,' because normally I would be straight to the point and go, 'Hey, stop that.' The shot works. I feel like a new person. I'm calmer; I'm not worried about stuff. I'm still on my guard, you know? I didn't lose my fight-or-flight response, but I just handle things differently. It was a big reset for me. I will do anything I can for any veteran to go; it's a life-changer. I have not slept a full night since I have come back from overseas. The second night that we got the shot, it didn't matter if I went to bed at 12 and had to get up at 4, I didn't wake up, and when I woke up it didn't feel like someone was punching me in the sides. I didn't fight in my sleep. Now my wife can't sleep because I'm over there like a baby snoring away, but I can get up and do what I need to do in my everyday tasks. I would recommend it to anybody."

Second testimony

"Before this shot, this wouldn't happen. I was pretty much a total recluse. If I had to go out into town, I would go directly where I needed to go, directly to what I needed and directly out of where I was and go back home and lock myself in the house. I couldn't be around crowds, the Christmas parade, I'd take my kids to that every single year, and every single year, my wife has had to leave my kids with the in-laws because they had to get me out of there and back to the house so I could my medication and try to calm down. I couldn't do crowds.

"After the shot... my wife and I decided to drive ourselves up there (to Annapolis) and have a time out of it. We actually went through D.C. and we stayed in D.C. for a couple of days. I was able to go through some of the museums without freaking out, without worrying about who was coming up behind me or having to look for every single exit. Now, I knew where those were, it's still there because it's been ingrained into us so much. I knew where it was, but I wasn't fixated on it. I was able to enjoy myself for the first time in almost 15 years.

"I went to Afghanistan twice, once in 2002-03 and again in 2005-06. While I was over there the first time, I was with the infantry unit and I was a radio operator. I saw a lot of things that a person normally in my position wouldn't have to see and did a lot of things I probably shouldn't have done. Since I've been back, even my temper, I used to run at- 99 was my anxiety level.

"Now, my kids get into an argument and I'm actually able instead of flying off the handle and yelling at them immediately, I'm able to take those steps of escalation and start off at the bottom. Driving through D.C., I was probably at a two the entire time I was driving, and if any of you have ever been up towards like that, it's not a fun place to drive. Even going to the VA before the shot, I'd have to either pull over or leave an hour and a half or two hours early to get to the parking deck so I could just calm down before I got on that bus to go to the VA, and all of that has just subsided now and I'm actually able to, like I said, enjoy myself for the first time in 15 years."

Third testimony

"Pretty much like everyone else has said, it felt like a huge weight was lifted off your shoulders. The night before the shot, I kind of talked myself out of it. I really didn't want to get it done. I didn't trust the doctors taking a needle in my neck. Not really knowing everything, I stayed up the whole night.

"Finally came up for my turn to get the shot, the doctor came in and we talked for about 20-30 minutes and he gave me the first shot in my neck. The first shot pretty much put me a bit more heightened than what I was before I went in; I was more nervous as he was giving me the shot. I felt myself come out of the blue. When he gave me the second shot, I really can't put into words what it felt like, but if an angel were to come down from heaven and reach into my soul and just pull it up, that'd be the only way to describe the shot.

"Those that have been in combat, those who have experienced multiple, multiple, multiple traumas, it's not just one, you know our firefighters, our police officers, our trauma nurses in the emergency room, they deal with the same thing. It was hard for me to believe that just a shot is going to cure things, it'll make things better. The VA has been throwing me medicine for the last 15 years and it came to a point last January where I got to the point where I was ready to end it. Went to the whole VA thing, put myself through the PTSD program in Tuscaloosa. I came back and was working on myself and there were still things I'm working on that just don't seem like it's working. After this shot, I haven't taken any of antidepressants, I haven't taken any of my sleeping medicine. I sleep a full night through and I'm not waking up in cold wet sweats in the middle of the night wondering how I got like that. This shot's really working. I would recommend this shot to anybody who's dealt with any trauma."

Fourth testimony

"This shot did wonders. Normally on an occasion, I wouldn't stand up and talk in front of crowds; I would go and be a recluse. I would be seriously, seriously be in trouble right now. My anxiety would be through the roof. The shot has calmed me down. It's helped me to roll things off of my shoulders. It's almost like I don't care to let things bother me now.

"Before the shot, I would yell and scream at people in traffic. I'd probably run somebody off the road if they made me mad. Things have drastically changed. I actually sleep. I don't wake up in a bad mood. My kids, the thing that won it for me, my kids were telling me, 'Hey, you've would've normally gotten really mad over this.' Like this morning, when I was taking them to school, one of my boys spilled green tea all over my truck and I was like, 'Okay, no big deal, it is what it is, let's clean this up,' and he said, 'Hey, you would normally yell at us for that, something's changed, you would've been screaming,' and I said, 'No I wouldn't! I wouldn't have done that!' All three of my boys went, 'Oh yeah, you'd be screaming at us.'

"So, for my kids to see it, for my wife to see it, I'm able to feel to like I love my wife more and I feel like I'm able to love my kids more. I'm spending more time with them. I'm not easily agitated by the small things that used to eat me up inside. I'm going to advocate for this shot as much as I possibly can. I do believe that if I can feel the way that I feel, then these other veterans deserve to feel the same way."

Kennedy McMann stars in "Nancy Drew" on The CW.

7 p.m. on WABM2
Modern Family

This long-running, Emmy-winning sitcom airs its series finale next month, but as part of ABC's send-off, the network airs a "Modern Marathon" of viewer-favorite episodes — as chosen recently in online voting via Twitter — on this night. Planned from the start to kick off the evening, though, is the 2009 series "Pilot" that started it all by introducing crusty patriarch Jay Pritchett (Ed O'Neill) and his very large blended family. Five more fan-selected episodes follow.

8 p.m. on WTTO
Nancy Drew

Nancy (Kennedy McMann) manages to unravel the series of events that unfolded the night Lucy died — through a combination of forensic clues, astute observation and interrogation of those who knew the victim — in the new episode "The Haunting of Nancy Drew." Unfortunately, all that detective work also uncovers a shattering revelation. Scott Wolf, Leah Lewis, Maddison Jaizani, Tunji Kasim and Alex Saxon also star.

9 p.m. on LIFE
Bride & Prejudice: Forbidden Love

Blair and Chris confront Blair's stubborn mother about her obvious prejudice against their relationship, resulting in a shocking discovery about the older woman's own husband, in the new episode "Think of the Children." Elsewhere, religious matters are the main objections Willi and Cameron must overcome with their respective families, while Kareem's mother is vehemently opposed to his dream of adopting Kee Kee's son.

9:30 p.m. on E!
The Funny Dance Show

We've had "Dirty Dancing" and "Flirty Dancing," so why not funny dancing? In this very offbeat new comedy competition, each episode features two teams of comics vying in dance-offs. The dance routines performed are "inspired by pop culture," created by professional choreographers and performed with back-up dancers before a live club audience. Justin Martindale, Loni Love and Allison Holker are the judges.

Ed O'Neill stars as the patriarch of a multigenerational family in "Modern Family" on ABC.

Turkey season opens Saturday, March 21 in most Alabama counties

Hunters reminded harvest reporting is mandatory

Ala. Dept. of Conservation & Natural Resources

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – Spring turkey season will open March 21 and close May 3, 2020 for most Alabama counties. The season will be delayed for research purposes on the following Wildlife Management Areas: Barbour, J.D. Martin-Skyline, Hollins, Oakmulgee, Lowndes, Choccolocco, and Perdido River. The delayed season will run March 28 to May 3.

Special youth turkey hunts are scheduled for Saturday and Sunday the week prior to the opening of spring season. For more information about Alabama's spring turkey season, including a hunting zone map, visit www.outdooralabama.com/turkey-season.

Hunters are also reminded that all turkey harvests must be reported through Alabama's Game Check system. The data collected through Game Check is used by Alabama Division of Wildlife and Freshwater Fisheries (WFF) biologists to better understand harvest trends and set seasons and bag limits.

"It is very important that hunters understand how harvest reporting has the potential to affect turkey management decisions," said Chuck Sykes, WFF director.

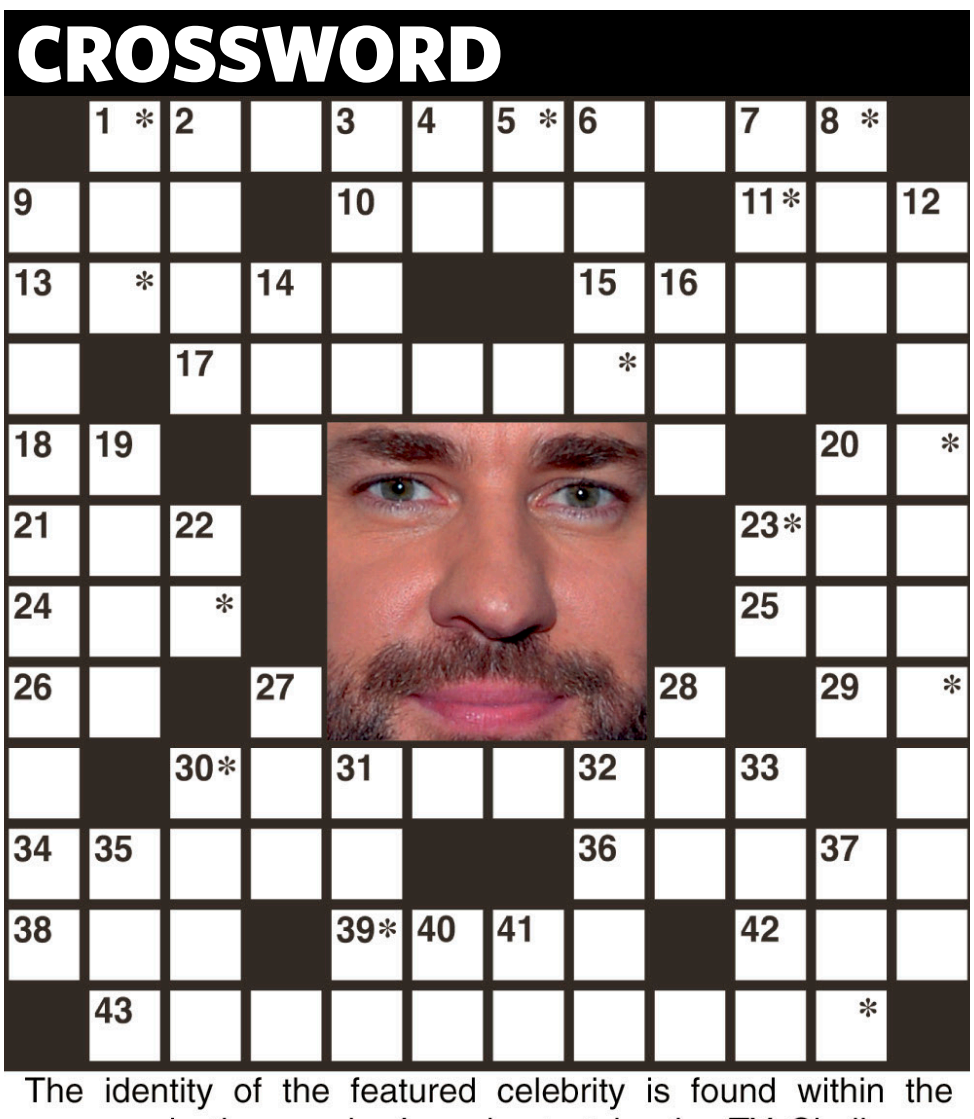

"Turkey harvests have been consistently underreported. If that trend continues it could alter season dates and bag limits. We strongly encourage hunters to report their turkey harvests during this year's spring and fall seasons."

Turkey harvests can be reported online at www.outdooralabama.com or through the Outdoor AL mobile app.

The mobile app is available from the Apple and Android app stores or www.outdooralabama.com/contact-us/mobile-apps.

The Alabama Department of Conservation and Natural Resources promotes wise stewardship, management and enjoyment of Alabama's natural resources through four divisions: Marine Resources, State Lands, State Parks, and Wildlife and Freshwater Fisheries. Festival (from Front)

Christy Perry
christy@cullmantribune.com

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – Founded by Irish settlers in 1832, the city of Hanceville will celebrate its Irish heritage this Saturday with the third annual Hanceville Irish Festival. The festival is organized by Friends of the Festival, a local nonprofit led by Tim Burney and Nolan Bradford. The festivities will begin at 9 a.m. and continue until 5 p.m. in downtown Hanceville.

This year's festival will feature live Irish music and dancing, arts and craft vendors, games, inflatables and more fun activities for all ages.

Said Bradford, "We've got three bands coming up and over 20 vendors so far. I just hope the rain doesn't come!"

Burney has been busy lining up the entertainment for this year's festival.

"We have the same dancers from Huntsville and musical groups," he said.

"One thing that is different is a new feature for the kids. J2C's all-terrain train is a new addition to the festival.

"We will have souvenirs, T-shirts and food vendors there."

The bands scheduled to perform at this year's festival include:

- Chuck Carpenter and Tommy Chapman: 11 a.m.-noon
- A Shamrock in Kudzu: 12:30-1:30 p.m.
- Black Market Haggis: 2-3:30 p.m.
- O'Faolain Academy of Irish Dance: 3:30-4 p.m.
- Jam sessions (open to anyone) 4-5 p.m.

Bulldogs Country Cook'N will be serving a delicious Irish lunch.

Following the festival, the restaurant will be hosting an Irish-themed murder mystery dinner with the Southern Ghost Girls.

Tickets for the murder mystery dinner can be purchased by visiting the event page at www.facebook.com/events/s/hanceville-al-st-paddys-murder/656338051870487/.

Mayor Kenneth Nail is excited for the festival.

"We love to have every different kind of event in Hanceville that we can have and give the folks something to do," he said.

"It's going to have some authentic Irish music there, which is one thing I like about it. My heritage is Irish actually."

Nail shared Bradford's concerns, saying, "We are just hoping that the rain holds off. I know those guys have built a little different stage.

"They will probably close off some streets Friday night to get ready for it."

The stage will be set up on Bangor Street Friday evening so expect the street to close sometime Friday.

Bangor and Commercial Streets will be closed for the duration of the festival.

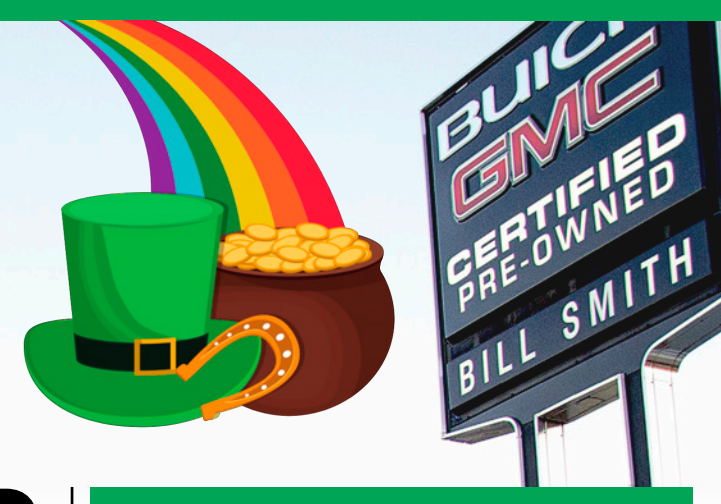

Burney added, "The idea was really a music festival originally when we started talking about it five years ago.

"We certainly want more things there for everybody. We also invite everyone to bring their dogs and dress them up in their Irish gear.

"Come out and celebrate our Irish heritage."
