MONTGOMERY, Ala. – The Alabama Senate on Thursday approved a $5 million supplemental appropriation to the budget to combat the spread of COVID-19, commonly referred to as coronavirus, in the state, according to a press release issued by the Senate.

Sen. Garlan Gudger, R-Cullman said that makes a total of $13.1 million in funds to fight the virus. He said the federal government is sending $8.1 million to Alabama.

CULLMAN, Ala. – Cullman County Board of Education (CCBOE) Superintendent Dr. Shane Barnette on Thursday evening addressed the coronavirus at the board's regular business meeting, announcing that the system is prepared to close all schools temporarily if even one student tests positive.

Before the meeting, Barnette told The Tribune, "If there is a case of coronavirus in a school, the entire school system will close for an amount of time that we're not going to say at this time, but we will close and do a thorough cleaning, and we will open back when the Alabama Department of Public Health and the Alabama State Department of Education advises us that we should open back up. That could be two days or a week."

On the CCBOE website, Barnette and Lead Nurse Kayla Burgess posted a statement which reads:

At a time of recent increased media coverage concerning the coronavirus or COVID-19, I wanted to reach out and make sure you all are as informed as you can be concerning the virus. Our school system, as are all school systems in Alabama, are in close contact [with] the Alabama State Department of Education and the Alabama State Department of Public Health concerning the virus outbreak occurring around the globe. Recent cases regarding community spread (person-to-person) raises some concerns and questions for many people. I hope to alleviate some of that stress, by explaining what we know and what our plan is as a school system. The virus has not yet surfaced in Alabama, while it has been confirmed in neighboring states, Tennessee, Florida and Georgia. Anyone who meets these criteria should refrain from coming to school and contact their healthcare provider immediately for instructions.

• Traveled outside of the United States

• Had close contact with someone who recently traveled internationally and was sick, and who now has:

• Fever

• Cough

• Trouble Breathing

The immediate risk of the coronavirus to the American public is believed to be low at this time, we are taking precautions to help respond in this public health threat:

Everyday preventative actions include:

• Avoid close contact with people who are sick.

• Cover your cough or sneeze with a tissue, then throw the tissue in the trash.

• Avoid touching your eyes, nose and mouth.

CULLMAN, Ala. – Cullman Mayor Woody Jacobs on Thursday released the following statement regarding the coronavirus COVID-19:

The City of Cullman is concerned about the health and safety of our community and is taking this coronavirus very seriously.

We are working with all available local, state and federal agencies and resources to continually monitor the evolving public health risks related to the virus.

City officials are coordinating daily with police, fire, emergency management, first responders, health officials and others to gauge the appropriate response here.

We are listening to the experts on how to appropriately respond. Preparedness is the key.

For now, we encourage people to exercise common sense in their own decisions.

Restrictions (from Front)

Officer William Smith, MD said.

Visitation restrictions include:

• No visitors under the age of 16, even when an adult is with them. With exceptions for extraordinary circumstances which will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis.

• No more than two visitors at a time per room.

• Visitors will be required to sanitize hands when entering the hospital and when entering and exiting any patient rooms.

• Anyone who has a fever, cough, body aches or sore throat should stay away from the facility unless they are seeking treatment.

Cullman Regional continues to pre-screen patients for COVID-19 at the entrance of both the Urgent Care and Emergency Department. Patients with flu-like systems will be asked to wear a mask and moved to a private area away from other patients immediately upon arrival.

Community members who have flu-like symptoms (fever, cough, body aches and/or sore throat), should call their doctors for instructions before presenting to any health care clinic unexpectedly.

If you do not have a doctor, Cullman Regional's Virtual Care is currently available for screening. Visit www.CullmanRegionalMedicalGroup.com to access Virtual Care, Monday-Friday, 7 a.m.-6 p.m.

Senate (from Front)

over the world and in our economy. However, fear will not help us to make it through this time. We need people to make good, sound decisions based off of actual facts.

"We need people to be aware and concerned but not panicked. In that vein, the Alabama Senate approved $5 million today on top of the $8.1 million the federal government has released to support combating the spread of the coronavirus. If we are smart, cautious and aware, we will get through this time with minimal casualties."

According to the release, "The money is for health care professionals to use as they see fit to stop the spread of the disease in Alabama including helping set up local centers for testing, covering expenses related to telehealth and covering the costs for the uninsured for testing and treatment.

It continued, "Currently there have been no positive tests for coronavirus in Alabama, however after meeting with professionals in the healthcare industry and public health officials, legislative leadership determined it was important to be proactive and work to get the situation under control should any tests in Alabama come back positive for the disease.

"Both Senate President Pro Tempore Del Marsh (R-Anniston) and Senate Majority Leader Greg Reed (R-Jasper) emphasized that if someone is not feeling well, they should contact their physician to administer next steps and determine if further testing is necessary."

"I want to thank Governor Ivey and her team for taking this issue head on. One of the biggest problems we have seen from this disease is simply a lack of preparation," Marsh said.

"It is important for everybody to know that Alabama has a solid plan to combat Coronavirus. I cannot stress enough that if someone feels as though they need to be tested for coronavirus they should contact their doctor to work through the next steps."

"Over the past several days legislative leadership has held a series of meetings with the Governor and her Coronavirus Task Force, as well as with health care professionals who are on the front lines of combating this pandemic," Reed said.

"It is important to know that we have test kits and tests are being administered and we have excellent health care professionals who are prepared to act. One important thing to note is that we are setting up the ability to contact doctors with telehealth so that next steps can be decided over the phone or video chat to limit the potential of exposure to this illness."

"In response to the pandemic that has been going around the nation and the world, this supplementary spending bill is a way for the State of Alabama to be proactive and show our citizens that we are serious about fighting the spread of the coronavirus," said Alabama Senate Minority Leader Bobby Singleton (D-Greensboro).

"Although we have not had a positive test in the state, we understand that this highly contagious virus could be potentially deadly for those with compromised immune systems. Therefore, we are moving forward in setting up crisis centers to protect our citizens."

Census (from Front)

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – Gov. Kay Ivey formally signaled the open of Census 2020 participation statewide in an afternoon press conference held Thursday at the Capitol.

In a historic first, the Census is now live online at my2020Census.gov. Additionally, invitation letters have begun and will continue to arrive in mailboxes across the state through March 20.

Alabamians can participate in the 10-question Census online, by phone or via traditional paper form. All participants' information is protected by strict federal law.

Joined by Alabama Counts! Chairman Kenneth Boswell; Sen. Pro Tempore Del Marsh, R-Anniston; House Speaker Mac McCutcheon, R-Monrovia; Sen. Bobby Singleton, D-Greensboro; and Marilyn Stephens of the Census Bureau's Atlanta Region Research, Ivey stressed Census participation and its importance for all Alabamians during her remarks.

"Since I took office in 2017, it has been a priority to ensure Alabama is accurately counted in the census because of the significant impacts on our state in areas of congressional representation and critical federal funding," Ivey said.

"Whether you are filling out your census online at my2020Census.gov, answering by phone or on the traditional paper form, I urge everyone to be counted!

"The future of our state depends on Alabamians taking just a few minutes to participate in the 2020 Census."

Speakers reiterated what the state stands to lose if Alabama's count fails to reach a maximum level and falls shy of the 72 percent participation rate in the 2010 Census. Potential low-participation effects including the loss of millions of dollars in Census-derived community funding, loss of potential economic development opportunities, and reduced state representation in Congress.

"The impact of this census will be felt for 10 years, so it is imperative that we all do our part and participate for our children, grandchildren, communities and schools," said Boswell, who is director of the Alabama Department of Economic and Community Affairs.

"We are counting on all Alabamians to participate in the 2020 Census."

Boswell added he and 2020 Census Committee Members statewide encourage participation as soon as invitation letters are received and by April 30; however, there will be a second push for participation in the months following for those Alabamians who have yet to engage.

"The census asks very basic demographic information and only takes about six minutes to complete, so we encourage everyone living or staying in Alabama to complete the census as soon as you receive your invitation from the Census Bureau," Boswell said.

"By filling it out as soon as possible, you can fulfill your civic duty and help our state."

Eagles knock off Danville at home 7-2

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

VINEMONT, Ala. – Danville made the trip to Vinemont High School for a matchup with the Eagles Thursday night and the Hawks were sent home with a 7-2 loss. Wyatt Thomason got the start on the mound for Vinemont and earned the win after tossing six innings, allowing just two runs on five hits and striking out eight Danville batters.

Clay Rogers singled and Travis Hopper drew a walk to give the Eagles a pair of base runners in the bottom of the first and after stealing third, Rogers scored on a fielder's choice to give Vinemont a 1-0 lead. A hit batter put runners on the corners for the Eagles, but two quick outs ended the inning for Danville.

After two quick outs started the bottom of the second inning for Vinemont, Will Rhodes singled to reach first base. Rhodes stole second and Rogers singled into right field to bring home and stretch the lead to 2-0.

Hopper drew another walk to once again give the Eagles runners on the corners, but this time Deacon Samples drove one into right field to score Rogers and make it a 3-0 game going into the third.

A quick and scoreless third inning took us into the fourth where the Hawks managed to get on the board and trim the lead to 3-1 going into the bottom half of the inning.

Vinemont got the run back after Rogers singled to reach base for the third time on the night and Hopper knocked a triple into center field to bring him home and build the lead back up to 4-1. Thomason and the Eagles kept Danville off the board in the top of the fifth and Lucas Miller was able to steal home in the bottom of the inning to extend the lead to 5-1 going into the sixth.

The Hawks were able to string some hits together and put another run on the board to cut it to 5-2 in the top of the sixth, but Vinemont put things away in its half of the inning.

Back to back base hits from Colby Miller and Rhodes gave the Eagles a pair of runners on the base paths and a single off the bat of Hopper scored them both to make it a 7-2 game going into the final frame.

Rogers took the rubber in the top of the seventh with two runners on and a chance to end the game and a strikeout and a double play sealed the win for Vinemont.

Rogers (one RBI) led the Eagles with three hits and Hopper (two hits) led them with three RBIs. Rhodes added a pair of hits and Samples (one hit) drove in two runs of his own.

Vinemont improves to 5-4 on the year with the win and will try to stay hot on the road against Holly Pond Friday.

OTHER THURSDAY SCORES

Cold Springs 11 – Good Hope 1 (varsity baseball)
After toppling Holly Pond at home earlier this week, Cold Springs routed Good Hope 11-1 on the road to improve to 4-0 on the season.

Logan Rice got the win on the mound for the Eagles after allowing just one run four hits and striking out five in five innings of work. Brodee Bartlett and Dylan Gable (one hit) each collected two RBIs in the win and Rice (one hit), Lawson Burgess (one hit) and Roberto Ayala drove in runs for Cold Springs as well.

Harper Chiaranda led the Raiders with three hits in the loss.

Hartselle 15 – Cullman 4 (varsity softball)
This one was over early for the Lady Bearcats. Hartselle racked up 12 runs in the bottom half of the first and needless to say, Cullman wasn't able to make up that ground, falling on the road 15-4.

Carlie Burnham (homerun) drove in a pair of runs for the Lady Bearcats and Olivia Britton (one hit) and Faith Guest each collected RBIs as well.

Cold Springs 15 – Fairview 10 (varsity softball)
The Lady Eagles outpaced the Lady Aggies in a shootout Thursday night that saw 32 combined hits between both teams. Cold Springs jumped to a 10-2 lead after two innings, but Fairview managed to chip away and make it 4-run game in the fourth, but it wasn't enough, and the Lady Eagles held on to win it 15-10.

Crimson Gann (two RBIs) and Emma Black each posted four hits in the win and Kylon Hamby (three hits) and Heidi Nichols (one hit) each drove in three runs for Cold Springs.

Allyson Wooten blasted two homeruns in the loss for the Lady Aggies and collected three RBIs and Katie Ball posted a homerun and three RBIs of her own. Kaitlin Benson (one RBI) added four hits in the loss and Rebekah Deblanc finished with three hits and three RBIs.

West Point 5 – Hamilton 4 (varsity baseball)
After taking the area opener at home Tuesday night, the Warriors traveled to Hamilton Thursday with a chance to clinch the series.

The Aggies led the way 4-1 going into the fifth inning but West Point plated a pair of runs in the fifth and two more in the sixth to pull ahead and win the game 5-4 and sweep the area series.

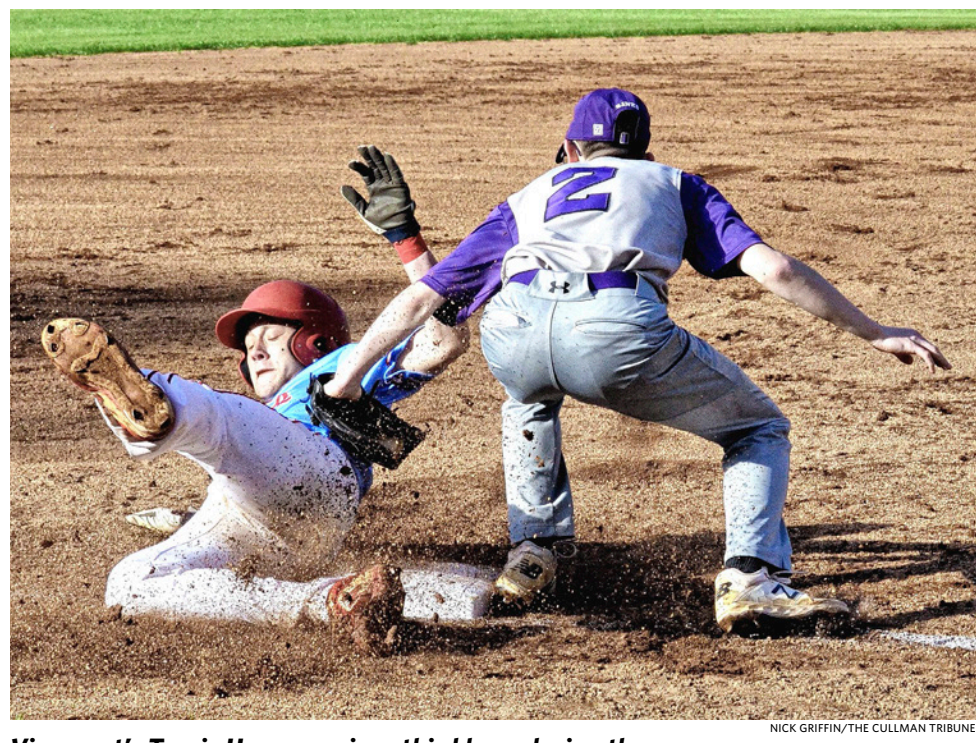

Aubry Cleghorn (homerun) led the Warriors with three RBIs in the win and Brody Rusk drove in a pair of runs as well. Whitt Laney, Will Cochran and Chase Sibley each added hits in the win.

Cleveland 9 – Holly Pond 5 (varsity baseball)
The Broncos jumped out to a 4-0 lead in the top of the first inning and led things 4-2 most of the way until a 6-run fifth inning allowed Cleveland to pull ahead and Holly Pond was never able to answer, falling on the road 9-5.

Dayden Floyd (one hit) drove in a pair of runs while John Martin (one hit), Charlie Huddleston (one hit) and Seth Whiting each collected an RBI in the loss. Thomas Bell added two hits for the Broncos.

West Point 13 – Arab 8 (varsity softball)
After Arab plated three runs in the top of the first, the Lady Warriors responded with four in the bottom half of the inning to take the lead and they plated four more in the second to stay in front for good. Arab chipped away at the lead in the fourth and fifth, but West Point put together another 4-run inning in the sixth to pull away with a 13-8 win.

Molly Pendley (three hits) and Gracie Thompson (two hits) each led the Lady Warriors three RBIs and Carlie Wilkins (two hits) and Bailey Brock (one hit) each drove in a pair of runs as well.

Doughty, Okoro named All-SEC by league's coaches

Cody Voga
AU Athletics

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. – Auburn guard Samir Doughty was named First Team All-SEC and forward Isaac Okoro was tabbed Second Team All-SEC through voting by the Southeastern Conference coaches, the league office announced Tuesday.

They are the seventh and eighth Tigers to be selected as all-conference players under head coach Bruce Pearl.

Okoro also was named to the SEC All-Defensive Team and SEC All-Freshman Team.

Doughty is the first player to garner first-team honors by the league's coaches since Chris Porter and Doc Robinson following the 1999 season.

The Philadelphia, Pa. native is one of the most improved players in the SEC, raising his scoring average from 7.3 points per game as a junior to 16.7 points per contest as a senior.

He is on pace to be the fourth guard to average 16 or more points per game under Coach Pearl.

Doughty has 11 20-point games so far in 2019-20 after the senior entered the season with just two 20-point efforts in 75 career games.

He racked up 14 games in double figures during league action and led the team in scoring in 15 times overall this season.

Doughty is also third in conference in free throws made (148) and attempted (193).

Okoro is the fourth Tiger freshman ever to earn all-conference accolades by the league's coaches, joining Eddie Johnson (1974), Ronnie Battle (1990) and Toney Douglas (2005).

He is one of just three players in the SEC to average 12 points per game with at least 25 steals and 25 blocks on the year, joining John Fulkerson (Tennessee) and Reggie Perry (Mississippi State).

Okoro is one of just seven freshmen to average double figures during the 2019-20 campaign at 12.9 points per game.

Okoro's 51.4 field goal percentage is ranked inside the top 15 nationally among freshmen, and he has the highest field goal percentage of any freshman with at least 15 made 3-pointers.

Auburn begins postseason play at the SEC Tournament as the No. 2 seed in Nashville, Tenn. this weekend.

The Tigers await the winner of No. 7 seed Texas A&M and No. 10 seed Missouri in the quarterfinals.

The game, which is set to tip off Friday, March 13 at 6 p.m. CT, will be broadcast on the Auburn Sports Network and SEC Network.

4 Alabama men's basketball players earn SEC All-Conference honors

Aaron Jordan
UA Athletics

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. – Sophomore guard Kira Lewis Jr. was named All-Southeastern Conference First Team while junior guard John Petty Jr. earned All-SEC Second Team honors, as the league office announced the 2020 postseason awards on Tuesday. In addition to the all-conference accolades, the head coaches from around the league also voted guard Jaden Shackelford was selected to the league's all-freshman team, while junior guard/forward Herbert Jones was tabbed as an all-defensive team performer.

It's the first time since 2006 and second time in program history that Alabama has had four different players earn All-SEC honors in the same year. That season, Ronald Steele (first team), Jermareo Davidson (first team), Alonzo Gee (all-freshman) and Richard Hendrix (all-freshman) were recognized.

Lewis, who earned SEC All-Freshman honors a year ago, leads the Crimson Tide in scoring (18.5 ppg), assists (5.2 apg), steals (1.8 spg) minutes (37.6 mpg) and field goals made (206) and attempted (449). The only UA player to have started all 31 contests this season, Lewis enters SEC Tournament action leading the league in minutes, ranking third in assists and steals, and fourth in scoring average.

Meanwhile, Petty is considered the top three-point shooter in the SEC. Averaging 14.5 ppg, the Huntsville, Ala., native leads the league in three-point shooting percentage (.440) and ranks second in threes made per game (2.9), totals that are ranked ninth and 28th in the nation, respectively. He also leads Alabama and ranks 11th in the league with 6.6 rebounds per contest.

In his first season at the Capstone, Shackelford has made an immediate impact as his 466 points scored this season ranks fourth on UA's all-time freshman scoring leaders list. In SEC play alone, he led the league with 55 threes made and ranked 10th with 16.5 points per game.

For the year, the Hesperia, Calif., native currently ranks third in the league in three-point percentage (.357) and threes made per game (2.7), while checking in at No. 11 in scoring average (15.0 ppg). Shackelford becomes the fourth straight Crimson Tide player to earn a spot on the SEC All-Freshman Team, joining Lewis (2019), Collin Sexton (2018) and Braxton Key (2017).

Despite missing what amounted to nearly five full games due to a variety of injuries this season, Jones' impact on the defensive end of the floor was felt throughout the year in games he played in and especially games in which he could not suit up. The team leader in Blue Collar Points with 593 – which is used by the coaching staff to measure effort and hustle – the Greensboro, Ala., native still leads Alabama in charges taken (22), deflections (84) and floor dives (31). Over the past seven games, Jones has started each game despite not being able to use his left arm – and dominant hand – due to a surgically-repaired left wrist.

The No. 9-seeded Crimson Tide will take on No. 8 seed Tennessee in Thursday's SEC Tournament contest. The game will tip off at noon CT and will be televised on SEC Network.

For all the latest information on the team, follow AlabamaMBB on Twitter, Instagram, and Facebook. General athletic news can be found at UA_Athletics on Twitter and Instagram and Alabama Athletics on Facebook.

Dodge City gets update on sewage treatment plant contamination

maggie@cullmantribune.com

DODGE CITY, Ala. – The Dodge City Town Council learned more details about the cleanup of the oil contamination in the town's unique natural sewage treatment plant at its March meeting Thursday evening.

Living Water Services General Manager Grady Parsons, whose company is handling the cleanup, said water samples have recently been taken again, and he is awaiting test results.

In the meantime, he said, the score from the annual report the Town must submit to Alabama Department of Environmental Management (ADEM) was 7.

"The lower the score, the better," said Parsons. "Everyone has some points because the age of the system. I think 7 is the lowest in Alabama."

He also noted in every other category on the report, the town had zeroes, with the only points (the 7) being in the age of the system.

Dodge City Mayor Tawana Canada asked Parsons to give the council a more in-depth look of the oil contamination.

Parsons said the oil was first seen in a routine inspection of the plant, with the first notification of contamination given to Canada Dec. 20, 2019.

Parsons said upon further investigation into the source of the oil, it looked to come from the vicinity of the truck stop located in the town, and it was a large amount.

Said Parsons, "That large quantity appears to be from some type of a transport tanker of some kind. If it was a 55-gallon drum, it probably would've come and gone and we never would've seen it. We had a rather large quantity of oil come through. That sort of thing can't happen."

At the council's last meeting, the contamination was reported to be in a "treatment lagoon" that is part of the town's unique natural sewage treatment plant. Canada said up to 2,000 gallons of oil were released into the system by an unknown person or persons.

Dodge City's "green" sewage treatment plant has a system of "S" shaped ponds that filter out bacteria with cat tails and duck weed. The water is also treated with UV light to remove any remaining bacteria.

Parsons was happy with the council's quick response to the issue, saying, "We feel really good about the course of action you've taken."

Town Attorney Hugh Harris suggested the council make an official report with the Cullman County Sheriff's Office to further investigate and attempt to identify the person or persons responsible for the contamination.

Canada previously stated, "It is safe. Living Water Services caught the problem almost immediately. It's contained to one cell and it's being treated so that the oil is absorbed out of the water before it's released into the other cells."

In other business, the council voted to take $50,000 from the Town's general fund to pay toward its loan for the CR 216 Bridge Culvert Replacement Project, leaving the loan balance at approximately $318,000.

The council then discussed the annual audit required by the State and voted to accept it.

Canada said of the audit, "It came back good."

Town Clerk Vicki Ogletree shared, "It's basically what went in and what went out, as far as the Town's expenses and income are concerned. It's our annual audit required by State of Alabama."

The council voted to rename four county roads located within the town limits after important persons in the town's history.

County Road 262 is now Myrtis Shelton Drive, County Road 263 is now Jay V. Shelton Drive, County Road 240 is now Bobby McDonald Drive and County Road 260 is now Luther White Road.

Canada noted the new roads will still keep the original county road numbers with the names.

"Luther White owned the first store in Dodge City," said the mayor. "Bobby McDonald was the town's first fire chief. Jay V. and Myrtis Shelton helped make Dodge City by going around and petitioning to make the town."

The council also voted to accept the bid on tree services (primarily tree removal in Perry Ray Park) of four trees from local company Marshall Tree Service for $1,400.

The council voted to close Howard Circle, the road in front of Dodge City Town Hall, June 13, 2020 from 5 a.m. until 7 p.m. for Dodge City Day and the town's Census Days event, which will also be taking place.

The next regularly scheduled Dodge City Town Council meeting will be April 9, 2020 at 6 p.m. at Dodge City Town Hall.

Emergency blood drive set for March 17

Wendy Sack
wendy@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – An emergency blood drive is set for Tuesday, March 17 on the campus of Cullman Regional from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. According to the hospital, LifeSouth is in critical need of all blood types due to a reduction in blood donations and cancellations of blood drives because of concerns about the COVID-19 virus.

"Respiratory viruses, like COVID-19, are not known to be transmitted by blood transfusion, and no cases of transfusion-transmitted coronaviruses have been reported," said Dr. Chris Lough, vice president of medical services for LifeSouth. "The most significant risk to the blood supply posed by COVID-19 is a lack of availability due to a decrease in donations."

Lough said LifeSouth needs healthy donors to ensure hospitals have the blood needed to treat patients.

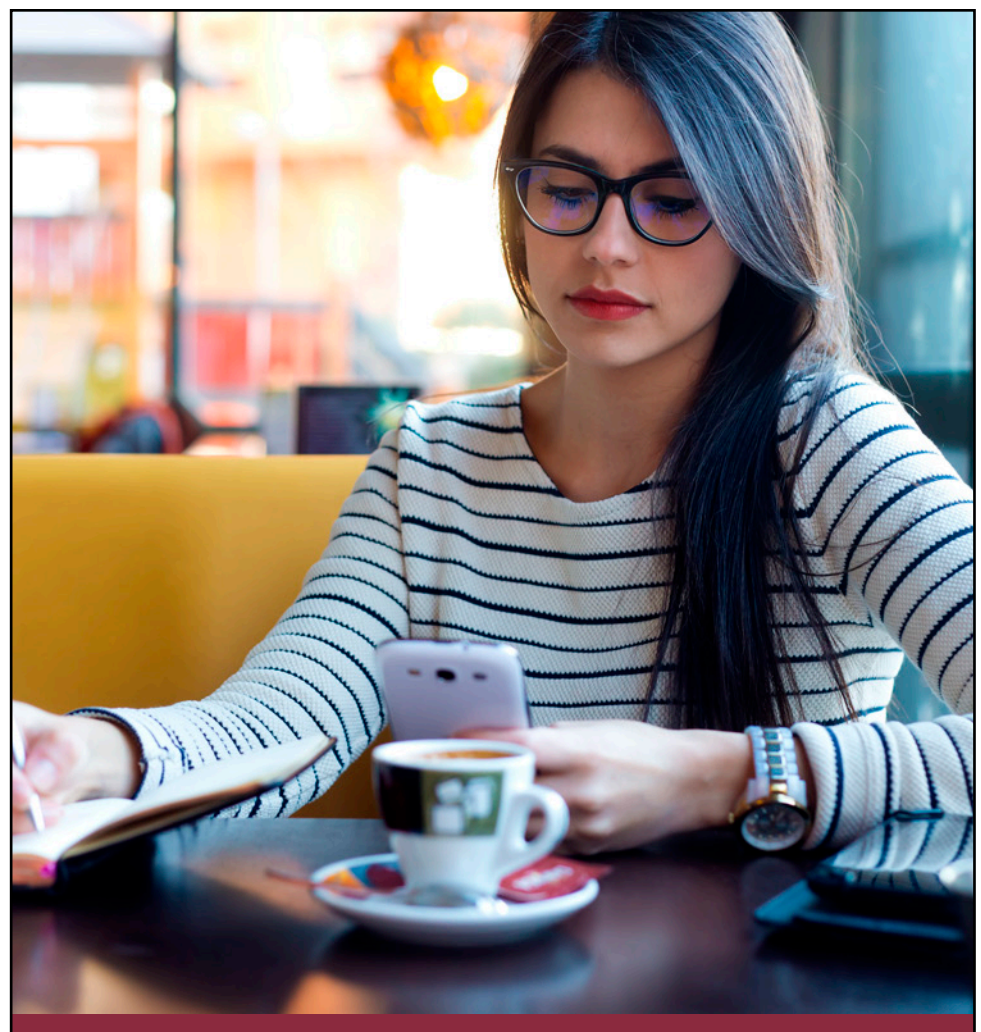

"If the outbreak progresses, we could be facing a critical public health risk if the blood supply continues to decline," said Lough.

To donate, visit the LifeSouth Community Bloodmobile, which will be located at the main entrance of the hospital (1912 Alabama Highway 157, Cullman, AL 35058). Donors must be in good health, 16 or older (16-year-olds require written parental consent), weigh at least 110 pounds and show a valid photo ID. All donors will receive a LifeSouth T-shirt and coupons for free food.

For more information, visit www.lifesouth.org or call the local LifeSouth Donor Office at 256-736-1594.

At the meeting, Barnette encouraged parents to visit the system's coronavirus information page for more information. That information is located at www.ccboe.org/announcements/what_s_new/more_information_on_coronavirus_from_c_c_b_o_e.

Exceptional Service Awards
The board took time at the beginning of the meeting to recognize recipients of March's CCBOE e5 Exceptional Service Award, including:

- Jocelyn Logan, Good Hope Elementary School teacher. Her recommendation letter read, in part, "Ms. Logan goes above and beyond to make sure that every one of our students knows she cares for them."

- CCBOE Maintenance Department. The staff who, according to Barnette, received multiple recommendations from across the system, was represented at the meeting by John McKinney, Phillip White, Ricky Smith, Rodney Turner and Roger Hamm. "We're blessed. To have as small a maintenance staff as we have, we pull off miracles every day by how great our schools are right now, and a lot of it's because of you guys."

- West Point High School and Elementary School lunchroom staff. Leah Ransom, April Rusk, Ashley Millwood, Pam Baggett, Lynn Malin, Susan Byram, Erin Phillips, Connie Duke, Nora Campbell, Donna Freeman and Candace Knowles. West Point High School Principal Heith Yearwood personally came to commend the staff especially for the extra work it puts in on the school's after-school feeding program, with approximately 1,500 meals served daily.

Other board business
The board voted to transfer ownership of the old Garden City Elementary School building to the Town of Garden City

No discussion took place before the vote, but during the board's work session beforehand, member Heath Albright pointed out that the CCBOE owns a number of properties across the county which the system does not use but still has to insure and maintain.

Said Allbright, "Over the last several years, we've been trying to figure out a way to get rid of some of those costs."

Barnette added that several area community centers are still officially CCBOE properties, and he hopes to see a number of buildings transferred from the system to local entities.

The board also voted to allow the new Cullman County Youth Volleyball League to use CCBOE facilities without having to pay usage fees for its first year.

Said Barnette, "We never had a youth program for volleyball, and we have a group of volunteers that are starting that up in our school system, and hopefully, this fall we'll have a lot of young people getting a jump start on volleyball."

The CCBOE meets next April 16, 2020 for a work session at 5:30 p.m. with regular meeting following immediately, at the central office. The public is invited to attend.

Courts (from Front)

craig@cullmantribune.com

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – Alabama judicial authorities on Wednesday instructed courts across the state to begin developing a contingency plan to maintain court operations in the event that an emergency disrupts local government operations.

Circuit Judge Gregory Nicholas, presiding judge of the Cullman County court system, told The Tribune, "Our State Administrative Office of Courts has asked presiding judges in each judicial circuit to assemble a team and adopt a Continuity of Operations Plan (COOP). The Plan will establish procedures to ensure that essential State court functions continue without interruption in the event an emergency in Cullman County threatens normal operations; it also addresses the relocation of selected personnel and functions to an alternate facility, if required."

According to the 2014 Cullman County Elected Officials Guide to Emergency Management, A COOP is "A plan devised and record to ensure the safety of employees, provide for an alternative location for operations and the proper resumption of normal operations and services as a result of a disaster."

According to Nicholas, the plan is designed to:
- Ensure that the courts of Cullman County are prepared to respond to emergencies, recover from them, and mitigate against their impacts.
- Ensure that the courts of Cullman County are prepared to provide critical services in an environment that is threatened, diminished or incapacitated.

The obvious connection: Coronavirus
The timing of the State's request is sure to raise questions about the coronavirus, but Nicholas pointed out that the plans being developed across the state are not intended to offer responses to a single type of crisis.

Said Nicholas, "However, it should be emphasized that the COOP plan is being adopted but is not being implemented at this time. There is no evidence that the coronavirus is currently present in our community or that it will significantly impact our area in the future.

"The plan is being adopted only out of an abundance of caution to ensure that our local courts are prepared for any contingency that may arise.

"The adoption of this plan will be helpful in dealing with any future problems associated with a possible coronavirus pandemic, but it is designed to be used for any future emergency situation that jeopardizes court operations, such as the 2011 tornado that struck the courthouse and caused widespread devastation in our area."

Government already has certain plans in place
The development of emergency contingency plans, including COOP's, is nothing new for Alabama. The state has had emergency response plans in place since the "Civil Defense" programs of the early Cold War era in the 1950s.

The Alabama Emergency Management Act, dating to 1955 and updated over the years, offers plans of response to situations "resulting from enemy attack, sabotage, or other hostile action, or from fire, flood, earthquake, or other natural causes, and in order to insure that preparations of this state will be adequate to deal with such disasters or emergencies, and generally to provide for the common defense and to protect the public peace, health, and safety, and to preserve the lives and property of the people of the state."

The act includes responses to public health emergencies. The full act is included in the "Cullman County Elected Officials Guide to Emergency Management," which may be viewed at www.alabamacounties.org/wp-content/uploads/2014/08/Phyllis-Packet-PDF.pdf.

Coronavirus: Helpful food and shopping tips

Andrea Morris
Contributor

The coronavirus (COVID-19) is now in the global spotlight. Facing a short (two weeks or less) quarantine at home is a real possibility. Take steps now in case you face a quarantine.

Preparing for a quarantine of this nature is much like preparing for a natural disaster. In this situation, however, loss of electricity and gas services is not expected. You will likely have use of a refrigerator, freezer, stove and oven.

Much like in a natural disaster, the key is to stock up on food and other important items you and your family will need during a quarantine.

Following are tips to help you prepare for a coronavirus quarantine. These shopping and meal planning suggestions can make a quarantine experience less stressful.

• Consider food storage space. If you have one standard-size refrigerator, consider purchasing items that can go in the pantry since space may be limited. Use plastic, airtight bins to store pantry items if space is limited.

• Use frozen or canned fruit. Fresh fruits and vegetables are a great option when available. While under quarantine, consider other ways to keep fruits and vegetables in your meal plan. Canned and frozen produce are great options and will last the entire time under quarantine. Choose canned fruits packed in juice instead of syrup. Keep a colorful plate in mind when planning foods for meals. Carrots, peppers, broccoli, spinach, asparagus and lots of other vegetables are available in canned and frozen varieties.

• Stock up on tummy-friendly foods. When caring for a sick family member while quarantined, you should have a steady supply of tummy-friendly foods. Remember to follow your physician's dietary orders at all times.

• Eat three meals a day. During normal times, lunch is usually eaten at school or work, so be sure your list includes enough food for all three meals each day. If snacks are needed, consider flavored water, fruits, vegetables, low-fat cheese sticks, nuts or lightly salted and buttered microwave popcorn. Avoid processed snacks with added fats, sugar and salt.

• Plan meals that are vitamin rich, especially vitamin D. Vitamin D is referred to as the sunshine vitamin. Being indoors for extended periods may result in low vitamin D levels. Add to your grocery list foods that are good sources of vitamin D. These include canned salmon, tuna and mackerel; spinach; fortified cereals; milk; and orange juice.

• Include fun food activities. Use this time to cook healthy meals with family members. Cooking together can be a great time to share family recipes, teach children cooking skills, and break up the monotony of being in the house for a long time. Making your own pizza, baking fresh breads, or having a cookie decorating contest are all good ideas.

• Note. If your pharmacy is located where you shop for groceries, be sure to add medication to your shopping list. Make sure you have enough medicine to last during the quarantine.

The following foods can be introduced as permitted:

• Clear liquids and broth
• Ice pops and gelatin snack cups
• Electrolyte replacement drinks
• Dry toast
• Saltine crackers and pretzels
• Bananas
• White rice
• Unsweetened applesauce
