‘They showed up in waves’

MARTY HARDMAN

Cars line up for a farewell parade at Fairview Elementary School this week.

Christy Perry
christy@cullmantribune.com

FAIRVIEW, Ala. – It was a bittersweet farewell at Fairview Elementary School Monday as administrators, teachers and staff waved and greeted students- from a safe distance, of course. A parade of approximately 200 cars lined up to allow the students to see and speak to their teachers after the decision was made by Governor Kay Ivey to cancel school for the remainder of the 2019-2020 school year.

Principal Marty Hardman said, “One of my teachers had mentioned to me that East Elementary had done that and it looked really impressive and wanted to know about us trying it. I said, ‘Let’s do it!’”

He then reached out to all the teachers and staff to come out and invited all the parents.

He said, “They showed up in waves.”

The teachers and students made signs and had a great time.

Hardman said, “The students were sitting on cars through sunroofs and back of trucks. It was very good. Good to see the kids and I think the teachers really enjoyed it.”

Local seniors reflect on their favorite games, moments from their careers

Sammy Confer
sammy@cullmantribune.com

The spread of COVID-19 has brought an abrupt and unsatisfying end to the careers of senior athletes all over the state. This time of year should be full of sporting events to attend ranging from track meets and baseball games to archery tournaments and soccer and everything in between. With schools closing their doors for the remainder of the year, many athletes had their careers cut short and some of them have shared their favorite games and moments from their playing days.

If you are a senior athlete whose season was affected by the coronavirus and would like to share some of your favorite moments from your career, you can email them to confersammy@yahoo.com.

Kaylee Brummett, Addison Softball
“I would say my favorite moment would be my infield home run I got in fifth grade. It was my first ever and I was so happy I couldn’t stop talking about it for days. I would have to say my greatest game would have to be the Addison vs Phil Campbell game. I got a hit right over second base to give us the go ahead run. And I got on base like four more times after that. It was such an exciting night for me.”

Luke Waldrep, Addison Baseball
“My best moment and game was when we beat Southeastern last year in the first round of the playoffs.”

Kylon Hamby, Cold Springs Softball
“One funny moment this year was we were playing out at Belgreen in a tournament and I was up to bat and I got a hit out to right field and I started running to first and tripped over my own feet. It was an embarrassing moment, but it sure was funny.”

Crimson Gann, Cold Springs Softball
“There is so many to choose from. I guess I could say my favorite memories would be all the laughs with some of my closest and » PAGE 8

Cullman Council excludes essential city employees from FFCRA, approves temporary stipend

W.C. Mann
craig@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Cullman City Council on Monday evening approved an emergency resolution that will exclude the city's public safety and public works employees from the recently passed Family First Corona Response Act (FFCRA). The federal act increases the availability of paid family and medical leave and expands the reasons for which an employee might take such leave, while making provision for the exclusion of certain employees such as emergency responders, when large scale employee absences could render a business unable to continue operations.

With the stated purpose of maintaining enough workforce to continue operations of vital city services, the council voted to exclude employees of the following city departments:

- Police Department
- Fire Rescue Department
- Sanitation Department
- Wastewater Treatment Department
- Water and Sewer Departments
- Street Department
- Engineering Department
- City Garage
- Information Technology Department
- Human Resources Department

Temporary raise given and child care offered

"In recognition of the contributions of the employees of these departments to the public health, safety and welfare," according to the resolution, the council also approved a five percent pay stipend for all employees of those departments for a 12-week period beginning on Apr. 1. Councilman Johnny Cook also announced that the city is hosting a day camp at the Cullman Wellness and Aquatic Center from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. each weekday for the children of city employees. The camp is free of charge, but children will need to bring a sack lunch. Cook stated that activities will follow social distancing rules, including not having more than 10 children in one area at a time.

After the meeting, Mayor Woody Jacobs said city departments have already enacted measures such as having outgoing and incoming employees use different doors at shift changes, and modifying shift schedules to make sure that all responsibilities are met, but within COVID-19 response protocols.

Holly Pond Council refunds summer ball league fees

maggie@cullmantribune.com

HOLLY POND, Ala. – In a special called meeting, the Holly Pond Town Council voted to refund fees citizens paid for participation in the town's annual ball leagues.

Holly Pond Councilwoman Michelle Bell noted the fees were $60 for T-ball and $75 for baseball and softball.

The refunds are in response to the cancellation of the league's season due to COVID-19.

Holly Pond Mayor Bill Oliver shared, "The purpose of this meeting is to refund our money to our people who have paid their entrance fee for the summer league.

"The summer has been canceled, it is not going to go, it's not going to make it.

"After talking with the attorney from the (Alabama) League of Municipalities to discuss how to do this, because I knew you can't just write checks, they said I had to have a meeting of the council in order for us to refund their money.

"Michelle has the receipts of the people that paid.

"Rodney (Hays) has the paperwork (for those who paid).

"Between those two, we're to use those as invoices to show they did pay it and to also get the mailing address."

He said, "We have people out there, we've got some, hopefully none, that have lost jobs or losing pay and I just feel like the faster we can get their money back to them, the better served they are.

"I hope everyone sees why we're doing this."

The Holly Pond Town Council meets the first Monday of each month. The next regularly scheduled meeting is April 6, 2020 at 7 p.m. at the Guy Hunt Library.

ADOL encourages employees to file for benefits under the CARES Act

Tara Hutchison
Contributor

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – The Alabama Department of Labor (ADOL) is encouraging employees who believe they may qualify for programs under the CARES Act to file a claim. These employees will also need to certify weekly to continue to let us know that they remain unemployed.

Although ADOL does not yet have technical guidance or a start date regarding the CARES Act programs, benefits may be paid retroactively from the time the employee separated from his or her job or otherwise became eligible under the federal CARES Act, not from the time the application was submitted or approved.

Employees who may be affected include:

- The self-employed
- Church employees
- Non-profit and governmental employees
- Independent contractors
- Gig economy workers
- Those who have exhausted their regular UI benefits.

These employees should also meet one of these conditions:

- The individual has been diagnosed; or
- A member of the individual's household has been diagnosed; or
- The individual is providing care to a household or family member; or
- A child or other person for which the individual has primary caregiving responsibility is unable to attend school or another facility as a result of COVID-19; or
- The individual is unable to reach the place of employment because of a quarantine imposed as a result of the COVID-19 public health emergency; or
- The individual is unable to reach the place of employment because the individual has been advised by a health care provider to self-quarantine; or
- The individual was scheduled to start work and does not have a job as a result of COVID-19; or
- The individual has become "the breadwinner or major support for a household because the head of the household has died as a direct result of COVID-19"; or
- The individual has to quit their job because of COVID-19; or
- The individual's place of employment is closed because of COVID-19.

This list is not exhaustive.

Claims can be filed online at www.labor.alabama.gov or by calling 1-866-234-5382. Patience is encouraged when trying to file a claim.

Further details regarding the CARES Act programs will be forthcoming, including information regarding Federal Pandemic Unemployment Compensation, which provides for an additional $600 a week in unemployment compensation benefits.

The additional $600 weekly benefit will only be available for weeks beginning March 29, 2020.

Other programs included in the act are Pandemic Unemployment Assistance (PUA) and Pandemic Emergency Unemployment Compensation (PEUC).

Alabama farmers to host virtual field trips every Friday through May 22

Mary Wilson
Contributor

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – How do peanuts grow? When do Alabama farmers grow different fruits and vegetables? What's the difference between a cow, a bull and a calf?

Alabama farmers will answer all those questions and much more during Virtual Field Trips offered through Facebook Live on the Alabama Farmers Federation Facebook page every Friday at 10 a.m. through May 22.

"Parents and their children are making huge adjustments as their homes become classrooms, and we want to help by offering entertaining and educational field trips from some of our farmers," said Jeff Helms, Alabama Farmers Federation Communications Department Director. "While these videos will target third- through fifth-graders, people of all ages will learn more about how farmers grow food, fiber and timber."

Viewers are encouraged to ask questions through the comment section, and each video will include links to educational activities centered around the featured commodity.

Currently scheduled topics, subject to change, are:

- April 3 - Peanuts and other row crops
- April 10 - Fruits and vegetables
- April 17 - Beef cattle
- April 24 - Honeybees
- May 1 - Catfish
- May 8 - Greenhouse and nursery products
- May 15 - Forestry
- May 22 - Cotton and other row crops

To receive Facebook notifications about the Virtual Field Trips, respond as "Interested" in the event or follow the Alabama Farmers Federation page.

The Federation is Alabama's largest farm organization with more than 340,000 member families.

For additional educational materials, including Ag Mags and free printable coloring book pages, go online to alfafarmers.org/schools and click on resources.

This Virtual Field Trips project was developed in conjunction with Girl Scouts of Southern Alabama (GSSA). For additional virtual programs from GSSA, visit GirlScoutsSA.org.

Ivey urges Alabama small business owners to prepare now by applying for federal financial relief

Office of Alabama Gov. Kay Ivey

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – Governor Kay Ivey on Wednesday urged Alabama Small Business Owners to respond to the COVID-19 (Coronavirus) pandemic by taking steps to ensure their business will withstand the troubling economy.

Final guidelines for how the federal government will distribute financial relief to Alabama's small businesses will be released very soon. In the meantime, Small Business Owners need to contact their local banker, accountant, financial advisor or credit union today to get the latest details about who is eligible, what documents are needed and how best to apply for funding relief caused by the coronavirus.

"This coronavirus has disrupted life as we know it, including the critical economic role played by Alabama small businesses," said Ivey.

"Only a few short weeks ago, our economy was the strongest it had been in the past 100 years due to the hard work and entrepreneurship of Alabama Small Business Owners.

"We need our businesses up and running and back at full employment as soon as possible.

"I urge business owners to act today and be prepared to apply for assistance designed specifically to get them in front of the line when relief checks are written."

Attached is information from the SBA that will provide more information.

The U.S. Treasury Department's website (https://home.treasury.gov/cares) provides specific information regarding the resources being made available related to Coronavirus relief, including initial guidance.

Under the section entitled Assistance for Small Businesses, there are four links entitled:

- Top-Line Overview of Program
- Lender Information
- Borrower Information
- Application for Borrowers

PAYCHECK PROTECTION PROGRAM (PPP) INFORMATION SHEET

BORROWERS

The Paycheck Protection Program ("PPP") authorizes up to $349 billion in forgivable loans to small businesses to pay their employees during the COVID-19 crisis. All loan terms will be the same for everyone.

The loan amounts will be forgiven as long as:

- The loan proceeds are used to cover payroll costs, and most mortgage interest, rent, and utility costs over the 8 week period after the loan is made; and
- Employee and compensation levels are maintained.

Payroll costs are capped at $100,000 on an annualized basis for each employee. Due to likely high subscription, it is anticipated that not more than 25% of the forgiven amount may be for non-payroll costs.

Loan payments will be deferred for 6 months.

When can I apply?

- Starting April 3, 2020, small businesses and sole proprietorships can apply for and receive loans to cover their payroll and other certain expenses through existing SBA lenders.
- Starting April 10, 2020, independent contractors and self-employed individuals can apply for and receive loans to cover their payroll and other certain expenses through existing SBA lenders.
- Other regulated lenders will be available to make these loans as soon as they are approved and enrolled in the program.

Where can I apply?

You can apply through any existing SBA lender or through any federally insured depository institution, federally insured credit union, and Farm Credit System institution that is participating. Other regulated lenders will be available to make these loans once they are approved and enrolled in the program. You should consult with your local lender as to whether it is participating. Visit www.sba.gov for a list of SBA lenders.

Who can apply?

All businesses – including nonprofits, veterans organizations, Tribal business concerns, sole proprietorships, self-employed individuals, and independent contractors – with 500 or fewer employees can apply. Businesses in certain industries can have more than 500 employees if they meet applicable SBA employee-based size standards for those industries.

For this program, the SBA's affiliation standards are waived for small businesses (1) in the hotel and food services industries; or (2) that are franchises in the SBA's Franchise Directory; or (3) that receive financial assistance from small business investment companies licensed by the SBA. Additional guidance may be released as appropriate.

What do I need to apply?

You will need to complete the Paycheck Protection Program loan application and submit the application with the required documentation to an approved lender that is available to process your application by June 30, 2020.

What other documents will I need to include in my application?

You will need to provide your lender with payroll documentation.

Do I need to first look for other funds before applying to this program?

No. We are waiving the usual SBA requirement that you try to obtain some or all of the loan funds from other sources (i.e., we are waiving the Credit Elsewhere requirement).

How long will this program last?

Although the program is open until June 30, 2020, we encourage you to apply as quickly as you can because there is a funding cap and lenders need time to process your loan.

How many loans can I take out under this program?

Only one.

What can I use these loans for?

You should use the proceeds from these loans on your:

- Payroll costs, including benefits;
- Interest on mortgage obligations, incurred before February 15, 2020;
- Rent, under lease agreements in force before February 15, 2020; and
- Utilities, for which service began before February 15, 2020.

What counts as payroll costs?

Payroll costs include:

- Salary, wages, commissions, or tips (capped at $100,000 on an annualized basis for each employee);
- Employee benefits including costs for vacation, parental, family, medical, or sick leave; allowance for separation or dismissal; payments required for the provisions of group health care benefits including insurance premiums; and payment of any retirement benefit;
- State and local taxes assessed on compensation; and
- For a sole proprietor or independent contractor: wages, commissions, income, or net earnings from self-employment, capped at $100,000 on an annualized basis for each employee.

How large can my loan be?

Loans can be for up to two months of your average monthly payroll costs from the last year plus an additional 25% of that amount. That amount is subject to a $10 million cap. If you are a seasonal or new business, you will use different applicable time periods for your calculation. Payroll costs will be capped at $100,000 annualized for each employee.

How much of my loan will be forgiven?

You will owe money when your loan is due if you use the loan amount for anything other than payroll costs, mortgage interest, rent, and utilities payments over the 8 weeks after getting the loan. Due to likely high subscription, it is anticipated that not more than 25% of the forgiven amount may be for non-payroll costs. You will also owe money if you do not maintain your staff and payroll.

- Number of Staff: Your loan forgiveness will be reduced if you decrease your full-time employee headcount.
- Level of Payroll: Your loan forgiveness will also be reduced if you decrease salaries and wages by more than 25% for any employee that made less than $100,000 annualized in 2019.
- Re-Hiring: You have until June 30, 2020 to restore your full-time employment and salary levels for any changes made between February 15, 2020 and April 26, 2020.

How can I request loan forgiveness?

You can submit a request to the lender that is servicing the loan. The request will include documents that verify the number of full-time equivalent employees and pay rates, as well as the payments on eligible mortgage, lease, and utility obligations. You must certify that the documents are true and that you used the forgiveness amount to keep employees and make eligible mortgage interest, rent, and utility payments. The lender must make a decision on the forgiveness within 60 days.

What is my interest rate?

0.50% fixed rate.

When do I need to start paying interest on my loan?

All payments are deferred for 6 months; however, interest will continue to accrue over this period.

When is my loan due?

In 2 years.

Can I pay my loan earlier than 2 years?

Yes. There are no prepayment penalties or fees.

Do I need to pledge any collateral for these loans?

No. No collateral is required.

Do I need to personally guarantee this loan?

No. There is no personal guarantee requirement. However, if the proceeds are used for fraudulent purposes, the U.S. government will pursue criminal charges against you.

What do I need to certify?

As part of your application, you need to certify in good faith that:

- Current economic uncertainty makes the loan necessary to support your ongoing operations.
- The funds will be used to retain workers and maintain payroll or to make mortgage, lease, and utility payments.
- You have not and will not receive another loan under this program.
- You will provide to the lender documentation that verifies the number of full-time equivalent employees on payroll and the dollar amounts of payroll costs, covered mortgage interest payments, covered rent payments, and covered utilities for the eight weeks after getting this loan.
- Loan forgiveness will be provided for the sum of documented payroll costs, covered mortgage interest payments, covered rent payments, and covered utilities. Due to likely high subscription, it is anticipated that not more than 25% of the forgiven amount may be for non-payroll costs.
- All the information you provided in your application and in all supporting documents and forms is true and accurate. Knowingly making a false statement to get a loan under this program is punishable by law.
- You acknowledge that the lender will calculate the eligible loan amount using the tax documents you submitted. You affirm that the tax documents are identical to those you submitted to the IRS. And you also understand, acknowledge, and agree that the lender can share the tax information with the SBA's authorized representatives, including authorized representatives of the SBA Office of Inspector General, for the purpose of compliance with SBA Loan Program Requirements and all SBA reviews.

Ivey: Census 2020 now more important than ever

Office of Alabama Gov. Kay Ivey

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – Gov. Kay Ivey on Wednesday stressed the ongoing importance of the 2020 Census, which is currently under way and available for immediate online, phone or mail response.

"It is an unprecedented time in Alabama; however, we must remain committed to Census participation," said Ivey.

"The COVID-19 pandemic shows the importance of state representation on a national level.

"If we lose a representative due to a low Census count, that would mean one less voice advocating for Alabama's needs during critical times in the future."

If Alabama's count falls shy of the 72% participation rate recorded in the 2010 Census, the state would likely experience reduced representation in Congress, the loss of millions of dollars in Census-derived community funding, and reduced economic development opportunities.

"Though the hearts and minds of Alabamians rests on the unprecedented health emergency we are currently battling, we must remember that our Census results are vital to our collective future," said Kenneth Boswell, Alabama Counts! chairman and director of the Alabama Department of Economic and Community Affairs.

"Furthermore, responding now will minimize the need for the Census Bureau to send Census takers out into communities to follow up once restrictions are lifted."

Additionally, the Governor stressed that participation in the 2020 Census will not impact whether you receive a stimulus check, as the Census Bureau is bound by Title 13 of the U.S. Code to keep your information confidential.

"The answers you provide are used for statistical purposes only and in no way will impact personal stimulus package allocation," said Ivey.

Alabamians can participate in the 10-question Census online at www.my2020Census.gov, by phone at 1-844-330-2020 or by paper form — all without coming into contact with a Census taker.

All participants' information is protected by strict federal law.

Due to COVID-19, the U.S. Census Bureau has formally announced adjustments to its original Census 2020 timeline, and Gov. Ivey and Chairman Boswell are in close contact with representatives monitoring the situation daily.

"Census participation is not merely a count; it's a roadmap for our future. Now more than ever, the urgency of an accurate count is vital to Alabama," added Gov. Ivey. "Help us create a future for Alabama that is one with proper consideration in times like this. Please fill out your Census today — our future depends on it."

Additional information on Census 2020, Alabama-specific statistics, local community resources and Alabama Counts! campaign assets can be found at census.Alabama.Gov.

Alabama Volleyball adds trio of transfer athletes

The group will join the Crimson Tide for the 2020 fall season

Nathan Sheehan
UA Athletics

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. – Alabama Head Volleyball Coach Lindsey Devine announced the addition of three transfers to the Alabama volleyball roster, set to join the team in fall for the 2020 season.

The group includes graduate setter Riley Fisbeck from Texas, senior libero Madelyn St. Germain from UT-Arlington and junior outside hitter Abby Marjama from UC Irvine.

These new additions are joined by rising sophomore Kennedy Muckelroy, who arrived in Tuscaloosa during the spring semester after playing her freshman season at Florida Atlantic. In addition to the four transfers, the 2020 roster includes four freshmen and six returnees from last year's team.

Mosley, Thomas listed as top 100 Players by D1 Baseball

Andrew Leroy Stubblefield

TROY, Ala. – Rigsby Mosley checked in at No. 28 on D1 Baseball's list of top 100 hitters from the 2019 and 2020 seasons while Levi Thomas claimed the No. 48 spot on the prominent publication's list of top 100 pitchers. Troy is the only school in the Sun Belt to have a player in the top 50 on each list.

The lists recognize the top 100 hitters and pitchers based on a full season of 2019 statistics and four weeks of 2020. To qualify, a hitter must have a minimum of 150 plate appearances in 2019 and 35 in 2020 while a pitcher must have a minimum of 100 batters faced in 2019 and 30 in 2020.

Mosley batted .356 in 2019 en route to being crowned the 2019 Sun Belt batting champion and was always an extra-base threat with 28 of his 79 hits going for extra bases, including 19 doubles, the fifth-most in the league. Mosley finished last season with a hit in 14 of the final 15 games before hitting safely in the first 11 games of the 2020 season.

The Maitland, Fla., native was hitting at a .351 clip and scored a team-best 20 runs before the season was abruptly halted. Ten of Mosley's 26 hits went for extra bases, highlighted by a grand slam in the Saturday contest at No. 1 Florida. The junior notched seven doubles in just 17 games, which tied for second in the Sun Belt and was the 34th-most in the country.

Thomas tallied an 8-2 record in 2019 with 87 strikeouts in 80.2 innings of work and held batters to an average of .254 in his 15 starts last season. The right-hander burst into the national spotlight with his four starts of the 2020 season.

TROY ATHLETICS

The junior began the year with seven consecutive strikeouts en route to fanning a career-high 14 batters on Opening Night. Thomas posted double digit strikeouts in three of his four outings and didn't allow a run until his fourth start of the year against Michigan State. The Cullman, Ala., native also pitched six scoreless innings in the Friday night contest at No. 1 Florida.

Thomas opened the year with back-to-back Sun Belt Pitcher of the Week honors and also garnered Collegiate Baseball National Player of the Week recognition after week one. His 42 strikeouts are the 10th-most nationally and his ERA of 0.39 is a top-15 mark in the country. Thomas' WHIP of 0.65 was the 17th-best in the nation this season.

Both Mosley and Thomas were recently named as top 400 MLB Draft prospects by Perfect Game.

Siren

This spooky fantasy — Freeform's most-watched series last year — returns for Season 3 with two back-to-back episodes that pick up the action shortly after the Season 2 cliffhanger, which saw Ben (Alex Roe) allowing a reporter to die to protect the secret of the mermaids and his other friends. As the story resumes, however, that fateful act sets off unforeseen ripple effects in his relationship with both Maddie and Ryn (Fola Evans-Akingbola, Eline Powell). Meanwhile, a dangerous new mermaid arrives and challenges Ryn's leadership.

How to Get Away With Murder

Last November's midseason finale ended on a huge cliffhanger, with Wes Gibbons (Alfred Enoch), a character previously believed dead, showing up very much alive in a flash-forward to the funeral of Annalise Keating (Viola Davis), although earlier in that episode we had seen her fleeing for Philadelphia. As the sixth and final season returns to start a run of its last half-dozen episodes, two of Annalise's students are arrested for the murder of Asher Millstone (Matt McGorry). Jack Falahee, Aja Naomi King and Conrad Ricamora also star.

dergarten teacher Stacey Gardner described the parade as a bittersweet moment.

She said, "It was just really neat to have them all come through. As bad as it is right now, I just like to see their faces. It's always fun to see how much they grow from the time you begin with them until the end of the year when they leave.

"I hate that they aren't getting these last months of all the field trips and kindergarten graduation but we will be ok! Not being able to hug them at the parade was hard. I just wanted to go up and hug the ones I did get to see but you can't do that."

FES counselor Candi Martin said of the parade, "I think it went great. I was actually surprised. I was afraid we wouldn't have a huge turnout like we did. The last week of school was so rushed and so much uncertainty about how things were going to play out.

"This gave us an opportunity to see those kids in a more relaxed atmosphere to tell them we love them, we miss them and to tell them goodbye."

Martin pointed to a great silver lining to the current situation.

She said, "In the faces we saw coming through, they were all happy and they seemed to be enjoying it. It's giving them time to spend with their parents that they normally don't have.

"I know with my family, spending a lot of time with my kids that's normally spent on the ballfield or school activities. Now, we are spending our time here at home.

"We have a pond and we are able to go fish and spend time together as a family. So, I do feel like for lots of families, it's bringing them closer together."

The school also used the parade as an opportunity to clear out the snacks remaining at the school's snack bar. Snack bags were made to pass out to the cars as they came through.

Assistant Principal Caleb Elrod explained, "We met a little bit before and started making bags to give out with Capri Suns, chips and Uncrustables. We made up about 75 bags and thought that would be plenty."

The bags ran out quickly, but the school had plenty of boxes of Capri Suns, so it was able to give each car something to take home.

"There's a lot of fun things we didn't get to finish. After testing is over, we do a lot of fun things and we are going to miss those. A lot of the parents were emotional when they came through.

"They were emotional not because they were sad that they have to keep their kids, but they were emotional because I think they realized, and we all realized, that we are a community and this has affected us as a community because we are not getting to have the interactions and make them see the impacts on those kids. I think they appreciate that we were willing to come up there and see that," Elrod said.

VINEMONT, Ala. – As schools and students across the county and state work to transition to at-home/distance learning due to school closures, teachers are finding ways to positively impact their students. One particular teacher at Vinemont Elementary School has made a lifelong impact on a student by taking pen to paper and sending a good old-fashioned letter. The letter was just what 9-year-old Wesley Warren needed and it has sparked a new interest as a fun way to improve a subject he has struggled with-writing.

Wesley's mom, Leslie Warren, explained, "I corresponded a few days ago by text telling Mrs. Karen Hanson, my son's teacher, that my son, Wesley, had completed all of the homework that she had sent home and if he could email me some more material. Ms. Hanson went one step further.

"She personally wrote Wesley a letter and encouraged him to write back.

"This letter made my son's days and encouraged him to write, which is something he is still trying to work on.

"Whether her intent was to elicit learning or not from Wesley, it did just that in that it encouraged him to work on his writing skills when children are at home because of this coronavirus."

Warren credits the improvement in her son's reading to Ms. Hanson and feels her efforts deserve being Teacher of the Year, adding, "My son really enjoys math and before they were let out of school, his class was working on fractions.

"The first thing that Wesley said when he unfolded Ms. Hanson's letter was, 'It's folded into six squares.' This further shows that Ms. Hanson is a great teacher."

Wesley also participates in an extra reading program with the Institute of Reading online to give hm the extra reading support he needs.

As a toddler, Wesley lost his hearing and required tubes in his ears twice before the age of 5. Although he has since regained his hearing, his troubles as a toddler slowed his reading and speech development.

Having a teacher like Ms. Hanson has been a tremendous blessing as he continues to improve his reading and writing skills.

Leslie thinks Ms. Hanson is on to something good, saying, "I think this would be a great project for each of the teachers to do and to reach out through the mail to those kids who don't have internet."

There is a special joy that comes from receiving a letter in the mail.

"He was like 'What?' Sometimes his grandmother would send him a card every once in a while. He opened it up and truthfully, it was one of the sweetest letters anyone could write to a student."

The last nine weeks of school, Wesley made all As and Bs in Ms. Hanson's class and that was an achievement the Warrens have been working hard to earn. Ms. Hanson has tutored Wesley and been a constant supporter since he began at school at Vinemont.

"She really took the reins to try to help him," Leslie said.

The Warrens would love to see a group or program that encourages kids to write letters to each other, especially during the current period of social distancing and quarantines.

Leslie also said, "I want a lot of people to know that we have good teachers in this community and Ms. Hanson really does so much for her students."

Seniors (from Front)

best friends. I have several favorite games. There's been games where we had some funny things happen, girls tripping running to first base, I have fell over my feet trying to catch a ball before, and I've always loved the memories of winning those close games. It's tough choosing just one. These are definitely memories I'll never forget."

Lawson Burgess, Cold Springs Baseball

"Man, my best memories; there's so many! I guess one of the ones from when I was younger would be area tournament in all stars when I was eight and we beat Vinemont in the Championship game and Coach Laney threw Ice water all over us or when we played Cullman a couple years later in the same tournament and they had two outs when they hit a 2-run walk off to beat us in the championship game. The guy that hit it jumped over home plate and went in the dugout without touching it and they called him out for the third out and we won the game because of that. As I got in high school playing at Cold Springs, the best memories I'll ever have is when I was playing ball with that team. I don't care if it was practices or what, we knew how to make some memories together, especially this year's team. We were something else. I believe if we would've kept playing, we were gonna do something no other Cold Springs team had done before. I just know if we had the chance, we'd make a deep run in the playoffs but hey we did make history this year. We became the first team in Cold Springs history to go undefeated at 4-0."

Brady Patterson, Cullman Baseball

"Every game has been awesome, but the state playoff run and championship last year are definitely at the top of my list. There's nothing like opening days so those are definitely some of my favorite memories too."

Abby Herring, Good Hope Softball

"My favorite moment was when I got a girl out at home at the West Point vs Good Hope game. I also loved our circle all the infielders would get in after getting an out. The encouragement and hype that happened in those circles is something I'll always remember. And I'll never forget my first throw down at second during the Cordova game and getting the girl out."

Abby Neighbors, Good Hope Softball

"One of my absolute favorite moments was at our very first tournament. We were playing East Lawrence and Bailey Keef was playing second and I was at short. A pop fly went almost on top of second base and Bailey went to go catch it and bobbled it, but I was coming around to back her up and I saw the ball come out of her glove.

"As it started falling to the ground, I just laid out and caught it. It was the last inning with two outs and my catch was the third. My favorite game was the very last one against West Point. For as long as I can remember, we'd never best West Point. We went into the game knowing that it might be the last one, so we just gave it everything we had, and it paid off."

Kylie Ann Perkins, Holly Pond Softball

"I will never forget my senior year. I have been playing ball practically my whole life from travel ball, to the World Series multiple times, even showcases. I've played so many games; it's unreal. One summer, I had over 100 games under my belt.

"I was practically playing tournaments every Saturday, but this year will be the one to remember. If I can remember correctly, I was on a streak of a home run every single game and I had my first grand slam with our first game of the season against Oneonta. Even my best plays throughout my years can't compete with my senior year."

Kanasta Daniel, Vinemont Softball

"A lot of my best memories doesn't involve the game itself. It's more of the friendships I've made from the game and the time I've spent with them. Whether it's at all day tournaments at the field just to walk out of the park after midnight just to be back early the next morning, or the sleepovers where we stayed up too late watching movies, or the inside jokes. And no matter where we go or what we do, we will always have each other's back because softball has brought us closer than we ever thought was possible."

Whitt Laney, West Point Baseball

"My favorite game was when we beat Springville last year. My favorite memories were just being around everyone and just hearing what's going on with everyone and about their days."
