Tim's Produce: Business 'unusual good' during pandemic

MAGGIE DARNELL/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE
Tim's Produce is located along Alabama Highway 69 across from the Joppa Sunoco gas station.

Maggie Darnell
maggie@cullmantribune.com

JOPPA, Ala. – While many consumers are staying away from bigger chain stores during the pandemic, you can still find produce from local sellers and farmers, one seller being Tim Kelsoe, owner of Tim's Produce in Joppa. Tim's Produce is located along Alabama Highway 69 across from the Joppa Sunoco gas station.

Kelsoe shared a bit on his business, saying, "We're just, we have a little bit of everything. Starting in the middle of March, we have a lot of fresh vegetables that come in from Florida, like watermelons and cantaloupes, and all of our flowers and other stuff is coming in. We have ferns of all kinds and palm trees, you name it, a lot of planting stuff. I go from season to season. We're here from March 1 to December. In January and February, it's slower, (then) I'm here two or three days a week."

Tim's Produce offers produce, gardening items and local honey with other jarred goods, as well as various knick-knacks like college football merchandise.

"We sell a lot of different stuff," Kelsoe noted. Kelsoe also purchases his produce to sell from local farmers.

Despite the COVID-19 pandemic, business has grown and been usual for Kelsoe and his market.

"If anything, it's helped our business," he said. "I think a lot of people would rather buy locally from here than be in a big chain store with 50 people. It's been a steady trail. A lot of them have been great; they'll stand out on the porch and wait, because they know it's a small building. It's worked out well. We've done good, we've made it really good through it."

As for what his business is doing to ensure both consumers and employees stay safe, Kelsoe said, "We try to wash the door handles two to three times a day and we wash the check-out counter too.

"We spray Lysol morning and night. We also wear masks if we feel like we need to. We also wash our hands any chance we get."

MAGGIE DARNELL/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE
Tim Kelsoe, owner of Tim's Produce, poses behind the protective screen installed to help protect him and employees.

Kelsoe has also installed a clear protective screen to separate the cashier from the customers.

He laughed, "It's been 'unusual good,' I guess you could say."

Vinemont man dies in motel room fire in Cullman

Wendy Sack

CULLMAN, Ala. – A Vinemont man was found deceased in a motel room early Thursday morning in Cullman after Cullman Fire Rescue responded to a fire in the victim's room.

Cullman County Coroner Jeremy L. Kilpatrick identified the victim as Daniel Mann, 30.

The incident happened at the Economy Inn, the old Anderson Motel, at 1834 Second Ave. NW (U.S. Highway 31 North).

Cullman Police Chief Kenny Culpepper said, "A passerby saw the smoke and called it in."

Culpepper said firefighters were able to gain access to the room upon arrival.

"It happened around 3 a.m.," said Cullman Fire Rescue Chief Brian Bradberry.

"There was one fatality. The fire is currently being investigated by the state fire marshal."

Cullman man dies following numerous reports of reckless driving, crash

Wendy Sack
wendy@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – A man died Saturday night following a wreck after numerous reports of reckless driving. Cullman County Coroner Jeremy L. Kilpatrick identified the victim as Martin Heath Stallings, 41, of Cullman.

"At around 8:52 p.m. last night, dispatch started receiving calls about a reckless driver in a pickup truck coming into town on (Highway) 278 East," said Cullman Police Chief Kenny Culpepper, "numerous calls, one of which reported that the truck had lost a tire, had lost a wheel, and was all over the road.

"The vehicle continued to Highway 31 and turned north, and reports continued about the reckless driving and running vehicles off the road, one of which was close to the Shrimp Basket area.

"It continued north and collided with a vehicle close to Moss-Service (Funeral Home). It then left that scene and continued north and ran into a utility pole at Highway 157."

Culpepper said officers arrived at the scene shortly after or right as the vehicle made impact.

"The driver was not cooperative and appeared to be under the influence and was placed in handcuffs," he said.

"Medical personnel were called to the scene of the accident to check him out. One of the officers in fire/medics noticed that he'd quit breathing and started doing CPR. He was transported to CRMC (Cullman Regional), where he was pronounced dead."

Culpepper said the investigation has been turned over to the State Bureau of Investigation.

"Since he was in our custody at that time when he'd been taken out of the car and handcuffed, as part of our policies and procedures, we called in the State Bureau of Investigation to come in and do an investigation on their part, an independent investigation."

The chief said no one else was injured

"We did request an autopsy," he said.

ADOL has disbursed $164M in COVID-19-related unemployment benefits

Tara Hutchison
Contributor

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – Alabama Department of Labor Sec. Fitzgerald Washington announced Monday that ADOL has disbursed more than $164 million in COVID-19-related unemployment compensation benefits.

$164,523,955 has been paid to 103,453 claimants over the period covering March 16-April 18, 2020. This represents 227,358 weeks paid.

$132,328,900 of those funds are Federal Pandemic Unemployment Compensation (FPUC), the $600 stimulus benefit added to weekly unemployment compensation benefits.

"ADOL is working hard to get these important benefits out to Alabamians in this tremendous time of need. More than $164 million in benefits have been pushed out to those who have become unemployed due to this pandemic," said Washington. "We know that there are many who have yet to be paid, and we are working to get those claims processed quickly. It's important to note that it can take up to 21 business days to process a claim, and with the added record-setting volume, it may take longer in some cases."

He continued, "We have recently deployed a new online tool to help claimants keep track of their claims, and we continue to improve it as we see issues and needs develop. Hundreds of thousands of Alabamians are utilizing this tool. Additionally, we are adding another call center to help with call volume, with more than 60 additional staffers working to answer phones. We understand the frustration people have with difficulty in contacting us, and I urge everyone to please remain patient, and know that we ARE working to address your questions."

The UI Claims Tracker can be located at https://uiclaimstracker.labor.alabama.gov/. Additionally, information and FAQs can be found at ADOL's COVID-19 resource page at https://labor.alabama.gov/newsfeed/News_CovID19.aspx.

Local seniors reflect on their favorite games, moments from their careers volume 3

sammy@cullmantribune.com

The spread of COVID-19 has brought an abrupt and unsatisfying end to the careers of senior athletes all over the state. This time of year should be full of sporting events to attend ranging from track meets and baseball games to archery tournaments and soccer and everything in between. With schools closing their doors for the remainder of the year, many athletes had their careers cut short and some of them have shared their favorite games and moments from their playing days.

If you are a senior athlete whose season was affected by the coronavirus and would like to share some of your favorite moments from your career, you can email them to confersammy@yahoo.com.

Macey Butler (Addison Track-and-Field)
"Some of my favorite moments from track are during the state meets. It is always a blast when we set up a big tent and we all get to hang out and we also get to interact with the other teams there competing by playing games and other activities. It is always fun to watch people compete to break the state records as well."

Kelsey Griffin (Holly Pond Girls Soccer)
"My favorite moment/game has got to be this year at the Danville game, when the field was super muddy. It was hilarious (laughs) and just the bus ride and definitely going to McDonald's with the team was so much fun. I will miss it so much."

Karli Marler (Holly Pond Girls Soccer)
"I've had many favorite moments in soccer but if I had to choose, I'd say it would have to be the tournaments that we were in. I feel like during tournaments, we put in the most effort as a team and have the most fun on the field."

Emilee Harbison (Cold Springs Track-and-Field)
"I loved just being there all day with my team, coaches and parents, but it would have to be when coach Carrie and coach Campbell forced me and my friends to run the 4x4 and we won county! We were all super motivated to run it again after that (laughs)."

Mallory Campbell (West Point Girls Soccer)
"I remember West Point's first year to have a soccer team. It wasn't the prettiest sight to see, but we made history. My first game ever to play for West Point, I made the first assist while my best friend on the team scored the goal. I remember later that season; I scored the first winning shutout goal in West Point history. We played Haleyville that game and I promise you I can still remember how good that feeling felt. One of my favorite moments was in last year's Cullman County Cup tournament finals. I have never seen my team work as hard as they did or gave it their all without quitting. We lost that game by one, but my team really bonded that game. My favorite game would have to be the last game, which I did not know at the time. It was on March 12th against Fairview. It was a really good game and we were tied 2-2. I remember one of my teammates got a penalty kick in the box and coach wanted me to take it. Whenever one of my teammates shoots over the goal, they call it a Mal because I overshoot a good bit. So, when coach told me to take the penalty kick, I got a little nervous. I remember praying to God and telling him no matter what happened, it was in his plan. I made the perfect penalty kick in the top right corner and got the game-winning goal. I thanked God so much because I wasn't playing that good of a game and he turned it around for me, so my last game was special! But my all-time favorite moments with the West Point soccer team was bonding with the girls, always doing the team chant, and always doing the team prayer!"

Alyssa Harper (Fairview Softball)
"My favorite game was the county tournament last year. It was the first time we have had a county tournament.

"I was injured at the time we played last year, so I was not on the field, but I was still there to support my team. We won against West Point.

"West Point and Fairview have always been rivals during soccer, so it felt good to know that we came out with a win.

"Other moments I love is when we're all on the field, and things are starting to click for the whole team.

"It's just a good feeling to see everyone trying their best. Even if we don't score a goal from a moment like that, everyone on the team is proud of each other and satisfied with their effort."

Cullman resident reflects on career as flight nurse after 4K patient transports

CULLMAN, Ala. – When children need to be transported to Children's of Alabama via ambulance or airlift, the whole ordeal can be incredibly stressful and frightening to a child who is already in pain. Fortunately, these trips have the possibility of being staffed by Flight Nurse Myra Waddell, a Cullman County resident whose years of experience and love for transport nursing helps her serve her patients well, both in a medical and an emotional support sense. Waddell was recently recognized by Children's of Alabama for completing her 4,000th patient transport, and The Tribune reached out to her to get to know what her experience has been like to get to that point.

About Nurse Waddell

Waddell graduated from West Point High School in 1994 and went through the EMT Basic program the summer after, before attending Wallace State Community College and enrolling in its nursing program.

While in school, she worked with the Logan Volunteer Fire Department, and after graduating in 1997 she went to work at Cullman Regional as a nurse in the adult telemetry unit.

She worked at Cullman Regional for eight months before starting at Children's in the Pediatric ICU in '98.

In '99 she began working part-time in the pediatric transport unit until she transferred to a full-time transport position in 2002.

Waddell says her decision to become a flight nurse was influenced by her own experience being a patient in a medical helicopter as a child.

"I was a patient on a helicopter when I was 10, and that kinda sparked the idea to do something along those lines," she stated.

"I needed some experience after nursing school in order to pursue that, and when I made the move to Children's I realized that there was a pediatric-specific transport team.

"It was totally different from the helicopter I was in, you know, the EMS helicopter, and the ones I'd seen around more publicized.

"It was more of a mobile Intensive Care Unit, and that kinda piqued my interest.

"With my PICU experience there at Children's, I was able to start some part-time work with them."

She went on to say, "After the first trip, I loved it. I loved everything about it - not knowing what we're gonna do every day, the uncertainty of it all, and it's just you and your partner."

What's it like in the air?

"I'd like to tell you I don't get nervous anymore, but that would be a lie. I still get nervous sometimes - not with the flying aspect of it, but just more of pre-game jitters.

"You've gotta know what to do, got to do everything right, and to be honest the day that I stop being nervous is probably the day I'll stop doing this.

"I feel like it keeps you on your game if you've got a healthy fear."

The helicopter transports start with an alert from the transport coordinator, and the transport nurses on duty hear the diagnosis and report from dispatch on the way.

Waddell said that a lot of patients she sees are stable and can talk to her, but the work can still be harrowing.

"It can get intense, but I like the intensity.

"Don't get me wrong, I like the 'easy' cases," she said, "but the intense ones are what keep me on my toes."

Along with the expected medical treatment, Waddell says a lot of her cases utilize her bedside manner.

"These kids can get nervous when they're flying or riding in the ambulance, and you know they're hurt on top of being scared," she said, "so I'll talk to them or hold their hands to help them calm down until we reach the hospital."

4,000 patient transports later

"It's just crazy to think about how I've already done this 4,000 times. It feels like I started just yesterday. You know, it's a lot of hard work, and the stress and adrenaline really keep me on my toes all the time, but I'm glad to be doing what I'm doing," said Waddell.

"I lived in Birmingham for about 11 years before moving back to Cullman, so I get to do the job I love while back in my home county. I wouldn't change things for the world."

CULLMAN, Ala. – Looking for a good book to break up the monotony of the COVID-19 quarantine? Look no further. The Tribune reached out to a handful of local educators and others for some suggestions.

Jennifer Calahan, Cullman High School AP Language and Composition teacher

- "The Woman in the Window" (AJ Finn)
- "A Minute to Midnight" (David Baldacci)
- "The Chain" (Adrian McKinty)
- "Educated" (Tara Westover)
- "The Handmaids Tale" (Margaret Atwood)
- "The Testament" (Margaret Atwood)

Denise Burroughs, Cullman High School AP Literature and Composition teacher

- "The Poisonwood Bible" (Barbara Kingsolver)
- "Furious Hours: Murder, Fraud, and the Last Trial of Harper Lee" (Casey Cep – Burroughs added, "It's pretty interesting about an old murder trial in Alabama that Harper Lee was going to write about, but she never finished!")

Burroughs also mentioned that for the fans of legal thrillers, her brother-in-law, author Robert Bailey, has written "The Professor," "Between Black and White" and "The Final Reckoning."

Leanne West, assistant to Cullman Mayor Woody Jacobs

- "The Diary of Samuel Pepys" (Samuel Pepys – West added, "He just happened to live through The Black Plague and The London Fire back in the 1600s. It's actually pretty relevant now, considering all that's going on!")

Chasady Vandiver, local artist

- "The Lovely Bones" (Alice Sebold)
- "Metro 2033" (Dmitry Glukhovsky)
- "Fever 1793" (Laurie Halse Anderson)
- "Frankenstein" (Mary Shelley)
- "The Help" (Kathryn Stockett)

Maggie Darnell, Cullman Tribune reporter

- "The Kite Runner" (Khalid Hosseini)
- "1984" (George Orwell)
- "Mindhunter" (John E. Douglas and Mark Olshaker)

Marty Hardman, Fairview Elementary principal

Hardman recommended these book series for kids in grades Kindergarten through fifth.

Grades K-1

7 p.m. on WBIQ
American Experience

The new episode "The Man Who Tried to Feed the World" chronicles the story of Norman Borlaug, an American agronomist who won the 1970 Nobel Peace Prize for his efforts fighting global hunger. He was able to dramatically increase the global food supply, but his methods — which required huge amounts of water and fertilizer — unleashed unintended consequences. By the end of his career, critics assailed him for reducing the water table, contributing to soil degradation and destroying rural society around the world.

8 p.m. on WBRC
Empire

With its current season cut short due to coronavirus concerns, the new episode "Home Is on the Way" becomes the de facto series finale of this once vital musical drama. The story finds Cookie (Taraji P. Henson) reflecting on her life and the woman she has become in her fight to regain control of Empire. Despite his continued support for Yana (guest star Kiandra Richardson) and her promising career, Lucious (Terrence Howard) can't deny his feelings for Cookie. Trai Byers and Bryshere "Yazz" Gray also star.

8 p.m. on WIAT
Let's Go Crazy: The Grammy Salute to Prince

Filmed live this past January at the Los Angeles Convention Center, this special features an all-star lineup of musical artists in a salute to a beloved musician and seven-time Grammy Award-winning performer whose unprecedented influence on the contemporary music scene still is being felt. The lineup includes several of Prince's most celebrated musical friends and collaborators, including his band the Revolution, singer and percussionist Sheila E. and funk band Morris Day and the Time. John Legend, Usher and Earth, Wind & Fire also perform.

8 p.m. on ID
Diabolical

No eyebrows were raised in connection with the separate passing of three local men over a span of 12 years. Nothing about the deaths suggested anything suspicious and no charges were filed in connection to them. When a deadly car explosion rips through downtown Pensacola, Fla., however, suspicion almost immediately falls on a single subject in the new episode "Devil Wears False Eyelashes."

9 p.m. on WABM2
For Life

The new episode "Character and Fitness" flashes back over the previous nine years of Aaron Wallace's (Nicholas Pinnock) incarceration as he reflects on this life-changing journey from terrified novice inmate to attorney and social justice crusader. Brandon J. Dirden, Erik Jensen and James McDaniel guest star; Indira Varma, Joy Bryant, Mary Stuart Masterson and Boris McGiver also star.

9 p.m. on A&E
Accused: Guilty or Innocent?

This new docuseries puts an intimate, sometimes almost painfully candid face on the harrowing process that unfolds after a person faces trial for a serious crime he or she has alleged to have committed. Using unprecedented access to members of the legal team, as well as the friends and loved ones of the accused, each episode follows that journey through the planning of their legal defense, the trial itself and finally, the verdict.

Morris Day and the Time perform on "Let's Go Crazy: The Grammy Salute to Prince" on CBS.

OPINION

The Sovereignty of God, no. 15

Tom Fillinger
Tribune Columnist

Today we continue in our study of the Sovereignty of God.

9. The doctrine of God's sovereignty guarantees the final triumph of good over evil.

Ever since the day that Cain slew Abel, the conflict on earth between good and evil has been a sore problem to the saints.

In every age the righteous have been hated and persecuted, while the unrighteous have appeared to defy God with impunity.

The Lord's people, for the most part, have been poor in this world's goods, whereas the wicked in their temporal prosperity have flourished like the green bay tree.

As one looks around and beholds the oppression of believers, and the earthly success of unbelievers, and notes how few are the former—and how numerous the latter; as he sees the apparent defeat of the right—and the triumphing of might and the wrong; as he hears the roar of battle, the cries of the wounded, and the lamentations of the bereaved; as he discovers that almost everything down here is in confusion, chaos, and ruins—it seems as though Satan was getting the better of the conflict!

But as one looks above, instead of around, there is plainly visible to the eye of faith a Throne, a Throne unaffected by the storms of earth, a Throne that is "set," stable and secure; and upon it is seated One whose name is the Almighty, and who "works all things after the counsel of His own will" (Ephesians 1:11).

This then is our confidence—God is on the Throne! The helm is in His hand—and being Almighty, His purpose cannot fail, for "He is in one mind, and who can turn Him? and what His soul desires—even that He does!" (Job 23:13).

Though God's governing hand is invisible to the eye of sense, it is real to faith—that faith which rests with sure confidence upon His Word, and therefore is assured He cannot fail.

"There can be no failure with God. 'God is not a man, that he should lie, nor a son of man, that He should change His mind. Does He speak—and then not act? Does He promise—and not fulfill?' (Num. 23:19).

All HIS PLAN will be accomplished. The promise made to His own beloved people—to come for them and take them from hence to glory—will not fail.

He will surely come and gather them to His own presence.

CULLMAN, Ala. – For several days, the Alabama Department of Public Health (ADPH) on its COVID-19 Data and Surveillance Dashboard noted 1 death had been reported in Cullman County. That number changed to 0 Friday with no explanation.

Turns out, the person reported to have died was not a resident of Cullman County.

"Upon review of deaths there are some instances where persons are determined to be residents of another county. Deaths are reported by county of residence," said Arrol Sheehan, director, Public Information Division at the ADPH, in an email to The Tribune.

Compounding the confusion was the news the ADPH reported Saturday: that an outside entity marked test results positive when they were negative, leading to a downward shift in numbers across the board.

The ADPH posted Saturday: "The error was rapidly discovered by the Infectious Disease and Outbreaks Division and ADPH Data Team. The ADPH Data Team has been working since (Friday) to correct this information and advises it could take a few days to completely resolve the information from the outside entity.

"The entity is cooperating with ADPH in this effort and has reached out to providers who ordered tests through their facility. ADPH closely monitors data transmitted to us, as the accuracy of information is vital to the COVID-19 outbreak response."

ARLEY, Ala. – There are a lot of heavy hearts in Arley this week. After Meek High School sophomore Trint Ory was tragically killed in a car wreck Saturday night, his family, friends, classmates, teachers, coaches and others have been doing what they can to cope and support one another. Ory played both baseball and football for the Tigers. Meek High School is taking phone calls from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. every day this week to help anyone who feels the need to reach out for support.

Meek High School posted to its Facebook page Sunday night:

"Our thoughts and prayers are with Trint's family and the young men involved in the wreck last night and their families.

"Please keep our school and community close to your heart in the days to come. We will be taking calls at the school this week from 10:00 am until 2:00 pm.

"Any students or families who need to reach out, please message us anytime or call us at 205-384-5825 between the hours posted above. We will connect you with support. There are counselors, teachers, and coaches who are ready to listen. #TIGERSTRONG12"

Principal Marla Murrah said social media has made it easier for her students to stay connected during this time, but she, along with counselors, teachers and coaches at the school are doing everything they can to help students who need support as well.

"We are here taking phone calls and we've had some students reach out to us on social media.

"The students are pretty well connected with each other, so that's one of the benefits of their social media.

"They do have those connections and they seem to be using them for good right now. They're helping each other as much as they can," Murrah said.

"We've had reports that they're supporting each other at home, visiting each other in that way.

"They're going to make it through the best way they can and that's through the support they have from each other, but we are also ready to provide additional support as needed."

Murrah and her staff have been in contact with their students since the tragedy, but she admits social distancing has made mourning even tougher than normal.

She knows the kids and the community will pull through and come together regardless to support Trint's family during this time.

"Some of them enjoy talking with a favorite teacher or a favorite coach so they've also reached out to the students.

"Our head football coach (Houston Powell) said that he has spoken with nearly all of his team personally just to let them know he's there for them," Murrah said.

"Our thoughts and prayers are with his family and his friends and its hard right now because of the distancing. People are used to coming together to gain some closure, and I feel like it's going to happen, it's just harder than it normally would be, and it's already hard anyway."

Work zone crashes up in Alabama

Support Work Zone Awareness Week April 20-24

Allison Green
Contributor

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – Work zone crashes and fatalities on Alabama roads are up. As National Work Zone Awareness Week begins today, the Alabama Department of Transportation reminds motorists to slow down and drive alert in work zones.

"During the coronavirus COVID-19 pandemic, when the shipment of essential goods is vital, ALDOT employees are working hard to advance the maintenance and construction that's required for our roads," said Allison Green, Drive Safe Alabama coordinator, ALDOT.

"Today and every day, we ask drivers to drive alert around work zones and slow down to make sure the people taking care of our roads get home safely."

This year's National Work Zone Awareness Week theme, "Safe Work Zones for All," reminds drivers that we are all responsible for work zone safety.

In 2018, there were 3,810 work zone crashes in Alabama, resulting in 34 fatalities and 1,155 injuries.

This is an increase compared to 2017, when there were 3,158 work zone crashes, resulting in 31 fatalities and 963 injuries. In the United States, 754 people died in roadway work zone crashes in 2018.

A common misconception is that most of those killed in work zone crashes are workers. National statistics show that four out of every five of those killed are motorists. Although, when workers are present, workers are the most vulnerable to injury and death.

ALDOT offers these tips for driving safely in work zones:

• Drive alert. Don't drive distracted by texting, eating or other activities that take your hands off the wheel. Look for highway workers, reduced speed limits and narrow driving lanes.

• Slow down. Don't drive beyond the posted speed limit through the work zone. Keep a safe distance from the vehicle ahead of you.

• Don't tailgate. Watch for large trucks. Maintain a safe distance on all sides of your vehicle, so that you don't clip a nearby vehicle and cause that vehicle to also crash into the work zone.

In recognition of this national campaign, Governor Kay Ivey has issued a proclamation naming April 20-24 as National Work Zone Awareness Week in the state of Alabama.

For more information on National Work Zone Awareness Week, visit www.ops.fhwa.dot.gov/wz/outreach/wz_awareness.htm. Join the national conversation using #NWZAW or locally using #DriveSafeAL.

Know before you go. Check ALGOTraffic.com to find out if there are construction work zones along your path and allow extra time to navigate those areas.

ALDOT's mission is to provide a safe, efficient, environmentally sound transportation network across Alabama. For additional information, visit www.dot.state.al.us.

Head chef and owner Kyle Spears also took the time to announce some changes to the restaurant coming after the business fully reopens.

"When we come back full force, we will be dropping the weekend dinnertime hours," he wrote on the cafe's Facebook page.

"There wasn't ever enough business in general to warrant the cost of having an extra shift.

"I know some folks really enjoyed our ribeye steaks and schnitzels, but they didn't sell enough to even cover the overhead.

"We will continue to offer delicious homemade breakfast platters, burgers, sandwiches and more- that won't change.

"We will still continue to offer dinnertime hours for certain special events such as Oktoberfest, street festivals, St. Patrick's Day, Valentine's Day, etc.

"And during those times I will serve up some favorite's such as the steaks, schnitzels and others."

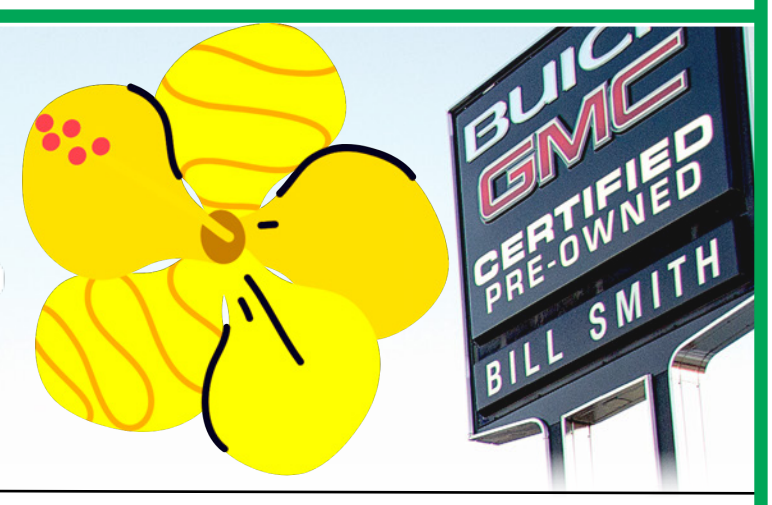

Customers who want to do takeout orders will need to call ahead at 256-734-9958 to place their orders, and they can pay over the phone with cards.
