CULLMAN, Ala. – Former Cullman County Probate Judge Leah Patterson Lust passed away Saturday, April 25 at the age of 49.

Lust, who was in office from 2006-2012, also served on several nonprofit boards in Cullman County and is being remembered by friends and those who worked with her for her "perseverance" and "forward thinking." Cullman County Commission Chairman Kenneth Walker has ordered flags flown at half-staff in remembrance of Lust's service to Cullman County.

Lust was born Jan. 14, 1971 to Edward "Pat" and Carol (Stallings) Patterson and grew up in the Jones Chapel community along with her older brother Eddie Patterson.

Commissioner Garry Marchman was close friends with Eddie growing up and remembers the day Lust was born, saying, "I spent a lot of days and a lot of nights over at his house, and the same: he came to my house when I was a boy growing up. Her family has always been huge to me. They have always been friends."

Marchman remembered a story from when they were younger, sharing, "I remember when she (Leah) was about 4 or 5 years old. I had gone over to their house and her mother was cleaning the house about a week before that and she mixed up some chemicals to clean the toilet and it exploded and blew up the toilet. The preacher was over there that day and Leah was running through the house saying, 'Mommy popped the toilet! Mommy popped the toilet!' It was just comical. She blew the toilet up and had to replace it and Leah was telling everybody at the church. We didn't always see eye to eye on politics. I remember very vividly when she had her accident and it paralyzed her and she had a lot of hard times after that. She has always had a good attitude, Leah has."

Lust attended Kindergarten through ninth grade at Jones Chapel before competing her high school education at West Point High School, where she graduated in 1989. After high school, she earned an associate degree in history from Wallace State Community College before earning her bachelor's degree and master's degree in social work from the University of Alabama. After college, she returned home to Cullman County where she became the director of social work at Cullman Regional Medical Center.

In 2006 she was elected Cullman County Probate Judge, serving one six-year term.

"She was always a lady and very nice to us at the police department and was always very responsive whenever we had issues that needed to be dealt with," said Cullman Police Chief Kenny Culpepper. "She was very nice and always responsive to helping us out."

Cullman County Sheriff Matt Gentry added, "As we remember former Probate Judge Leah Patterson Lust, first we are praying for her family during this time of loss. We will also remember her willingness to serve the citizens of Cullman County."

2 Holly Pond High School students killed in Sunday night wreck

CULLMAN, Ala. – Two Holly Pond High School students were killed in a single-vehicle wreck along County Road 700 late Sunday evening. Cullman County Coroner Jeremy L. Kilpatrick identified the victims as Joshua Dale McGinnis, 17, of Holly Pond and Dayden Michael Floyd, 16, of Blountsville.

Alabama State Troopers said a 2019 Ford Mustang, driven by McGinnis, left the roadway on Cullman County 700 and overturned. The victims were ejected and pronounced dead at the scene. The crash happened around 8:47 p.m. along County Road 700 between County Roads 703 and 709.

A note posted to the Holly Pond Broncos Facebook page read:

"We are deeply shocked and saddened by the loss of two of our beloved students. We are hurting with the family and ask that you remember them at this time.

"Please keep our students, families, faculty, staff, community and especially our baseball team and coaches in your thoughts and prayers during this difficult time."

Holly Pond High School Principal Steve Miller told The Tribune that counselors will be available at the school each day this week from 10 a.m. until noon, adding, "If anyone needs anything like that, we're going to make sure that's provided for our students."

Miller also said that if students need to speak to someone but cannot come to the school, they may also call the school at 256-796-5169.

"We'll miss those kids," said Miller. "It's a tragic situation that nobody ever wants to deal with. We just want those two families to know that we love them and care for them."

ADOL: $372M in unemployment benefits disbursed; Payments represent 64% of claims paid

New tool to be added to tracker for PUA claimants

Tara Hutchison
Contributor

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – Alabama Department of Labor Secretary Fitzgerald Washington announced today that ADOL has disbursed more than $372 million in unemployment compensation benefits. Alabama is now paying benefits under all three programs covered in the CARES Act: Federal Pandemic Unemployment Compensation (FPUC), Pandemic Unemployment Assistance (PUA), and Pandemic Emergency Unemployment Compensation (PEUC).

$372,344,837 has been paid to 178,761 claimants over the period covering March 16 – April 24, 2020. This represents 511,594 weeks paid.

$247,872,000 of those funds are FPUC, the $600 stimulus benefit added to weekly unemployment compensation benefits.

$3,264,249 represent PUA funds, and $1,884,959 represent PEUC funds.

ADOL has issued payments to 64% of those filing COVID-19 related claims since March 16, 2020.

"Alabama is one of the first states in the nation to pay all of the new programs enacted by Congress with passage of the CARES Act," said Washington.

"More than $370 million in benefits has been disbursed to date, helping Alabamians recover much needed funds lost due to the COVID-19 pandemic."

He continued, "We know that many people have still not been paid, and we understand that frustration.

"We are listening to the complaints and concerns and continue to work to modify our systems to make them more user friendly, and to make this process move faster.

"We continue to ask for patience as we work expeditiously."

Additionally, starting tomorrow, a new tool added to the UI Claims Tracker will enable claimants who are eligible for PUA benefits to access their PUA document directly from the UI Claims Tracker and to upload their income documents from their personal device, which will significantly speed up the processing of PUA claims.

Those who have already submitted documents via mail, email, or fax have the option of resubmitting through the tracker. Detailed instructions regarding this process have now been added to the COVID-19 resource page.

Claimants can track their claims status by using the UI Claims Tracker, which can be located at https://uiclaimstracker.labor.alabama.gov/. Additionally, information and FAQs can be found at ADOL's COVID-19 resource page at https://labor.alabama.gov/newsfeed/News_CovID19.aspx.

Aljon Rufinta Celis

LANSDOWNE, Va. – Aljon Celis, a student at Wallace State Community College in Hanceville, is one of 50 recipients of the Jack Kent Cooke Foundation's prestigious Undergraduate Transfer Scholarship. The highly competitive national scholarship will provide Celis with up to $40,000 a year to complete his bachelor's degree.

He is the second Wallace State student to receive this award, which represents a pinnacle achievement for a community college student in America. Chelsea Allen, who graduated from Wallace State in 2008, was the college's first winner.

"We are overjoyed for Aljon. He is an incredibly deserving student, with a superior intellect and a servant's heart. I could not be prouder of his achievement," said Dr. Vicki Karolewics, President of Wallace State.

Celis in so many ways personifies the American Dream, and the community college promise.

He is an example of what is possible when a talented student takes full advantage of the opportunities presented for intellectual, personal and professional growth, and applies himself toward a well-defined goal.

"I'm so grateful for the opportunity to be a Jack Kent Cooke Scholar," Celis said.

"I'm a first-generation immigrant from the Philippines and a first-generation student, so the idea of thinking big and working hard became important for me in order to achieve the American Dream.

"This honor gave me more of a push I need to continue to build momentum. I can't wait to continue my education after Wallace State."

Celis, a nontraditional student and general studies major, has maintained a 4.0 GPA throughout his tenure at Wallace State.

In addition to his academic success, he has served as a peer tutor in the Wallace State Tutoring Lab, where he assists students with course work in English, American Literature and Business Calculus.

He was elected President of Sigma Kappa Delta, the National Honors English Society, and serves as Vice President of the Wallace State Writing Club.

He is also a member of Phi Theta Kappa, the National Honors Society; Mu Alpha Theta, the National Mathematics Honors Society; and the inaugural Wallace Leads student leadership group.

And he was instrumental in revitalizing Wallace State's International Club, which is engaged in promoting international opportunities and increasing dialogue about the importance of cultural diversity.

"For first-generation students like me, we have to figure things out on our own when it comes to higher education because there was never anyone to ask for help.

"But I got the help I needed from my professors, advisors, and other staff members once arriving at Wallace. They helped me flourish in my educational pursuits," Celis said.

"I wouldn't be here without God's blessings, the support from my friends and family, and the wonderful people at Wallace. I'm very thankful—and I can't stress that enough."

Celis is already an accomplished, agented creative writer, who was recently awarded the Sigma Kappa Delta National Prize for Short Fiction.

In his spare time, he mentors, serves as a critique partner, and promotes other writers, especially authors of color and those of marginalized backgrounds.

He has received acceptance to at least one Ivy League institution and is awaiting other offers as he decides where he will transfer.

"We know this is a very uncertain time for many students and their families. We remain deeply committed to supporting high-achieving community college students to ensure they have the resources to reach their full academic potential," said Seppy Basili, executive director of the Jack Kent Cooke Foundation.

"We are excited to welcome this new class of Cooke Transfer Scholars to our community and looking forward to seeing the many amazing things they do as they continue on their transfer journey."

In addition to financial support, new Cooke Transfer Scholars will receive comprehensive educational advising from the Foundation to guide them through the process of transitioning to a four-year college and preparing for their careers.

Scholars will additionally receive opportunities for internships, study abroad, and graduate school funding, as well as connection to a thriving network of over 2,700 fellow Cooke Scholars and alumni.

Nearly 1,500 students from 311 community colleges applied for the 2020 Cooke Undergraduate Transfer Scholarship.

The Foundation evaluated each submission based on students' academic ability and achievement, financial need, persistence, leadership, and service to others.

The recipients selected represent 17 different states and plan to enroll at the nation's most selective colleges.

Celis, the only winner from Alabama, resides in Vinemont with his mother Jovelyn McDonald, stepfather Larry Drake, Sr. and four younger siblings.

A list of the 2020 Cooke Transfer Scholars, including the community colleges and states they represent, can be found at www.jkcf.org/our-stories/2020-cooke-transfer-scholars.

Learn more about the Undergraduate Transfer Scholarship at www.jkcf.org/our-scholarships/undergraduate-transfer-scholarship or sign up to receive an email alert at www.jkcf.org/notify-me when the application opens again this fall!

The Jack Kent Cooke Foundation is dedicated to advancing the education of exceptionally promising students who have financial need.

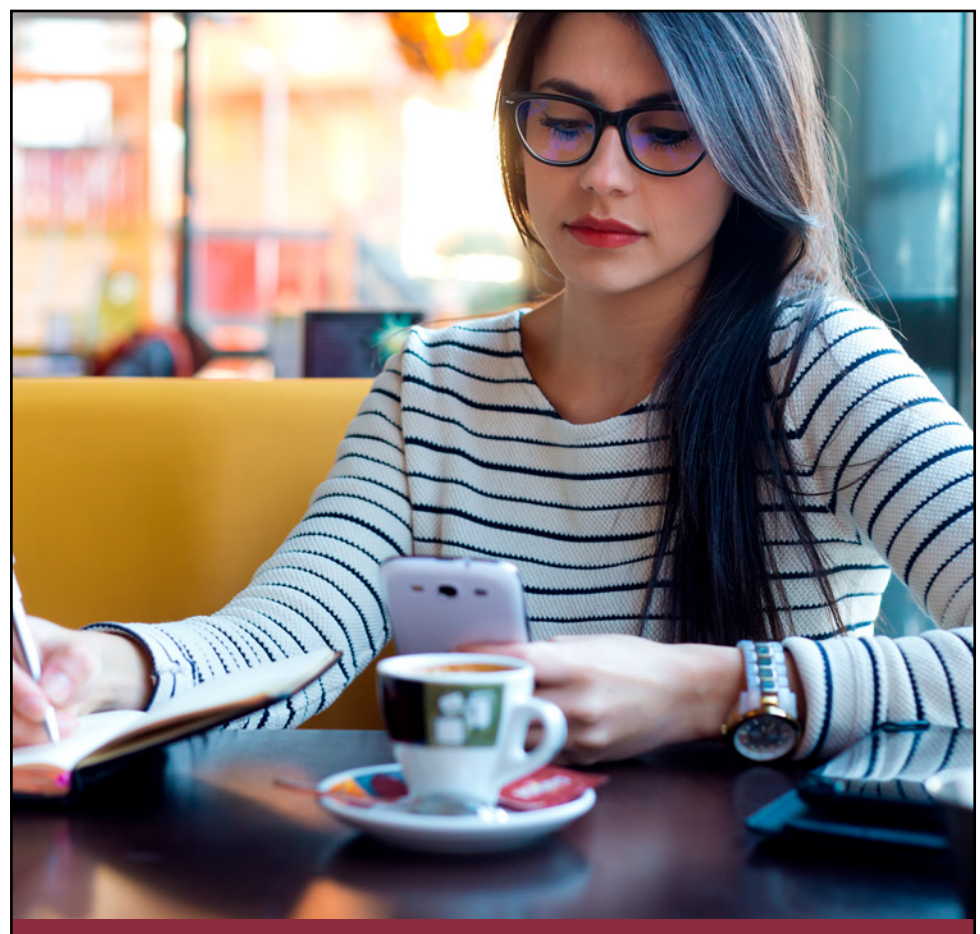

Since 2000, the Foundation has awarded over $200 million in scholarships to over 2,700 students from 8th grade through graduate school, along with comprehensive educational advising and other support services.

The Foundation has also provided $110 million in grants to organizations that serve such students. www.jkcf.org.

His productive junior season earned him second team All-America accolades from the AFCA, The Sporting News and Walter Camp. A permanent team captain on the 2019 team, McKinney was also selected as a third team All-American at safety by the Associated Press and Pro Football Focus while being named to the All-SEC First Team by the conference coaches and the Associated Press.

He was also tabbed to the Associated Press' third team and was an All-SEC first team selection by the same outlet. That 2019 effort saw Diggs tie for the team lead in pass breakups with eight while only allowing a passer rating of 44.5 when he was targeted, according to PFF. He also posted 37 tackles, including half a stop for loss (-1 yard), to go with three interceptions for a combined 79 yards. Diggs added two fumble recoveries, including a 100-yard score against Tennessee. The Gaithersburg, Md., native leaves Tuscaloosa after starting 19 starts games and playing in 46 in a multitude of roles, including corner, wide receiver, kick returner and punt returner.

Raekwon Davis
No. 56 | Miami Dolphins
A force along the Alabama defensive front, Davis passed up the NFL Draft a year ago to return for his senior season. In that final campaign, he was selected as a second team All-American by the AFCA and earned All-SEC Second Team honors from the league coaches. Davis totaled 47 tackles in 2019, adding three tackles for loss (-6 yards) and half a sack (-4 yards) to go with five quarterback hurries. Anfernee Jennings
No. 87 | New England Patriots
A permanent team captain on the 2019 squad, Jennings earned All-SEC First Team accolades from both the league coaches and the Associated Press. His standout play as a senior also earned him a spot as a semifinalist for the Butkus Award, presented annually to the nation's top linebacker. Jennings produced eight sacks (-61 yards) in 2019 to pace the Crimson Tide and rank fourth in the SEC in that category, while adding 12.5 tackles for loss (-72 yards), a number that tied for third in the league ranks. 6 picks: 'Talented players with character' highlight Auburn's 2020 NFL Draft

Jeff Shearer
AU Athletics

AUBURN, Ala. – For the second straight year, NFL teams drafted six Auburn players, tying last year's program record since the draft became seven rounds in 1994.

"Having six players taken for the second consecutive year says a lot about where our program is at right now," Auburn coach Gus Malzahn said. "We're recruiting talented players with character and we have a staff that is doing a great job developing them. It's pretty exciting.

"The guys that got drafted are not only big-time players but big-time people with high character. They're going to be very successful in the NFL."

The Auburn coach called each of the draftees to celebrate their selection.

"One of the best things about being a head coach is being able to talk to your players after they get drafted," Malzahn said. "They come to Auburn with a dream of playing at the next level. When you can talk to them right after they accomplish that dream, it's a real special moment for a coach."

Defensive lineman Derrick Brown became Auburn's first selection in the 2020 NFL Draft when the Carolina Panthers chose him Thursday with the No. 7 overall pick.

Defensive back Noah Igbinoghene joined Brown in the first round when then Miami Dolphins selected him with the No. 30 overall pick.

Marlon Davidson became Auburn's third defensive player to be selected, going to the Atlanta Falcons Friday in the second round with the No. 47 pick.

"Marlon Davidson is one of the best football players to come through Auburn since I've been here," Malzahn said. "The Falcons are getting a great competitor and a coach on the field. He's the complete package.

"He's so versatile. You can move him around. He's very good against the run and very good against the pass. He can dissect the plays as they are coming, the schemes. He has that unique ability to know what's coming."

Offensive tackles Jack Driscoll and Prince Tega Wanogho will remain teammates with the Philadelphia Eagles, who picked Driscoll in the fourth round and Wanogho in the sixth.

"The Philadelphia Eagles are getting a versatile player in Jack Driscoll," Malzahn said.

"His strength is he can play all five positions on the offensive line. He's athletic, he's a technician and he's durable. Jack will play banged up and through things. I think he's got a chance to play in the league a long time.

"The Eagles really got a steal getting Prince Tega in the sixth round. He's a guy that I think has his best football ahead of him. He's still learning the game. He's so athletic and he's a tough guy, who is an extremely motivated player. I'm excited that Tega and Jack will be teammates together in Philadelphia."

Safety Daniel Thomas, a two-year starter who served as one of Auburn's captains in 2019, joined the Jacksonville Jaguars in the fifth round.

"Daniel Thomas is a heat-seeking missile," Malzahn said.

"He knows how to get after the football. The Jaguars are getting a guy that loves football and loves practicing football who is a very good special teams player. Daniel is a wonderful, high-character person."

More former Auburn players will attempt to earn NFL roster spots as undrafted free agents, including three with the Detroit Lions. Safety Jeremiah Dinson, offensive lineman Mike Horton and punter Arryn Siposs will join former Auburn great Kerryon Johnson in Detroit.

Defensive back Javaris Davis (Kansas City), offensive lineman Marquel Harrell (Buffalo), receiver Will Hastings (New England) and fullback Spencer Night (Pittsburgh) also will have an opportunity to play professionally, while defensive lineman Nick Coe and running back Kam Martin consider their optons.

"There's a handful of guys that I thought had a good chance of getting drafted and I think they're going to do real well and make some NFL teams," Malzahn said. "I'm rooting for those guys."

Derrick Brown was drafted in the first round with the seventh pick to the Carolina Panthers.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – The Alabama High School Athletic Association (AHSAA) Central Board of Control approved and the Legislative Council ratified a record 11 legislative proposals Thursday during its 2020 Spring Legislative Council meeting held via teleconferencing for the first time in AHSAA history. All legislative proposals that passed will go into effect on June 1, 2020.

"I laud our member schools, especially the members of the AHSAA Central Board and Legislative Council for their hard work and leadership," said AHSAA Executive Director Steve Savarese.

"I especially want to thank the members of the AHSAA Transfer Committee under the leadership of chairperson Terry Curtis, District 1 board member, whose painstaking work has resulted in providing some excellent proposals that will help guide the AHSAA as it moves forward in our changing society."

Among the proposals that passed was legislative proposal No. 6 which allows all transfer students competing below varsity level to be immediately eligible if all other eligibility requirements are met. That proposal passed 24-8.

Also passed was legislative proposal No. 11 which amends the Academic Rule to allow unlimited units earned in approved summer school, credit recovery or correspondence courses if completed by the first fall contest date. The proposal passed 28-4.

And legislative proposal 19, which passed 29-3, allows dependent children of full-time class room teachers or administrators who accept a position in another school attendance zone to transfer to the new school and be eligible to participate in athletics at the new school if all other eligibility requirements are met.

For a proposal to pass, it must receive a minimum 22 votes from the 32-member AHSAA Legislative Council.

Each of the eight districts elect four members to serve as their representatives.

The other legislative proposals that were ratified Thursday include:

Proposal No. 1
Amends Rule 1, Section 4. For students who are born in a foreign country, a passport or other central board-approved government documents can be accepted as age verification for eligibility process. The proposal passed 28-4.

Proposal No. 3
Changes the penalty for a Leaving the Bench Ejection to include players who are ejected for unsportsmanlike conduct and those who come off the bench onto the court or field and are ejected under National Federation rules.

They will also be suspended for 20 percent of the team's total number of regular season contests. Passed 27-5.

Proposal No. 10
Amends Rule III Section 15. It clarifies that all students are prohibited from being coached by a school's employee outside of the allowable dates.

It will read: No administrator, coach or non-faculty coach from a school's staff of the same sport may hold organized practice (except during allowable period) or competition for its school or its feeder school students (students 7-12) in that sport outside the sports season during the school year. Passed 26-6.

Proposal No. 13
Amends Rule 3 Section 15. It does away with the 50% restriction and the 2-hour per athlete restriction of the rule. This will allow multiple coaches to work with multiple athletes at one time.

It makes the 2-hour restriction per sport for coaching outside of the season and limits the number of weeks allowed to 10 of the approximately 20 off-season weeks. Passed 25-7.

Proposal No. 14
Amends the overlapping transfer rule. After sitting out one year, the student may transfer to any school within the overlapping zone and be immediately eligible if all other eligibility requirements are met. Passed 26-6.

Proposal No. 16
Amends Rule 1 Section 6 (B). Changes the start date of the summer exemption for the 50% rule to begin on the Monday following the last championship event.It would read:

Note: The 50% rule is not in effect from the first Monday after the last championship event of the year until the first day of the fall sports contest (excluding week zero). Passed 28-4.

Proposal No. 18
Amends Rule III Section 17. Allow Fall sports (football, volleyball, cross country, swimming) the option of having a Spring evaluation period or starting official practice a week early.

The following would be added: Fall sports (football, volleyball, cross country, swimming) have the option of conducting a spring evaluation period or starting official practice on the Monday before the first Monday in August. Passed 22-10.

Proposal No. 22
Amends Rule III Section 3. Simplify sanctioning requirements so that only tournaments that determine a champion need to be sanctioned. It would read:

Sanctioning requirements
All tournaments must be officially sanctioned by the AHSAA and/or the NFHS. A tournament is defined as an organized event in a sport when 3 or more teams participate, and an overall champion is determined through multiple contests. Passed 26-6.

OPINION

The Sovereignty of God, no. 17

Tom Fillinger
Tribune Columnist

Today we conclude our study of the Sovereignty of God.

10. The doctrine of God's sovereignty provides a resting place for the heart.

I repeat this as it provides major comfort to those who trust and believe in God's sovereign control of His creation. Rejoice! Much that might have been said here has already been anticipated under previous heads. The One seated upon the Throne of Heaven, the One who is Governor over the nations, and who has ordained and now regulates all events—is infinite not only in power—but in wisdom and goodness as well. He who is Lord over all creation—is the One that was "manifest in the flesh" (1 Timothy 3:16). Ah! here is a theme which no human pen can do justice to. The glory of God consists not merely in that He is the Highest—but in that being high—He stooped in lowly love to bear the burden of His own sinful creatures! "God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto Himself" (2 Corinthians 5:19). The Church of God was purchased "with His own Blood" (Acts 20:28). It is upon the gracious self-humiliation of the King Himself—that His kingdom is established. O wondrous Cross! By it He who suffered upon it has become not the Lord of our destinies (He was that before)—but the Lord of our hearts! Therefore, it is not in abject terror, that we bow before the Supreme Sovereign—but in adoring worship we cry, "Worthy is the Lamb who was slain—to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honor, and glory, and blessing!" (Revelation 5:12).

We have been reflecting on the Sovereignty of God for many weeks. Remember the exhortation offered at the outset of this study – when people say that they believe in the Sovereignty of God – BUT – rest assured they have a dysfunctional understanding of God's absolute Sovereignty. Remember also the testimony of Bart Compolo on this topic. He stated that when he began to doubt God's absolute Sovereignty, he took the first step into full blown atheism which is where he claims he is now. Sound doctrine is healthy doctrine. There is no more important doctrine than the Doctrine of God. He is God alone and there is no other.

I urge my readers to properly comprehend this doctrine. I urge my readers to get a copy of A. W. Pink's wonderful book titled "The Sovereignty of God." Read it, understand this vital doctrine and may your walk with the Lord be shaped by this truth.

You may reach me at info@igniteus.net or by calling 800-472-3764. I am available for pulpit supply or to serve as your interim pastor.

and committees, including Cullman Caring for Kids, the Cullman County Bosom Buddies Foundation and United Way Daystar House.

Cullman Caring for Kids Executive Director Javon Daniel said, "Leah has been a good friend for many, many years. I remember when she had her accident and she was on our board for several years, always a vital part of helping move Cullman Caring for Kids forward.

"We were so glad to have had her on our board because she was so knowledgeable and very personable. She was a good friend."

Lust left the Cullman Caring for Kids board shortly after being elected as probate judge.

Daniel said, "I didn't see her very often, but when we did, we got a chance to talk and reminisce some. Just very sad to hear of her passing and she will be missed. She overcame a tremendous, tremendous amount of adversity to be a very successful woman. There are not a lot of people today that would take that adversity and turn it into their advantage. She was a very special lady."

Lust was involved in a car accident as a young adult that left her paralyzed from the waist down.

Added Daniel, "To see her and be around her and to know her, she was very independent.

"She was very strong-willed and she wanted everybody to know that because she was in a wheelchair, that was not a handicap. She was going to make the best of whatever her situation was and she did that."

Cullman Caring for Kids Assistant Director Nancy Bryant recalled, "She always impressed me because she was happy and chipper and always had great things to say about the people she was around. She gave so much on the board of directors. I just remember loving to see her coming because she always brought joy. She was never a downer and she gave so much for Cullman Caring for Kids. She was just very sweet. She was very kind-hearted and willing to help this community and she always did. When she was the probate judge, she did a great job there, too."

Lust was named Wallace State's 2011 Overall Outstanding Alumni. She served on state committees by appointment from former Governor Don Siegelman and was recently appointed to the Alabama Department of Rehabilitation Services by Governor Kay Ivey.

Lust is survived by her husband Michael Lust, her parents and her brother. A private family graveside service is planned. The service will be available on Moss Service Funeral Home's Facebook page Tuesday, April 28 at 2 p.m.

W.C. Mann

CULLMAN, Ala. – Since 2009, Cullman First Baptist Church (CFBC) has operated a food pantry for families in need around Cullman, and its important work has become all the more crucial during the economic downturn that has accompanied the COVID-19 pandemic. On the third Saturday of each month, volunteers offer food and a little hope to families from across the county, and the church is prepared to meet needs more often as necessary.

Laura Ray coordinates the ministry, but insists that it is a group effort, telling The Tribune, "It is a group of individuals because we love Jesus, and we provide this in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ."

The church decided to pass on major providers like the Food Bank of North Alabama, so all of the pantry's supplies come from CFBC's Sunday School classes.

Said Ray, "Each Sunday School class has an assignment, and that's if they choose to donate- nobody's making anybody do anything- or they can make a donation if they feel led to do that. Because of that, every month we're able to provide a very nice bit of staples to someone's food need."

Ray said that the pantry regularly supplies its clients sugar, spaghetti, spaghetti sauce, canned vegetables and fruits, cereals, crackers, peanut butter, jelly, fresh bread and canned meats like chicken and Spam. When available, the pantry will also give out items like toilet paper and disinfecting wipes, though such items have been in short supply recently. Seasonal foods include turkeys at Thanksgiving and Christmas, and farm-fresh items like watermelons.

Ray said that her church's ministry also shares something more important than groceries, telling The Tribune, "What we have to share is hope, and that hope is in the Lord Jesus Christ."

When they can, volunteers will talk with and counsel clients whose hardships go beyond physical needs.

CFBC asks food pantry clients to come every other month, but according to Ray, "As we talk to these folks, if they need to come back the next month, then they're invited to do so."

In between the third Saturday distribution events, CFBC's benevolence ministry can help people with urgent needs if they contact the church office.

The pantry is open to residents of Cullman County, and new clients will need to bring a driver's license and proof of address. Proof of income or financial hardship is not necessary. For more information, email info@cullmanfbc.com, call 256-734-5632 or visit http://cullmanfbc.com.

A SPECIAL BIRTHDAY TREAT

christy@cullmantribune.com

BROOKLYN, Ala. – It was a gorgeous afternoon Saturday for a social distancing birthday parade, and for a 2-year-old who loves trucks and everything with wheels, it was the perfect way to celebrate the occasion.

Friends and families lined up in the Brooklyn community to make little Hudson Martin's birthday a special one.

Hudson was joined by his mom and dad, Brandon and Karri, and big sister Addilynn.

Cars, trucks, tractors, old cars, police vehicles, a big rig and a Baileyton Volunteer Fire Department fire engine all came by to wish Hudson happy birthday.

Hudson celebrated with his parents and sister with a "Toy Story" themed birthday and cake.

One truck of well-wishers even dressed as Buzz Lightyear and Woody for the occasion.
