CULLMAN, Ala. – Cullman restaurants eased into reopening to dine-in customers Monday after Governor Kay Ivey announced last Friday that some COVID-19 restrictions would be lifted. While a few local eateries were ready to open their doors, many local favorites remained closed. Those prepared to open Monday will continue offering carryout and curbside pickup to those customers who still might be hesitant to venture.

Amy Gable, general manager of Carlton's Italian Restaurant, said, "Inside we are just sitting the booths because they have the partition between them and every table 6 feet apart as far as seating goes. The last two months we've taken everything apart and cleaned everything and put it back together."

Carlton's will continue to offer curbside and carryout but will be unable to continue delivery services with staff resuming dine-in services. » PAGE 6

Agriplex receives USDA grant benefiting local farmers, feeding agencies

Maggie Darnell

CULLMAN, Ala. – The North Alabama Agriplex recently announced it was awarded a United States Department of Agriculture's (USDA) Farmers to Families Food Box Program grant. Agriplex Director Rachel Dawsey said the grant will benefit both local farmers and feeding agencies.

"This grant, targeting COVID-19 relief, will provide funds for the Agriplex to purchase produce from our local farmers and distribute this produce to local feeding agencies weekly," she said. "The produce will be packed in a box with four types of produce included. Each box will be a $20 value. We will pack 200 boxes per week plus 70 extra boxes once a month. The grant starts May 15 and our first box day will be May 18."

She continued, "The grant targets farmers growing fresh produce. We are limited to purchasing fruit and vegetables. We will start with the local farmers that have been sourcing our drive-thru market. If any farmer is interested in participating, they can call the Agriplex at 256-297-1044 or email cullmanag@gmail.com. We are only including Cullman County and surrounding area growers."

The Agriplex is one of only 40 grant recipients in the Southeast.

Dawsey said she is happy with the USDA's support, sharing, "We are really excited to get this grant! I was worried we would be too small to compete with larger distributors, but the USDA really wants to support small, local growers and to get fresh produce to the food insecure » PAGE 7

Brian Shoop announces retirement after 39-year, legendary career

Ted Feeley
UAB Athletics

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. – A 39-year coaching veteran and a member of the 1,000 wins club, UAB baseball head coach Brian Shoop announced his retirement on Sunday.

Shoop retires after nearly four decades of coaching, including spending the last 14 years at UAB. Overall, the Columbus, Ohio native was a head coach for 31 years and compiled 1,061 career victories, including the 2001 NAIA National Championship at Birmingham Southern.

UAB assistant coach Perry Roth, who has been with the program for 14 years alongside Shoop, has been promoted to interim head coach for the 2020-21 season.

"Brian Shoop has had a phenomenal career," said Director of Athletics Mark Ingram. "While many will point to his on-field accomplishments like winning more than 1,000 games, I am confident that he is most proud of the relationships he's built with so many young men. No one has earned the right to retire and spend time with their family more than Brian Shoop. His family means the world to him and I am lucky to have worked with such an incredible man."

After his playing career at Malone University from 1977-80, Shoop began his assistant coaching career at his alma mater from 1981-82, before being hired as an assistant at Mississippi State under current UAB volunteer assistant Ron Polk. Shoop was at MSU from 1983-89, and earned his first head coaching position at Birmingham Southern in 1990.

Shoop compiled 699 victories at BSC, and along with winning the NAIA National Championship in 2001, Shoop successful navigated the Panthers' move to Division I, which included a 47-18 record in 2004 and a NCAA Regional appearance.

He then made the transition to UAB in 2007 and has been at the helm of the Blazers for the last 14 years. He was named Conference USA's Coach of the Year in 2014 and was the recipient of the 2015 Jerry Kindall Character in Coaching Award.

Along with tremendous success on the field, Shoop's teams have always been highly achieving in the classroom and in the community. This past year alone, the Blazer baseball team placed 26 student-athletes on the C-USA Commissioner's Honor Roll for maintaining a 3.0 GPA or higher, and six earning the C-USA Academic Medal for a 3.75 GPA or higher. Shoop's Blazers have posted an overall GPA of 3.0 or higher for 24 consecutive semesters.

"It has been an honor for me to have had the opportunity to work closely with Coach Shoop," Senior Associate Athletic Director for Administrator and Baseball Sport Administrator Dan Carlson said. "I got to see firsthand his dedication to our student-athletes and our UAB program as he instilled values for life and developed 'Uncommon Men.' There is no way to put in words the type of impact he has made in so many people's lives and no one deserves to enjoy this next phase of his life in retirement more than Brian and his wife Brenda."

UAB ATHLETICS

UAB Head baseball coach Brian Shoop announced his retirement Sunday

And to you, Coach Shoop. Thank you. Thank you for being a mentor to so many young men and for doing things the right way. Your passion for baseball has affected so many people for the better. You are truly a coaching legend and UAB was lucky to have you for the past 14 years.

Commission (from Front)

craig@cullmantribune.com

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – The Alabama Senate on Friday passed two local bills that would increase the Cullman County Commission from three members to five and prevent new municipalities from sharing Cullman County sales tax revenues. The bills are now headed to the desk of Governor Kay Ivey to be signed.

House Bill 486
House Bill 486 was sponsored by Representatives Randall Shedd, R-Fairview and Corey Harbison, R-Good Hope.

Shedd offered this summary:
• The legislative delegation believes Cullman County's population growth has outgrown the three-member county governing body concept, and therefore proposes to add elected representation for all four corners of the county.
• Upon being fully implemented this legislation would not add additional cost to the taxpayers.
• Rather than two full-time associate commissioners, this local legislation would add to the public's representation by having four part-time commissioners.
• Four associate commissioners would represent the four sections of the county: northeast, southeast, northwest and southwest areas of the county by residency requirements.
• To promote countywide unity, all commissioners would run countywide.
• The chairperson could reside anywhere in Cullman County and run countywide.
• The legislation changes the title from Chairman to a gender-neutral title of Commission Chair.
• The legislation would require at least one meeting per month be conducted in the evening to provide the working public an opportunity to attend commission meetings.
• To ensure continuity, terms of associate commissioners will be staggered, with the two new commissioners serving a two-year term, then four-year terms thereafter.
• Beginning with the new commissioners in November 2022, part-time commissioners' salaries will be $25,000 per year.
• No change in the Chairman's salary
• Current associate commissioners would be "grandfathered in" at their current pay.

On Saturday afternoon, following the Senate's passage of the bill, Shedd told The Tribune, "Over and over at community meetings, the legislative delegation has heard from people expressing the need for the legislation we passed today.

"Today, the Alabama Legislature gave final approval to HB486, which changes the Cullman County Commission from three full-time members to four part-time commissioners representing all four sections of Cullman County and a full-time Commission Chair.

"I believe this is crucial to sound future growth for our county. Cullman County has outgrown the three-member system in terms of population and budgets.

"Over the next 10 years, we don't know who our commissioners will be, therefore this is not about a person, it's about the system. What we do know is the county commission will be spending over a half billion dollars of public funds. Under the current system, two people could get together and decide how to spend that money. That's too much pressure on too few!

"I believe this better positions our county to address the economic and infrastructure needs of the future while giving all areas of the county representation. And, with the requirement for one meeting per month at night, the working public can attend if they need to. I believe this will prove to be good for future generations."

House Bill 496
House Bill 496 was sponsored by Harbison and prohibits any new municipalities incorporated after the passage of the bill from receiving a portion of sales and use taxes that are distributed to existing cities and towns. Those municipalities already incorporated retain their current shares of the tax revenues.

After the passage of the bill through the Senate Saturday afternoon, Harbison told The Tribune, "I have had several requests over the years to do a bill like this from local mayors. And, you know, until recently, Berlin was actively working to incorporate, and I wasn't going to do anything that may compromise that, in an effort that Cullman County citizens were actively working to do.

"But at this point, there's no community that is actively working to incorporate, and so I don't feel like it's a jab at anybody. It's just something that (will), pretty much, bring us in line. The rest of the state already operates that way. Cullman County is the only county in the state that shares sales tax like that.

"Any new municipality, it'll be just as easy for one to form, but they will just have to do like the rest of the cities and towns across Alabama, and that would be survive on their own merit.

"When you incorporate, the citizens that are within that community expect a certain level of services from the municipality. And I think that you need to be able to show that you can provide that on your own, and not pull from all the others that are already trying to provide based off of current projections and budgets and depending on that revenue stream."

Also passed and heading to the governor
Three similar bills, all dealing with the transfer of the buildings and outdoor facilities of former county schools, passed the Senate Saturday:

• House Bill 485, sponsored by Rep. Scott Stadthagen, R-Hartselle establishing the Battleground School Historical Board, granting members immunity from civil liability for actions taken in the performance of their duties, and authorizing them to receive ownership of the Battleground School property from the Cullman County Board of Education. The bill also prohibits the board from selling or transferring ownership of the property without a majority vote of qualified voters in the Battleground district.
• House Bill 495, sponsored by Harbison, authorizing the Town of Garden City to receive ownership of the Garden City School property. The Town Council is prohibited from selling or transferring ownership of the property without a majority vote of the qualified voters in Garden City.
• House Bill 497, sponsored by Shedd, amending 2019 Act 435 which established the Joppa Historical Board and gave it the authority to receive ownership of the Joppa School property from the Cullman County Board of Education. The amendment makes board members "immune from civil liability for actions taken in the conduct of their duties."

Sen. Garlan Gudger, R-Cullman voted in favor of all five local bills when they came through the Senate. Gudger told The Tribune, "I reviewed the bills and talked with Rep. Stadthagen, Rep. Harbison, Rep. Shedd, and I believe we are on the same page, and I signed the bills out to go to Senate committee and passed them today. I believe this is the right move for the Cullman community."

Salons (from Front)

maggie@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – Alabama Gov. Kay Ivey on Friday announced the roll-out of the next phase of her Safer at Home Order, "Proceeding with Caution," effective Monday, May 11, 2020. These changes are in effect until May 22, 2020 at 5 p.m. As part of the loosening of restrictions, close-contact service providers, such as barber shops, hair salons, waxing salons, threading salons, nail salons and spas, body art facilities, tattoo services, and massage therapy establishments and services were allowed to reopen, following the following precautions:

Social distancing
• Employees shall not knowingly allow clients or persons accompanying a client to congregate within 6 feet of a person from another household.

Facial coverings
• Each employee shall wear a mask, or other facial covering that covers his or her nostrils and mouth, at all times while providing services within 6 feet of a client.

Hand sanitation
• Employees shall wash their hands thoroughly with soap and water immediately before providing services within 6 feet of a client.
• Employees of all close-contact service providers are encouraged—and employees providing nail services or facial services are required—to wear gloves when providing services within 6 feet of a client. To the extent employees wear gloves when providing services, they should use a new pair of gloves for each client and should put them on immediately after washing their hands.

The Tribune reached out to some local area hair salons and barber shops Monday.
Studio 412 Owner Garrett Flanagan shared, "We've been overwhelmed by the amount of people that have been supportive as well as overwhelmed by the amount of people we've just been trying to get in on our schedules."

Flanagan said Studio 412 will reopen Wednesday, May 13, 2020.

"We're waiting until Wednesday to officially reopen to prepare our salon for the orders we need to follow," he said. "We were not expecting to come back so soon; we were preparing to come back after the 15th, but fortunately and unfortunately, we are coming back sooner, and we are trying our best to prepare with social distancing, constant sanitation and we're just trying to the best we can do for our clientele."

Of reopening his doors to the public, he shared, "Hectic. It's going to be hectic and overwhelming, I'm excited to see my guests, but I'm nervous. I hope everyone will be respectful and understanding. We will not be able to get everyone in immediately. I've already seen some backlash on not getting everyone in; some people have been very disrespectful. I've had more respectful people than not, but I've also seen the rudest, meanest comments and things from people. It really just depends on who you're talking to, but I've had a wonderful response from people who have been waiting. We're trying our best and we hope that everyone is understanding. We're very excited to see our people! I was so excited whenever they said we could open up sooner."

Flanagan said Studio 412 is taking the following precautions:
• Clients can only enter the salon if they have an appointment.
• Social distancing is being followed; all stylists are wearing masks or face coverings.
• Every surface a client comes in contact with (before and after their appointment) will be cleaned and disinfected.
• All commonly touched/used areas (such as door knobs and restrooms) of the salon are being cleaned and disinfected regularly.

Tangles Salon reopened at 8 a.m. Monday morning.
Stylist MiKayla Hadley, along with owners Tiffany Smith and Wanda Huff, shared their perspective: "It was definitely a shock (receiving the OK to open), because we honestly were not expecting to open up with such little notice, so it's been a rush to get everything ready to see our customers."

"The biggest difficulty with the restrictions is the inconvenience they bring to our clients and schedules," said Hadley. "However, we know that keeping these restrictions in place is the best way to protect our amazing clients whom we love so much. We have always strived to provide a clean, safe space for our clients to come and relax, but we are taking extra care with our sanitation and disinfection of common areas and implementation of social distancing between clients."

She smiled, "You have no idea how overjoyed we are to see our clients face to face again and get back to doing what we love! Things will be very busy for us as we reschedule everyone whose standing appointments were cancelled due to shutting down, not to mention all those who have called for appointments since the news broke of our reopening. We are ready to see everyone again, and hope our clients are patient with us during this reopening. We have been overwhelmed with love and support ever since the day we found out we had to close and we are so thankful to work in such a supportive community. The response to our reopening has also be extremely overwhelming. People can't wait to come in and we can't wait to see them! staff is passionate about what we do, so this shut down has been very hard on all of us. Seeing all the excitement from our clients ready to come in warms our hearts!"

Smith and Huff shared requirements for clients to follow for business:
• "We are appointment only at this time, so anyone without an appointment is asked not to enter the building and instead call us to schedule an appointment." (256-734-7524)
• "We cannot allow clients to bring any extra people, including children, to sit with them during their appointment. Parents are of course allowed to stay inside with their children who are receiving haircuts, however."

Jayde Day Spa & Salon, normally closed on Mondays before the pandemic, reopening its doors Monday morning.

Owners Kaylie Mosley and Jamie Dellinger said: "So far (it's going) smoothly; we are trying to take every precaution to keep everyone healthy and safe. The only difficulty is not being able to book more than one person for services. As far as precautions, we are going by the CDC and Governor Ivey's requests. Everyone is wearing masks, cleaning between each client and making sure we only have one person in at a time."

As the morning began, the pair predicted the first day would be busy but was excited for its clients, "(It'll be) Kind of crazy because scheduling is a mess since we weren't originally supposed to open till next week. Of course, we are so excited to see 'our family' again! They are thrilled that we are reopening; they can't wait to get an appointment.

"Everyone is asked to follow the guidelines by wearing a mask and staying in their car until we call or text them to come in."

The Men's Den Grooming Center was set to open at 5 p.m. Monday evening.

"We've gotten tons of messages we haven't been able to respond to; we're going to be completely slammed," smiled Owner Kacey Clark. "Everybody is ready, the workers are ready, everybody is ready to get a haircut; we've been just waiting on the day to open."

Of the precautions the Clark and her employees are taking, she said, "We're wearing masks and we ask customers need to be wearing a mask when coming into the shop and we're following the 6 feet apart rule. We're disinfecting and cleaning the shop in between each client. We're doing everything we can to obey the orders. We appreciate everybody waiting on us and we'll get to them as soon as we can."

Clark had a special thank you for her clients: "We just thank you for waiting on us and supporting us through this time and we appreciate the extra tips that have helped get us through!"

Restaurants (from Front)

"I'd like to continue delivery," said Gable, "but I think it's just going to be too much with what little staff we have."

Carlton's has a plan in place if the restaurant sees a rush of customers.

Said Gable, "If we do get a lot of people at once, they are just going to have to wait in their car and I'll call them when their table is ready."

Monday (prior to dinner) was not very busy for Gable and her staff.

"It was kind of last minute," said of Ivey's announcement last week. "She said it on Friday and we were trying to get a game plan together about whether we were for sure going to open today so I think people are just getting used to the idea of places opening back up. It's going to take a week or two to get people back out. I was a little hesitant at first, but it's been kind of staggered today so that's good."

Margaronas Cantina staff spent the day Monday making final preparations before opening to dine-in customers at 5 p.m. During the shutdown, the time was used to do some renovations and retrain staff.

Margaronas manager Jorge Sanchez explained, "We had everybody retrained and we did a little remodeling, got everything fixed up and everything. To open back up, we want to start a little slow just to get everything back into rhythm and everything going.

"All of these guys are going to be following the guidelines by dividing everything 6 feet apart, cleaning everything around and starting everything fresh. All our equipment, plates, everything, is going to be brand new. We are keeping everything sanitized, all the workers as well. We really want to get back to normal, but we want to do it slowly, (to) make sure everything is safe first for the customers and everybody."

Sanchez said he realizes some customers may be wary of dining in, so carryout and curbside will continue there, too.

"There's a lot of people that prefer to wait and see how things are going to go," he said.

"We encourage that as well. If they feel like it's best for them, that's great as well. That way we have some time to allow things to go back and see how everything is going to be. We are excited. All the guys are excited. I think a lot of people are ready for us to open, just like we are, but, of course, we can't forget that there is still the virus and everything is going on. We got to be ready to take care of that."

Rock N Roll Sushi opened its doors for lunch Monday, and only a few customers had trickled in before noon. Savannah Farley and Grace Whitmire drove up from Blountsville to have lunch at their favorite sushi place. The ladies said they made plans over the weekend to eat together at Rock N Roll Sushi as soon as they heard they could.

Farley said, "I've come a couple of times and ordered pickup and stuff, but it was definitely hard to not be able to eat inside."

The best friends were excited to be able to be out and about.

Added Farley, "We missed that interaction and being able to get together and meet up for lunch."

"This is our favorite place and the highlight of our day," smiled Whitmire.

Rock N Roll Sushi will continue all services it began offering during the shutdown including the take-home meal kits. Dine-in customers will be able to order from the bar, but due to safety and distancing concerns, the bar will remain closed to seating.

"We have certain staff for the curbside, so they will be paying attention to them, and then we have our servers and staff serving inside. I think we have it set up pretty well," Manager Tera Cofield said.

OPINION

Evangelism, part 2

Tom Fillinger
Tribune Columnist

Today we continue our focus evangelism, declaring the whole counsel of God to lost people around us with compassion, integrity and consistency.

I recently participated in a worship service in a local church. We sang the hymn "I Love to Tell the Story." I wanted to stop the service at that point and pose this question to every person in attendance – In the past six months, how many times did you declare the gospel message to a lost person? My role as a pastor and church consultant has equipped me with the answer to this question.

Research has shown that fewer than 5% of professing Christians ever share the gospel with anyone in an entire year. Is it any wonder that the American Church is in unrelenting decline? Let's consider this issue using the analogy of warfare and an army.

If only 5% of the soldiers engage in the battle, would you expect that army to win the war? Of course not. Then why does the church tolerate such a dysfunctional profile in the realm of evangelism, the first phase of making disciples? We are commanded to make disciples.

If we are not reaching lost people we are failing in this most vital responsibility. That, folks, is flat out rebellion and disobedience to the LORD we claim to love and serve.

What are some reasons for this failure? I offer the following and ask you to honestly evaluate them. Do these factors describe your conduct regarding evangelism?

1. Life begets life. It is estimated that 70% of those who attend services each week are themselves not regenerate people. If you are not redeemed you cannot call others to repentance and faith.

2. Biblical Illiteracy. The state of biblical literacy is tragic. People do not share the gospel because they know that if they are challenged by a nonbeliever, they will not have credible answers to their questions.

3. Unconfessed sin. Sin seals our lips. If you have unconfessed sin in your life you know intuitively that it is hypocritical to confront others with the TRUTH of the gospel.

4. Pure and simple disobedience. One of the characteristics of sin is rebellion. You know that you are commanded to share the gospel. Your rebel sin nature reigns and you openly and defiantly refuse to obey.

So, how did you do in evaluating your active and consistent role in evangelism? How will you modify your current behavior? You will need two accountability partners who encourage you and hold you accountable for your participation in disciple making.

You may contact me by calling 803-413-3509 or emailing info@igniteus.net. I am available for pulpit supply or to serve as an interim pastor.

Grant (from Front)

in our community. I applaud the USDA for providing a quick turnaround on a grant that truly meets the needs in our community.

"This grant will help the Agriplex pursue something we were already doing, but on a much larger scale."

Continued Dawsey, "For the farmers we are able to support, this will be a significant financial boost. We are purchasing farm products at retail cost and will be a reliable market through the end of June, and if our grant period gets extended, through the end of December."

The first grant period will give the Agriplex $43,400 to pack and distribute 1,736 boxes to families through local feeding agencies.

Dawsey shared, "The boxes will be donated to the feeding agencies the Agriplex is currently working with including Cullman Caring for Kids, The Caring Center, The Crossing, Main Street Ministries in Winston County, CREEA (Cullman Re-Entry Addiction Assistance), Victim Services, Restoring Women Outreach, St. Vincent de Paul, Cullman First United Methodist Church Hispanic Ministry Food Pantry and more.

If any agency is interested in participating, the agency can call 256-297-1044 or email cullmanag@gmail.com."

CULLMAN, Ala. – After Governor Kay Ivey issued her amended Safer at Home Order last Friday, many local businesses began looking forward to reopening - including gyms and fitness centers. While many people have found ways to keep in shape and continue working out while at home, many are still eager to return to their preferred gyms and not let their memberships go to waste. For those who intend to return as soon as possible, here is what you need to know about Planet Fitness, Anytime Fitness and the Cullman Wellness & Aquatic Center.

Anytime Fitness (1845 Patriot Dr. SW)
Anytime Fitness is open and has resumed its normal operating hours. A spokesperson for the business said it is "maintaining a high standard of cleanliness" and that although it is limiting the number of people allowed inside at once, "there hasn't been a moment where we've had to make people wait outside."

Cullman Wellness and Aquatic Center (1636 Field of Miracles Dr. SW)
CWAC is open and will be operating from 4:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. every day. Managers at the center declined to comment on what restrictions would be in place, but the CWAC Facebook page listed a few guidelines for visitors:

• Towel services, bottle fillers and water fountains temporarily discontinued; members encouraged to bring own water and sweat towels if needed.

• No cycle classes being held; other fitness classes continuing as scheduled.

• Indoor pool open for water aerobics and lap swim only.

Indoor & outdoor pool lap swimming guidelines:
• One swimmer per lane
• Maximum of one hour allowed in the water
• Bring own equipment; avoid shared equipment
• Locker rooms are open to enter the pool area
• Patrons will not be allowed to re-enter locker rooms after swimming; they must dry off on deck and exit through aqua room.

Planet Fitness (1727 Second Ave. SW)
Planet Fitness will be reopening this Friday (May 15) with new operating hours: 6 a.m.-9 p.m. Monday through Friday, 7 a.m. - 7 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. It will be maintaining the 6 foot distance rule, as well as having everything thoroughly cleaned and disinfected.

Fairview eatery gets new artwork

FAIRVIEW, Ala. – In a lightning-swift one-day operation, local artist Bethany Kerr gave a facelift to the west wall of Fairview landmark eatery Pizza Done Right, adorning the structure with a mural featuring two pairs of pizza wings: full sized for the big folks and a tiny set of puppy wings for the many local residents who come to walk their dogs in the municipal park immediately behind the restaurant. Kerr started outlining the wings free-hand around 9 a.m. and was finished with the project by midafternoon.

PDR's Latonia Burden told The Tribune, "I seen something on Pinterest and I thought, 'How fun!' It come from a Chicago pizza place, and I thought, 'We need something like that in Fairview, Alabama.' We're in front of a park, and everybody brings their dogs, and I'm like, 'Let's do dog wings, too!'

"I think it'll be a fun place for the community to come out, have some pizza, come out and take some selfies, go to the park; just have a good family day."

Shortly after putting the finishing touches on the mural, Kerr said, "I thought it was a really fun project.

"When they showed me the pictures of what they wanted, I thought, 'Wow, this is going to be fun!'

"I just love things like this with whimsy, and the pizza wings are such a good idea."

Looking over the finished product, PDR owner Cindy Reid told The Tribune, "I think it's going to be great. I love it; I just absolutely love it. She did an awesome job!"

'She's not alone': Boss shaves head to support employee with cancer

DAWN WRIGHT

Tina Calloway and her boss, Wescoat Free

CULLMAN, Ala. – A cancer diagnosis is an incredibly stressful ordeal, both for the patient and their family - treatments, work obligations, health complications and the mental toll of having to handle everything can wear someone down very quickly. Fortunately for a local insurance agent, she found that her colleagues were more than happy to support her in any way they could, even making sure she didn't go through her hair loss by herself.

Wescoat Free, owner of Knight-Free Insurance Agency, said longtime agent Tina Calloway received the life-changing diagnosis in February and has since gone through a few rounds of chemotherapy. When her hair started falling out, she chose to have her husband shave all of it off, but Free felt that she shouldn't have to go through all of it alone.

"I called up her husband Sammy and said I wanted to surprise her," Free stated. "So, I went over to her house with some of the other employees and Sammy shaved my head like he did hers."

Free said the reactions he got were, for the most part, overwhelmingly positive.

"My mom thought I was crazy, but my wife was all for it," he smiled. "I've gotten a lot of compliments about it since then, but I've also had a lot of people ribbing me about buying a lot more sunscreen.

"Tina was so surprised when it happened, and I was real happy that I could do this for her, show her that she's not alone."

Calloway recalled the day of the decision with fondness.

"I never expected him to do anything like that, but that is just the type person he is," she said. "We had a lot of laughs while Wescoat got his cut and it really made losing my hair easier to deal with."

Free went on to say, "We're a small business, and we're like family here. Tina's been part of the family a long time, and we wanted to make sure she didn't have to worry about too much while going through chemo. Obviously, the pandemic and everything threw a bit of a wrench in the plans, but Tina's been able to work from home, and the other ladies at the office have been picking up a bit of her workload so she doesn't have so much on her plate."

Calloway went into further detail about how deeply Free cares about his work family, saying, "As COVID-19 started spreading in our state, Wescoat sent me home to work so I wouldn't run the risk of getting something that would interfere with my treatments. He ordered me a laptop and a printer which enables me to have an income during these crazy times."

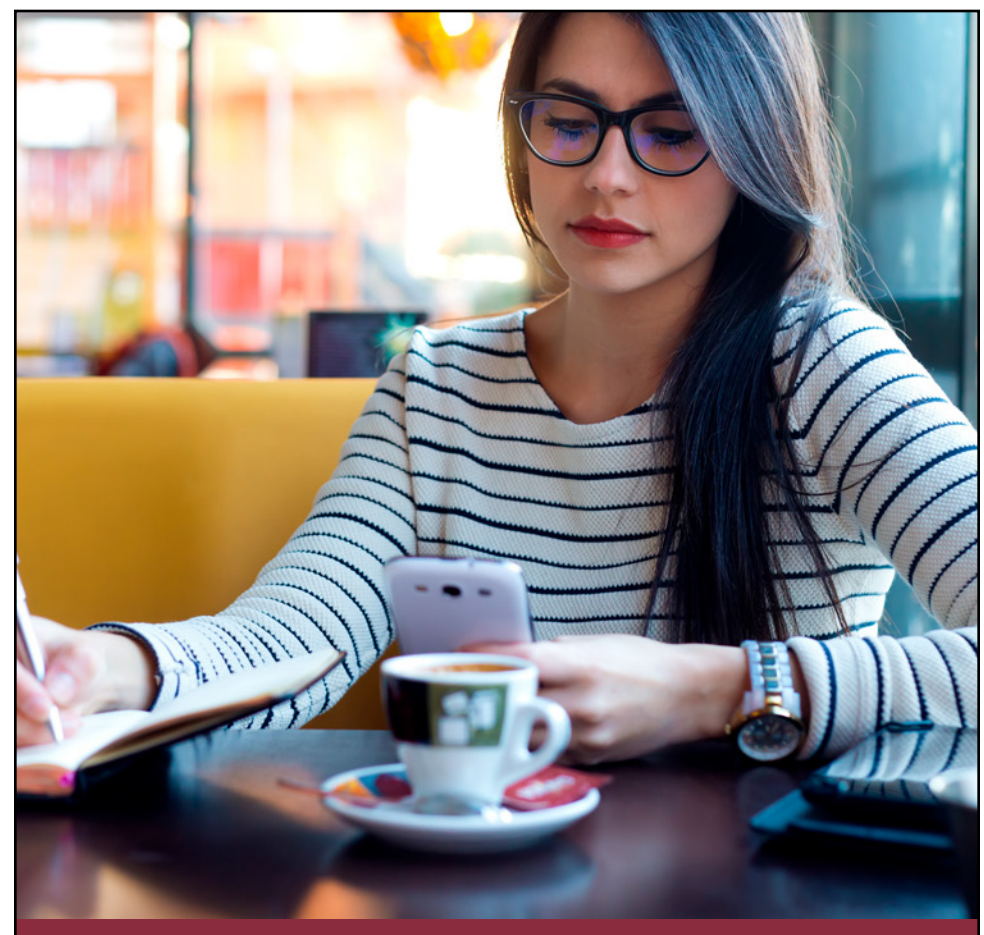

Calloway finished by remarking, "I knew when I went to work at Knight-Free 20 years ago that the people there were special, and they continue to show me just how much. I feel blessed to work with and for such a great group!"
