CULLMAN, Ala. – The staff at Donald E. Green Active Adult Center wanted seniors to know just how much they are missed and Tuesday afternoon held the Red, White & Blue Drive Thru for You parade. Staff planned the afternoon event to allow seniors a chance to stop by and say hello and grab a treat from Frios Gourmet Pops. Those who came out were eager for the senior centers to reopen.

Donald E. Green Active Adult Center Director Stephanie Neal greeted each car and struggled to not hug each senior as the vehicles pulled through the center's parking lot.

"We miss them and they are ready to get back here," she said.

"They miss socializing and being with their friends.

"We wanted to do something to let them know that we miss them, too."

She added, "The 22nd is supposed to end the lockdown orders and we hope she (Governor Kay Ivey) makes a statement before then.

"That's what we are waiting on, and boy, the seniors don't like it either, but we have to.

"Re-opening is up to Governor Ivey; it's not up to me."

Neal believes some seniors will remain cautious about coming back at first, while others will be excited to resume some normalcy.

Based on the reactions Tuesday to Neal's sign reading, "Honk if you miss coming to the center," all the seniors who came out are more than ready to be back.

Local wedding, event vendor discusses how the pandemic has affected business

Heather Mann

CULLMAN, Ala. – When most people think about challenges to face when planning a wedding, they'll think about budgeting, reservations and schedule conflicts before they ever think about a pandemic. Unfortunately, this spring, many people have had to make major changes to their big days in light of social distancing and disease prevention guidelines. While it's easy to imagine the kind of stress that the engaged and their families are going through, one event organizer opened up about how the different businesses and workers involved in a wedding have been affected as well.

Tony Haynes, owner and lead designer at Cymbidium Studios, runs his business underneath Loft 212 in downtown Cullman. Cymbidium does floral arrangements and decor rentals for weddings, parties and other events, and Haynes said that although he personally hasn't had a lot of total cancellations, he's lost a lot of floral business due to students not being able to go to prom.

"We usually get a lot of orders for corsages and boutonnieres around this time of year, but since these kids can't go to prom then they don't need the flowers anymore," he stated. "The Loft has lost out a lot, too - most of their business around this time of year comes from schools holding their proms here. They usually have 15 or 16, » PAGE 3

Cullman rolls out new reporting app; council moves forward on traffic signal at busy SW intersection

craig@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Cullman City Council on Monday evening introduced a new online application called "Cullman Connect" that will help citizens get help for problems they discover around town and help streamline the process for bringing City resources to the problem-solving process.

"Basically, citizens can download an app, and I've tested it- because we're kind of in that testing phase right now- it's like if you've got a pothole, you take a picture of that pothole," said Mayor Woody Jacobs. "Of course, with these phones, it knows exactly where you are."

Photos and reports sent in through the app will be routed automatically to whichever City department is charged with responding to that type of problem. Residents can report potholes, street lights out, abandoned cars and more. According to Jacobs, the uses will be expanded over time.

The app is set for public release June 1.

Council working toward placing traffic signal at Cherokee Avenue/24th Street Southwest intersection

The council voted to authorize Jacobs to apply for a $100,000 Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) for the installation of a traffic signal at the intersection of Alabama Highway 69 (Cherokee Avenue) and 24th Street Southwest, and committed matching funds from the City. Cullman, between the city government, Industrial Development Board and others, will provide a local match of $105,000 for the construction phase of the project.

Jacobs noted the cooperation between agencies from the Cullman Economic Development Agency to the Alabama Department of Economic and Community Affairs (ADECA) and Alabama Department of Transportation (ALDOT) on the placement of a traffic signal in a busy industrial area along a state thoroughfare.

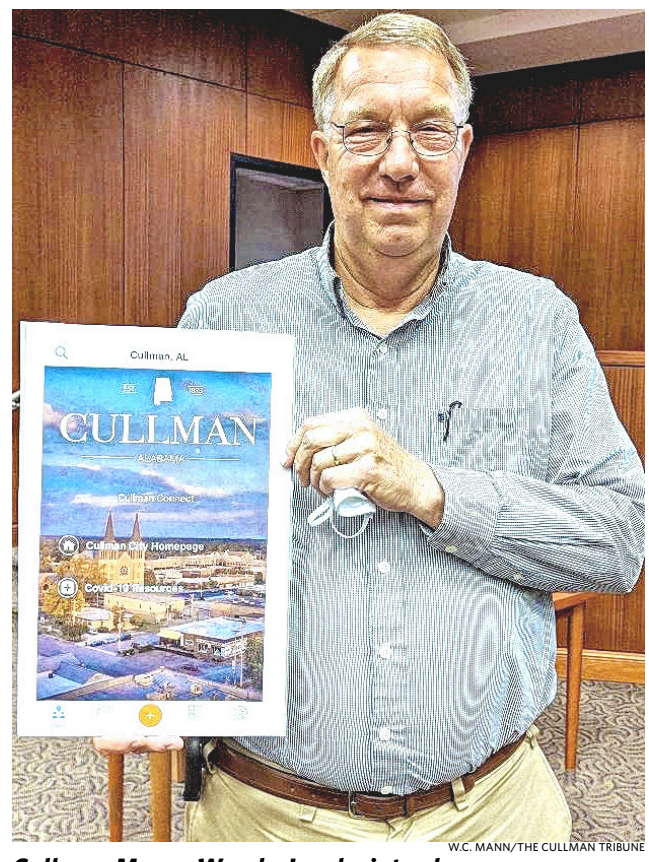

Katherine Street water and sewer improvements

The council approved a competitive bid from Ferguson Waterworks for water and sewer piping materials for infrastructure improvements on Katherine Street in the amount of $140,031.41 to provide all materials required for to complete the water and sewer system improvements activities associated with the above referenced CDBG project.

According to Jacobs, this project will complete the City's work on Katherine Street.

Garbage pickup days clarified

Councilman Johnny Cook, chair of the public works committee, noted confusion among some residents about changes to garbage pickup days, and asked City Clerk Wesley Moore to forward the changes to media. According to the notice, effective May 27, 2020, trash collection day will change from Thursday to Wednesday for all sanitation customers located on or around East Hanceville Road (County Road 702) from Brooks Drive Southeast to Bolte Road Southeast. This area includes the following neighborhoods:

Berlin council delays farmers' market opening, discusses EBT protocols for market

BERLIN, Ala. – For many months, the Town of Berlin has been eagerly awaiting the opening of its official town hall, as well as its own local farmers' market. During its meeting Monday night, the town council reported that while work on the town hall is moving forward steadily, the unfavorable weather earlier in the year has resulted in the decision to delay the opening of the market until later in June.

Mayor Patrick Bates reported the town hall building has been successfully placed and anchored according to code, the first round of gravel has been laid for the parking lot and some used poles have been acquired for meter bases. Bates said he has been in contact with a resident of the area who has been working to try to get the council access to leftover funds from a grant to go toward building a handicap accessible entrance.

As for the farmers' market, the weather earlier in the year delayed both the site plans and the local growers' planting dates, so neither the council nor the growers were able to coordinate for a June 1 opening. As such, the opening date has been pushed back to either mid- or late-June, though no definitive date has been set yet.

While on the topic of the market, the council had a heavy discussion about the possibility of allowing customers to use SNAP/EBT cards as payment at the market and how that could be made possible. Bates said he learned, after talking with a representative from the USDA, most markets that allow EBT payments have a system where payments are made to the market itself in exchange for some kind of voucher or tokens, which are then given to the sellers in exchange for product, and at the end, the sellers turn in the vouchers or tokens they receive and are reimbursed by the market for the appropriate amount. Some very large farms may set themselves up to accept EBT payments directly, but Bates said that for the sellers he expects for the start of the market, this system would be the way to go. This consideration was given extra weight because the town clerk received a call specifically asking if EBT would be accepted at the market.

To get an idea of what response the market could expect from EBT users, Bates called on councilman Bruce Bentley, owner of 278 Rock Grocery, to share his thoughts on the subject and his experience with local card holders. Bentley said things could be different at a farmers' market, but in his experience the EBT users in the area almost always went to his store to buy what would be considered snack food.

"I would say probably 95% and higher purchase nothing but snacks," he said. "I'm talking energy drinks, chips, candy bars. Very rarely do they come in and buy eggs, bacon, cereal, milk, stuff like that. In this area they just never did buy that stuff."

He went on to say, "EBT has its place, and it's a good thing, I think. But there's so much abuse of it, and in this area there's probably more of it than normal, I'd say. Not that everybody's abusing the cards, the privilege, but there's a lot."

He said he believes the amount of people in the area who would use an EBT card at a farmers' market would be very low.

After further discussion and deliberation, the council agreed to set up an EBT payment method to see how it would go, as the USDA representative Bates talked to said the first year of using the program is free. The only costs incurred for the first year would be that of ordering custom tokens for the exchanges, and even then, Bates estimated only $100 for 500 tokens. He went on to say that if the initiative was a success, further upkeep of the system would only be $200 each year.

Bates agreed to draft up a resolution outlining the plan, including plans to make unique tokens to avoid counterfeits and implement a no refunds policy on EBT payments.

Other council business included passing an ordinance officially declaring the Berlin Community Center a polling location for municipal elections and announcing that a worst-case scenario for getting power to the town hall building would be another six weeks.

West Point council notes: May 2020

Christy Perry

WEST POINT, Ala. – The West Point Town Council on Monday night had a short meeting with a light agenda.

The council approved the Town's Municipal Water Pollution Report conducted by Living Water Services.

The report is a yearly requirement that must be submitted to the Alabama Department of Environmental Management (ADEM).

The council also voted to leave the current qualifying fees unchanged for those running for council or mayor in the Aug. 25, 2020 Municipal Election.

The fee for council candidates will remain at $10 and $25 for mayoral candidates.

Mayor Gerald Schafer asked the council to begin thinking about the new town sign to be placed along Alabama Highway 157.

The council recently approved the placement of new brick signs including one in front of town hall.

Schafer also asked the council to be considering the need for repairs to the flumes around town hall and the ball park. Recent rains have left the water flumes cracked and in disrepair.

Town Clerk Joann Jones was given approval to begin archiving town council meeting minutes going back to the early 1970s.

Money was allocated in this year's budget for the project.

The next West Point Town Council meeting will be held June 18 at 6 p.m.

CCBOE updates 2020-2021 school year calendar due to COVID-19

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Cullman County Board of Education (CCBOE) on Monday night discussed changes to the 2020-21 school year because of the COVID-19 pandemic, the largest of which is to the school year calendar.

During the board's work session, Superintendent Dr. Shane Barnette announced that the state superintendent has asked schools to push back their start dates as far as possible, at least to Aug. 20, 2020, and will give out waivers allowing school systems to operate for 175 student days rather than 180 for the 2020-21 school year.

To accommodate this change, three professional development days throughout the year will be replaced with regular student days, and the school year will end on a Friday next year instead of a Wednesday.

Teachers will still have the same start date, Aug. 3, and can use the extra time between then and the students' start date for planning purposes since they will not have that time throughout the year. The board voted during the meeting to adopt this update to the calendar.

This later start date, Barnette said, is meant to help implement guidelines outlined in a new handbook (which will be made available June 19) that covers how to approach reopening schools in a safe, healthy and efficient manner.

The specific restrictions and requirements that need to be implemented are unknown until the handbook is released, but Barnette stated during the work session, "I do not have any reason to think that we won't (return face-to-face in August)."

During the board meeting, the board accepted two requests from Anita Kilpatrick, textbook coordinator, to approve the K-5 elementary math series and health textbook series adoptions as voted on by their respective textbook committees: "Into Math" (Houghton Mifflin Harcourt) and "Essential Health" (Goodheart-Wilcox) 2018, ISBN# 978-1-6-3563-050-3.

It also voted to approve tennis and soccer events as athletic events for the purpose of invoicing each school for fuel used. The purpose of this item was to have the CCBOE cover the costs of athletic trips for tennis and soccer using school buses like it does for other sports. Barnette stated that many schools that recently added those teams were having to shoulder the costs themselves even though those sports were generally less lucrative than other sports for which the CCBOE pays for transportation.

The CCBOE also approved:

- paying select teachers (not listed) a stipend for district-approved summer work and/or training
- raising the student lunch prices $0.30 for a new cost of $2.75
- request from Child Nutrition Development to operate its summer feeding program from June 10-July 15
- requests from Good Hope, Holly Pond, Vinemont and West Point High Schools to offer drivers education classes during the summer
- requests from all county high schools to hold credit advancement/summer school

For the Superintendent's Report, Barnette reported that starting next week (with the exception of next Monday in observance of Memorial Day) county schools and the central office will be open Monday-Thursday and closed Friday-Sunday for deep cleaning.

He also stated that kindergarten registration will take place June 1-15. Detailed instructions and the list of dates for each elementary school can be found on the front page of the CCBOE website (www.ccboe.org/).

Finally, with the exception of three schools, all county school graduations will take place Saturday, May 23 at 6 p.m. at the school's football field. The exceptions are the Child Development Center (May 22, 1 p.m. in the CDC gym), Holly Pond (May 23, 5 p.m. at the football field) and Fairview (May 23, 7 p.m. at the football field).

Attendance will be limited to 10 guests per graduate. In the event of rain Saturday evening, the ceremonies will be moved to 2 p.m. Sunday, and rain Sunday will move the ceremonies to Monday.

The live stream of Monday night's meeting can be found on the Cullman County Schools Facebook page. The next meeting will take place Thursday, June 18, starting with a work session at 5:30 p.m. followed immediately by the board meeting.

but this year they only had three or four."

With most weddings being rescheduled, some as much as a year out, Haynes said the people who suffer the most are the venues, photographers, caterers and DJs.

"Me personally, I haven't been affected as much, but these folks are losing out on a lot of business.

"First, they don't get work now because everything was canceled or rescheduled, then they miss out on jobs they could've gotten in the future because they conflict with the weddings that were supposed to have already happened."

In terms of what it's been like to adjust to new safety procedures, Haynes said he has a distinct advantage: he's been mostly working by himself for the past few months.

Most of his employees are part-time, and even then, some of those workers are on an as-needed basis for events, meaning he has not had much trouble enforcing social distancing in his workplace.

When asked if he had any other comments about the way things have been affected, he commented, "Even going into June, the future is still unsure. Most of us will be OK, but there will be a lot of lost revenue for the venues, caterers and DJs, especially the people who refunded their services."

He also described the current situation as a very emotional time, as many brides now have to wait months, even a year, to finally have their ceremonies, and those with dates coming soon will have to cut back on their budgets due to having lost work during the shutdown.

"I would like to tell each of you how proud I am of your monumental accomplishment of becoming a high school graduate. I hate that the year ended too quickly for your class. I appreciate how you handled adversity and look forward to seeing what God has in store for you in the future. As you process the feelings of sadness you have for what you lost, I challenge you to seek out a greater appreciation of what we have each and every day. May God bless you with happiness and joy in whatever career fields that you choose. We feel blessed to have been a part of your lives these last few years. God Bless!"

CULLMAN, Ala. – Around Memorial Day, drivers traveling along U.S. Highway 31 in north Cullman are greeted by a long line of flags placed along the median. These flags are placed by the Cullman Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) Post 2214. This year, the veterans decided to do even more. Tuesday afternoon, the VFW held a ceremony presenting 328 handmade crosses displayed next to Ed White Jewelers. Each cross bears the name, rank and branch of service of a Cullman County resident killed in action since World War I.

Vietnam veteran Rick Leigeber came up with the idea last fall, leading the project efforts, as VFW and Ladies' Auxiliary members cut, assembled and painted all the crosses through winter. He said the crosses represent "every Cullman County hero from World War I to present day." Leigeber also talked about a highly personal aspect of the project: one of the crosses represents the brother he lost in Vietnam.

"I have a stepbrother who went to Vietnam with me and was killed in action," he commented. "It's been in my heart all these years, to remember these guys that came home under the flag while I was able to come home and salute the flag standing up."

Leigeber said he believes people will enjoy the display and hopes it will help remind people what Memorial Day is all about.

Before the ceremony began, Ken Brown, VFW member and retired Air Force colonel, shared what the display means to him.

"We're really proud to do this," said Brown. "A lot of us who are combat veterans in the VFW have known a lot of guys who didn't come back, so this is a pretty meaningful holiday for us and we just wanted to share it with the public."

He said the highly visible display might be easier for residents to see and visit than the veterans monument at Sportsman Lake Park (which is where the project workers found the names for the crosses).

Along with the description of the display and the history behind it, Col. Brown issued a press release containing information regarding the VFW's upcoming Memorial Day events:

"On Thursday of this week, VFW members will gather at the Cullman City Cemetery at 8:30 a.m. and place an American flag on the graves of over 900 veterans buried there. We do this every year as a tribute to our fallen comrades.

"On Friday of this week, VFW members will decorate Highway 31 through Cullman with 225 American flags as a show of patriotism. We do this each year for Memorial Day, July 4th, Labor Day and Veterans Day.

"On Saturday, May 23, as we do each year the weekend before Memorial Day, the VFW will hold a memorial ceremony at the pavilion in Veterans Park at Sportsman Lake to honor our fallen. This year, because of the coronavirus, there will be no seating and the program will be very short, consisting of a prayer, brief remarks by the VFW commander and the playing of 'Taps.' This will take place at 10 a.m.

"Also on Saturday, from 9 a.m.-3 p.m., VFW members will be at both Cullman Warehouse Discount Grocery Stores conducting a buddy poppy drive to assist local disadvantaged veterans and their families. You will be given a buddy poppy to wear in exchange for any donation you wish to make. One hundred percent of the donations go directly to helping local county veterans, and there is nothing spent on overhead. This year, we are also seeking funds to send local veterans with PTSD to Annapolis, Maryland to receive a shot that minimizes the effects of this condition. The cost of the shot and travel is $1,200 per person. We encourage folks to drop by either WDG location or by the VFW Post and donate to this worthy cause.

"Finally, on Saturday, from 11 a.m.-1 p.m., on a first come, first served basis, 250 Chick-fil-A lunches will be given out to veterans and their spouses (adults only, no children) at the VFW Post, at 112 Veterans Drive, next to the Christian bookstore. The lunches have been donated by Mr. Irv Jones, of Connie's Cottages. He is in the process of building 8-10 small cottage homes for combat veterans in the Crane Hill area of Cullman County. The first of these homes will be complete in late September, and will offer veterans suffering from PTSD and other service-related disabilities a home of their own in a quiet, tranquil country setting. Veterans and their spouses may pick up their free lunches beginning on Saturday at 11 a.m. sharp."

GARDEN CITY, Ala. – The Alabama Legislature recently passed bills which would authorize the Town of Garden City to take ownership of the Garden City Elementary School bulding from the Cullman County Board of Education (CCBOE). The transfer will be final once signed by Gov. Kay Ivey.

House Bill 495 was sponsored by Rep. Corey Harbison, R-Good Hope. It authorizes the Town "to receive and hold title to the former Garden City School property and to manage that property; to authorize the governing body of the Town of Garden City to accept title and state and other governmental funding as well as charitable donations." The town council is prohibited from selling or transferring ownership of the property without a majority vote of the qualified voters in Garden City.

The Garden City Town Council was originally approached at its Aug. 19, 2019 council meeting by CCBOE board member Kenny Brockman about the possible transfer of the building and property to the Town.

Said Garden City Mayor Tim Eskew, "Right now, we're still waiting on word. It's got to go through the governor's hands. She's got to sign off on it, and then we're waiting on word from the school board, when they'll actually turn it over, because they'll have to give us a bit of a notice so we can get all of our ducks in a row. We're looking forward to it right now!"

Eskew did not give any definitive plans for what the Town plans to do with the school once acquiring the property.

Back in August, he said, "There's a lot of different things that it can be utilized for. It could be a community center for the town, or you know, a senior center; there's so many things that it can be utilized as."

Garden City Elementary School was condemned by the CCBOE in Aug. 2014, after former CCBOE Superintendent Dr. Craig Ross released an estimate on the repair costs for the building, which was $885,000. The building is nearing 100 years old, and the repairs needed were due to aging.

House Bill 495 states:
Relating to Cullman County; to authorize the governing body of the Town of Garden City to receive and hold title to the former Garden City school property and to manage that property; to authorize the governing body of the Town of Garden City to accept title and state and other governmental funding as well as charitable donations; and to provide that property of the board may transfer property under certain conditions.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF ALABAMA:
Section 1. (a) In Cullman County, the governing 13 of the Town of Garden City may own, operate, manage, and preserve the former Garden City school property in the Town of Garden City, including any ball fields and other historical structures, owned by the Cullman County Board of Education. To the extent allowed under Section 36-1-12, Code of Alabama 1975, members of the governing body are immune from civil liability for actions taken in the conduct of their duties relating to the Garden City school property.

(b)(1) The governing body of the Town of Garden City may accept title to the former Garden City school property owned by the Cullman County Board of Education and may hold the property for the benefit and use of the public, particularly the of Garden City. The governing body of the Town of Garden City may receive state, local, and other governmental funding and may accept charitable donations for the operation, management, and preservation of the former Garden City school property.

(2) The governing body of the Town of Garden City may not sell or transfer ownership of the property unless approved by majority vote of the governing body and then by a majority vote of the qualified electors in the Town of Garden City at a referendum called by the Judge of Probate of Cullman County and held during the following general election.
