'An absolute miracle'

Good Hope Assistant Fire Chief Jamie Garmon home recovering from H1N1 after monthslong hospital stay

GOOD HOPE, Ala. – This year, a lengthy and harrowing hospital stay had the Good Hope community rallying to support its volunteer fire department and the family of Assistant Chief Jamie Garmon. He finally got to come home in this month, "an absolute miracle," according to his wife Casidy Garmon, who said he still has a lengthy recovery ahead of him. The Tribune spoke with her to get an update on her husband's condition, as well as to learn how this ordeal has affected them and how people can continue to help.

Garmon described the hospitalization, which began in January, as "living in a nightmare." She said Jamie Garmon was septic with H1N1 (commonly known as the Swine Flu), and he spent time on a ventilator.

"The virus attacked all the muscles in his body, then all his organs shut down," she said. "We were told by three different doctors to be prepared in case he didn't pull through."

Ultimately, he recovered enough to be taken off the ventilator in early February, and though he's home now, he is still unable to walk. Garmon said he continues to get stronger every day.

"This ordeal has torn our world upside down, but we're getting stronger," she said. "It's been very difficult, especially on our kids. You know, Jamie grew up without a father, and we didn't want the same to happen to the kids, but he pulled through and we're all recovering."

She said the ordeal brought the fire department family closer to them as well.

"Jamie's been with the fire department for 30 years," she said. "The folks there are like brothers and sisters, and they're another part of our family. This has affected each and every one of them, and we've been supporting each other as best we can."

When asked if there is anything the community can do to help the family through her husband's continued recovery, Garmon simply said to keep praying. She also took the time to thank the community and local churches for all the help they have already given.

"They prayed for us, they donated money. I didn't have to worry about anything like that," she said. She said it felt strange to be on the receiving end of such kindness and generosity when she is used to giving it, but she said she and her family couldn't have made it through everything without everyone's kindness and support.

Citizens Bank & Trust reaches $211K total raised for NE Alabama FCA at annual charity golf tournament

Cullman Tribune Staff
Contributor

GUNTERSVILLE, Ala. – Citizens Bank & Trust hosted its sixth annual Citizens Charity Classic Golf Tournament Monday, July 13, 2020. Held at Gunter's Landing Golf Club, the tournament benefits Northeast Alabama Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA), its beneficiary since the tournament's inception. This year's proceeds amounted to $36,500 for FCA, bringing the total donated over the last six years to $211,500.

"We're thrilled with the success of this year's tournament, especially under current circumstances, and with the opportunity to get out as an institution and support this worthy cause," said Citizens Bank & Trust President/CEO Charlie Williams. "With COVID-19 forcing us to postpone our event, like so many others, we didn't know what to expect. What we did know was that golf was still being played since it's an outdoor activity, FCA still needed our help, perhaps now more than ever, and we were willing to find a way to make it happen. While we aren't surprised that our tournament gathered immense community support because we live in a great community, we are humbled that so many continued their support of our tournament and of FCA given the environment we're all working through. It was another fun year and we are truly honored to have the opportunity to help this organization and their mission in a small way."

CITIZENS BANK & TRUST

The tournament was full, with 51 four-man teams participating over two flights. Golfers were able to choose either a morning or afternoon tee time and enjoyed fellowship with other participants throughout the day. Prize money was awarded to first-, second- and third-place winners in two flights in both the morning and afternoon tee times. Golfers also had the opportunity to win door prizes including a FireDisc Outdoor Grill with accessories, the grand prize.

"This year presented a few new challenges but we were ready to overcome and make it happen," said Kasey Culbert, tournament manager and marketing officer at Citizens Bank & Trust. "We took precautions to protect everyone while also ensuring a good day on the course was had by all. At the end of the day, it's about doing the right thing and the right thing to do was to forge ahead while keeping everyone safe and providing support for Northeast Alabama FCA; it's that simple. We cannot thank our sponsors enough for their continued support in our 2020 charity tournament. It was truly a great day and just the jolt of fellowship I think we all needed."

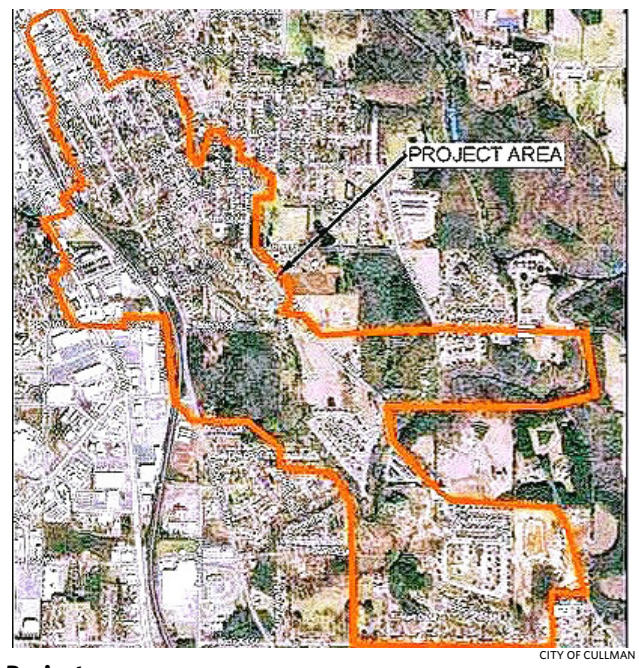

Inspection (from Front)

City of Cullman
Contributor

CULLMAN, Ala. – Beginning Aug. 3, 2020, the City of Cullman's contractor, Video Industrial Services, will be cleaning and providing video inspection of the sanitary sewer collection system in the southeast area of Cullman. This work should not disrupt sewer service; however, it will involve access to utility easements crossing private property. The contractor's representatives will attempt to notify property owners prior to easement access.

During cleaning operations, excess air pressure or vacuum will dissipate through service connection plumbing. If plumbing vents are inadequate, customers may notice splashing of water from fixtures. In the event of vacuum pressure, water in fixture traps may be drawn out, resulting in unpleasant odors. To guard against these issues, ensure toilet lids are closed. Run water into each drain to refill fixture traps if odors are noticed.

Please share this information with anyone who may be affected within the project area. Thank you for your cooperation during this work to improve our city's infrastructure.

ABC Board: Starting Aug. 1, no alcohol service after 11 p.m.

Cullman Tribune Staff
Contributor

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – The Alabama Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC) Board on Monday approved an emergency order that limits the hours of operations for restaurants, bars and other entities that sell alcohol. The emergency rule is effective immediately, but will not be enforced until Saturday, Aug. 1, 2020. Beginning at 11 p.m. Saturday, all ABC licensees are required to cease the service and/or sale of alcoholic beverages for on-premises consumption between the hours of 11 p.m. and 6 a.m. with on-premise consumption to end at 11:30 p.m.

Daily COVID-19 cases in the state continue to climb, with almost 3,000 new cases reported this past weekend.

"The primary mission of the Alabama ABC Board is to protect the health, safety and welfare of our citizens and we take this mission very seriously," said ABC Board Chairperson Col. Alan Spencer. "We are very sensitive to the economic impact this rule will have. This is a gut-wrenching decision we are making today, but it is also gut-wrenching to see the number of Alabamians who are suffering from this disease. On balance, I am compelled to vote in favor of the rule. This will be a very short duration and will relieve this restriction as soon as possible."

Many states, citing rising COVID-19 cases, already have closed bars or imposed other limits, such as banning on-premises drinking, at businesses that sell alcohol. By adopting this emergency rule, the ABC Board is ensuring customers and businesses the ability to continue operating in a semi-normal fashion by reducing the hours of on-premises alcohol service.

It is widely believed that alcohol consumption reduces inhibitions. After consuming alcoholic beverages individuals are less likely to follow Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Guidelines, including the wearing of masks and social distancing, potentially increasing the transmission of COVID-19.

"Our hope is that reduced hours of alcohol service will decrease social gatherings and the transmission of COVID-19," said ABC Board Administrator Mac Gipson. "Our number one goal is to protect the public and our license holders. We believe this emergency order will reduce the exposure to and spread of COVID-19."

Planet Fitness to require face masks in all locations effective Aug. 1

Cullman Tribune Staff
Contributor

HAMPTON, N.H. – Planet Fitness, Inc. on Monday announced that members and guests will be required to wear a mask at all times while inside all open stores, beginning Aug. 1. Currently, all Planet Fitness employees are required to wear masks.

"As we continue to face the COVID-19 pandemic, amid an ongoing global health crisis, wellness has never been as essential to our collective community as it is today," said Chris Rondeau, chief executive officer at Planet Fitness. "Gyms are part of the solution and a key element of the healthcare delivery system, providing much needed access for people to exercise and stay healthy. Given our leadership position within the industry, we believe it's our responsibility to further protect our members, employees, and communities so that we can all safely focus on our health, which is more important now than ever before."

According to the International Health, Racquet & Sportsclub Association (IHRSA), safety and sanitization policies implemented at gyms that have been allowed to reopen have been extremely effective.

In addition to the updated mask requirement, Planet Fitness has already taken several additional steps to strengthen its existing cleanliness policies and procedures to help keep members, guests and employees safe.

These include enhanced cleanliness and sanitization policies and procedures, extensive training for employees, physical distancing measures in its spacious and well-ventilated stores, and reducing physical touch points with touchless check-in. Earlier this month, the company also launched a Crowd Meter feature on its free mobile app to allow members to check club capacity before coming into the gym.

"I believe that as people return to their daily activities, they need to be able to safely access gyms and fitness centers with confidence, and reestablish their norms and routines," said Dr. Ian Norton, Health Emergency response expert, founder of Respond Global and former head of Emergency Medical Team response with World Health Organization.

"While COVID-19 is a serious public health issue, so too is the epidemic of obesity and chronic disease killing 1.7 million Americans every year.

"Fitness contributes to lowering rates of non-communicable disease related to sedentary lifestyles and obesity, and improves mental health, physical health and overall well-being."

Planet Fitness also offers free live "Home Work-Ins" which are part of Planet Fitness' "United We Move" campaign, designed to motivate and inspire everyone to stay physically and mentally fit. Featuring Planet Fitness certified trainers and celebrity guests, each workout is streamed Monday-Friday at 7 p.m. ET and is available both on Facebook and the Planet Fitness YouTube channel once the broadcast is over. Each virtual class is 20 minutes or less and doesn't require any equipment. Planet Fitness also offers exclusive fitness content and more than 500 exercises on its free mobile app.

Auburn lands 2 on Maxwell Award Watch List

Greg Ostendorf
AU Athletics

AUBURN, Ala. – Bo Nix and Seth Williams connected on 59 passes and eight touchdowns last year. On Friday, the Auburn QB-WR tandem was selected to the watch list for the 84th Maxwell Award, which is presented annually to the most outstanding player in college football.

The most iconic of those connections came in the season opener when Nix, making his Auburn debut, found Williams for a 26-yard touchdown pass with nine seconds left to lift Auburn past Oregon, 27-21.

By starting that game, Nix became the first true freshman quarterback to start a season opener for the Tigers since 1946. He went on to set the Auburn freshman record for passing yards (2,542), pass completions (217) and touchdown passes (16) in a season. He also added 313 yards rushing with seven touchdowns and was named the SEC Freshman of the year. Last week, he made the Davey O'Brien Award Watch List for the 2020 season.

Williams, a sophomore last year, led Auburn in receptions (59), receiving yards (830) and receiving touchdowns (8) despite playing in 12 of 13 games.

He's started 21 games over his first two seasons on the Plains and ranks 17th in program history with 1,364 career receiving yards and 19th with 85 career receptions.

Like Nix, this is the second watch list for Williams in 2020. The junior made the Biletkinoff Award Watch List last week as one of the country's top wide receivers.

The Maxwell Award has been presented to the College Player of the Year since 1937 and is named in honor of Robert "Tiny" Maxwell, a former standout at the Swarthmore College and a renowned sports writer and football official.

Auburn is one of 21 schools to boast two candidates on this year's watch list, which includes a total of 90 players.

Last year, Auburn defensive lineman Derrick Brown was named a semifinalist for the Maxwell Award, one of two defensive players to make the list. In 2010, quarterback Cam Newton became the first and only player in program history to win the award.

Semifinalists for the 2020 Maxwell Award will be announced Nov. 3 while the three finalists will be unveiled Nov. 23.

The winner of the 2020 Maxwell Award will be announced as part of the ESPN Home Depot College Football Awards Show held on Dec. 10. The formal presentations of these awards will be made at the Maxwell Football Club Awards Gala hosted by Tropicana Hotel & Casino Atlantic City on March 12, 2021.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. – Senior wide receiver Myron Mitchell has been named to the Paul Hornung Award Preseason Watch List, annually presented to the most versatile player in college football by the Louisville Sports Commission.

Mitchell is one of 50 players nationwide named to the preseason watch list, and only one of four from Conference USA (Jaylond Adams – Southern Miss, Xavier Gaines – Marshall, Austin Trammell – Rice).

Not only is Mitchell a standout receiver for the Blazers, but he is also dynamic in the return game. Last year, Mitchell finished second on the team in all-purpose yards with 1,005. He compiled 554 yards receiving on 34 catches, and also added 403 kickoff return yards, 44 punt return yards and four rushing yards.

Along with numerous diving catches Mitchell made throughout the year, one of his most explosive plays came in the season opener when he took a first quarter kickoff 98 yards to the house in a 24-19 victory over Alabama State.

It was UAB's first kickoff return for a touchdown since 2014.

Mitchell is also a part of UAB's lethal 1-2 receiving combination alongside Austin Watkins Jr. These two combined for 91 catches, 1,646 receiving yards and 11 total touchdowns in 2019.

The Paul Hornung Award presented by Texas Roadhouse is in its 11th season. The winner and his family will be honored at the annual Paul Hornung Award dinner at the Galt House Hotel in downtown Louisville in March of 2021.

UAB ATHLETICS

UAB wide out Myron Mitchell was named to the Paul Hornung Award Watch List earlier this week.

Summertime snake sightings

JOHN TAYLOR

Rough Green Snake

CULLMAN, Ala. – Reports of snake sightings are on the rise, but that doesn't necessarily mean the snake population has increased from previous years. The Tribune spoke to naturalist and wildlife biologist Marianne Hudson, conservation outreach specialist with the Alabama Wildlife and Freshwater Division of the Alabama Department of Conservation and Natural Resources to find out why more snakes are being reported.

Hudson explained, "In the spring and summer months are when cold blooded animals like snakes are most active. You do have the potential to see snakes at any time, any month of the year in Alabama. However, they are more active in the spring and summer months."

She gave several reasons for the increased activity right now.

- Body temperature dependent on air temperature so more active when warm
- Abundance of prey available (baby birds, eggs, young rats and mice)
- Searching for mates
- Searching for places to lay eggs

Hudson added, "Combine that with the fact that people are in quarantine and tend to be doing more outdoor activities, they are going to see more snakes. That doesn't mean there are more snakes. It just so happens that we may encounter them more because we are outside enjoying activities in the same place they are."

Social media can also give the illusion of more snake sightings.

"I do think we are more connected to other people than we ever have been before," said Hudson.

"We hear a lot more about snakes because we are interacting with more people because of social media."

According to Hudson, the majority of snake bites occur when people are trying to move or kill a snake.

She said, Snakes don't actively seek out to bite people. They bite out of fear when they are cornered. The best way to avoid conflict with snakes is to make sure you aren't purposely trying to move towards them, you aren't trying to kill them and you aren't trying to catch them. You can just move away from them and keep in mind that, as long as you leave it alone, there are no dangerous snakes. So, no snake is dangerous so long as you leave it alone."

Snakes are actually very beneficial to people.

Hudson said, "Snakes are excellent rodent control. They eat the mice and rats that cause a lot of problems for people.

"A lot of the pest species that we encounter are more likely to reproduce if there aren't snakes there to control their numbers."

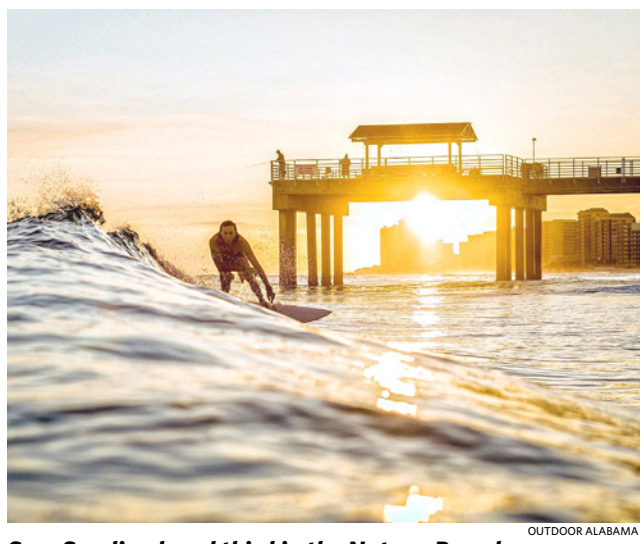

Hudson also asks people to take simple steps to discourage snakes from being on their property by eliminating piles of brush or piles of junk or places snakes like to hide.

"Avoid coming into contact with them and try to eliminate the places where they hide," she stressed.

OPINION

Leadership, part 2

Tom Fillinger
Tribune Columnist

We recently completed a study of the 12 characteristics of a Healthy Church. I shared with you the importance of effective leadership in facilitating organizational change and living to tell the story on the other end of that process. Many pastors attempt to lead the change process and they end up dying on that hill. That does not have to be the case.

This series is focused on the characteristics of effective leaders. I call my readers to the importance of "doing" and acting on what you read. As you read these messages you need to humble yourself; knowledge without action is sin. Jesus declared that those who know to do right and fail to do so, to them it is sin. As you read the articles in this series you must ask yourself, "Are the leaders in our church effective?" The test of that effectiveness is "Are we making disciples fully formed in the image of Christ in character and conduct?"

James 4:10 Humble yourselves before the Lord, and he will exalt you.

Then, you need to become God's Change Agent where you worship. Be gracious but refuse to compromise and permit status quo to continue. Unless strategic and effective modification is made to ministry the doors will close. That is not a scare tactic. It is a well-established fact. It is happening daily with an alarming and increasing frequency in the American church and right here in Cullman, AL.

Here is a suggested approach to leading change in the church where you worship.

1. Intercessory prayer. Ask God to prepare you for this endeavor. Ask him to give you a pure heart.

2. Develop a clear and effective plan. Know what it is that you want to see take place.

3. Go to the pastor and make clear to him that your motive is to support him and his leadership.

4. Adopt a reasonable timeline – not too aggressive and not to lethargic.

5. Expect resistance and expect to be labeled a "troublemaker." DO NOT become defensive.

6. Share the consequences that failure to change will bring – continued decline and ultimate closure.

7. Complete a comprehensive and factual assessment of the true condition of ministry at this time. Not 20 years ago. Not what you wish it would be. But what it is right now.

Assessment is the process of intentional, systematic, objective and repeated evaluation of the current reality of an organization. A key measurement component in this process is examining accomplishment as compared to purpose.

How effective is the organization in fulfilling the purpose for which it exists? Does it know and does it strategically pursue the purpose for which it exists?

Our ministry has a record of proven effectiveness in developing and equipping leaders for the church.

CULLMAN, Ala. – Cullman County Schools Superintendent Dr. Shane Barnette on Monday announced that students choosing traditional instruction this school year will only be on campus four days per week: Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. On Wednesdays, those students will attend school online.

"Our traditional kids will be coming face-to-face Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday," said Barnette. "They will be doing an online assignment on Wednesday, which gives them a little bit of opportunity to see what the digital platform is like, in case we have to go into a remote setting. But it also gives all of our virtual students an opportunity to correspond with our teachers on Wednesday."

Campuses throughout the system will be deep cleaned Wednesdays.

"It gives us an opportunity where we can clean, thoroughly," Barnette said.

He said almost 12% of the system's students are signed up to attend school virtually this fall.

"We're putting a lot of plans in place, and we're supposed to be getting even more guidance from the state health department about how we quarantine and how we handle positive cases in the schools," he said. "They're supposed to come out with that before school starts back, and we'll follow all of their recommendations, of course. We're going to do everything we can to make sure everybody stays safe."

Barnette continued, "We're going to do the best that we can to come back as much as we can face-to-face."

Tools (from Front)

W.C. Mann
craig@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – United Way of Cullman County (UWCC) announced Monday the launch of a new program to support elementary schools and students with Cullman County Schools. "School Tools" will provide a box containing $30 worth of school supplies to each of the Cullman County school system's 4,200 Kindergarten through fifth-grade students.

The new initiative is called SCHOOL TOOLS-Helping Cullman County Students Start School Ready to Learn.

"This project was developed to reduce the financial stress for families impacted by COVID-19," said Becky Goff, executive director, UWCC. "Thanks to the support of each of our partners, every K-fifth-grade student in the Cullman County Schools will receive a box of School Tools." Each box, with a retail value of $30, will contain: 10-pack of pencils, four Elmer's Glue Sticks, two packs of Crayola Crayons, Fiskars scissors, two packs of wide-ruled notebook paper, Crayola colored pencils, multi-pack of four Expo markers and a pencil pouch.

"United Way of Cullman County has a vision for our community where there are opportunities for every child to succeed in school." Goff said. "Our school year might look different this year, but the need to support our families and ensure our students have the tools they need is even greater. We know that being prepared also keeps children motivated and excited."

According to UWCC, "The support of this project is due largely in part to community business leaders who stand with us and believe that every child should have the tools they need to succeed.

"This was no easy task, but thanks to the volunteers at United Way, we are hard at work assembling and getting boxes ready to deliver to 10 schools. That is 4,200 boxes and almost 60,000 school supplies with a total resource impact of $127,000 for Cullman County outside of the countless hours of staff and volunteer time."

Sponsors include: Premier Bank of the South, Birmingham Fastener, Merchants Bank of Alabama, HomTex, Walmart DC #6006, WestRock, AGCO, HH Technologies, Alfa Insurance Agent Talisa Shikle, Brandin Iron Steakhouse, Bill Smith Buick GMC, Peoples Bank of Alabama, Cullman Electric, RE Garrison, Freedom Insurance Agency, Tyson Foods, Berry, Berry, Little and Chaney, The UPS Store, Holly Pond Animal Clinic, Publix, Payroll Services, Walker Brothers, Stewart Auto Supply and Holly Pond Tire and Lube. "United Way's third annual Stuff the Bus event wrapped up Friday, July 27, and exceeded our previous years' efforts," Goff said.

"Those supplies donated by community members are being delivered to both Cullman County and Cullman City School administration this week and will benefit all kids K-12th grade."

UWCC is looking for volunteers to help pack the boxes over the next two weeks. If you can spare a little time, contact UWCC at 256-739-2948 or visit www.facebook.com/uwaycc.org/ to send a message.

GOOD HOPE, Ala. – A Louisiana man wanted for sexual abuse of a child younger than 10 took his own life at the Econo Lodge in Good Hope Friday night.

Cullman County Coroner Jeremy L. Kilpatrick identified the man as Brian James Ruth, 33, of Slidell, Louisiana.

He said Ruth died of a self-inflicted gunshot wound.

Shortly after 3 p.m. Friday, the Blount County Sheriff's Office issued an alert, saying: "Please be on the look out for a silver Toyota Camry displaying a Louisiana license plate 106CKG.

"The driver, Brian Ruth, is wanted in Louisiana and has a warrant with Tammany Parish for sexual misconduct.

"Brian is a 33 year old white male.

"If seen please call 911 immediately. Do not approach him or attempt to restrain him.

"At this time we do not know if he has any weapons so we must assume he is armed and possibly dangerous and on the run from Louisiana law enforcement.

"The subject is believed to be in the Blount County area. His victim is a 10 year old."
