Naturally Alabama: Danger follows the buzz of summer

Andrew Baril
Contributor

Every summer here in Alabama, there is an eerie buzz in the woods. Those living close to water are used to the regular serenade of croaking frogs. Their croaking usually begins just before sundown and continues until its crescendo around the crowing of the early-morning, 3 a.m. rooster. This croaking, however, is not the buzz I am hearing. The eerie buzz occurs in both hardwood and pine forests. It sounds off in both the city and the country. It happens close to water and in the driest ecosystems. The buzz I am thinking about is the mating call of the periodical and annual cicadas.

Periodical cicadas are broken into two groups based on their 17- or 13-year periodic appear- » PAGE 5

• Beginning Aug. 3, 2020, the City of Cullman's contractor, Video Industrial Services, will be cleaning and providing video inspection of the sanitary sewer collection system in the southeast area of Cullman. This work should not disrupt sewer service; however, it will involve access to utility easements crossing private property. The contractor's representatives will attempt to notify property owners prior to easement access.

• During cleaning operations, excess air pressure or vacuum will dissipate through service connection plumbing. If plumbing vents are inadequate, customers may notice splashing of water from fixtures. In the event of vacuum pressure, water in fixture traps may be drawn out, resulting in unpleasant odors. To guard against these issues, ensure toilet lids are closed. Run water into each drain to refill fixture traps if odors are noticed.

Cullman council: Recycling service to resume soon, City finances better than expected despite shutdown

craig@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Cullman City Council on Monday evening passed a resolution to purchase a heavy truck and trailer from Weil Wrecker Service that will allow the City to resume recycling service in the near future. Councilman Johnny Cook told the audience the City would have had to haul recyclables to Birmingham in small trucks, and could not do so in an economical manner. The purchase of the large truck will allow the transport of larger loads and make the program more economically feasible.

According to Cook, the larger truck and trailer will be able to load up and make a trip every six days.

The councilman said the City hopes to relaunch its recycling program in about two weeks, and may even be able to expand the list of recyclable items that can be picked up.

Third-quarter financial outlook better than expected

Council President Jenny Folsom said Cullman's third-quarter financial statement showed a situation better than the council had anticipated in light of the COVID-19 shutdown and financial downturn.

The City's revenues are actually up more than 2% from this time last year, and expenses are down slightly.

2020 year-to-date revenues: $28,420,576

- $588,324 over 2019 YTD revenues of $27,832,252 (2.11% increase)

2020 year-to-date expenses: $27,683,577

- $184,927 below 2019 YTD expenses of $27,868,504 (0.66% decrease)

Sales tax accounted for the largest dollar increase in revenues, while liquor tax accounted for the largest percentage increase.

City income from business licenses, property taxes and beer/wine taxes also increased.

Revenues from sanitation fees, buildings permits and tobacco taxes fell.

Folsom also noted that, while unemployment in Cullman increased to 5.4% during the shutdown, that number is still the second lowest in the state, and below the state and national averages.

Upcoming social events put on hold

The council approved two upcoming social events, a Jack Aces Motorcycle Club fundraiser at the Festhalle and Depot Park for the Cullman Police Department's "Shop with a Cop" Christmas program and a Daystar Church public worship event at Heritage Park, due to COVID-19 concerns on the part of the police and fire departments.

The events were approved, but postponed until such time as the coronavirus situation improves.

Asked about the decision to postpone these events after allowing the recent Love Train Unity concert to take place at Depot Park, Police Chief Kenny Culpepper and Fire Chief Brian Bradberry explained to The Tribune that the Love Train event had already been approved and scheduled before recent concerns led to the decision to curtail such events temporarily.

Friends of the Public Libraries of Cullman County recognized

Councilman David Moss took a moment to recognize the Friends of the Public Libraries of Cullman County for the group's recent reception of the Alabama Library Association's Merit Award, given, according to the association, "to an organization, group, or body of persons, which has made a significant contribution toward the development of library service within Alabama."

Other council business

The council approved

- Resolutions to issue Certifications of Election for Council President Jenny Folsom and Cullman City School Board members Joey Orr and Amy Carter, as the three are unopposed and do not need to appear on August's municipal election ballot

- The vacation and surplus of an alley off Eighth Street Northwest, and gave a first reading to an ordinance to vacate and surplus property at the intersection of Second Street Southeast and Fourth Avenue Southeast

- The reappointment of Michael Sullins to the CATS-55 Board

- An amendment to the City's Position Control Detail to create new positions for a Traffic Technician and Equipment Operator

The Cullman City Council meets at 7 p.m. the second and fourth Mondays of each month in the Cullman City Hall auditorium. The public is invited to attend, subject to COVID-19 occupancy restrictions.

AGCOR Steel announces $2.3M expansion in Good Hope, adding more jobs

christy@cullmantribune.com

GOOD HOPE, Ala. – AGCOR Steel will soon begin a $2.3 million expansion at its new facility along Industrial Park Road in the city of Good Hope that will bring additional skilled jobs to the area. The company's president, Zac Smith, spoke at the Good Hope City Council meeting Monday night prior to the council approving an abatement for the project.

"AGCOR moved into Good Hope last July. We've had rapid expansion. We had about 15-17 employees at that time. We are now up to 54 employees and we are looking to do a $2 million expansion adding another 15-17 employees, maybe even up to 20 employees over the next two years," said Smith. "In doing that, we are asking the City of Good Hope to grant us a tax abatement on new equipment so we can make the proper purchases that we need."

Smith also thanked the City and the community for the support the company has received since moving to Good Hope last year.

AGCOR's total investment for the expansion is $2.3 million, and although it does include more square footage, the majority will be for new machinery and equipment. The approved tax abatement will extend over the next 10 years but does not include educational and property taxes.

Councilwoman Susan Eller explained, "This is not us giving him something. This is something that is a future payment, so this will not come out of anybody's pocket."

Rep. Corey Harbison, R-Good Hope added, "Education and property tax cannot be abated, so anything that he does to that property will be more money that pours into the coffers of the county school system, and that's a good thing."

The estimated amount of the City of Good Hope's abatement over the 10-year period is approximately $25,000.

As for a time frame, Smith said, "We will actually start this expansion this month. The buildings probably won't get started until next year, but all the new equipment will be purchased this year."

In other business, the council passed resolutions certifying that Mayor Jerry Bartlett, Councilman Place 1 Terry Shabel, Councilwoman Place 3 Susan Eller, Councilman Place 4 Greg Brown and Councilman Place 5 Taft Dillashaw were all elected without opposition since no one qualified to run against them in the Aug. 25, 2020 Municipal Election. The only race on the ballot in Good Hope will be for Place 2. Incumbent Maxie Jones will face challenger Eric Phillips.

The annual Good Hope Back-to-School Bash is set for Thursday, Aug. 6. This year's will be a drive-thru style event.

The council will grill hamburgers and hotdogs for to-go meals with chips, drinks and desserts. The first 200 students will receive T-shirts but must be present to receive them.

The City will also be giving kids Good Hope Raider face masks to wear. The event will be at Good Hope City Hall from 6 p.m. until supplies run out.

Volunteers will also be on hand to help people complete the 2020 Census. Good Hope is close to surpassing its response percentage from 2010 and the City hopes those who need help will come by and be counted.

Commission (from Front)

christy@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – Concerns over a fence at the intersection of County Road 1422 and County Road 1486 were discussed at Tuesday's Cullman County Commission work session prior to the commission meeting. Several motorists have complained that the fence obstructs the view of those attempting to turn onto 1422 from 1486.

Cullman County Attorney Emily Johnston addressed the commission, saying, "A resident has constructed a fence that really serves no purpose. It's really more for decoration, but it is a vision obstruction."

Johnston and Cullman County Engineer Bryan Cheatwood have written and visited the residents who own the fence, but no compromise has been reached.

"The greatest concern is people on 1422 hitting someone pulling out from 1486," Cheatwood said.

Johnston added, "It's a liability on the County. We have to keep the roadway safe. We have done everything we know to do to try and make it right."

Asking a judge to declare where the easement is at the intersection was one consideration.

Cheatwood informed the commission that the residents mentioned moving in the coming weeks. Rather than involving a judge at this time, the commission agreed to reach out to the resident of the home again to determine if they own or rent the property.

"The last thing we ever want to do is to bring any kind of action out in the county. We are concerned from a liability standpoint that someone could really get hurt," said Johnston.

The commission gave approval to Cullman County Parks and Recreation to move forward with plans for this year's Sweet Tater Festival. Vendors will be spaced apart to comply with social distancing orders and increased signage and other indicators will be placed throughout Smith Lake Park for guests to follow. The event is scheduled for Sept. 6-7.

Commission Chairman Kenneth Walker asked for the commission's thoughts after receiving word that the Cullman Lions Club plans to go forward with the Cullman County Fair this fall.

Commissioner Gary Marchman said, "As far as I am concerned, we have to go by the guidelines that the State puts out.

"If they put out that you still have to have masks and social distancing, that doesn't mean we can't have events. We just gotta make those events up to their policies."

Cullman County Emergency Agency (EMA) Director Phyllis Little updated the commission on the latest COVID-19 numbers for Cullman County. She reported, "Our COVID-19 cases, as of today (prior to the 10 a.m. daily update Tuesday morning), stand at 985 total in the county. We added 39 since yesterday. We have nine deaths. Our seven-day average is down some."

Little encouraged everyone to wear a mask when out.

The County has filed two Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act (CARES Act) claims- one for hazard pay and one for supplies and equipment.

In other business, the commission approved the following items:

- Resolution 2020-33 changing the speed limit on County Road 1684 from 35 mph to 20 mph

Chandler Wooten named to Wuerffel Trophy Watch List

Greg Ostendorf
AU Athletics

AUBURN, Ala. – Senior linebacker Chandler Wooten has become a force on the field for Auburn, but it's the impact Wooten has made off the field that landed him on the watch list for the 2020 Wuerffel Trophy on Thursday.

The Wuerffel Trophy, known as "College Football's Premier Award for Community Service" exists to honor college football players who serve others, celebrate their positive impact on society and inspire greater service in the world. It's named after 1996 Heisman Trophy winning quarterback Danny Wuerffel.

"It is so inspiring to see this record number of athletes being submitted for the award," Wuerffel said of the 114 nominees. "These young men truly represent college football's most impactful community service leaders. We are proud to honor them."

Wooten, who graduated with a bachelor's degree from the College of Liberal Arts last December and is currently working toward a second bachelor's degree, has been an active voice in the Auburn community in recent months when it comes to race and social injustice. Earlier this month, he was selected as a member of the Auburn Athletics task force on inclusion and race relations.

Last summer, Wooten received the Hard-Fighting Soldier Award from Auburn's Fellowship of Christian Athletes chapter for his FCA leadership and perseverance amid aversity.

Nominations for the Wuerffel Trophy are made by the respective universities' Sports Information Departments and will close on Oct. 15. Semifinalists for the award will be announced on Nov. 3, and finalists will be announced on Nov. 23. The formal announcement of the 2020 recipient will be made at the National Football Foundation's festivities in New York City on Dec. 8.

Troy's B.J. Smith named to Maxwell Award Watch List

Adam Prendergast
Troy Athletics

TROY, Ala. – Despite playing in just one full game last season due to injury, Troy senior running back B.J. Smith has been named to the watch list for the 84th annual Maxwell Award, the Maxwell Football Club announced Friday. The award is presented annually to the most outstanding player in college football.

Smith, the 2019 Sun Belt Preseason Offensive Player of the Year, missed the bulk of last season due to a knee injury sustained in the first quarter of Troy's second game. In his lone full game, Smith rushed for 108 yards and a touchdown on just 10 carries.

In 2018, Smith rushed for 1,186 yards which ranked second, by one yard, for the entire season; he was the league's leading rusher during the regular season.

Smith's 13 rushing touchdowns were the sixth most in a season in Troy history and were the most among running backs in the league.

Smith, who was also named to the Doak Walker Award Watch List, set a school record after rushing for more than 100 yards in five straight games as he averaged 141.3 yards per game during the month of October; the fifth most in the country.

Smith finished the season averaging 91.23 yards per game, which ranked him 34th nationally in the category.

He posted a season-high 170 yards on just 22 carries in Troy's victory at South Alabama in the "Battle for the Belt" and scored twice in Troy's win at Nebraska.

The Maxwell Award has been presented to the College Player of the Year since 1937 and is named in honor of Robert "Tiny" Maxwell, a former standout at the Swarthmore College and a renowned sportswriter and football official.

Season tickets for the 2020 season are on sale now and fans who purchase or renew their tickets during the months of June and July will be eligible for Troy's "Summer of Prizes" giveaways.

Season ticket packages start as low as $60 for general admission seating and $100 for reserved seats for Troy's six home games at The Vet.

Tickets can be purchased or renewed by calling 877-878-WINS (9467) or by visiting TroyTrojans.com/tickets.

Auburn Baseball adds trio to 2021 roster

George Nunnelley
AU Athletics

AUBURN, Ala. – Auburn baseball and head coach Butch Thompson announced the addition of three players to the 2021 roster, including incoming freshmen Joseph Gonzalez and Peyton Sybrandt as well as sophomore transfer Josh Hall.

The Tigers 2020 signing class, which was ranked by Baseball America as the No. 19 class in the country earlier this spring, now includes 12 newcomers who will make their way to The Plains this summer.

Gonzalez is a right-handed pitcher from Humacao, Puerto Rico. He is rated by Perfect Game as a top-500 prospect and the No. 12 player in his country, including the No. 4 right-hander. Gonzalez was a member of the National roster in the 2019 Under Armour All-America Game played a Wrigley Field and pitched a scoreless inning of relief with a strikeout.

He was named a 2019 Perfect Game Preseason Honorable Mention All-American and a 2020 Perfect Game Preseason First Team All-Region. Sybrandt is a catcher and first baseman from Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Another top-500 recruit according to Perfect Game, he is also rated as the No. 3 catcher in his state. A product of Episcopal High School, Sybrandt was hitting .400 with two home runs and 12 RBI before COVID-19 halted his senior season after eight games. He also earned All-District and All-State honors as a junior.

Hall, an outfielder from Birmingham, Alabama, was a mid-year transfer last January after spending his freshman season at Ole Miss, where he appeared in 54 games and made nine starts.

A product of Homewood High School, Hall stole 224 bases in his four-year career with the Patriots and holds the national high school record for career stolen bases. He hit over .400 in all four years and was a three-time Collegiate Baseball High School All-American as well as the 2018 Alabama 6A Player of the Year.

FPLCC (from Front)

CULLMAN, Ala. – Councilman David Moss took a moment at Monday evening's Cullman City Council meeting to recognize the Friends of the Public Libraries of Cullman County (FPLCC) for the group's recent reception of the Alabama Library Association's Merit Award. The award is given annually, according to the association, "to an organization, group, or body of persons, which has made a significant contribution toward the development of library service within Alabama."

"It's an honor for us to be here. We celebrate our first year as Friends of the Library this past- well, in July; we're in the month of July," said FPLCC Secretary Renée Welsh. "We've had several wonderful opportunities to complete our mission for that first year. And our mission is fundraising and ensuring that the community has a great deal of awareness about the Cullman Public Library system: all of its branches and the bookmobile."

Celebrating Harry Potter's birthday

The Cullman County Library will have a magical evening this Friday, July 31, when the FPLCC hosts a "birthday parade" for Harry Potter, the title character from the blockbuster children's and teens' book series by J.K. Rowling. The parade will take place at the Cullman County Library, 200 Clark St. NE, immediately south of Cullman City Hall.

"Pack your wand, hop on your broomstick and join us at the Cullman Library. We are exploring the inspiration behind the magical world of Harry Potter, one of the world's most beloved characters," smiled Welsh. "Author J.K. Rowling, who set this whole universe in motion with the release of 'Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone' in 1997, also — if you can believe it — shares the same birthday as Harry himself. We have a bagful of magical goodies and ChaCha's Shaved Ice truck will be serving delicious treats!"

The event was originally planned to take place at Depot Park, but Welsh noted due to an accidental overbooking, the event has now been moved to the library, with the parade taking place on the sidewalk around the library.

Concerning COVID-19 and social distancing, she said, "The parade will maintain social distancing. Masks are encouraged. Hand sanitizer will be available."

Danger (from Front)

ances. Seventeen-year cicadas tend to live up north, while the 13-year cicada lives in the South. Most of the cicadas in Alabama belong to what scientists call "Brood XIX."

This brood last appeared in 2011, and should return in 2024. One thing I find interesting about these cicadas is that all of the adults come out of the ground around May 1, and they are gone by the beginning of June. Adults appear only to reproduce. At this time, the cicada crawls out of the soil up a tree or other structure, then it sheds it exoskeleton and emerges with wings. Once the wings are dry, the male cicada begins to sing to attract a female. After breeding, the female lays her eggs on a small branch of a hardwood tree. Adult cicadas die shortly after mating, but the eggs remain. In six weeks, nymphs hatch and fall to the ground, and begin their life in the soil.

Annual cicadas are what we typically call "dog-day" cicadas. There are several species of these insects, and they take two to five years to complete their life cycle. However, the annual cicadas overlap their cycles, so every summer we hear adult cicadas singing in Alabama. This all-male choir began their song a few weeks back and should continue through mid-September. They complete/begin their life cycles just like the periodical cicadas. Therefore, every summer we have cicadas, but some summers we have more.

In my title, I said there is a danger following the buzz of summer. Here is the danger: copperhead snakes. Any time God gives us a bounty, he expects us to either collect the harvest or he sends another collector - nothing is wasted. Salmon runs in Alaska attract brown bears.

Cicada runs in Alabama attract copperheads. I have not seen this yet this summer at my cabin in the Talladega woods, but my friends on the Bankhead have shared this on Facebook: "A picture of a copperhead sitting at the base of a white oak waiting for a newly emerging cicada to climb up their tree." It is a feast fit for a king. If you are lucky, and wearing a headlamp, you might even get to witness a king snake catching, killing and eating a copperhead. Nights in the forest can be exhilarating.

By morning, the snakes have all but retreated to the cool safety of their dens to sleep off their nightly meals. Be warned! As long as the buzz continues, the snakes will come out to feast each evening.

7 p.m. on WABM2
United We Fall

Desperate to pry daughter Emily (Ella Grace Helton) away from her iPad, at least temporarily, Jo and Bill (Christina Vidal Mitchell, Will Sasso) sign her up for Chuy's (Guillermo Diaz) soccer clinic in the new episode "Participation Trophy." Meanwhile, Sandy's (Jane Curtin) notoriously over-the-top gift-giving habit spins totally out of control. Jason Michael Snow also stars.

8 p.m. on WBRC
Ultimate Tag

"Dangerously Fast" is the title of the finale that wraps up Season 1 of this high-energy game show competition from the NFL superstar sibling trio of J.J., T.J. and Derek Watt. The final group of contestants assemble to see whether they have the right stuff to win this game, which demands that they dodge, tumble and dive their way through epic courses, while being pursued by a crew of very fit and fleet Taggers who seek to eliminate them.

8 p.m. on WTTO
Bulletproof

As this gritty British crime drama closes out Season 2, the members of the unit have exhausted all their procedural options for taking down Alex and Mikey Markides (Stavros Zalmas, Ben Tavassoli), so they go off the books in a last-ditch attempt. After a critical raid goes off the rails, however, their hopes quickly start to fade. Noel Clarke, Ashley Walters, Olivia Chenery, Jason Maza and Gina Bellman also star.

8 p.m. on BET
No Limit: Chronicles

This new five-part series chronicles the story of how Master P's iconic No Limit Records label rose from its humble beginnings in the trunk of the rapper and impresario's car to become one of the most lucrative dynasties in hip-hop history. In addition to Master P himself, the series includes contributions from Snoop Dogg, Romeo Miller, Silkk The Shocker, Mis X, Mystikal, Fiend and Mr. Serv-On. Another new episode immediately follows; subsequent episodes will air each Wednesday.

8 p.m. on HBO
The Weight of Gold

Olympic athletes are celebrated for the strength, skill and endurance they bring to their competitions, but this new documentary from director Brett Rapkin explores the mental health challenges these same champions face. Premiering at the same time when 17,000 world-class athletes were scheduled to be competing in the 2020 Summer Games in Tokyo, Japan, the film features candid commentary from swimmer Michael Phelps — the most decorated Olympic athlete of all time — along with such other high-profile Olympians as Bode Miller, Sasha Cohen and Shaun White, among many others.

9:03 p.m. on NGC
What the Shark?

This new documentary takes a deep dive, both literally and figuratively, into rarely observed shark behavior to understand how this apex ocean predator has been able to adapt to survive conditions at extreme depths of up to 8,000 feet. That far beneath the surface, sharks swim in an inky black void where the darkness would prevent most predators from being able to find their prey, let alone catch it. The pressure, too, would threaten to blow flesh to pieces.

Stavros Zalmas stars in "Bulletproof" on The CW.

Recycling (from Front)

W.C. Mann
craig@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Cullman City Council on Monday evening passed a resolution to purchase a heavy truck and trailer from Weil Wrecker Service that will allow the City to resume recycling pickup in the near future. Councilman Johnny Cook told the audience that, after the closure of the recycling facility in Decatur, the City would have had to haul recyclables to Birmingham in small trucks, and could not do so in an economical manner. The purchase of the large truck will allow the transport of larger loads and make the program once more economically feasible.

Said Cook, "What we're purchasing here is a truck and trailer, so they will kick the recycling program. As many of you know, when COVID-19 hit, they had to stop that, because they had nowhere to take it; in Decatur, they shut down.

"Well, to make it economically feasible, the next place to carry it was Birmingham. So, we were running a little recycling truck to Decatur; that was easy.

"But there's too much to run back and forth to Birmingham that much, so they bought this truck and this trailer that's a special trailer called a walking floor trailer.

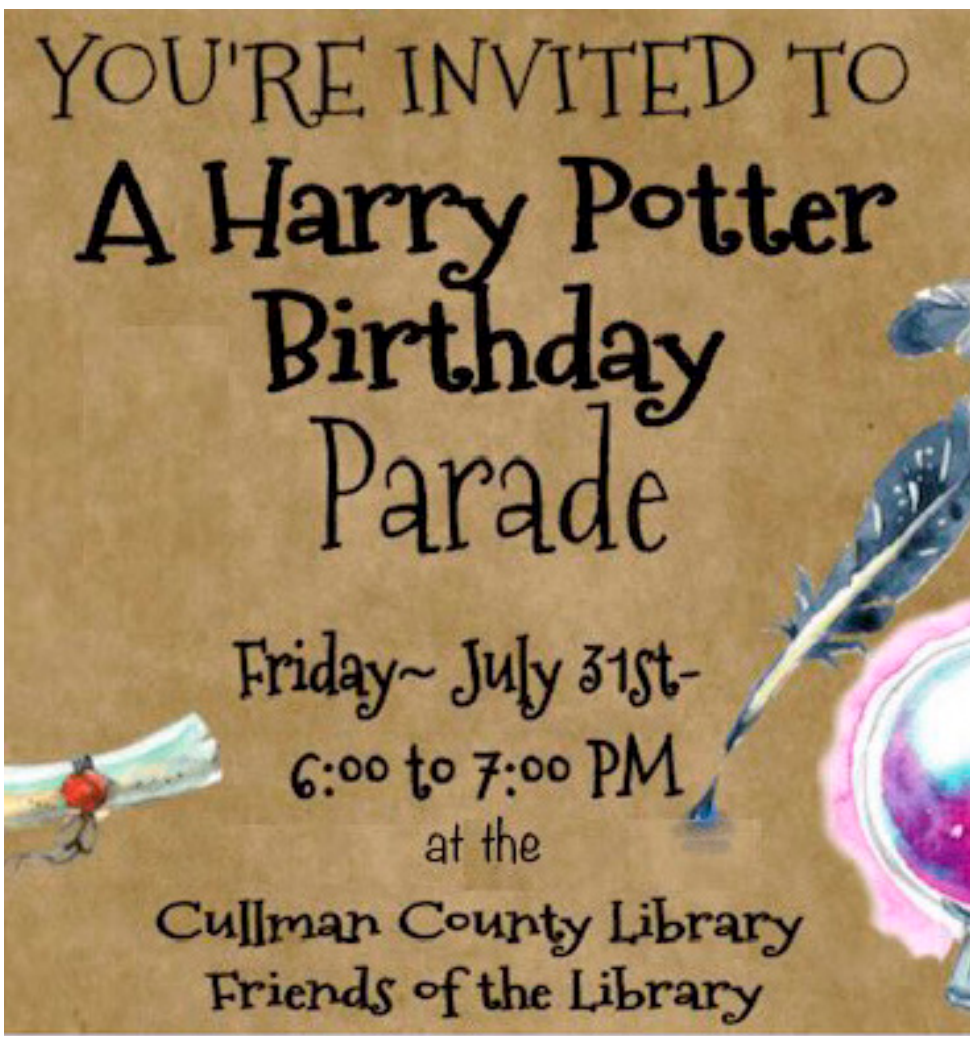

"We can load that, and, about every six days, carry a full trailer load down, which will be more economically feasible to (re)start the recycling program with."

A "walking floor" or "moving floor" trailer contains movable floor slats and hydraulic devices that make unloading the trailer simple for a single operator, and do not require the trailer to be tipped for unloading.

"It was kind of tough finding this trailer," said Cook.

"I think this was a- it's a real specialty trailer, and it takes a little while, but we got it."

Cook estimated that the City will be able to relaunch the recycling program in about two weeks, and may even be able, over time, to expand the list of recyclable items that can be picked up.
