ALDOT opens bids for Highway 157 4-lane project

NICK GRIFFIN/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

A 3.5-mile stretch of Alabama Highway 157 through Cullman, including the infamous "bridges to nowhere," is the only portion of the 90-mile road that does not already have four lanes.

W.C. Mann
craig@cullmantribune.com

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – The Alabama Department of Transportation (ALDOT) on July 31 opened bids for its project to widen Alabama Highway 157 through Cullman's north side to four lanes- from just east of U.S. Highway 31 to just past Cullman Regional. A 3.5-mile stretch of the road through Cullman is the only portion of the 90-mile highway that does not already have four lanes.

ALDOT labeled the project "BUILD-NHS 0157 (506)" and described it:

"For constructing the additional lanes (grading, drainage, pavement, ITS [Intelligent Transportation System], and traffic signals) on SR-157 from the junction of SR-69 to a point east of the junction of SR-3 (US-31) in Cullman. Length 4.245 mi."

The project was expected to cost between $14,601,211 and $17,845,925, part of a total cost of more than $28 million, offset by a federal grant awarded to the City of Cullman.

The bids opened by ALDOT included:

- Chilton Contractors (Clanton): $14,895,273.05
- Carcel & G Construction, LLC (Hanceville): $15,675,744.99
- Reed Contracting Services, Inc (Huntsville): $16,262,823.47
- Wiregrass Construction Company, Inc. (Dothan): $18,149,257.00

New devices for emergencies and speed control

The project includes base preparation, drainage and erosion control, paving and striping, and also includes specialized traffic signals to replace current signals at:

- Alabama Highway 69 intersection
- Hospital Drive (Cullman Regional) intersection
- Eva Road intersection
- Childhaven Road intersection

Additionally, a signal will be added at the Dahlke Drive intersection.

The new signals will include emergency » PAGE 3

9 arrested; 30 grams marijuana, 3 grams meth seized; children in home

Wendy Sack
wendy@cullmantribune.com

VINEMONT, Ala. – Nine people were arrested Monday by the Cullman County Sheriff's Office (CCSO) Community Response Team (CRT) for various drug-related crimes. The arrests followed a citizen complaint to CRT deputies who were working in the Vinemont area.

The CCSO said CRT deputies conducted a traffic stop along County Road 1332. It said the driver continued to a residence where several suspects attempted to flee. A CCSO narcotics K-9 was deployed and allegedly located approximately 30 grams of marijuana and 3 grams of methamphetamine inside and outside the residence.

Minor children were located in the home, and Cullman County Department of Human Resources (DHR) was contacted.

The following suspected were arrested:

• Christopher Joseph Moody, 51, of Cullman is charged with unlawful possession of a controlled substance, second-degree unlawful possession of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia.

• Kimberly Michelle Turney, 45, of Cullman is charged with unlawful possession of a controlled substance, second-degree unlawful possession of marijuana and illegal possession of alcohol in a dry county.

• David Edward Wilbanks, 52, of Vinemont is charged with unlawful possession of a controlled substance, second-degree unlawful possession of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia.

• Wanda G. Wilbanks, 48, of Vinemont is charged with unlawful possession of a controlled substance, second-degree unlawful possession of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia.

• Jennifer Eilts Noe, 45, of Bremen is charged with second-degree unlawful possession of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia.

• William Christopher Trimble, 54, of Battleground is charged with second-degree unlawful possession of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia.

• Lillian Irene Marshall, 23, of Vinemont is charged with second-degree unlawful possession of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia.

• Timothy Ray Briscoe, 55, of Vinemont was arrested on various Failure to Appear (FTA) warrants with the Cullman Police Department.

• Patrick ONeal Henry, 23, of Vinemont is charged with second-degree unlawful possession of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia.

"Anytime we get complaints from citizens we try to follow up on those as fast as we can, and it's even better when we can make an arrest the same day," said Cullman County Sheriff Matt Gentry. "I am glad our CRT deputies were able to arrest these nine individuals and also seize these drugs." All suspects have made bond.

Extension Offices serving as drop-off points for mystery seed packages

Justin Miller
Contributor

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – The Alabama Cooperative Extension System is partnering with the Alabama Department of Agriculture and Industries (ADAI) to assist in collecting unsolicited seed packages being sent to Alabama residents from China. The packages often indicate that they contain jewelry rather than seeds. Local residents may drop off the packages at the Cullman County Extension office at 402 Arnold St. NE (across from The Folsom Center) in Cullman.

ADAI field inspectors are currently collecting these seed packages to test their contents for unknown compounds, noxious weed seed and invasive species. They will pick them up from the Cullman County Extension office.

Gary Lemme, Alabama Extension director, said each county Extension office will serve as a drop off point for residents who may have received these mystery packages containing seeds.

"This partnership will allow inspectors at ADAI to process these seed samples more quickly," Lemme said. "Alabama Extension is proud to take part in this process to continue serving Alabama residents."

Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries Rick Pate said, "We appreciate Extension's offer to assist our department by providing a designated drop off point in each county.

"We will continue to collect packages as along as we receive reports that they are being delivered to Alabama citizens."

How to drop off seeds

Those who have received unsolicited seed packages should not open the package containing the seeds or handle or plant the seeds.

Deliver the unopened seed packages to the Cullman County Extension office. Professionals at the office will assist in filling out an ADAI Unsolicited Seed Package Report.

NOTICE: Video Inspection of Cullman City Sewer System

• Aug. 3, 2020, the City of Cullman's contractor, Video Industrial Services, began cleaning and providing video inspection of the sanitary sewer collection system in the southeast area of Cullman. This work should not disrupt sewer service; however, it will involve access to utility easements crossing private property. The contractor's representatives will attempt to notify property owners prior to easement access.

• During cleaning operations, excess air pressure or vacuum will dissipate through service connection plumbing. If plumbing vents are inadequate, customers may notice splashing of water from fixtures. In the event of vacuum pressure, water in fixture traps may be drawn out, resulting in unpleasant odors. To guard against these issues, ensure toilet lids are closed. Run water into each drain to refill fixture traps if odors are noticed.

Cullman County's Allen, Cornelius earn Alfa Foundation Scholarships

Mary Johns Wilson
Contributor

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – Two local college students were among a group of 100 who earned $1,000 scholarships through the competitive Alfa Foundation Scholarship Program.

Cullman County recipients are:

• Lillimae Allen of Cullman is a Cullman High School graduate and a sophomore at the University of Mobile studying kinesiology.

• Townley Cornelius of Hanceville is a Cullman High School graduate and a freshman at the University of Alabama studying biology.

The scholarships may go toward tuition, fees, books or supplies for the 2020-2021 academic year.

Alfa Insurance President Jimmy Parnell said he's proud this scholarship program can help students as they work toward earning degrees at community colleges and universities.

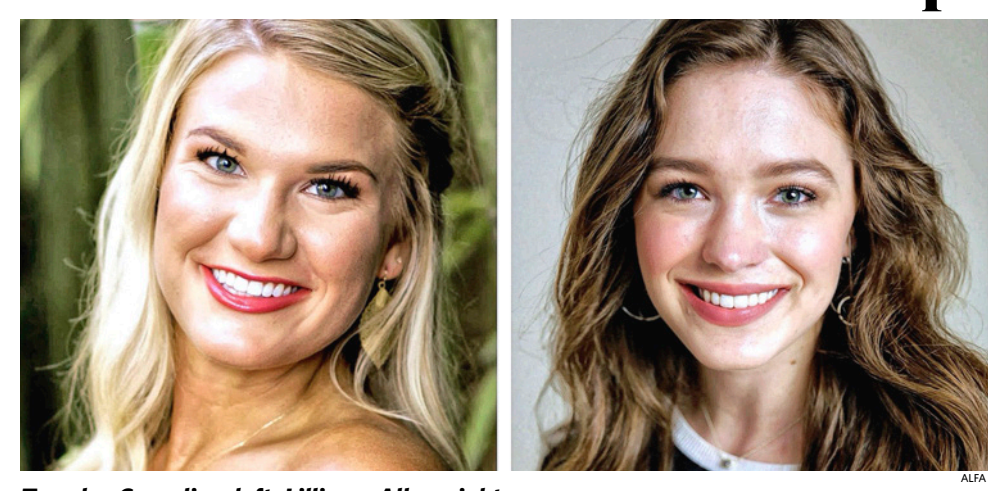

"Education is extremely important for our young people, and graduating with an associate or bachelor's degree opens so many doors," Parnell said.

"I'm glad the Alfa Foundation Scholarship Program can relieve some of the stress related to paying tuition bills."

The 2020 Alfa Foundation Scholarship recipients represent 43 Alabama counties and 21 institutions of higher learning.

The program is administered through Scholarship America, which selects recipients based on academics, participation in school and community activities, honors, work experience and future goals.

Over seven years, the Alfa Foundation has awarded $650,000 in scholarships to students from 65 counties studying at 36 Alabama universities, colleges and technical schools.

COLONY, Ala. – Colony Mayor Donnis Leeth on Tuesday evening said, "I resign" after he adjourned a contentious meeting of the Colony Town Council.

The mayor's statement came after a series of heated exchanges between himself, Councilman Curtis Johnson, who is challenging Leeth in the Aug. 25 Municipal Election, and the Town's election officers.

This was a developing story as of press time.

School (from Front)

Wendy Sack
wendy@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Cullman City School Board on Tuesday announced a revised start date for the 2020-21 school year. Instead of Aug. 19, school will begin Aug. 20. It also announced a modified attendance plan for the first several days.

• On Thursday, Aug. 20, only students whose last names begin with the letters A-K will attend school.

• On Friday, Aug. 21, only students whose last names begin with the letters L-Z will attend school.

• Students living in the same household regardless of the last name are to attend school on the day associated with the oldest child's last name. For example, if the oldest child's last name is Smith, the siblings would attend Friday, Aug. 21.

• On Monday, Aug. 24, ALL students will attend school unless otherwise directed by the school administration.

Said a media release from the board, "The changes to the school year will ensure that new transitions and school procedures developed for the reopening of schools due to the COVID-19 pandemic guidelines are implemented successfully.

"This modified plan will give our administrators, faculty and staff sufficient time to address and make any adjustments necessary to ensure we are implementing state guidelines to the best of our ability.

"Any questions about the revised school start date revisions should be directed to the local school office."

Recycling (from Front)

Committee, told the council, "We'll run the regular routes, picking up the regular items that we were picking up before," adding later, "Whatever day your recycling used to be picked up, that's the day it'll be picked up."

A possible expansion of recyclables to be included in pickup is under discussion, but the current list is the same as it was before the program temporarily shut down due to the lack of access to the Decatur recycling center then in use by the City. The purchase of a truck and specially-equipped trailer will now allow transportation of large amounts of material to another center in Birmingham in an economical manner. When the plan to restart the program was announced in late July, Cook told the council, "When COVID-19 hit, they had to stop that, because they had nowhere to take it; in Decatur, they shut down. Well, to make it economically feasible, the next place to carry it was Birmingham. So, we were running a little recycling truck to Decatur; that was easy. But there's too much to run back and forth to Birmingham that much, so they bought this truck and this trailer that's a special trailer called a walking floor trailer. We can load that, and, about every six days, carry a full trailer load down, which will be more economically feasible to (re) start the recycling program with."

If you have been saving your recyclables
Cook requested that residents who have been saving recyclables not put everything they have out at once and risk overwhelming the system; he asked instead that they put items out a little at a time. Cook, who told the council that his family has been saving recyclables, said of his own plans, "We'll ease it out there; we'll put a little more than we used to, till we can get it caught up. But please don't pile it all out there at once."

Specifics from the City of Cullman
Place your bins on the curb on your regular recycle pickup day. To verify your pickup day or to sign up for curbside recycling, contact the Cullman Sanitation Department at 256-737-7560 or cityhall@cullmanal.gov.

Materials we can pick up
• METAL (aluminum cans, steel cans, tin cans), PAPER (junk mail, magazines, office paper, newspaper, cardboard)

• PLASTIC (soft drink bottles, water bottles, plastic jars | laundry detergent bottles, milk jugs, shampoo bottles, cleaning supply bottles).

• PLEASE DO NOT INCLUDE glass, trash, styrofoam, plastic bags and other plastic material not listed above.

Project (from Front)

vehicle preemption systems, which allow emergency responders to control the signals for faster and safer passage, at Dahlke Drive, Eva Road and Childhaven Road. Radar detection units will be installed with the new signals at all intersections.

Once construction begins, the project is expected to take 330 days to complete.

City got federal grant to move project up list
In October 2018, ALDOT said the project was part of its five-year plan, but specified that the timetable was contingent on the agency's ability to procure the necessary funding. Cullman was able to move the project up on ALDOT's schedule by applying for and receiving a $14 million federal grant through the U.S. Department of Transportation's Better Utilizing Investment to Leverage Development (BUILD) program. The City received the grant in December 2018.

Cullman Mayor Woody Jacobs said in his announcement of the grant that there were between 900 and 1,000 grant applications across the United States, and only 10% of those were awarded.

"This $14 million grant, to my knowledge, is the largest grant the City of Cullman has ever been awarded," he said.

Jacobs talked about the importance of the project, especially concerning access to Cullman Regional. This two-lane portion of Hwy. 157 is the direct route to Cullman Regional, which serves more than 175,000 people in a six-county area.

The current traffic congestion on this road makes it difficult at times for emergency vehicles to reach the hospital. More than 15,000 cars travel this two-lane section of road daily, which includes trucks trying to get from local industries to Interstate 65.

"Highway 157 is like 90 miles of road, and the whole corridor is four-lane, except for this last 3.5 miles," said Jacobs. "Numerous ambulances run up and down that stretch. We all know how congested that stretch can get. If for some reason it ever got shut down, somebody could die having to go around to get to the hospital. That was honestly included in our grant application."

"Bridges to nowhere"
The "bridges to nowhere" in the 3.5-mile corridor, one over the railroad and one over Lake Catoma, were completed over two years, finished in 2013. Widening of the road was postponed indefinitely because of a lack of funding.

The bridges have been the subject of much controversy among Cullman County residents, who have frequently voiced frustrations about the completed bridges being inaccessible.

According to Jacobs and Cullman Economic Development Agency (CEDA) Director Dale Greer, however, if not for those bridges, this grant would not have been possible.

"Poor old ALDOT took a whipping about these two bridges sitting out there cause they're finished but not being utilized. Well let me tell you, without those two bridges, we could not have gotten this grant," said Jacobs, "because part of this grant process was it's got to be a project that's pretty well ready to go. Over 90% of the right-of-way of has already been acquired and the bridges are completed. All of this money has to be spent by 2025. That sounds like a long time until you start doing road work. They've already got quite a bit of the engineering done; they'll have to clean it up and get it to that point. If those bridges weren't already there and those things, we couldn't have even applied."

Jacobs added, "Our team at the City of Cullman did a remarkable job preparing this grant. The city of Cullman, Cullman County and the surrounding area will benefit greatly from this project. The City, County, state delegation and leaders in Washington D.C. worked in unison so that we knew at the end of the day, we did all we could to give Cullman the best shot at this opportunity. Today, we can say that through the efforts of many hard-working people, we have seen this process across the finish line.

"I would like to thank our federal delegation – especially Senator (Richard) Shelby (R-Alabama) and his staff. Also, I want to give a big thank you to our staff here at the City of Cullman. Without their persistence and drive on securing this grant, it would not have happened."

In June 2020 the Cullman City Council signed two resolutions to award contracts to Apel Machine & Supply for water and sanitary sewer relocation. Jacobs said construction for the project will likely begin in September.

Big Ten statement on 2020-21 fall season

Big Ten Conference
bigten.org

ROSEMONT, Ill. – The Big Ten Conference announced the postponement of the 2020-21 fall sports season, including all regular-season contests and Big Ten Championships and Tournaments, due to ongoing health and safety concerns related to the COVID-19 pandemic.

In making its decision, which was based on multiple factors, the Big Ten Conference relied on the medical advice and counsel of the Big Ten Task Force for Emerging Infectious Diseases and the Big Ten Sports Medicine Committee.

"Our primary responsibility is to make the best possible decisions in the interest of our students, faculty and staff," said Morton Schapiro, Chair of the Big Ten Council of Presidents/Chancellors and Northwestern University President.

"The mental and physical health and welfare of our student-athletes has been at the center of every decision we have made regarding the ability to proceed forward," said Big Ten Commissioner Kevin Warren.

"As time progressed and after hours of discussion with our Big Ten Task Force for Emerging Infectious Diseases and the Big Ten Sports Medicine Committee, it became abundantly clear that there was too much uncertainty regarding potential medical risks to allow our student-athletes to compete this fall.

"We know how significant the student-athlete experience can be in shaping the future of the talented young women and men who compete in the Big Ten Conference. Although that knowledge made this a painstaking decision, it did not make it difficult.

"While I know our decision today will be disappointing in many ways for our thousands of student-athletes and their families, I am heartened and inspired by their resilience, their insightful and discerning thoughts, and their participation through our conversations to this point.

"Everyone associated with the Big Ten Conference and its member institutions is committed to getting everyone back to competition as soon as it is safe to do so."

The fall sports included in this announcement are men's and women's cross country, field hockey, football, men's and women's soccer, and women's volleyball. The Big Ten Conference will continue to evaluate a number of options regarding these sports, including the possibility of competition in the spring. Decisions regarding winter and spring sports will also continue to be evaluated.

The Big Ten Conference is proud of its 14 world-class research institutions and has leveraged their resources and expertise to address this pandemic over the past five months.

The Big Ten Task Force for Emerging Infectious Diseases and the Big Ten Sports Medicine Committee have engaged in extensive research and sharing of materials and conversations with federal, state and local government agencies, and professional and international sports organizations in order to track and better understand the daily updates surrounding this pandemic.

Their advice and counsel have been invaluable as they have worked tirelessly over the past several months in their efforts to create and maintain a safe environment for athletics.

The Big Ten Conference will continue to work with medical experts and governmental authorities to gather additional information, evaluate emerging data and technologies, and monitor developments regarding the pandemic to make the best decisions possible for the health, safety and wellness of our student-athletes.

Troy wraps successful day 1 of fall camp

Adam Prendergast
Troy Athletics

TROY, Ala. – Friday marked Troy's first official football practice since March 5 when the Trojans were shut down just five practices into their spring season due to COVID-19. Chip Lindsey's squad didn't look like it missed a beat with a solid 19-period day on the grass practice fields behind Trojan Arena.

"First day in the books and it felt great to be back," Lindsey said. "It's just the first day of camp, and we only had helmets on, but it was really good to see them move around. With all of the guidelines and protocols we have in place, combined with the limited amount of time we had during spring camp, we tried to adjust practice some and go between full speed and walk-thrus."

In helmets and shorts for the first of two acclimation days due to NCAA rules, the Trojans ran through their normal practice regiment with special teams, 7-on-7, individual drills and 1-on-1 position work before ending with 11-on-11 team drills.

"Today we tried to teach a bit more than we have in the past," Lindsey said. "I think the practice schedule will continue to be flexible depending on where I think we are as a team.

"I was really pleased with the shape we were in and how we finished practice. Nobody had to leave early or come out due to the heat.

"Our attitude has been good all spring and summer and I think the walk-thrus allowed us to get ahead. I'm excited to get started and overall it was a great first day. I'm very pleased."

All eyes were on the quarterbacks where Jacob Free, Parker McNeil, Kyle Toole and Gunnar Watson all entered fall camp listed on the top line of the depth chart.

Troy is one of 13 schools across the country with zero returning starts at the quarterback position; however, the Trojans are loaded with talent at the position.

"I'd like to announce (the starter) two weeks before the opener so whomever the starter is has a chance to work with our first team offense all the time and build that relationship," Lindsey said. "Our depth and how many different wide receiver options we have might make that adjustment a bit easier, but the communication is important.

"The guy that will be our starter, first will be the guy that leads our team the best and moves the offense up and down the field.

"It won't be based purely on completions and stats; it will be about who leads our team the best. That's what I'm looking for."

In what is always the highlight of fall camp, walk-ons Trey Coryell, Micah Murphy and Craig Slocum were presented with a scholarship from Lindsey following practice.

"It meant a lot. I came to Troy in the same class as Craig Slocum, I've known Micah (Murphy) a long time, and then I'm really good friends with Trey Coryell," Troy's All-American linebacker, and former walk-on, Carlton Martial said. "Those guys earned those scholarships. I'm really happy for them, and I know when I get back in the locker room, we're going to be celebrating those guys."

Eli Stove senior spotlight: 'Make my name known'

Tucker Cleverdon

AUBURN, Ala. – Though his journey on the Plains has been unorthodox, senior wide receiver Eli Stove is not letting that deter him from cementing his name amongst the other all-time greats at Auburn. He wants to be elite, and he knows this team wants to be elite.

"I really want to be the best receiver in the SEC and in the nation," Stove said. "So, I am putting in the work. And I think a lot of guys feel the same way about how they want to play, and they are working just as hard. We are focusing on winning a national championship.

"Some teams say that, but we have the opportunity to do it this year. If you prepare for every game like it's the national championship, you're eventually going to get there."

Stove credits his father for molding him into the player he is today, but credit also goes to his little league coaches in Kansas, where he started playing in the third grade. He started out as a quarterback and a running back because of his athleticism, but once his coaches saw how good his hands were and the agility he possessed, they decided it was time to give him a shot at wide receiver.

"Once they made me try [wide receiver] and I got used to playing there, I excelled and I stopped playing running back and quarterback altogether," Stove said.

Ten years later, Stove became one of the top wide receivers in the high school class of 2016.

Coming out of Niceville, (Fla.) High, he was recruited by several top-tier schools, including three of the four schools to make the College Football Playoff the year before, before ultimately deciding to attend Auburn.

His first two years with the Tigers were filled with unique moments.

"My first year as a freshman, actually playing, that was fun," Stove said. "Of course, the Arkansas game is a fond memory. That was my first touchdown. Then, getting to go to the Sugar Bowl to finish that season was a great experience.

"My sophomore year, beating Georgia and Alabama back-to-back was huge," he added. "It got us all the way to the SEC Championship."

However, Stove's path was derailed in the spring of 2018 when he suffered an ACL injury that forced him to redshirt his junior season.

The injury left him with a feeling of unfinished business and a legacy that has yet to be completed.

Looking forward to the upcoming season, Stove feels that no matter the circumstances or format of what will be his senior campaign, he will make it one to remember.

"This year is the year to earn the respect I know I deserve," he said. "I want to make my name known not only at Auburn but throughout the college football world.

"I was hurt in past years and then I had my freshman and sophomore years where I was still getting acclimated to the team, but this year I know my full capabilities will be shown in my play on the field."

It might not have been the path Stove envisioned when he signed at Auburn, but he believes it's the adversity he has overcome throughout his career that gives him the drive and determination to keep pushing and to lead his team into battle every time they step on the field.

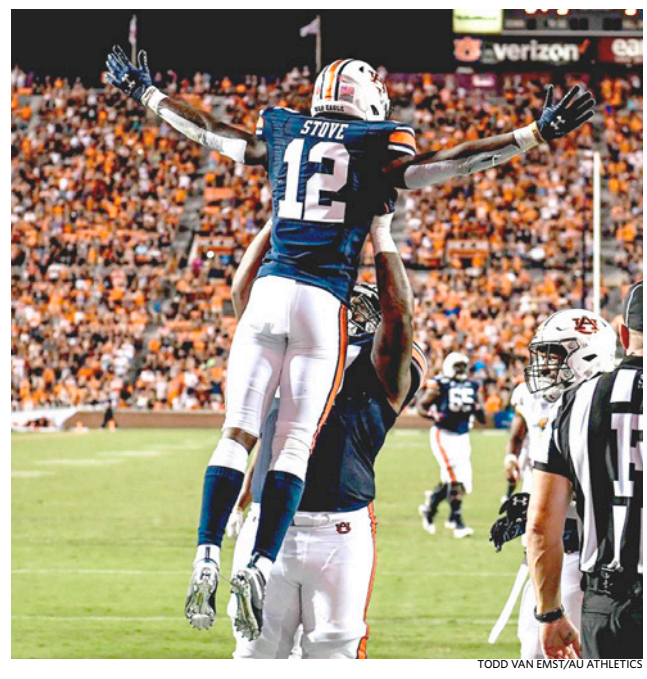

Because of his drive and determination, Stove has earned the respect of his teammates. Though not a vocal leader, he leads more with his actions.

"Eli is our leader on and off the field," junior Anthony Schwartz said. "He gives it his all no matter what. We really respect that."

"Eli's like a big brother to me," added junior Seth Williams. "One thing that I admire about him – besides him being such a great dancer -- is his never-quit attitude. Watching him come back from his knee injury and playing that next season – he's a fighter and we know we can count on him."

So, what should Auburn fans expect from a healthy Stove in 2020?

"I'm going out with a bang," he said. "The 2020 season will be one for fans to remember for sure."

Commission (from Front)

Christy Perry
christy@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – Cullman County Engineer Bryan Cheatwood at Tuesday's meeting of the Cullman County Commission presented the County's Annual Transportation Plan for FY 2021. The plan includes the repaving of County Roads 1212, 1282 and 1545. Funding for these projects, $1.3 million, will come from the Rebuild Alabama Act fuel tax.

The Rebuild Alabama Act requires that each municipality adopt an annual transportation plan no later than Aug. 31, and provide a detailed list of projects for which expenditures are intended to be made in the next fiscal year, based upon an estimate of the revenues anticipated from the fund. These funds can only be used only for maintenance, improvement, replacement, and construction of roads and bridges maintained by Cullman County.

Cheatwood explained, "The plan includes County Road 1212 between (Alabama Highway) 157 to Old Highway 31, (County Road) 1282 from Old 31 to (U.S. Highway 31) and County Road 1545, Gold Ridge Road, from (Alabama Highway) 69 back to County Road 1422."

The projects total approximately 8-10 miles.

Cullman Regional Airport will soon be clearing an overgrown area that hinders the south approach by reducing visibility. The commission approved the clearing of one of the four areas requested by airport general manager Ben Harrison.

"I have to have the first part which is the base or Area A. A is the approach. The FAA (Federal Aviation Administration) calls it the 20 to 1," Harrison told the commission.

"If the 20 to 1 is not clear when we do the runway rebuild next year, we will lose 800 feet of our runway."

If the FAA reduces the current runway by 800 feet, Harrison explained that charter and corporate planes will no longer be able to land at Cullman Regional Airport. Harrison asked for four areas to be cleared for a total of $335,000.

The City of Cullman has already approved the request but Commissioner Garry Marchman said, "I'm not going to approve $168,000. I'm not going to do that. Not with all the stuff we got going on that we can't get money for. I want to break it down into smaller amounts just to get us by for right now."

The commission agreed to approve the clearing and grubbing of the most crucial areas at the airport with a shared cost of 50% with the City of Cullman and 50% for Cullman County as co-owners of the airport. The cost of the approved clearing is $113,000.

A new start-up business near West Point will bring six to eight new jobs starting at an average of $24.10/hour. The commission approved an abatement to Southern Integrity Meats, which Cullman Economic Development Agency Existing Industry Project Manager Stanley Kennedy described as "processing, retail and custom slaughter."

Kennedy added, "It will be a total investment of $335,000. The abatement package will save the company just under $19,000, but based on their projection of sales, the County will see an annual sales tax of $33,655."

In other business, the commission approved the following items:

• Set public hearing for Oct. 14, 2020 for a proposed vacation of a right-of-way between Lots 3 and 4 on Lake David Drive NW, Cullman

• Request from Festhalle Market Steering Committee for $3,000

• Purchase of three easements adjacent to Cullman Regional Airport to maintain existing runway approach

• Purchase of a hydrostatic power control unit (HPCU) for a 973 Caterpillar Track Loader

• Authorized Chairman Kenneth Walker to sign a memorandum of agreement between the Town of South Vinemont and the Cullman County Commission

• Authorized Walker to sign a construction agreement for a Federal Aid Project with ALDOT for the resurfacing of County Road 1141

• Resolution for the resurfacing of County Road 1141

• Ratified two payments to A/C Innovations for sprayer machines and disinfectant due to COVID-19 for a combined amount of $12,602

• Authorized EMA Director Phyllis Little to sign a grant from the Alabama Department of Public Health for the State Mortuary Operations Response Team funding in the amount of $30,000

• Proposed plat resurvey of Lot 2 of Thrasher subdivision, a minor subdivision located in District 3 on County Road 1339

• Proposed plat, The Grove Estates, a minor subdivision on a private road located in District 3 off of County Road 1402

• Walker reappointment of Dana Phillips as the board vice-chair on the E-911 Board for a four-year term expiring 9/1/24

• Commissioner Kerry Watson reappointment of Dorothy Maddox as board treasurer to the E-911 Board for a four-year term expiring 9/1/2024

• Marchman reappointment of Samuel Tucker to the E-911 Board for a four-year term expiring 9/1/2024

• Extended bid for fog and scrub to Ergon

• Extended bid for pest control to American Pest Control

• Awarded bid for micro-surfacing to Whitaker Contracting

The next Cullman County Commission work session will be Wednesday, Sept. 9, 2020 at 8:30 a.m. The next Cullman County Commission meeting will be Wednesday, Sept. 9, 2020 at 10 a.m.

SAINT BERNARD PREP

EDUCATION

Saint Bernard Prep to begin classes Monday

Joyce Nix
Saint Bernard Prep

CULLMAN, Ala. – Saint Bernard Preparatory School in Cullman, Alabama is looking forward to the return of most students to campus for in-person classes as usual, beginning Monday, Aug. 17, 2020. School President Fr. Joel Martin says the school is taking recommended precautions such as daily temperature checks, distancing and masks in classroom buildings and is prepared to respond to all circumstances, but values the importance of personal instruction and school community.

Teachers are spending some days training to use Google classroom and using other virtual tools that will be used in addition to standard classroom instruction, including the filming of all classroom sessions, grades 7-12. Remote learning is offered to students who choose to or must stay away from the traditional classroom setting. This includes a number of international students who will not be able to return to the campus for the beginning of the academic year.

The St. Bernard class schedule this year has a new look: two days of the week will be spent on a block schedule which will allow more time in classrooms for extended learning sessions such as labs.

New appointments have been made, including William Calvert who will serve as assistant headmaster administering the Middle School. Calvert remains athletic director and coach of the school's acclaimed cross country and track and field teams.

Roughly 130 students are expected to begin classes this Monday, and St. Bernard Prep invites anyone who may be interested to check out its renowned program of college prep academics, athletics and the arts.

Since 1891 Saint Bernard has offered a well-rounded academic experience with some of the finest facilities found anywhere. Anyone interested in the day or boarding program – grades 7-12 – should visit www.stbernardprep.com or call the Admissions Office at 256-739-6682.

Re-Elect JOHNNY COOK

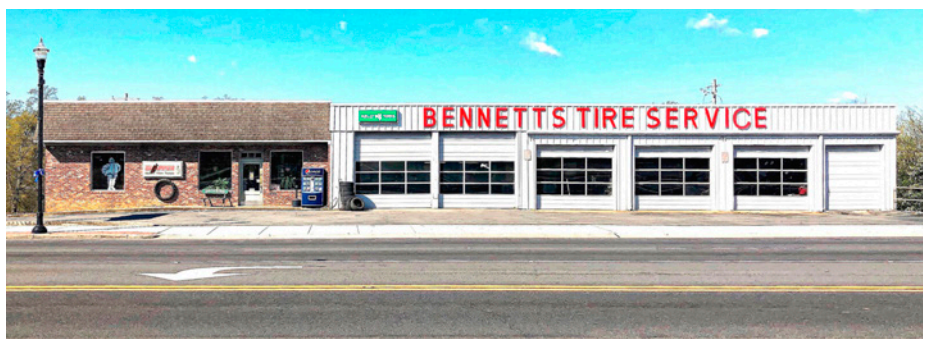

CULLMAN CITY COUNCIL - PLACE 3
The safety and security of Cullman's roads and infrastructure are always on my mind, and we've made some great things happen.
Over the past 4 years... instead of contracting out of town companies to fix roads and sewers, we invested in the equipment needed to do it ourselves, saving money and employing people who live in Cullman.
We recently bought a horizontal boring and pipe bursting machine to help us keep from having to dig up roads when pipe crossings go under roads.
We also purchased a milling machine and paving machine, so not only will our employees be trained to use this equipment, we're going to save this town a lot of money in the long run.
I'm happy to report that Cullman's Street, Sanitation and Water & Sewer facilities are current and up to date and constructed that much needed Fire Station #3.

EDUCATION

Wallace State Diesel Technology program launching Diesel by Distance offerings beginning this fall

Russell Moore
WSCC

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – Wallace State's Diesel Technology program is unveiling a new Diesel by Distance online option beginning with the Fall 2020 semester.

Diesel by Distance gives students the flexibility to learn the program's course objectives and theory online in addition to watching live lab sessions. Instruction will occur in an online format, complemented by virtual reality labs and periodic competency demonstrations on campus scheduled at the student's convenience, such as on weekends or evenings.

"I'm thrilled to see this come to fruition. Our Diesel by Distance will be among the most flexible diesel technology programs available. This will allow students from all over Alabama, the United States and the world to enroll in diesel technology courses with an online theory format. We'll able to provide sessions with live feedback and to train using all the technological advances we're given. If we have students who need to watch live labs late in the evening, we'll be here for them," said program chair and instructor Jeremy Smith.

One of the main components of the Diesel by Distance program is the work-based learning experience in partnership with an employer of diesel technicians. While enrolled in the Diesel by Distance program, students must be employed and engaged in work-based learning through an industry recognized or registered apprenticeship program in partnership with a participating company.

Individuals enrolled in Wallace State's Diesel Technology program can earn an associate in applied science in the field or pursue multiple certificates, including those in preventative maintenance, diesel engine specialist, transportation trailer technology and heavy utility vehicle specialist. Similarly, students enrolled in the Diesel by Distance program can choose any of the degree or certificate components or a specific class they're interested in.

Wallace State's Diesel Technology program also offers Kubota technician curriculum and certifications and is a National Coalition Certification Center (NC3).

"A student who completes the entire course will meet 488 objectives throughout. Others may choose to complete stackable credentials, improving their skill sets for a particular job. Our Kubota Tech program may be an option for some," said Smith, a NC3 Master Trainer. "Students can finish at their own pace with live lab assessments scattered throughout."

Smith credits Wallace State President Dr. Vicki Karolewics for her support and encouragement to offer the new online program for diesel technology students.

Another goal for Smith and Karolewics is to have incumbent workers of local industry to enroll in the program for specific training, aiding them in receiving an industry-recognized credential or short certificate. The Diesel by Distance program has also received praise from the Alabama Trucking Association.

As with most postsecondary programs across the nation, Smith had to alter his method of teaching in mid-March as the COVID-19 pandemic interrupted in-person instruction at Wallace State.

"While this online learning was already in the works, the COVID-19 pandemic definitely sped the process up and opened my eyes to the best online practices for our students. I think it's positively allowed me to develop a greater one-on-one connection with each student and you see how willing they are to adapt to any situation," Smith said. "Career and technical education will continue to move forward because of generational changes. We have to change the way we teach students. We'll never change the integrity of the program; but we will continue to evolve and enhance our formats."
