East Elementary Principal David Wiggins prepares to give a student a happy elbow bump Thursday morning, Aug. 20, 2020.

Maggie Darnell, Wendy Sack

CULLMAN, Ala. – The first day of school looked a little different around Cullman County Thursday morning, but that didn't stop the excitement. With precautions in place and everyone masked up due to the COVID-19 pandemic, Cullman City Schools and Cullman County Schools welcomed back students whose last names begin with A-K. Friday morning will see students with L-Z last names. All students will be headed back to class, either in person or online, Monday.

Over in Fairview, Fairview Elementary School Principal Marty Hardman was optimistic for the new year, saying, "It seems like most of our students are excited; I know we all are. Of course, with all the guidelines and rules and procedures that we'll be following it's early in the day; we'll see how it goes.

"As long as we can stay here in some traditional setting, I think we'll have a good year. It'll be a bit tougher if we have to go full virtual learning, obviously.

"Everybody's smart enough to know that'll be tough, but we'll do what we're told to do. We're excited to have the kids back!

In Cullman at East Elementary School, Principal David Wiggins was out front, as usual, welcoming each student with a huge smile and an elbow bump- a departure from his normal high-five.

The school posted online, "We are off to a phenomenal start to the school year! We are all smiles under our masks and happy to be back at EES! We can't wait to see the other half of our kids on Friday!"

20+ organizations urge Alabama Power not to disconnect Alabamians during COVID-19 pandemic

J. Robert Burton & Celida Soto
SWEET Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. – On Thursday, Aug. 20, 2020, the leaders of 24 Alabama organizations and ministries are called on the Alabama Public Service Commission (PSC) and Alabama Power to ensure Alabamians will not lose access to electricity as a result of the continued economic and public health crises caused by COVID-19.

A letter sent to Alabama Power and the PSC outlines how COVID-19 has forced Alabamians to be confined to their homes and resume activities virtually, which results in higher electricity usage. Alabamians with disabilities as well as Alabamians recently unemployed due to the pandemic will face life-threatening, inhumane conditions if the current moratorium of disconnections is lifted.

"This announcement comes as children around the state head back to school. Many of our local school districts will be starting school virtually. Ending the moratorium now will cause many of our school children to lose their access to a good education," said Rob Burton, executive director of SWEET Alabama.

The letter urges Alabama and the PSC to provide continued relief and allow families the time to adjust to the economic hardships this pandemic has caused. Alabama's unemployment rate reached 13.8%, the highest in almost 40 years. As many Alabamians are without steady income and the length of this crisis is unknown, it is impossible to place deadlines on vulnerable households.

The organizations demand:

• Utility debt forgiveness for all residential Alabama Power customers in non-payment.

• Continue disconnection & late fee moratorium until the end of the health crisis.

• Implement an income driven payment plan without penalties or late fees.

• Educate customers in non-payment of utility assistance programs.

• Waive late fees until 2022.

• No negative credit reporting through 2022.

In addition to the Aug. 20 letter to Alabama Power and the PSC, 13 partner organizations sent a letter to the PSC on July 15, 2020 urging them to refund customers for the $100 million they overpaid Alabama Power for fuel. The PSC agreed, and ordered the refund. However, the refunds will appear on Alabama customers' October bills. Yet Alabama Power announced the end of the moratorium on electricity disconnections and the return of late fees for non-payment starting on September 29. Therefore, lifting the moratorium will cause many Alabamians to lose the refund they deserve, in addition to further endangering their lives.

The letter also calls upon Alabama Power to give electricity debt forgiveness for nonpayment during the months of April-September 2020 to protect Alabama families during this pandemic and for the vitality of Alabama's economy.

ADPH provides clarification and guidance about COVID-19

Karen Landers, M.D.
Contributor

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – As more is learned about COVID-19, the Alabama Department of Public Health (ADPH) is providing updated guidance about testing priorities, listing and defining types of tests, and quarantine and isolation requirements for COVID-19 patients and their contacts.

No one is immune to COVID-19, but it impacts some populations and communities disproportionately. Everyone has a responsibility to help slow the spread of the virus in their homes, workplaces, educational institutions and other places within their communities. Because COVID-19 testing resources are not sufficient to test every person at this time, ADPH recommends the following guidance in a health alert network message to providers.

Testing priorities for patients and laboratories:

1. Hospitalized individuals with signs or symptoms of COVID-19 infection.

2. Other symptomatic individuals and higher risk asymptomatic individuals including but not limited to those in long-term care facilities.

3. Other individuals not experiencing symptoms when certain conditions exist.

Types of tests:

1. Diagnostic tests assess the presence of the virus at a given point in time. A negative means only that an individual was negative at the time of the test. This can be impacted by factors including but not limited to the quality of the specimen collected, the timing of collection during the incubation period, and the handling of the specimen.

2. Polymerase Chain Reaction (PCR) tests and Nucleic Acid Amplification testing (also known as viral tests) detect the RNA genetic material in the COVID-19 virus and are often collected via nasal pharyngeal, mid turbinate, nasal, oral or throat swab or saliva collection. Some of these tests are now available at the point of care.

3. Antigen tests detect the presence of COVID-19 specific protein particles and are collected via a respiratory sample. Currently, two approved point-of-care tests are being utilized.

4. Serology (antibody) tests are not diagnostic tests. These tests detect antibodies in the blood indicating possible prior exposure to COVID-19 which may develop 6-14 days after infection. Commercially available antibody tests have variable performance.

Isolation, quarantine and employer requirements about returning to work and retesting:

1. At the time of testing, persons are instructed to isolate at home while awaiting test results. Persons who are close contacts to COVID-19 cases must complete at least a 14-day quarantine period even with a negative test.

2. Individuals who test positive for COVID-19 should isolate from others in the home to reduce the risk of spread. If those who test positive cannot isolate from household members, then household members must remain in home quarantine 14 days after the person who tested positive is released from isolation.

3. Employers should not routinely require a negative laboratory COVID-19 test as a requirement for employees to return to work. This is because PCR tests can remain positive long after an individual is no longer infectious. Instead, symptom- or time-based methods are recommended with some very rare exceptions. However, this does not mean an employer must allow an employee who currently has COVID-19 to return to work before the employee's infection is resolved.

4. Persons who tested positive for COVID-19 and have recovered do not need to be quarantined again or be re-tested for at least 90 days unless they develop new symptoms consistent with COVID-19 infection.

Close contacts and when to leave quarantine:

1. A close contact is anyone who has known exposure defined as being within 6 feet of a COVID-19 infected person for 15 minutes or greater within a 24-hour period. The 15-minute time is a cumulative period of time. For example, a close contact might be within 6 feet of a COVID-19 positive person for 5 minutes each at 8 a.m., noon and 5 p.m. This is a standard based on guidance from the CDC.

2. A person who is a close contact to a confirmed or probable COVID-19 case must complete at least a 14-day quarantine period, regardless of whether a face covering, or regular mask was worn.

3. Persons with known exposure who are determined to meet the close contact definition cannot leave quarantine, regardless of whether they test negative for COVID-19. This means that a negative COVID-19 test will not allow them to return to work, school or participate in sports or other activities. This is because a person who has been exposed to COVID-19 and meets the close contact definition has up to 14 days to become infected from the time of exposure. This period may be even longer for a small number of people.

4. Allowances regarding close contacts are made for healthcare personnel who wore the appropriate personal protective equipment.

Fairview Aggies

After putting together an impressive postseason run a season ago and capturing a region title, the Fairview Aggies are ready to hit the field again this fall to build on that success going into Class 5A. The Aggies are moving up from 4A and into a new region, bringing with it a host of new obstacles for the purple and gold to overcome. Head Coach George Redding is about to kick off his 14th season at Fairview and he's happy to report a successful fall camp for the Aggies as they prepare to get the new year underway.

"Fall camp has been good. The energy has been good, the intensity level has been good, and guys have really come in and brought a good attitude of working and getting better. So, we've been very pleased with that and we've had a huge focus on doing things better at a high level, not just getting it done, but doing it at a high level," Redding said. "I feel like our coaches have done a good job of working really hard to build more depth. We feel like that will be one of the keys for us to try and be competitive in 5A is to try to get more guys ready for Friday nights."

There are several standouts from the 2019 squad returning to Fairview this fall and Redding says having that experience in fall camp has helped the Aggies hit the ground running and build on what they learned last year.

"That's really helped us. I think as far as the knowledge base, the guys are coming back with a decent understanding of what we try to do, what we want to do and how we want to do it," Redding said. "So, now it's just about continuing to work to get better, get faster, get more efficient and all that kind of stuff so we have been able to continue building on the knowledge that these guys are bringing from last season."

Fairview does have an experienced roster preparing to kick things off this fall, but Redding knows last year's success isn't worth anything once the lights come on. The Aggies would love to build on some of that momentum from last year's playoff run but Redding is also excited to see what else this year's team is capable of.

"You know last season was an exciting season and it was very good to get our school back into the playoffs because we had missed them for a while there and it was good to get back but it's a whole new team now with a whole new culture," Redding said. "So, we've got to start from square one and just find a way to get back in. Everything from last year was great but it's a new year so you've got to let that one go and we'll see what this year's team can accomplish."

The coronavirus pandemic has been a unique challenge for teams across the state and the country and Redding wants his team to make the best of an odd situation. Now more than ever, local athletes understand that their seasons can end at any moment and the Aggies are using that perspective to get the most out of every day they get on the field this year.

"Our focus this year has been to embrace it and to do that you have to accept it and find a way to appreciate it. Every day we're trying to come in with that kind of attitude and that's what has to be done for us to protect our season and protect our teammates. So, it's just something that we've accepted, and I think the guys have done a really good job with that," Redding said. "I think every day we get up and you look at social media and there are teams having to cancel and teams having to shut down so it makes you appreciate the day that you've got today and that's been our attitude. We're going to stick with that because today we get to go at it and we're grateful for that and we're going to try to get as much out of it as we can."

The Fairview Aggies were originally scheduled to open the season at D.A.R. but will now travel to Falkville for a jamboree game Friday night.

Holly Pond Broncos

Sullivan Photography

For the first time since 2013, the Holly Pond Broncos will have a new signal caller on the sidelines. Head Coach Chris Moss is entering his first season with the Broncos this fall after spending 10 years coaching the Good Hope Raiders from 2005-2014. He now begins his tenure at Holly Pond and he's bringing changes to both sides of the ball. The Broncos offense has been built around the legs of former quarterback Kyler Chaney the past few seasons but now that he's gone and playing for the Huntingdon Hawks, there are some new names stepping up and taking on leadership roles.

"I tried to see if (Chaney) had another year of eligibility left," Moss joked. "But right now, Levi Boatright and Jayden Perkins, who are seniors for us, have been providing good leadership.

"We're excited about those guys and the kids that have come out have really bought in to what we're doing, and they've really worked hard, and we're excited about playing.

"I don't know how the first game is going to look, this is sort of uncharted waters that we're going through. I've done this a long time and haven't been through anything like this. We're just excited about getting to play because football's a great sport."

Moss has been satisfied with the intensity and focus of his players throughout the summer and fall but admits that it's been an adjustment for him and his staff working without a spring training period and lower roster numbers than they're used to.

"The verdicts still out, I guess. We didn't get to have spring training this year so we're installing a whole new offense and defense this fall and I wish we had some more kids. I think this COVID stuff has affected us in a bit of a negative way," Moss said.

"I don't know if the parents don't want them to play or if its because the kids are still working. We don't start school until the 20th so that's going to be a challenge, but I think we'll probably have about 24 and we'll take what we've got and put them out there."

Running the option and moving the ball on the ground from the quarterback position has been a staple of the Holly Pond offense for years but Moss wants to spread the ball out between more people in the backfield this fall.

"We're going to spread things out a little more with more than one back. Chaney had the ability to run and take games over and we're not putting in our quarterback in that position right now where he's running the option," Moss said.

"We may throw a little bit of that in there, but it definitely won't be the veer like they've been running here in the past."

The Broncos' season has already been shaken up a bit in the final days leading up to the first game.

They found out just last week that their opening game with Brindlee Mountain won't be played and its just the latest obstacle in a preseason defined by adversity.

"In the weight room it's a different look when you walk in and see kids wearing masks.

"They don't have them on when they get outside to run just because it's too tough to breathe.

"When they're on the sidelines watching the game later, they will have to wear a mask and it's just a whole different look," Moss said.

"I told someone the other day that people are calling this the new normal and I don't like the new normal," Moss joked.

"I'm ready to have the old normal back where we're able to walk around and shake hands and everything and I understand that this virus is tough and I know its there but I'm ready for us to get a cure or vaccine or whatever we need. I'm ready to get back to the old way of life."

Holly Pond is anxious to get back to the postseason after a disappointing 2019 campaign and Moss' goal for his team in his first season is to improve on the field each week while growing into role models within the community.

"Our first goal is to win the first ball game. We're going to take things one game at a time and not worry about things down the schedule.

"When we play our first game our goal is going to be to focus on what we can do to better ourselves as players and even before that starts we want to be great students and be productive role models in the community," Moss said.

"Football-wise, our first goal is to win the first ball game and get better from there. You always look a little ragged in that first game but after that I just want us to get better every week. I feel confident in these young men. They're working hard and we're going to get to the point where we can compete each week."

The Holly Pond Broncos will host Cold Springs Aug. 28 for their first game of the 2020 season.

Bearcats blank Grissom 23-0 to open season

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. – Cullman kicked off the 2020 season on the road Thursday night and the 'Cats arrived ready to play. After a scoreless opening quarter, the Bearcats began to move the ball more effectively on the ground and kept Grissom off the scoreboard to pull away and collect a 23-0 shutout win to start the season 1-0.

Cullman struck first early in the second quarter when Quarterback Max Dueland hit Isaiah Jones at the goal line for a 28-yard touchdown pass and after a mishandle exchanged on the extra point, the 'Cats went ahead 6-0. Cullman continued to smother the Tigers defensively as the half went on and after an interception by Jaden Kay, the Bearcats pulled ahead 13-0 with just over three minutes to play in the second when Jake Dueland ran over a man at the pylon to score from 13 yards out. Grissom marched down close to the end zone in the final minute of the first half but Griffin Barksdale burst through the line to pick up a sack on fourth down, turning the ball over and sending the game to halftime with Cullman on top 13-0.

The 'Cats added to their lead later in the third quarter when Max Dueland snuck one into the end zone from a yard out to make it 20-0 and they held that lead going into the final frame. Barksdale forced another turnover on downs with another sack early in the fourth quarter and Brody Adams knocked one through the uprights from 31 yards out to stretch the lead to 23-0 and put the game out of reach for the Tigers.

Jaylen Hughey led Cullman in rushing with 57 yards on nine carries followed closely by Noah Kee who added 53 yards on 17 carries. Jake Dueland carried the ball six times for 23 yards and a touchdown and Jamar Kay finished with 40 yards on four carries. Max Dueland was three of six through the air with 59 yards and a touchdown and added another score on the ground.

After the game, Bearcats Head Coach Oscar Glasscock was pleased with his team's defensive performance and wanted to play to their strengths tonight.

"You know because of the early shut down and not being able to have competitions and have a jamboree, I felt like the defenses were going to be ahead of the offenses in general," Glasscock said. "We've got a lot of veteran guys and we've been playing well in practice so normally we like to take the ball and establish the line of scrimmage, but we wanted to play towards our defense tonight for sure."

Even after an impressive win to open the season, Glasscock still saw plenty for his team to improve on before the next game but most of all, he was happy to see his kids playing hard and having fun again.

"It's true when they say you make the most improvement between your first game and your second game, there's no question about it and there are plenty of things to clean up.

"We've had half of our offensive line out due to quarantine situations and I was proud of the way those guys were able to come back after missing a lot of work and really playing pretty well," Glasscock said.

"We've got things to work on, but it was a great night. We got to play the game of football, the kids were excited, they had fun and man, it feels a little normal now finally."

The Bearcats will return to Oliver Woodard Stadium for their home-opener against Jasper next week.

Raiders rout West Morgan 47-19 on the road

Jason Russell
Tribune Correspondent

TRINITY, Ala. – The Good Hope Raiders hit the road Thursday night to face West Morgan and took home their first win of the season after knocking off the Rebels 47-19.

The game started out with the Rebels winning the toss and electing to receive the ball, but their opening possession was quickly stopped by the Raiders.

The Raiders took possession after forcing and recovering a fumble that put them on the Rebels' 29-yard line.

Tanner Malin and the offense took the field and scored in just five plays to give the Raiders an early 7-0 lead in the opening frame.

Good Hope continued to put more space between themselves and the Rebels by doing what they've worked on all summer long on and that's execution on both sides of the ball. As a result, the Raiders went into the halftime break leading the way 27-7. The Raiders continued to pour it on in the second half, riding momentum on both sides of the ball and pulling ahead 40-7 before Coach Scott and his staff brought in some younger talent to wrap things up. The younger guys brought things home and secured a 47-19 road win for Good Hope to open the season 1-0.

I would say these guys worked hard in the offseason and came together not only as a team but as a family. It was an awesome opener and look forward to yet another awesome year with the Good Hope Raiders football program. It's a great day to be a Raider!

VINEMONT, Ala. – The Vinemont Eagles hosted the Hanceville Bulldogs on the opening night of the 2020 AHSAA football season Thursday night and got the season started on the right foot. The Eagles edged the Bulldogs to come away victorious 31-30 in an entertaining, back and forth, tightly contested game.

Hanceville went three-and-out to start the game, and the Eagles offense took advantage by marching down the field and ending their drive with a 26-yard touchdown by Colby Miller to go up 6-0 midway through the first quarter. The Bulldogs fumbled on their first play of the ensuing possession and a fortunate bounce was picked up by Trevor Shadden. Sixty-five yards later, Hanceville had an 8-6 lead after the successful two-point conversion. With 3.2 seconds remaining in the opening quarter, Bo Joles extended the Bulldogs' lead to 15-6 when he punched it in from 1 yard out.

Vinemont answered right back on the next possession when Ayden Thomason scored from 1 yard out to cut the lead to 15-12 with 6:44 remaining in the half.

After forcing a punt, the Eagles regained an 18-15 lead with 13 seconds until halftime thanks to a 32-yard pass from Colby Miller to Kix Johnson. The Eagles headed to the locker room with a 18-15 advantage.

Late in the third quarter, Vinemont stretched its lead to 24-15 when Isaac Moody scored from 26 yards out. Hanceville came right back as Joles found Logan Guthery for a 65-yard touchdown on the first play of the next Bulldog possession, cutting the lead to 24-22 with 4:39 left in the third.

Hanceville forced a turnover on downs after Vinemont had the ball first-and-goal and three plays later Zach Campbell raced 79 yards down the field, putting the Bulldogs ahead 30-24 with 7:43 remaining in the game.

Vinemont came right back, and with 5:04 remaining, Miller scampered for 32 yards to score and regain the lead for the Eagles 31-30. After a big pass interference penalty that put the Bulldogs into Eagle territory, the Vinemont defense forced a fourth-and-long, and the last-ditch effort fell incomplete for the Bulldogs.

After picking up a first down, the Eagles kneeled the ball three times to run out the clock and secure a 31-30 home victory to start the season 1-0.

Vinemont will travel to Fairview to take on the Aggies next week and the Bulldogs will try to bounce back at home against Fultondale.

CULLMAN, Ala. – Heavy equipment has begun appearing at Nesmith Park near West Elementary School, and the City of Cullman wants people to know why. Cullman Parks, Recreation and Sports Tourism (CPRST), Mayor Woody Jacobs and the Cullman City Council on Thursday morning gathered at the park to display a design concept for renovations about to begin.

The City of Cullman received a 50/50 matching grant to renovate the southwest side facility with improvements including a splash pad, new playground, basketball and pickleball (paddleball) courts, multi-use field and restrooms. Beyond the plan presented, Jacobs said that long-term plans allowed for the development of additional athletic fields at the park.

New regulation baseball field

The baseball field will be a regulation high school facility with a 350-foot center field wall. Initial plans are for use as a practice field, but Jacobs said that long-term plans could include tournaments, especially with the planned concession/restroom facility at the site.

When the City began looking into renovations at the park, CPRST's then Executive Director Nathan Anderson told The Tribune that Cullman High School baseball coach Brent Patterson had talked to him about the need for more practice and game space, especially for the school's junior varsity team.

"As we were thinking about how we could use this land, we started playing around with the layout, and it turns that out we could get a field around the same exact size that the high school currently has, on this property," said Anderson. "So that plays with the 350-foot distance from home plate to center field, which is perfect for their needs. This will be a practice site and a game site for the high school, as well as continuing to meet the needs that we have with travel ball that we bring to the area."

Water feature to return in different form

The mayor told the media that the park's swimming pool had become too expensive to maintain, and would be replaced by the splash pad as the park's water feature. The pool will be replaced, but the building there will be renovated for use as the concession stand and restroom building for the ball field and park.

Said Jacobs, "That had a Land and Water Grant back in the day, so you have to keep something or swap something (as a water feature). We've been planning on this and thinking on this, and in the process we've got another Land and Water Grant . . . We got a $400,000 grant that requires a $400,000 match. This design is probably going to cost a little bit more than that. We haven't bid it yet, but it's fixing to go out to bid. But part of the process is the City's going to be doing the demo and getting things ready, so we were starting that process. Once you start doing something like that, it becomes- everybody wants to know what's going on."

Land and Water Grants

The State of Alabama provided half of the funding with grants made by Gov. Kay Ivey last year through the federal Land and Water Conservation Fund (LWCF).

"Alabama's parks, playgrounds and trails promote healthier lives and happier people," Ivey said at the time of the grant. "These projects will encourage people to enjoy Alabama's outdoors, and they will help create memories that will last a lifetime. I commend local leaders for understanding that parks and playgrounds contribute so much to a community's health and wellbeing."

The LWCF program was created by Congress in 1965 to assist states with the development and preservation of outdoor recreational facilities. The Alabama Department of Economic and Community Affairs (ADECA) manages the program in Alabama. Under the LWCF program, recipients are required to equally match the amount of the award with cash or in-kind commitments.

Said Jacobs, "We're excited about it, parks and rec's excited about it, because of more facilities. It's by the school so they'll be, you know, they can be sharing."

CPRST Executive Director Zac Wood called the renovation "A great addition to this area of town, this neighborhood."

The mayor noted, "The other parks that we've done, we've noticed, you know, as you do those, housing starts getting upgraded. You know, housing values go up and people are buying and doing fixer-uppers. Even around Art Park, we're starting to see that, and so, down Ingle Park and the Connected Park.

"So, again, we're just excited to be here today and be able to let the community know what's going on."

Jacobs estimated that the park renovation will be completed in the spring or summer of 2021.

ADCNR strengthens safeguards against nonnative species

Ala. Department of Conservation and Natural Resources

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – Due to ecological, economic, and human health and safety concerns related to the potential impacts of nonnative animals, Alabama Administrative Code 220-2-.26 has been amended to prohibit any person, firm, association, or corporation from possessing, selling, offering for sale, importing, bringing, releasing, or causing to be brought or imported additional nonnative animals into the state of Alabama. The amended regulation is effective as of Oct. 15, 2020.

"Native ecosystems can be extremely vulnerable to invasive species," said Chris Blankenship, commissioner of the Alabama Department of Conservation and Natural Resources (ADCNR). "If intentionally or unintentionally released into the wild, nonnative animals can outcompete native wildlife and upset the natural balance of that ecosystem.

"With this amended regulation, we are taking a proactive approach to help Alabama avoid the types of ecological challenges caused by nonnative species in other parts the country."

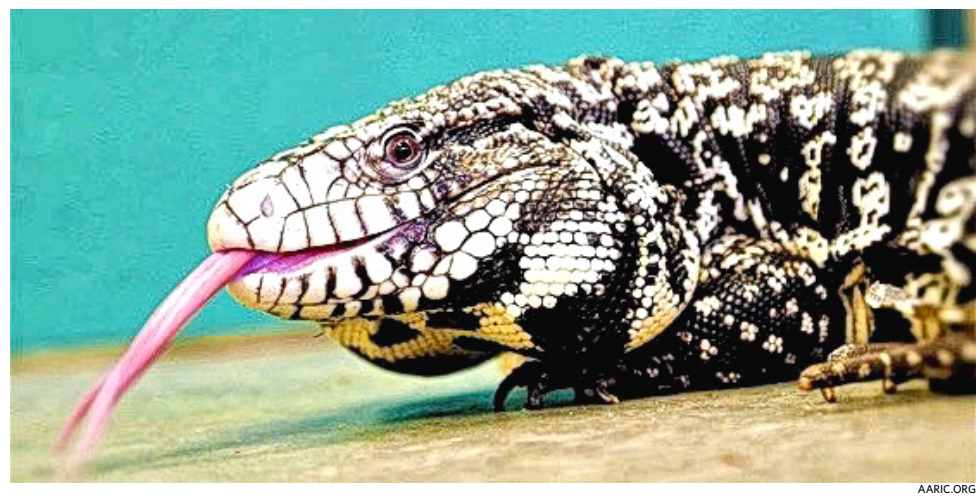

A ban on the following species is included in the amended regulation (220-2-.26):

• Any species of venomous reptile that has never naturally existed in the wild in Alabama, including but not limited to venomous snakes of the families Viperidae, Atractaspididae, Elapidae, Hydrophiidae, and Colubridae, except for hognose snakes (Genus Heterodon)

• Any species of bird, mammal, reptile, or amphibian listed as injurious wildlife by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service under the federal Lacey Act (18 U.S.C. 42)

• Any species of Tegu (Genus Salvator)

Persons currently holding any of the prohibited wildlife listed above without an ADCNR permit will be given 90 days from Oct. 15, 2020, to notify the ADCNR's Division of Wildlife and Freshwater Fisheries (WFF) and apply for a permit, lawfully export the animal(s), or voluntarily surrender the animal(s) to the appropriate WFF personnel without prosecution.

Murder (from Front)

wendy@cullmantribune.com

NEW CANAAN, Ala. – A second man is now charged with murder in the shooting death of 24-year-old Levi Benjamin Lawrence, of Cullman. Tyler Dwight Dooley, 26, of Arab was charged with murder in connection to the case. Now, Jacob Andrew Drane, 21, of New Canaan is also charged with murder.

Lawrence and 36-year-old Dalton Matthew Bannister, of Blountsville were killed and a woman hospitalized following an altercation and shooting in the New Canaan community in northeast Cullman County in the very early morning hours of Saturday, Aug. 15 near a residence along County Road 1854. According to Cullman County Sheriff Matt Gentry, Lawrence died while defending himself from Bannister.

Cullman County Coroner Jeremy L. Kilpatrick said Lawrence and Bannister were pronounced dead at the scene. The female who was shot has not been identified.

"Mr. Lawrence was the victim in this case," said Gentry. "Mr. Bannister, that is deceased, is the offender."

Gentry said that in the course of the investigation, his office learned there was another individual at the scene, identified as Dooley.

Cullman County Sheriff's Office (CCSO) investigators worked with the Arab Police Department and Marshall County Sheriff's office to execute a search warrant in Arab, where Dooley was found.

Also charged in connection to the crime was Ricky Dale Martin, 48, of New Canaan.

"As we were investigating, putting the pieces of the puzzle together, this is what we determined," said Gentry. "Mr. Lawrence had received a message from one of the offenders that we've arrested about hanging out at this residence (in New Canaan).

"So, Mr. Lawrence is there talking to his friend, Mr. Drane, at the residence belonging to another offender that we've arrested; his name is Ricky Martin. Mr. Martin is known to associate with people that are not the best.

"At this point, later on in the night, Mr. Dooley, Bannister and the female arrived at the residence...Mr. Lawrence realized that these people are not who you want to be around. Mr. Lawrence told them that he was going to leave. As Mr. Lawrence attempted to leave, Bannister and Dooley had predetermined that they were going to rob Lawrence of his possessions.

"These individuals are known throughout those communities to do those of kind of things."

Gentry continued, "As Mr. Lawrence attempts to leave, he's confronted by an armed suspect, Bannister, at which time Mr. Lawrence was also armed and an altercation occurs and there is rounds that are exchanged.

"After the gunfight, the Dooley flees the scene, leaving Bannister and the female on the ground."

The sheriff emphasized that Lawrence was the victim and said Bannister and Dooley being free before the crime occurred was a result of a failure of the system.

"Bannister and Dooley are a failure to the system," he said. "You look at their criminal histories. They should be in prison. They had a reputation to go out and do bad things, but they met somebody that said, 'You know what? You're going to do bad things, but I'm not going to allow you to do bad things to me or anyone else.

"Mr. Lawrence was defending himself. He defended himself, and as a result, he shot someone that did bad things who is now deceased, but in turn he lost his life. One of the things I look at is if Bannister and Dooley had both left, what other bad things would they have done to other people in the community?"

Said Gentry, "Anytime there's a loss of life, it breaks your heart for the family. We have met with Mr. Lawrence's family and been in constant contact, and for them, our heart and prayers are going out."

Gentry praised the work of the CCSO deputies and investigators and law enforcement from Marshall County, as well as the Cullman Police Department, which also assisted in Arab when Dooley was taken into custody.

Dooley is being held on a $50,000 cash bond.

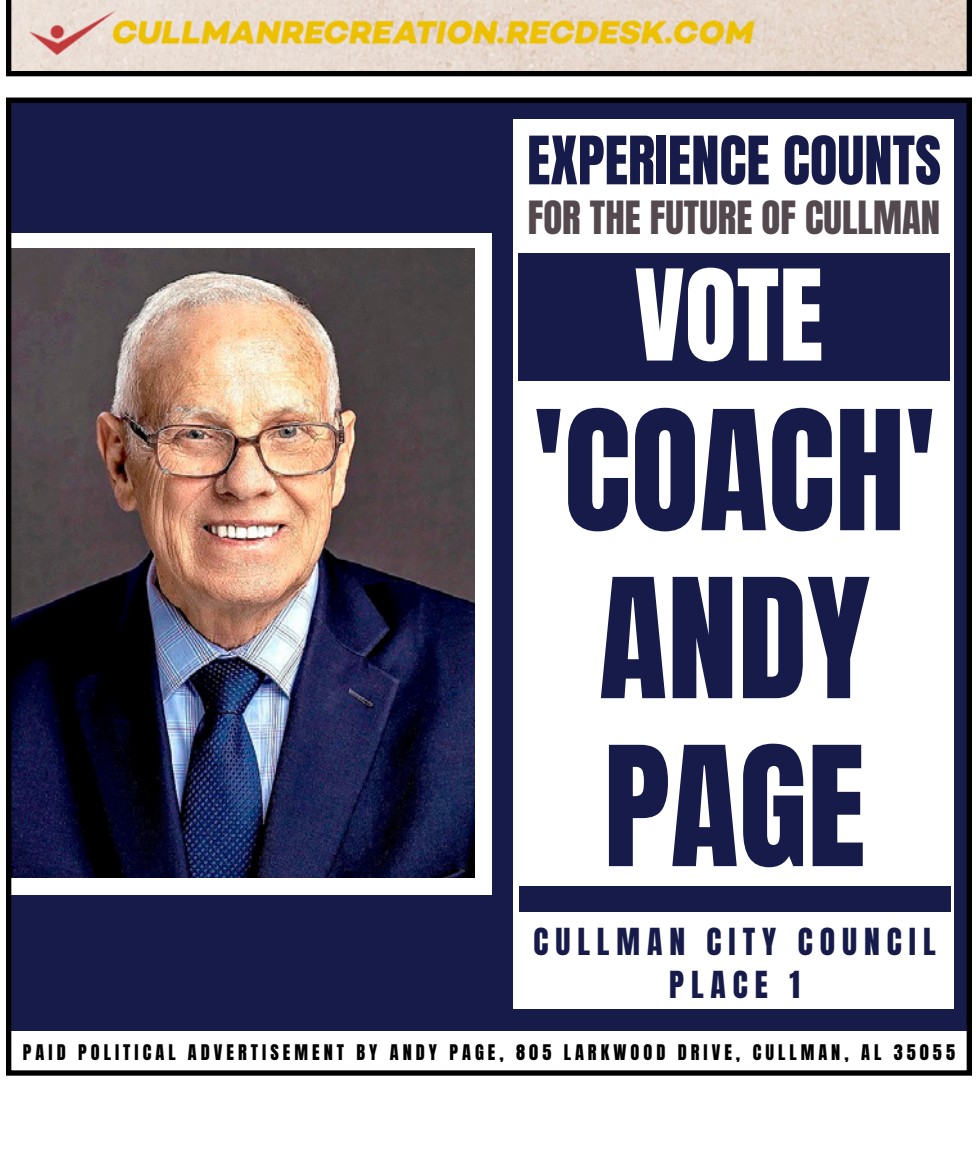

Drane was originally charged with second-degree criminal trespassing and possession of drug paraphernalia. He is now being held without bond.

Martin, charged with possession of drug paraphernalia, has made bond.

Dooley and Drane are being held in the Cullman County Detention Center.

Being Reuben

In "Fairytale of New York," Reuben is on the last leg of his trip to New York as he participates in a series of promotional meetings for the brand. Everything is going smoothly until, out of left field, Reuben is asked to present a last-minute speech to some of the most influential beauty bloggers in the city. With so much at stake, Reuben is stricken with a crippling case of performance anxiety. Another new episode immediately follows.

OPINION

Letter to the Editor: An open letter from South Vinemont Mayor Radginal Dodson

Radginal Dodson
South Vinemont Mayor

As far as this election goes, there have been several things said defaming my character. One, there's things that have been said about things that have happened in the town that I have done illegally. I want to set several things straight.

First of all, I have lived in this town for 55 years. I have raised two boys in this town. The good Lord gave me a wife 56 years ago. Probably the best blessing he ever gave me. There are things that are just not right about what's been said that's going on in the town that I can back up and document in black and white.

Starting four years ago, we resurfaced all the main streets in the town. Went through the council. All of it was cleared. We put up lights in the ballpark. We pay by the year for a lease. There's currently two years left on the lease. The ballpark is a main point.

It's been put out that there is nothing in this town that's growing, it's a dead little town or there's nothing that's been done in this town for the last four years. I beg to differ. I've tried my dead-level best to do the very best I can for the town because this is my choice of place in the whole world to live. I've lived in many places. I spent four years in the Navy, so I am not born, raised and died in Cullman County. I live less than a mile from where I moved. My father retired from the service and moved back here in 1960. So, I have lived within a mile of that point since 1960.

The ballpark itself creates some monies for the town. That ballpark sees, last year, 30,000 people. Those 30,000 people had to eat somewhere and had to spend the night. This is revenue. Revenue is what supplies the dollars and cents that keep the town of South Vinemont on an even keel.

As far as if we have done anything as far as the town is concerned, I am not real wild about having a Rock the South in downtown Vinemont. It's been brought up that things for the younger generation are not happening in Vinemont.

I have checked into everything and determined that it would not be cost-efficient to have a senior center when there is one less than 3 miles down the road.

It has been documented by our business licenses, how many people work in this town. New business since 2016- I have 14 new businesses that have opened in the past four years. The total of it is approximately 100 jobs in the town of Vinemont. There are currently 750 people in the town of South Vinemont.

I enjoy my job and I have tried my best to do the best I can, but my words have been misconstrued, misunderstood and misquoted. There are just too many things that have been said that need to be addressed.

Again, at the sports complex, we've lit two fields. Those two fields cost $150,000. We made restrooms for the five fields we have. One field did not have close restroom facilities so we built ADA-approved restrooms for that one field.

We are currently involved in improving the roads. The resurfacing we did four years ago appears not to have lasted as long as we had hoped it would, so we are in the process of making improvements on Tillery Road here in town. We have scrub sealed Goodwin Road. We have widened Oakley Drive. We have requests now for resurfacing for off-streets in the town.

Due to the cost of that and the present condition of those roads, the cost to pave all the streets in the town would bankrupt the town. We are talking about approaching $200,000 to resurface all the streets in the town. We may be able to do some of them or one at a time, but really the most cost-efficient way would be to do them all, but we don't have the finances to do the $200,000 worth of resurfacing.

I'm sorry that I have made my opponents mad and they have been told things that are not true. My opponent has decided that she needs to do all the campaigning for two other people who are presently campaigning for a council seat on the council. The three remaining seats were not opposed therefore they have been reinstated.

I've never met the gentleman and I never met the other lady both running currently for a council seat. I've never talked to either one of them, and I have never seen either one of them. I've talked to Mr. Thompson's brother but not him. I apologize if I have made someone mad in the town. We have had very few people come to our meetings. The door is open. They aren't closed meetings. I get very few suggestions about things that need to be done in the town.

Also, in the late 2000s, the walking trail was built, and at the time the walking trail was built, a pavilion was also to be built near the restrooms at the walking trail.

Those restrooms, due to circumstances beyond our control, the bathrooms had to be turned around 180 degrees. We are currently in the process of building that pavilion that will be open to the public. It is not to be rented. Our community center is an asset to this town, but due to COVID, it is not being utilized as much as it has been in the past.

I apologize if I have made somebody mad or didn't do something that somebody wanted. I am truly sorry that I have done such a bad job over the last four years. I don't really think I have done such a bad job over the past four years. To anybody who's feelings are hurt, I apologize, including my opponent and her chosen cohorts.

Thank you and have a good day.

Scaup limit reduced to 1; Sandhill crane registration opens soon

North America's waterfowl breeding population annual survey is another aspect of the outdoors that has been impacted by COVID-19 restrictions.

Seth Maddox, the Alabama Wildlife and Freshwater Fisheries' Migratory Bird Coordinator, said virus-related travel restrictions would not allow the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS) to conduct the aerial survey of the prairie potholes regions of Canada and the Midwest U.S.

"It's going to be an interesting season," Maddox said. "With COVID ongoing, they didn't fly the breeding population survey in Canada and the northern U.S. The border was closed, so we don't have a good estimate of what the waterfowl population looks like."

Maddox said waterfowl specialists will have to depend on weather conditions and long-term datasets to take an educated guess on waterfowl populations.

"It's been a fairly wet spring and summer across the U.S. prairies, which makes for really good breeding habitat," he said. "But it has been fairly dry in the Canadian prairies, which will impact the breeding habitat there.

"We'll see what the fall flight looks like. It may be a little below what we've seen in the past few years as far as population numbers. So, it will be an interesting year. I think the numbers will be fine. They may just be a little lower than the previous few years."

Maddox said the waterfowl seasons in the flyways are set a year in advance. While this season's bag limits and dates have minimal changes, he said the 2021-2022 season framework may be affected.

"This season, the only significant change is a reduction in the bag limit for scaup (bluebills)," he said. "Based on the 2019 population, scaup dropped into the restrictive package, which allows for a 45-day season with a two-bird daily bag limit and then a 15-day season with a one-bird daily bag limit.

"In Alabama, we decided to go a little more restrictive and go 60 days with a one-bird daily bag limit. That makes our regulations a little easier for our hunters to interpret. And it makes it easier for our Enforcement Officers as well.

"We didn't want to put any hunters in a situation where they might be over the limit. We're working on the harvest strategy at the Flyway level to get that changed so we won't have season-within-a-season limits."

For the 2020-2021 season, Alabama hunters will again have a daily bag limit of 6 ducks, which may include no more than 4 mallards (no more than 2 of which may be females), 1 mottled duck, 2 black ducks, 1 pintail, 3 wood ducks, 2 canvasbacks, 1 scaup, and 2 redheads. The daily bag limit for coots is 15 per day.

The daily bag limit for mergansers is 5, only 2 of which can be hooded mergansers. The aggregate bag limit of 5 dark geese (Canada, White-Fronted and Brant) shall not include more than 3 Canada geese or 1 Brant. For light geese (Snow, Blue, Ross's) the aggregate bag limit is 5. Possession limit is three times the daily bag limit.

Regular season dates for ducks, coots, mergansers and geese are November 27-28 and December 5-January 31, 2021. The Youth, Veterans and Active Duty Military Special Waterfowl Days are set for November 21 and February 6, 2021.

After a successful season last year, Alabama again will offer a limited sandhill crane hunt in north Alabama. The limited quota sandhill hunts will have 400 permits with 1,200 tags. The daily bag limit is 3. The season possession limit is 3. Sandhill season dates are December 4-January 3, 2021, and January 11-31, 2021.

"We had a good opening season for sandhill cranes," Maddox said. "We harvested 291 birds, which is about 24 percent of the allocated tags. We'll be doing the same thing this year."

Registration for a sandhill crane permit will open September 8 and the random drawing for permits will be held after registration closes at 8 a.m. on September 29.

Visit www.outdooralabama.com/what-hunt/sandhill-crane-hunting-alabama for the link to apply for a sandhill permit. A $10 registration fee applies.

"Last year's sandhill season was very positive, overwhelmingly positive," Maddox said.

"Everybody seemed to have a good time. Several hunters managed to fill their bag limits. People are excited to have the opportunity to chase this bird in the field again this year in Alabama."

Maddox said the sandhill crane population in the U.S. has been steadily increasing over the past few years. However, the number of sandhills that end up in Alabama is directly related to the weather, just like ducks.

"The colder it is, the more birds show up in Alabama," he said. "We had a good number of sandhills show up last year, but with colder weather, we'll have more birds show up."

Maddox said the bulk of the sandhill population spends summers in the northern U.S. states and the Canadian provinces of Ontario, Manitoba and Quebec.

"Like ducks, sandhills only want to move as far as they have to, so the more snow cover up north, the better it is for Alabama," he said. "Sandhills are feeding in dry or slightly wet agricultural fields. Snow cover pushes them farther south.

"We have really good habitat in Alabama for sandhills. Most of our sandhills winter on Wheeler National Wildlife Refuge and along the Tennessee River. But there is a decent population on Weiss Lake on the Coosa River."

Maddox just hopes the weather conditions change for the 2020-2021 seasons after two years of less-than-average waterfowl hunting success.

"Last season looked a lot like the previous season," Maddox said. "It was a pretty warm, mild winter here in Alabama. And, it was pretty mild in most of the country. We never saw that late good push of ducks that we are used to when we have cold weather. So, it made duck hunting fairly tough.

"It was a fairly wet winter across the Midwest and southern United States. There was a lot of water available on the landscape that provided a lot of available habitat for birds to spread out. It was almost a mirror image of the previous season."

Maddox said the most recent quality duck season in Alabama occurred during the 2017-2018 season.

"That was a really good season," he said. "We had a lot of cold weather that pushed down. We had a stretch of below freezing temperatures in Alabama. We really need that in the North and Midwest to put ice on the landscape to minimize the open water. And we need snow on the landscape to cover the available food and push the birds further south into open water and good habitat.

"Overall, it's looking pretty good for this season. As long as we stay with average rainfall, we'll have good habitat for migratory birds that make it here this fall and winter."

For some early waterfowl action, don't forget about the Special Teal Season, which runs Sept. 12-27, 2020, with a daily bag limit of six birds.

Also, the early season for geese runs Sept. 1-30 and then Oct. 12-24. During the September season, hunters can take five dark geese per day, but only one Brant is allowed in that bag limit. The bag limit for light geese is five per day for the entire season.

Below are a couple of savory summer recipes shared with The Tribune by home cooks across Cullman County. To submit a recipe, email maggie@cullmantribune.com.

GIN'S ZUCCHINI BREAD
(from North Alabama Agriplex Youth Educator Nicole Taylor)

Ingredients:
- 3 eggs
- 3/4 cup oil
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 cups zucchini, grated (do not peel, add to above)
- 2 tsp. vanilla

Measure and sift into above ingredients:
- 3 cups flour
- 3 tsp. cinnamon
- 1/2 tsp. baking powder
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. baking soda
- Add nuts if desired

Directions:
1. Pour into 2 greased bread pans (or 4 small mini pans).

2. Bake at 325 for 1 hour.

MEMAW NOODLES
(from Ellen Berry)

Note from Ellen Berry: This is my own contribution. It's my favorite thing my grandmother fixed when I was a kid. It brings nice memories and her cooking is like no other!

Ingredients:
- 1 package egg noodles (8 oz.)
- 1 can cream of chicken soup
- 1 soup can of milk (pour milk into used cream of chicken soup can and pour in)
- 1 can chicken, shredded or pre-canned (if desired)
- Black pepper

Directions:
1. Cook noodles until done; drain.

2. Return to pan, stir in soup, milk and chicken.

3. Heat through; add pepper to taste.
