A DAY OF CARING

UNITED WAY OF CULLMAN COUNTY

CULLMAN, Ala. – United Way Day of Caring took place Tuesday, and although it was a little leaner than normal due to COVID-19, teams of volunteers worked hard all over town lending a hand.

"Today looked a little different than typical years," said United Way of Cullman County Executive Director Becky Goff.

"We had a lighter turnout and we didn't get to gather as a group, but there was no shortage of caring and compassion for our community and United Way."

Goff said more than 75 volunteers participated in projects for local nonprofits.

"Volunteers spent the day landscaping, pressure washing, cleaning and spreading encouragement around Cullman," she said.

United Way expressed thanks to Milo's Hamburgers for donating breakfast and Coca-Cola for donating drinks for all the volunteers. Businesses that sent volunteers to participate include: REHAU, LP, Peoples Bank, North Alabama Dive Center, Payroll Services, Publix, Wal-Mart, Good Grit Magazine, The Lakeside Life, Vinemont Town Council and Topre.

Jacobs proclaims Sept. 17-23 Constitution Week in Cullman

Leanne West
Contributor

CULLMAN, Ala. – "We the People of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

That is the preamble to the United States Constitution, the document that embodies our fundamental laws and principles. Today, the U.S. Constitution is the world's oldest continuously-active codified constitution, having been in effect since 1789!

"It's important for all Americans to know how our country was created and how our Constitution came to be," said Cullman Mayor Woody Jacobs. "It's the basis of our whole way of life in this country."

The history of the framing of the U.S. Constitution is incredible. On May 25, 1787, the Constitutional Convention opened in Philadelphia. Over the course of the next few months, and through much debate, delegates devised a document establishing our federal government with three equal branches of government and a system of checks and balances among those branches, dividing power between the federal government and the states, and protecting the individual liberties of its citizens. The Constitution was signed 233 years ago Sept. 17, 1787.

To commemorate the 233rd anniversary of the signing of the Constitution, Jacobs officially proclaimed the week of Sept. 17-23, 2020 as CONSTITUTION WEEK in the City of Cullman. Due to COVID-19 precautions, no formal proclamation presentation was held, but the proclamation was forwarded to the Drippings Springs Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR).

"I want to thank our local DAR members and other local organizations for doing so much to preserve our history and educate our citizens about the Constitution and about the founding of our country," said Jacobs. "I am proud to proclaim Constitution Week once again and, as always, I urge everyone to find out more about our Constitution and the story of our country's founding – it's truly a remarkable story!"

Constitution Week was started many years ago by the DAR. From dar.org: "In 1955, the Daughters petitioned Congress to set aside September 17-23 annually to be dedicated for the observance of Constitution Week. The resolution was later adopted by the U.S. Congress and signed into Public Law #915 on August 2, 1956 by President Dwight D. Eisenhower. The aims of the celebration are to (1) emphasize citizens' responsibilities for protecting and defending the Constitution, preserving it for posterity; (2) inform the people that the Constitution is the basis for America's great heritage and the foundation for our way of life; and (3) encourage the study of the historical events which led to the framing of the Constitution in September 1787."

To read the Constitution and other founding documents, or to find out more about the documents' history, visit archives.gov/founding-docs or constitutionfacts.com, or ask a DAR member. To find out more about the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR), visit dar.org.

ADOL announces Extended Benefits program to expire; benefits to continue through Oct. 3

Tara Hutchison
Contributor

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – The Alabama Department of Labor (ADOL) announced today that the Extended Benefits (EB) program will expire Sept. 12, 2020. ADOL will continue to pay these benefits through Oct 3.

This is a separate program from the Pandemic Emergency Unemployment Compensation (PEUC) program that was enacted under the CARES Act. PEUC provides for an additional 13 weeks of regular unemployment following exhaustion.

The EB program is a federal program that is triggered when a state's insured unemployment rate exceeds 5.9%. Alabama's weekly insured unemployment rate* of 6.11% triggered the state onto a 13-week EB period beginning the week of May 31. It is usually available during times of adverse economic conditions.

Alabama will trigger off of the program Sept. 12, 2020, when the weekly insured unemployment rate will drop to below 5.0%.

While the EB program was available for up to 13 weeks, not all claimants were eligible to receive all weeks.

 INSURED UNEMPLOYMENT RATE (IUR)
The rate is computed by dividing Insured Unemployed for the current quarter by Covered Employment for the first four of the last six completed quarters. This is not the same as the monthly unemployment rate.

Wallace State's Aljon Celis chooses Stanford after Jack Kent Cooke scholarship recognition

Russell Moore
WSCC

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – Wallace State graduate Aljon Celis, a 2020 Jack Kent Cooke scholar, begins classes this week at Stanford University in California.

Celis, also a Vinemont High graduate, was one of 50 Jake Kent Cooke scholarship recipients in April and chose Stanford over multiple prestigious colleges, including Brown University in Rhode Island, Cornell University in New York, Amherst College in Massachusetts, Emory University in Atlanta and the University of North Carolina.

As a national Jack Kent Cooke scholarship winner, it provides Celis with up to $40,000 a year to complete his bachelor's degree.

"The decision to attend Stanford University was more difficult than I expected. When I became a Jack Kent Cooke semifinalist, I had Ivy League schools and some of the top 20 schools in America contacting me. It was a shock at first to receive that attention. I never thought I could have the opportunity to be on those radars," Celis said.

Celis, a first-generation immigrant from the Philippines, plans to major in international relations and ultimately work for the United States government.

"I want to one day work with the United States citizenship and immigration services to help advocate for immigrants who deserve to move to the U.S., helping them become successfully integrated into American society.

"I went through the immigration process not too long ago, and it's an expensive and difficult process. I want to help people flourish in this country, so they can focus on the American dream I've been blessed to achieve," said Celis, 26, a general studies graduate. "Stanford offers a great opportunity in this field."

Celis graduated from Vinemont in 2012 and worked through the naturalization process before enrolling at Wallace State for the first time in 2016.

"My educational journey has definitely had its ups and downs. I came from the Philippines at a young age, was thrown into an American school and had to learn English immediately.

"It was hard to endure at times. I made it and I'm grateful for the support I've received through it all from my friends, family, teachers at Vinemont and at Wallace State.

"I'll wear my Wallace State colors proud at Stanford. Wallace State is what I consider a dream factory. It helped me pursue what I want to do in my life," Celis said.

Celis was the only Jack Kent Cooke winner from Alabama and the second all-time at Wallace State.

In addition to financial support, scholarship recipients receive comprehensive educational advising from the Jack Kent Cooke Foundation to guide them through the process of transitioning to a four-year college and preparing for their careers. Scholars additionally receive opportunities for internships, study abroad, and graduate school funding, as well as connection to a thriving network of over 2,700 fellow Cooke Scholars and alumni.

Celis was also recognized last month as a national 2020 Sigma Kappa Delta award winner for his short fiction story "Brown," a story about an immigrant of color who is struggling to overcome his identity crisis in modern day America.

Celis added he plans to prolong his writing efforts at Stanford.

"Stanford has a great creative writing program, and I want to use that to continue to develop as a writer," he said.

Wallace State's cross country: men finish 3rd, women 5th at Azalea City Classic

Russell Moore
Wallace State Athletics

HANCEVILLE, ALA. – Wallace State's cross-country teams made their 2020 season debuts at the Azalea City Classic in Mobile over the weekend.

Wallace State's men finished third out of six teams and the women placed fifth in the opening event hosted by South Alabama.

"We believe Taylor Nails and Jonathan Jenkins will be at the top for us all season. They both had great freshman seasons and should lead us," said Wallace State coach Stan Narewski, who has led the men's program to seven conference championships. "Raleigh Stamps is a name to watch out for as well."

Trentan Williams placed 20th overall (17:04.9) for Wallace State, and Dakota Sheppard and Jakori James were 23rd and 24th respectively. Sheppard, a freshman from Brewer, ran a 17:21.3, and James, from Pearl Miss., finished with a 17:21.8. Williams is a Cold Springs grad.

Rounding out the field for the Wallace State men at South Alabama were Blake Terry (18:16.0), Jonathan Collett (18:42.0) and Dave Hubert (18:50.8).

Wallace State's men placed ahead of Troy, Marion Military Institute and the University of Mobile. South Alabama won the event.

Freshmen Cole Akridge (Cold Springs) and Jason Manstream (Oneonta) also make up the men's roster this season. Alex Shoaf is the manager.

"Our men's group is as solid as it can be. You can draw our guys out of a hat and a new person could be the No. 1 during any given race," Narewski said. "That's a good feeling."

WSCC

"Cassidy Winter and Jennifer Aviles have led the charge since the first day of camp, and we believe they'll be among the top runners in the conference," Narewski said.

Freshman Jaycee Biffle (21:56.7) and sophomore Juliana Ballew (22:39.9) placed among the Top 40 for the Lady Lions. Biffle is from Rogers High and Ballew from Pleasant Valley.

Lanora Hill (22:50.2), Breanna Smith (22:57.6), Ally Amerson (23:17.1) and Katie O'Malley (23:17.1) made up the Lady Lions' field. Hill is from Southside HS, Smith from J.B. Pennington, Amerson from Hatton and O'Malley from Rogers.

Sophomores Maggie Graham (Lawrence County) and Logan Ayers (St. Bernard) make up the rest of the Wallace State women's roster this season. Yessinia Pascual-Contreras is the manager.

The women's program has won four ACCC titles, including the last two.

Wallace State's women finished ahead of the University of Mobile and Marion Military Institute.

Both Wallace State teams travel to Huntsville on Saturday for the UAH Invitational.

"Through all of the uncertainties (during the pandemic) and schedule changes, we're looking to get better every day. We have a great group of runners and individuals. They are all a joy to be around," Narewksi said.

St. Bernard sweeps area match with Brilliant

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – St. Bernard hosted Brilliant for a 1A, Area 12 volleyball matchup Tuesday night and the Lady Saints sent the Tigers home with a loss after sweeping the match in three sets. St. Bernard took the match with 25-12, 25-22 and 25-21 wins.

St. Bernard 25 – Brilliant 12

The Lady Tigers took an early 4-2 lead in the opening set before the Lady Saints climbed back to tie things up at 7. St. Bernard kept its momentum going and pulled ahead 13-10 before using a huge scoring run to put the first set away. The Lady Saints outscored Brilliant 12-2 the rest of the way to win the first set 25-12.

St. Bernard 25 – Brilliant 22

The second set was a little more tense than the first. St. Bernard held a slim lead over the Lady Tigers early in the set but was eventually able to build a 16-8 advantage. However, Brilliant mounted a scoring run of its own to trim the lead all the way down to 18-16 late in the set. The Lady Tigers managed to tie things up at 21 and threatened to even the match at one set apiece but the Lady Saints rallied to finish the set and moved ahead 2-0 in the match with a 25-22 win.

St. Bernard 25 – Brilliant 21

Despite falling behind 2-0, Brilliant wasn't ready to lay down. St. Bernard took an early 4-0 lead that became a 10-5 lead as the set progressed, but the Lady Tigers wouldn't let the Lady Saints pull away. St. Bernard got ahead 21-15 late in the set but Brilliant was eventually able to cut the lead down to 23-21. It wasn't enough though, and the Lady Saints held on to win the set 25-21 and sweep the area match with the Lady Tigers.

Brianna Garcia led St. Bernard with 11 aces in the win to go along with two kills and three digs. Makenzie Cruce posted five kills, three digs and an ace and Emma Whaley added four digs, three aces and two kills in the win. The Lady Saints will travel to Marion County Thursday.

Greg Ostendorf
AU Athletics

AUBURN, Ala. – It's been a different offseason for Shaun Shivers and not just because of COVID-19. The Auburn running back has become a celebrity around town since his game-winning touchdown run in the Iron Bowl last fall. The run, in which Shivers ran through an Alabama defender and knocked his helmet off, will go down in Auburn lore.

"When I go out to Walmart or get food, people always stop me like, 'How does it feel to be a legend here at Auburn?' That's been kind of crazy," he said. "I didn't know it was going to blow up like that. People still talk about it to this day."

For Shivers, the focus has turned to the 2020 season where the junior is the most experienced player returning in a running back room loaded with talent.

The room also features sophomores D.J. Williams and Harold Joiner, redshirt freshman Mark-Antony Richards and true freshman Tank Bigsby. However, of that group, Shivers and Williams are the only two backs who saw more than 12 carries last year. The two freshmen, Richards and Bigsby, have yet to play a game for Auburn.

So, Shivers, the elder statesman of the group, has taken it on himself to lead the others.

"That's something I've always wanted to do," Shivers said. "Be a leader for the team and the program and just let people feed off my energy. I knew I wanted to step up because it was time. This year I just took on a big role. It's time to step up and lead the team and just do what I've always done since growing up – be a leader."

"We see what kind of player he is on the field, but off the field he's just incredible to be around," new offensive coordinator Chad Morris said.

"When you walk in, he just lights the room up. I've really enjoyed getting to know him. And then when you get to watch his work ethic and watch him perform out on the field, he's a guy that it means something to him. There's no doubt about it. He wants to be great."

'A BIG JUMP'

Every year, there's a player who seemingly comes out of nowhere. Somebody who played little to none the year before and then takes a big jump in the offseason.

You saw it last year with linebacker Zakoby McClain. As a true freshman in 2018, McClain played in 13 games and recorded just four tackles. Last year, he broke through with 55 tackles, 5.5 tackles for loss, three forced fumbles and one interception that he returned 100 yards for a touchdown against Alabama.

This year, sophomore defensive end Colby Wooden could be that guy.

With Marlon Davidson off to the NFL, Wooden slides in behind Big Kat Bryant at the defensive end spot, and if the fall camp is any indication, he should see more action this season.

"Colby Wooden is one of the guys that has taken a big jump from last year to this year," Auburn defensive coordinator Kevin Steele said. "He's a smart guy. He's worked hard in the weight room. He's done all the little things. That and he's very, very competitive. He realizes every play has a life of its own. Every drill that he does, there's a winner and a loser. It's just the way it is. It's the business we're in.

"So, when you line up 1-on-1 in individual drills on practice 13 against an offensive lineman, it's not just a drill. There is a winner, and there is a loser.

'You either get your job done or he gets his done. He is the kind of guy that will fight you until he drops. He goes about every drill, every play, to try to be the best he can be."

Because of his work with strength coach Ryan Russell, Wooden has bulked up some and also has the ability to shift inside like Davidson did at times last year.

FAMILIAR FACES

In 2011, Chad Morris left Tulsa after one year to become the offensive coordinator at Clemson. Who was the defensive coordinator on that Clemson staff? None other than Kevin Steele. Now, nine years later, the two have reunited as coordinators at Auburn.

"I don't know how many coordinators have ever worked together at two different places," Morris said. "That's probably pretty unique across the landscape of college football.

"Kevin is a great friend, a guy that's extremely knowledgeable, has had great success. He and I have done a lot of talking. He wants to hear about offense. I want to hear about defense. So we've really got a great opportunity during our down time to talk some ball and be able to share ideas back and forth with each other. That's been great.

"And then also, to be able to lean on Kevin a little bit at times. He's been here. He's been at Auburn. He understands the dynamic at Auburn. I've asked him a lot of questions about Auburn and moving forward, and he's done a great job of helping me out with that."

Happy 102nd Birthday, Ms. Nelyne Parker!

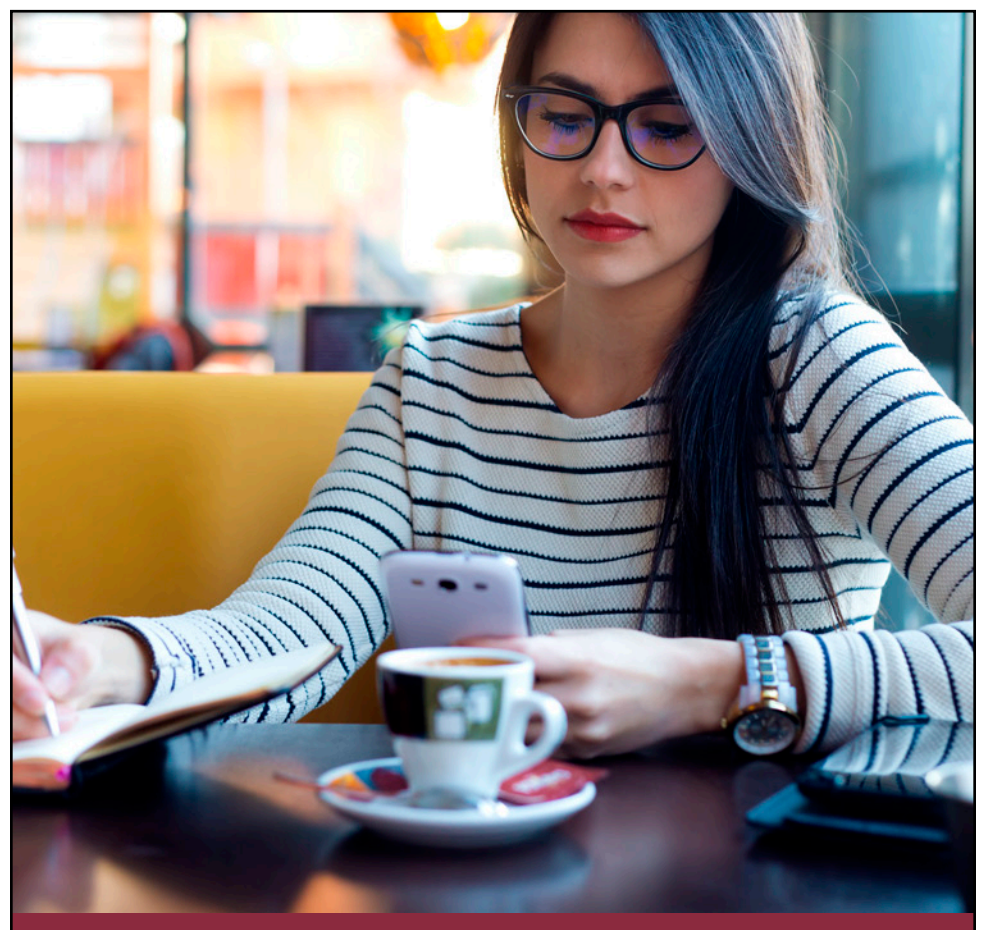

COUNTRY LIVING

Country Living, family and friends would like to wish Ms. Nelyne Parker a very Happy 102nd Birthday. She was born Sept. 15, 1918. She said she was raised on a farm and said that's why she has made it so long. She said her greatest blessing has been her son Bill and his wife Sara, and all her grandkids. She loves telling stories from her childhood and says she has seen a lot of things come and go, and lots of changes- some good, and some she says no so much. She has lived at Country Living for many years and says it's her second family; she loves all her friends here. Her one true phrase in life is, "This too shall pass." So, we all use that phrase now. She is a true inspiration and blessing to us all.

Best Bets

3 p.m. on ESPN
MLB Baseball

The top two teams in the National League West get at it tonight at Petco Park, where Fernando Tatis Jr. and the San Diego Padres host Mookie Betts and the Los Angeles Dodgers in the rubber game of a three-game set. The Dodgers, owners of baseball's best record, are built to win today, while the Padres are the team of tomorrow, boasting a roster full of young talent led by Tatis, who has blossomed into a bonafide star in this abbreviated season.

7 p.m. on WBIQ
Islands of Wonder

This miniseries exploring three of the most exotic and mysterious islands on Earth continues with "Madagascar." Regarded by many scientists to be the oldest island on Earth, Madagascar has been isolated longer than any other place in the world. As a result, life here has had time to evolve in unusual ways, resulting in more unique wildlife than possibly any other island on the planet.

7 p.m. on WIAT
55th Academy of Country Music Awards

Fifteen-time ACM Award winner Keith Urban hosts these ceremonies honoring the biggest names and emerging talent in the country music industry, broadcast live from three iconic locations in Nashville, Tenn.: the Grand Ole Opry House, historic Ryman Auditorium and The Bluebird Cafe. Scheduled performers include Kelsea Ballerini, Old Dominion, Maren Morris, Thomas Rhett, Miranda Lambert and Tim McGraw. Among this year's nominees, Morris earned five nods in four categories, including her fourth Female Artist of the Year nomination. First-time ACM nominee Justin Bieber has four nods for his "10,000 Hours."

8 p.m. on WTTO
Coroner

In "The Suburbs," the first of another new two-part episode, a victim causes a building lockdown, forcing Jenny (Serinda Swan) to team up with a former colleague. Elsewhere, Detective McAvoy (Roger Cross) pursues a recently released prison inmate, determined that his freedom will be short-lived. Meanwhile, Liam (Éric Bruneau) gives Ross (Ehren Kassam) a hand with his grandfather. Tamara Podemski and Nicholas Campbell also star.

8 p.m. on SHOW
Movie: The Jesus Rolls

Super-fans of the Coen Brothers' cult comedy "The Big Lebowski" may enjoy this 2019 quasi-follow-up, which finds John Turturro — who also wrote and directed the film — reprising his "Lebowski" character of Jesus Quintana. Actually, though, the film mainly is a remake of Bertrand Blier's controversial 1974 French film "Going Places," chronicling the exploits of three sexually depraved misfits (Turturro, Bobby Cannavale and Audrey Tautou). Pete Davidson, Jon Hamm, Susan Sarandon, Sonia Braga and Christopher Walken also are featured.

9 p.m. on FXX
Archer

The Emmy-winning adult animated sitcom opens Season 11 with a heck of a reboot, as the premiere, "The Orpheus Gambit," reveals that Sterling Archer (voice of H. Jon Benjamin) has spent the past three seasons in a coma. Now awake and back in the world of spying, Archer discovers many things have changed during his long "nap," and some of his colleagues aren't especially keen to pick up where they left off with him. Aisha Tyler, Jessica Walter, Judy Greer and Chris Parnell also are heard. Another new episode follows.

9:03 p.m. on LIFE
Marrying Millions

Nonie comes to a major decision about the future of her relationship with Reese after enduring a rocky dinner with his family in the new episode "An Indecent Proposal." Katie sets up a double date with Kevin and her best friend Natalie, but things don't go according to plan. Bill sees his biggest fear becoming a reality when Sharon moves in with Brianna and him, while Rick tells his friends he plans to propose to Erica.

"Islands of Wonder" premieres on PBS.

The General Fund is the primary operating fund of the school district. This fund includes the majority of state and local revenues and related expenditures, except for those required to be accounted for in a different fund type.

The primary source of state revenues is derived from the State of Alabama Education Trust Fund. The Alabama State Legislature approves the Education Trust Fund Budget each year. The State Education Trust Fund receives the majority its funding from sales and income tax, which are more susceptible to changes in economic conditions.

Cullman City Schools state allocations through the Foundation Program increased by $190,939 for FY2021 when compared to FY2020. This increase is attributed to a rise in state funded certified units equal to one and an increase of Other Current Expense by the Legislature. There was no state raise given by the Legislature for FY2021.

In order to receive funding from the State Education Trust Fund through the Foundation Program, all school systems must provide a 10.0 mill property tax equivalency match. Cullman City Schools match to participate in the Foundation Program is $3,413,518 for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2021, a decrease of $6,761.

Budgeted revenues and other financing sources in the General Fund decreased by $493,718.06.16 for FY2021. This decrease is due to the net of increases and decreases in State Allocations and local revenues. While local revenues did increase for FY2021 the overall State Allocations decreased.

The Advancement & Technology allocation went away for FY2021 which was a loss of $759,020. These funds may come back but this is unknown until the Legislature meets in the Spring. The increase in budget local revenue is derived primarily from the increase in sales tax appropriations and ad valorem.

The City of Cullman appropriates one cent of sales tax to Cullman City Schools, which reflects $3.5 million in revenue for FY2021. Additionally, local revenue budgets increased slightly in county wide property and sales taxes that are shared with other county districts on the basis of enrollment. As Cullman's student enrollment has increased relative to the county, so has its proportionate share of these revenues.

Budget General Fund expenditures and other fund uses increased by $99,142.94 for FY 2021 primarily in instructional services. The school district continues to transfer $100,000 to the capital projects fund for roofing needs and turf replacement. The $450,000 that was transferred to the building projects fund for building projects in previous years is now used as debt service on the $11.3 (million) bond issue that was issued in FY2020.

Budget over-expenditure planned and covered by previous year revenues

• State Transportation Fleet Renewal - $7,738,00
• Surplus in Local Fund Source - $234,328.11
• Advancement & Technology Funds Remaining ($705,000.00)

The Advancement & Technology Funds were received in previous years but will be expended in FY2021. Fleet Renewal funds are new for the district and will continue to rollover each year. The General Fund projected ending fund balance as of September 30, 2021 is $7,500,216.

This represents 25% of expenditures and approximately 3.0 months of operations in the General Fund. Local boards of education are required by act of the Alabama State Legislature to develop a plan to establish and maintain a minimum reserve fund equal to one month's operating expenses. The Board of Education has established a goal of a three-month operating reserve.

Show (from Front)

Christy Perry

CULLMAN, Ala. – The sixth annual Jack Aces Bike & Car Show is happening this Saturday, Sept. 19 from 3:30-10 p.m. at Cullman's Depot Park. Traditionally the event is held in August and centered around the Festhalle Farmers Market, but this year, due to COVID-19, it was pushed back.

"We had to move things around this year, but we are excited to finally be able to have our show," said Jack Aces member Jamie Carpenter.

"It's a lot of fun with some great bikes and cars. We hope families will come out and enjoy a day outside, eat some great food and help us raise money for a really great cause."

Registration will take place from 3:30-6:30 p.m.; the cost to register is $25. This year, $1,000 in prize money will be given to the winners, including $300 to first-place bike and first-place car, $150 to the second-place winners and $50 to the third-place winners. Best of Show winners will take home custom trophies.

Sponsoring this year's People's Choice winners is Dallice Attaway-State Farm, said Carpenter. "We certainly appreciate her for helping us out this year."

The money raised at the Jack Aces Bike & Car Show will benefit the Cullman Police Department's Shop with a Cop program, which provides a one-on-one shopping experience at Christmastime for officers and underprivileged children in Cullman County.

Due to much of the event being moved to Depot Park this year, guests are welcome to bring their own canopies for shade, and the park will accommodate state social distancing guidelines. Food will be available from several food trucks and vendors including Augusta's Original Street Kitchen food truck, The Wacked Out Weiner and SnoBiz. Cold beer will also be sold.

The Jack Aces especially want to thank this year's sponsors: Colburn Construction, Inc., H&S Appliance Repair Inc., Law Tigers Alabama, Redline Leather Workz, Iron Mountain Supply, Iron Mountain Construction, LLC., Integrity Auto and Craig Batteries in Cullman.

There will be raffles prizes and the popular 50/50 raffle.

CULLMAN, Ala. – Cullman Electric Cooperative Manager of Communications & External Affairs Brian Lacy on Tuesday said crews are ready to begin any necessary repairs caused by storms from Hurricane Sally.

"We always keep a close eye on what the weather is doing in the Gulf Mexico during hurricane season. Fortunately, we are far enough away from the Gulf Coast that we don't have to take the same precautions and preparations as electric co-ops closer to the coast.

"We follow the latest updates from the National Weather Service so we are prepared for any weather that might impact our service area," Lacy said.

"We also stay in close communication with our statewide office, the Alabama Rural Electric Association, as they help coordinate repair efforts. If other cooperatives in Alabama or neighboring states need help after a storm, once we know our area is safe, we work with AREA to get our linemen and equipment headed to the areas that need help."

While Cullman County is in the northern portion of the state there is a possibility of rough weather.

"The best case scenario for this storm is the severe weather misses our area, we get some much needed rain, and our linemen can be called upon if needed to help other communities that are impacted by the storm," he said.

"There is always the possibility the storm could change its track and some of the severe weather impacts our area, in which case our crews will be ready to respond to any power outages as soon as it is safe to work outside."

If the worst were to happen, Lacy said he is confident the linemen and crews will respond quickly to repair damaged transformers or downed lines.

"From the co-op's perspective, any storm system presents a possibility of power outages due to lightning and high wind that can cause trees or large branches to fall on power lines. We always encourage people to stay weather aware. Have a weather radio and a good weather app on their cell phone," he said. "Sign up for the Cullman Electric Cooperative text message outage reporting, and follow the co-op's outage map on our website or by downloading the Cullman Electric Cooperative mobile app."

While those repairs are taking place residents may want to take stock in what supplies they have on hand.

"A storm emergency kit with flashlights, extra batteries, bottled water and some non-perishable food is a good thing to have in your house at all times," he said.

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Cullman Power Board (CPB) is preparing for possible outages from storms related to Hurricane Sally.

"The best case scenario is for stabilizing weather fronts to impact the storm system and stabilize the severe characteristics of the approaching weather system," said CPB General Manager Mike Manning. "The worst case scenario is for the severe weather system to grow in intensity and maintain a severe storm capability as the storm continues to move inland and across the region."

Manning said his department is ready to answer the call if or when residents lose power inside the city.

"Severe storms typically present challenges to LPCs (local power companies) based on the duration and extent of damages. Cullman Power Board (CPB) routinely maintains a state of readiness to respond to unexpected events," he said.

With yet another hurricane making landfall this month in the Gulf, Manning spoke to the challenges CPB employees face, from the those answering calls to the linemen reconnecting power, during a major storm.

"When severe weather events such as hurricanes and tropical storms occur, CPB strives to restore all power as soon as possible in a safe and efficient manner. Once power is restored to all CPB customers our crews typically assist other LPCs that still have customers in need of restoration," he said.

"This work is performed in accordance with mutual aid agreements that are in place and operating prior to the storm event. If CPB incurs substantial damage from a storm event, CPB will receive mutual aid assistance from other regional LPCs and/or contract utility crews."

Manning said patience is always key when linemen are reconnecting lines and he urged any resident who loses power to report the outage and stay indoors.

"CPB appreciates the patience and understanding of our customers.

"Rest assured that CPB crews and assisting crews will continue to work as hard as we can to restore power service in the safest and most expedient manner as possible," he stated.

In the event of downed power lines, said Manning, residents should call in the outage to the CPB's hotline at 256-734-2343 and then stay indoors until the issue is resolved.

"CPB customers should stay inside and away from downed power lines. All lines should be treated as an energized line and extreme caution should be exercised," he said.

"Contact CPB to report downed power lines at once. The roadways should be kept as clear as possible for emergency and utility crews to be able to respond to emergency matters as well as the restoration of power service."

Manning said residents should also be prepared in case of outages or prolonged outages.

"Customers should have an ample supply of non-perishable food, batteries, blankets and other vital resources on hand to 'shelter in place' until power and other utility services are fully restored," he said.

Manning finished up with an important message regarding the safety of the linemen who must be out during, and immediately following, storms.

"The restoration of power in a storm recovery is very hazardous work," he said. "CPB would request that everyone pray for the safety of not only the utility crews working to restore power, but also for all other police, fire and rescue, street and debris clearance crews and all other responders."

CULLMAN, Ala. – Cullman County Circuit Court on Monday began juror selection in its first in-person jury trial since March, with special measures in place to deal with COVID-19 safety and social distancing requirements.

Circuit Clerk Lisa McSwain told The Tribune that jurors came to the courthouse Monday morning in two separate groups at different times, to cut down on the number of people in the courtroom at one time. Once the number of jurors had been reduced to a short list, prospective jurors were brought together in the large circuit courtroom for final selection. When the trial begins, jurors will be spaced out through the large seating area usually used for courtroom observers, and sequestering and deliberation will be done in the small circuit courtroom instead of the cramped conference room off of the large courtroom, where they are usually sent.

Prior to coming to court, Cullman County jurors, for the first time, had the opportunity to complete juror qualification online.

According to a statement released by the court in August: "Those individuals receiving a summons for September jury duty will be instructed to login to a dedicated and secure website using a unique PIN assigned to each prospective juror. The new juror registration website may be accessed using either a computer, tablet or smart phone. Once logged in, each prospective juror will be asked to complete a brief questionnaire. This new process has been developed in response to the current pandemic and will be the first occasion that online jury qualification has been used. By completing the form, potential jurors may now qualify for jury service online and may also request to be excused from jury service for any other recognized exception."

Jurors who believe they may be at heightened risk of contracting COVID-19 due to age or an underlying medical condition or another recognized exception were allowed to use the online form to request to be excused rather than doing so in person.

New protocols adopted to make jury service safer during the current pandemic include sanitizing benches and other frequently touched surfaces before individuals arrive for jury service, checking each potential juror for fever upon entry to the courthouse, social distancing measures while in the courthouse, assigned seats for potential jurors in the courtroom, contactless sanitizing stations outside each courtroom, one-way travel staircases so that individuals do not pass one another when going up and down stairs, limitations on the number of people permitted in an elevator at any one time, a newly configured jury box that will permit jurors to be seated at least six feet from other jurors, and a new jury room that permits jurors to maintain an appropriate social distance during deliberations and recesses.

"There are many unique challenges associated with conducting jury trials during a pandemic but preserving access to a trial by jury is constitutionally required and we have implemented new protocols designed to help keep people safe while those trials are being conducted," said Presiding Judge Greg Nicholas. "But as important as jury service may be, we also recognize that not everyone is able to serve on a jury during the current pandemic, and the law allows individuals to be excused from jury service under certain circumstances."

Hanceville child sex abuse case underway

Cullman's return to jury trials begins with the case of Wade Allen Waldrop, 43, of Hanceville who was arrested Dec. 26, 2017 on charges of first-degree (non-statutory) rape, two counts of sexual abuse of a child under the age of 12 and enticing a minor for immoral purposes.
