Good Hope Primary students enjoying new STEAM Lab

CHRISTY PERRY/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

Kristi Barnette heads up the STEAM Lab at Good Hope Primary School. On Friday, she gave The Tribune a tour of the lab, showing off some of the materials and projects available for her students.

GOOD HOPE, Ala. – Students at Good Hope Primary School are excited to be back in school and they are especially excited about the school's new STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Art and Mathematics) Lab. Kristi Barnette is the STEAM Lab teacher at GHPS, which was recently awarded a $3,000 community service grant through Sen. Garlan Gudger, R-Cullman's office to help with STEAM Lab materials including robots, Legos and a new green screen for the students to use with Stikbots to create stories and movies.

GHPS Assistant Principal Wesley Harden said his daughters love the STEAM Lab.

"They love school. Every day I get them in the truck, and I ask them, 'How was school today?' Since we started the STEAM Lab, they both have it on Monday, so when they get in the truck on Monday, that's all they talk about," he said.

"Then we go home and whatever they did in STEAM Lab that day, we get to do it at home, which is fun. My kids love it. My oldest one for sure. She has always wanted to be an eye doctor, but now she wants to be an engineer."

The students are challenged in the STEAM classroom to work together to solve complex problems and challenges. The lessons are hands-on rather than computer-based, and it introduces children to the many areas of engineering, science and mathematics in a fun and creative way. » PAGE 3

Losses (from Front)

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – Slow-moving Hurricane Sally stalled for hours along Alabama's Gulf Coast Sept. 16, her creeping progress flooding fields — and farmers' hopes for bumper harvests.

"It started blowing high winds about 3 a.m. and didn't stop till mid-morning. It was a beating," said Eric Street, who farms near Fairhope with his brother, Tobin. "We've been preparing for this our whole life. If you farm in Baldwin County, you know it's coming."

Before the Category 2 storm brought 100-plus mph winds and over 20 inches of rain to the Gulf Coast, Street was optimistic about his crops.

"We felt like we had a great crop of cotton, an awesome crop of peanuts and one of our best crops of soybeans," said Street, who serves on the Alabama Farmers Federation State Soybean Committee.

"I think there will be something we can harvest, but I don't know about its quality. This is why we buy crop insurance and why we bought the new hurricane protection insurance."

Street's cotton crop took a beating from the hurricane, evidenced by tangled, flattened plants and cracked bolls.

"This is a huge stress on cotton," he said. "It creates a biological stress where the bolls won't open properly. The quality will be less because they won't mature properly."

Farther east in Lillian, pecans popped underfoot as Todd Cassebaum surveyed massive, overturned decades-old trees in his family's orchard. Limbs were loaded with pecans before the storm. He predicted it would have been his best crop in years.

"Years' worth of work is devastated," said Cassebaum, who farms with his wife, Hope, the Baldwin County Farmers Federation president. "We had a good crop coming before the storm. The wind was so hard the trunks rocked and fell. They just couldn't take it."

A concrete pivot foundation ripped from the soil told a similar story at Mark Kaiser's farm in Seminole.

"This storm just caught everyone off guard," said Kaiser, the Federation's District 12 director. "We knew once it slowed like that we were in trouble. There's a certain amount of prep you can do but only so much time."

Dillon Turk shares Kaiser's sentiment. Across Mobile Bay in Semmes, his family's Martin's Nursery uncovered greenhouses in preparation for the storm.

"If a bunch of wind is coming and we know it, we need to uncover the plastic," Turk said.

"If the wind catches it, it can tear the whole greenhouse down. Since we knew something was coming, we uncovered what we could. It's hard enough to get ready with enough heads up, much less with a day's notice."

Forecasters originally predicted the storm would make landfall along the Louisiana coast, but as it churned for an extended period in the Gulf, it slowly turned east, making landfall in Alabama — 16 years to the day since historic Hurricane Ivan hit the state. For nursery growers, Turk said Sally's heavy rain before its high winds was a blessing, as rain-soaked potted plants are harder to topple.

Fortunately, his family's nursery got power back the day after the storm, while neighbors in Baldwin County could be without power for weeks. Snapped power poles and downed lines were common throughout much of Baldwin County.

Mobile County Farmers Federation President Art Sessions said pecan and cotton crops appear to have taken the worst hit in his county. Damage to peanuts, soybeans and nursery crops may not show up for days, he said.

Street, Cassebaum, Kaiser and Sessions said they were thankful they purchased additional hurricane crop insurance implemented by USDA's Risk Management Agency this year. Farmers farther inland and across south Alabama felt Sally's wrath as well. The storm dumped record amounts of rain there, causing extensive damage to crops, pond dams and roadways. Additional help to farmers and homeowners came in the form of extra Alfa Insurance adjusters and agents deployed to help customers impacted by Hurricane Sally.

"Alfa Insurance's hometown adjusters and agents were checking on customers and taking claims as soon as the storm moved out," said Alfa Insurance President Jimmy Parnell, also president of the Alabama Farmers Federation. "As of Friday morning, the company had received more than 1,600 claims across Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi. An additional 18 claims adjusters from north Alabama were being deployed to help process claims in the southern part of the state."

Back near the Florida line in Seminole, Kaiser's soybeans took a beating, with tiny wind-torn holes peppering the leaves. The damage will hamper pod growth, Kaiser said, reducing quality and yields. "This was the prettiest crop of beans I'd ever seen," Kaiser said. "We were so excited because the (soybean) market had been going up."

In Fairhope, Street spent the day after the storm helping neighbors clear driveways. He's waiting on fields to dry before digging peanuts next week — if a series of storms brewing in the Atlantic avoid the Gulf.

Storms like Sally put life into perspective, Street said.

"My family is accounted for, and no one is hurt. That's what I care about," he said. "This is going to be a kick, but we will recover."

Farmers are encouraged to fill out a survey at AlfaFarmers.org/survey to help the Federation track damage and report findings to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Farmers should also report damage to their local Farm Service Agency office.

FUNNY THINGS FROM YESTERDAY

Our 1st great-grandson

Robert N. Tidwell, Sr.
robertntidwellsr@gmail.com

Our first great grandson is Crosby James Skipper. He is now 3 years old and a little boy who has an inquisitive mind. The other day he was watching a documentary program on mosquitoes and his mother wanted to change the channel, but Crosby insisted that she let him watch the program. He saw how the mosquitoes bite a person and much more information about the little pests. His little mind seems to absorb a lot of information.

We were visiting Robin and Danny Sunday afternoon and all the children were there. I have written before about his interest in knowing about snakes. As he says, "There are good snakes and there are bad snakes." After a boat ride on the lake, we dropped Tyler, Crosby and Alder off at their home.

Not long after we got back to Robin's house, Tyler sent us a picture of Crosby with a small black snake about as big around as a pencil and about 6 to 8 inches long in his hands. Crosby was smiling and letting the snake crawl around in his hands. He said, "This is a good snake."

This is Crosby's third year in Sonshine Preschool. One day at lunch they were getting ready to have the blessing. Crosby spoke up and said that he would say the blessing.

The teacher did not know if he could but told him to say it. He said the "God is great, God is good" blessing all the way through. He surprises me with the things that he knows.

This past week the teacher would introduce a letter of the alphabet and tell them words that started with that letter. One day she used "M" and gave them words to go with it. The teacher told them monkey, mouse, mother, mountain and some others. When we asked Crosby what words started with "M" he repeated the words for us.

The next day they used the letter "C." That afternoon Robin came by with the boys, and I asked Crosby what word started with the letter "C" and he pointed at himself with a big smile and said "Me." I said, "No, Me starts with a "M." I then asked him again, "What word starts with a "C?" Again, he pointed at himself and said, "Me." Since I didn't want to tease him further, I just let him spell Crosby as Me.

BILLY BOB'S STORIES AND STUFF

The woods behind my house

Bill King
Tribune
Contributor

It's early morning. The sun is up, and so am I, but both barely. My first cup of coffee warms my fingers and then my insides as it eases down my throat. I'm sitting in one of my favorite places in this world...my back porch. I'm gazing out across my yard and into the woods behind my house. God did a really good job back there and this day has the beginnings of one of His better ones. He let us help a little in the yard, but He put the woods and this beautiful day together all by Himself. It's not heaven back here, but it's not bad. My neighborhood has not awakened yet, or if they have they are being awfully quiet about it. As I listen, I hear no cars on the streets, no dogs barking, no music, and no one talking.

Fall has begun to fall. This is my favorite season of the year. There is a slight chill in the air, but my coffee is working well to keep me just warm enough.

A gentle breeze is blowing and the leaves in the trees are applauding with appreciation. The trees are wearing mostly green, but I see sprinklings of red and yellow. I even see a few brown ones, but they will come more in fashion soon and quickly grow in popularity. I watch as a few early arrivers catch a wave of wind and make their downward descent to the ground below.

Although I realize this will mean extra work for me in a few weeks, and I'll have to grab my gloves and rake when that time comes, but right now, I'm enjoying watching their show as they surf the wind. A few birds are beginning to sing but cheerful tunes.

Not a crow is in sight or has joined the choir this morning. Ginger (65) and Cocoa (15) have joined me, but they are silently resting at my feet. I think they are dreaming about being asleep.

As I gaze into the woods, I pretend I'm out in the country...out in the middle of nowhere. My adult years have been spent in apartments and houses in subdivisions.

I'm surrounded by neighbors and people now, but fortunately, I live on the backside of the neighborhood, so directly behind my back yard are dozens of acres of woods. My mind goes way back, all the way back to my boyhood in Rainsville, Alabama. I'm thinking about the old home place there, where I spent my first 20 years. The old house was little more than a shack back then. No one has lived there for almost another 20 years now, and the old house has fallen in.

I'm not thinking so much about the house as I am the woods behind the house. I haven't been back in those woods for many years now, but as far as I know they still look about like they did back then. I spent many hours hiking, hiding, and hunting back there. Did you ask why was I hiding? Because Mama believed that old saying about sparing the rod and spoiling the child! It was a great place to get away!

Periodically, we need to get away. In Mark 6:31, Jesus said to the disciples, "Come aside by yourselves to a deserted place and rest a while." In this great big beautiful but busy world, sometimes we need a good porch, a patch of woods, or some quiet place, where we can come apart... before we come apart. This is a great place to pray, and be still and quiet, so I can hear the leaves, the birds, and especially God. BTW, I'm not hiding back here.

Jackie Rushing is spending the week in Birmingham with relatives.

Miss Odis Watson, of Birmingham, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L.L. Denson.

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Trimble were the Sunday guests of her sister, Mrs. Calvin Kilgo.

Mr. and Mrs. H.N. Trimble and children were the Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Moore and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brown and children went to the boat races at Guntersville on Sunday.

Charon Denson has returned to Boston University, where he received his M.A. Degree this spring. He will continue graduate study on a S.T.B. Degree.

Welti News

Elbert Glasscock called on Corine Byrd on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Welti will go to Ponders this weekend to take advantage of the reduced prices on white shoes. Some are as low as 49 cents per pair.

David Vanzandt, Herbert Vanzandt, Willard Jordon, Kester Hamrick, Nelson Armstrong, Alvin Eidson and Dennis Curkdoil went to the show on Friday night.

Melvin Hightower, Clara Hightower and Ida Helton went to the show on Saturday night.

Mary Hamrick spent Sunday afternoon with Ivolene Buchanan.

Sarah Armstrong spent Saturday night with Delores Byrd.

Grace and Mary Nell Eidson are spending this week at Garden City.

In a report from the Bureau of Census, listing Alabama counties and the amount of cotton ginned and produced in each county, Cullman led the entire state with 40,083 bales reported produced in the crop year of 1939. Only 38,329 bales were ginned in the county for this year.

Last year's ginning report gave DeKalb County 39,934 bales and Marshall County 38,827 bales, both over the Cullman ginning report, conveying the impression that Cullman ranked third in the state.

Marshall County grew 38,849 bales, DeKalb 38,319 and the total for the state stood at 772,961 bales.

Mrs. Albert Kempson and two children, Peggy Sue and Albert, Junior, of Akron, are visiting relatives and friends in Cullman for about two weeks.

Mrs. H.O. Thompson is much improved, following several days illness at her home.

STEAM (from Front)

Said Barnette, "I tell them, this is something you might want to become because whenever I was in school, it was either a teacher or a nurse.

"Those were the two I had in mind because that was the only two things I knew. I want these kids to know that there are other areas out there."

"It just levels the playing field for all our children because some are stronger at reading and some are stronger in math," Principal Tonya Cupp added "Here, they can be themselves and be creative. It doesn't matter what their abilities and disabilities are. They love it."

The classroom has a Lego wall and table for the students to build and create.

The grant allowed the school to purchase a variety of robots for the students to work with.

The robots can be controlled with an iPad or smartphone, and one can even be controlled with colored markers.

"I wanted them to realize there are types of robots," said Barnette, who said the lab has Botley, Dash, Ozobot and Sphero robots.

Barnette has planned some fun challenges each month for the students.

In October, the kids will design corn mazes to guide the robots through by using the colored markers.

"The color patterns, if you do red-black-red, you can make it turn left," she said. "Then, if you use another color, you can make it turn right."

The lab also utilizes common household items for its engineering challenges.

Harden smiled, "Last night, I got the last paper towel. My instinct is to throw the empty roll away, and my first grader said, 'Hey, Hey, Hey, Dad! We don't throw those away. Those are for Mrs. Barnette and she said to bring those to the STEAM Lab.'"

The items are used in the "Maker Space" area of the classroom, which contains different types of materials for the students to use depending on the challenge.

One of the challenges Barnette demonstrated Friday is the Apple Basket challenge.

She explained, "They have got to make chutes and they are going to have a basket that they have to make. The apples go down the chute and into the basket. If it doesn't work, they have to figure out why it didn't work and fix the chute."

Harden said he loves that the lessons are hands-on away from the phones and computers.

"A lot of kids don't know how to problem solve," he said. "They just ask Google."

The students aren't the only ones excited; so is their principal.

"We wanted to up the higher order thinking, especially in science and math," said Cupp. "We can plan for that in reading and some in math but she (Barnette) has really upped the ante. It's just every day we wonder what she will be doing next week, and the kids just can't wait. She wants to make sure all the kids get that foundation."

The lab also provides kids an opportunity to interact with each other and work together as a team rather than to sit isolated at a computer.

Said Cupp, "Teamwork! For 5, 6 and 7 year olds, sometimes as parents- I know I am guilty of this- letting your child win at all times. Sometimes they don't always win when they play games, but now they work together for one goal so that's really good for them."

There are materials you may have at home that the lab can repurpose, such as cereal boxes, all kinds of Styrofoam, water bottles, arts and craft supplies and even those old tubs of Legos.

For Halloween, the lab will use film canisters for ghost rockets, and later the students will be making cars out of water bottles.

Barnette has even created a fun activity for Thanksgiving using batteries and different colored lights.

The separation is tenuous,
a transparent boundary between inside and out, letting in afternoon shadows that fall through curtains blue as the sky and sunlight on flowers that echo the garden

beyond a wall of glass.

We stay close as we dare to nature,
attracted by its mysteries,
in awe of its beauty,

but mindful of the borders that exclude us from the freedom of the untamed.

Knights outlast Panthers, 28-27, at home

Gary McGriff
Tribune Correspondent

ARAB, Ala. –On a perfect night for football Southside of Gadsden traveled to Arab for an AHSAA Class 6A Region 7 matchup. The Knights of Arab held off a late-game surge by the Panthers to win by a score of 28-27.

Southside took the opening kickoff and on the fifth play of the drive quarterback Michael Rich fumbled.

The ball was recovered by John Bowman at midfield where the Knights began their first drive. Arab was forced to punt after six plays.

Starting at its own 20-yard line, Southside went on an eight-play, 80-yard scoring drive. Carnel Davis led the drive with six runs capped off with a 2-yard touchdown run. With 4:13 left in the first quarter Southside led 7-0.

Arab took over at its own 39-yard line. Quarterback Aidan Cox completed a 50-yard pass to Brody McCain and Mathew Turnage scored from 10 yards out with 3:00 left in the first quarter and Arab tied the score 7-7.

On Southside's first play of its next drive the Panthers fumbled the ball again and Arab's Jonah Humphreys recovered at Southside's 23-yard line. On the very next play, Turnage scored again and Arab took its first lead with 2:22 left in the first quarter, 14-7.

Arab's defense forced a punt by the Panthers and the Knights took over with great field position at Southside's 29-yard line. Both teams were called for penalties and the period ended with the score 14-7 in favor of Arab.

On the second play of the second quarter, Cox completed a 24-yard pass to Spencer Strickland and the Knights looked to extend their lead. On the next play, Turnage scored his third touchdown on a 1-yard run. With 10:46 left in the half, Arab led 21-7.

Arab looked poised to force a Southside punt when the Panthers faced a fourth-and-1. Rich picked up the first down on a 2-yard run. Three plays later Rich completed a 54-yard touchdown pass to Cody Roberts. Southside missed the extra point and Arab maintained the lead 21-13 with 7:20 to go in the first half.

Arab used more than six minutes of the second quarter on an 11-play drive when Cox overcame a sack with a 25-yard pass to John Wesson Johnson.

On a fourth-and-5, the Panthers stopped Arab's drive, but Southside was unable to take advantage and the first half ended with Arab leading 21-13.

On the first possession of the second half, Arab appeared to be driving for another score when an offensive pass interference penalty was called against the Knights in Southside's end zone. Facing a fourth-and-13 from Southside's 28, Cox completed a pass to Turnage, and with 7:16 left in the third quarter Arab's lead was 28-13.

Looking to answer, Southside went on an eight-play drive and looked to score. Rich's pass at the goal line was intercepted by Johnson and Arab took over at its own 9-yard line.

Even aided by a personal foul penalty against the Panthers, the Knights were forced to punt. Excellent special team coverage pinned Southside at its own 1-yard line to start the fourth quarter.

Rich had back-to-back 13-yard runs and Davis added an 18-yard run. Arab got a sack from Jacob Cobb and looked to have Southside stopped. After a 13 yard pass, the Panthers faced a fourth-and-5 at Arab's 45-yard line. Southside managed to get the Knights to jump offsides and the first down allowed Southside's drive to continue.

After a couple of complete passes and an Arab penalty, Southside was on Arab's 1-yard line where Rich ran the ball for a touchdown to complete the 99-yard scoring drive.

Southside went for two on the extra point try and Davis ran the ball in the make the score 28-21 with 7:38 left in the game.

Following a couple of runs by Turnage, Cox completed a 13-yard pass to Strickland. After a facemask penalty against the Panthers, Arab looked poised to extend its lead, but Southside's Brooks Nesmith intercepted Cox on the next play the Panthers were set for an exciting finish at Arab's 43-yard line.

Rich provided some needed runs along with Davis, and on the ninth play of the drive the Southside quarterback scored on a 3-yard run. With 1:48 left to go in the game, the Panthers could tie the game with a kick or go ahead with a two-point conversion.

After a timeout, Southside Coach Gary Nelson elected to go for the lead. Rich's pass in the end zone fell incomplete, and with 1:48 left in the game, Arab's lead was 28-27.

Knight John Wilks covered the onside kick, and after a 16-yard run by Turnage, Coach Lee Ozmint's Arab Knights won the game 28-27 to improve to 2-3 overall and 1-2 in region play.

Turnage ended the night rushing for 172 yards on 29 rushes and scored all four of Arab's touchdowns. Cox went 11 for 14 passing for 182 yards.

Arab travels to Brewer High School next week.

Good Hope pulls away from Hanceville 34-13

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – Good Hope made the short trip over to Ray Talley stadium for a region showdown with the Hanceville Bulldogs and left with a 34-13 victory to improve to 5-0. The Bulldogs possessed and moved the ball for most of the first half but adjustments from the Raiders allowed them to pull away and secure the win in the second half.

Good Hope scored on its first possession of the night when quarterback Tanner Malin ran one in from eight yards out to make it a 7-0 game early.

The scoring play was set up by another big run from Malin that came on a fake punt earlier in the drive. Hanceville was in control of the ball for most of the second quarter, but the Raiders were able to get off the field with back to back sacks to force a turnover on downs.

Good Hope then extended its lead on another Malin scoring run, this time from seven yards out, to go on top 13-0 with just under a minute remaining in the quarter.

However, the first half scoring was far from over. The Bulldogs were able to work their way down the field by getting out of bounds and spiking the ball to control the clock and with just six seconds to play in the second quarter, quarterback Bo Joles punched one in from six yards out to get Hanceville on the board before the break.

The momentum wouldn't last as on the ensuing kickoff, Good Hope's Ethan Anderson fielded the ball at the 16-yard line and ran it back 84 yards to stretch the Raiders' lead to 21-6 as the first half expired.

Good Hope received the kick to open the third quarter and quickly made its way down the field by tearing off chunks of yardage on the ground.

The scoring drive was capped off by an 11-yard touchdown run by Colton Bagwell that made it a 27-6 game with nine minutes to play in the third quarter. Hanceville turned the ball over on downs on its next possession and the Raiders took advantage by putting more points on the board.

Bagwell got his second touchdown of the night to cap off the next Good Hope drive and the extra point made it 34-6 with just over three minutes to play in the third.

The Bulldogs' next possession was cut short when a Joles pass was picked off by Michael Owens deep down the middle of the field and the Raiders began taking the air out of the ball after that.

Malin converted another fake punt to maintain possession when he connected with Lawton Farr down the sideline, but Good Hope was forced to turn the ball over on downs just a few plays later.

Hanceville got on the board one more time late in the fourth quarter when Campbell hit Trevor Shadden in stride for 61 yards to get the Bulldogs into the red zone.

A few plays later, Campbell connected with Shadden again for a 19-yard touchdown pass that trimmed the deficit to 34-13 with just under four minutes to play in the game.

Hanceville wasn't able to chip away any more than that and the Raiders were able to pull away with a 34-13 region win.

Bagwell led Good Hope on the ground with 105 yards and two touchdowns, followed by Malin who added 33 yards on the ground and two scores of his own.

Shadden had a big night for the Bulldogs, hauling in five catches for 137 yards and a touchdown in the loss.

The Raiders improve to 5-0 with the win and will stay atop the region standings with a road trip to Addison coming up next week while Hanceville drops to 1-3 on the year with Locust Fork coming to town next week.

Cullman pounds Hazel Green 48-6 to remain unbeaten

Ryan Guthery
Tribune Correspondent

CULLMAN, Ala. – Cullman played host to the Hazel Green Trojans Friday night and dominated both sides of the ball to collect a 48-6 victory and move to 5-0 for the first time since 2009.

Jaylen Hughey got the Bearcats going early when he intercepted the ball on the second play of the opening drive of the game and set the Bearcat offense up with excellent field position. On the first play of the ensuing possession, Max Dueland found Jake Dueland for a 25-yard touchdown pass to put the Bearcats up 7-0 less than a minute into the game.

The Bearcat defense forced a three and out on the next Trojans possession and just three plays later, Hughey gave the Bearcats a 14-0 lead with a 32-yard touchdown run with 7:19 remaining in the first quarter.

Max Dueland then scampered in from 4 yards out to extend the Bearcat lead to 21-0 on the first play of the second quarter.

After another Hazel Green three and out, the Bearcats added to their led when Jake Dueland ran one into the end zone for a 15-yard touchdown to make it a 27-0 game with 7:57 remaining until halftime.

The Bearcats tacked on another score late in the half when Max Dueland connected with Nic Glass for a 36-yard touchdown to give the Bearcats a 34-0 halftime lead.

Cullman received the second half kick-off and pounded the ball down the field on another scoring drive capped off by a 27-yard connection between Max Dueland and Nic Glass midway through the third quarter that stretched the lead to 41-0. Late in the third quarter, Tyler Owens added to the 'Cats' lead with a 2-yard touchdown run that made it 48-0.

Midway through the fourth quarter the Trojans was able avoid the shutout when they put a touchdown on the board but missed the PAT.

Cullman ran the last six minutes off the clock to put away Hazel Green and secure the 48-6 victory. The Bearcats remain unbeaten with the win and have a road trip to Mars Hill coming up next week.

Addison collects 22-6 road win over rival Winston County

Todd Walker
Tribune Correspondent

DOUBLE SPRINGS, Ala. – Addison traveled 17 miles west to take on their biggest rival, the Double Springs Yellow Jackets Friday night and the Bulldogs came away with a hard fought 22-6 victory to improve their record to 3-2 (2-1 region).

The Dawgs kicked off and the Jackets had what turned out to be their best drive of the night on their opening possession. The Jackets got down to the Bulldog 20-yard line then self-destructed with penalties and ended up punting from the Dawg's 35. The Jackets gained half the total yards they would have for the game on this one drive.

It took quarterback Christian "Ice Man" Roberts four plays and 80 yards to bring the Dawgs offense into the end zone.

Weston "Big Game" Smith galloped 29 yards on a run and that was followed up with a tremendous throw and diving catch from Roberts to Xavier "Mr. Smooth" Barley for a 30-yard touchdown. With 5:40 to play in the first quarter, Addison led 6-0.

The first half ended with Addison holding a slim 6-0 lead even though it was a half dominated by the Bulldogs. The Jackets couldn't move the ball and the Dawgs just couldn't put points on the board.

After an exchange of punts to start the second half, Addison took over at their own 37-yard line and turned the ball over to Nelson "Tank" Martin. After "Tank" rumbled for 27 yards on two carries, Roberts found wide receiver Justin "Rocky" Mather on a nice 28-yard touchdown pass. The two-point conversion was good and at the 4:54 mark of the third quarter, Addison was up 14-0.

The next Jacket possession was doomed for failure as the "Dawg Pound Defense" continued to refuse to allow the Jackets to fly. A Dawg defender tore the wings off of the Jacket ballcarrier causing a fumble.

Jack Wilson was Johnny on the spot and recovered the fumble at the Jackets 30-yard line.

Eight plays and 30 yards later, "Tank" Martin crushed his way into the endzone for a 2-yard touchdown run. The two-point pass play was good and with only 29 seconds left in the third quarter, the Dawgs led 22-0.

But for the second time this year, the ensuing kick-off was returned 75-yards for a momentum swinging touchdown. Addison still led 22-6 going into the fourth quarter.

The Jackets were fired up and stuffed the Dawgs on their next possession forcing a punt and taking over at midfield.

The Jackets then moved to the Addison 12-yard line and that is when the Dawgs defense got nasty. Two sacks by Ross "Mini Fridge" Steele and Xavier Hernandez canceled the Jackets last threat.

Addison took over the ball and began to run the clock out. An injury took place with only 3:23 minutes to go in the game when Nelson "Tank" Martin appeared to have hurt his knee.

There is no news on the injury as of yet, but if "Tank" can't play it would be huge setback for the Bulldogs. Keep Mr. Martin in your prayers to make sure the young man can come back and complete his senior year. Good luck "Tank."

Addison will have a huge challenge on their hands next week as the host 4A power Good Hope at A.G. Hicks Stadium.

Meek falls to Hubbertville in region matchup, 57-28

Sammy Confer
sammy@cullmantribune.com

ARLEY, Ala. – Meek looked to pick up its first win of the season at home in a region game against Hubbertville on homecoming night Friday. A first-half deficit proved to be too much for the Tigers, who fell to the Lions, 57-28.

Hubbertville found the end zone on just the second play of its opening series when a 4-yard touchdown gave the Lions a quick 8-0 lead. The Tigers looked to answer on their opening possession, and they did as they pounded the ball on all seven plays of the series and Ethan Grace capped off the drive with a 26-yard run on fourth down to tie the game up at eight. A couple of penalties on the Tigers proved to be costly when a 16-yard touchdown run gave Hubbertville a 15-8 lead. Meek looked to respond behind the duo of Grace and Cam Deaver and got the drive off to a promising start, but a penalty took away a Tiger touchdown and they turned the ball over on downs. For the second time in the first quarter, the Lions found the end zone in just two plays when a 51-yard score pushed the Meek deficit to 22-8. The Tigers continued to pound the ball on the ground and that helped them move the ball down the field. Deaver finished off the drive with a 9-yard run to make it 22-16. Hubbertville added a 51-yard and a 6-yard score sandwiched around a turnover on downs by Meek to increase its lead to 36-16.

After fumbling away the kickoff, the Tigers got the ball back when Braxton Dickerson recovered a fumble himself. On just the third play of its series, Meek found the end zone through the air when David Tidwell found Grace for a 50-yard score to make it 36-22. Hubbertville put up the final score of the first half on a 1-yard scamper to put the score at 43-22.

The Tigers coughed up the ball on their opening series of the second half, and the Lions quickly converted on the turnover, scoring on a 46-yard run to push their lead to 50-22. Meek wouldn't quit, going on a 14-play drive that ended up with Grace finding the end zone from 8 yards out to cut the deficit to 50-28. That was the last Meek touchdown in the contest, and the Lions went on to add a 57-yard score to put the final at 57-28.

Grace led the way for Meek (0-5, 0-3) with 125 yards on 27 carries and a pair of touchdowns; he also added a 50-yard touchdown reception. Deaver had 152 yards on 19 carries and a touchdown, while Tidwell completed a pair of passes for 72 yards and a touchdown.

Meek is off next week and will travel to take on Marion County in another region game Oct. 2 in search of its first win of the season.

Cold Springs drops road game at Aliceville 40-7

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

ALICEVILLLE, Ala. – Cold Springs made the long trip to Aliceville to take on the Yellow Jackets Friday night and despite jumping out to an early lead, the Eagles were unable to keep pace and fell to Aliceville 40-7 to pick up their first loss of the season.

Running back Ayden Alexander put Cold Springs on top 7-0 in the first quarter with a 3-yard touchdown run but that was all the scoring the Eagles would muster Friday night. Aliceville tied things up at 7 on the ensuing possession and after a mostly scoreless second quarter, the Yellow Jackets found the end zone again with just 23 seconds left before the break to go into the half with a 14-7 lead. Aliceville scored again late in the third quarter to move ahead 20-7 and tacked on another touchdown just before the start of the fourth to go up 28-7 and begin to pull away. The Yellow Jackets added two more scores in the final period to put things away and send the Eagles home with their first loss of the season, 40-7. Cold Springs falls to 3-1 on the season with the loss but will be back home next week to face Falkville.

Broncos fall to Carbon Hill, 32-8

Doug Bates
Tribune Correspondent

CARBON HILL, Ala. – The Holly Pond Broncos traveled to Carbon Hill for an area game Friday night, and the Bulldogs came away with a 32-8 victory.

The Broncos received the opening kickoff, but after gaining an initial first down, were eventually forced to punt, pinning the Bulldogs inside their own 5-yard line.

Carbon Hill overcame that field position, driving the length of the field for the opening score.

The extra point was blocked, putting the Bulldogs up 6-0.

Lined up to kick off for the Broncos' next possession, the Bulldogs surprised Holly Pond with an onside kick, and on the next play faked a sweep around right end, completing a half back pass to a wide open Zack Lawhorn.

The two-point conversion was no good, but Carbon Hill had put up 12 points in the span of 16 seconds in the first, making it 12-0.

The Bulldogs, kicking off from their own 25, attempted another onside kick, following a 15-yard penalty. The Broncos covered the ball on the Bulldog 39.

The Broncos got their offense in gear, behind the strong running of Andrew Bell. Finding themselves on the Bulldog 11, facing third down, Landon Perkins caught a tipped ball, running it in for the only Holly Pond touchdown of the night. The two-point conversion was good.

Perkins also showed up on defense in the first half, picking off two Bulldog passes in the second quarter.

Following another Carbon Hill touchdown, the teams went to the locker rooms with the Bulldogs on top, 18-8.

The Bulldogs received the third-quarter kickoff and pounded the ball down to the Bronco 32, opening up their lead with a 32-yard touchdown pass, going up 24-8.

The last score of the game came on a 3-yard pass at the start of the fourth by Carbon Hill. Completing the two-point conversion, the Bulldogs went up 32-8, which was the final.

The Broncos fall to 1-4 and will play Sylvania next week at home.

Aggies (from Front)

Chris Pugh
Tribune Correspondent

WEST POINT, Ala. – Please keep all hands and feet inside the ride at all times. The roller coaster ending in a huge Fairview win and another West Point heartbreak was worthy of ESPN Classic status! A late two-point conversion was the difference between these two county rivals as the Aggies came away with a 28-27 win and their first every Brandin' Iron Bowl victory.

Fairview came out of the gate hot, controlling the line of scrimmage and following the backfield of Tyler Simmons and Parker Martin to the end zone on its opening two drives, converting one of two extra points. Warning: pay attention to the special teams plays and turnovers ahead. The Aggies forced West Point into two quick punts to take a 13-0 lead at the end of the opening quarter, but the ride was only beginning.

After the Warriors' first defensive stop of the game, Kelton Washington and Will Cochran went to work. On a drive where Washington continued moving the chains on the ground, Cochran finished things off with a 1-yard touchdown run to make it 13-6. Following the touchdown run was a blocked extra point that kept the lead at 13-6.

After another West Point stop the Warriors started their two-minute drill. Cochran led his team down the field moving the chains both through the air and on the ground before finally hitting Kobe Bowers for 33-yard touchdown. The dual threat QB ran twice on the series for 22 yards and went 3 for 5 with 45 yards through the air and a touchdown to tie things up at 13 right before the half.

After the converted extra point, Fairview suffered a lost fumble on the following kickoff, giving West Point one more chance to continue swinging the momentum. Ultimately it set up for a long field goal that was missed, giving us a 13-13 tie at the half. Fairview took over the line of scrimmage in the beginning of the second quarter and continued that trend throughout the third. Cochran and Washington continued leading their offense down the field to open the second half, capping off the drive when Washington struck pay dirt on an 8-yard touchdown run. Logan Selby's extra point was good making it a 20-13 game.

The series of unfortunate events continued for Fairview with a fumble by Simmons that gave the ball right back to West Point. Jacob Simpson met Simmons in the hole and forced the fumble that was recovered by Poncho Perez. West Point put together another good drive to get into field goal territory only to have it blocked by the Aggies once again.

The up and down game continued for Fairview which had a huge conversion on a Martin deep ball to Bryson Chamness for 34 yards. This, however, would be followed by a series of plays that got the Aggies deep behind the sticks, ultimately ending in a turnover on downs.

West Point, now with its first late lead of the season, began driving down midway through the fourth to put the nail in the coffin. After several first downs, the Warriors found themselves at fourth-and-1 near the red zone, only to have an early snap go into the ground and bounce straight into Eli Frost's hands. Seventy-five yards later, the Aggies tied the game at 20. The ride was getting ready for its grand finale.

Cochran threw a third-down interception on the ensuing drive, giving Fairview a chance to take the lead. Not so fast, as the Warrior defense forced another turnover on downs, giving West Point the ball with a chance to take the lead itself. Carter Thornton opened the following Warrior drive with a huge 23-yard carry putting West Point into Aggie territory. Who else but Cochran found the end zone on a 16-yard scramble to give the Warriors the lead. Selby converted once again on the extra point and gave the Warriors a 27-20 lead with just minutes left to play.

Starting from its own 40, the Fairview offense went straight to work, following Simmons down the field. Seven plays later Simmons took in a 12-yard touchdown run giving us a 27-26 game. As the field goal unit trotted out to tie the game, Fairview Head Coach George Redding called timeout and sent his offense back out on the field to attempt the two-point conversion. A quick handoff to Simmons, and just like that the Aggies found themselves with a shocking 28-27 lead with under two minutes to play.

On what would be the last drive of the game, the West Point offense ran out of time and had a hail Mary pass fall incomplete, resulting in a thrilling win for Fairview and another heartbreaker for the Warriors.

After the game, Redding said he was proud of the way his team held its composure in a tight rivalry matchup that came down to the wire. He also touched on the decision to go for the late two-point conversion that proved to be the difference.

"We coach just that, 'Don't ride the roller coaster.' We teach our guys to play level-headed one down at a time and focus on being disciplined," Redding said. "We came here to win. We knew at points in the game we had been able to control the line of scrimmage. West Point did a great job of flipping that script, but at that point in the game we just had to trust our guys."

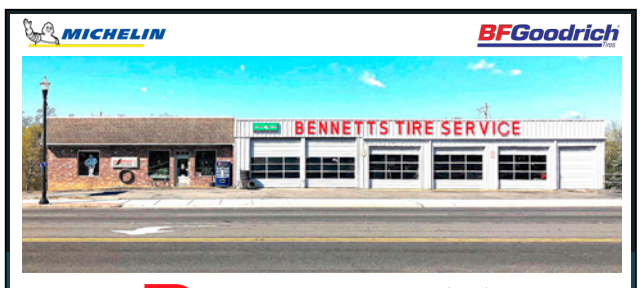

Simmons echoed his coach's words, adding, "I just looked at my line and said let's go get this. And that's what we were able to do."

Simmons finished with 19 carries for 118 yards, two touchdowns and the game winning two-point conversion. Martin added another 83 yards on the ground with his own touchdown, along with a 7 for 10 passing night for 79 yards. Hauling in three of those for 53 yards was Chamness.

West Point's Cochran finished with more dual threat numbers including 22 carries for 139 rushing yards and two touchdowns. He threw 11 for 18 with 139 yards and a touchdown as well.

Washington finished with 17 carries for 72 yards and a touchdown. Bowers was Cochran's main target who finished with four catches on the night for 56 yards and a touchdown.

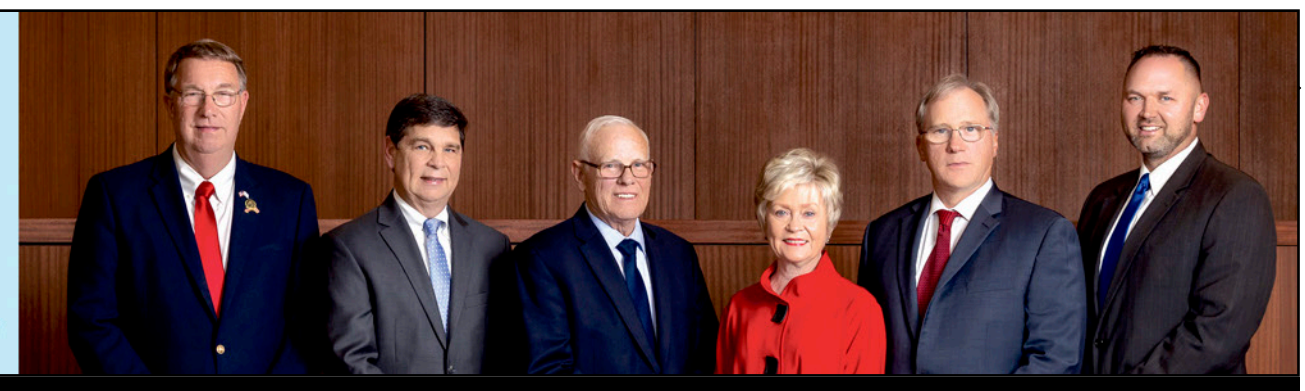

West Point will be traveling next week to play a non-region matchup with the Hayden Wildcats, while Fairview heads home to battle Boaz in a big region game matchup.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – Alabama Department of Labor Secretary Fitzgerald Washington announced Friday that Alabama's preliminary, seasonally adjusted August unemployment rate is 5.6%, down from July's rate of 7.9%, and above August 2019's rate of 2.8%. August's rate represents 127,186 unemployed persons, compared to 176,556 in July and 62,149 in August 2019.

Cullman County's rate is 3.6%, down from July's rate of 5.1% and above August 2019's rate of 2.6%.

"The drop in the unemployment rate is certainly good news for Alabama," said Gov. Kay Ivey. "We have worked extremely hard to open Alabama's businesses safely, and to put our hard-working families back to work.

"We know that challenges remain, and we will endeavor to meet them so that we can get back to our previous, pre-pandemic record setting employment numbers."

"August showed a larger drop in the unemployment rate than we've seen for a few months," said Washington.

"We are continuing to see our initial claims drop, staying under 10,000 for the past several weeks.

"We regained another 22,200 jobs this month but are still down more than 86,000 from this time last year.

"One highlight is that our civilian labor force, or the number of people who are working or actively looking for work, is at its highest level ever! This means that people are confident that jobs are there for them to find."

Several industries saw their average weekly earnings reach record high levels, including:

- Total Private: $941.76, up $91.03 over the year
- Private Service Providing: $895.57, up $102.32 over the year

Goods Producing: $1099.76, up $48.91 over the year

- Construction: $1,067.90, up $72.79 over the year
- Manufacturing: $1,128.13, up $72.26 over the year

Wage and salary employment grew in August by 22,200. Monthly gains were seen in the government sector (+9,600), the professional and business services sector (+7,100), and the trade, transportation, and utilities sector (+5,500), among others. Over the year, wage and salary employment decreased by 86,800, with losses in the leisure and hospitality sector (-34,900), the education and health services sector (-19,800), and the professional and business services sector (-13,300), among others.

All counties and metro areas saw a decrease in unemployment rates over the month.

Counties with the lowest unemployment rates are Clay County at 3.4%, Randolph, Franklin, Marshall, Cullman, Cleburne and Cherokee Counties at 3.6% and Blount County at 3.7%.

Counties with the highest unemployment rates are Wilcox County at 14.8%, Lowndes County at 13.8% and Greene County at 10.9%.

Major cities with the lowest unemployment rates are Vestavia Hills at 3.0%, Homewood at 3.2% and Madison at 3.3%.

Major cities with the highest unemployment rates are Prichard at 15.4%, Selma at 12.9% and Bessemer at 10.7%.

CULLMAN, Ala. – The mother of Cullman murder suspect Nathan Winston Stephens was arrested Thursday, charged with first-degree hindering prosecution. Audrey Cofield Smith, 61, of Welti was taken into custody by officers with the Cullman Police Department, Cullman County Sheriff's Office and the U.S. Marshals Service.

Smith is being held in the Cullman County Detention Center.

Stephens, 43, who is being sought by authorities in Cullman in connection with the Sept. 12 murder of Herndon Self, Jr., 56, of Hanceville, was denied parole by the Alabama Bureau of Pardons and Paroles (ABPP) on Aug. 11, 2020 but was subsequently released Thursday, Sept. 10, 2020, two days prior to the murder, under a 2015 law requiring mandatory release of certain convicted felons, according to the Alabama Department of Corrections (ADOC).

According to Delmer Bailey, a relative of the victim, Stephens was riding in a vehicle on Alabama Highway 157 with Self and three others- who had picked up Stephens upon his release from St. Clair Correctional Facility Thursday, Sept. 10- when the incident occurred. Stephens became agitated and got into a physical altercation with Self. The car stopped near the Alabama Highway 157/U.S. Highway 31 intersection, where the occupants found Self was wounded and unresponsive and attempted first aid. Stephens left the car and fled on foot, while the vehicle went to Cullman Regional where Self was pronounced dead shortly after arrival, according to Cullman County Coroner Jeremy L. Kilpatrick.

If you have any information about the crime or Stephens' whereabouts, call the Cullman Police Department at 256-734-1434.

In loving memory of Leonard Travis Quick. On Sept. 10, 2020, the last true mountain man left this world to move on to the happy hunting grounds. There was no man more loved or respected. He touched the lives and hearts of every single person who ever had the good fortune of knowing him. He lives on through the loved ones he left behind: a spouse of almost 50 years; a daughter, Angela Hutson; three living sons, Michael Hogeland, John Quick, and Jimmy Bellew; a step-daughter, Teresa Stisher; a deceased son, Jackie Cook and deceased daughter, Janice, who were taken way too soon; along with an abundance of grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Among them, Mary Jane Hutson who absolutely adored her Pawpaw, along with Cherita Washington, Makayla Baxter, Jeremiah and Zachery Hogeland, Brianna and Hunter Quick and many more. He was a legend among men and will forever be missed.

Graveside services for Walter "Richard" Heinl, Jr. will be at 3 p.m. Monday, Sept. 21, 2020 at Cullman Memory Gardens. Reverend James Fields will be officiating. Face masks are required. Walter "Richard" Heinl, Jr. of Cullman, Alabama passed away Sept. 4, 2020 at the age of 71. He was born in Cullman May 17, 1949 to Walter Richard Heinl, Sr. and Grace Miller Heinl. He is preceded in death by his parents and sons Adam Michael Heinl and Scott Tyler Heinl. Show of appreciation

KAREN ROWAN

State Farm Agent Bill Floyd purchased Sweet Peppers Deli gift cards for each Cullman Police Department officer, and those gift cards were handed out Friday by Chief Kenny Culpepper. "We wanted to show our appreciation for the great job they do every day protecting our great community." Left to right are Officer Jonathan England, State Farm's Karen Rowan and Lexie Allred, and Sgt. Joey Duncan.
