CULLMAN, Ala. – Goat Island Brewing, with the help of local business and industry partners JELCO and The Final Touch, on Friday morning presented a check for $500 to local children's advocacy charity Cullman Caring for Kids (CCK). The donation came from funds raised by the sale of Goat Island-branded COVID face masks manufactured by JELCO and customized by The Final Touch.

Goat Island's John Dean told The Tribune, "With the COVID thing, we thought we would raise money for the local charity Cullman Caring for Kids, which is so important at this time, and we teamed up with Phillip Clemmons with JELCO and Elk River, and then Jason White with The Final Touch donated their time and efforts at no cost, for this $500 donation that they made Goat Island masks for, and we sold them here. we're going to be donating $500 to that."

CCK Assistant Director Nancy Bryant said, "I just want to thank Goat Island Brewing for supporting Cullman Caring for Kids, now and in times past.

"We do appreciate the efforts that they put in to help in this community to fight hunger. It's people and businesses like this that we appreciate and need."

Bryant also commended R.E. Garrison Trucking for a recent large food donation and noted a number of small gifts from around the community.

Get involved!

Bryant said that CCK has been receiving donations of food, but "It goes out as fast as it comes in."

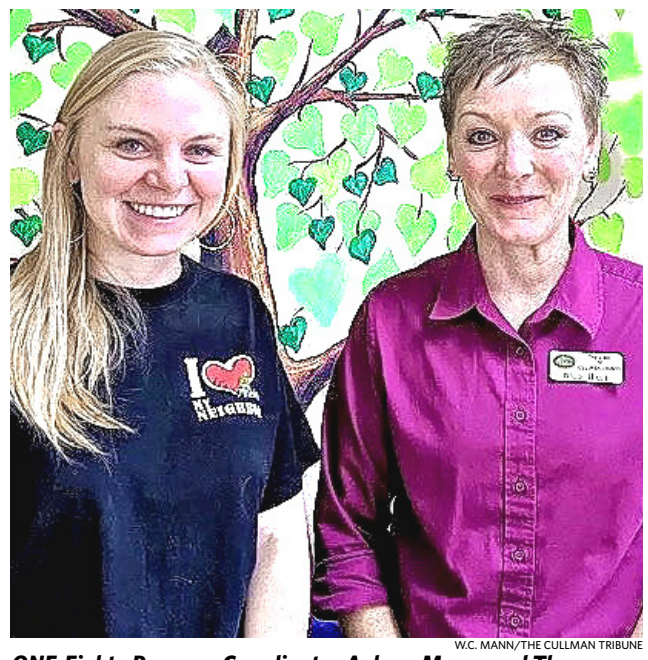

If you are headed to the grocery store this weekend, the food pantry could really use:

- Cereal, especially popular kids' brands
- Pop-top non-perishable fruit cups and other healthy snack items

Of course, monetary donations are always welcome! For more information or to donate online, visit www.cullmancaringforkids.com.

FUNNY THINGS FROM YESTERDAY

I had my hearing tested

Robert N. Tidwell, Sr.
robertntidwellsr@gmail.com

Several years ago, I was told that I could not pass a flight physical because I could not hear. I don't know why they thought that, for every time someone said, "It's time to eat," I was first in line. Folks can tell by looking at me that I haven't missed any meals.

No need in going to a doctor unless you are sick, so I did not have further tests run. Anyway, I could still hear it thunder and still had not missed being called for a meal.

Several years passed and I was at Auburn University one weekend for a continuing education class. The college had a screening test set up for high blood pressure, diabetes and hearing. I passed all but the hearing test. The person running this test got really excited and said that I couldn't hear. She emphasized that I needed to have my hearing tested by a specialist.

Since that test I began to notice that I didn't hear well in a crowd or noisy places, so I decided I was ready for a specialist. So, I made the appointment.

The first step was a visual check of my ears. After several minutes of checking this the nurse sent me to the next step. I asked, "Were my ears clean"? The nurse said, "Clean as a hound's tooth."

The next step in checking my hearing was in the isolation booth. They put me in a little black soundproof booth with a window in the front. There is nothing to look at in there except a few white spots on the wall. After entering this booth, I was given a set of earphones, like the ones the radio operator wore in WWII war movies. The lady doctor whispered in a microphone to see if I could hear her. Next came all the different little tones, and I had to raise my hand every time I heard one.

After a few tones, the doctor whispered in the microphone and said she was needed in the other office and she would be back shortly. There I was, counting white spots on the wall in the black isolation booth.

I noticed the doctor came back and took her seat on the stool. She must have turned that hearing apparatus wide open, for in a booming loud voice she said, "Sorry I had to leave, Mr. Tidwell. Can you hear me now?"

I must have jumped 6 inches off my stool and then I noticed the doctor had a smile on her face. I know she did that on purpose.

As it turned out, I can't hear high frequency sounds. So, when it is time to eat, I hope a man with a deep voice says, "Chow time!" for I'm afraid if a woman with a high-pitched voice says, "Dinner is served." I could miss a meal.

BILLY BOB'S STORIES AND STUFF

Help! I've lost what I can't seem to find

Bill King
Tribune
Contributor

It was one of those mornings. I hardly ever use an alarm in the mornings. I always wake up at roughly the same time. Did I say always? Always is a strong word; a definite word. Always be careful about using words like always. Let me start over by saying it was one of those "rare" mornings. I did not wake up at my normal time, so I knew I had to hurry, or I was going to be late. I normally prepare coffee each night before bedtime and set the automatic timer, so the next morning it's ready when I'm ready. I had forgotten to do that. The water in the shower seemed to be unusually slow warming up.

It usually takes a couple of minutes to warm up, but when you're in a hurry it takes seventeen! Well, not really, in fact, it isn't any longer than on any other day, but it seems like it.

I got dressed and downed a cup of coffee...I downed it right down the front of my shirt. I got dressed again and poured the second cup down my throat. I grabbed my wallet, my cell phone, and searched for my keys. Where were my keys? What is it about keys? I usually, but obviously not always, put my keys and my wallet in the same place each night.

I was quite certain I had put them there that night too and that someone had slipped into my house in the wee hours of the night and stolen my keys. What other explanation could there be? After all, as loved ones sometimes remind us as we look for lost items, "Well, they didn't grow legs and walk off."

Other helpful statements, as well as questions, are made at such times too. My favorite is "Where did you last have them?" Now wait just a second, if I knew where I last had them, then they wouldn't be lost, would they? One time, I found my keys I had lost, about a year later.

I found them as I strolled across my back yard, right there in plain sight...actually, right there in the grass. I must have mowed over them no telling how many times and even walked right by them without seeing them. If they had been a snake in the grass, well you know the rest of that quip.

Oh, keys are not the other thing we lose. There's a whole list of things that seem to take great delight in hiding from us, especially when we are late and in a hurry. Cell phones are among the top items. How many times have you asked, "Will you call my phone?"

Of course, it is on silent mode when we do that. Whatever you do, when your loved one asks you to call their phone, don't call their phone like you would call a dog. They will not be amused, I promise. Remote controls are another one.

They somehow, sometimes, but not "always" end up in some "remote" (pun intended) part of the house. How in the world does a remote control get inside a freezer? Did you know they will still work, even when frozen? Now lost glasses are a real problem because you can't see them without your glasses.

Have you ever been lost? That's a real problem. Sometimes we can't find what we have lost, because we are looking in all the wrong places. If you are lost in life, or lost spiritually, you can be found, but only when you search in the right place.

Have a great day. Have you seen my truck anywhere?

Bill King can be reached at bkpreach@yahoo.com or 334-745-0588 (office).

POET'S CORNER

As Long as You Remember Me

By: Randy C. Hale

As long as you remember me,
I shall not fade away.
Though life has slip past and summer's gone away.

The dry leaves blow across these tombs, you stand in evening shades, the paling light begins to dim and night will set till day.

The young and old are placed here, for some no others come, but you bring flowers sometimes and place them on this stone.

And live through you, I shall,
this life to lightly grasp.
As long as I'm remembered,
is all of you I ask.

Knights smother Patriots, 42-7

Gary McGriff
Tribune Correspondent

SOMERVILLE, Ala. – Coach Lee Ozmint and his Arab Knights traveled to nearby Somerville to take on Coach Geoff Walters and his Brewer Patriots at James R. Tucker Stadium. The Knights were looking to build on their exciting win against Southside the week before and the Patriots were looking for their first win of the year. The Knights dominated the game and came away with a 42-7 victory.

Arab looked to score early after taking the opening kickoff at its own 32-yard line. After a 17-yard run on the opening play by Mathew Turnage, he capped off the six-play, 68-yard drive with a 5-yard touchdown run. The big play of the drive was a 34-yard pass from Aidan Cox to Brody McCain. With 9:42 left in the first quarter Arab led 7-0.

Both teams punted on successive drives and the Patriots started their second drive on their own 32-yard line. On the sixth play of the drive, the Patriots were facing fourth-and-5. Arab's defense stopped Brewer short and took over the ball on downs near midfield.

Arab continued its third drive into the second quarter on the strong running of Turnage. Cox scored on a 1-yard run and with 10:47 left in the half the Knights extended their lead 14-0.

After a sack by Arab's Caleb Roe, the Patriots punted, and the Knights took over again with excellent field position near midfield. After a pass interference against Brewer, on the third play Cox scored his second touchdown on a 22-yard run. With 6:37 left in the first half Arab's lead was 21-0.

On the second play of the Patriots' drive, Arab's Christian Eaton intercepted the pass from Brewer's Wyatt Styles and Arab was set up for a short field on Brewer's 25-yard line. After a 15-yard pass from Cox to Brody Bradshaw, an unsportsmanlike penalty against the Knights moved the ball back to the 25-yard line. Two runs later, Turnage scored on an 11-yard touchdown scamper. With 4:40 left in the second quarter Arab led 28-0.

Arab's defense continued its strong performance and forced a quick punt by the Patriots. On the third play of the Knight's next drive, Turnage scored his third touchdown of the half on a 52-yard run. With 1:55 left in the half, Arab was up 35-0.

On the following kickoff, the Patriots failed to cover the kick and the Knights took over at Brewer's 14-yard line. Aeron Mitchell carried the ball on four straight plays scoring on a 2-yard touchdown run. That ended the first-half scoring with Arab holding a 42-0 score.

Turnage finished the first half with 163 yards on 17 carries.

The second half was played with a running clock. No scoring occurred in the third quarter. The Patriots started their second drive of the second half on their own 7-yard line. Going deep into the fourth quarter, the Patriots went on a 21-play, 93-yard touchdown drive. Styles completed the scoring for the game on a 4-yard touchdown run. The final score was 42-7 with an Arab win.

Arab improves to 5-5. The Knights host the Pell City Panthers next week.

Mars Hill hands Cullman its first loss of season 21-6

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

FLORENCE, Ala. – After starting the season 5-0 and rising to no. 9 in the latest Class 6A state rankings, the Bearcats finally fell short Friday night when they lost to Mars Hill on the road 21-6. Cullman turned the ball over three times in the loss and was hit with 11 penalties for 125 yards.

Things went off the rails for the Bearcats as soon as the ball was kicked. The Panthers returned the game's opening kickoff 92 yards for a touchdown to take a 7-0 lead with just 20 seconds off the clock. It was the first time the 'Cats have trailed all season. On the ensuing Cullman possession, quarterback Max Dueland connected with Nic Glass on the far sideline, but a fumble gave the ball right back to the Panthers with just under nine minutes remaining in the first quarter.

A punt gave the ball back to Cullman and the Bearcats were able to move the ball into Mars Hill territory, but a missed field goal kept them off the board and gave possession back to the Panthers. The 'Cats forced another punt, but this time Drew Ball got a hand in to block the punt and set up Cullman with great field position at the 49-yard line. Unfortunately, the Bearcats couldn't take advantage of the special teams play and turned the ball over on downs.

The 'Cats finally caught a break when a Panthers fumble gave them the ball back near midfield with five minutes to play in the half, and just a few plays later, Dueland found Jeb Bartle all alone deep down the field for a 38-yard touchdown that cut the deficit to just a point.

However, the extra point was wide left, and Mars Hill clung to a 7-6 lead with two minutes to play in the second quarter.

That's when penalties really began to hurt the Bearcats. A late hit, a pass interference call and an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty set the Panthers up with first-and-goal from the 7-yard line with less than a minute in the opening half and on the next play, a 7-yard touchdown run made it a 14-6 game going into the locker room at the break.

Cullman outgained Mars Hill in the first half, but penalties, turnovers and special teams proved to be the difference in this one.

The 'Cats fumbled the ball again on their opening drive of the third quarter on the next snap of the game, and Mars Hill ripped off an 80-yard touchdown run to add to its lead and make it a 21-6 game early in the second half.

Dueland was picked off on Cullman's next possession but the Bearcats held on the defensive end to keep their comeback chances alive. The 'Cats got the big play they needed when Jake Dueland burst through the line for a 70-yard run that would've set Cullman up with first-and-goal, but a flag for a crack back block brought the ball all the way back.

The Bearcats weren't able to find a spark on the offensive side in the final frame and Mars Hill held on to win it 21-6, handing Cullman its first loss of the season.

Max Dueland completed 12 of his 17 passes for 230 yards and a touchdown in the loss and added a team-high 37 yards on the ground.

Glass hauled in four catches for 73 yards, Isaiah Jones added 65 yards on three catches, Jake Dueland caught four passes for 54 yards and Bartle finished with a 38-yard touchdown reception.

The 'Cats will be back in region play next week when they travel to play Decatur.

Cold Springs comes up short at home to Falkville, 49-13

Sammy Confer
Tribune Correspondent

BREMEN, Ala. – Cold Springs looked to bounce back from its first loss last week when it welcomed Falkville Friday night. A huge first-quarter deficit proved to be too much for the Eagles, however, and the Blue Devils took home a 49-13 victory.

Falkville found the end zone on just three plays on its opening possession as a 14-yard touchdown run gave them a quick 7-0 lead. Cold Springs went three-and-out on its first possession, and the Blue Devils scored on a 60-yard touchdown pass to make it 14-0.

An Eagle fumble was recovered by Falkville in the end zone to make it 21-0. Cold Springs fumbled on the ensuing kickoff and the Blue Devils quickly scored on a 22-yard touchdown run to increase the deficit to 28-0 with two minutes to go in the opening quarter.

Cold Springs looked to finally move the ball on Falkville's defense, and they got some key first downs, but the Eagles coughed the ball up once again and the Blue Devils recovered.

After forcing a punt, Cold Springs went three-and-out as well, but the snap sailed through the end zone for a safety to make it 30-0 and Falkville scored the final touchdown of the first half on a 27-yard run as the Eagles went into the locker room trailing, 37-0.

Cold Springs was unable to start the second half strong and was forced to punt on its opening possession.

The Blue Devils scored on a 76-yard run on the first play and stretched the deficit to 43-0.

The Eagles got on the scoreboard on their next possession when Brodi Williams found Seth Williams for a 47-yard strike to make it 43-7.

Falkville scored its final touchdown on a 12-yard run, and Ayden Alexander found the end zone late in the end zone on an 8-yard run to put the final score at 49-13.

Brodi Williams went 12/17 for 147 yards, a touchdown and an interception. Alexander added 57 yards on 16 carries and a touchdown for Cold Springs (3-2). Seth Williams caught two passes for 68 yards and a score.

Izaiah Estell had a 71-yard reception as well.

Cold Springs will look to get back on track next week when the Eagles travel to take on Addison in a huge region game.

Warriors drop another tight one at home, 43-35

Chris Pugh
Tribune Correspondent

WEST POINT, Ala. – Friday night's game pitting West Point against Hayden was messy and about as hot and cold as an Alabama fall. Another swampy setting removed the Warrior passing game and forced both teams to turn to the running game in what would prove to be another nail biter all the way to the end, with the Warriors coming up short, 43-35.

West Point has created a habit of getting behind two scores and then turning on the jets. Friday night was no different. Hayden found the end zone on its first play of the game when a Wildcat slipped behind defenders on a play-action pass and was wide open for a 66-yard touchdown. After a quick, stalling drive by West Point, Hayden put together a nine-play, 62-yard drive, all on the ground, ending with a 14-0 first-quarter lead.

Senior quarterback Will Cochran and running back Kelton Washington woke up the Warrior offense driving down the field on several long runs, ending with a 4-yard touchdown run by Cochran. With the score 14-7 Hayden fumbled the first play of its next drive and Ashton Thraikill pounced on it, giving West Point the ball on the Wildcat 14-yard line. Two Washington runs later, and it was a 14-14 game.

A big return was wiped away by a penalty and Hayden ended up punting after a quick three-and-out. Senior Carter Thornton made a key sealing block on the opening play of the drive that sprung a 51-yard run by Washington. Just a couple plays later Cochran threw his lone touchdown pass of the game for 11 yards to fellow senior Kobe Bowers.

After giving up 21 straight points, Hayden found itself fouth-and-5 in its own territory. The Wildcats dialed up a fake punt that got the first down and led to a 29-yard touchdown by senior running back Carson Rickels. Call him Carson Nickels on this night because he went on to find the end zone a jaw dropping five times, four on the ground and one on a reception.

West Point fumbled the kickoff only to have Hayden recover. Ultimately, penalties ended the drive, which is a key note of the game. Friday's game saw a total of 26 penalties. With only one minute left West Point was unable to move the ball down the field to score and it was a 21-21 tie after the first half.

The Warriors received the ball to start the second half but were forced to punt on fourth-and-long. A bobbled snap on the punt lead to a huge loss and handed the Wildcats the ball at the 20-yard line in Warrior territory. Just like West Point did, Hayden found the end zone two plays later to take a 28-21 lead.

West Point responded with a 12-play drive that ended up leaving the Warriors at fourth-and-20 in Wildcat territory. Unfortunately, the dime dropped by Cochran was dropped at the back of the end zone, which was another trend for the game. Both squads had multiple dropped touchdown passes. Hayden's next drive ended in a dropped touchdown pass. The wet conditions really affected receivers' ability to get a squeeze on the ball.

Thornton went from blocker to runner and opened the Warrior drive with a 60-yard touchdown run, but this time West Point ran Cochran up the middle for the two-point conversion and a 29-28 lead.

On the next two possessions Hayden and West Point traded punches, each scoring on 5-yard plays. Hayden got its two-point conversion, but Bowers was stopped just short on West Point's attempt, making it 36-35 Hayden.

Hayden went eight plays and 65 yards to have Rickels find the end zone on a 23-yard touchdown pass. After an extra point West Point trailed 35-43 with the ball and four minutes left on the clock. Washington continued to pound the ball on the drive behind tremendous blocking from his line and receivers, but the last chance slipped away on a deep ball falling in Wildcat hands. Hayden went on to run out the clock.

Washington had a career night finishing with 23 carriers, 203 yards and one touchdown. Cochran accounted for three total touchdowns, two on the ground and one in the air.

After another down to the wire loss Coach Don Farley had this to say: "It's coming down to a few plays a game and we aren't making the plays."

West Point (0-5) goes on the road for the first time in a month next week to play region foe Crossville (0-5).

Hanceville falls to Locust Fork at home 38-7

Ryan Guthery
Tribune Correspondent

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – The Hanceville Bulldogs welcomed the Locust Fork Hornets on homecoming, the Hornets spoiled homecoming for the Bulldogs 38-7.

After both teams punted on their opening possession the Hornets struck first to take a 6-0 lead late in the first quarter.

Hanceville answered right back with a long drive capped off by an 18-yard pass from Bo Joles to Dylan Twilley to put the Bulldogs ahead 7-6 early in the second quarter.

Locust found the endzone two more times to give them a 20-7 led and was driving looking to add to their led before halftime when Trevor Shadden put a stop to the drive when he intercepted the Hornets pass, keeping the score 20-7 at halftime.

Coming out of halftime Hanceville went three and out then the Hornets scored on their first play of the possession, stretching the led to 28-7.

From there the Hornets never looked back. With a heavy dose of the run game the Hornets chewed up clock and was able to take on 10 more points giving them a 38-7 victory over Hanceville.

The Bulldogs will have to regroup and prepare to travel to Oneonta for a region matchup this week.

Sylvania downs Holly Pond 42-12

Doug Bates
Tribune Correspondent

HOLLY POND, Ala. – The Holly Pond Broncos played host to the Slyvania Rams Friday night and it was the Rams that walked away with a 42-12 victory.

Holly Pond received the opening kickoff and started at its own 35-yard line. After getting a first down with a penalty, the Broncos were stopped on fourth and one, turning the ball over on downs at the Sylvania 46.

Sylvania drives the ball down to the Bronco six where Braiden Thomas takes it in for the first score of the night. The PAT is good Sylvania 7, Holly Pond 0.

On their second possession, the Bronco offense started on their own 35-yard line and were forced to punt the ball away on fourth down.

The Rams started on the own 20-yard line after the Bronco punt.

The Rams' quarterback found Sawyer Hughes open down the sideline for 80 yards and the Rams' second touchdown.

After the PAT, Sylvania moved ahead 14-0.

The Broncos get their offense going behind the strong running of Boatright and Andrew Bell managed to get the ball down to the Rams' 31.

With first and 10, a Broncos fumble turned into a 69-yard Rams touchdown that made it a 21-0 game.

Holly Pond got on the board in the second quarter with a Bell 6-yard touchdown run that cut the deficit to 21-6.

The Broncos defense put up a fight, but it wasn't enough, and the Rams put up a touchdown pass of 47 yards along with a 74-yard touchdown run to stretch their lead before halftime.

The Broncos went into the locker room trailing 35-6.

The Rams started the third quarter with their final touchdown of the night to stretch the lead to 42-6.

Defensive highlights in the third quarter include an inception by Holly Pond's Charlie Huddleston.

The Broncos final score came on an Andrew Bell touchdown, but it was too little, too late and Holly Pond fell at home 42-12.

The Broncos are scheduled to play Tarrant next week but COVID-19 quarantines have kept the Wildcats off the field all season so a new opponent could be an option for Holly Pond.

Good Hope (from Front)

Todd Walker
Tribune Correspondent

ADDISON, Ala. – The 4A Good Hope Red Raiders traveled to Winston County Friday night to take on the 2A Addison Bulldogs and what looked like a pretty good match up on paper, turned out to be a well, a rout. Good Hope logged a convincing 49-15 victory over the Dawgs, and it could have been worse.

Addison won the toss and elected to kick to the Raiders. On the first play, diminutive Raider quarterback Tanner "The Kid" Malin hit Jager Burns on a perfect 40-yard pass play down to the Dawg 30-yard line. Six plays later running back Colton "The Fridge" Bagwell powered in from 3-yards out and with the extra point, Good Hope led 7-0.

Addison tried to answer but on the Dawgs first play, quarterback Christian Roberts fumbled the ball, after a nice run, and gave the Raiders excellent field possession at the Addison 34-yard line.

It took Good Hope only three plays before Bagwell, who has to be the largest running back in the county, scored from 1-yard out.

The Travis Brock extra point was good and Good Hope led 14-0 before all the fans got into their seats.

Justin "Rocky" Mather tried to keep the Dawgs close as he galloped 48-yards for a Bulldog touchdown.

With the two-point conversion Addison had cut the lead to 14-8.

All that did was make the Raiders angry. They came right back with a Malin run from 52-yards out.

It seemed like trying to tackle Malin was like trying to tackle the wind. The Brock extra point put the Raiders back up 21-8 as the first quarter came to an end.

The Dawgs tried to respond but the Raider defense was just suffocating on this evening. A Bulldog punt led to the Raiders taking over at their own 27-yard line.

Good Hope then showed that they were the dominant team on this evening as they drove 11-plays for 73 yards, using the run as well as the pass.

Malin scampered in from 14-yards out and the extra point made it Raiders 28, Bulldogs 8.

Addison's Roberts hit Mather for a nice 53-yard seam route for a Dawg touchdown. Eli Howse kicked the extra point and the lead was cut to 28-15 with 5:27 to go in the 2nd quarter.

Good Hope then decided to slam the door on the Bulldogs hopes for the evening as their very balanced offense went on an 8 play 52-yard scoring drive. "Fridge"

Bagwell romped in from 3-yards out for the score. This was the "Fridge's" third scoring run of the evening.

The Good Hope Defense was in a nasty mood on this evening and forced another Bulldog fumble on the Dawgs' first play of the drive. Good Hope took over at the Addison 20-yard line with only 1:33 seconds to go in the half.

Raider running back, Ethan "The Flash" Anderson went untouched 20-yards on the very next play for the score.

Anderson went through the middle of the Bulldog line through a hole you could have driven a Mack Truck through. The Raider Line was outstanding on this date. With the extra point, the Raider lead was 42-15 and for all intents and purposes this game was over.

The second half consisted of Addison not being able to move the ball and the Raiders putting up one more score, a Conner Stevens 14-yard run.

The extra point was good, and the final tally was Good Hope 49, Addison 15. It could have been worse but Good Hope pulled most of their starters with three minutes to go in the third quarter.

Addison dropped to 3-3 (2-1 region) and will host Cold Springs on Friday night for a region matchup and Homecoming. Good Hope moves to 6-0 (2-0 region) and will host powerful region foe Etowah at Home on Friday night.

Canceled (from Front)

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – The announcement Thursday that Hanceville's Fall Fest has been canceled due to COVID-19 restrictions led many to take to social media to criticize the City of Hanceville and the decision made by the Hanceville Fall Fest Committee. In response, First Baptist Church Hanceville Pastor Philip Wigley spoke at Thursday night's meeting of the Hanceville City Council to explain the decision.

"Hanceville Fall Fest has been a group of churches, anywhere from 5-10 churches in the community, sometimes more, who got together and fundraised and collected candy to do Hanceville Fall Fest for the community," said Wigley.

"It was started as a way to just do something for the community and helping out in the community. We thank the town. The town, it's always been a cooperative effort."

He continued, "Every year it is bigger than what we think it would be.

"The committee did (it) together, and I do not envy anybody making any decisions on any kind of public event or any kind of public policy or any of those things.

"From town council, to Mud Creek or any of the groups because everybody is confused about things going on around us.

"Right now, we live in a very politically divided climate with very polarized opinions on everything. As leadership, you have to look on both sides of those for and against.

"With things going on, the schools starting back and many of our churches have just now got back to some normalcy of regular services, the CDC guidelines not recommending any trick or treat festivities, we just could not outweigh those who were for against all of those things to execute an event that the fullness of the committee was not confidant.

"With that, we made the decision to postpone until next year."

Wigley said he understands that people are upset.

"We understand that people's feelings are hurt, upset and all those things and that is not our intent.

We don't want the town to take any brunt of any of this because it is a committee of people from local churches making those decisions.

"The mayor came and met with us that day when we were meeting to talk about those things.

"We knew either way we go, somebody is going to be upset.

"We as a committee apologize. We were talking about some things we can do next year to do some better community involvement with some of those things because at first, it was just the group of churches coming together and it has evolved since then and taken on a life of its own.

"It's hard to encourage something that somebody else is discouraging.

"With that, that was our recommendation to postpone this year.

"It is fundraised primarily through churches; candy is collected primarily through churches.

"We have anywhere between 5,000-10,000 people to come through the downtown and there is just no way we could sanitize for everybody between each car.

"There are things you just can't do in that size of a crowd and execute it without someone, the last thing we want is, there is a major spike and it was the event that caused it.

"That would look worse on the town than canceling it."

He concluded, "Our prayer is that we will see a resurgence of God's will done in our community and around us. We love this community.

"The churches love this community and being a part of it.

"We want to minister and that was the goal of it, it didn't matter the denomination and pretty much every denomination is or has been involved in some point.

"We will work on some things and get ready for next year."

Hanceville Mayor Kenneth Nail also addressed those comparing the scheduled Kids Night Out, a City event, and the canceled Hanceville Fall Fest hosted by area churches and Mud Creek Arts and Craft Festival hosted by Friends of the Festival.

He said, "We have several events throughout the year in Hanceville. The City works in a supportive role. The City tries to play a very important supportive role in all these different things. Now, the Kids Night Out is a City event and I don't want to sound like these others aren't important City events because we are supportive of them."

With the absence of this year's Mud Creek Arts and Crafts Festival, Hanceville's downtown merchants have quickly organized a Downtown Merchants Block Party for Oct. 24 to complement the Mud Creek Marching Festival still scheduled that day at Hanceville High School's Ray Talley Stadium.

The council gave its approval for the Block Party, which will feature the shops and eateries in downtown Hanceville as well as live music, additional vendors and a car show.

More information about the event will be provided later.

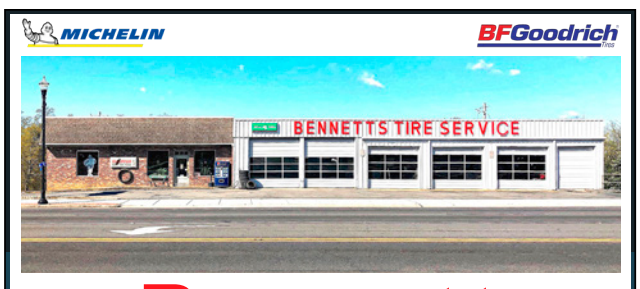

Nail encouraged those in the community to support Hanceville's local businesses, saying, "Let me say this about our merchants, and I understand things have been turned upside down.

"If you want to see downtown to thrive, you've got to come downtown and to Hanceville and spend some money. Don't always run to Wally World (Wal-Mart). Come spend some money in Hanceville.

"The thing is, 'Oh, we love downtown.' Well, if you love downtown, you better get your tail down there and spend some money.

"Some of these businesses ain't going to be, and I said ain't, ain't going to be around. It ain't going to happen if we don't spend some money.

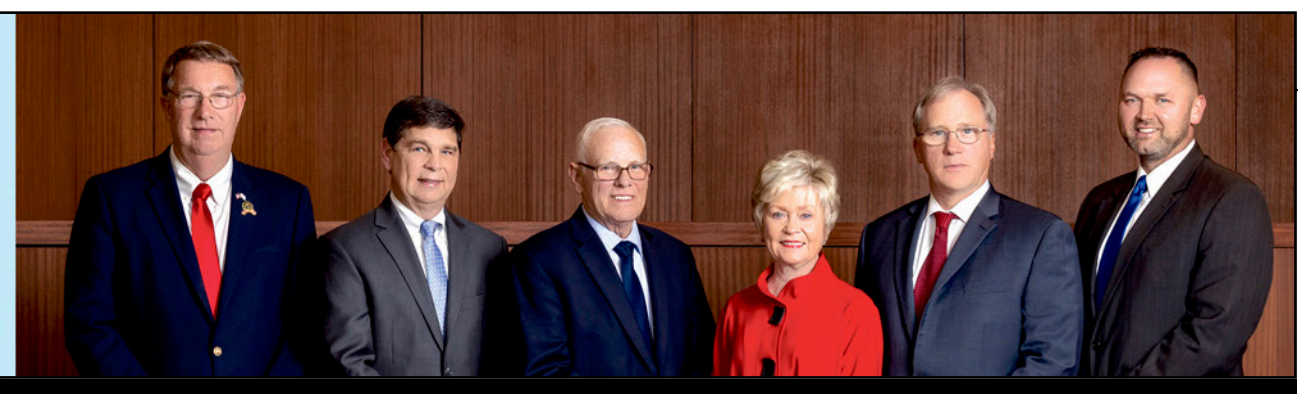

"So everybody, please go spend some money."

Sprout (from Front)

christy@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Cullman Electric Cooperative in June announced big news for its customers: the launch of Sprout Fiber Internet. So far, according to Cullman EC, 108 miles of Sprout Fiber Internet loop have been constructed. When the first phase of the project is complete, an estimated 12,000 co-op members will be able to connect to the fiber optic network. Phase 1 is expected to be complete by the end of 2021.

Cullman EC Manager of Communications & External Affairs Brian Lacy said, "We started at our office and we went up Eva Road and down Highway 157 heading east. We went down to Berlin, out to Fairview and over to Holly Pond. Our crews are now somewhere going down between Holly Pond and Hanceville with where they are on the main line fiber construction."

The co-op planned for some rainy days, so the project is still on schedule. As crews continue to complete the loop, the co-op is focusing on spreading the word about Sprout.

"We still have information up on our website where people can type in their information," said Lacy, "and we will get back to them and let them know if they are in Phase 1 or not."

This fall, the co-op will begin testing in the areas where fiber is already installed with a few "friendlies" or beta-testers.

Lacy explained, "It will give us some real experience of some people using it and get some feedback. Also, it will allow us to test our billing system. If everything goes well with that, we are hoping to get our first turned-on paying customers set up probably right after the beginning of the new year."

While the testing is taking place, the main line fiber crew will continue to install fiber on the planned loop.

Said Lacy, "Behind that, we will be coming in and building out the system into people's homes, and as we get areas ready, turning those areas on."

When asked about the Baileyton and Joppa communities and whether they were part of the Phase 1 loop, Lacy replied, "That's one of the unique things about our project. There's going to be about 12,000 people who are in Phase 1. There are going to be some people in every part of the county that will be part of Phase 1. Every community, in Fairview, in Holly Pond, in Hanceville, in West Point, no matter where you are, there's going to be some people who are part of Phase 1 and some that are not. There's not going to be a situation where an entire area is included. There will be some parts going out towards Baileyton that are included, especially right along Highway 69. If people will go to the website and type in their address, then we can know for sure and (it will) tell them if they are indeed part of Phase 1 or if they are going to be part of what we hope to do in the future."

The loop, as it is being constructed, is moving in a clockwise direction.

"We hope to have Phase 1 completed by the end of 2021," said Lacy. "You can imagine if we are going clockwise, West Point is kind of on the back end of that. We are coming! It's part of our plan and we will get there."

As for future phases, Lacy is very optimistic, saying, "If everything goes well with Phase 1 the way we think it will, and by every indication based on the response we've had, we plan to extend it out to everybody beyond that."

The public's response since the co-op has announced the launch of Sprout Fiber Internet has been "fantastic" according to Lacy.

He said, "Thousands and thousands of people have come on to that website to search and see if they are in Phase 1 and to learn more information about it. We are having dozens of people every day who are submitting inquiries on the website."

Telethon (from Front)

craig@cullmantribune.com

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – Hanceville-based pregnancy services organization First Source for Women (FSW) is getting creative and hosting a live telethon fundraising event that will be livestreamed Oct. 29, 2020 from 5-9 p.m. from Christ Hall at St. John's Evangelical Church in Cullman, and the group is seeking local talent to take part.

According to FSW, "Singers, bands and other artistic talents are encouraged to submit a video audition that is two minutes or less. Individuals and groups that are selected will be asked to attend a rehearsal on Oct. 22 as well as the fundraising event on Oct. 29. Each participant will receive a telethon T-shirt!"

Video auditions can be emailed to firstsourcetelethon@gmail.com until Sept. 30.

FSW said, "Show us what ya got!"

Virtual gala

Joe Johnson will host, and First Source's Julia Rushing will co-host the live virtual event which will follow state COVID-19 safety guidelines for the performers at St. John's. Audience members will "attend" the event via FSW's social media but will be able to call in to volunteers to make donations.

Rushing told The Tribune, "It will be, as far as audience participation, it will be a virtual event; we'll be livestreaming it on our Facebook page.

"Anyone watching will be able to donate in one of two ways: they can either call in and make a pledge, or they can go to our website and there will be a donation link. We'll have that information at the bottom of the screen throughout the entire telethon."

On Oct. 29, starting at 5 p.m., find the telethon at www.facebook.com/firstsourcecullman. The Tribune will also offer a watch party from its page.

What is First Source for Women?

FSW Executive Director Catherine Bethell explained in a previous interview, "First Source for Women is a Christ-centered, nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization. We are a pregnancy care resource center offering education, compassion, love and ongoing support to the women we serve. We believe women can overcome any obstacle placed before them when given the correct information and support.

"Although each woman that comes to us has her own unique story, there is a resounding common feeling...fear: the fear of what their parents will say, fear they cannot parent well, fear their plans and goals are gone forever, fear they cannot do this alone. This is our purpose, this is why we are here: to walk with them and show them the face of Christ, to show them that they are never alone."

Services offered by FSW include:

- Pregnancy testing
- Limited ultrasounds by trained, licensed nurses
- Confidential options education
- Mentoring by a Life Affirming Specialist who will provide education, guidance and support for the duration of a client's pregnancy
- Positive choices sexual risk avoidance education
- Access to the FSW baby boutique for clothes, diapers, baby supplies and baby beds
- Mentoring for fathers and fathers-to-be by male counselors
- Developing employment skills
- Post-abortion counseling and recovery
- Referrals to other community agencies (food, clothing, shelter, financial assistance, etc.)

All of FSW's services are offered free of charge. An "earn while you learn" program allows clients to take classes in childbirth, parenting skills, relationship skills, nutrition, health and other subjects-and receive for each class "mommy money" they can spend in the boutique for even more things.

The FSW "Storkmobile" mobile unit travels to outlying communities to provide onsite pregnancy testing and ultrasounds.

Said Rushing, "We've really tried to be the type of place that can connect women and families to resources beyond what we have within our building. So of course, we have ultrasounds and pregnancy tests and parenting classes, and a free store. All of that is free of charge. But we also like to connect women into resources for whatever they might need in their life. We have a really great referral network in the county. We're able to help women with food assistance, shelter assistance, vocational training, education connections if they need to go back to school or get their GED, or get things for their children, just to help them thrive long-term. We really try to take the phrase 'pro-life' and put that into action very literally."

Pandemic challenges make this fundraiser crucial

Rushing said, "I would say we are stable, for now, but typically we are able to do a very large fundraising banquet in the fall. And that accounts for about two thirds of our budget. So we are counting on this event to make up for all the fundraising that we haven't been able to do this year."

Asked how the pandemic has affected day-to-day operations at the FSW clinic and office, Rushing replied, "We're still very busy. It dropped off when everything was shut down. You know, we shut down; when the state mandated it, we did that. But I think, because of the pandemic, women, whether they're married or not, are just very nervous about being pregnant right now. They're worried about having healthy pregnancies, they might be worried financially about how they're going to support their children. We've seen a steady stream of clients needing help and support, and they're very appreciative of not just what we can do for them and their pregnancy and with material goods, but just the emotional support that we're able to provide for them right now."

Get involved

Rushing told The Tribune, "We'll be taking talent submissions until the end of this month, and still do need some people, so yes, we'd love for more people to apply: any sort of talent that they have. It doesn't have to be a musical act."

Email telethon video auditions to firstsourcetelethon@gmail.com by Sept. 30.

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Link of Cullman County, after months of preparation, is preparing to roll out its ONE-Eighty program intended to help former prison inmates make a smoother transition to life outside prison and keep them from becoming re-incarcerated.

ONE-Eighty Program Coordinator Aubrey Moore told The Tribune earlier this year, "We are so excited about our new ONE-Eighty program that is funded through a federal grant from the Second Chance Act. The purpose of the ONE-Eighty program is to reduce recidivism in our community by providing services to recently released individuals.

"The Link will work closely with the Cullman County Sheriff's Office and receive referrals from the Cullman County Office of (the Alabama Bureau of Pardons and Paroles). Link staff will work alongside these individuals by providing services that promote long-term moral and spiritual growth.

"We are confident these services will assist individuals in becoming contributing members of society again and we cannot wait to watch renewal take place in their lives."

The Link received a $500,000 grant from the U.S. Department of Justice to fund the project. In announcing the award last fall, the DOJ's Bureau of Justice Assistance release read:

The Second Chance Act of 2007 (Pub. L. 110-199) provides a comprehensive response to assist in the transition individuals make from prison, jail, or juvenile residential facilities to the community so that the transition is more successful and promotes public safety. The Second Chance Act grant funding is designed to help communities develop and implement comprehensive and collaborative strategies that address the challenges posed by reentry and recidivism reduction. Reentry is not a specific program, but rather a process that starts when an individual is initially incarcerated and ends when he or she has been successfully reintegrated in the community as a law-abiding citizen.

Section 211 of the Second Chance Act, codified at 34 U.S.C. § 60531, authorizes grants to nonprofit organizations and federally recognized Indian tribes that may be used for services to promote the safe and successful community reintegration of adults who have been incarcerated.

The Second Chance Act Comprehensive Community-based Adult Reentry Program supports organizations or tribes providing comprehensive reentry services to program participants throughout their transition from jail or prison to the community. Under this solicitation, BJA is seeking applications to implement or expand on reentry programs that demonstrate strong partnerships with corrections, parole, probation, law enforcement, and other reentry service providers. These partnerships should develop comprehensive case management plans that directly address criminogenic risk and needs, as determined by validated criminogenic risk assessments, and includes delivery or facilitation of services in a manner consistent with the learning styles and abilities of the participants. This includes ensuring cognitive behavioral programming is in place pre-release, whether by the lead applicant or a partnering agency.

The Link of Cullman County, Inc. will use award funds to provide a comprehensive approach to adult reentry to identify transitional needs of the offender by providing case management, cognitive intervention, and follow-up measures. The Link Inc. will provide services to a minimum of 40 medium to high level offenders per year in coordination with jail and prison.

Coming soon!

The Link's Director Julie Hall on Thursday told The Tribune, "We just received our first funding from our Second Chance Act grant. Hopefully, starting next week, we'll start intaking participants to our ONE-Eighty program . . . It's been a year in the planning and implementation phase, and we're just now ready to kick off."

Mentors needed

Hall told The Tribune that the program requires mentors to assist the participants, and more mentors are needed.

Said Hall, "We have a mentor orientation next week, and because that's a part of the program- to connect a participant with a mentor to help them with their social skills- we're still recruiting."

If you want more information or to apply to become a mentor, visit www.linking-cullman.org or www.facebook.com/TheLinkofCullmanCounty or call Aubrey Moore at 256-775-0028.

Hall concluded, "We believe that this is the way to make a difference for our participants and for our community."
