Several local teams locked in heated region battles

CULLMAN, Ala. – Several local teams are in the middle of some heated region battles and with only four weeks remaining in the regular season, every region game is huge. Whether they're playing to earn home field advantage or fighting to make it to the postseason, these teams need to finish strong to achieve their goals with the playoffs just around the corner.

Addison (4-3, 3-1) This week: Lamar County
The Addison Bulldogs are now tied for first in the Class 2A, Region 5 standings after rolling past Cold Springs 50-14. Aliceville also dropped its game to Lamar County last week, 19-18. The Bulldogs are 3-1 in the region with their only loss coming to the Winston County Yellow Jackets in overtime in week three. Addison will take on Lamar County this Friday with a chance to gain sole possession of first place in the region and will take on Sulligent to end the regular season. The Bulldogs have a real chance to earn home field advantage in the playoffs if they can finish the regular season strong.

Arab (4-3, 2-2) This week: at Oxford
The Arab Knights dropped their first two region games of the season to Ft. Payne (28-7) and Scottsboro (7-3). The Knights have started to turn things around after defeating Southside-Gadsden in a thrilling game, 28-27, and picking up a forfeit win over Pell City Friday night to improve to 2-2 in the region. After defeating Locust Fork in a "no record" game last week 49-27, Arab will now look to make some noise Friday night when it travels to take on Oxford, who is tied for first in region 7. The Knights currently tied for third with Southside-Gadsden and a win over the Yellow Jackets would certainly increase their playoff chances. The Knights will take on Springville in their final region game on Oct. 23 as they work to clinch a playoff berth.

Cold Springs (3-3, 2-2) Next opponent: at Winston County (October 16th)
The Cold Springs Eagles started this season strong, winning their first three games, including a region win over Sulligent in Week three. However, things have been a little tougher for the Eagles since then. They've dropped their last three games, including a pair of region losses to Aliceville and Addison. Cold Springs was scheduled to take on Midfield this week, but the Patriots have cancelled their season, giving the Eagles a forfeit win to improve to 2-2 in Class 2A, Region 5. The Eagles will travel to take on Winston County Oct. 16 and a win over the Yellow Jackets would be a big step toward getting back to the postseason.

Cullman (6-1, 4-0) This week: Columbia
Cullman got off to a 5-0 start this season, with three of those wins coming against Class 6A, Region 8 opponents, but the 'Cats dropped their first game of the season to Mars Hill two weeks ago. Cullman got back in the win column last week with a 21-10, region win at Decatur to improve to 4-0 in the region. Cullman will take on a winless Columbia team Friday night and is currently tied at the top of the region standings with Muscle Shoals. The Bearcats will end the regular season with three region games against Columbia, Athens and Muscle Shoals as they look to break the first-place tie with the Trojans and secure home-field advantage in the playoffs.

Fairview (5-1, 3-1) This week: Crossville
The Fairview Aggies began this season 2-0 before dropping its region opener on the road to Guntersville but the Aggies have won three straight region games since, including huge wins over West Point and Boaz, to improve to 3-1 in the region. They will host winless Crossville Thursday night. Fairview is currently tied for second place in Class 5A, Region 7 with the Pirates after their 33-21 win last week and will have a chance to inch even closer to winning back-to-back region titles. The Aggies will have to travel for two of its final three regular season games, including a trip to Sardis Oct. 23, as they work to host a playoff game for the second straight season.

Good Hope (6-1, 2-1) This week: at Fultondale
For the third straight season, the Good Hope Raiders got things started 5-0, with a pair of those wins coming in Class 4A, Region 6 against Ashville and Hanceville. They rolled past Addison in week six before dropping their first game of the season to region opponent Etowah, 31-20. Good Hope is currently third in its region behind the Blue Devils and the Oneonta Redskins and they'll look to quickly regroup this week on the road against Fultondale. After its game against the Wildcats, the Raiders will finish the season with two huge region games at home against Dora and Oneonta. Good Hope is fighting to get back up to second place in its region and earn home-field advantage in the postseason.

KATIE DRUMMOND/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

The Fairview Aggies are currently tied for second in the class 5A, region 7 standings.

Vinemont (3-3, 2-2) This week: Susan Moore
It's been a back-and-forth season so far for the Vinemont Eagles. They split their first two games to start the season and took two of their first three region games before falling just short to a tough Winfield squad last week, 28-18, to land at 2-2 in the region. Vinemont is currently tied for third with their next week opponent, Susan Moore, in what will be one of several huge region games for the Eagles going forward as they have Oakman at home and Holly Pond on the road after that. Vinemont will have another solid shot to get into the playoffs if they can close the regular season strong.

West Point (1-5, 1-2) This week: at Sardis
West Point got off to a slow start this fall, losing its first five games, three of those losses coming in Class 5A, Region 7 by a combined 12 points. The Warriors picked up their first win of the season and in the region with a 35-27 win over Crossville last week. They will look to build off that and gain more confidence next week when they travel to take on Sardis in another huge region game. It will be the second of four straight region games for West Point. The Warriors will take on Douglas and Guntersville the nest two after that. Despite the slow start to the season, the Warriors, still have a chance to fight their way back into the playoff hunt if they can finish te regular season strong.

The Cullman Bearcats rolled past the West Point Warriors 28-6 in Saturday's Wee-Wee matchup.

UAB defense leads Blazers to 21-13 victory over UTSA

Ted Feeley
UAB Athletics

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. – Led by a stout defensive performance, the UAB football team extended its home winning streak to 20 straight games with a 21-13 victory over UTSA on Saturday afternoon at Legion Field.

The Blazers (3-1, 1-0 C-USA) are now tied with Notre Dame and Ohio State for the third longest active home winning streak in the nation. UAB also improved to 12-3 overall in one-possession games since returning to action in 2017.

UAB's defense guided the Blazers by allowing just 280 total yards. The Blazers compiled four sacks, nine TFL, six pass breakups, one interception and also had a goal-line stand in the second quarter, denying the Roadrunners (3-1, 0-1 C-USA) on 4th-and-1 from the 1-yard line. UAB held UTSA to just 2-of-13 on third down conversions as well.

Will Boler led the defense with eight tackles and a TFL, while linebackers Kristopher Moll and Noah Wilder each had seven tackles and a TFL apiece.

Michael Fairbanks II recorded his first career interception, while safety Damon Miller had a team-high two pass breakups.

Offensively, Spencer Brown tallied his third 100-yard rushing game of the season and the 16th of his career. Brown finished with 26 carries for 144 yards, increasing his career total to 3,572 rushing yards.

Freshman quarterback Bryson Lucero overcame throwing three interceptions by completing 18-of-29 passes for 195 yards and a career-high three touchdowns. His top target was Myron Mitchell, who finished with six catches for 65 yards and a touchdown, while tight end Gerrit Prince matched a career-high with two receiving touchdowns.

Trailing 3-0 early, UAB took the lead on its second possession when Lucero found Mitchell on an 18-yard strike in the back corner of the end zone. The drive was set up by Spencer Brown busting a career-long 73-yarder to move the Blazers into the red zone.

UAB then surged ahead 14-3 with 12:10 left in the half as Lucero threw his second touchdown, this time a 15-yard completion to tight end Gerrit Prince.

Led by UAB's defensive efforts, which included the goal line stop late in the half, the Blazers led 14-6 at halftime. UAB outgained the Roadrunners 268-155 and UAB had three sacks, five TFL and an interception in the half.

The Blazers gained a 21-6 advantage with 1:32 remaining in the third when Lucero connected with Prince for the second time on a 21-yard touchdown pass.

UAB ATHLETICS

UAB defeated UTSA at home 21-13 Saturday.

However, the Roadrunners showed no quit and capitalized on UAB's fourth turnover of the game with a 2-yard score by running Sincere McCormick, who had 150 rushing yards on the day. That made the score 21-13 with 10:31 left.

With UAB set to punt the ball back to UTSA with less than two minutes remaining, UTSA's Solomon Wise was flagged for roughing the kicker which allowed UAB to lineup in victory formation.

With the win, UAB improves to 4-0 against UTSA since the return and is now 17-2 vs. C-USA West division opponents since 2017.

The Blazers have a bye next week before returning to Legion Field to host WKU on Oct. 17 at 12:30 p.m. CST.

OPINION

Leadership, part 12

Tom Fillinger
Tribune Columnist

Today we conclude our series on the characteristics of good leadership in the church.

So, determining whether a leader is acting from a heart of Christlike service requires charitable, patient, humble discernment. It's not simple. There's no one-size-fits-all servant leader description. We must guard against our own unique biases when assessing leaders' hearts.

Marks of a Servant Leader
The New Testament instructs us to exercise due diligence in discerning a Christian leader's fitness. What traits do we look for in a leader that suggest his fundamental orientation is Christlike servanthood?

1. A servant leader seeks the glory of his Master.
His Master is not his reputation. It is God. Jesus said, "The one who speaks on his own authority seeks his own glory; but the one who seeks the glory of him who sent him is true, and in him there is no falsehood" (John 7:18). A Christlike leader demonstrates over time that Christ — not public approval, position or financial security are his primary focus.

2. A servant leader sacrificially seeks the highest joy of those he serves.
"Whoever would be great among you must be your servant. Whatever his temperament, gift mix, capacities, or sphere of influence, he will make necessary sacrifices in order to pursue people's "progress and joy in the faith."

3. A servant leader will forgo his rights rather than obscure the gospel.
Paul said, "I have made myself a servant to all, that I might win some. He abstained from certain foods and drinks or refused financial support from those he served. He worked with his own hands to provide for himself. All servant leaders will yield their rights if they believe more will be won to Christ as a result.

4. A servant leader is not preoccupied with personal visibility and recognition.
A servant leader sees himself as a "friend of the Bridegroom." He is not preoccupied with the visibility of his own role. He doesn't view those with less visible roles as less significant. He seeks to steward the role he's received as best he can.

5. A servant leader anticipates and graciously accepts the time for his decrease.
All leaders serve only for a season. But all seasons end. When John the Baptist recognized the ending of his season, he said, "Therefore this joy of mine is now complete. He must increase, but I must decrease." Are you being led by a Servant Leader?

Census (from Front)

Chandler Thornton
Contributor

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – The Alabama Department of Economic and Community Affairs (ADECA) – in partnership with Alabama Counts! – announced Monday that the U.S. Census Bureau has informed the State that it plans to officially end the 2020 Census nationwide Oct. 31.

During the extension, the Census Bureau's field workers, including door-to-door census takers, will continue their work to follow up with households that haven't yet responded.

"The Census Bureau informed Alabama that it has made the decision to ultimately extend the census to October 31," ADECA director and Alabama Counts! Chairman Kenneth Boswell said. "This gives the state of Alabama an extended time to complete their census and make Alabama count."

All Alabamians who have not already participated in the 2020 census can do so by self-responding online at www.my2020census.gov, by phone toll-free 844-330-2020, by returning the mailed paper form or by giving household's information to a socially distanced door-to-door census taker.

Any information given in the 2020 Census is protected by strict federal law.

State leaders are hoping to see the overall participation rate among Alabama households continue to rise with the extended time.

"This extra time will make a difference as Alabama households have more time to be counted" added Boswell.

"It takes a matter of minutes to determine the future of our state, let's use this time to cement our tally and influence all that depends on this final count."

ADECA and Alabama Counts will continue to stay in contact with the U.S. Census Bureau and will provide any further updates as they are received.

Oktoberfest (from Front)

W.C. Mann
craig@cullmantribune.co

CULLMAN, Ala. – Cullman Parks, Recreation and Sports Tourism (CPRST) staff reported that expectations for this year's Oktoberfest celebration, condensed and constrained by COVID-19, had been "blown away." The Tribune talked to CPRST Executive Director Zac Wood and Recreational Development Director Christy Turner late Saturday afternoon about what they were seeing.

On attendance
With concerns over coronavirus in mind, CPRST staff had no idea what to expect when they "opened the gates," but their speculations- whatever they were- seem to have been too low.

Said Turner, "It exceeded any expectation I ever had. It's been fantastic!"

"With attendance, our expectation has been blown away," Wood said. "It's been tremendously better than we ever imagined."

Crowds filled Depot Park, the Festhalle and Festhalle parking area both Friday and Saturday. Lines stretched out at the food vendors, leading to wait times of more than half an hour at some places. By midafternoon Saturday, several vendors even began running out of food.

Both food and craft vendors reported having a great day Saturday. Wood told The Tribune, "We have not heard one negative word. Everybody has been extremely positive, and the food vendors and the craft vendors- and everyone there- has been extremely pleased."

Added Turner, "They have been very pleased- had one of their best days in two years. It's just been a blessing to come together."

In the final assessment, Turner stated, "It has been awesome! I don't know what else to say; it's just been the community, people coming together and just celebrating being together. You know, I'm looking forward to next year; I really am. I think everybody else is, too. It's just been a pleasant surprise."

Wood concluded, "You know, there's always things you could do better and do different, and we will put our heads together Monday and come up with that list, and it'll be bigger and better next year."

Crimes (from Front)

BREMEN, Ala. – A Bremen man has been charged with multiple sex crimes, according to the Cullman County Sheriff's Office (CCSO). James Michael Doss, 61, is facing two counts of sexual abuse of a child under the age of 12, two counts of first-degree sodomy and one count of production of obscene material containing a visual depiction of a child younger than 17. A media release from the CCSO said investigators conducted a short investigation and it was determined Doss committed the sexual abuse crimes over many years. Due to the graphic nature of the crimes and the crimes involving minors, there is limited information the CCSO can release. "I would like to thank the investigators who worked this case on the great job they did," said Cullman County Sheriff Matt Gentry. "As soon as the victims came forward, they moved swiftly to conduct an investigation, follow up on leads and ultimately make this arrest." Doss has made bond.

Totals for Cullman (42 PROJECTS) - 483 new jobs, $159,074,971 capital investment

While year-to-year numbers show fluctuation and not consistent growth, the totals show that the area's industries have made over $1 billion in capital investments and created over 4,100 new jobs in the last ten years.

Cullman Economic Development Agency Director Dale Greer told The Tribune, "I believe when a company expands in your community, it's validation that they made a good site location, and that your workforce is good and strong and solid, you know, that they're trainable and they can do what that company needs to be profitable. I think it is a testament to the community working together to make those things happen."

locating and expanding here almost daily.

"The state of Alabama and Reliance Worldwide have shared a strong and productive relationship for quite some time now, with their Cash Acme operation having grown to be a vital piece of Cullman's local economy and Alabama's manufacturing industry.

"Since the opening of its first location in 1996, Reliance Worldwide has experienced numerous expansions and has grown to provide over 300 well-paying jobs in the Cullman community.

"This company has truly set the standard in the development of water control systems and plumbing innovation, and this new facility will continue to ensure they do just that.

"Today's groundbreaking represents this world-class company's continued commitment to the great state of Alabama, and we're so very proud to have you here! I look forward to having the opportunity to tour this facility once it's been completed.

"Thank you, and may God continue to bless each of you and the great state of Alabama!"

Speaking on behalf of Reliance Worldwide, Americas CEO Sean McClenaghan talked to the audience about the company's history in Cullman, purchasing Cash Acme 18 years ago.

At that time, Cash Acme had approximately $12 million in annual revenue, approximately 80 employees, and its entire operation in a 50,000-square-foot building across Cherokee Avenue from the site now being developed.

McClenaghan thanked the City of Cullman and Cullman Economic Development Agency (CEDA), specifically director Dale Greer and former director Peggy Smith, for their support of the company. He pointed out that Reliance Worldwide has now invested more than $100 million in its Cullman facilities and has a current revenue of nearly $600 million.

The company has four manufacturing sites, as well as multiple distribution centers, and is approaching 500 employees in Alabama. When the new Cullman distribution center is completed, the company will have nearly 1.1 million square feet of manufacturing and distribution space in Cullman County.

McClenaghan told the audience, "We wouldn't be making this investment in our business unless we believed that our growth will continue. At RWC, we have a track record of growth and are continuing to take steps to make sure this continues. As we do, the State of Alabama and Cullman will play a critical role in supporting these initiatives."

Praise for Gov. Ivey
When he introduced the governor, Cullman Mayor Woody Jacobs said, "During Governor Ivey's leadership, Alabama has seen its lowest overall unemployment ever and some of the largest additions and expansions of business and industry. Under her administration, all 67 counties reached single-digit unemployment for the first time in a decade.

"Subsequently, Alabama reached a historic low unemployment rate of 2.8%, marking the first time our state experienced an unemployment rate in the 2% range. I have no doubt that under her continued guidance and common-sense decision making, we will continue to not creep, but bound back in that direction as we navigate through COVID and the rest of 2020.

"Since taking office, Governor Ivey has helped recruit more than $14 billion in economic development investments, creating over 34,000 new jobs for our economy! Governor Ivey's national leading Strong Start, Strong Finish- SSSF- education initiative works to integrate Alabama's early childhood education, K-12 education and workforce development efforts into a seamless educational journey for all Alabamians, showing Alabama's priority in education.

"In 2019, Governor Ivey, with the support of community stakeholders and the Alabama Legislature, led the effort to enact the Rebuild Alabama Act, which is our state's first infrastructure investment in nearly 30 years. Governor Ivey understands that for Alabama to secure a strong footing for today and future generations, doing what is popular is not always right; however, being courageous and tough enough to do what is right will be how history judges us. As Mark Twain once said, 'Always do what is right. It will gratify half of mankind and astound the other.'

"Governor Ivey has committed her life to working with and for the people of Alabama. Her background in education, banking and economic development have fueled her pursuit to strengthen Alabama's economy, education system, health care options and infrastructure investment efforts.

"Governor Ivey welcomes Alabamians, from all parts of the state, to get involved and help support our state's top priorities. We must all be willing to work together, such as this moment here, so that today's challenges can be looked upon as tomorrow's accomplishments.

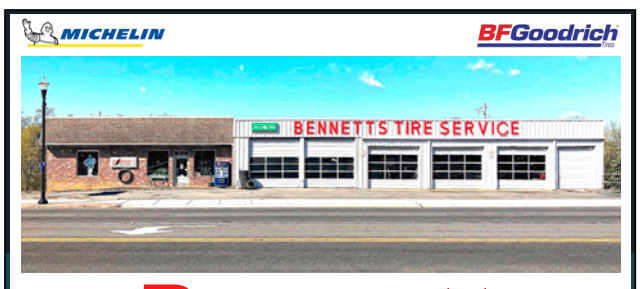

"Today is a testimony of the patience, faith and drive of Governor Ivey and her staff. For that, we are more than grateful, and look forward to much continued success."

In his remarks, Greer recognized the contributions of several people and agencies. In addition to Ivey, Boswell and others already named, he added:
- Thomas Tyson of the Alabama Department of Commerce
- Kristi Bain of Alabama Industrial Development Training
- John Cooper and Curtis Vincent of the Alabama Department of Transportation
- U.S. Rep. Robert Aderholt, R-Alabama and his local representative Paul Housel
- Harry Schmidt of the Tennessee Valley Authority
- State Senator Garlan Gudger and State Representatives Corey Harbison, Randall Shedd and Scott Stadthagen
- Chairman Kenneth Walker of the Cullman County Commission
- Jason Grimmett of the Cullman County Industrial Development Authority
- Ashley Graves with the Cullman County Economic Development Agency

Greer noted financial support for the project, including:
- Two grants from ADECA totaling $600,000 for site infrastructure and a traffic signal to be placed at the intersection of State Road 59 (Cherokee Avenue) and 24th Street Southwest
- Matching grants from the city and county industrial development boards totaling $100,000 for site infrastructure
- Grants from the City of Cullman and City of Good Hope totaling $100,000 for the traffic signal
- A $50,000 pledge from Reliance Worldwide for the traffic signal

A crew from Alston Construction went to work as soon as the ceremony ended. Work on both the manufacturing expansion and distribution center is expected to be completed within 12 months.
