Hanceville CNAs get opportunity in new WSCC program

HANCEVILLE NURSING AND REHAB CENTER

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – Certified Nursing Assistants (CNAs) at Hanceville Nursing and Rehab Center (HNRC) will soon be able to add a new certification to their resumes. A new program, Medication Administration Certification (MAC), pioneered by Wallace State Community College, will provide training which will allow CNAs to administer many everyday medications to the patients in their care.

Six HNRC CNAs were selected to participate in the program at Wallace State: Crystal Rush, Andrea Horton, Marcus Harris, Ashley Emmert, Jessica Boyd and Raven Posey

"The MAC program is a first of its kind in the state of Alabama, and we are so pleased that Wallace State was a pioneer to help make a carreer ladder for Certified Nursing Assistants to further their education and skills," said a statement from HNRC.

"The MACs will step up and assist in medication administration, working alongside a licensed nurse. This will further allow for more in-depth nursing care for our residents."

HNRC Human Resources Coordinator Erica Blankenship is excited about the new opportunities the MAC program will bring, saying, "They are going to be able to administer medications- so they are not quite a nurse, but they will get a certification to do this."

Although the program will still not certify a CNA to administer narcotics or pain medications, it will certify them to administer everyday medicines.

Said Blankenship, "It's the first, I am going to say in the state, because Alabama does not do this."

She said other states have implemented similar programs. "It's just something very new and we are very excited because it's the first of its kind," Blankenship said.

HNRC will pay the tuition for its six selected CNAs to participate in the new MAC program at Wallace State.

Cullman's HomTex awarded contract to provide masks to U.S. Capitol complex

Wendy Sack
wendy@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – HomTex in Cullman has been awarded a contract to provide the United States Capitol complex with masks.

U.S. Rep. Robert Aderholt, R-Alabama, announced on social media Friday:
"All this week we've been celebrating Made in America Week. Well, for our final post, I'm excited to announce that HomTex Inc. in Cullman has been awarded a contract to provide the United States Capitol complex with masks. I've been wearing their masks for a while, and now every member, whether Democrat or Republican, staff and visitors, will be soon be wearing masks made right in the 4th District and Cullman, Alabama! Congratulations!"

Aderholt's office said the masks will be supplied to members, staff and visitors.

On Friday afternoon, HomTex Vice President of Apparel Maury Lyon told The Tribune, "We are obviously very pleased at HomTex. We've been providing washable masks since March with the pivot in our business done by our CEO Jerry Wootten, and we submitted ourselves to the U.S. Capitol- the Architect of the Capitol- for consideration for masks back in May. They did some vetting and they gave our masks some tests, and they contacted us and we've been in contact with them. Later on this summer they indicated that they really liked our masks and wanted to move forward, and we were able to provide them the production capacity and the needs that they had, so our first delivery was last Wednesday.

"So we're excited, and we're going to be providing weekly deliveries up there, and they're going to be providing black and white HomTex masks to all of the senators, congressmen, their staff, the visitors to the Congress and we believe also the White House. We're extremely honored to provide for the safety of our elected men and women."

An email from HomTex to Aderholt's office (provided to The Tribune by Aderholt's office) said:
I wanted to let you know some great news from the home district. HomTex, a textile manufacturer in Cullman, recently won the contract to supply House Members, Senators, staff, employees, and visitors with PPE masks through the Architect of the Capitol (AOC) under our Sovereign America brand made in Alabama. We made our first delivery last Wednesday! As an Alabama certified minority-owned company, we are proud to protect the Congress while they conduct the nation's business.

Mr. Aderholt helped us with a customs matter a few months ago, and our great friend, Juanita Duggan, saw him at a function in DC wearing a HomTex mask. Thank you so much for the help and the support! Governor Ivey visited Cullman this week, and we were thrilled to let her know we are protecting the Capitol.

Order of Publication and Notice of Pendency of Suit

TO: ANY AND ALL PERSONS, HEIRS OR DEVISEES, claiming any right, title and interest to the following described real property, to-wit: Parcel # 10-05-22-0-001-006.007 in Cullman County, Alabama.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on the 2nd day of October 2020, a Complaint in Rem to Quiet Title was filed by Plaintiffs Roy Dyer and Teresa Dyer, by and through their counsel of record, Seth B. Thompson, wherein all parties at interest were given notice and wherein it was alleged that said Complaint was filed against the property described above, and it was alleged that Plaintiffs were the owner in fee simple of said real property.

The parties at interest are further notified that Plaintiffs aver in said Complaint that it claims title to the real property by reason of the following chain of title, to wit:

(a) On the 8th day of March, 2017, a decree was rendered by the Revenue Commissioner of Cullman County for the sale of land herein described and conveyed for the State and County taxes of Charles D. Suggs, the owner of said land for the cost of expenses thereto and thereunder.

(b) On the 2nd day of May, 2017, said lands were duly and regularly sold by the Revenue Commissioner of said county for taxes, costs and expenses and at said sale Plaintiff's predecessor in title purchased said lands at and for the sum of said taxes, costs and expenses and forthwith paid said sum to the Revenue Commissioner, and received from said Revenue Commissioner a certificate of said sale.

(c) The time of redemption of said lands has elapsed and said certificate of purchase had been returned to the Revenue Commissioner of said county.

(d) On or about the 12th day of May, 2020, Plaintiffs came forward and notified the Revenue Commissioner that they had taken lawful possession of the land and were due a deed pursuant to the Code of Alabama, specifically, but not limited to Title 40-10-29 and act number 84-493. Plaintiffs have met all requirements under these two statutes and other provisions of Alabama Law.

(e) Title to the real property described hereinabove stands upon the records in the Probate Court of Cullman County, Alabama, in the name of the Plaintiffs.

YOU ARE HEREBY DIRECTED to answer this Complaint on or before thirty (30) days from the 31st day of October, 2020, or on failure to do so, suffer a default judgment to be rendered against you.

DONE this 5th day of October, 2020.

Funny Things from Yesterday: My birthday

Robert N. Tidwell, Sr.
robertntidwellsr@gmail.com

We had a wonderful afternoon on October the 4th. The only thing that was wrong was that three of our family members were missing. Trey was on his way back to North Carolina to his new job, but he came by at noon before he left town and visited with us for a little while. Dana, who is one of the three nurses in our family, had to work. Will, who is one of the coaches at Locust Fork, had a football meeting at the school.

Will came to our house about nine o'clock and visited for about an hour or so. We saw all except Dana.

This was only the second Sunday meeting that we have been able to have since the virus struck. For several years we had the family almost every Sunday for either a noon meal or a night meal.

We have always enjoyed our family.

Granny and I came home from church, had a snack and then started cooking. By about 4, we had all the food prepared and then we had a rest period.

We had planned for all to be here at 5:30, but they trickled in up to about 6.

We had a good meal, and everyone had gone outside to play some kickball before having dessert and gift opening.

Tyler, C.J.(Crosby) and I stayed inside since Tyler had not been able to eat with the rest of us since he had his hands full feeding his two little boys.

C.J. is 3 years old and very smart for his age. He was sitting at the table putting a puzzle together and he looked over at me and said, "It's very quiet in here."

I was surprised that a 3 year old would notice the quietness and say that.

I replied, "Yes, it is." In another minute or two he said again, "It's very quiet in here." I was surprised that he would repeat his statement again.

Well, it was time for cake, ice cream and the happy birthday song. After the song Crosby wanted to help me unwrap my presents, so he opened his family's present first.

He was proud of what they gave me. Robin's family gave me a warm blue vest and a long-sleeve pullover sweater. Granny and Robin then wanted me to throw out the little jacket that I had when I was at Auburn.

I wear it almost every day because it is lightweight and keeps me warm in the house. It's hard to part with a favorite jacket.

Anyway, it looks better than the ragged blue jeans that girls wear today.

Robert's family gave me a nice blue sweat suit, and Leanna and Heath gave me a pretty picture of the twins. I had a very good birthday.

I guess you want to know how old I am. I will give you a hint. I was born in 19??.

BILLY BOB'S STORIES AND STUFF

Man, I could sure use a hug

Bill King
Tribune
Contributor

How many times have you or someone you love said, "I could sure use a hug?" Long, long ago, in an ancient time, like back last February, we didn't think anything about hugging someone or at least shaking their hand. Some may have even had the audacity, not to mention courage, to drink out of someone else's glass. Well, that was then and this is now. February seems like such a long time ago. How our lives and our customs have changed since then. Now, with the President and First Lady testing positive, we are reminded that no one is safe. Try to shake someone's hand and they may shake their head. Try to hug someone and you could get maced in the face.

Before COVID-19 changed how we act, we thought nothing about wrapping our arms around someone and squeezing them until they coughed up a hairball. Oh, I'm sorry that was my cat that did that. She is no longer with us, but before you get all wound up that is not why. She died of old age. Sorry, I digress. Now we can't even get close enough to others to give them a hug, even if we want. It is hard to hug someone from six-feet away. You can't even shake their hand from that distance, unless you have extremely long arms.

Even then, we aren't supposed to touch. If you've tested positive for the virus, or even been exposed to it, you may feel like the lepers of old. If they walked down the street, they had to carry a sign or cry out "Unclean, unclean!" If this year had a theme song, it could be the old rock song, "Don't Stand So Close to Me."

Here's an alternative. Have you seen those guys who play air guitar? They don't actually have a guitar in their hands, but while being accompanied by recorded music, they act like they are playing one. They run, jump, fall down to their knees, and make guitar-player ugly faces all while reeling off a riff. Amazingly, they never miss a single note.

They even give out awards for this stuff. My third-grade teacher gave me a paddling (not an award) for doing that same thing. I was a pretty accomplished air musician as a child, and not only on guitar, but no one appreciated that talent back then. In fifth grade, I blew an air trumpet along with one of Louie Armstrong's records. The teacher, who put the record on in the first place, was not amused either. I, on the other hand, still find it amusing and ironic that her name was Armstrong too. I wish she had swung an air paddle! Hang on, I'm going somewhere with this.

Now, in our socially-distanced society, we have air handshakes and air hugs... from six-feet away. I'd rather play a real instrument, and I'd rather have a real hug or handshake, but it's better than nothing.

While some "non-huggers" may be excited about this new ban on closeness, the human touch is important and necessary. I have; however, experienced hugs from certain people that made me a little uncomfortable. So, maybe air hugs, sometimes, especially in the midst of a pandemic, aren't so bad after all. While there really is no substitute for the human touch, giving air hugs and handshakes is at least an attempt to let others know we care about them. After all, God doesn't wrap physical arms around us, but He does give Spirit hugs. By the way, spirit and wind are from the same word, so a Spirit hug is similar to an air hug. Need a hug? Here's one from a distance. Stay safe and well.

POET'S CORNER

The Golden Leaf

By: April McCay - Locust Fork, Alabama

I search the forest deep,
In aim of finding the golden leaf.
Many trees boast limbs
With leaves of green and red,
My search continues
On a road of pine combs
I now tread.

The sun offers a shimmering light,
The season of fall is now
within my sight.
The magic of autumn
Displaying a colorful show,
Bursting forth with warm hues
And cool breezes that seem to follow.

The breeze shuffles my long hair,
I catch a glimpse of golden spiraling from midair.
The golden leaf...
Could it be?
I journey closer
For I must see!

I ran pass a deer disappearing
into the forest deep,
The excitement of this season
causes my body to leap.
I skip along the trail
In search of the golden leaf,
Listening to pine combs
As they crunch beneath my feet.

The red cardinal leads the way,
As I ponder the path God
has me on today.
He created this all
Including the leaf I seek,
I raise my hand and twirl
As I listen to my Creator through nature speak.

I give God praise and blindly
dance into a field of gold,
I open my eyes, "oh the many golden leaves my eyes behold!"
The golden leaf
Is not the only treasure I found,
I found God always with me
In a field where golden glitter abounds!

The Opening Drive: Auburn vs. Arkansas

Greg Ostendorf
AU Athletics

AUBURN, Ala. – There are plenty of storylines heading into Saturday's matchup inside Jordan-Hare Stadium. Auburn is looking to bounce back. Arkansas is coming off its first SEC win since 2017. First-year Auburn offensive coordinator Chad Morris is facing his former team.

But the primary objective for the Tigers is simple. Play to the Auburn standard.

NEXT GAME:
Arkansas
10/10/2020
3:00 PM
TV: ESPN
Radio: Auburn Sports Network

"We have to keep developing," head coach Gus Malzahn said. "We've got to get better, so that's what we are going to continue to do. We are going to practice with a mindset that we have to improve. Our guys understand that, and they will do that.

"Georgia was an experience that we can take with us. It's behind us now, but we can improve and get better because of it. Our goal moving forward is to get better each week, and I really believe the teams that can do that, specifically this year with the unique circumstances, I think will have the advantage. The great thing for us is we have the potential to do that, and I really believe we will do that."

Nick Brahms was a freshman in 2017 when Auburn lost the second game of the year at Clemson and the offensive line allowed 11 sacks. It wasn't pretty that day, especially for the offensive line, but nobody folded. Instead, that group responded. They used the adversity from the Clemson game to as motivation to rally together. The Tigers won eight of their next nine games that season, and the offense scored 40 or more points in seven of those games. The same offensive line who allowed 11 sacks to Clemson was later named one of three finalists for the Joe Moore Award.

"They came together, and they did something great that year," Brahms said. "That was my message to the guys and the coaches' message: 'Hey, we can learn from this. The season is not over just because we lost one game to Georgia.' And so there's still plenty to fight for. That's not even a question. We can still accomplish all of our goals that we want to."

It's a message not just for the offensive line but for the whole team. Auburn and Arkansas will kick off at 3 p.m. CT from Jordan-Hare Stadium. The game will be televised on ESPN with Taylor Zarzour, Matt Stinchomb and Lauren Sisler on the call. You can also listen to Andy Burcham, Stan White and Ronnie Brown who will have the radio call on 93.9 Tiger FM, Sirius 133/XM 190, online at AuburnTigers.com and on the TuneIn app.

Three questions with... linebacker Owen Pappoe

Q: How happy have you been with the response from the defense this week?
A: I'm really proud of everybody. We all know our performance Saturday wasn't Auburn football to the standard that we should have played at, but we're looking past that. It's behind us now. We're looking at it to just learn from the mistakes we made to make sure we don't have a game like that again.

Q: How do you improve the third-down defense?
A: It was definitely hard to see (the third-down numbers) out there. It was a struggle. But we're going to regroup in practice this week and we're going to make sure we never see anything like that again. A lot of the things throughout the whole game, not even just third down, were just the little things. So just looking at the small details, making sure everybody is in their gap, right leverage on coverage, things like that. Just sharpening up on that. But we're going to make sure we get all that corrected.

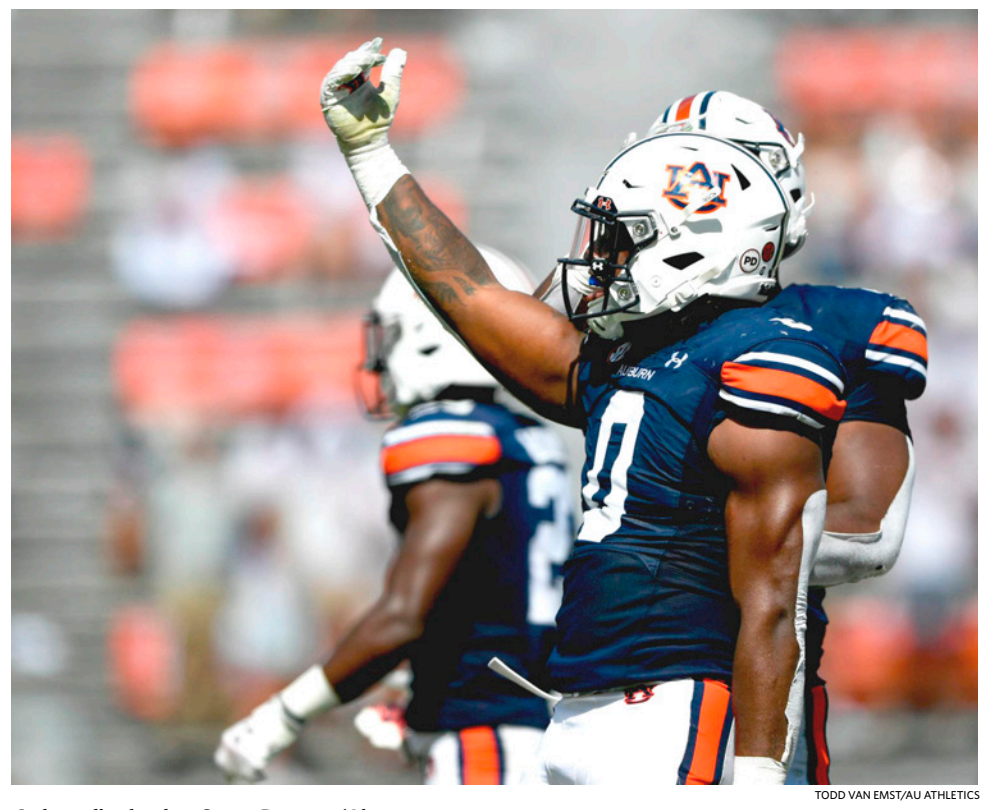

Q: What are your initial thoughts about Arkansas on offense?
A: I think they look better than what they have the past few years, definitely better from last year. They've got a new quarterback in Feleipe Franks. He's a really talented guy, and I think he's got that offense together and got those guys playing hard. I think it's going to be a pretty good game for us, and we might have to give them all we got because I know we're going to get their best shot.

INSIDE THE SERIES: ARKANSAS

Auburn holds a 17-11-1 advantage in the series history with Arkansas. The Tigers are 8-5-1 in games played at Jordan-Hare Stadium and 8-5 in games played in Fayetteville. The two sides are split in the only two neutral-site games with Auburn winning in Memphis (1984) and Arkansas winning in Little Rock (1995).

Last year, in the most recent meeting, Auburn cruised to a 51-10 victory in Fayetteville. The Tigers have won each of the last four meetings by at least 31 points, which is the first time in program history they have won four straight games against an SEC opponent by 30 or more points.

The current four-game winning streak by Auburn is also the longest winning streak by either team in series history. Through the first 25 games in the series, Auburn outscored Arkansas by a total of just 633-629, an average differential of just 0.16 points per contest. The first 10 games (1984-2000) featured six games decided by six points or fewer, including one tie.

TODD VAN EMST/AU ATHLETICS

Auburn linebacker Owen Pappoe (0).

- Series: Auburn leads 17-11-1
- At Auburn: Auburn leads 8-5-1
- At Fayetteville: Auburn leads 8-5
- At Neutral Sites: Tied, 1-1
- Most AU points: 65 (2010)
- Current Streak: Auburn, W4

BY THE NUMBERS

2017: True freshman running back Tank Bigsby led Auburn with 31 yards rushing and 68 yards receiving on seven catches against Georgia. Bigsby is the first player to lead the Tigers in rushing and receiving yards in the same game since Kerryon Johnson totaled 167 rushing yards and 66 receiving yards against Georgia in 2017.

4: Auburn had four players post double-figure tackles at Georgia: Jamien Sherwood (14), Jordyn Peters (13), K.J. Britt (12) and Zakoby McClain (11). All four of those players set or tied career bests. It was the first time Auburn had four or more players with double-figure tackles since last year's LSU game, when Auburn had five.

46.3: Auburn has allowed opponents to score a touchdown on just 46.3 percent of their red-zone trips since 2016, which leads the FBS. This season, the Tigers have allowed a touchdown on three of their opponents' trips into the red zone, tied for 15th nationally. Wisconsin, Clemson and Cincinnati are the only other FBS teams to allow a touchdown on fewer than 50 percent of their opponents' red-zone opportunities during that span.

Troy Football debuts at The Vet Saturday

Adam Prendergast
Troy Athletics

TROY, Ala. – Following a myriad of schedule changes and adjustments, Troy will finally open the home portion of its 2020 football schedule Saturday with a visit from Texas State to The Vet. Kickoff is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. in what will be Troy's latest start to a home season since 1969.

"We love playing at home, and there's nothing like The Vet on gameday," Troy head coach Chip Lindsey said at his weekly press conference. "We have the best environment in the Sun Belt without a doubt, and I know the fans that do come on Saturday will be loud, and our players will feed off that."

Gates to The Vet will open at 12:30 p.m. and fans are encouraged to enter the stadium early to help alleviate congestion as kickoff draws nearer. Face coverings for fans are required inside The Vet and while tailgating. Additionally, fans are reminded to use their GAME 1 ticket for the game.

Troy (1-1) and Texas State (1-3, 1-0) are both coming off bye weeks following tough road losses. The Trojans were supposed to play at rival South Alabama last Saturday, but COVID-19 issues within the Jaguars' program forced the game to be postponed until Dec. 12. Troy's last game was a 48-7 setback at No. 18 BYU on Sept. 26, while Texas State dropped a 24-21 decision at Boston College on the same day.

It's been a tail of two games for the Trojans with the offense and defense performing at high levels in their season-opening pasting of Middle Tennessee, but both units struggled with consistency at BYU.

Troy enters Sun Belt Conference play with a league-leading 78 wins since joining the conference in 2004 and the Trojans' 50 home victories since 2007 rank as the second most in the conference.

"Saturday is our first conference game and we understand that in order to reach our goals we need to get off to a good start in Sun Belt play," Lindsey said.

"I haven't seen the excitement die down this week. Sunday night we had one of the best practices we've had since I've been here in terms of the energy levels and the focus. Our guys were locked in and moving around, and we're excited to play."

Getting off to a good start will be key for Troy Saturday as the Trojans are 6-1 under Lindsey when leading at halftime.

Troy's defensive front led by Will Choloh, Elgin Griffin, Richard Jibunor and John Hines could be an impact group in Saturday's game. The Trojans enter the week 11th nationally over the last four seasons with 115 sacks and the Bobcats already allowed 14 sacks in their four games this season.

Know Your Foe

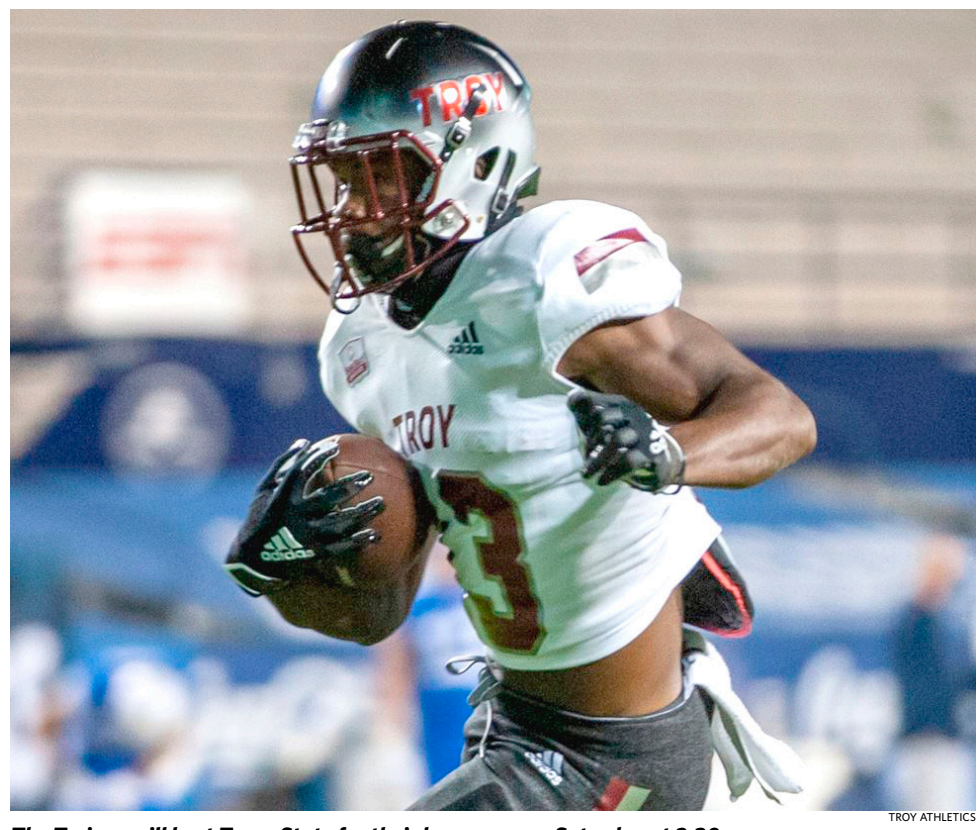

Texas State has played a handful of close games with its three losses coming by a combined 13 points, including an overtime loss to Texas-San Antonio.

The Bobcats have received solid production from its two quarterbacks with Brady McBride and Tyler Vitt combining for 265.2 yards per game with 10 touchdown strikes. Jeremiah Haydel already has three touchdown receptions on the year and averages 13.9 yards per reception.

Defensively, Texas State is paced by Gavin Graham's six tackles for loss and 1.5 sacks, while Jarron Morris has picked off a pair of passes.

Notable

- Junior linebacker Carlton Martial is second nationally among active players averaging 8.08 tackles per game in his career.
- Troy has scored 40 or more points six times with Chip Lindsey as the head coach and play caller; the Trojans are 4-2 in those games and the tally is the 13th most in the country over the past two seasons.
- Troy's 37 wins since the start of the 2016 season are the 16th most nationally and sixth most among Group of Five schools.
- Troy is averaging 73.96 plays per game the last two seasons, which ranks 19th nationally. The Trojans were third in the country over that time period before running a Chip Lindsey-era low 54 plays at No. 18 BYU.

TROY ATHLETICS

The Trojans will host Texas State for their home opener Saturday at 2:30 p.m

Alabama at Ole Miss game time adjusted due to Hurricane Delta

Josh Maxson
UA Athletics

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. – The kickoff time for the Alabama at Ole Miss football game to be played Saturday in Oxford has been changed to 6:30 p.m. Central Time due to Hurricane Delta, it was announced Thursday. The game was originally scheduled to start at 5 p.m. CT.

The change in start time was made to provide a forecast for better game conditions.

The game will be televised by ESPN as originally planned.

Wallace State's Aviation/Flight Technology welcomes new training aircraft

Russell Moore
WSCC

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – Wallace State's Aviation/Flight Technology program has recently added three new Cessna 172 model aircraft and a multi-engine trainer to its fleet.

"These new airplanes are much needed and will help us incorporate glass cockpit and autopilot training. We've looked forward to adding autopilot concepts and this allows us to. We're also reintroducing the multi-engine option for commercial and private training," said Wallace State program chair and instructor Bert Mackentepe. "We appreciate the support from Wallace State President Dr. Vicki Karolewics and her willingness to help us add this aircraft."

Mackentepe, who has been a part of the program and college for 40 years, also expects two aircraft to be added during the Spring 2021 semester, strengthening the program's fixed wing and helicopter training.

"We are grateful to our legislative delegation for helping us increase funding for this essential program," said Wallace State President Vicki Karolewics. "Aviation is becoming ever more important to the Alabama economy, and the increased demand for our program has resulted in a waiting list in recent years. We look forward to training more pilots and associated careers as a result of our expansion."

Wallace State was named among the top community colleges in the South for aviation and aerospace training by Southern Business and Development Magazine in 2018. "There has never been a better time to pursue an aviation career, whether as a pilot, mechanic or air traffic controller. Interest in our program continues to increase. Aviation is a cyclical industry, and there's always a need for those with the appropriate certifications and ratings, especially with many pilots on the verge of retirement across the country," Mackentepe said.

Wallace State's Aviation/Flight Technology has welcomed two new instructors this semester, Gary Lowe and Terrell Stokes. Both are Wallace State graduates.

Lowe, who completed his training at Wallace State in 1990, has both commercial and corporate aviation experience, recently retired from a long career with Delta Airlines. Before working for Delta, Lowe served as chief pilot for an engineering firm and in Guam for a commuter airline.

Stokes is a 2015 graduate of the program, transitioning from a part-time flight instructor role he's maintained since 2018.

Another goal for Mackentepe and the program is to launch aviation STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics) awareness into local high schools and pursue dual enrollment opportunities.

Wallace State's Aviation/Flight Technology program offers associate degrees and special training in helicopter/airplane pilot training. Pilots trained at Wallace State learn how to fly airplanes and/or helicopters and are able to perform a wide variety of tasks, whether as a professional or recreational pilot.

The Aviation/Flight Technology program consists of flight and ground instruction, which will qualify students for various careers in the aviation industry. Once trained at Wallace State, pilots are required to attend recurrent training and simulator checks once or twice a year throughout their career.

WSCC

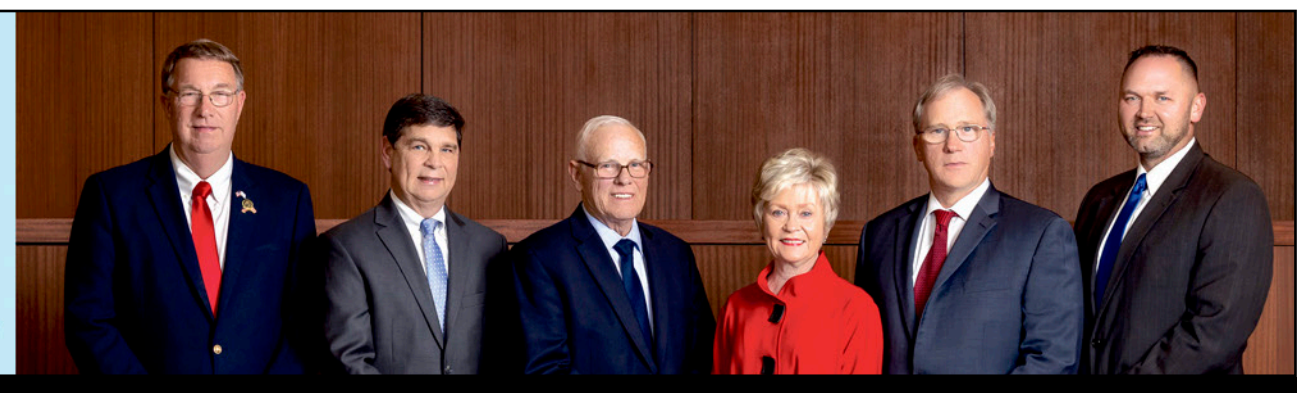

Wallace State's Aviation/Flight Technology program has added three new CESSNA 172 aircraft to help with training.

Wallace State is a Military Friendly College and the Aviation/Flight Technology program accepts special funding and benefits for veterans.

Recent graduates and students of Wallace State's Aviation/Flight Technology program are now working as pilots for Jet-Pep, the Jefferson County Sheriff's Department, med-flights for UAB and Children's Hospital and American Airlines, among for other businesses and companies.

The program is open for tours and welcomes visitors to its location at Cullman Airport. Please call 256-737-3040 or email megan.smith@wallacestate.edu. For more information about the program, visit www.wallacestate.edu/programs/technical-division/aviationflight-technology. For more information about Wallace State, visit www.wallacestate.edu.

College Football

A clash of ACC rivals is on tap tonight in South Bend, Ind., where Ian Book and the Notre Dame Fighting Irish will defend home turf from James Blackman and the Florida State Seminoles. With a conference to finally call home and stars on offense and defense, the Irish are primed for another 10-win season and a shot at the ACC title game. The Seminoles, meanwhile, are coming off three-straight mediocre years and hope the redshirt junior Blackman and a few key transfers can begin a resurgence.

Movie: Cheer Camp Killer

Sophia (Mariah Robinson) is thrilled to have a chance to show off her special skills after she and her BFF Charlotte (Jacqueline Scislowski) win admission into a highly exclusive cheer camp in this 2020 thriller. Unfortunately, neither Victoria (Sydney Malakeh), the camp's queen bee, nor her iron-willed mother, Beth (Andrea Bogart), are amused at this new interloper crashing their kingdom. The pair launch a dangerous plan to remove the new rival.

7 p.m. on HBO
Movie: Cats

"Les Miserables" director Tom Hooper went back to the British mega-musical well for his big-screen adaptation of Andrew Lloyd Webber's tuneful adaptation of poems by T.S.Eliot, for which Hooper also co-wrote the screenplay. Judi Dench leads the starry ensemble in the role of Old Deuteronomy; Taylor Swift, who scored a Golden Globe nod for co-writing the new song "Beautiful Ghosts," has a featured role. Jennifer Hudson, Ian McKellen, James Corden, Idris Elba, Rebel Wilson and ballet star Francesca Hayward also star.

8 p.m. on HALL
Movie: My Best Friend's Bouquet

Like others in her family, Josie Hughes (Chaley Rose) believes a wedding bouquet always finds its way to the right person, so when she catches the tossed flowers at her friend Emma's (Luisa d'Oliveira) nuptials, she thinks the charm is at work when she meets an eligible bachelor at the reception in this 2020 romantic comedy. Since she's convinced this new guy is her Mr. Right, she's totally unaware that her longtime friend Alex (Nathan Witte) is obviously carrying a major torch for her. Rebecca Olson co-stars.

8 p.m. on TRVL
Ghost Nation

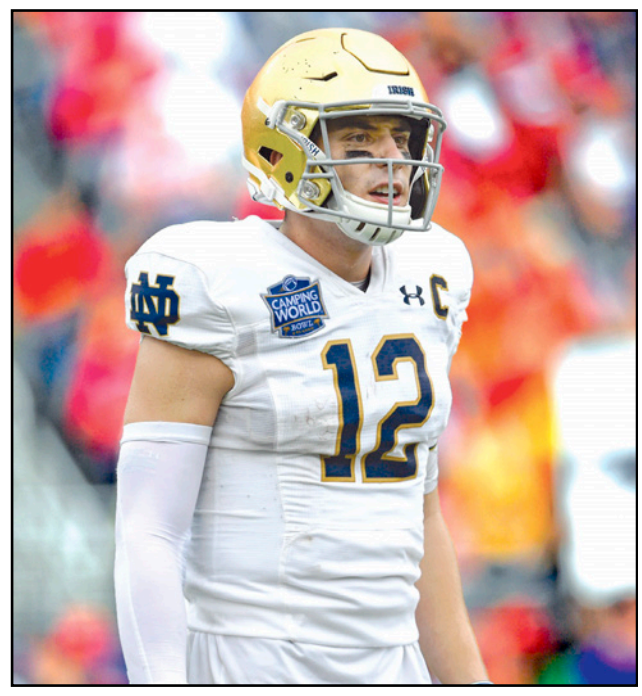

In a new episode with the foreboding title"Prison of Doom," Jason Hawes, Steve Gonsalves, Dave Tango, and Shari DeBenedetti investigate reports of electrical anomalies, menacing shadow figures and disembodied voices at a former prison in New York. The team scrambles to find answers to the turbulence that seems to have seized control of the premises, holding its new owners hostage.

9 p.m. on AMC
Eli Roth's History of Horror

Host Eli Roth returns for Season 2 of this addictive series for horror movie fans, which explores the dark power and wicked fun of scary movies, as well as the craft that went into landmark films of the genre and the ways horror films reflect the anxieties of their time. Among this season's writers, directors, actors and technical experts scheduled to be interviewed by Roth are Stephen King, Quentin Tarantino, Jordan Peele, Piper Laurie, Roger Corman, Bill Hader, James Brolin, John Landis and Joe Dante.

10 p.m. on AMC
Cursed Films

This fascinating new documentary series examines a number of iconic horror films and explores facts, myths and lingering mysteries surrounding their production, through interviews with directors, cast members and producers who lived through the real-life events at the time. The series opens with "The Exorcist," director William Friedkin's 1973 adaptation of William Peter Blatty's terrifying bestseller. The film's early screenings are surrounded by controversy, as reports of fainting theatergoers and mysterious on-set accidents spark debate as to whether or not the film itself is somehow evil.

Ian Book and the Notre Dame Fighting Irish take on the Florida State Seminoles on NBC.

wendy@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – Organizers of the fourth annual "Love, Amy" Project at Grace Episcopal Church on Friday presented a check for $2,100 to be used to provide food for a village in Honduras.

The Love, Amy Project was born out of love for the late Amy Freeman Williams, who grew up in Grace Church and was the daughter of Patti and the late Dr. Phil Freeman.

"She had two children and was a nurse practitioner in Nashville. Because of her untimely death three years ago, members of Grace Church decided to always keep her memory alive," said project chair Mona Hopper. "Amy had a contagious, 'Julia Roberts' smile that changed the world. Since she had traveled to Honduras, we know she would be honored to have this project created to celebrate her life by her hometown parish that loved her dearly."

Normally, the project team packs shoeboxes to distribute to families in Honduras; however, because of COVID-19, this year monetary donations were collected.

Hopper said Larry "Bucket" Guthrie, who has gone on numerous mission trips to Honduras, will be sending $200 per month to be used for food to the village where Amy and her parents have done medical mission work.

CULLMAN, Ala. – One person was killed and three people injured in a five-vehicle crash along Interstate 65 in Cullman County Friday morning.

Cullman County Coroner Jeremy L. Kilpatrick confirmed the fatality, identifying the victim as Kristin Hudson Cohn, 32, of LaGrange, Georgia. Cohn was killed when the 2004 Mazda MVP in which she was a passenger was struck by a 2008 GMC Yukon. The crash occurred when the Mazda struck a vehicle in the southbound lane before crossing the median where it was struck by the Yukon. Cohn, who was not using a seat belt, was pronounced dead at the scene.

The drivers of both vehicles and one juvenile passenger were injured. The drivers were transported by ambulance to UAB Hospital. The juvenile was transported by ambulance to Children's of Alabama. The occupants of the other involved vehicles were not injured. The crash happened at approximately 10 a.m. near mile marker 316.

A Round of Applause for the Joy Givers: Duchess Donuts

Ben Johnson South
Tribune Contributor

HOORAY FOR THE JOY-GIVERS! We always need more smiles, music and laughter. This fun series salutes those seriously unsolemn people, places and things that bring joy to the world. Starting during the pandemic, an oft joy-challenged time, readers are introduced to present-day joy givers and reminded of cherished joy givers of the past. Each salute will have online links to add more opportunities for happiness in the comfort of your socially-distanced home. Many installments of the series will include a salutary food or drink recipe to add another element of pleasure.

The "SHIELD THE JOYOUS" shields, which will be given to those honored or to their family, are inspired from a passage in "The Book of Common Prayer" (1662). Prayers are lifted to "tend the sick, give rest to the weary, bless the dying...and shield the joyous." Joy givers are precious. Let us preserve them, protect them, treasure them, smile with them, laugh with them, tap our toes with them and give them A ROUND OF APPLAUSE.

PLEASE GIVE A ROUND OF APPLAUSE FOR: DUCHESS DONUTS

First, let's share a round of laughs with this donut joke: One day a policeman goes to his barber and after the haircut the cop pulls out his wallet to pay. The barber says, "Thank you, but I can't accept money for haircuts this week, the judge has me doing community service." The cop says, "That seems like a good way to give back to the community. I'm impressed. I just thought that judge was another free-loading politician." The next day, the cop brought the barber a dozen donuts and the judge was at the barber shop with his dad, two uncles, four sons, seven nephews and a dozen cronies.

Here is a round of fun things to know about donuts:

1. Canadians eat the most donuts, and their iconic donut brand is Tim Horton's.

2. Americans eat more than a billion donuts a year.

3. Voodoo Donuts in, of course, bizarro Portland, Oregon used to sell donuts glazed with Ny-Quil and Pepto Bismol until the state health department made them stop.

4. National Donut Day was created by the Salvation Army in 1938 to salute the "Doughnut Dollies" who served coffee and doughnuts in the French trenches during WWI.

GRILLED DUCHESS DONUTS??

Yes, it's now a thing. I had my first and delish, GRILLED DUCHESS DONUTS at a Labor Day picnic with Susan and Ernest Hauk and Samantha and Justin Patterson.

Here's the recipe from Ernest Hauk which calls for a dozen "day-old" Duchess Donuts (good luck not devouring them for a day) and an outdoor fire grill:

GRILLED DUCHESS DONUTS BY ERNEST HAUK

To do anything but eat a fresh, hopefully warm, Duchess Donut straight from the bag is pure heresy. A grilled donut is a treat, but it seems those "less fresh" donuts bought from a grocery deli might be a better plan. Yet, there are always those who delight in experimentation and want only Duchess. So, heresy be damned. Here goes:

Purchase a dozen Duchess Donuts from the shop on First Avenue SE (Downtown Cullman, AL). Should they have some a day-old, which is rare, that would be helpful. It will be very difficult to abstain from eating the entire dozen of fresh ones as the smell will consume your senses. If you get fresh ones, it might be wise to put them in the trunk of your car and ride around with them for a day or two before releasing them.

Once they are beyond the devour straight from the bag stage, you may choose to proceed in one or two ways.

You can slice them in half horizontally like a bagel, or, you may slice them into bite-sized pieces. Either slice can be skewered and given the marshmallow treatment over the fire. If you don't have a fire and don't know how to make one, you could place them in a skillet, turning frequently to avoid disintegration of the sugar.

Once complete, you have a slightly crunchy morsel with a warm, sugary crust. These may be eaten with a good vanilla ice cream or cooled a bit and popped straight into your salivating mouth. While there is nothing like the taste of a fresh, warm Duchess donut, this is an interesting and delightful way to enjoy them.
