CULLMAN, Ala. – Incumbent U.S. Sen. Doug Jones, D-Alabama stopped in Cullman Monday afternoon to address a small crowd of local supporters outside the Cullman County Fair. He shared with the group his connection to the area through his wife Louise New, a Cullman native, and talked about the status of the campaign and various issues. Jones will face former Auburn football coach Tommy Tuberville in the Nov. 3 General Election.

Asked why he made Cullman a stop on his tour in the closing days of the campaign, Jones gestured toward his supporters and told The Tribune, "Those folks. I mean, hey, look, we've had different places this week. We always stop where we know we've got supporters. We have been doing things for » PAGE 4

Thursday, Sept. 10, 2020, two days prior to the murder, under a 2015 law requiring mandatory release of certain convicted felons, according to the Alabama Department of Corrections (ADOC).

In a letter addressed to the editor of The Tribune, 11 members of Self's family requested "collaboration with our state representatives in amending the 2015 Mandatory Release law. The law needs to be revised specifically in what allows an individual to be eligible for its benefits. As it stands now, those who are obvious habitual offenders can slip through the cracks and be released into society only to reoffend and continue to be a danger and issue in our legal system and society. Someone with a lengthy background in crime and violent offenses including rape, assault, and domestic violence (strangulation and harassment), as was the case with the suspect of 'Junior's' murder, should not be eligible for mandatory release. The law must be amended requiring stricter criteria to be considered including looking specifically at the individual's full record and making considerations based on the specific individual's probability of recidivism. The fact that an individual has served time for past offenses should not be erased from the decision of allowing someone to be released from prison; furthermore, the most recent offense should not be the only criteria for eligibility of inmates. This law and the leniency of time served in the suspect's multiple cases puts the lives of innocent people at risk each and every day. Innocent individuals who are law-abiding citizens are forced to be exposed to violent criminals because of this law and its flaws or lack of specific criteria to determine eligibility."

The family's stated goal is "to be the voice of the law-abiding citizens and demand that our lives and the lives of our children and grandchildren be protected by not allowing criminals with lengthy and consistent criminal offenses to be allowed to receive shortened sentences."

Family representative Rachel Cone told The Tribune, "I hope that someone that is a representative of our state, who could actually help us in amending this law and getting things changed, would recognize the flaw of the law and be willing to collaborate to get it amended. And that's kind of our goal, is just to bring attention to it.

"Obviously, there's some problems with it; it's a threat to society. That's my goal, is to get attention to it, so it can be changed."

Stephens has lengthy criminal record

Stephens came up for parole in August 2020 after serving one year, 11 months of a 10-year prison sentence handed down in 2018 for third-degree burglary in Marshall County.

He is a convicted sex offender, charged in 2002 with second-degree rape, altering and possessing a pistol with an altered identification and possession of a controlled substance in Cullman County. Sentenced to three years, he served only a year and a half before being released early from prison.

Stephens was convicted in 2005 of first-degree receiving stolen property and possession of a controlled substance in Marshall County and possession of a controlled substance in Cullman County and sentenced to 15 years, but was again released early from prison, after serving barely a third of his sentence.

He was sent back to prison again in 2011 for 15 years, with a second and apparently concurrent sentence in 2012, for violating the sex offender registration law in Cullman and Marshall counties and for second-degree theft of property and possession of chemicals with the intent to manufacture drugs in Marshall County, but was again released from prison early after serving less than a third of his sentence.

In 2016, Stephens was arrested in Marshall County for failure to obtain proper identification in relation to his sex offender conviction.

In 2017, he was arrested in Marshall County for third-degree domestic violence.

While in the Marshall County Jail in 2017, he participated with six other inmates in a dining hall riot that started with a complaint about the supper being served and ended after the inmates damaged fire control sprinklers and other items in the dining hall. The seven were charged with inciting a riot and damaging state property.

He was arrested in September 2018 by the Marshall County Sheriff's Office for a probation violation, failure to appear for a court date and second-degree assault.

Stephens' court record includes arrests for illegal possession of alcohol, attempting to elude police, burglary, theft, harassment, domestic violence (separate charges of strangulation and harassment), drug possession, manufacturing a controlled substance, assault, criminal mischief and multiple violations of the terms of his sex offender registration.

Vigil planned for Saturday, Oct. 17 in Bremen

Self's family has planned a "Justice for Junior" candlelight vigil to be held Saturday, Oct. 17, 2020 from 5:30-7:30 p.m. at Rooster's Corner, 1455 County Road 110 in the Bremen community. An open invitation reads:

"Please join us in honoring the life of Herndon 'Junior' Self and bring awareness to the importance of changing the 2015 Mandatory Release law. Angela Harris, mother of Aniah Blanchard, will speak on behalf of our family about her upcoming Aniah's Law as well as the law that has devastated our family.

"We will have a special prayer to honor Junior and speak in memory of his impact on his family as a Father, Grandfather, Son, Brother, and Uncle and longtime community member of Cullman County, Alabama. Candles will be provided. Please respond to the event on the 'Justice for Junior' Facebook page if you plan on attending so we can ensure enough candles are available."

The family sent The Tribune this statement about Junior Self:

The Life of Herndon Self Jr.

In loving memory of Herndon Self Jr. or "Junior" as he was known.

Junior was born May 30, 1964, in Eunice, New Mexico and passed away on September 12, 2020. He was the youngest of nine children. As the baby of the family, he had a very special relationship with his mother, Edna Cagle, that he maintained throughout his life. Junior loved his mother with all of his heart.

Growing up, most of Junior's childhood was spent in the Shelton Grove community in Hanceville, AL. As a child, he was described as being a good kid and never turned down an extra milkshake. He had a special bond with each of his eight siblings and always found ways to entertain them. Junior's talent for making others laugh was one of the most significant things about him. He was very charismatic and lived life to the fullest. He was never afraid to be himself. He was just Junior and everyone loved that about him.

He thought a lot of all of his nieces and nephews and was known to get down on the floor and play with them. His grandchildren meant the world to him, and he often found new ways to build memories with them. He had the heart of a child and never took himself too seriously. He was always laughing and entertaining the family. Junior could do the best impersonations of his family members. He loved his family and always wanted to spend time with them and make memories. He was a son, father, grandfather, brother, and uncle. He filled many roles; he was a teacher in many ways. He taught his children how to be hard-workers, how to drive, and how to love their own children.

He didn't meet a stranger and could carry on a conversation and talk to anyone. Junior would also help anyone. He was very compassionate and would come to the aid of others, and this was true for his family members as well as strangers. Junior was very protective of those he loved and would do anything for them. On the exterior, he was tough and strong, but he was very tender-hearted and kind.

Another special talent that added to Junior's character was his talent for dancing and singing. He could carry a tune and was never afraid to sing loudly to his favorite songs. He lived loud and loved big. His presence was always known as his big personality filled the room.

He was a hard worker and could do anything. Junior was a jack of all trades. He had so many friends, and if you ask anybody about him they would tell you the same thing we are telling you in this tribute to his life. Herndon Self Jr. definitely made an impact on everyone he met and he will be missed dearly by family, friends, and community members. He was truly loved. We love you, Junior!

OXFORD, Miss. - No. 2 Alabama football moved to 3-0 after a 63-48 win at Ole Miss on Saturday evening at Vaught-Hemingway Stadium. The win moved Alabama head coach Nick Saban to 21-0 against his former assistants during his time as the head coach of the Crimson Tide.

Najee Harris led the offense with a career day on the ground. The senior carried 23 times for a career-high 206 yards and five rushing touchdowns. His 200-plus yard performance was the 19th 200-plus yard outing by a Crimson Tide rusher in program history while the five touchdowns tied for the UA all-time mark in a single game. Redshirt junior Mac Jones was efficient through the air once again, going 28-of-32 for 417 yards and two touchdowns. He found his leading receiver DeVonta Smith 13 times for 164 yards and a touchdown, tying the senior for the all-time mark for catches in a single game. Also eclipsing the 100-yard marker was Jaylen Waddle as the junior caught six balls for 120 yards.

The Alabama defense was led by senior Dylan Moses who finished with a career-high 13 tackles, including half a stop for a loss (-1 yard). Moses was followed by sophomore Jordan Battle who totaled 11 tackles with half a tackle for loss (-1 yard) and a pass breakup. Alabama got to the Ole Miss quarterback twice on the night with redshirt junior Christopher Allen notching one sack (-10 yards) while redshirt sophomore Christian Barmore contributed the second sack (-3 yards).

- 06:51 – UA | The Crimson Tide was able to even things up once again on the back of Brian Robinson Jr. The senior rusher totaled 36 of Alabama's 72 yards on the drive, including a one-yard rush for his first touchdown of the season.
- 03:15 – UM | The Rebels answered back immediately with an 11-play drive that took up 3:36. Ole Miss went 75 yards down the field and regained the lead thanks to a two-yard rush from Snoop Conner.
- 01:00 – UA | Alabama set the score at 21-21 heading into half when Najee Harris carried it across the goal line from five-yards away. Harris was able to get in range thanks to a major contribution from Jones. The Tide signal-caller completed three passes for 50 total yards and converted a crucial third down with a five-yard rush.

Late field goal pushes No. 13 Auburn past Arkansas, 30-28

AUBURN, Ala. – All Anders Carlson needed was a second chance Saturday. The junior kicker missed a 34-yard field goal late in the fourth quarter, but when his teammates picked him up and gave him another opportunity with less than 20 seconds left to win it, he delivered.

Carlson drilled a 39-yard field goal, his third made field goal of the game, to propel No. 13 Auburn to a 30-28 victory over Arkansas on a wet, rainy day in Jordan-Hare Stadium.

"I'm extremely proud of our team to get a hard-fought SEC victory," Auburn head coach Gus Malzahn said. "A lot of times it's how you win. That's what I told our team. These SEC wins, especially this year, are not easy. You look around at our league and our guys found a way to win. We can take that, and it will help us later in the season."

It took all three phases for Auburn in the final sequence. Following the missed kick, the defense responded with a three-and-out to give the Tigers the ball back. On offense, it was Tank Bigsby who took over on the final drive. The freshman running back caught a pass for nine yards and then had back-to-back runs for 17 yards to set up the go-ahead kick from Carlson.

Bigsby finished with 146 yards rushing, 16 yards receiving and added 106 yards on kick returns. He ran for 106 yards in the first half, becoming the first Auburn running back to reach 100 yards in the first half of an SEC game since Kerryon Johnson did it against Ole Miss in 2017.

"He broke tackles. He ran extremely hard. That's what I saw," Malzahn said. "He bounced a couple out, he cut them back, ran some guys over, broke tackles, kept his legs moving and protected the football. I thought he did a good job."

In what was a sloppy start for both sides due to the weather, Auburn scored first with a blocked punt for a touchdown. Senior defensive back Jordyn Peters broke through the right side and blocked the punt while junior linebacker Barton Lester was right there to fall on it in the end zone.

For Peters, it was the fourth punt block in his career. It was Auburn's first blocked punt for a touchdown since 2018 against Alabama State when Peters blocked it and Devan Barrett returned it for six.

The Tigers kept the foot on the gas, adding a field goal late in the first quarter to make it 10-0.

On their opening drive of the second quarter, it was vintage Auburn football as the offense ran the ball 10 straight times and marched 80 yards down the field for a touchdown. Bigsby started the drive with runs of 13 and 17 yards. Fellow running back D.J. Williams picked up 11 yards and then converted a third-and-2 with a 5-yard run. Quarterback Bo Nix capped the drive with a 15-yard touchdown run to extend the lead to 17-0.

As a team, Auburn rushed for 215 yards in the first half.

"We talked all week about being balanced and how we've got to be able to run the football," Malzahn said. "We had 259 yards rushing, so I think the offensive line really did a good job tonight running the football."

Arkansas battled back in the second half to cut the lead to two, but the Tigers responded and mounted another impressive touchdown drive. This time it was Nix and wide receiver Anthony Schwartz who took over. The two connected five times for 56 yards on the drive, including a 17-yard touchdown catch from Schwartz on 3rd-and-10 where he weaved through a handful of Razorbacks on his way to the end zone.

TODD VAN EMST/AU ATHLETICS

Auburn running back Tank Bigsby finished with 146 yards on the ground in the Tigers' 30-28 win over Arkansas Saturday night.

"They had the momentum, so I knew we had to quiet them," Schwartz said. "I trusted the play. I trusted the line coming out and everyone blocking. I saw an opening to the right. I got a good block from Shed (Shedrick Jackson) who walled his man off, I was able to waltz into the end zone."

Schwartz finished with a team-high 10 receptions and 100 yards receiving, both career highs.

On defense, linebackers Owen Pappoe and Zakoby McClain stepped up for Auburn in the absence of senior leader K.J. Britt. McClain led the team with 13 tackles, a new career high, and Pappoe also set a career high in tackles with 10 while adding a sack as well.

Pappoe's sack was one of seven tackles for loss by the defense. Sophomore Colby Wooden, starting in place of the injured Big Kat Bryant, recorded two tackles for loss, a sack and six total stops.

It was the fifth straight win in the series for Auburn who now leads 18-11-1 all-time.

The Tigers (2-1) will go back on the road next week to face a South Carolina team who earned their first victory of the season Saturday. The game is scheduled to kick off at 11 a.m. CT and will be televised on ESPN.

Jones (from Front)

Cullman County and rural Alabama just like we have other places. My wife's from Cullman, and we wanted to make sure folks know that we're out there. You know, we're not always making the stops like we did in 2017 because we're just not moving around, but the fact is I think it's important that folks in Cullman County and other rural areas know what we've been doing to try and keep their hospitals open, try to help the farmers in this area, try to bring manufacturing back into rural Alabama, try to get jobs here, and all we're doing to try to keep people safe during this crisis, whether it's unemployment, whether it's the Payroll Protection Program, just to make sure they understand that, because they'll go back and they'll say, 'Senator Jones came by.'"

Jones told his supporters that Democrats have brought the state projects at Redstone Arsenal, student loan programs, support for rural hospitals and support for farmers. Said Jones, "I'm not on the Agriculture Committee, but Alabama farmers haven't had a voice like mine since (the late Sen.) Howell Heflin (D-Alabama) left in 1997. Folks are paying attention to that."

He also took an opportunity for a few jabs at his opponent Tuberville, saying, "I'm running against a guy who's staying underground. We thought Roy Moore stayed underground; this guy is deep-sixed. It's because he really doesn't know the issues, and he doesn't want to understand the issues. He just wants to talk about the President and 'draining the swamp.'"

Jones answered questions from the group on climate change, saying that Tuberville does not believe in the science of global warming, and stating that he will work to transition Alabama's fossil fuel industry into green jobs. He also challenged President Donald Trump, saying that his move against the Affordable Care Act will put at risk children on their parents' health insurance, people with COVID-19, people with pre-existing conditions and seniors with prescription coverage.

Jones added, "We're doing everything we can to expand Medicaid."

Answering questions for the media, Jones declared that he is "neck and neck" with Tuberville, up one day and down the next. In response to a reporter's question, he expressed concern about voter suppression and encouraged absentee voters to make sure their ballots are filled out correctly. He also said that a second COVID-19 stimulus bill is in order, and expressed disappointment at the lack of success in an effort to pass one. Lastly, he encouraged Alabamians to complete the 2020 Census, saying that Alabama is in danger of losing a congressional seat at the current rate of response.

Jones told his supporters, "We just appreciate so much, everybody, all the work you've done. This has just been amazing! We are making a difference, folks. We're making a difference in Washington D.C."

CULLMAN, Ala. – Cullman Electric Cooperative and the Tennessee Valley Authority have scheduled a planned power outage that will impact a large portion of the co-op's service area in Winston County and parts of western Cullman County on Saturday, Oct. 17, 2020.

The outage is scheduled to begin Saturday, Oct. 17, 2020, at 6 a.m., and could last for up to eight hours. All Cullman EC members served by the Addison and Helicon substations will be without power during this time. Some of the communities and areas included in this outage are Addison, Arley, Helicon, Sardis, Nesmith, Duncan Bridge, Houston, Piney Grove, Corinth, Moreland, and a small section of Crane Hill including Sulpher Springs.

Members who will be affected by this planned power outage and have a current telephone number listed on their Cullman EC account will receive a courtesy call this week, and an additional reminder phone call prior to the event.

The outage is necessary for TVA to perform maintenance on its main transmission line that delivers electricity to the Addison and Helicon substations.

Cullman EC will use this opportunity to perform maintenance inside the Addison substation as well.

Co-op staff has spent the past several weeks contacting local business and industrial members that will be affected.

TVA and Cullman EC apologize for any inconvenience this outage may cause.

Letter to the Editor: Amend the 2015 Mandatory Release law

Family of Herndon "Junior" Self

Dear Editor,
On September 12, 2020, a horrendous crime was committed to someone very near and dear to our hearts. Herndon "Junior" Self was a hard-working and outgoing husband, father, grandfather, son, brother, and uncle whose only fault was putting his trust in the wrong person.

The shocking part about this crime is that the suspect of this crime was recently released only two days prior based upon the 2015 Mandatory Release law.

This law doesn't stand alone in needing to be revised as the suspected individual had already been released multiple times beforehand only to continuously be a statistic for recidivism.

In efforts to keep our community and state safer, we are requesting collaboration with our state representatives in amending the 2015 Mandatory Release law. The law needs to be revised specifically in what allows an individual to be eligible for its benefits.

As it stands now, those who are obvious habitual offenders can slip through the cracks and be released into society only to reoffend and continue to be a danger and issue in our legal system and society.

Someone with a lengthy background in crime and violent offenses including rape, assault, and domestic violence (strangulation and harassment), as was the case with the suspect of "Junior's" murder should not be eligible for Mandatory release.

The law must be amended requiring stricter criteria to be considered including looking specifically at the individual's full record and making considerations based on the specific individual's probability of recidivism.

The fact that an individual has served time for past offenses should not be erased from the decision of allowing someone to be released from prison; furthermore, the most recent offense should not be the only criteria for eligibility of inmates.

This law and the leniency of time served in the suspect's multiple cases puts the lives of innocent people at risk each and every day.

Innocent individuals who are law-abiding citizens are forced to be exposed to violent criminals because of this law and its flaws or lack of specific criteria to determine eligibility.

It is our goal and agenda to be the voice of the law-abiding citizens and demand that our lives and the lives of our children and grandchildren be protected by not allowing criminals with lengthy and consistent criminal offenses to be allowed to receive shortened sentences.

We, as the family of Herndon "Junior" Self, anticipate collaborating with the Alabama Legislative Delegation to ensure individuals such as those in the preventable murder of our family member are not allowed to again take the life of an innocent due to the law.

Sincerely,
Nicholas/Jessica Self (son & daughter-in-law of victim), Patrick Self (son of victim), Rachel Cone (niece of victim), Crystal Perdue (niece of victim), Donna Campbell (sister of victim), Anthony Self (brother of victim), Randy Self (brother of victim), Denise Hollis (sister of victim), Bonnie Johns (sister of victim), Kelton Self (brother of victim) & Edna Cagle (mother of victim)

OPINION: Sin, part 1

Tom Fillinger
Tribune Columnist

Today we begin a series on SIN. There are several biblical topics that are seldom if ever ad-dressed in churches today. Sin is certainly one such topic. If they are addressed, there is little correspondence with what is heard and what the text of scripture says about the Doctrine of Sin.

In my doctoral studies, one of my cherished professors required us to define the terms we used.

We not only had to define the terms, but we also had to support the definition we craft-ed with sound exegesis of the text.

The result of such a discipline is that the definition you used in preaching and teaching had the full support of Special Revelation.

That results in sound doctrine.

So, let's begin this series with a definition of SIN written by A.W. Pink which accurately represents the perspective of many if not most who claim to be Christians:
The nature of Christ's salvation is woefully misrepresented by the present-day evange-list.

He announces a Savior from Hell rather than a Savior from sin.

And that is why so many are fatally deceived, for there are multitudes who wish to escape the Lake of fire who have no desire to be delivered from their carnality and worldliness.

I have often stated that until we grasp the holiness of God, we will never comprehend the wretchedness of sin.

This is vividly portrayed in the life of the OT Prophet Isaiah.

Listen to his outcry when he did 'see the LORD' as recorded in Isa. 6:3-7:
Isaiah 6:1-7 And one called to another and said: "Holy, holy, holy is the LORD of hosts; the whole earth is full of his glory!"

And the foundations of the thresholds shook at the voice of him who called, and the house was filled with smoke.

And I said: "Woe is me! For I am lost; for I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips; for my eyes have seen the King, the LORD of hosts!" Then one of the sera-phim flew to me, having in his hand a burning coal that he had taken with tongs from the altar. And he touched my mouth and said: "Behold, this has touched your lips; your guilt is taken away, and your sin atoned for."

Am I truly seeking the LORD, or, am I, as Pink said, 'seeking to escape the Lake of fire but have no desire to be delivered from my carnality and worldliness?

Jackie, as she was known to all, is survived by Lavell Thrasher, her husband of 52 years, her sister Evelyn Alice Marvin, two brothers Charles and Michael Vickers, and many nieces and nephews. Born in Birmingham, Alabama Nov. 24, 1946, her family ultimately settled in Huntsville, Alabama in 1957. In 1968 she graduated cum laude with a degree of Fine Arts from Florence State University. Upon settling in Cullman, Alabama, Jackie embarked on an exceptional 38 year career as an educator, 34 of which were with the Cullman City School system where she was once honored as Elementary Teacher of the Year. Her greatest achievement was her impact on hundreds of students. Many of them have spoken of Jackie motivating them to achieve their best, and how years later they would trace their personal achievements back to the inspiration they found in her. As impressive as her accomplishments were, the most notable thing about Jackie was her faith in Christ. She was unhesitant in giving all credit for her many gifts to God, and it was His light shining through her that enabled her to inspire those around her. She remained active in the church until shortly before her passing. Jackie was a master gardener and enjoyed sharing fruits of her labor with others. She led the ladies ensemble at First Baptist Church, played first chair clarinet in the Cullman Community Band, and was a member of Cullman Women Sing. Jackie was a gifted and spiritual person. She lived life to the fullest and viewed each day as an opportunity to do a good deed, inspiring those around her to also live life to its fullest potential. She was a pearl of great value, a child of God, and will be missed. Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, unfortunately there will be no visitation. Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Oct. 13, 2020 at First Baptist Church of Cullman, 501 Second Ave. SW Cullman, Alabama.
