OTHER COUNCIL BUSINESS

The council approved:

- An $18,000 donation of CARES Act funds to Welti, Fairview and Holly Pond Elementary Schools for COVID response at the three schools which Berlin's children attend. See a separate story in The Tribune.

- A bid from Steve Farr for bush hogging on Town property at $800 per cut. The Town bid the job, and Farr's was the only bid.

- Cross drain replacement and other repairs at the intersections of County Roads 1619 and 1620 and County Roads 1625 and 1626, expected to cost approximately $2,000 each

- A change of office hours until March 2021- Under the new schedule, town hall will be open Mondays through Wednesdays from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Bates told the council that the Town has received a grant from the Alabama's Mountains, Rivers and Valleys Resource Conservation and Development Council for accessibility projects including steps, a ramp and handicap parking spaces at town hall.

Bates also said that he would seek a grant from the Cullman County Community Development Commission to build a 30-by-100-foot shed at the farmers' market. A previous effort to get a grant from the Appalachian Regional Commission had to be abandoned when a change in policy prevented ARC from giving grants for farmers' markets.

The Berlin Town Council will hold a special called meeting Monday, Nov. 2, 2020 to swear in the council and mayor for the new term. District Judge Rusty Turner will come to administer the officials' oaths. The public is invited to attend, subject to COVID restrictions.

Bringing out the Best: Berlin donates $18K in CARES funds to local elementary schools

craig@cullmantribune.com

BERLIN, Ala. – The Berlin Town Council has been trying to figure out what to do with the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act (CARES Act) funds it had left over after making its own needed COVID-related purchases. On Monday evening, the body voted unanimously to spend $18,000 of it on three local schools. Berlin's location means that its elementary-age children can go to Welti, Fairview or Holly Pond, so Mayor Patrick Bates felt it only fair that all three schools share in any funds the Town made available. The vote equally allotted $6,000 per school.

The schools will use the funds to purchase dividers that will allow students to be seated in a more normal arrangement, along with masks and sanitizing supplies.

Fairview Elementary Assistant Principal Caleb Elrod attended the meeting to speak on behalf of his school, explaining that $6,000 will allow the staff to outfit from 15 to 18 classrooms.

After the vote, Elrod told The Tribune, "I'd like to say 'Thank you' to the council, and I appreciate them reaching out to us. I hope it'll get our kids back to some kind of normalcy or whatever it can be. I know our teachers are excited that they can be able to do their small groups and things with these Plexiglas that they've not been able to do, and so they just look forward to getting back to a routine, and getting back to teaching the kids the best they can."

AHC launches Historic Preservation Map Initiative

Andi Martin
Alabama Historical Commission

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – After years of intensive planning and behind-the-scenes work, the Alabama Historical Commission (AHC) is proud to announce a new digital public resource – Historic Preservation Map Initiative. The AHC has been diligently working to convert the agency's paper files associated with Alabama's historic architectural resources into a web-based system utilizing geographic information systems (GIS) technology to increase the information's accessibility to the public and to ensure their long-term preservation. This GIS database will be the first time that any researcher will be able to review the files of the AHC without making an appointment to search through the hard copy files of the Historic Preservation Division. This map will also enable the general public to review information about historic structures and places in their own community. To date, more than 129,000 documents have been scanned including survey forms, photographs, booklets, and maps. Go to https://ahc.alabama.gov/historicpreservationmap.aspx to begin exploring the interactive map.

"The Alabama Historical Commission is incredibly proud of the vision and effort behind the Historic Preservation Map," said Lisa D. Jones, executive director Alabama Historical Commission. "Thanks to the work of our staff and interns, and through the support of the Alabama Bicentennial Commission, this important resource is available for all Alabamians to utilize."

"After my personal testing of the newly launched GIS database of Historic Architectural Resources, I highly recommend it to the general public as well as professionals working in the area of preservation. It can also serve as a resource for developing local courses of study for our schools. As an easily accessible public record of Alabama historic resources, it also includes documentation of properties receiving state and federal tax credits, cemeteries, Native American sites and historic African-American schools," said Eddie Griffith, Alabama Historical Commission chairman. "This continuing effort will eventually expand to all of Alabama's counties and future documentation of historic resources will be added."

The Alabama State Legislature established the AHC in 1966 to foster the understanding and preservation of Alabama's heritage. In fulfilling its mission, the AHC has collected valuable information on Alabama's man-made environment including historic houses, churches, schools, bridges, cemeteries, commercial buildings, farms, etc. These architectural survey files include paper survey forms; photographs (i.e. prints, contact sheets, slides and negatives); maps; measured drawings; blueprints; and accompanying materials. While great strides have been made to maintain and organize these paper files, they have only been accessible by visiting the AHC's main office. Before the digitization process began, there was no way to replace a file if it was lost or damaged.

Easily accessible historic property locations within a Geographic Information System (GIS) is an invaluable tool for planners at the municipal, county, state and federal level; cultural resource managers; preservation professionals; the general public; and federal agencies for compliance with Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act 1966, as amended. The present project consists of digitizing and constructing a geographic information systems (GIS) database for AHC Architectural Survey Files. GIS is a framework for gathering, managing, and analyzing data that is rooted in the science of geography. With the Historic Preservation Map Initiative, the AHC now has an available geo-database to display spatially the many thousands of historic resources across Alabama. The Historic Preservation Map Initiative serves as a "master map" that will enable the public to explore these resources virtually and understand why these resources are culturally important to Alabama.

"The Alabama Historical Commission's Historic Preservation Map Initiative is the outcome of vision, organization, and dedication resulting in what can best be described as a treasure map," said Jay Lamar, executive director, Alabama Bicentennial Commission. "In mapping the historic sites and properties throughout the state, it reveals what we know: Alabama history is dense, rich, multifaceted, and many layered. It is hard to imagine a more important and valuable resource now or for the future, nor one more apt on the heels of the commemoration of our first two hundred years."

The Historic Preservation Map Initiative includes maps for all of the Alabama Historical Commission's many historic preservation programs. The resulting map displays layers of programs including Alabama Register of Landmarks & Heritage; Black Heritage Council Markers; Historic African American Schools; The National Register of Historic Places; Preservation Easements; Alabama Historic Rehabilitation Tax Credit Program; AHC County Surveys; Alabama Historic Cemetery Register; Places in Peril; and AHC Historical Markers.

Student interns have been working steadily since October 2017 to scan the AHC's collection of architectural survey files, which represents thousands of forms and photographs of historic buildings all over Alabama. The locations of these historic places are being plotted in the GIS database. 42 counties have been plotted so far. More than 40,000 points have been mapped in the Survey layer alone.

The attribute tables within each layer include all information that the AHC has regarding each site. Additionally, attachments are available in most cases that provide a downloadable PDF of the original submitted documentation.

The Historic Preservation Map can be viewed on a desktop computer or mobile device such as a smart phone. On a smart phone with GPS-enabled, a viewer can select to have their current location notated on the map to immediately see if there are recorded resource in the nearby vicinity. Alternatively, viewers can search by address/city/county or even latitude/longitude. From a single map, researchers will be able to switch between various background maps – the map defaults to an Environmental Systems Research Institute (ESRI) Street Map; however, that can be changed to view topographic maps or recent aerial photographs. Any clickable data point offers a wealth of information including scanned forms and photographs for each feature.

While every effort has been taken to ensure the accuracy of the data, the map and documentation will be an ongoing effort as new information is made available; this database will always be a work in progress. The Alabama Historical Commission continually receives a wealth of new data from professional historians, archaeologists, and architectural historians from all over the state. As the information becomes available, the map will be updated making the new data instantly available to the public. AHC's Historic Preservation Initiative Map is intended to function as a research tool rather than an up-to-the-minute inventory of all historic and/or architecturally significant resources in the state.

"Many states have online information and many more are working towards it; however, the amount of information that is available varies widely. Alabama will be one of only a handful of states that makes this information available to the public without a subscription fee," said Eric Sipes, assistant state archaeologist.

For more information about an historic property, contact Hannah Garmon at 334-230-2644 or Hannah.Garmon@ahc.alabama.gov. For more information about the Historic Preservation Map Initiative, contact Eric Sipes at 334-230-2667 or Eric.Sipes@ahc.alabama.gov.

Firepit (from Front)

christy@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – Fall is a great time to gather around a backyard firepit and enjoy the cooler weather. Cullman Fire Marshal Chris Chaffin described enjoying a firepit as "like camping without being at the campground." But, like any activity involving fire, there are risks and the potential for accidents.

"If you have a firepit, make sure it is a true firepit. Don't just go out and build a fire on top of the ground in your yard, said Chaffin.

"You want to do whatever you can to keep it from spreading. We recommend going and purchasing the firepits from Lowe's, Wal-Mart or online at Amazon that make different ones."

He urges users to set firepits up as far away from their homes as possible.

"Anywhere from 10-25 feet," Chaffin said. "Especially those with vinyl siding or wood decks or any other kind of structures. Get it away from the house just because of the heat."

Chaffin also instructs firepit owners to not set them up under trees, saying, "That's even worse. Have it clear and open to where it's able to get enough space if it were to flame up without getting into the bushes.

"What happens, if you build it under trees, it will actually kill the trees. It will get into the limbs and make things even worse."

Chaffin warned, "Do not clean up your yard and burn leaves in the firepit and call it that you are burning the firepit. It creates a bunch of smoke and then we get called and we have to ask you to put it out."

Instead, he advises city residents to pile leaves curbside for the City to pick up.

Use extra precaution with children around firepits. Establish a kid-free zone around it and never leave kids around a firepit by themselves.

Added Chaffin, "If you are using marshmallows, when they pull it off the fire, those things are flaming, and they want to swing it back and forth. That becomes a flaming fireball."

Regardless of what you choose to cook over the fire, be careful. The metal skewers heat up quickly and can be dangerous.

Chaffin reminds people to not use gasoline or diesel fuel to accelerate the fire.

"Start out small," he said. "There are plenty of YouTube videos on how to learn how to make a fire and do it correctly."

Always have something ready to put the fire out. Chaffin recommends a bucket of water, a bucket of sand or even a nearby water hose, but never leave the fire burning overnight.

In the event dry conditions lead to a burn ban, Chaffin said, "We do not recommend using firepits when under a burn ban.

"When it does get really dry, we recommend, don't do it. For the simple fact that everything is so dry, the humidity gets low and the chances of fires getting out of control is a greater risk. There's more danger there."

Always be mindful of your neighbors when gathering around your firepit. Chaffin said the fire department does get complaints.

"There's always that risk. If you are creating an issue and you are creating a bunch of smoke and smoking out the neighborhood, our guys will probably get called," he said.

"They are probably going to come and ask you to either stir up the fire and make it hotter or ask you to put it out.

"It's creating a nuisance then, and that's in the burn restrictions the city has in the ordinances about it being a nuisance."

Chaffin does enjoy a firepit himself, he said, especially in the fall.

"Sitting there with a firepit, it's cool weather and you're sitting around a campfire in your own little backyard.

"It's a whole lot better than sitting around inside watching TV. It's more relaxing.

"For outdoorsy people, it's a thing and you find relaxation there. It's a great way to have the outdoors here in the middle of town."

COLUMBIA, S.C. – Tank Bigsby raced past the 100-yard mark for the second straight game and scored his first collegiate touchdown Saturday but No. 15 Auburn lost 30-22 at South Carolina.

Bigsby passed the century mark in the fourth quarter on runs of 30 and 19 yards, setting up Anders Carlson's third field goal to make it a one-score game with 6:36 to play. Bigsby gained 111 yards on 16 carries.

Auburn's defense held the Gamecocks to one first down before the Tigers got the ball back with 2:15 to play, needing to go 80 yards with no timeouts.

Auburn drove to the Gamecocks' 12-yard line with 9 seconds remaining, but on fourth-and-5, Bo Nix was tackled at the 9-yard-line, two yards short of the first down.

"I'm proud of our guys for fighting to the end," Auburn coach Gus Malzahn said. "Give South Carolina credit. They played well.

"Disappointing loss, but I am proud of our guys fighting to the end."

Auburn scored on the opening drive of the second half to lead 19-14 after marching 54 yards on 11 plays and converting two third downs to set up Carlson's second field goal, a 35-yarder.

The Gamecocks answered with a 75-yard touchdown drive, taking a 20-19 lead on a 10-yard touchdown pass.

South Carolina's attempted two-point pass was incomplete with 6:31 left in the third quarter.

Owen Pappoe's first career interception ended South Carolina's red zone threat late in the third quarter, but the Gamecocks soon regained possession with their third interception and scored on an 8-yard run on their next play to lead 27-19 with 54 seconds left in the quarter.

Auburn led 16-14 at halftime after scoring on its first two possessions. After the Tigers' defense forced a three-and-out on the game's opening possession, Auburn drove 62 yards on 14 plays with Carlson kicking a 35-yard field for a 3-0 lead. Nix's 22-yard pass to D.J. Williams on third-and-9 keyed the drive.

After Auburn forced another three-and-out, the Tigers drove 56 yards on seven plays with Nix hitting Eli Stove for an 11-yard touchdown on third-and-10.

Going for two, Auburn's pass was incomplete, giving the Tigers a 9-0 lead with 4:33 left in the first quarter.

"We got off to a very good start, defensively, some three-and-outs and got the ball back for the offense," Malzahn said.

South Carolina intercepted the first play of the second quarter at Auburn's 29-yard-line, capitalizing on the turnover and short field with a 3-yard touchdown run that cut Auburn's lead to 9-7.

Nix and Seth Williams then combined on Auburn's longest pass play of the season, a high-arcing 44-yard gain that showcased Williams' physicality.

Bigsby capped the drive with his first Auburn touchdown, a 2-yarder, to put the Tigers ahead 16-7 with 10:24 remaining in the half.

"He ran extremely hard again this week for the third week in a row," Malzahn said. "Broke tackles, ran with an attitude. He did a really good job."

South Carolina (2-2) converted another turnover into a touchdown, intercepting Nix after a deflection at midfield and scoring on a quarterback sneak with 35 seconds left in the half.

Zakoby McClain led Auburn with 13 tackles and a sack, his third straight double-digit game. Pappoe added 10 tackles.

Auburn (2-2) remains on the road next Saturday when the Tigers travel to Ole Miss at 11 a.m. CT.

"Your character really has to come out," Malzahn said. "I really believe our team will.

"We're capable of being a good team. We will be a team that improves, I will promise you that.

"You will see this team improve. You've got to make the corrections needed.

"We're going to have be big boys and man up, put it behind us and go on to next week and find a way to win, get that good feeling back and get some momentum."

UAB dominates all 3 phases in 37-14 victory over WKU

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. – The UAB football team dominated WKU in all three phases of the game en route to a 37-14 victory over the Hilltoppers on Saturday at Legion Field.

UAB (4-1, 2-0 C-USA) outgained WKU (1-4, 1-2 C-USA) 358-250 and scored three offensive touchdowns. The UAB defense forced four turnovers and had five sacks, while the special teams unit blocked a punt that was returned for a touchdown, along with Matt Quinn making all three of his field goal attempts.

The Blazers extended their home winning streak to 21-consecutive victories and are now riding a three-game winning streak overall.

Freshman running back DeWayne McBride led the offense with 10 carries for 131 yards, highlighted by a career-long 71-yard touchdown run. Bryson Lucero threw for 141 yards and a touchdown. Austin Watkins caught seven of Lucero's 15 completions for 55 yards and one touchdown.

Senior cornerback Brontae Harris led yet another dominating defensive performance with five tackles, a sack and an interception. UAB, who entered the game as the nation's second-ranked pass defense, held the Hilltoppers to 162 passing yards as the Blazers kept their streak alive of holding every opponent this season under 200 yards passing.

With WKU leading 7-3 in the first, safety Will Boler forced a fumble which TD Marshall recovered and returned deep into Hilltopper territory.

Spencer Brown capitalized with a 2-yard touchdown plunge to give the Blazers a 10-7 lead with 42 seconds left in the quarter. It was Brown's 37th career rushing touchdown, which moved him into 15th place in C-USA history for career rushing touchdowns.

UAB then surged ahead 17-7 with 12:43 left in the half when freshman DeWayne McBride busted a 3rd-and-1 for a 71-yard touchdown run which was UAB's longest scoring play of the year. The touchdown for McBride was his second of the year.

WKU got within three with 5:42 remaining in the half when Kevaris Thomas connected with Joshua Simon for a 6-yard score. However, UAB responded with 52 seconds remaining as Lucero found Watkins on a 2-yard reception to make the score 24-14 at the half.

UAB ATHLETICS

UAB freshman running back DeWayne McBride.

The Blazers busted the game open early in the second half on a special teams touchdown as outside linebacker Nikia Eason Jr. blocked a WKU punt which wide receiver Ryan Davis returned 37 yards to paydirt for a 31-14 advantage with 13:06 left in the third. Quinn tacked on two additional field goals of 44 (career-long) and 30 for the game's final points as UAB rolled to 37-14 victory.

UAB held WKU to just 1-of-12 on third down and has held its opponents to just 6-of-37 in that category over the last three games, while yielding just 37 total points during that span.

The Blazers return to Legion Field this coming Friday night, Oct. 23, for a non-conference matchup with Louisiana. Kickoff is scheduled for 7 p.m. on CBS Sports Network.

GOOD HOPE, Ala. – This year's county middle school football season is in the books and after edging the Good Hope Raiders 30-22 in Tuesday night's championship game, the Vinemont Eagles are your Cullman County Champions. The Eagles secured the win after Kayden Henderson intercepted a pass at the goal line on the final play of the game to end a potential game-tying Good Hope drive.

After taking his Gatorade bath, Vinemont Head Coach Ed Webb talked about how proud he was of his team for the way they've played this season and the way they honored the memory of their fallen teammate with a county title on his birthday.

"This all started in June. These guys had a purpose in playing this season. We lost a great kid in Christian Hart and we dedicated this whole season to him. Win, lose or draw, this season was for him," Webb said.

"So, they showed toughness, they dug deep, and Christian was our angel. That's what we used to get us through this whole season. So, I can't take the credit for this. Those guys are just tough and again, they had an angel on their shoulders. Christian is who they played for."

Vinemont scored on its opening possession of the game when Rush Sandlin punched one into the end zone from 7 yards out to give the Eagles an early 6-0 lead. The Raiders responded with a methodical scoring drive of their own, capped off by a powerful, 20-yard touchdown run from Landon Bagwell that tied the game at 6 early in the second quarter. The tie wouldn't hold for long, because on the first play of the ensuing Vinemont drive, Henderson broke free and sprinted down the sideline for a 54-yard touchdown. The two-point conversion gave the Eagles a 14-6 lead with just over five minutes remaining in the half.

Good Hope was forced to turn the ball over on downs on its next drive, giving possession back to Vinemont but the Eagles weren't able to move the chains either and they went into the locker room at the halftime break leading the Raiders 14-6.

Good Hope got off to a rocky start in the third quarter. On the opening play of the period, a Raiders' pass was picked off by Sandlin and Vinemont took over possession near midfield. Just a few plays later, Henderson ran in his second touchdown of the night from 20 yards out and the two-point conversion made it a 22-6 game early in the second half.

Good Hope answered with another long scoring drive that ate up most of the third quarter and cut the lead to 22-14 with a 1-yard touchdown run by Bagwell to make it a one-possession game going into the fourth.

The Eagles were clicking on offense for most of the game and they put together another touchdown drive to start the fourth quarter. Sandlin dove in from a yard out to score his second touchdown of the evening and extend the lead to 30-14 with three and a half minutes to play. However, the Raiders answered immediately when Brayden Cooper fielded the ensuing kickoff and ran it back 75 yards for a touchdown.The two-point conversion was good and Good Hope was back within a score at 30-22.

Vinemont's Cheston Wilhite recovered the ensuing onside kick attempt from the Raiders and the Eagles took over with just over three minutes to play. Good Hope was able to use its timeouts and muster the stop it needed to force a punt from Vinemont. Henderson's punt sailed down to the Raiders' 18-yard line and Good Hope's offense took the field with 1:31 to play and a chance to tie the game.

Cooper started the drive with a 12-yard run to move the chains and later hit Caden Drake down the field for 36 yards to get the Raiders into Vinemont territory. Another first down run from Cooper got Good Hope in striking distance with just a few seconds on the clock but Henderson intercepted the pass at the goal line, sealing the 30-22 win and this year's county championship for the Eagles.

Henderson finished with a game-high 154 yards and two touchdowns on the ground to go along with the game-winning interception. Sandlin added 43 yards and a pair of rushing touchdowns in the win as well. Bagwell led the Raiders in rushing with 55 yards and a pair of touchdowns while Cooper and Tucker Malin added 44 and 43 yards on the ground respectively.

7 p.m. on WBIQ
Nature

This acclaimed documentary series opens its 39th season with the family-friendly "Pandas: Born to Be Wild," which sheds new light on the daily lives of wild pandas. Over the course of three years, two Chinese cinematographers trekked through the steep and heavily forested trails of the Qinling Mountains to gather footage of these animals, capturing some revelatory wild panda behavior with the assistance of scientists and rangers on the trip. The film also follows a young panda raised in captivity but learning to live in the wild.

7 p.m. on WABM2
The Goldbergs

The nostalgic family sitcom kicks off Season 8 with a pair of back-to-back episodes. First, in "Airplane!," after Beverly (Wendi McLendon-Covey) surprises the family with an end-of-summer trip to Miami, the flight down descends into the madness reminiscent of that 1980 movie comedy, during which Geoff (Sam Lerner) lets it slip to Erica (Hayley Orrantia) the real reason for the trip. Then, in "The Prettiest Boy in School," Adam (Sean Giambrone) begins his senior year at school as a "cool kid," but his longtime pals aren't as lucky.

8 p.m. on WTTO
Coroner

As Jenny and Donovan (Serinda Swan, Roger Cross) investigate a lab technician's death, her personal interest in the research being done at the facility threatens to distract from her focus in the new episode "Crispr Sistr." Liam (Eric Bruneau) approaches the end of his rope as he is confronted with tragedy. Meanwhile, River (Kiley May) meets her new colleague. Ehren Kassam and Nicholas Campbell also star.

8 p.m. on WABM2
The Conners

As this "Roseanne" spinoff moves to a new night for Season 3, it remains true to its art-imitates-life creative principle: The season premiere, "Keep on Truckin' Six Feet Apart," finds this fractious clan grappling with the bizarre new reality dictated by the coronavirus pandemic. As with real-life families across North America and the world, the health crisis places added stress on the characters' already fraught financial situation while also testing some strained family dynamics. Sara Gilbert, John Goodman and Laurie Metcalf star.

8:30 p.m. on WABM2
black-ish

Preceded by two election-themed specials, Season 7 of this acclaimed family sitcom officially gets under way with "Hero Pizza," which takes the characters back to the early days of the COVID-19 pandemic. As a first responder in this medical crisis, Bow (Tracee Ellis Ross) gets warm praise and support from her family for her selfless work ... at least, at first. As the crisis drags on, though, enthusiasm among the other Johnsons wanes, until someone violates quarantine lockdown rules. Anthony Anderson also stars.

9 p.m. on WBIQ
The Age of Nature

"Understanding," the second of three parts, explores how a deeper comprehension of nature helps humans find new ways to fix its problems. Along Washington's Elwha River, the removal of dams has led not only to the recovery of the local forest but also Chinook salmon, which provide food for the endangered orca population in the region. In China, a scientist's determined efforts to restore the firefly population, which provides natural pest control, is transforming the lives of rural farming communities.

9 p.m. on FXX
Archer

When daughter AJ is kidnapped, Archer (voice of H. Jon Benjamin) knows it's up to him to get the little girl back lest mama Lana's (voice of Aisha Tyler) maternal rage gets focused on the wrong target: namely, him, in the new episode "Caught Napping." The voice cast also includes Jessica Walter, Judy Greer, Chris Parnell, Amber Nash and Lucky Yates.

Anthony Anderson stars in "black-ish" on ABC.

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Friends of the Public Libraries of Cullman County on Tuesday morning celebrated with a ribbon cutting the recently installed Little Free Library located at the corner of Rosemont Avenue and Second Street Southwest, the site of the Cullman Police Department's westside precinct.

Among those attending the ceremony was Susan Hauk, who donated her grandmother's china cabinet for the project. The cabinet, rich with sentimental value, was made into a curbside library by Hauk's son-in-law, Justin Patterson. He even added solar-powered lights to illuminate the cabinet after dark.

"It was my grandmother Martin's," Hauk said. "Nobody wanted or needed this little china cabinet. Justin was looking around to help the Friends of the Public Libraries of Cullman do a Little Free Library so he had been scouring looking for a cabinet of some kind that he could refigure. He hadn't been having a whole lot of luck. I finally just asked him, 'Justin, could you use that little cabinet that is in our basement?' He said, 'Are you sure you want to do that?' I said, 'I can't think of a better use for it.'"

Added Hauk, "I think she would be really happy with this."

She reminisced about the orange slice candies her grandmother would attempt to hide in the top corner of the cabinet. She was joined Tuesday morning by her brother Patrick Martin, who also brought a bag of books to place in the cabinet.

As Patterson looked over his creation, he said he stops by to check on it regularly. He worked on the cabinet over the course of a couple of months during his spare time.

Renee Welsh with the Friends of the Public Libraries of Cullman County said of the location, "This is in a really grand place. This is a wonderfully accessed place."

The books inside the cabinet were donated by numerous patrons, and Victoria's Hope has committed to regularly supplying children's books for the project.

The Little Free Library was installed a couple of weeks ago, and upon arriving Tuesday morning, organizers were pleased to find that community members have made sure the cabinet remains stocked with books, food and snacks. Cullman County Public Library Director Sharon Townson also packed the library with puzzles and dozens of books for kids and adults.

Welsh explained, "The Friends of the Public Libraries have two missions. One is to encourage and enhance the community for reading and having access to libraries, all of the branches. One of those ways is through Little Free Libraries and the other is through grant writing."

Besides thanking Hauk, Patterson and Victoria's Hope, Welsh also thanked both the Cullman Police Department and Steve Sides with the Cullman Housing Authority for allowing the library to be placed on the CPD's property.

Walk (from Front)

CULLMAN, Ala. – Walk to Defeat ALS will take place this Saturday, Oct. 24 at Randall Shedd Community Park in Fairview. The local event is hosted by Fishing 4 A Cure 4 ALS. Team Danny Harris will walk to raise both money and awareness for ALS (Amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, also called Lou Gehrig's disease). Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. and the walk will begin at 10. The walk will follow all social distancing guidelines and masks should be worn.

In 2011, Danny Harris was diagnosed with ALS, a disease of the nervous system that weakens muscles and severely impacts physical function. It is a progressive neurodegenerative disease for which there is no cure.

Danny Harris' wife Diane Harris said, "He was diagnosed on April 28, 2011 so this is actually our 10th year to be a part of the ALS walk. We've had pretty large teams for eight of those years. We raise money every year for ALS because we see the needs of the ALS community."

The ALS Association helps support families like the Harrises.

"They help you get what you need when you need it," she said. "This disease can be quite rapid, the progression. Danny's has not been rapid, but he lost his voice real fast. He hasn't been able to talk in a long time, and now, he's very weak in the legs."

Danny Harris is now dependent on a power wheelchair to get around.

Researchers still don't know the exact cause for ALS, said his wife. "They know a lot more than they used to. They do recognize some markers on a person's DNA. Danny took part in a research project at HudsonAlpha (in Huntsville). They took blood and ran his complete DNA. He had no markers, none of the known markers for ALS."

The HudsonAlpha project has been put on hold due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

The ALS Association normally has three walks in the state of Alabama each year, but like so many other events, the walks have been canceled or done virtually due to COVID-19.

Diane Harris explained, "We decided to do the walk in Fairview because we are originally from Fairview. We know three people from Fairview who have died from ALS and we want to honor them during our walk."

Saturday's walk will be led by Danny Harris.

"The teams we have with our walks are just friendly competition," said his wife. "The money all goes in the same pot to help people. The ALS Association, they help pay for research, they help pay for patient services and they advocate on the local, state and national level."

Harris said people don't always understand what an ALS diagnosis can do to a family. The financial toll can be devastating.

She said, "We've been very blessed, and we decided from the very beginning that we could either sit on the couch and feel sorry for ourselves or we could do something. So, we decided we would start trying to raise money for ALS to help people who need it. The ALS Association helps us in so many ways. I can call our clinic director and she will make sure we get what we need. They are so good, and we see what they do, so that's why we decided to focus our fundraising for the ALS Association."

Fishing 4 a Cure 4 ALS is a nonprofit which usually hosts a bass tournament to raise money, but it was unable to this year. The walk is the largest opportunity for fundraising this year. Harris invites people to come out and walk. There will be T-shirts, tote bags and other prizes.

"Come out and wear that T-shirt. That raises awareness. That's a big thing, too," she said. "The Ice Bucket Challenge, several years ago, raised a lot of awareness and a lot of money. There's a lot of great research going on. There's a lot of great clinical trials going on for medication, but right now, there's only two medications for ALS. Those are just to slow down the progression and not a cure or anything like that."
