NO. 1 BEARCAT FAN

CHRISTY PERRY/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

Tina Hermetz, the "no. 1 Bearcat fan," smiles for the camera at the Cullman v. Muscle Shoals game Friday, Oct. 23, 2020.

CULLMAN, Ala. – There were four seconds on the clock when the Cullman Bearcats sent kicker Brody Adams out for a possible game-winning field goal. While others might have been counting the Bearcats out before their exhilarating comeback over Muscle Shoals Friday night, Tina Hermetz was not nervous at all. "Not at all," she smiled. She seemed to know that her beloved Bearcats would be celebrating the big win.

Hermetz is a huge fan of the Cullman Bearcats and is at every home game decked out in her black and gold. Some even say she is the no. 1 Bearcat fan. Hermetz especially loves to sit close to the band and cheerleaders and knows all the stand tunes and cheers.

"GO, GO, GO, GO!" Hermetz exclaimed earlier in the night as Bearcat quarterback Max Dueland snapped the ball before completing a touchdown pass. She cheered enthusiastically along with the cheerleaders as the band played "Victory March."

Hermetz, who was born with mental disabilities, comes to every game with her twin sister, Toni Treadway, who explained, "We just had a birthday on the 19th of October, and we are 61 now. Margaret Jean Jones Center is where she has always gone, but now, when COVID hit, they cut out a lot of the programs that she was in. They are hoping they can get more programs start-

craig@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Cullman County Animal Shelter's Donna Ruttkay shares The Cullman Tribune Pet of the Week:

Frankie is a 1-year-old long-legged and short-haired Fox Terrier mix.

Get ready to play when you meet him; he's a lively medium to high energy who doesn't like shelter life and wants to be active.

He's skilled on his leash and likes to stay close to his humans.

Frankie is a delight to the shelter staff; Ruttkay called him "an optimist," and said, "Love me some Frankie time!"

Frankie has the makings of a good therapy, companion or hiking dog.

Frankie's adoption fee is $100 which includes DHLPP vaccine, Bordetella vaccines, rabies vaccine, wormer, general exam at the vet, neutering, microchip, free 30-day health insurance policy issued by 24PetWatch (with valid email only) and a free bag of food from Cullman Pet Depot (you must pay sales tax).

Animal shelter staff and volunteers work with their dogs to make sure they are accustomed to being around people, walking on a leash and practicing good behavior.

Several of the shelter's canine friends have even been "hired" to work as therapy and special needs service dogs.

Please consider adopting, to give a rescued pet a chance at a happy and healthy life.

Contact the Cullman County Animal Shelter at 256-734-5448 or cullmancountyanimalshelter@gmail.com.

Visit the shelter at 935 Convent Road NE.

Wendy Sack
wendy@cullmantribune.com

HOLLY POND, Ala. – The Cullman County Sheriff's Office (CCSO) on Monday busted what it says is a major theft ring, recovering thousands of dollars in stolen property, one of the biggest recoveries in the last 20 years.

A media release said the CCSO Special Response Team (SRT) and investigators executed a search warrant at a residence along County Road 1728 in the Holly Pond community, where they found 40 grams of methamphetamine, $5,300 in cash, stolen guns, trailers, guitars, tools, TVs, tablets and other items.

Four people were at the residence, one of which fled the scene and was located after a 3-mile track by K-9 Deputy Copper.

The suspect who fled, Ronald Eric Bevington, 52, of Holly Pond is charged with trafficking in illegal drugs, first-degree receiving stolen property and unlawful possession of drug paraphernalia.

He also had numerous warrants. Merlin Eugene Thomas, 38, of Holly Pond is charged with unlawful possession of a controlled substance and unlawful possession of drug paraphernalia. He also had a failure to appear warrant.

Janissa Carolyn Dover, 27, of Cullman is charged with possession of drug paraphernalia.

Shaina Michelle Rajput, 36, of Hanceville is charged with possession of drug paraphernalia. She also had numerous failure to appear warrants.

"This is one of the biggest, if not the biggest, property recoveries we have had here at the Cullman County Sheriff's Office during my 20 years here.

"No one dislikes thieves more than we do, and it's our goal to locate the owners and return as much of this stolen property as we can," said Cullman County Sheriff Matt Gentry.

"I am also glad our deputies were able to arrest these four individuals and also seize these drugs and recover this property in a safe manner."

All four suspects are being held in the Cullman County Detention Center without bond.

Other charges may be pending as the investigation continues.

Residents who believe any of the stolen items belong to them are asked to the call the Cullman County Sheriff's Office Investigation Division at 256-734-0342.

More photos of recovered property can be viewed on the Cullman Sheriff's Facebook page.

Ledger's (from Front)

Cullman Tribune Staff
Contributor

CULLMAN, Ala. – Ron Foust, CEO of Stone Bridge Farms, recently announced the opening of Ledger's Restaurant and The Galley. Ledger's grand opening will be Thursday, Nov. 12 at 6 p.m.

Ledger's is situated within Stone Bridge Farms' 136-acre estate. Designed to complement the venue's vast locale, Ledger's opens its doors to beautiful lake views and a creatively crafted menu with a special focus on Southern-inspired cuisine featuring the best from each season's harvest.

Ledger's offers a sophisticated spin in several settings. The Galley, the more casual side, and Ledger's, the main dining room. In addition, there are two private banquet rooms, for business meetings or intimate gatherings. One of the more unique offerings is the Chef's Table, located in the kitchen, which can host up to six guests nightly.

This Southern-inspired restaurant and bar will be led by Executive Chef Clif Holt, a native of Cullman. Holt brings 20 years of culinary experience to Stone Bridge Farms. Most recently, he served as owner and executive chef at Little Savannah Restaurant & Bar for 18 years in Birmingham. In his new position, Holt will oversee Ledger's casual dining, fine dining and culinary studio.

Foust said he wanted to bring something special to his campus that would add to his vision of Stone Bridge Farms.

"We are beyond proud to bring this vision to life and introduce our newest restaurant to our repeat and new guests alike. The addition of Executive Chef Clif Holt brings a whole new level of sophistication and style to our estate. We look forward to Chef Clif leading our culinary team with his creativity and imagination. His proven ability to implement and develop culinary standards will deliver that one-of-a-kind experience that Stone Bridge Farms is known for."

Ledger's will feature fresh seafood, house-made pasta, steak, house-made bread and farm-fresh vegetables.

For more information or to make reservations, visit www.LedgersRestaurant.com or email info@LedgersRestaurant.com. Find Ledger's on Facebook at www.facebook.com/ledgersrestaurant.

Stone Bridge Farms is located at 281 County Road 717, Cullman, AL 35055.

State Volleyball Tournament tips off Tuesday

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. – This year's AHSAA State Volleyball Tournament is upon us and there are four local teams in the mix this time around. Addison plowed its way through the Area and North Regional Tournaments to get back to familiar surroundings at the 2A State Tournament in Birmingham and the Meek Lady Tigers earned their spot after sweeping Holy Spirit Catholic in the opening round of the North Regional. West Point and Fairview will both be in the field as well after they clashed for their third title fight this season in the North Regional Finals. West Point won this year's county title over the Lady Aggies while Fairview took the area tournament crown earlier this month. In their latest duel, the Lady Warriors finished on top and will make their first-ever state tournament appearance as the top seed. The Lady Aggies will be making their third consecutive appearance in Birmingham.

The top-seeded Addison Lady Bulldogs will be the first team to hit the floor at the Birmingham Crossplex Tuesday morning at 10 to face Horseshoe Bend in the elite eight round.

A win would send Addison to the final four and a match against either Ariton or Spring Garden at 5 p.m. Meek will be next at 2 p.m. and the Lady Tigers will be matched up against Pleasant Home. A win would put the Lady Tigers in a semifinal match with either Donoho or Millry at 6:30.

West Point and Fairview will both play their first matches of the 5A Tournament at 3:30 p.m. The top-seeded Lady Warriors will play Elberta and the Lady Aggies will take on Providence Christian. Wins would propel both teams into final four matches at 6:30.

Tuesday, Oct. 27

Council (from Front)

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Cullman City Council on Monday evening, reduced to three members (President Pro Tem Johnny Cook, Clint Hollingsworth and David Moss) by COVID quarantines or related issues, voted to grant a 10-year tax abatement to ST Holdings, which owns Bedzzz Express, for a new distribution center to be located in the city. The construction project is expected to involve a $5 million capital investment by the company and result in 24 new jobs and an estimated $740,000 in annual income.

The company is exempted from all ad valorem, mortgage, recording and construction-related transaction taxes, but will still have to pay all taxes directed to support of education, including any taxes that fall under any of the previously listed categories.

First readings prepare for upcoming action

The council gave a first reading to three ordinances that will be voted on at a later meeting. No action was taken Monday evening.

An ordinance to adopt new sanitation rates for the City of Cullman:

Residential - $16 per month charge for the first container (this is the rate sanitation customers already pay); each additional container will be an additional $8 per container, for once a week solid waste pickup, "for each single family residence, town house, condominium or other living quarters within the city limits of the City of Cullman."

- Separate containers will be provided to families in apartment complexes, and they will be charged.
- Excessive trash pickup at a residence can be charged an additional pickup fee at the discretion of the Sanitation Department.

Commercial - $60 per month for weekly solid waste pickup in two 96 gallon carts "for each office or business in the City of Cullman. If more frequent service is required, fees may be adjusted accordingly."

- Excessive trash pickup at a commercial office or business can be charged an additional pickup fee at the discretion of the Sanitation Department.

Dumpster Service

- Two Yard Dumpster $80 per haul, $50 delivery
- Four Yard Dumpster $120 per haul, $50 delivery
- Six Yard Dumpster $160 per haul, $50
- Eight Yard Dumpster $200 per haul, $50 delivery

Roll-off Service

- Twenty Yard Roll-Off Container $100 per delivery, $175 per haul, $6 daily rent, plus tipping fees
- Thirty Yard Roll-Off Container $100 per delivery, $175 per haul, $6 daily rent, plus tipping fees
- Forty Yard Roll-Off Container $100 per delivery, $175 per haul, $6 daily rent, plus tipping fees
- Compactor Service minimum monthly rental $475 plus hauling and disposal fees "which will vary at the discretion of the Sanitation Department."

The proposed ordinance noted, "There will be an inflation adjustment of 3% or the Consumer Price Index (CPI), whichever is greater, will applied annually to all rates and fees included in this ordinance on every October 1st."

An ordinance that would change the City of Cullman Planning Commission from nine members to seven:

The current ordinance describes a nine member Planning Commission which "consists of the Mayor, or his or her designee, one of the administrative officials of the municipality selected by the Mayor, a member of the City Council selected by the City Council, and six (6) persons appointed by the Mayor."

Under the new ordinance, the commission will be appointed as follows:

- Six members appointed by the mayor
- One member appointed by a majority of the council, who may be a member of the Council
- One non-voting advisory member appointed by the mayor, "who shall be an administrative official of the municipality qualified by education, training, experience, and job responsibilities to provide substantive and technical advice, assistance, and guidance to the planning commission in the exercise of its statutory functions."

A nuisance ordinance for the City of Cullman:

The proposed ordinance notes that "an abundance of abandoned or inoperable vehicles, abandoned overgrown grass and weeds, abandoned and unoccupied dilapidated structures, and other nuisances described herein within the city limits of Cullman, Alabama, could be injurious to the general welfare through being a dangerous public menace and an eyesore, and providing breeding grounds and shelter for rats, mice, snakes, mosquitoes, and other vermin, insects and pests; or attaining heights and dryness that constitute a serious fire threat or hazard; or bearing wingy or downy seeds, when mature that cause the spread of weeds and when breathed, irritation to the throat, lungs, and eyes of the public; or hiding debris such as broken glass or metal that could inflict injury on a person going upon the property, or being unsightly and constituting a usual blight."

The ordinance would declare it unlawful:

- for the owner, occupant, or person in charge of a property within the City of Cullman, Alabama, whether vacant or not, to use said property for open storage of any inoperable or abandoned motor vehicle, ice box, refrigerator, stove, or other appliance, glass, bottles, tin cans, brush, combustible materials, building materials, building rubbish, and similar items, or to allow the accumulation of weeds, grass, dead trees, brush, trash, garbage, tires, and similar items that create a nuisance and blight on the community, unlawful for an accumulation or storage of debris, refuse, brush, parts of buildings, remains from building demolition, parts of untenantable or uninhabitable structures, used machinery, used tires, used vehicles, parts of vehicles, abandoned vehicles, or any other materials which may provide a breeding place for mosquitoes, harmful insects, rodents and snakes or is so unsightly as to be offensive to the surrounding area is a nuisance in violation of this Ordinance.
- to allow garbage to remain exposed in any manner on such person's premises or on the adjacent street or alley.
- for any person to sweep, throw or dispose of trash, waste matter or garbage onto or into property not owned by such person or under such person's control, except in the landfill as designated by the City in a lawful manner.
- for any person to throw or sweep trash, rubbish, garbage, or filth of any kind onto the streets, sidewalks, or public grounds in the City or into waterways, ponds, lakes, or other bodies of water within the City limits of the City of Cullman or direct others to do so.
- for any person to permit or maintain the existence of any nuisance on any property under such person's ownership or control.

Council hears from dissatisfied former employee

During its public segment, the council heard from Johnny Looney, a former City employee who retired after 26 years of service and received a certificate of appreciation from then-Mayor Donald Green.

Looney offered a complaint that he suffers financial hardships, that the City does not offer cost of living raises to its retired employees like it does for active employees and that the only solution ever offered to him by Cullman was to come out of retirement and return to work.

The council listened to Looney's concerns but did not respond. Looney left the meeting after returning his certificate of appreciation.

The Cullman City Council meets the second and fourth Mondays of each month at 7 p.m. in the city hall auditorium. The public is invited to attend.

LIBRARY ON WHEELS

How the library program at East Elem. has evolved in 2020

CULLMAN CITY SCHOOLS

East Elementary School Library Media Specialist Savannah Wood rolls the mobile library cart around classrooms, literally bringing the library to students to ensure everyone can continue learning library skills and checking out books.

CULLMAN, Ala. - What do you do when students can't come to the library? Well, you bring the library to them.

That's been the plan at East Elementary School this school year, as the regular student visits to the library have been limited due to an abundance of caution with the new COVID-19 safety protocols in place for 2020. With students now unable to head to the school's library to roam the stacks themselves, Library Media Specialist Savannah Wood worked with teachers to take her "show" on the road with a mobile library cart.

"Instead of all the kids coming to me, I go into the classrooms now with a library book-mobile," Wood explained. "We've decorated it really cute and made it just as fun as possible. They get so excited when they hear it coming down the hall now, and it's just been a great, new way to keep kids excited about reading."

Wood explained she stays in touch with teachers about what their students are learning about, and what they're interested in, so she can curate a selection to bring them in the classroom so everyone can still pick out a new book.

"We're really trying to cater to the kids this year and keep it as normal as possible," she said. "And if I happen to not have the book with me, I'll run back and get it so everyone can have a chance to get what they're excited to read. We're so thankful we're able to even do book checkouts this year and make sure students are still able to discover new books and stay engaged."

Along with checkouts, Wood has also worked out a schedule to bring her usual library lessons to the classrooms — so students are still being taught things like digital citizenship and computer skills. It's just happening in the classroom, as opposed to the library. One recent lesson plan has focused on the election, with students voting to choose a fictional character as "president" of the library — the race came down to Harry Potter and Dog Man (if you're curious, Wood said Potter looks to be the clear favorite in early exit polls).

"I go class by class each week and teach a lesson, and we've been able to do more computer science learning just out of necessity, but it's been really great," Wood said. "Kids are so resilient, and this has been a great way to put a new spin on something they know and love, to keep it fun and exciting for this school year."

The past few weeks brought the most unique challenge yet for the library in 2020: the annual book fair. Wood said that instead of hosting a more open book fair with several classes together at once in the library, they staggered the classes in pods and cleaned the library between each group.

"We reworked the entire schedule since we can't mingle classes," she explained. "It was a lot of work, but really worked out well. Kids look forward to it so much, we just knew we had to figure out a way to make it work — and we did!"

Cullman City Schools Superintendent Dr. Susan Patterson said she was so proud to see the library and media staff get creative for 2020.

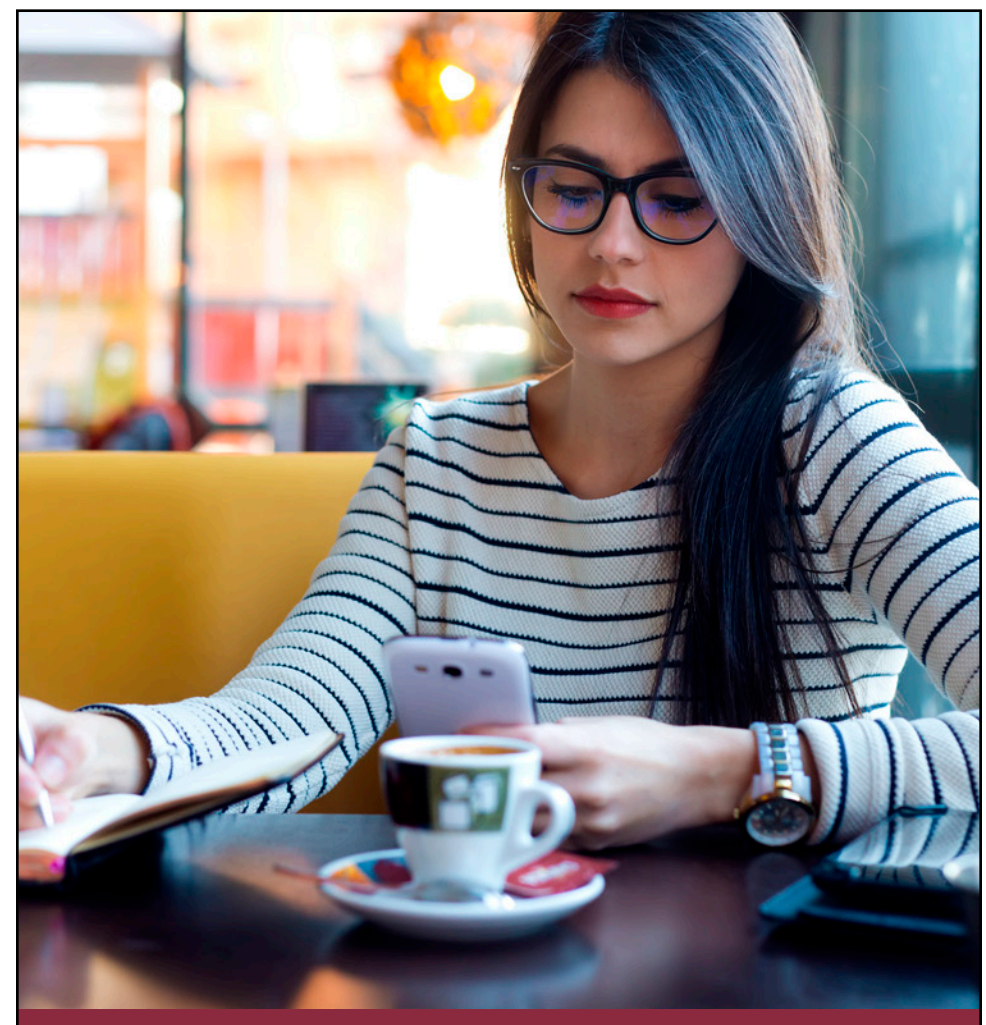

"It just shows the creativity and resilience of our educators and staff, to innovate and ensure the library program is able to keep serving students, and finding new and exciting ways to do it," she said.

7 p.m. on WIAT
The Price Is Right at Night

Game shows may be all about fun, but CBS uses a primetime double bill of two classics of the genre to show they're serious about their gratitude to the frontline medical personnel, rescue teams and other essential workers who stay on the job while the COVID-19 pandemic has brought much of the rest of the country to a temporary halt. Host Drew Carey gives several of these selfless workers a chance to play this show's iconic games to win big prizes. A special edition of "Let's Make a Deal" follows.

7 p.m. on WTTO
Swamp Thing

In the new episode "Darkness on the Edge of Town," Abby's (Crystal Reed) return to Louisiana dredges up her dark history with Avery and Maria (Will Patton, Virginia Madsen), while Swamp Thing (Derek Mears) begins to sense a growing darkness within the swamp. More details about the personal history of the mysterious Dan Cassidy (Ian Ziering) come to light. Henderson Wade and Jennifer Beals also star.

8 p.m. on WVTM
This Is Us

Fans of this Emmy-winning family drama — and they are legion — get an unexpected gift as NBC opens Season 5 of the hit series two weeks earlier than the network originally planned. As the action resumes with the timeline-shifting stories, expect more focus on mom Rebecca's (Mandy Moore) troubling memory problems, as the character decides to participate in a clinical trial for a potential treatment. Obviously, it's a high-stakes issue for all three of her adult children (Sterling K. Brown, Chrissy Metz, Justin Hartley).

8 p.m. on WIAT
Let's Make a Deal Primetime

If you're an essential worker, CBS has quite a "Deal" for you. Wayne Brady hosts a special primetime edition of this long-running daytime game show that serves as a salute to the frontline workers who keep America running during the coronavirus pandemic, allowing those who are medically vulnerable to quarantine safely. Brady also performs a musical number to open the special, and participating "traders" have a chance to win $100,000 hidden in golden envelopes throughout the telecast.

8 p.m. on WTTO
Tell Me a Story

Jackson and Simone (Matt Lauria, Ashley Madekwe) grow closer over their deeply rooted family troubles in the new episode "Family Business." Meanwhile, Ashley (Natalie Alyn Lind) goes into a troubling tailspin after receiving an anonymous delivery, prompting Rebecca (Carrie-Anne Moss), Beau (Eka Darville) and the Nashville police to hunt for some answers. Elsewhere, Tucker (Paul Wesley) holds a terrified Olivia (guest star Danielle Campbell) hostage while keeping his dark secret from Maddie (Odette Annable).

8 p.m. on BET
2020 Hip Hop Awards

Comic and actress Amanda Seales ("Insecure") is host of the 15th edition of these awards recognizing the year's outstanding musical artists in the hip hop genre. Nominated for Hip Hop Artist of the Year are DaBaby (who leads the nomination field with 12 nods), Roddy Ricch (11 nominations overall), Megan Thee Stallion and Drake (eight nods each), Future and Lil Baby. Up for Best New Hip Hop Artist are Flo Milli, Jack Harlow, NLE Choppa, Mulatto, Pop Smoke and Rod Wave.

8 p.m. on HGTV
Fixer to Fabulous

Husband-and-wife home renovators Dave and Jenny Marrs bring more worn-out houses in Northwest Arkansas back to life as they return for another season of their home makeover series. In the season premiere Dave and Jenny give a much-needed facelift to a deserving family's dated lake house, transforming it into a thrilling Nantucket-style waterfront escape. Their projects include refreshing a boathouse, installing a one-of-a-kind inlay in the foyer and creating a soda shoppe-inspired teen hideaway.

Drew Carey hosts "The Price Is Right at Night" on CBS.

OPINION: Sin, part 3

Tom Fillinger
Tribune Columnist

We continue in our study of sin. We are currently looking at key words that the text of Scripture uses to define SIN. Last week we looked at several OT words. Today we will look at some NT words for sin.

The languages of the Scripture, OT Hebrew and NT Greek provide a rich tapestry of meaning for the concept of sin.

The English language simply translates the words as SIN. The original languages shine the light of specific concepts and meaning. This diversity of meaning paints a portrait of the ugliness of SIN.

It enables us to glimpse just how heinous and wretched sin is. It helps us comprehend Isaiah's absolute horror when he saw himself in comparison to the absolute Holiness of God.

"The New Testament uses 12 basic words to describe sin. They are: Kakos, bad (Romans 13:3); poneros, evil (Matthew 5:45); asebes, godless (Romans 1:18); enochos, guilt (Matthew 5:21); hamartia, sin (I Corinthians 6:18); adikia, unrighteousness (I Corinthians 6:9); anomos, lawlessness (I Timothy 1:9); parabates, transgression (Romans 5:14); agnoein, to be ignorant (Romans 1:13); planan, to go astray (I Corinthians 6:9); paraptomai, to fall away (Galatians 6:1); and hupocrites, hypocrite (I Timothy 4:2).

From the uses of these words several conclusions may also be drawn. (1) There is always a clear standard against which sin is committed. (2) Ultimately all sin is positive rebellion against God and a transgression of His standards. (3) Evil may assume a variety of forms. (4) Man's responsibility is definite and clearly understood."

The word that is used most frequently is hamartia, missing the mark. It is the most comprehensive term for explaining sin. Paul used the verb hamartano when he wrote, "For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God" (Romans 3:23).

"God has a high and holy standard of what is right, and so long as man follows the Divine standard, he will see himself as he truly exists in God's eyes.

The flat statement of the Almighty is that all men have fallen far short of God's required standard.

It is the popular and common practice of men to create their own standards; however, God has established His standard of perfection for entry into Heaven, and all men have "missed the mark" as an archer's arrow would fall to the ground because it fell short of its target.

Have you confessed personally to the God of the Ages that you are a sinner? If not, bow the knee to Jesus as LORD NOW!

ed so she can go back down there, but right now, she sits with my mom during the day."

Coming to the football games is one of the highlights of Hermetz's week. She and Treadway attend St. Paul's Lutheran Church, where Hermetz has many friends. Through church, Hermetz always seems to know students who are cheering, on the field or in the band. She enjoys supporting her friends and all the kids. She especially enjoys the marching band and insists on being next to the band in the stands.

"I believe she may very well be our no. 1 fan. I have had the honor of speaking to her and usually getting a big hug from her at every home game for as long as I can remember," Cullman Band Director Christopher Smith said of Hermetz. "She is always full of joy and team spirit. She is also always excited to see what the band will perform at each game. She is truly an essential part of the home game atmosphere, and we are honored to play for her and all of the fans at each home game in the fall. For me, the game is not complete without getting a chance to see her and her enthusiastic spirit each Friday night."

The band put together a special surprise for Hermetz at Friday night's game. Smith, along with a couple of the band's student officers, found her in the stands and gave her a gift bag with goodies from the Pride Store including shiny gold shakers, a Bearcat Band pin and T-shirt. Other fans in the stands applauded as she received her gift of appreciation and posed for pictures.

Hermetz smiled, "That's why I come every week so I can see everybody."

Treadway said of her sister, "She has to see things over and over, like repetition. She's watched enough football to understand.

"She loves Auburn and she watches every game. She repeats what they say. The Cullman cheerleaders, she has watched them so much that she repeats the cheers. At church, they let her sing in the choir and she is a part of the group even though she can't read the music or the words. It's a huge deal because she just wants to be like everybody else. It's just a big deal for her to be able to come out. A lot of people don't let their kids come out; I call them kids, but they are adults. They don't get out and socialize with people, but we've always done that with her. She's gone everywhere that we did. She didn't stay at home. Everybody knows her because she went everywhere with my mom and dad who were involved in everything."

This week, Cullman will take on Columbia High School for the Bearcats' last regular season game. A win will mean the Bearcats will host Shades Valley in the first round of the state playoffs. For Hermetz, that's at least one more home game in 2020 and she couldn't be happier.

As the game ended Friday and the band played Hermetz said simply, "Go Bearcats!"

Mary Nell Hill Drinkard, 80, of Holly Pond, Alabama passed away Sunday, Oct. 25, 2020. She was born Aug. 25, 1940 to Albert McCay and Dorothy Mae McCay Hill. Mrs. Drinkard was a lifetime resident of the Holly Pond area. Mary was known and loved by many in our community. She worked in the snack store at Holly Pond School for many years. She taught many of us how to count change correctly and how to wait patiently for our turn in line. When she could no longer endure our endless clacking of quarters on the snack store counter, she became a secretary for the school, and continued to help raise us up into responsible young adults. Mrs. Drinkard enjoyed cross stitch and sewing, as well as attending the Senior Center in Baileyton. Mary was a member of Lystra Baptist Church and she loved her Savior. Mary was also a beloved mother, grandmother, and great-grandmother. She was a mother of three, grandmother of six, great-grandmother of six, and a loving friend to many. Mary's life brought joy to many and her passing brings sorrow, not only to her family, but also to anyone who knew her. Mary is preceded in death by her parents Albert and Dorothy Hill; husband Glenn Drinkard; and her brother Lowery Hill. She is survived by her sons Mike Drinkard and wife Teresa and Ronald Dinkard and wife Donna; daughter Sandy Chambers and husband David; grandchildren Andrea Stoker and husband Clay, Blake Drinkard and wife Haley, Michelle Drinkard, Chasity Ray and husband Austin, Bradley Chapman and wife Hannah, and Derek Chapman; great-grandchildren Bryson Stoker, Riley Stoker, Brooklyn Ray, Aleigh Drinkard, Kannon Drinkard, and Emery Jones; sister-in-law Faye Hill; and lifelong friend Jeanette Wright. Graveside services for Mrs. Drinkard are at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday, Oct.27, 2020 at Holly Pond Cemetery. Holly Pond Funeral Home is honored to serve the Drinkard family.

Larry Marion Cleghorn, 76, of Hartselle entered into rest Saturday, Oct. 24, 2020 at his home surrounded by his loving family. Larry was born March 6, 1944 in Winston County, Alabama, the last of seven children born to Allen and Ruby Cleghorn. He loved all of his family, especially his grandchildren, and proudly served his country for four years in the U.S. Air Force during the Vietnam War. Larry was a member of Mt. Hebron Baptist Church in Cullman, Alabama and worked for 3M in Decatur for 32 years. He enjoyed doing woodwork, football and fishing. Mud Creek Marching Festival canceled, but show goes on for Hanceville merchants

craig@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – Hanceville's record as a special event venue does not seem to be improving. Rain, conflicting event schedules and the start of the COVID shutdown the day before this year's Irish festival have plagued the town and challenged its downtown merchants, who have put time and money into getting ready for each event and its attendant economic opportunity to bring in shoppers. Saturday was no exception, as consistent rain through the morning and afternoon led to the cancellation of the Mud Creek Marching Festival* at Hanceville High School, whose attendees the merchants hoped to draw downtown for their block party.

While the rain sent the marching bands home, the merchants stayed and prepared to make the best of the situation, as they have done before: sidewalk merchants backed up under awnings or accepted an invitation to come inside and set up in Arise Coffee Company's back gym; the hot dog grill was fired up and local music acts went on inside the coffee shop. The number of shoppers was smaller than hoped for, but folks did come out to enjoy a day out and bring the merchants and vendors a little business. Across the street from the coffee shop, downtown developer Nolan Bradford talked to The Tribune about how local businesses are weathering COVID-19 and other challenges. While realistic in his views, he was surprisingly upbeat.

Bradford said, "People are surviving, but of course, business is down. The coffee shop actually had to close down a couple of months I think. They're opened back up; business is slow, but they're hanging on. Most of the other places are doing about the same as what they were, pre-COVID and everything."

Arise Coffee Company owner Leah McCollins got creative during the shutdown, hosting concerts and other special events to raise funds to keep open not only her coffee house and gym, but also the reduced rate therapy service the licensed counselor provides for low-income clients and those without insurance for mental health services. In a previous interview about COVID challenges, McCollins credited Bradford with encouraging and helping her to keep going and shared that business has been getting better.

In the midst of challenges, growth!

While the downtown business district did lose two businesses during the shutdown, it has recently seen the arrival of Kim Carwell's Walk in the Dream career coaching service and a small software business with plans to expand and hire. Gift shop Trinkets and Traditions has moved into and already filled a larger downtown location, and the owners of recent culinary addition Cafe Tula Taqueria are already considering an expansion. Bradford was proud to add, "I've actually got interest in more people coming in." Without being able to go into much detail on preliminary plans, Bradford mentioned that upcoming possibilities include a CBD/vape shop, as well as a meat-and-three home cooking restaurant that will augment the district's Mexican eatery. "So things have slowed down," said Bradford, "but people are hanging on, and we've got a good environment. The rents are good here. So if you're going to make it at all, Hanceville, I think, is a place to try."

More opportunities to visit and shop coming up

The Hanceville City Council recently approved and discussed several upcoming special events that should bring visitors downtown:

- Hanceville Elementary School Trunk or Treat on Bulldog Lane and Stadium Drive Friday, Oct. 30
- Bike Night on Bangor Avenue from 6-9 p.m. Nov. 10
- Cullman Area Christmas Open House Nov. 13-15. Hanceville merchants are planning to take part, and some will be giving away gift certificates and other prizes.
- The Civitan Club's Tinsel Trail and tree lighting at Veterans Park at 5 p.m. Dec. 4
- The Civitan's County Christmas Parade at noon Saturday, Dec. 5

W.C. MANN/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

In the face of the rains that shut down Saturday's Mud Creek Marching Festival, vendors moved indoors or under awnings to keep the Hanceville Downtown Merchants Block Party going.

Hanceville Mayor Kenneth Nail told The Tribune, "I think you've got some folks there that has put a lot of money into their business and downtown, and they haven't seen a whole lot of yield back yet. Everybody tells me, 'We love what's going on with downtown; we love it.' Well, if you love it, you better spend some money down there, because if you don't, some of these shops are not going to be here. For me, that's what the big promotion is. We've got to, we have got to think about spending some money. Don't always think about just going to the big retailer; you know, the small town store, heck, they need some support, too."

*Organizers of the Mud Creek Marching Festival will be making a decision Tuesday as to whether the event will be rescheduled.

Baileyton (from Front)

BAILEYTON, Ala. – The town of Baileyton came together Sunday afternoon for the dedication of its new town hall. The project took three years from beginning to completion and the result is "something the whole town can be proud of," said Councilmember Myra Martin.

The entrance features three glass cases that proudly display the many miniatures crafted by Orby V. Shedd.

The collection includes historic buildings and locations throughout Baileyton's history.

Shedd came out to see his years of hard work prominently displayed and answered the many questions guests asked. "I made the buildings out of popsicle sticks, match sticks, toothpicks and other things I had around the house," he said.

A plaque of appreciation for Shedd is hung near the cases. (Read more about Shedd at www.cullmantribune.com/2018/01/12/big-heart-tiny-ways-meet-baileytons-orby-shedd).

Many were in attendance for the dedication, including the current Baileyton administration as well as those who will be sworn in Nov. 2.

Mayor Johnny Dyar thanked all the many people who worked together to make the building possible, saying, "We want to thank Rhonda Van Zandt and Donald for the site.

"We couldn't have picked a better spot than what we've got right now. It's the old homeplace and I just want to thank them for letting the Town have it."

He also thanked Eddie Clark and Walker Brothers for their work on constructing the building.

The town hall has a large foyer with the three display cases.

The office of the town clerk and mayor are located to the right.

To the left, there is a large conference/meeting room with plenty of natural light. Portraits of the town's mayors, past and present, are displayed.

The history of Baileyton is also celebrated in various framings throughout the building.

The town hall also has a kitchen in the rear of the building that connects to both the offices and the meeting room, spacious bathrooms and plenty of storage space.

Mayor-Elect Windell Calloway said he is waiting to have discussions with the next council before making any decisions on the old town hall building or any additional activities that might take place in the new town hall.

He said of the old building, "As soon as the COVID is over with, when we can, we hope to go back to renting that top part and using the office for storage space.

"A lot of it depends on what the council wants to do. We are going to have a council with a voice and an input of what's done in the town.

"All major decisions I plan on being made by the council. It's the people's town.

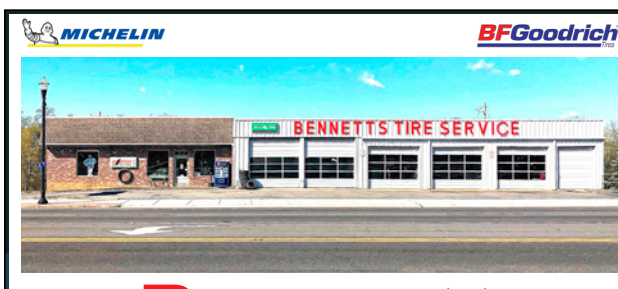

"The people of Baileyton, it's their town, and those five people representing them, they should have a voice in what we do."

CORRECTION

In the article titled "Berlin council passes 2021 budget," published Wednesday, Oct. 21, The Tribune mistakenly identified the bid winner for bush hogging as Steve Farr. It is Steve Clark. We regret the error.
