CULLMAN, Ala. – Lunchroom staff members at Harmony School were recently recognized as the school's Employees of the Month. The four hard-working women go above and beyond, according to Harmony Principal Kevin Sullins. Each day, despite the added difficulties of the pandemic, their pride in their work is quite noticeable.

Tammy Thompson, Denise Hardin, Rhonda Bates and Pat Rodgers make up the Harmony School lunchroom staff, and they feed 250 kids each day.

"The food just looks so good. It looks like a high dollar restaurant style when they lay it out there," said Sullins.

"When it looks good, the kids will eat it. They take great pride in the presentation of that and everything they do."

During the pandemic, the ladies have had more meals to prepare than in normal years.

Sullins explained, "They are having to fix to-go lunches and breakfast in the rooms.

"Everything has just totally changed for them. There have been shortages of food, and they never know what they are really going to get on the truck each week. They get 'outed' a lot.

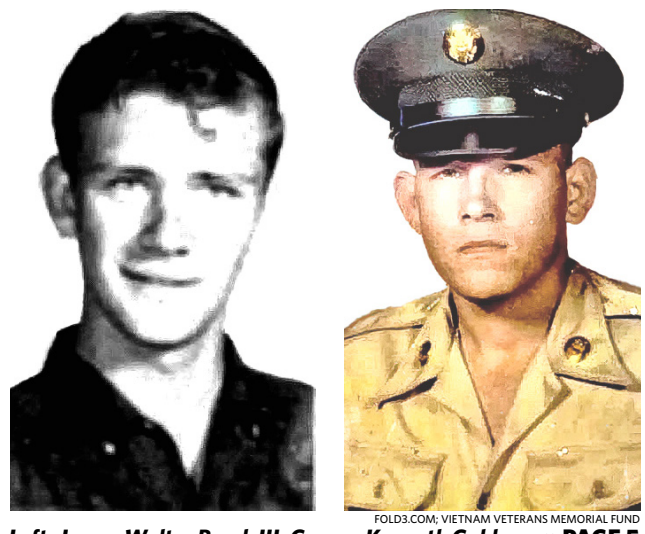

"They'll order one thing and just get whatever they get. They have to make do and they make it look so good and so appetizing and take great pride in it. That's something that seems to be lost in the world today."

Besides looking great, Sullins emphasized the food tastes great, too.

DAILY UPDATE FROM ADPH

Efforts to achieve vaccine equity in Black Belt counties yield positive results - at least 1 in 5 residents of 19 Alabama counties vaccinated

Twenty percent or more of the residents age 16 and older of 19 Alabama counties have received one or more doses of COVID-19 vaccine to date. Successful public health efforts to achieve vaccine equity have resulted in higher vaccine uptake among African American residents of Black Belt counties. Counties where 20 percent or more of their residents have been vaccinated are as follows: Perry, Wilcox, Conecuh, Dallas, Hale, Clarke, Monroe, Marengo, Washington, Lee, Bullock, Tallapoosa, Henry, Macon, Houston, Colbert, Cullman, Baldwin, and Lauderdale. Vaccines are one key to protecting the most vulnerable and helping stop the pandemic in Alabama. Supply remains an issue, as there is not yet enough vaccine available for everyone who would like to be vaccinated.

CDC team to gather information in Black Belt about how to improve vaccine confidence and uptake

A five-member team from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) is in Alabama to explore local approaches on how to improve vaccine confidence. Team members will talk with local residents, community and faith leaders, and health care workers to understand their perspectives and suggestions on how to ensure high uptake of COVID-19 vaccines, especially in Black communities. Efforts will focus on identifying common questions and concerns or other barriers to uptake that residents have, addressing them through community outreach solutions, and promoting information sharing about the benefits and safety of COVID-19 vaccines, so that everyone is protected from the virus. The team will begin in Sumter County and move on to other Black Belt counties. The CDC team is expected to be in the state for the next three weeks.

People who previously received passive antibody therapy

Currently, there are no data on the safety and efficacy of COVID-19 vaccines in people who received monoclonal antibodies or convalescent plasma as part of COVID-19 treatment. Based on the estimated half-life of such therapies and evidence suggesting that reinfection is uncommon in the 90 days after initial infection, vaccination should be deferred for at least 90 days. This is a precautionary measure until additional information becomes available, to avoid potential interference of the antibody therapy with vaccine-induced immune responses. This recommendation applies to people who receive passive antibody therapy before receiving any vaccine dose and to those who receive passive antibody therapy after the first dose of an mRNA vaccine but before the second dose, in which case the second dose should be deferred for at least 90 days following receipt of the antibody therapy. Receipt of passive antibody therapy in the past 90 days is not a contraindication to receipt of COVID-19 vaccine. COVID-19 vaccine doses received within 90 days after receipt of passive antibody therapy do not need to be repeated.

Spring break gatherings can drive up COVID-19 cases

COVID-19 continues actively circulating in Alabama, including the more transmissible B.1.1.7 (UK) variant. Spring breakers and their families are reminded that all precautions should be taken during this time if we want to continue the downward trajectory of COVID-19 cases. Spring break trips to locations where crowds of people from throughout the county gather can lead to more infections, especially as the variants threaten. The risk of closer contact with others, especially when combined with increased alcohol use, can lead to asymptomatic spread. Even though COVID-19 cases are decreasing, it is extremely important that everyone continue to follow mitigation standards during spring break and at other seasonal gatherings. Students and their families need to do their part and do the right thing by wearing masks, practicing social distancing, and washing hands frequently. Caution and vigilance are still needed.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. – Owen Diodati recorded his third grand slam of the season, this one in walkoff fashion as the sophomore's roundtripper led No. 23 Alabama baseball to an 11-8 win over South Alabama on Tuesday night at Sewell-Thomas Stadium. The Crimson Tide is now 11-2 on the season with four comeback wins so far.

The Crimson Tide and Jaguars went back and forth all night. USA built a two-run lead through five, but the Tide matched with a single tally in the home half of the fifth to make it a one-run affair. The Jaguars came right back with three in the top of the sixth, but, once again, Alabama answered, this time with a five-spot in the seventh to take the lead. Alabama's advantage would not last long, as South crossed three runs in the eighth to make it an 8-6 game. Down to a final chance in the ninth, Alabama used two hits and a pair of errors to score one and load them up for Diodati, with the sophomore sending a ball deep into the student section for the grand slam and walkoff win.

Diodati led the Tide in RBI with four and Andrew Pinckney was close behind, with the redshirt freshman totaling three as part of his 2-for-4 effort at the dish. Peyton Wilson led the team in hits with three, including a double, and added a team-high tying two runs scored.

Chase Lee (3-0) picked up his third win of the season thanks to 1.2 scoreless innings that included three strikeouts. Lee entered in a tough spot with the bases loaded and one down in the eighth but battled to keep things close and allow his offense to complete the comeback.

From Head Coach Brad Bohannon

"It was a pretty wild game in that we made a lot of mistakes tonight. I could talk for several minutes about all kinds of things that we didn't do well, but with that being said, we found a way to win. We got down twice – we got down 5-1 – and we came back twice, and I think that speaks a lot to the competitive spirit of this group, the chemistry of our team. That's going to be really, really valuable throughout the rest of the year because we're going to have to play from behind, we're going to have to win some games late. I didn't think we played particularly well, but I think that's a big win from an intangibles standpoint."

How It Happened

T3 | South Alabama got on the board first, using a two-out RBI-double to plate one. (1-0, South Alabama)

T5 | A solo home run by the Jaguars doubled the lead. (2-0, South Alabama)

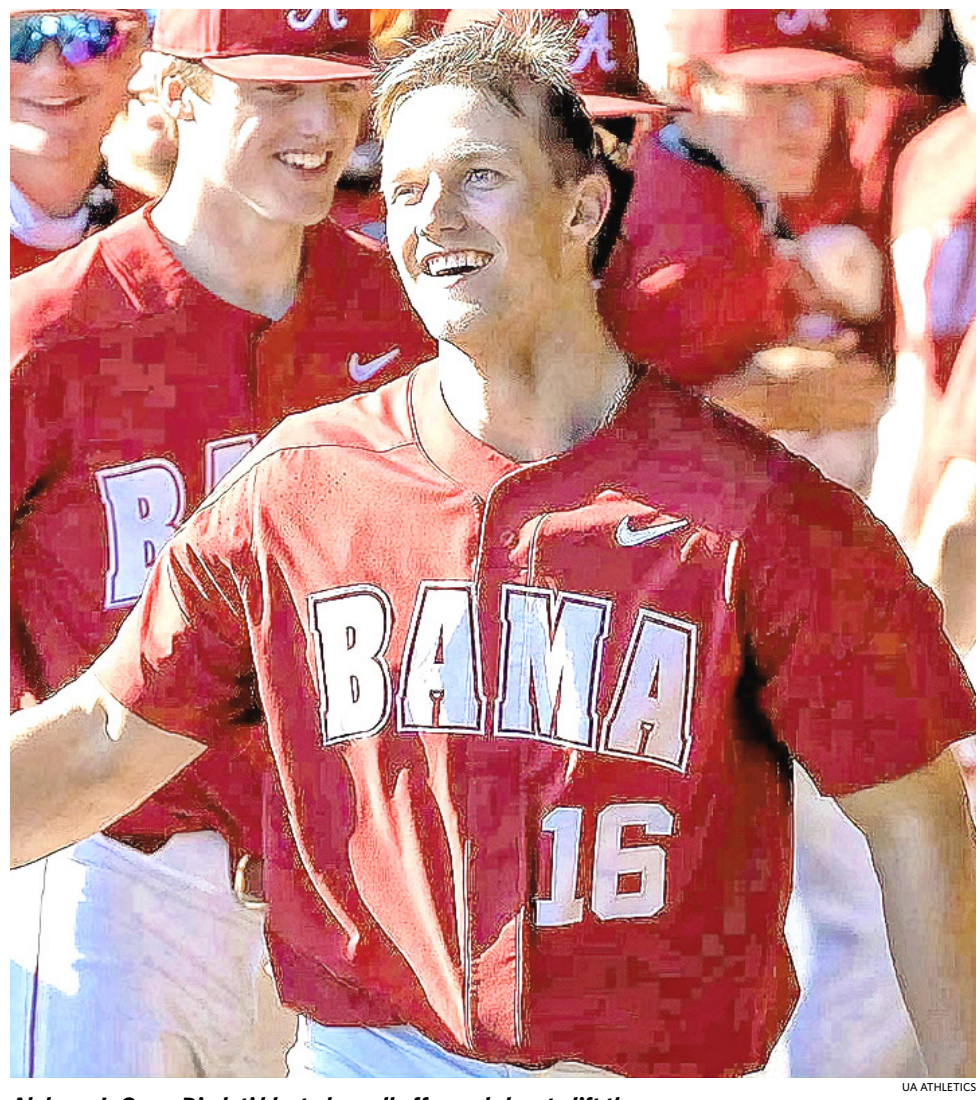

B5 | Alabama answered in the home half. A two-out triple from Jim Jarvis began the scoring sequence. Andrew Pinckney followed with an RBI-double to right to bring in Jarvis and make it a one-run game through five full. (2-1, South Alabama)

T6 | USA put together a two-out rally, beginning with a single, followed by a double, and punctuated by a home run, to widen the gap. (5-1, South Alabama)

B7 | The Crimson Tide took the lead for the first time on the night thanks to five runs in the frame. Zane Denton led off with a single and Owen Diodati followed with a double to put two on. Jackson Tate was hit by a pitch to load the bases and a wild pitch in the next at-bat allowed Denton to cross. After an out, Pinckney singled back up the chute to add a pair. A single in the next at-bat from Peyton Wilson put two aboard and William Hamiter cashed in, sending a double to the corner in right to move UA in front. (6-5, Alabama)

T8 | A walk and a wild pitch moved the USA leadoff man in scoring position. The Jaguars doubled in the next at-bat to even things at six apiece. Another walk paired with a single loaded the bases and a two-out double to right pushed across two more to give South Alabama the advantage once again. (8-6, South Alabama)

B9 | Wilson led off the inning with a single. One out later, Sam Praytor singled to right to put a pair on before Williamson reached on an error to load them up. A second error in the inning allowed Denton to reach and keep the bases loaded while making it a one-run game. The one run would not matter, however, as Diodati sent a ball deep into the student section in right for the walkoff grand slam.

UA ATHLETICS

Alabama's Owen Diodati blasted a walkoff grand slam to lift the Crimson Tide over South Alabama Tuesday night.

Postgame Notes

• Alabama has recorded two walkoff wins already this season. The Crimson Tide also walked it off against McNeese on Feb. 20.

• The walkoff grand slam was UA's first since John Trousdale recorded one against Grambling on May 10, 2017. That grand slam pushed the Tide past the 10-run rule to end the game after eight innings of play.

• Owen Diodati has totaled three grand slams so far this season. The Alabama single-season record is six by Mike Pitisci in 1984.

• The grand slam was Diodati's second in as many games. He also hit a grand slam against the College of Charleston in Sunday's series finale. Diodati has homered in back-to-back games twice this season, also achieving the feat in two games against McNeese from Feb. 20-21.

• Diodati is 3-for-3 in bases-loaded situations this season – all three at-bats have resulted in a grand slam.

• Eight of the Tide's nine starters recorded at least one hit on the night.

• Sam Praytor finished 1-for-4 on the night to extend his hitting streak to 10 games. Across that time, the Tide catcher is batting .290 (11-38) with four doubles, two home runs, 11 RBI, seven runs, seven walks and a hit-by-pitch.

• Jim Jarvis extended his hitting streak to nine games thanks to his 2-for-3 effort. The sophomore is batting .407 (11-27) with a double, one triple, three RBI, six runs, four walks, a pair of hit-by-pitch and a stolen base across the current streak.

Gonzalez, Mullins lead Auburn to 6-5 win at UAB

George Nunnelley
AU Athletics

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. – Auburn pitchers Joseph Gonzalez and Hayden Mullins combined to record all 27 outs as the Tigers defeated UAB, 6-5, Tuesday night at Regions Field.

"It was just really good to get back out," head coach Butch Thompson said following the win. "That's what baseball presents is an opportunity 48 hours later to get back out on the field and play a game in this beautiful park."

Making his first career start, Gonzalez retired the first 15 batters he faced and struck out seven. Mullins (2-0, 0.00) came into the game in the midst of some trouble in the sixth and recorded the final 12 outs with eight coming via strikeouts.

"I was just really excited to see Joseph Gonzalez get his first start tonight," Thompson said. "He was exciting, and then Hayden Mullins took it the last four innings for us. Two freshmen stepped up in a big way."

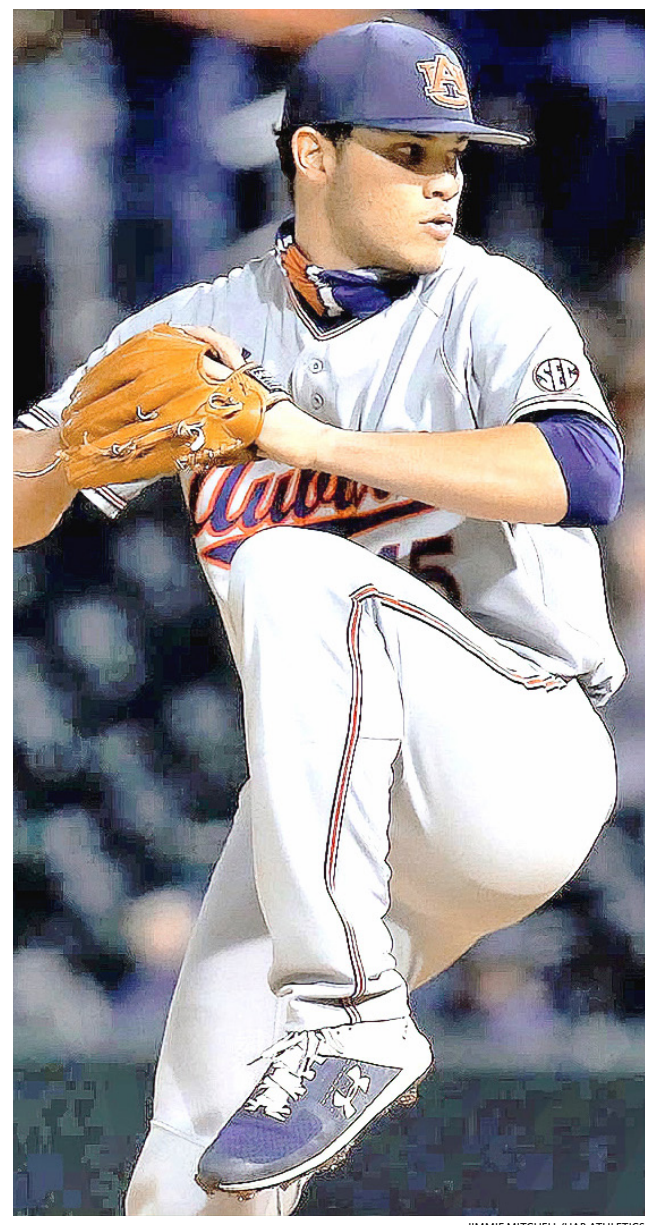

The young duo allowed just three hits and didn't issue a walk while striking out 15, the most in a game this season.

"It was amazing to see that from (Joseph)," Mullins said. "First collegiate start and he goes out there and shoves and doesn't give up a hit until the sixth. It was good to see that. We're seeing a lot of younger guys step up, and we really need that after this past weekend."

Auburn (8-4) jumped out to a 2-0 lead after scoring an unearned run in the second and doubling the advantage on Bryson Ware's ground-rule double in the sixth. However, after an Auburn baserunning mistake led to an inning-ending double play, UAB (6-5) answered with four runs on three hits, two walks and two wild pitches to take a 4-2 lead.

Down to its final six outs and trailing by two, Auburn put its first three baserunners of the eighth inning aboard on two walks and a hit-by-pitch, and all three runs came in to score. Tyler Miller lifted a sacrifice fly to left field before Brody Moore drove in the tying and go-ahead runs on a bases-loaded single back up the middle. A fourth run came in on a fielding miscue and made it a 6-4 ballgame.

The Blazers took advantage of an Auburn fielding mistake in the bottom of the inning to cut the lead to one, but Mullins pitched a 1-2-3 ninth inning to close the door.

"It was just like any other game. Go out there, get guys out, do my job."

"It was nice to see us come back in a ballgame," Thompson added. "I thought, after the four spot UAB put up in the sixth inning, we responded well. We hadn't had too many opportunities to do that this year and it was good to see from our offense."

Woley turned in a season-high three hits and reached base in all five plate appearances. It marked his third multi-hit effort in the last four games. Ware went 2-for-2 with a pair of walks and scored and drove in a run.

The Tigers return to Plainsman Park to host Little Rock (5-5) in a three-game series starting Friday at 4 p.m.

"They are in there early getting breakfast made and getting lunches, but then they have the Wednesday meals where they send home meals with kids for a week (for) the kids that don't have something, possibly, to eat," said Sullins.

"Also, (they prepare) after-school meals. Each kid goes home every day with a snack- a meal to take and eat when they get home from school. The ladies have that ready also."

If that doesn't sound exhausting enough, the women also maintain an immaculately clean kitchen, and doing the extra work required because of COVID-19 is described as "impressive" by Sullins, who stressed that the lunchroom is the backbone of the school.

"If a kid is hungry, they don't care anything about learning," he said. "They love and care for our students, and it shows."

Finally, Sullins said, "Thanks for all they do for us, because they are there for the kids and we are all in this together and it takes everyone at school to go through this.

"Hopefully we are on the backside of this pandemic. They have done it with a great attitude and a smile and that means a lot in today's climate for our staff and students."

Award (from Front)

W.C. Mann

CULLMAN, Ala. – St. Paul's Lutheran School in Cullman has named alumnus Michael Heatherly as the recipient of its second Impact Award.

Heatherly went on from St. Paul's to study at Wallace State Community College and Auburn University, where he graduated in 2008 with a bachelor's degree in forestry.

He is a registered forester in Alabama and Mississippi, an Alabama real estate agent and is currently vice president/chairman of Sizemore & Sizemore, Inc., a Tallassee-based firm specializing in forest appraisal, analysis and management.

Heatherly was named for the award for his work in fundraising for research on GM1 gangliosidosis, a genetic disorder that affected his son Porter, and, according to the National Institutes of Health, "progressively destroys nerve cells (neurons) in the brain and spinal cord."

Porter was diagnosed at only 4 months old in 2012 with the rare disease that affects about one in every 200,000 infants. His was the first recorded case of childhood GM1 in Alabama.

Michael Heatherly and his wife Sara Heatherly have for years, both during their son's battle with the disease and since Porter's passing in 2016, worked to increase awareness of GM1 and promote fundraising for research and treatment.

During Porter's lifetime, he and his parents visited researchers at Auburn University's veterinary medicine Scott-Ritchey Research Center who were working on a potential human treatment based on previous animal research, and Michael Heatherly was present when the first trial dose was administered to a 10 year-old girl in 2019.

More about the disease and the Heatherlys' efforts can be found at www.facebook.com/Prayers-for-Porter.

St. Paul's released this statement:

"St. Paul's Lutheran School is happy to announce the 2021 recipient of the Impact Award, Michael Heatherly. This award is designed to recognize those teachers, administrators, support staff and students (who) have had a significant impact on the lives of young people in our school and in their community. Michael and his wife Sara's dedication to GM1 fundraising has helped raise over $300,000 to further study and research. The Heatherlys' son, Porter, was diagnosed with GM1 and passed away in 2016. They have made a significant impact on those families suffering with a loved one fighting GM1. It is our privilege to present Michael Heatherly with the St. Paul's Lutheran School Impact Award."

In a previous statement, St. Paul's Director of Creative Services Emily Hayes Trahan shared about the Impact Award: "The inspiration for the award comes from the following scripture: 'Each of you should use whatever gift you have received to serve others, as faithful stewards of God's grace in its various forms. If anyone speaks, they should do so as one who speaks the very words of God. If anyone serves, they should do so with the strength God provides, so that in all things God may be praised through Jesus Christ. To him be the glory and the power for ever and ever. Amen.' 1 Peter 4: 10-11"

On his Facebook page, Heatherly quoted Jeremiah 29:11: "'For I know the plans I have for you,' declares the Lord, 'plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future.'"

The Impact Award will be presented at the St. Paul's Alumni and Friends Dinner scheduled for May 15, 2021 at Seasoned Catering, 316 Second Ave. SW in Cullman. Tickets for the event will be available through the website www.stpaulscullman.com beginning April 1.

The total number of shares of common stock of the New Holding Company to be issued in the conversion will be based on the aggregate pro forma market value of the common stock of the New Holding Company, as determined by an independent appraisal.

The Plan establishes January 31, 2020 as the eligibility record date for determining the eligible account holders of Cullman Savings Bank entitled to receive first priority non-transferable subscription rights to subscribe for shares of common stock of the New Holding Company. The record date for the supplemental eligible account holders of Cullman Savings Bank entitled to receive non-transferable subscription rights to subscribe for shares of common stock of the New Holding Company will be the last day of the quarter before receipt of requisite regulatory approvals. The Plan is subject to approval by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, by at least a majority of the votes eligible to be cast by members of Cullman MHC (depositors of Cullman Savings Bank) at a meeting of members, and by the holders of at least two-thirds of the outstanding shares of common stock of CBI, including by the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares owned by stockholders other than Cullman MHC.

Before regulatory approval, members of Cullman MHC will have an opportunity to file written comments, including objections and supporting materials, with the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The conversion will not change the terms of the deposit accounts with or loans from Cullman Savings Bank. The deposit accounts with Cullman Savings Bank will remain insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, without interruption, to the fullest extent provided by law. The normal business of Cullman Savings Bank will continue without interruption and it will continue to offer customers the same banking products and services that it has offered through its existing banking offices and by its current management team and employees.

A copy of the Plan is available for inspection by members of Cullman MHC at each office of Cullman Savings Bank.

"We have great kids, great staff and, as (Dr. Barnette) said, our standardized test scores were great, attendance was great.

"It was really just a perfect storm. Athletics- we won a state title and state runners- up. Just a year that everything kind of went right."

Dickerson particularly commended the senior class that graduated in the midst of the early days of the COVID-19 pandemic and expressed sorrow that their senior year experiences were cut short.

The principal spoke well of all his students and their response to the challenges of the pandemic, saying, "Every time we challenged them, they exceeded whatever mark we put in front of them. It was just an unbelievable year, and it was a collective effort by a lot of people."

Hanceville prepares for upcoming Irish Festival and yard sale weekend

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – The City of Hanceville has set this year's dates for the annual free clean-up week and yard sale weekend. The free clean-up will run from April 26-30 with the permit-free yard sale weekend April 23 and 24.

Mayor Kenneth Nail reminded Hanceville residents that all garbage needs to be put out for pick-up prior to 6am on Friday April 30.

The Hanceville City Council appointed Mayor Nail as the city's voting delegate at the 2021 Alabama League of Municipalities Convention coming up May 12-15. Mayor Pro Tem Jim Sawyer explained, "On the 14th, that is the day that the business session takes place. During that business session, we are allowed one person to be a voting designee."

Two alternatives are also required for the convention. The council selected council member Kim Brown as first alternate and council member John Stam as the second alternate.

The new pavilion project at C.W. Day Park is nearing completion. Nail thanked the Hanceville Public Works for their hard work and encouraged the community to visit the park.

This Saturday is the 4th Annual Irish Festival in downtown Hanceville.

Festival organizer Nolan Bradford gave an update to the council. Close to 20 vendors are registered with a day of great entertainment planned. The festival runs from 9am-5pm.

The next council meeting is scheduled for March 25 at 5:30pm in City Hall.

Dodge City (from Front)

W.C. Mann
craig@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – The Dodge City Town Council on Thursday evening selected and seated community native Heather Langley as its newest member, filling the vacant seat of Murray Lowe, who resigned last month as he and his wife prepared to move away from Dodge City.

Langley told The Tribune, "I've lived in Dodge City my whole life; I was born and raised her, same property, and so were my children. And after the passing of my great-, grandparents and my dad, and then seeing (Councilwoman) Inez's (McDonald's) husband- he passed away recently- I realized that if someone either my age or younger doesn't get involved and start caring, then everything that these people have worked for is just going to go to the wind. Someone has to get involved and keep traditions and things and momentum going."

Langley talked about the tremendous growth she has seen in the area since her childhood, saying that she wants to help the town continue to grow.

Challenge over gaming machines

On Langley's opening night, the council heard from Jeffrey Hefner, owner of the Little Vegas Thrift Store, who came to question Mayor Tawana Canada over her reported refusal to renew his business license after he installed gaming machines in his business. Hefner complained that the Town has denied him a license renewal over the machines while a truck stop in town has the same machines, adding a claim that the Cullman County District Attorney's Office approved the machines. He said that he will go to the Alabama Attorney General's Office and asked if a letter from that office would satisfy the mayor.

Canada replied, "If the attorney general says yes, those machines are legal, then yes, I will give you a business license, but not till the sheriff, someone from his office, someone with authority, gives me written notice that I can put on file."

Hefner told The Tribune that the machines in his place of business are "skill machines" which are legal in Alabama, the same as those common in bingo parlors.

The Tribune reached out to Cullman County Sheriff Matt Gentry, who said that Hefner's machines were recently inspected by the AG's Office and were found to be out of compliance with state gaming machine regulations, so the sheriff's office delivered a notice of removal to the business.

Other council business

The council approved:

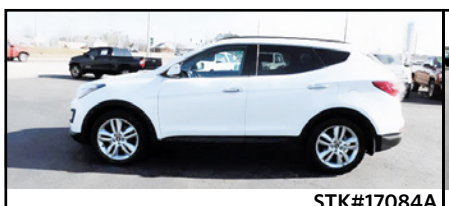

• A payment to the Alabama Department of Environmental Management of $4,290 for Underground Injection Control (UIC) fees.

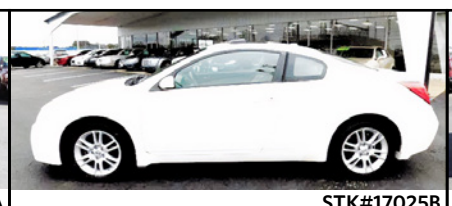

• The addition of a part-time temporary maintenance worker to augment current staff with road cleaning, the town park and ponds at the sewage treatment plant at $9 per hour. The job will be advertised soon, and applicants must be at least 18, have a driver's license and submit to a drug screen.

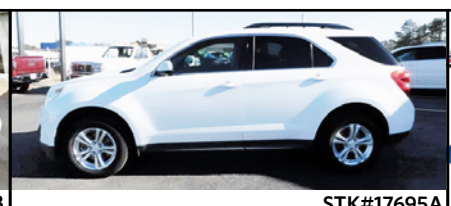

• The installation of a streetlight on the road outside Finishing Touch Body Shop and Detail, to make the entrance more visible to tow trucks coming to the shop after dark.

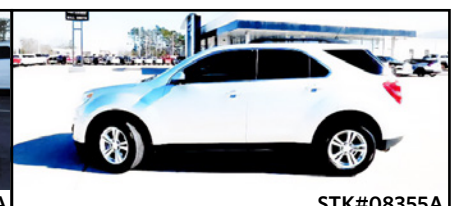

The Dodge City Town Council meets at 6 p.m. on the second Thursday of each month at Dodge City Town Hall. The public is invited to attend.
