WEATHER

Potential outbreak of severe storms Thursday into early Friday

Jim Stefkovich
Meteorologist, Alabama EMA

CLANTON, Ala. – The active spring severe weather pattern continues across the southeast U.S. The National Weather Service (NWS) has confirmed 24 tornadoes from last Wednesday's event, which was very significant, since this was more than half the number of tornadoes that typically occur statewide in an entire year.

Unfortunately, another round of severe storms is likely Thursday afternoon until very early Friday morning. Don't fall into the trap of wondering if Thursday's event will be similar to last Wednesday's. Like hurricanes, severe weather events are all different.

Focus on the fact that severe weather is likely, especially north of the Livingston – Montgomery – Auburn line.

Although a couple of storms could produce wind gusts of 40-60 mph Thursday north of I-20 between 8 a.m.-noon, the main threats will occur after noon, lasting until around 2 a.m. in the southeast part of the state.

Individual supercells are expected to form in the moderate and enhanced risk areas after 1 p.m., followed by a broken line of severe thunderstorms entering the western portions of the state after 4 p.m. This includes the potential for strong, long-track tornadoes.

As the line progresses both eastward and southward, it will lose intensity as the upper-level support pulls away from Alabama. All severe weather should be over by 2 a.m. Friday.

As far as rainfall, the highest amounts through Friday morning will be 2-4 inches with some spots nearing 6 inches in the southwest part of the state, with » PAGE 7

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – The Cullman County Board of Education (CCBOE) on Wednesday hosted a training event at Wallace State to familiarize local school counselors and other professionals with "mental health first aid" for youth. Attendees included CCBOE counselors, nurses and social workers, as well as staff from Brooks' Place Child Advocacy Center.

CCBOE Mental Health Service Coordinator, Karen Pinion, told The Tribune, "This is the second Youth Mental Health First Aid meeting held this school year by Cullman County Schools. Participants thus far include school counselors, school nurses, school social workers, representatives from the Department of Human Resources, Helping Families Initiative, Brooks' Place and Juvenile Probation. The focus of the YMHFA is to prepare school personnel and outside agency members with the knowledge and skills on how to respond to a mental health emergency and offer support to individuals in distress. As of current, Cullman County Schools employs three social workers and contracts with Family Support Services to offer School-Based Mental Health therapists in all Cullman County schools."

Instructor Wanda Langley told The Tribune that this program, offered currently to 103 school systems across the state under a federal grant, is "to provide training for school personnel so that they can become mental health first aid providers for the students in the school. They can identify students that may be experiencing some mental health issues, so that they can identify them early on and be able to get them some help."

AG Marshall joins 13-state coalition in suit to stop Biden's ban on new oil and gas drilling on federal lands

Mike Lewis, Joy Patterson
Contributors

MONTGOMERY, Ala. – Attorney General Steve Marshall joined 12 other state attorneys general in filing suit Wednesday to block the Biden administration's ban on all future oil and gas leasing and drilling permits on federal lands.

"Seven days after President Biden was sworn into office, he issued an executive order declaring a moratorium on future oil and gas leasing and drilling permits on federal lands," said Marshall. "This action came immediately after the U.S. Department of Interior similarly halted oil and gas development and exploration under existing leases. The result is an effective ban by the Biden administration on a major component of America's strategy for energy independence. As gas prices have risen precipitously since Biden took office, his ban on future energy development on government lands is a direct affront to American families' livelihoods and our national security. I have joined with 12 other states in challenging the Biden administration's energy ban which violates both the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act (OCSLA) and the Mineral Leasing Act (MLA)."

A media release from Marshall's office claimed, "The Biden Ban purports to protect the environment, but instead it constitutes what is likely the single-largest divestment of revenue for environmental protection projects in American history, as portions of the oil and gas leasing fees go toward funding projects that protect the environment.

"Making matters worse, the agencies implementing the Order-- the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management and Bureau of Land Management – rushed to stop long-planned lease sales without any consideration whether the Biden Ban complies with the law, the public good or the procedural requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act."

To facilitate the Outer Continental Shelf's expeditious development, OCSLA directs the Secretary of the Interior to "administer the provisions of this subchapter relating to the leasing of the outer Continental Shelf." To this end, OCSLA requires the Secretary to create a Five-Year Leasing Program and authorizes her "to grant to the highest responsible qualified bidder or bidders by competitive bidding, under regulations promulgated in advance, any oil and gas lease on submerged lands of the outer Continental Shelf" not covered by prior leases. OCSLA also requires the Department to review lessee requests for approval to explore and develop oil and gas resources.

Marshall's office said, "States—including Alabama—are entitled to significant portions of the proceeds from Outer Continental Shelf leasing and production. The Mineral Leasing Act has similar provisions for onshore oil and gas development. These laws affirm Congress's intent to responsibly use our own resources as a means of achieving energy independence.

"For states specifically, the oil and gas leases provide significant environmental benefits because portions of the lease proceeds are invested into vital state environmental defense and restoration projects. In fact, each year the federal government returns billions of dollars to the states and environmental reclamation projects from OCSLA and MLA lease proceeds for critical environmental restoration and protection projects."

The lawsuit states, "The Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act and Mineral Leasing Act set out specific statutory duties requiring executive agencies to further the expeditious and safe development of the abundant energy. In compliance with those statutes, the Department of the Interior has for decades issued leases for the development of oil and natural gas on public lands and offshore waters."

Alabama joined Alaska, Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Texas, Utah and West Virginia in the lawsuit filed Wednesday morning in the United States District Court for the Western District of Louisiana.

The team is working to correct the problem and expects this to be resolved as expediently as possible. However, the corrected numbers will not be displayed until tomorrow. DAILY UPDATE FROM ADPH

Hale County COVID-19 Vaccination Clinic Postponed to Saturday, March 27

Due to predicted inclement weather, the free first-dose COVID-19 vaccination clinic originally scheduled for tomorrow at the Boys and Girls Club (Old National Guard Armory, 515 Greene Street, Greensboro) has been moved to Saturday, March 27, from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. CDT. The second-dose clinic will still be held on Thursday, April 15, as planned.

National Guard COVID-19 Vaccination Clinic Update

The Alabama National Guard (ALNG) will continue rotating through 24 rural counties to provide primary COVID-19 vaccinations for the next three weeks. On March 23, 641 vaccinations were given at the Covington County location and 433 vaccinations were given in Sumter County. Clinic information ordered by date of first dose can be found at www.alabamapublichealth.gov/covid19vaccine/ng-clinics.html. The website also includes flyers to promote each clinic and vaccination forms that can be reviewed and completed prior to receiving a vaccination. Persons are asked to check the link frequently as locations are subject to change due to inclement weather or unforeseen logistical issues.

Updated Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) Guidance for Schools

CDC guidance related to physical distancing in schools has recently changed. ADPH would like to remind the public that CDC's physical distancing guidance changes were based upon studies done with consistent and correct use of masks, along with additional recommendations for elementary, middle and high school age groups. CDC's definition of a close contact did not change and remains persons who have contact within less than six feet for 15 minutes or more. ADPH is updating its School Toolkit to include CDC guidance. Schools may assess their current situations and make decisions in the best interest of their students, teachers and staff.

At Least One in Five Residents of 47 Alabama Counties Vaccinated

Twenty percent or more of the residents age 16 and older of 47 Alabama counties have received one or more doses of COVID-19 vaccine to date. Successful public health efforts to achieve vaccine equity have resulted in higher vaccine uptake among African American residents of Black Belt counties. Counties where 20 percent or more of their residents have been vaccinated are as follows: Wilcox, Marengo, Perry, Conecuh, Clarke, Hale, Dallas, Lee, Tallapoosa, Sumter, Lowndes, Jefferson, Macon, Monroe, Houston, Colbert, Bullock, Clay, Henry, Lauderdale, Greene, Mobile, Baldwin, Chambers, Choctaw, Washington, Shelby, Lamar, Franklin, Cullman, Morgan, Crenshaw, Madison, Montgomery, Geneva, Fayette, Coosa, Pike, Etowah, Lawrence, Limestone, Tuscaloosa, Calhoun, Jackson, Butler, Marion and Escambia. Vaccines are one key to protecting the most vulnerable and helping stop the pandemic in Alabama. Supply remains an issue, as there is not yet enough vaccine available for everyone who would like to be vaccinated.

ADPH Encourages the Use of Facial Coverings After Mandate Ends on April 9

Masks or other facial coverings will no longer be a mandate after April 9, but ADPH reminds everyone that masks remain one of the most successful tools to help reduce the spread of COVID-19. Many businesses and healthcare facilities will continue to require facial coverings in their facilities. Hospitals and nursing homes are under federal guidance that supports the use of facial coverings, and we anticipate the requirement for facial coverings to remain in place at those facilities.

Fairview edges Holly Pond at home 7-6; Tuesday scoring recap

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

FAIRVIEW, Ala. – Holly Pond traveled to Fairview for a varsity matchup with the Lady Aggies Tuesday afternoon and both teams clashed for a tight, seven inning thriller that came down to the final half inning. Trailing 6-2 going into the bottom of the seventh, Fairview scored four runs in the inning to tie things up before Emma Garcia scored on a passed ball to give the Lady Aggies a 7-6 come from behind win over Holly Pond.

Holly Pond led off the game with back to back singles from Samantha Giles and Aubrey Armstrong and both of them later scored on an error to give the Lady Broncos a 2-0 lead after the opening frame. The Lady Aggies were able to trim the lead to 2-1 with an RBI groundout from Deavan Fulmer in the bottom of the first but Holly Pond maintained a 1-run advantage going into the second.

After a scoreless second inning, Fairview tied it up in the bottom of the third when another RBI groundout by Fulmer allowed Kyliegh Aleman to score and make it a 2-2 game.

Both teams were scoreless in the fourth inning, but the Lady Broncos moved back in front in the fifth. A 2-run bomb over the left field fence by Madyson Rickman gave Holly Pond a 4-2 lead after the fifth.

Kaylee Stallings blasted a solo homerun in the top of the sixth to stretch the lead to 5-2 and the Lady Broncos got a little more insurance in the seventh when Taylor Simmons scored on an RBI groundout from Brooke Hill and made it 6-2 going into the final frame.

However, the Lady Aggies weren't ready to let this one slip away and their bats got hot in the bottom of the seventh.

After an error and two hit batters allowed one run to cross the plate and cut the lead to 6-3, Fulmer drove in another run with an RBI double to make it 6-4.

One pitch later, Emma Garcia drove a 2-run single into left field to score Kloie Watson and Fulmer, tying the game at 6.

After hits from Kaitlyn Benson and Emma Roberts loaded the bases, Garcia sprinted to the plate and scored on a passed ball to left Fairview to a 7-6 win over the Lady Broncos.

Fulmer (one hit) posted three RBIs in the win. Garcia finished with a pair of hits and drove in a pair of runs Aleman, Benson and Roberts each added hits as well.

The Lady Broncos posted 12 hits in the loss, led by Cidney Hays who finished with three. Stallings (two hits) led the way with three RBIs and Rickman posted a pair of hits and RBIs as well. Taylor Simmons added two hits for Holly Pond.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. – The University of Alabama football program hosted the first of two Pro Days on Tuesday inside the Hank Crisp Indoor Facility, with 10 draft-eligible Crimson Tide athletes showcasing their talents in front of representatives from several NFL teams.

Draft-eligible players that participated in the day's events included: Christian Barmore, Deonte Brown, Alex Leatherwood, Thomas Fletcher, Miller Forristall, Mac Jones, Joshua McMillon, Patrick Surtain II, Carl Tucker and Matt Womack. Draft-eligible players that did not participate in on-field drills but were in attendance for the height and weight check in included, Landon Dickerson, Najee Harris, Dylan Moses, DeVonta Smith and Jaylen Waddle. Players will have another chance to take the field inside the Hank Crisp Indoor Facility Tuesday, March 30, for a second Pro Day.

The day started at 10:30 a.m. CT with the athletes testing bench press and vertical jump. They then moved to the Hank Crisp Indoor Facility to test in the broad jump, 40-yard dash, agility drills and position-specific drills for each respective player. The SEC Network and NFL Network both broadcast the Crimson Tide's three-hour Pro Day.

There were also numerous general managers and head coaches in attendance at today's event. The list was highlighted by head coaches Mike Tomlin (Pittsburgh), Mike Vrabel (Tennessee) and Arthur Smith (Atlanta). NFL front offices were also well represented with nine general managers in attendance, including Trent Baalke (Jacksonville), Brandon Beane (Buffalo), Kevin Colbert (Pittsburgh), Terry Fontenot (Atlanta), Brian Gutekunst (Green Bay), Martin Mayhew (Washington), Jon Robinson (Tennessee), Rick Spielman (Minnesota) and Duke Torbin (Cincinnati).

The 2021 NFL Draft is scheduled for April 29-May 1 in Cleveland, Ohio. The three-day event will broadcast on NFL Network, ABC, and ESPN.

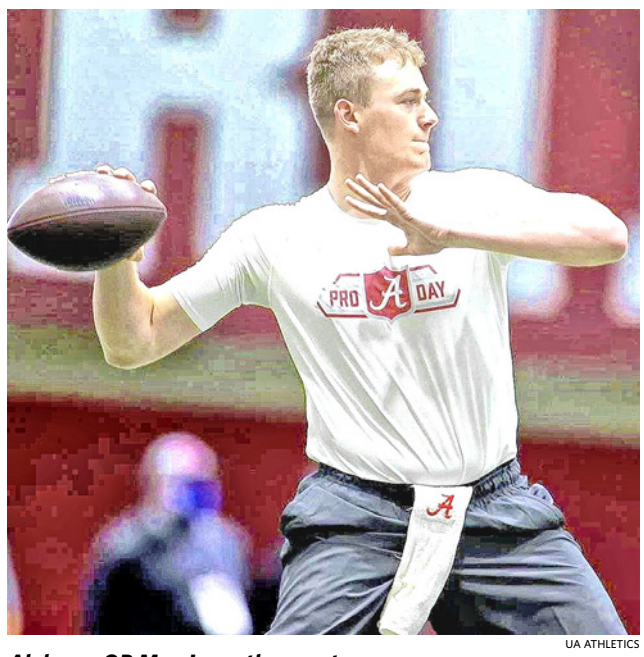

Following the conclusion of Pro Day, Head Coach Nick Saban met with media to discuss the day's events.

ALABAMA PRO DAY QUOTES

Alabama Head Coach Nick Saban

On what it means to see these guys compete at the next level:
"Well we are really excited for them. This is what these guys aspire to do. It is what their vision is, their goal, it's something they want to accomplish. Most of these guys have graduated too, so we are very proud of that. It is really special to win a championship, to get everybody to buy in, to do things the way you need to do them to play at a high level on a consist basis. These guys did that, and they provided great leadership for our team. I can't be more excited for them, their future and the opportunities that they have. I just hope it works out well for each and every one of them."

On what NFL teams will like about Mac Jones:
"I think you are going to fall in love with a guy that is really a hard worker. He is a good leader. The guy is very committed to being the best player that he can be. He is smart, he is going to know the offense inside and out. He makes quick decisions. He's got great judgement and he is very accurate with the ball. I think a combination of those things is going to make him a fine player at the next level."

UA ATHLETICS

Alabama QB Mac Jones throws at Tuesday's Pro Day in Tuscaloosa.

Saban on what NFL teams are getting in DeVonta Smith and Jaylen Waddle
"I think those two guys are special. First of all, they have special talent. These guys are really fast, they can get in and out of a break. They are very competitive and tough. I can't say enough about them as football players. These guys also have great competitive character, they are going to do the right thing, they are going to represent the organization in the right way, they are going to work hard every day, set a good example for their teammates and they will be very productive. I think they will do it in a class way, and I think every organization would benefit in a positive way from either one of these guys."

On what makes Patrick Surtain II different from other great defensive backs
"Pat's got great physically ability, he's got great length, but he is smart and very, very instinctive. He always plays faster in a game. Because he is smart, he does a great job of preparing. We do this thing where each player has an assignment in terms of the scouting report. He gives a better scouting report than what I would give for what his part of it is. I think that is really important when you are a pro player because preparation is really important because you know you are always going to play against a great player. Pat is going to have a great career."

Alabama falls, 5-4, in back-and-forth contest with Southern Miss

Alex Thompson
UA Athletics

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. – Alabama and Southern Miss traded the lead numerous times on Tuesday night at Sewell-Thomas Stadium, with the game finishing 5-4 in favor of the Golden Eagles. The midweek loss moves the 23rd-ranked Crimson Tide to 15-6 on the season.

Alabama built a two-run lead with one in the second and one in the fifth. Southern Miss countered with a three-spot in the top of the sixth before UA came back to post a pair of runs on a Will Patota RBI-double in the home half for a 4-3 advantage. The Golden Eagles would not trail for long, as USM posted two in the seventh to retake the lead, 5-4, for what would be the eventual final.

William Freeman was solid in his start for the Crimson Tide. The redshirt senior tossed a season-high 5.1 innings, allowing three runs (two earned) on five hits with a pair of strikeouts. Grayson Hitt (1-1) suffered the loss while Brock Guffey contributed 2.0 scoreless frames that included two strikeouts.

From Head Coach Brad Bohannon

"Tough night at the park for us. I thought William Freeman gave us a really good start, he was cruising and gave us a great opportunity to win which is huge in the midweek. The story of the game, in my mind, is that we need to get better offensively. We didn't see the type of stuff tonight that should cause us to punch-out 13 times. We just have to get better and get better in a hurry. We have to keep working, keep competing, and get better quick with another top-five opponent this weekend."

How It Happened

• B2 | Owen Diodati dropped an RBI-single in front of the USM center fielder. (1-0, Alabama)

• B5 | Peyton Wilson tripled to start the sequence. Jim Jarvis then brought Wilson in with a sacrifice bunt to double the Tide lead. (2-0, Alabama)

• T6 | Three straight singles for Southern Miss crossed their first run. A groundout brought across one more before the go-ahead run came in on a wild pitch. (3-2, Southern Miss)

• B6 | Alabama answered right back with a pair of runs on three hits to regain the lead. Drew Williamson began the frame with a single. One out later, Andrew Pinckney singled to put two on. After one more out and a Southern Miss mound visit, Will Patota came in to pinch-hit and delivered a two-RBI double to left-center. (4-3, Alabama)

• T7 | A two-out double brought in a pair for the Golden Eagles to help them retake the lead. (5-4, Southern Miss)

Auburn OC Mike Bobo: from camper to coordinator

Jeff Shearer
AU Athletics

AUBURN, Ala. – With first-year offensive coordinator Mike Bobo calling plays, Auburn's offense will feature enough throwback elements to remind Tiger fans why Auburn earned the RBU nickname in the first place, but there will be a limit.

A Google search for "Bo Nix" and "Wishbone" will come up empty.

"Somebody told me one time, 'You've got to let them know you're at the ballpark,'" Bobo said. "Sometimes there's no better way to do that than to get under center and run power. We want to have a physical run game. You can be a lot more physical sometimes when you're under center."

To establish that physical run game, Auburn will occasionally employ two tight ends and a fullback, formations that have becoming increasingly rare during college football's passing boom.

It won't be exclusively a turn-back-the-clock system. Bobo plans for Auburn to be proficient in the passing game with all of the complexity sophisticated aerial attacks require.

"We want to be able to do everything," Bobo said. "We don't want to be just under center. We don't want to be just spread. We want to be a wide-open, pro-style offense."

Bobo's first Auburn offense will feature the SEC's two most recent freshmen of the year in the backfield in Nix (2019) and running back Tank Bigsby.

"I've been very impressed with Bo Nix since I've been here," Bobo said. "His work ethic, No. 1, in the offseason. He has an athletic skill set.

"Tank, similar to Bo Nix, he's constantly calling every day, he's FaceTiming, he's wanting to know about run schemes and protections, and how he can get better. He's not complacent at all. He doesn't think he's arrived.

"That's our job as coaches is to continue to push guys, but the great ones have it in them. He's serious about wanting to be the best player he can be, not just for himself but for Auburn."

Bobo and Auburn head coach Bryan Harsin go back a decade, when Harsin was the offensive coordinator at Texas and Bobo was Georgia's OC.

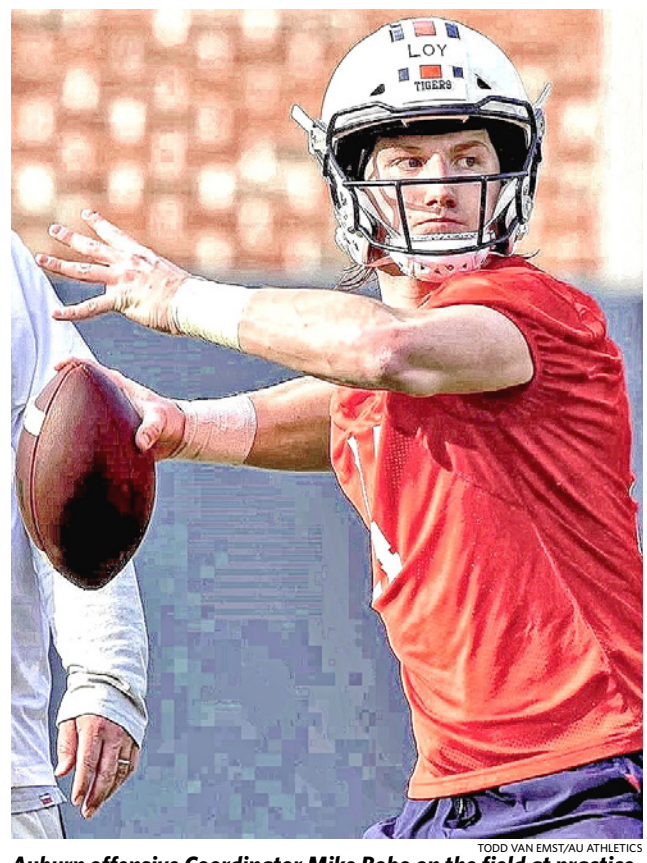

"We got to sit in each other's quarterback rooms and talk a little bit of ball," said Bobo, who later as Colorado State's head coach competed against Harsin's Boise State teams for five seasons. "They were tough. They expected to win every time they stepped on the field. You could feel that from them when they came on the field."

The son of a Georgia high school coach, first in Rome then in Thomasville, Bobo attended Pat Dye's football camps for four summers, beginning in fourth grade. Given that connection with Coach Dye at a young age, it should come as no surprise that Bobo, a former University of Georgia quarterback, has a fondness for physicality.

"We were only two-and-a-half hours away," he said. "Came to watch them practice a lot. I have a lot of memories from Auburn.

"It reminds me of some of those south Georgia towns where it's football and the community. This is the ultimate college town when you think about Auburn University.

"Being able to come to a place like Auburn with the tradition that Auburn has, I just really couldn't pass it up."

Storms (from Front)

1-3 inches across the northern half of the state. Some localized flash flooding may occur.

The unsettled pattern continues over the weekend, with a few strong storms possible both Saturday and Sunday. However, confidence in severe weather remains low at this point.

When a warning is issued, if you can safely get to a sturdy building, then do so immediately.

- Go to a safe room, basement or storm cellar.
- If you are in a building with no basement, then get to a small interior room on the lowest level.
- Stay away from windows, doors and outside walls.
- Do not get under an overpass or bridge. You're safer in a low, flat location.
- Watch out for flying debris that can cause injury or death. Use your arms to protect your head and neck. You need helmets for everyone, including adults, as many injuries and deaths in severe weather occur as a result of blunt force trauma to the head.
- If you live in a mobile/manufactured home, do not stay in it when a warning is issued for your area, instead opting for a more secure shelter. To find out if community shelters exist for your area, contact your county Emergency Management Agency to determine where they are located and when they are open.

What is critical is for you to have at least two methods to receive severe weather information 24 hours a day, which do NOT include an outdoor warning siren.

You should make sure whatever method you use can wake you up with an alarm, like a weather radio programmed for the county in which you live.

Finally, for additional information on what to do during and after a storm hits your area, go to www.ready.gov/tornadoes.

Watch (from Front)

NWS Huntsville
Contributor

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. – The National Weather Service in Huntsville has issued a Flash Flood Watch for portions of Alabama and southern middle Tennessee, including the following areas in Alabama: Colbert, Cullman, DeKalb, Franklin AL, Jackson, Lauderdale, Lawrence, Limestone, Madison, Marshall and Morgan. In southern middle Tennessee, Franklin, Lincoln and Moore are affected.

The watch is in effect from 1 a.m. Thursday through late Thursday night.

Widespread heavy rainfall is forecast early Thursday morning as a warm front lifts northwards through the Tennessee Valley.

This round of rain will produce 1 to 2 inches of rainfall across the area. This event will saturate the soils across the area.

Another round of heavy rainfall is forecast later Thursday afternoon as severe storms approach from the west.

These storms will be proficient rain producers. This additional rainfall will exacerbate any ongoing issues and lead to additional flooding issues Thursday afternoon and evening.

Mental Health (from Front)

Anna Watts described mental health first aid as "a lot like CPR--it's where you learn to just provide those first aid supports. You're assessing the student--are they at risk for harm to themselves or others? If they are not, then you're moving on to a non-crisis situation. You're going to listen to them, you're going to provide them information, you're going to connect them with either professional resources or self-care options that they might follow. If they are at-risk for suicide or harm to themselves or others, then you're going to immediately connect them with professional resources.

"It would be just like giving someone CPR--you give them CPR until the appropriate help gets there."

After their in-class training, participants are provided a manual and other resources, including nationwide contact information for emergency mental health assistance programs. The professionals are also provided resources to help them take care of themselves while providing care to others.

About the Alabama Department of Education's Mental Health Service Coordinator program

In 2020, the Alabama Legislature established the position of School-Based Mental Health Service Coordinator and appropriated $4,530,000 to provide grants to local education agencies to employ coordinators to support and expand coordination of mental health services throughout their school systems.

In Sept. 2020, CCBOE named Karen Pinion as the system's Mental Health Service Coordinator.

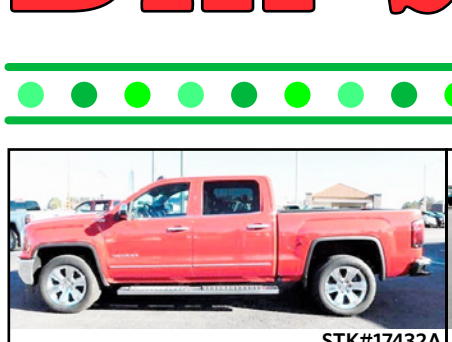

According to the State Department of Education, "The Alabama State Department of Education (ALSDE) recognizes efforts to improve student wellness and school culture/climate-related initiatives and programs are certainly cross-sectional at ALSDE and in each school system.

"Cross-sectional departments such as school nursing, school safety, special education, transportation, guidance and counseling, physical education and health and community partnerships all impact student well-being and performance. Coordination of these efforts is a priority, and it is incumbent upon all stakeholders to build relationships, provide resources and reinforce behavioral expectations that make a positive difference in the lives of our students."
