Cullman co-op prepares customers for severe storms

Lauren Estes
lauren@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. — The Cullman Electric Cooperative wants customers to prepare for potential outages with Hurricane Ida and the potential threat that the severe weather could bring.

Communications Director Brian Lacy said a storm meeting was held with their staff on Friday to look the path of the storm and be weather aware.

"Hurricanes are difficult to predict for our area, because we are so far away from the coast," Lacy said, "How much rain we get and the potential for severe storms will depend on the exact path of the storm and how quickly it moves inland, and we won't know that for several more days.

"We could receive nothing more than a little rain. We could see heavier rain with the potential for flash flooding.

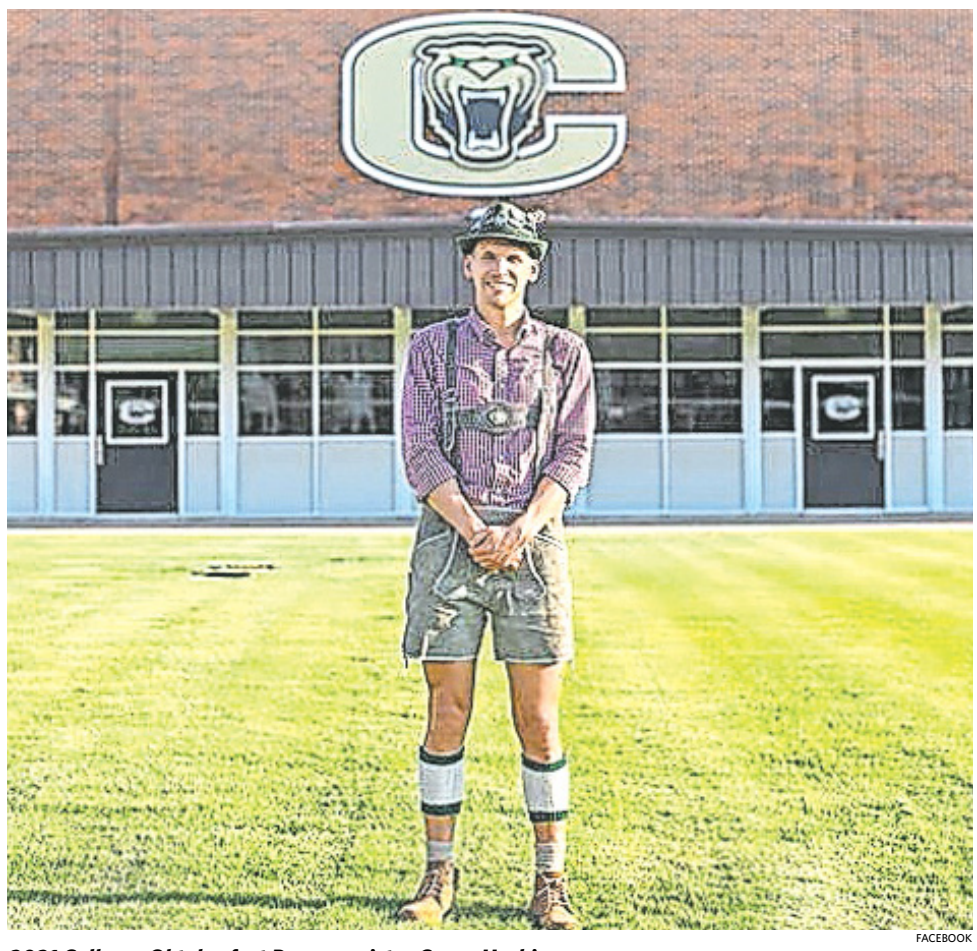

"Or we could get some severe storms with a threat of tornadoes.

"We won't know until early next week, which is why we are asking our members to be weather aware so they are prepared if we do have severe weather."

Lacy said, internally, they are preparing as they always do.

"We are communicating with the National Weather Service and our local emergency management agency so that our team is ready to respond if needed," Lacy said.

Oktoberfest announces the 2021 Burgermeister: Casey Harbin

2021 Cullman Oktoberfest Burgermeister Casey Harbin

Ashlyn Grey
ashlyn@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. — Cullman High School teacher and coach Casey Harbin has been passed the baton as Burgermeister for the 2021 Cullman Oktoberfest. With Cullman's German heritage and history, Oktoberfest is an annual event that brings members together from all across the community with local and German-themed activities.

On the process of being chosen as Burgermeister, Harbin said, "To the best of my knowledge, you are nominated by people in the community and the nominees are then voted on by the Oktoberfest board."

"It has been more of a fantasy than a goal!", Harbin laughed.

"My friends and I joked about being the Burgermeister for years, but I never really considered it a reality. Even in July when someone when someone said they nominated me, I responded with, 'Haha, well thanks but I doubt that will ever happen!' And here we sit."

While Harbin is still waiting to get the exact details of his official duties as Burgermeister, he said, "I know I will be doing a lot of public appearances and visiting sponsors in the weeks leading up to Oktoberfest. When the actual festival starts, I will serve as a sort of Master of Ceremonies; mostly, I am there to keep things fun and entertaining for everyone!"

When speaking on the honor of being selected as this year's Burgermeister, Harbin shared, "Being the Burgermeister means so much to me. Not only do I have the opportunity to represent my amazing family and their contributions to Oktoberfest over the years, but also to represent the incredible school system that has been such a big part of my life the last decade."

The 2021 Cullman Oktoberfest is scheduled to take place Sept. 30 – Oct. 2, and will be held in Downtown Cullman at the Festhalle and County Museum, located at 211 Second Ave. NE.

CULLMAN, Ala. — A Cullman man was arrested following a traffic stop in Garden City after sheriff's deputies found counterfeit $1 bills in the vehicle.

Cade Hill, 22, of Cullman, was a passenger in a vehicle that was stopped for a traffic violation by Cullman County Sheriff's Office deputies Aug. 28.

During this stop, Hill was found to be in possession of 26 counterfeit $1 bills.

He was charged with 26 counts of possession of a forged instrument.

He was arrested and transported to the Cullman County Detention Center without incident.

Arrests are public information. All persons arrested are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

COVID-19 BY THE NUMBERS

Monday, Aug. 30, COVID-19 update from the Alabama Department of Public Health's COVID-19 Dashboard Hub (https://bit.ly/3iVJwXK) No updates available

ADPH COVID-19 dashboard changes

Along with decreases in COVID-19 cases, hospitalizations and deaths, ADPH will be updating its dashboard less frequently. Effective June 7, the Data and Surveillance Dashboard will update Monday, Wednesday and Friday; the Vaccine Distribution Dashboard will update Tuesday and Thursday and no weekend updates will be made. Additional information may be provided in the future as ADPH gathers more data on the pandemic.

*The dashboard has been redesigned to help people better understand the current transmission levels in their communities and the impact of COVID-19 in Alabama. The moving 7-day sum is updated daily instead of weekly--instead of a 3, 7 and 14-day average, the dashboard will provide a 7-day moving sum for cases. The 2020 and 2021 breakdowns of cases and deaths will be provided - not just a total sum over both years.

Case details (Updated Monday, Wednesday, Friday) No updates for these numbers available

- Change in Cases: -22.7% (No update available)
- Positivity in Tests: 21.3%
- Confirmed cases in Alabama (2020): 388,865
- Confirmed cases in Alabama (2021): 305,658
- Total confirmed deaths in Alabama (2020): 7,178
- Total confirmed deaths in Alabama (2021): 5,044
- Change in cases in Cullman Co.: - 18.8% (No update available)
- Positivity in tests in Cullman Co.: 14.6%
- Total confirmed cases in Cullman Co. (2020): 7,591
- Total confirmed cases in Cullman Co. (2021): 4,748
- Deaths in Cullman Co. (2020): 129
- Deaths in Cullman Co. (2021): 89
- Total tested in Cullman Co. in the last 7 days: 2,786
- Total tested positive in Cullman Co. in the last 7 days: 406
- Total tested in Alabama in the last 7 days: 114,664
- Total positive tests in Alabama in the last 7 days: 24,417
- Currently hospitalized in Alabama: 2,815

Vaccine details (updated Tues, Thurs) No updates for these numbers available

- Doses Delivered to Alabama: 5,909,105
- Doses delivered to Alabama providers: 3,486,735
- Doses administered: 3,872,795 (No update available)
- Number of people receiving one or more doses: 2,261,564 (No update available)
- Number of people who have completed vaccine series: 1,736,441 (No update available)
- Doses delivered to federal programs: 2,422,370

Alabamians in Phases 1a, 1b and 1c (including those 12 and older) are now eligible to receive a vaccine.

View the Alabama COVID-19 Vaccination Allocation Plan at: www.alabamapublichealth.gov/covid19vaccine/assets/adph-covid19-vaccination-allocation-plan.pdf

Variants of SARS-CoV-2

Variants of SARS-CoV-2 continue to circulate in Alabama and pose a significant threat of increased disease. Variants of concern reported, as of July 9, are Alpha (820 cases), Beta (2 cases), Gamma (31 cases) and Delta (56 cases). These variants are more transmissible, specifically the Alpha and the Delta, and some variants have less response to treatments such as monoclonal antibodies.

Percent positivity escalates

Alabama's current statewide percent positivity for COVID-19 has increased to its highest level since February 2021, at 7.7%. This is equal to the percent positivity recorded April 3, when vaccines had not been readily available.

Percent increase in COVID-19 cases

The number of COVID-19 cases reported in Alabama has risen 39% from June 26 - July 9. The best way to prevent getting the highly infectious and easily transmissible Delta variant or any other strain of COVID-19 is to get vaccinated as quickly as possible. The vaccines we have are highly effective and their benefits far outweigh any risks. Only a very small percentage of deaths due to COVID-19 are among the fully vaccinated population.

COVID-19 hospitalizations increase

As of July 14, 341 persons were reported hospitalized as a result of COVID-19 disease. On July 3, 179 persons were hospitalized due to COVID-19. Increases in numbers of COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations due to COVID-19 are the result of low vaccine rates and unvaccinated persons not following preventive measures for themselves such as wearing masks, good hand hygiene and social distancing. So long as Alabama has such low rates of vaccination, cases will continue to rise, posing risk of illness and death from COVID-19, as well as threatening the ability of our health care system to treat all Alabamians.

Make vaccination a priority

This July 14, 4,124 doses of COVID-19 vaccine were administered in the state. At the height of vaccine administration on April 8, 45,128 vaccine doses were given. Young people and others who are taking a wait-and-see stance on vaccination should be aware that they need to protect themselves, their families, friends and communities by getting vaccinated as soon as they can. Safe, effective and free vaccine shields vulnerable people and saves lives.

Schools (from Front)

CULLMAN, Ala. — Cullman City Schools will be closed today, Aug. 31, due to the remnants of Hurricane Ida expected to impact the Cullman area with storms and wind.

"Based on the latest forecast from the National Weather Service's Huntsville office, our area will be impacted by the remains of Hurricane Ida beginning Monday afternoon through late Tuesday evening," Superintendent Kyle Kallhoff said.

"Our plan is to resume normal operations on the morning of Wednesday, Sept. 1. Stay safe and go Bearcats!"

This closure includes all activities on all five Cullman City Schools campuses on Tuesday.

Cullman County remains under a flash flood watch until 1 a.m. on Wednesday.

Tournament (from Front)

Nick Griffin

CULLMAN, Ala. — Cross Creek Golf Course was packed for the inaugural John E. Hunt Golf Tournament Saturday with 34 teams made up of 136 players out on the course competing. The proceeds from the tournament go toward each year's John E. Hunt Memorial Scholarship fund. The first scholarship was awarded to Cort Chandler earlier this summer and after a successful first tournament Saturday, next year's scholarship is well on its way to being funded.

John's wife, Elizabeth, was happy to report the massive turnout and knows John would've been excited to see so many within the community come and show their support for a cause he believed in.

"We are grateful, we are humbled and blessed. We didn't expect this kind of a turnout for the first year and it's just incredible that so many people came out and gave us their time and helped us raise money for the Auburn University scholarship in John's honor," Hunt said. "He would've been so honored to see so many people come out. He would've been so excited, and he would've shaken everyone's hand."

John's daughter, Lauren, was also at Cross Creek Saturday and was excited to see so many participate in an event honoring her father but is even more excited about what Saturday's success means for future projects within the community.

"We're very thankful for this turnout. We did not expect this for the first year and it's just an honor to have been able to set up this scholarship in his name. That's just a little something we can do to honor him.

"He put three kids through Auburn, so we thought that was the best way to honor him right now. He always believed in higher education and always believed that everyone should be able to have the opportunity to do something," Lauren said. "We're very thankful that we get to do this and get to help a student and their family follow their dreams of going to school and I know in the coming years we'll have some other ways we'll be able to honor (John) and give back to the community. He was all about community and always had a passion for kids and watching them grow and succeed."

Like Lauren, Elizabeth is also excited to see what more they'll be able to do to both honor John's memory and give back to the community in the future.

"I think next year our goal will be to help more with park & rec events. John really enjoyed doing the Thanksgiving community dinner and I know a lot of churches do that as well," Hunt said. "Grover Reeves started that, and John joined in with him so next year we'll be looking at other ways we'll be able to honor John and help within the community."

UAB to face Jacksonville State in Montgomery Kickoff Wednesday

Ted Feeley
UAB Athletics

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. – The entire nation will be watching as UAB football opens the 2021 season on Wednesday, Sept. 1 in the Montgomery Kickoff against Jacksonville State. The neutral site game at the Cramton Bowl kicks off at 6:30 p.m. CST on ESPN.

The Blazers and Gamecocks kick off a jam-packed Week 1 schedule and are the only college football game on that evening. Both UAB and JSU are coming off conference championship seasons. UAB is receiving votes in the AP and Coaches Poll, while JSU is ranked No. 8/10 in the two major FCS polls.

Who: UAB (0-0) vs. Jacksonville State (0-0)

Where: Montgomery, Ala. – Cramton Bowl

When: Wednesday, Sept. 1 – 6:30 p.m. CST

Watch: ESPN

On the call: Roy Philpott (play-by-play), Kelly Stouffer (color), Lauren Sisler (sideline)

Listen: WJOX 94.5 FM

On the call: David Crane (play-by-play), Steve Irvine (color), Trey Ragland (sideline)

Series: UAB leads, 3-2

Last meeting: Sept. 17, 2005 – UAB, 35-28

What to watch for
- Coming off the program's second Conference USA Championship in the last three years, UAB opens its title defense against in-state foe Jacksonville State, who won the Ohio Valley Conference last season and reached the quarterfinals of the FCS Championship.

- UAB head coach Bill Clark will be coaching against his alma mater and former team for the first time on Wednesday. Clark is a 1990 graduate of JSU and guided the Gamecocks to an 11-4 overall record in his one season as the JSU head coach back in 2013.

- Clark's 2021 UAB Blazers enter the season with extremely high expectations. UAB returns 17 starters from last year's championship team, including 11 "Super Seniors" who utilized their extra year of eligibility due to COVID-19. Of those 11 Super Seniors, seven were All-Conference USA performers last season.

- The standard has been set on the defensive side of the ball for UAB. The Blazers are coming off their third straight season in which they finished top 10 nationally in total defense. UAB was seventh last season in that category and returns nine starters from the 2020 unit. The defense should once again be a major strength for the Blazers this season.

- Leading the way is All-American Kristopher Moll, who has returned to safety for his final season. Moll was a fixture at linebacker the last two years but has moved back to his natural position of safety. He needs 32 tackles to crack the all-time top 10 list for career tackles at UAB.

- Moll joins an already loaded safties unit which also features 2020 All-Conference USA performers Will Boler, Dy'jonn Turner and Damon Miller, along with the likes of Grayson Cash, Keondre Swoopes.

- On the other side of the ball, UAB's offensive line returns all five starters from last year's team that allowed the nation's fourth fewest sacks (4) and helped UAB average 200.0 rushing yards per game. Left guard Colby Ragland and right tackle Sidney Wells were 2020 First Team All-Conference USA selections and 2021 Outland Trophy Watch List members.

- Tyler Johnston III is 13-5 as UAB's starting quarterback and has guided the Blazers to each of their two C-USA titles as the starter. Johnston III is fourth in career touchdown passes (35) and fifth in career passing yards (4,429) at UAB.

- Johnston III is backed up by Dylan Hopkins and Bryson Lucero, both who have made five starts in their careers at UAB. The Blazers are just one of 15 teams in the nation who have three quarterbacks on the roster with at least one FBS start.

- The Blazers will have to replace their all-time leading rusher in Spencer Brown, but are optimistic with sophomore DeWayne McBride, junior Jermaine Brown Jr. and veteran leader Lucious Stanley. McBride rushed for 439 yards and four touchdowns last season (9.3 YPC), while he and Brown Jr. each have two career 100-yard rushing games to their credit.

- Senior tight end Hayden Pittman enters the season with a reception in 25 straight games, good for the 11th longest active streak. Pittman is a John Mackey Award Watch List member.

Fans can purchase tickets to the Jacksonville State game for $20 in the west grandstand, or the ESPN Zone is available for $100.

The ESPN Zone includes a luxury lounge located inside the Multiplex at the Cramton Bowl and comes with complimentary premium food, a cash bar with two complimentary drink vouchers, limited field access, one ticket in the west grandstand and much more.

Call the UAB Ticket office at 205-975-UAB1 or visit uabsports.com to purchase your tickets today.

Following the game against JSU, the Blazers travel to Athens, Ga. on Sept. 11 to face Georgia. Kickoff is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. on ESPN2.

WEATHER

Natural disasters and severe weather: when the power goes out

CDC
Contributor

WASHINGTON — The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention offers these tips to help you prepare for and cope with sudden loss of power.

Take action

• To prevent carbon monoxide poisoning, use generators, pressure washers, grills and similar items outdoors only. Generators should be used at least 20 feet away from your home.

• Identify and throw away food that may not be safe to eat.

• Check with local authorities to be sure your water is safe.

• In hot weather, stay cool and drink plenty of fluids to prevent heat-related illness.

• In cold weather, wear layers of clothing, which help to keep in body heat.

• Avoid downed power lines, if a power line falls on a car, you should stay inside the vehicle.

Food safety

If the power is out for less than four hours, then the food in your refrigerator and freezer will be safe to consume. While the power is out, keep the refrigerator and freezer doors closed as much as possible to keep food cold for longer.

Refrigerated or frozen foods may not be safe to eat after the loss of power. Find out what you can do to keep food safe during a power outage, and when you need to throw away food that could make you sick.

Before:

• Keep appliance thermometers in your refrigerator and freezer. The refrigerator should be at 40°F or below. The freezer should be at 0°F or below.

Prepare for emergencies or natural disasters:

• Freeze containers of water and gel packs to help keep your food at 40°F or below.

• Have a cooler and frozen gel packs handy in case you have to remove your food from the refrigerator to keep it cold.

• Buy dry ice or block ice to keep your food cold in the refrigerator if you think the power will be out for a long time.

During:

• Keep refrigerator and freezer doors closed.

• If the doors stay closed, food will stay safe for up to:

• Four hours in a refrigerator

• 48 hours in a full freezer; 24 hours in a half-full freezer

• If the power has been out for four hours, and a cooler and ice are available, put refrigerated perishable foods in the cooler. To keep them at 40°F or below, add ice or a cold source like frozen gel packs.

After:

• Never taste food to determine if it is safe to eat. When in doubt, throw it out.

• Throw out perishable food in your refrigerator (meat, fish, cut fruits and vegetables, eggs, milk and leftovers) after four hours without power or a cold source like dry ice. Throw out any food with an unusual odor, color or texture.

• Check temperatures of food kept in coolers or your refrigerator with an added cold source. Throw out food above 40°F.

• If you have an appliance thermometer in your freezer, check to see if it is still at 40°F or below.

• You can safely refreeze or cook thawed frozen food that still contains ice crystals or is at 40°F or below.

Safe drinking water

When power goes out, water purification systems may not be functioning fully. Safe water for drinking, cooking and personal hygiene includes bottled, boiled or treated water. Your state, local or tribal health department can make specific recommendations for boiling or treating water in your area.

Medications

Some drugs require refrigeration to keep their strength, including many liquid drugs.

• When the power is out for a day or more, throw away any medication that should be refrigerated, unless the drug's label says otherwise.

• If a life depends on the refrigerated drug, but the medications have been at room temperature, use them only until a new supply is available.

• Replace all refrigerated drugs as soon as possible.

Extreme heat

Be aware of yours and others' risk for heat stroke, heat exhaustion, heat cramps and fainting.

Heat stroke is the most serious heat illness. It happens when the body can't control its own temperature and its temperature rises rapidly. Sweating fails and the body cannot cool down. Body temperature may rise to 106°F or higher within 10 - 15 minutes. Heat stroke can cause death or permanent disability if emergency care is not given.

If air conditioning is not available in your home:

• Contact your local health department or locate an air-conditioned shelter in your area.

• Spend some time at a shopping mall or public library--even a few hours spent in air conditioning can help.

• Take cool showers or baths.

• Don't rely solely on fans to keep you cool. While electric fans might provide some comfort, when temperatures are exceedingly hot, they won't prevent heat-related illness.

CULLMAN, Ala. — Local author Reba Whitley has released her new book titled, 'The Mountain Shack Mystery.' Whitley was born and raised in Cullman and has worked in local ministry for over 30 years. When asked about her thoughts on having her book available at Yates Chance Christian Bookstore, she responded, "I am thrilled that my book is now being sold in Cullman."

In a recent press release on the 'The Mountain Shack Mystery', Whitley shares, "The Great Bear Mountains of Tennessee are mysterious and wonderful. For everyone who lives on this glorious mountain range, with acres of giant, beautiful trees, their families have been there for hundreds of years. The only newcomers are the ones recently born on the mountain, or those who have been approved for very short vacation visits. "That's the way the mountain people wanted it. Only five families started out on this mountain, and those five families have grown into over two thousand citizens living there. They fought long and hard to have the right to choose who comes and goes on their mountain."

Whitley continued, "Something very strange was discovered while Jodi O'Connor was visiting her family on Bear Mountain.

"No one there had experienced anything like it before, and they hoped to never come across anything like it again! The peaceful mountain had become scary and unknown. How could something so awful, so cruel happen right under their nose? This was one time the people of the mountain agreed that they needed and welcomed outsiders to come and stay as long as necessary to deal with this horrible nightmare that had come to their beautiful, peaceful mountain."

Published by Covenant Books of Murrells Inlet, South Carolina, Whitley's new book gives readers a chilling tale as terror arises and questions begin to surround Tennessee's mountain range. With families living here throughout generations, this sudden chaos is a surprise to the majority. Join Jodi as she takes part in the uncovering of this crime.

Whitley shared, "I wrote the story just to prove a point to my husband. Sometimes at night, I do not sleep very well. I am more of a night owl. So, I try to get [my husband] Mark to make up a story because listening to his voice keeps my thoughts from rambling around in my head, and I can drift off to sleep. To which Mark always says, 'You know I can't make up stories.' So, I start a story and tell him to add to it. One night in particular, I started a story like this... 'One day, a group of kids started walking down a dirt road through the woods to go fishing. They noticed an old shack deep in the woods and went to investigate. Once they were inside the shack, they heard scratching noises and saw drops of blood...', Then I told Mark to add to that, to which he added, 'I can't add anything to that!' Then I said, 'Are you serious? I could write a whole book about that!' And so, I did."

Originally, the book was not to be published and meant only for Whitley's husband and daughter, but for the next five years, the two of them insisted that she get it published. Finally, last September, Whitley agreed, sent the book to her publisher and the rest is history. When asked about the possibility of upcoming projects or future novels, Whitley simply assured that there is something "absolutely in the works."

Besides Yates Chance Christian Bookstore, "The Mountain Shack Mystery" can also be purchased from the Apple iTunes Store, Amazon, and Barnes & Noble.

Contributor

WASHINGTON — Floodwater can contain anything from sewage and sharp objects to downed power lines. Stay away from floodwaters whenever possible. Don't let children or pets get anywhere near floodwaters.

• Are you in a flash flood prone area? Contact the local county geologist or county planning department to find out if your home is located in a flash flood-prone area or landslide-prone area.

• Make a communication plan and a disaster plan for your family.

• Plan and practice a flood evacuation route with your family. Ask an out-of-state relative or friend to be the "family contact" in case your family is separated during a flood. Make sure everyone in your family knows the name, address and phone number of this contact person.

• Stay informed. Learn about your community's emergency plans, warning signals, evacuation routes and locations of emergency shelters.

• Inform local authorities about any special needs, i.e., elderly or bedridden people, or anyone with a disability.

Get your home ready for a flood

• Make sure you secure or protect any hazards in your home before the flood strikes.

• Be prepared to turn off electrical power when there is standing water, fallen power lines or before you evacuate. Turn off gas and water supplies before you evacuate. Secure structurally unstable building materials.

• Buy a fire extinguisher if you don't already have one. Make sure your family knows where it is and how to use it.

• Buy and install sump pumps with backup power.

• Have a licensed electrician raise electric components (switches, sockets, circuit breakers and wiring) at least 12″ above your home's projected flood elevation.

• For drains, toilets and other sewer connections, install backflow valves or plugs to prevent floodwaters from entering.

• Anchor fuel tanks which can contaminate your basement if torn free. An unanchored tank outside can be swept downstream and damage other houses.

If you are under a flood watch or warning:

• Gather the emergency supplies you previously stocked in your home and stay tuned to local radio or television station for updates.

• Turn off all utilities at the main power switch and close the main gas valve if evacuation appears necessary.

• Have your immunization records handy or be aware of your last tetanus shot in case you should receive a puncture wound or a wound becomes contaminated during or after the flood.

• Prepare an emergency water supply. Store at least one gallon of water per day for each person and each pet. Store at least a three-day supply.

• Bring outdoor possessions, such as lawn furniture, grills and trash cans inside or tie them down securely.

Create an emergency supply kit

Stock your home with supplies you may need during the flood by creating an emergency supply kit. Be sure to also include the following supplies in your kit:

• An emergency kit for your car with food, flares, booster cables, maps, tools, a first-aid kit, fire extinguisher, sleeping bags, etc.

• Rubber boots, sturdy shoes and waterproof gloves.

• Insect repellent containing DEET or Picaridin, screens or long-sleeved and long-legged clothing for protection from mosquitoes which may gather in pooled water remaining after the flood. (More information about these and other recommended repellents can be found in the fact sheet here: https://www.cdc.gov/westnile/prevention/index.html?CDC_AA_refVal=https%3A%2F%2Fwww.cdc.gov%2Fwestnile%2Ffaq%2Frepellent.html).

Prepare a food and water supply

Make sure you and your family have enough safe food and water (for drinking, cooking, bathing, etc.) available in the event of a flood. For more information, visit https://www.cdc.gov/disasters/foodwater/prepare.html.

Prepare to evacuate

Never ignore an evacuation order— authorities will direct you to leave if you are in a low-lying area or within the greatest potential path of rising waters.

Even if you haven't been ordered to evacuate yet, it's always best to be prepared when a flood watch is issued.

To prepare your home, car and loved ones for a potential evacuation:

• Fill your vehicle's gas tank and make sure the emergency kit for your car is ready.

• If no vehicle is available, make arrangements with friends or family for transportation.

• Identify essential documents such as medical records, insurance card along with ID cards and put in waterproof material to carry with you during evacuation.

• Fill your clean water containers.

• Review your emergency plans and supplies, checking to see if any items are missing.

• Tune in the radio or television for weather updates.

• Listen for disaster sirens and warning signals.

• Put livestock and family pets in a safe area. Due to food and sanitation requirements, emergency shelters cannot accept animals.

• Adjust the thermostat on refrigerators and freezers to the coolest possible temperature.

If you are ordered to evacuate:

If a flood warning is issued for your area or you are directed by authorities to evacuate the area:

• Take only essential items with you.

• If you have time, turn off the gas, electricity and water.

• Disconnect appliances to prevent electrical shock when power is restored.

• Follow the designated evacuation routes and expect heavy traffic.

• Do not attempt to drive or walk across creeks or flooded roads.

If you are NOT ordered to evacuate:

To get through the storm in the safest possible manner:

• Monitor the radio or television for weather updates.

• Prepare to evacuate to a shelter or to a neighbor's home if your home is damaged, or if you are instructed to do so by emergency personnel.

Nation mourns the loss of 13 United States service members in Thursday's bombing in Kabul

Christy Perry
christy@cullmantribune.com

KABUL, AFGHANISTAN — The 13 United States service members killed last Thursday by an Isis-K suicide bomber at Hamid Karzai International Airport in Kabul arrived at Dover Air Force Base in Delaware Sunday. President Joe Biden met with the family members of the 11 Marines, one Army soldier and one Navy sailor prior to the dignified transfer of the flag draped cases carrying the remains of the fallen service members.

The 13 service members have been identified as:

USMC Sgt. Johanny Rosario Pichardo, 25, of Lawrence, Massachusetts. Sgt. Rosario served as a supply chief for the 5th Marine Expeditionary Brigade and had served in the United States Marine Corp for 6.5 years.

USMC Cpl. Hunter Lopez, 22, of Coachella Valley, California. Lopez joined the United States Marine Corps on Sept. 5, 2017, and was assigned to the 2nd Battalion, 1st Marines.

USMC Lance Cpl. Kareem Nikoui, 22, of Norco, California. Lance Corporal Nikoui was assigned to the 2nd Battalion, 1st Marine Division.

USMC Lance Cpl. Rylee McCollum, 20, of Jackson Hole, Wyoming. Lance Cpl. McCollum was a rifleman with the 2nd Battalion, 1st Marine Division.

USMC Lance Cpl. Jared Schmitz, 20, of St. Charles, Missouri. Lance Cpl. Schmitz was a rifleman with the 2nd Battalion, 1st Marine Division.

USMC Lance Cpl. David Lee Espinoza, 20, of Loredo, Texas. Cpl. Espinoza was a rifleman with the 2nd Battalion, 1st Marine Division.

U.S. Navy Corpsman Maxton Soviak, 22, of Berlin Heights, Ohio. He was assigned to the 1st Marine Regiment, 1st Marine Division. His occupation was medic.

USMC SSgt. Darin Taylor Hoover, 31, of Midvale, Utah. His military occupation specialty was infantry unit leader with the 2nd Battalion, 1st Marine Division. He served in the USMC for 11 years.

USMC Cpl. Daegan Page, 23, of Omaha, Nebraska. Cpl. Page was a rifleman with the 2nd Battalion, 1st Marine Division.

U.S. Army Staff Sgt. Ryan Knauss, 23, of Corryton, Tennessee. Staff Sgt. Knauss was assigned to 9th PSYOP Battalion, 8th PSYOP Group, Ft. Bragg, North Carolina.

USMC Cpl. Humberto Sanchez, 22, of Logansport, Indiana. Cpl. Sanchez was a rifleman with the 2nd Battalion, 1st Marine Division.

USMC Sgt. Nicole Gee, 23, of Sacramento, California. Sgt. Gee was assigned to Combat Logistics Battalion 24, 24th Marine Expeditionary Unit, II Marine Expeditionary Force, Camp Lejeune, North Carolina. Gee entered the United States Marine Corps in 2017.

USMC Lance Cpl. Dylan R. Merola, 20, of Rancho Cucamonga, California. Lance Cpl. Merola was a rifleman with the 2nd Battalion, 1st Marine Division.
