Amy Leonard

CULLMAN, Ala. — Cullman native and familiar face Dr. Robert Smith open Sound Mind TMS Therapy Clinic, located at 1809 Dahlke Dr. and adjacent to Cullman Regional, earlier this spring.

Enthusiastic about the potential impact of transcranial magnetic stimulation therapy among the growing population of those seeking treatment for mental health issues, Smith opted to further his education after over 35 years in family and emergency medicine. Once completing his TMS fellowship at the esteemed Duke University, Smith knew that bringing the innovative treatment to his hometown of Cullman was imperative.

"We have so many people suffering these days and just not enough treatment providers in our area. I am happy to make a new option for mental health treatment available in Cullman."

Gazing out at families lining the banks of the park's pond, Mayor Kenneth Nail shared his pride of the event, saying, "We've been doing this day for the kids since back when I was on city council, probably over 20 years now. It's a good day for all the kids to come out, get off the video games and enjoy nature. They get to come out in the sunshine » PAGE 5

CULLMAN, Ala. — The Link of Cullman County has recently applied to the State Farm Neighborhood Assist Program which annually awards 40 finalists out of 100 applicants $25,000. The program is celebrating its 100th anniversary this year and have selected 200 finalists out of 4,000 applicants. Afterward, 100 finalists will be voted on by the public to receive $25,000.

Voting begins on Wednesday, April 27 and ends Friday, May 6 at midnight. To vote, go to: https://www.neighborhoodassist.com/entry/2043744. If they are one of the top finalists, the Link will use the funds to start their L.I.N.K. Family Emergency Shelter. L.I.N.K. stands for:

- Low-cost
- Income-based
- Non-site specific
- Kids and family stay together

The shelter will be an emergency shelter provided by various landlords and property owners who have agreed to host families in need for eight weeks as a transitional period while the Link can find more permanent housing.

They have recently finished up a round of state funding for housing and will have another round in early fall. Between the periods of state funding, they often have a lull in their ability to provide assistance to families in emergency situations.

Executive Director Melissa Betts stated, "Right now on our books we have 21 neighbors that have called with some sort of emergency housing need. It might be 'Hey, my utilities are about to be shut off,' it might be, 'I've been evicted,' it might be, 'My trailer burned down.' It could be a variety of things. Right now, we have 21 people that we are working with in various situations of crisis about their housing."

Typically in the past, the Link was able to help families in need of housing by finding them a shelter or assisting with utilities. Often, the families they help do not qualify for a typical shelter.

"We've had an elderly woman whose house burned down. She didn't have insurance on the property. It had lapsed and she did not realize it. Now what? She's too feeble to truly try to work in and out of staying in a shelter. It would be hard for her to mobilize herself in a shelter situation," Betts continued. "We've had a single grandmother who was raising a teenage grandson. They couldn't stay together if we'd sent them to a shelter. The older grandson would have to go to the men's shelter, and she would have to go to the women's shelter. What we're proposing to do is use this funding to assist our neighbors. We would shelter them for up to eight weeks in a private location, and we would work to case manage and help find suitable shelter." The Link will also help the families to get settled once they find a new rental location for them. They can assist with the first month's payments and utilities or help them get new furniture or any needs the family may have on a case-by-case basis.

Betts concluded, "State Farm uses the slogan...'Like a good neighbor, State Farm is there.' The Link calls everyone our neighbor!"

Festival (from Front)

W.C. Mann
craig@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. – St. Bernard Prep School's annual came back last weekend, bigger than before COVID-19 took its toll over the last two years. On Saturday, shoppers just waiting to get in filled sidewalks across the campus and threatened to shut down traffic on U.S. Highway 278. The crowds slackened on Sunday, but vendors still reported brisk sales.

"We are so grateful to God for the wonderful Bloomin' Festival," said Fr. Joel Martin, St. Bernard Prep's headmaster, on Sunday afternoon.

"It may be the best ever, but it's at the very top. And I think yesterday was either the first or second best Saturday in Bloomin' Festival history. So everything was just fantastic!

"And we thank everybody for coming and supporting us, what we do at St. Bernard, all those who came to enjoy the festival, also all those who brought their arts and crafts and wonderful offerings for people to look at. Everybody had a delightful time. So we thank God for their visiting us, for our students and faculty, and staff and parents and other volunteers who make all of this work for us so beautifully at St. Bernard. So thank God, thanks to everyone!"

Monday, April 25, COVID-19 update from the Alabama Department of Public Health's COVID-19 Dashboard Hub (https://bit.ly/3iVJwXK)

ADPH COVID-19 dashboard changes
April 25, 2022 - The Alabama Department of Public Health received lab reports from one entity on April 22, 2022. The 2020 and 2021 breakdowns of cases and deaths will be provided - not just a total sum over both years.

Cullman handles Shades Valley to advance; round 1 scoring recap

Nick Griffin
nick@cullmantribune.com

IRONDALE, Ala. — It's been a while since the last time it happened, but the Bearcats were on the road for the opening round of the state playoffs Friday night, looking to take two from Shades Valley. Cullman punched its ticket back to the second round in convincing fashion, handling the Mounties 19-1 in game one and capping things off with a 13-7 win in game two. The 'Cats will return home to Bill Shelton Field next week to host Chelsea in round two.

Cullman 19 – Shades Valley 1 (Game One)

Kaleb Heatherly blasted an RBI double off the right-center field fence to give the 'Cats an early 1-0 lead and a few pitches later, Hunter Brooks drove an RBI single into right field to make it 2-0. Brooks scored on a sacrifice bunt by Zac Edwards to extend the lead to 3-0 after the top of the first. Carter Gay scored on a sacrifice fly from Riley Jackson to give Cullman a 4-0 lead and Hayden Stancil followed him with a solo shot to left field that made it a 5-0 game going into the bottom of the second.

Jake Dueland ripped a 2-run double into left field to add to the lead in the top of the third and Zane Watwood kept the inning going with an RBI triple over the right fielder's head, stretching the lead to 8-0. Watwood scored on a balk just a couple pitches later and Cullman took a 9-0 advantage into the bottom of the third.

Another RBI double by Heatherly and an RBI single off the bat of Will Bradberry put the Bearcats on top 11-0 in the top of the fourth and Dueland squared up another RBI double to push two more runs across the plate to make it 13-0. An error and couple base hits allowed the Mounties to scratch a run in the bottom of the fourth, but Cullman responded and put things away in the fifth.

Another solo homer by Stancil got things started and later in the inning, Edwards was hit by a pitch with the bases loaded to bring in another run and make it a 15-1 game. Cole Robertson drove in two more runs with a double to center field and the 'Cats added another pair of runs on passed balls to wrap up a 19-1 win in game one.

Heatherly earned the win on the mound, tossing four innings, allowing one unearned run on four hits and striking out six batters. Dueland (two hits) led the way with four RBIs and Robertson (one hit), Stancil (two HRs), Heatherly (two hits) and Edwards each drove in a pair of runs as well.

Cullman 13 – Shades Valley 7 (Game Two)

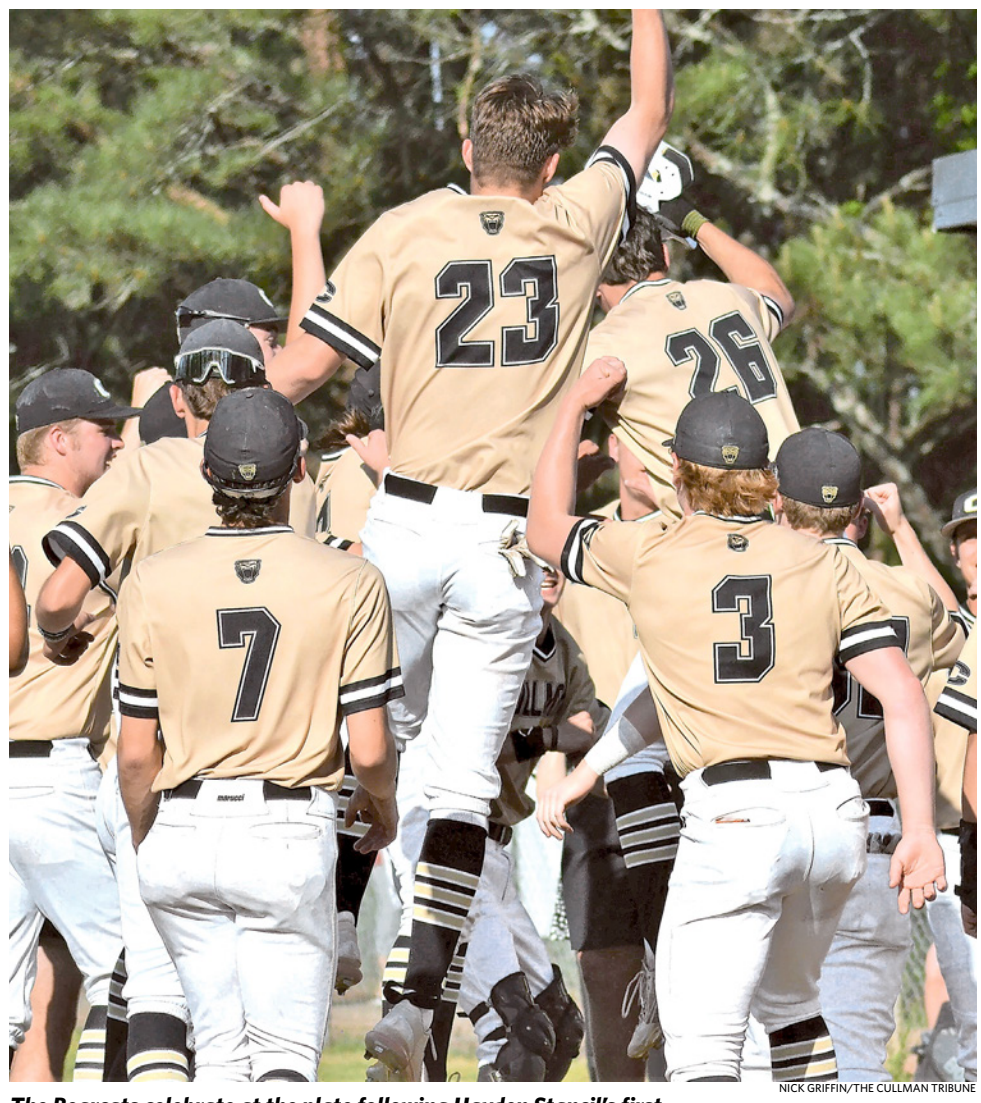

A leadoff double and a passed ball gave Shades Valley a 1-0 lead in the top of the first, but the Bearcats responded in their half of the second. Jake Dueland drew a bases-loaded walk to tie things up at 1 and Will Bradberry scored on a sacrifice fly from Zane Watwood to take a 2-1 lead. Cody Jones brought Zac Edwards home to score on a sacrifice bunt to stretch the lead to 3-1 and Riley Jackson barreled up an RBI single to make it 4-1. An RBI triple by Hayden Stancil and an RBI double from Kaleb Heatherly made it a 6-1 game going into the third.

However, the Mounties were able to put some hits together in the top of the third and plate five runs to tie the score at 6.

The tie didn't last long. Edwards scored on a passed ball and Watwood drilled an RBI single into right field to put Cullman back in front 8-6 in the bottom of the third. An RBI single from Jackson extended the lead to 9-6 going into the fourth.

A bunt single by Bradberry and a sacrifice fly from Edwards made it an 11-6 game in the fourth and Cullman tacked on another run in the fifth with a sacrifice fly by Hayden Stancil. The Mounties scored on a fielder's choice in the top of the sixth to trim the lead to 12-7 but the Bearcats got the run back in the bottom half of the inning when Edwards scored on a passed ball to make it 13-7.

Cullman collected the final three outs in the top of the seventh to ice a 13-7 win over the Mounties and spot in the second round of the state playoffs.

Lady Warriors punch ticket to postseason with 2-0 win

Nick Griffin

WEST POINT, Ala. — The West Point Lady Warriors were back on the field Saturday afternoon for a rematch with Brewer and after falling to the Lady Patriots 3-2 earlier in the week, the Lady Warriors bounced back with a 2-0 win to secure a playoff spot.

West Point got off to a fast start, taking a 1-0 lead just two minutes into the game when Kyli Armstead scored off an assist from Kaedince Cagle. The Lady Warriors added to their lead when Vanesa Garcia fired a free kick into the back of the net from 40 yards out and Ingrid Garcia helped preserve the shutout in the goal.

Head Coach Rob Whitesell was proud of the way his team rose to the occasion Saturday to avenge their earlier loss to Brewer and earn a postseason berth.

"I couldn't be prouder of the team's performance this afternoon. After Thursday's disappointing outing, we were in a must-win situation to advance to the playoffs and today's solid performance came in a pressure packed environment," Whitesell said. "Hat's off to Brewer's girls who played aggressive and physical for the whole 80 minutes. Our calling card all season has been selfless, team-first play and that is what carried the day for us in this heat with 17 players seeing significant playing time.

"For a young program, no matter what happens next in post-season play, this is a milestone we will build on."

The Lady Warriors will wrap up their regular season Tuesday night against J.B. Pennington before shifting focus to their first playoff matchup.

TIFFANY WHITESELL

The West Point Lady Warriors defeated Brewer 2-0 Saturday to earn a playoff berth.

TMS (from Front)

cortex of the brain is where you are, where you are listening, making decisions and you're also thinking about what you're going to have for supper today. It's where your personality is, your opinions, your tastes. It's where YOU are."

"In severely depressed people, this area of the brain looks like North Korea at nighttime, little activity on an MRI. It's dim without a lot of neural activity which makes sense with the symptoms of depression being what they are. We are basically able to massage that area of the brain with an electromagnet."

Requiring little investment of time and minimal, if any, side effects, Dr. Smith's regimen involves 36 total treatments, enabling patients to come in over their lunch-break if needed.

He continued, "You can come in from work or school and drive yourself without a chaperone. There's no anesthesia and you're not asleep at all. From the time a patient comes in the office until they leave after their session is only 30 minutes."

The patient is seated comfortably in a chair and supplied with a pillow and blanket if desired. The helmet, which transmits the magnetic field, is positioned and the 20-minute session begins.

Approved by the Federal Drug Administration to treat patients diagnosed with Major Depressive Disorder since 2008, TMS is generally recommended for treatment-resistant depression, meaning patients who have not responded well to medication therapy and/or cognitive behavior therapy and other forms of psychotherapy.

Smith noted that outcomes can more positive if a patient is currently on a medication regimen and/or psychotherapy, and TMS therapy is incorporated to work in conjunction with those modalities.

More recently, the FDA has approved TMS for patients with an anxiety disorder comorbidity. Those suffering from obsessive-compulsive disorder and nicotine smokers have also benefited from TMS treatment episodes.

The efficacy rate for mental illness sufferers is approximately 67% with one-third of patients entering remission from their illness for 10-12 months and another third experiencing a marked, measurable improvement of their often-debilitating symptoms.

Smith's current caseload reflects those numbers. He also makes a point to note that the side effects from his treatment is far less than those associated with medication treatment.

Among the side effects of medication can include weight gain, dehydration and decreased libido.

Currently approved by Cigna and Optum Insurance, more companies are expected to jump on board in the coming months. Private pay options are available as well.

To schedule an appointment or to learn more about TMS treatment, please contact Sound Mind TMS Therapy at 256-735-9475 or visit their website at https://www.soundmindtms.com/.

CULLMAN, Ala. — Cullman nonprofit Curt's Closet will be hosting its annual luncheon and silent auction fundraiser, Clothed in Cullman, on Saturday, May 7 at Loft 212.

With doors slated to open at 11 a.m. to allow attendees ample time to survey and bid on the auction items, the three-course lunch catered by Chat & Chew, will be served at noon. East Elementary School Principal David Wiggins is scheduled to entertain and emcee the event.

Curt's Closet director and founder, Ashley Lee Wilson, excitedly shared, "We are extremely excited about this year's event. This year is bigger and better than ever! Currently, we have over $15,000 in auction items and more are being added every day.

"So far, our auction items include vacation stays, a Solo Stove, rounds of golf at numerous scenic courses, VIP tickets to this summer's Rock the South, one of a kind handmade pieces by local artists, and even auction items for your furry friends!"

There are also donated items for any sports fans. Local baseball great and current MLB Chicago Cubs starting pitcher Keegan Thompson has graciously donated signed baseballs and baseball cards.

For racing fans, Barber Motorsports Park has offered a Porsche Track Experience, a unique opportunity to hone your driving skills behind the wheel of an elite Porsche sports car along Barber's 2.38 mile, 16 turn course.

The experience offers the winner an unforgettable chance to live their racing fantasies.

In addition to the silent auction, luncheon attendees will have a chance to win, in a raffle, one of five designer handbags of their choice.

Swag bags, with goodies valued at $75-$100, will be given to each ticketholder with a designer bag, wallet, or jewelry, coupons and products from many local businesses and boutiques.

Wilson shared about the importance of this year's luncheon to Curt's Closet and our community as a whole.

"Curt's Closet will use the money raised to continue to provide children 19 and under with clothing, shoes and accessories. That helps them with their self-worth and confidence all while showing them the Love of Christ. Curt's Closet proudly served 1,793 children last year, plus numerous house fire victims, clients of Victims' Services, and many other emergency situations. Funds raised will also go toward Curt's Christmas, Curt's Closet Christmas project.

"Last year we were blessed to provide 300 children throughout our county with Christmas. We could not do it without the support of this loving and gracious community."

With tickets, available for purchase at Curt's Closet or on Eventbrite for only $30, it's easy to see that everyone will be a winner at this year's Clothed in Cullman!

Curt's Closet is located at 1101 Third Ave. SE in Cullman for ticket purchase or visit their Facebook page.

and enjoy time with Mom, Dad, Grandma, Grandpa or whoever, and have a good day."

One young fishing pro enjoying the day was 8-year-old Emma Johnson. Despite her small stature, the angler reeled in a catfish weighing a whooping 3.75 pounds, possibly outweighing the previous day's biggest catch.

Emma's mom, Sheila Johnson, appreciated what the event offered, sharing, "Fishing really teaches sportsmanship and it's a beautiful day to get out and meet the community. The kids just love it!"

Partnering with CASA this year, the city of Hanceville and its mayor had much help from their sponsors for this year's community gathering including McDonald's, Merchant's Bank, Hanceville Civitans, Cullman Savings Bank, Peoples Bank, Metsouth, Hanceville Drug Company and Advanced Rotors. Many local businesses also aided in the success by donating door prizes.

Nail expressed his gratitude in saying, "We're always so thankful for our sponsors every year. They're always so great to help us and the kids out.

"We have a lot of events here in Hanceville. There're not too many towns our size that has this many events and we're really proud of that. Our sponsors help us do that."

CULLMAN, Ala. — Last weekend was a fun and successful one for the Cullman High School Theatre Department. Crowds packed the auditorium at Cullman High School from Thursday night to Saturday night to enjoy this year's spring production, "The Addams Family."

The play featured lots and lots of laughter, along with some emotional moments as well. The students performed on Thursday and Friday night, and it concluded with a pair of performances Saturday.

After the final performance came to a close, the seniors were recognized and were given gifts by their other cast members. CHS Theatre Director Wayne Cook, and Music/Choreography Director Sarah Jane Skinner got some very special presents from their cast as well.

Cook had always been interested in doing a play about The Addams Family because of how much the kids liked watching it.

"We always do a production every year, a spring production," Cook said. "'The Addams Family' has just been one that we have been interested in doing. Kids like it. It's a really good show for high school kids to do because they can fit the parts really well. I'm always watching for something out there that we can do that I can do to be a big hit. It was a whole lot of fun."

Cook got emotional when he talked about how much the seniors mean to him. He also talked about the upcoming cast members who will look to pick up from where the seniors left off next year and beyond.

"Every year, they're really special to us because there's some real talent in there," Cook said.

"There's some great talent that we've worked with for years and years. Not only that, but we had a bunch of kids in this group that worked our tech, our sound and our lights. They've been doing this for years and they'll leave a big void, so they're very special to us. Theater is a family. We spend a lot of time together.

"We spend hours and hours rehearsing. We see each other every day at school. It's like a family, so when you get close to your family and any time a part of your family goes away after graduating, it's a loss."

Cook added, "One of the things that I'm very proud of, we double-casted the show. We have a lot of really great talent coming up. I know that we'll have to train some kids to do some things that they did, but every year, we lose some. We lost a big group last year. Every year, we lose a bunch, but we give them some coming up. So, we know behind them are some more that will carry the torch."

Junior Domenico Brunetti played Mal and freshman Bailee Henderson played his wife, Alice. They talked about how special their performances were and how close they've gotten.

"The story of The Addams Family is just about being a family and being as one and just showing that with love, family just conquers all," Henderson said.

"And I feel like Cullman Theatre, we all get so close. We come together as one and I think that these past few days has been amazing. We're not just Cullman Theatre, we're a big Cullman Theatre family. It's amazing. I loved every second of it."

Brunetti added: "I really enjoyed doing the shows. It's a lot of fun. It really feels like a family, especially this spring show. It's really sad losing a lot of seniors, but you wanted to do the best that you can for the seniors so that their last show is a good one."

Brunetti and Henderson will deeply miss the seniors next year and will never forget the bonds and memories that they made with the seniors.

"What I'll miss the most about the seniors is the bonds and memories," Henderson said.

"From carpooling together and just talking about rehearsal to just talking about the excitement the night before a show is the best feeling. When you have bonds and memories around people, you know it's their final step. This is it.

"It's a good feeling. With so many memories that we made with the seniors and this being my freshman year also, I'm getting to see all of these people, even though I barely knew them. It was just a great experience to get to work with them."

Brunetti added, "It really is a family. The theater program is a family. Every year, having the seniors leave, it's like losing a part of your family. You're glad to see them go and you're glad that they get to move on with life, but you're going to miss them."

Gomez's wife, Morticia, was played by senior Madison Smith, and Wednesday Adams, their daughter, was played by sophomore Ava Fales. Fales almost got emotional when talking about Smith and how special it was working alongside her.

"It was absolutely the best opportunity that I could possibly ask for. Not only is she such an amazing performer, but she's one of my best friends," Fales said. "I'm just glad that this was the last show that I get to perform with her. She was with me on my first show, now she's with me on her last show."

Smith talked about what all she'll miss the most about performing in high school.

"I made a lot of friends this year that I can truly say I will miss dearly," Smith said. "I'll miss the friends, the emotions, the camaraderie, Bailee Henderson (laughs). I'll miss them the most and I'll also miss being a part of a family."

Fales feels really blessed to work with such an amazing crew and talked about how much it meant to her. She'll miss working with the seniors next year.

"We genuinely really care and love each other," Fales said. "It really is a family here. Anybody can walk through those doors and accept you. There's a difference between accepting and actually caring about you. We genuinely care about you. It's just a welcoming and warm environment. I'm just so lucky to have the program. What I'll miss the most about working with the seniors is the fact that they are absolutely amazing people. I've become really close to every single one of them. It's not going to be the same performance without them because they helped shape me into who I am right now. It'll still be fun, and I'll be doing it for them."

Smith got to work with some new cast members after losing a lot of seniors last night and had a lot of fun doing it. She also talked about her favorite memories that she will take away from working with the cast.

"We had a big group of new people come in because we graduated a ton of people last year," Smith said. "It was kind of like rebuilding who was going to take over. Everybody that's in this cast had minor roles and now, they have huge leads. Ava was a stepsister and now she's Wednesday Adams. My favorite memories that I'll have is just going to class and enjoying every moment and also getting to genuinely be Ava's mom and sister (laughs). It's just a different connection with these people, especially Ava, because me and her have now done three shows where we're related somehow (laughs). We just have a different connection that nobody else in this program's got."
