New arts and crafts store Warehouse 25 open in Warehouse District

CULLMAN, Ala. — Warehouse 25, a new arts and crafts shop, has been open in the Warehouse District since February, but held their grand opening earlier this month, on April 9. They have various handmade crafts from different vendors. Each vendor has an area in the store to sell their merchandise. The store is the second business to be owned by Jason Nicklaus, his mother Ruth Nicklaus and sister Amy Hancock. Their first business is Southern Vinyl Source, which sells craft supplies like HTV, adhesive, acrylic and T-shirt blanks.

According to Jason, "This business kind of stemmed out of that one. Over there, we sell vinyl, T-shirt blanks, things to make custom apparel with, and we met a lot of people who made homemade stuff. So, when this building came open, we took it as a sign to try to give them a place to sell their stuff as well."

Some of the vendors with booths in the store are JLH Creative Designs, Finny & Franks Boutique and Gifts, Vintage Re-creations and Dixie Belle Paint Company. Jason described the business as "Etsy for local people. You've got a variety of stores in one spot."

In May, they will schedule classes to teach about how to make different handmade products including painted wooden signs, which they have already held one class for with the help of JLH Creative Designs. The Dixie Bell Chalk paint booth will have an open paint bar some days where customers can test the product. The schedule of the handmade craft classes will be posted on Warehouse 25's Facebook page. The vendor's pay a monthly fee to rent out their space of the store and give a 10% commission to the owners. If a vendor does not wish to pay the monthly fee and only wants their product in store for a short time to test sales, they can give a greater percentage of commission. Jason said, "We try to make it where people can still make money, and that was the whole purpose of this. So, they could make a little bit and we could make a little bit too."

Warehouse 25 still has some small vendor spaces available for anyone with unique homemade goods. The store is located at 111 B First St. NE.

CPD makes two arrests following Flock System alert

Lauren Estes
lauren@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. — The Cullman Police Department made two arrests last week after officers were notified by the Flock System about a vehicle's license plate that was stolen.

CPD Public Relations Officer Adam Clark said the Flock System are license plate readers that give alerts to law enforcement for stolen plates, vehicles of interest in a crime, stolen vehicles, etc.

The Flock System alerted officers to the area and Officer Roy Bates and Nicolas Watkins found the car at Walmart north unoccupied.

John Niles Linley, 26, of Cullman, and Trey Guthery, 28, of Hanceville, were in a car with stolen plates.

"They waited for the two to get back to the car and then stopped them in the parking lot," Clark said.

"Both subjects had warrants and drugs were found in the vehicle.

"Guthery claimed the drugs and Linley gave a false name but was identified by a deputy on scene as John Niles Linley."

Linley was charged with (CCSO) dangerous drugs-PDP drug paraphernalia-1st offense, dangerous drugs-sell/distribution of dangerous drugs, stolen property-RSP sale of stolen property, $1,500 or more and (CPD) obstruction of justice-giving a false name.

Guthery was charged with unlawful possession of a controlled substance with intent to distribute, unlawful possession of drug paraphernalia and receiving stolen property in the fourth degree.

"The CPD would also like to thank CCSO Deputy Austin Black and and Deputy Jake McQuillin," Clark said.

CULLMAN COUNTY, Ala. — The Cullman County Sheriff's Office was recently involved in a cold case arrest from Essex County, Massachusetts.

On Tuesday, April 26, at approximately 4 p.m., Cullman County Sheriff's Office investigators assisted investigators with Essex County in the arrest of Marvin C. McClendon, 74, of Bremen on a murder charge from 1988.

McClendon is being held at the Cullman County Detention Center until he can be extradited to Massachusetts.

Sheriff Matt Gentry said the state police from that area called the CCSO after locating McClendon and asked for their assistance in the arrest.

According to an online news source: "A former Massachusetts corrections officer was arrested Tuesday in Alabama on charges of killing 11-year-old Melissa Ann Tremblay, who was found stabbed to death at an old railway yard in Lawrence in 1988, officials said Wednesday.

"In a briefing at his office, Essex District Attorney Jonathan Blodgett said the alleged killer, Marvin 'Skip' McClendon Jr., 74, of Bremen, Alabama, was arrested in that state and will appear in court in Massachusetts at a later date.

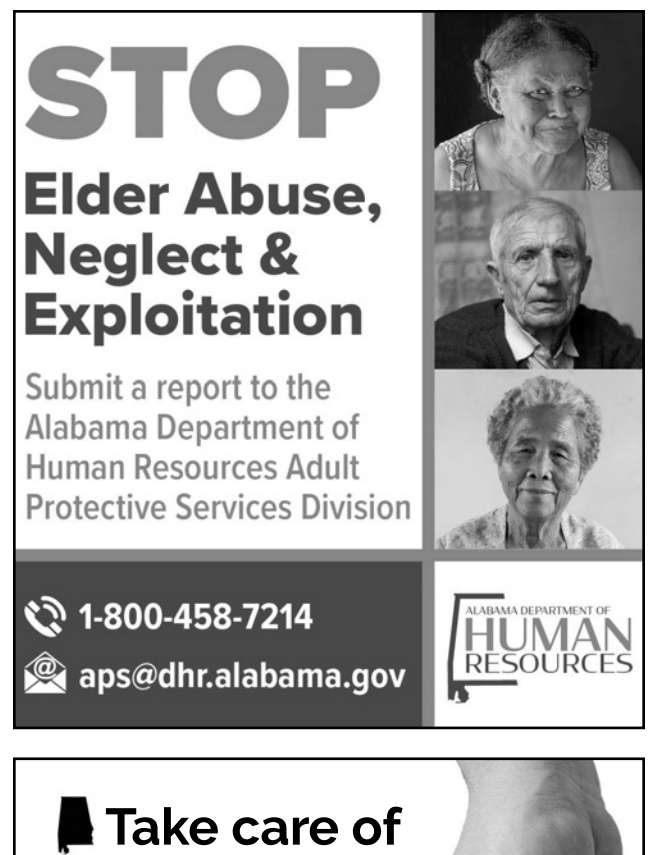

"It wasn't clear if McClendon had hired a lawyer.

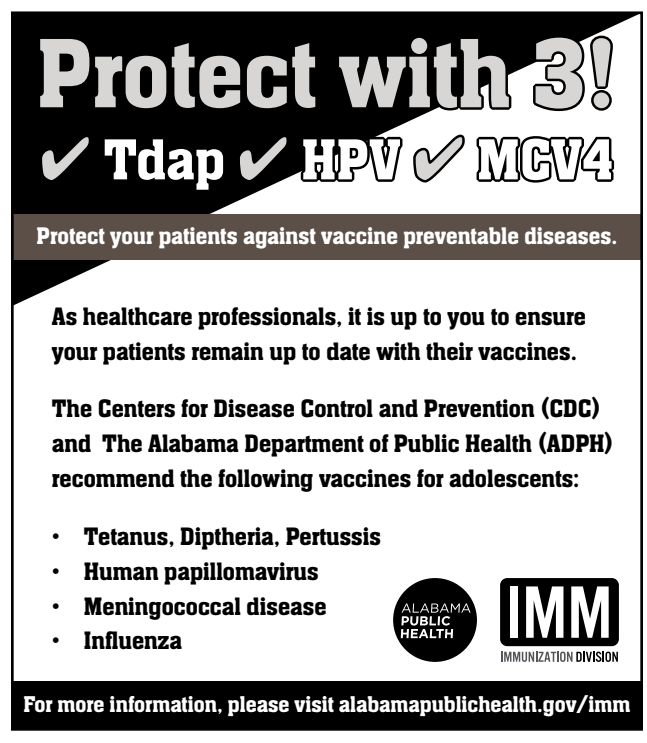

"Blodgett said Tremblay's body was discovered Sept. 12, 1988, in the old Boston & Maine Railway Yard in Lawrence.

"She'd been stabbed to death, he said, and then her body was run over by a train car, causing her left leg to be amputated."

GOOD HOPE, Ala. — Good Hope's City Council held its final April meeting Monday night and before reading a pair of ordinances and appointing someone to the Alcohol Review Committee, they presented their first-ever City of Good Hope Endowed Scholarship to a local student. Good Hope High School's Allie Sartin was on-hand to accept the scholarship from the council and in addition to thanking the council in person, expressed her gratitude beforehand in a written note.

"I would like to express my sincere gratitude for receiving the City of Good Hope Endowed Scholarship.

"I am honored and thankful to have been selected as a recipient of this scholarship. Receiving this will be an aid to pursue my General Studies at Wallace State Community College for me to then be able to transfer to a university.

"Thank you for being generous and giving a helping hand for me to accomplish my career goals.

"This scholarship will help my family and I very much.

"This scholarship will reduce my financial burden. I will now not have to worry so much about college money and can focus more on my studies, learning, and trying to accomplish all of my goals.

"This scholarship means a lot to me. It is a big blessing for my family and me.

"It is all because of your kindness. Thank you again for your support and allowing me to receive this scholarship."

The Council approved the scholarship back in October and $5,000 per year will be put toward The City of Good Hope Scholarship Fund to annually benefit a graduating senior from Good Hope High School that plans to attend Wallace State Community College.

The money will come from the city's alcohol funds.

Next, the Council held first readings for a pair of annexation ordinances that will be approved at the next meeting and approved the appointment of Heath Pike to the City's Alcohol Review Committee.

Before adjourning, the Council approved a renewal of the City of Good Hope's advertisement on the gym floor at Good Hope High School's D.E. Ryan Gymnasium for six more years at $3,000 per year.

The Good Hope City Council will hold its next meeting Monday, May 9 at 6:30 p.m. at Good Hope City Hall.

PREP BASEBALL PLAYOFFS

Bearcats ready for round 2 rematch with Chelsea

Nick Griffin

CULLMAN, Ala. — For the 20th consecutive season, the Cullman Bearcats are preparing for the second round of the state playoffs and their series with Chelsea at Bill Shelton Field will be packed with history. Before game one Friday, Cullman's 2002 State Championship team will be honored and once the ceremony ends, today's Bearcats will turn their attention to the Hornets, who put them out in the second round just a season ago.

The 'Cats secured their spot in round two with a pair of wins at Shades Valley in round one. Cullman hammered the Mounties 19-1 in game one and put them away 13-7 in game two to advance. Runs have been hard to come by for the Bearcats at times this season but after erupting for 32 runs in the opening round, Head Coach Brent Patterson hopes that performance will spark their bats as they continue their postseason run.

"I was pleased with the way we went down there and barreled up a lot of balls. I thought guys had pretty good at bats in both games when the game was still in doubt. They weren't really giving us a lot and we were barreling balls up, so I was pleased with that, and you always have to have something that gets you going," Patterson said. "It's no secret that we've struggled offensively all year and obviously it's a lot harder to score runs in the playoffs anyway so its not like we're going out and expecting to score 19 but you need to give your pitchers a chance. So, I hope that's a little spark and create some momentum that will carry over but, in the end, we know it's going to pitching and defense that wins games and we just need to get timely hits."

Friday's meeting will be a rematch of last year's second round battle between Cullman and Chelsea and the Bearcats are hungry for another shot at the Hornets. The 'Cats fell to Chelsea in three games on the road last season and Patterson knows his team will be excited to play them again this week so the focus in their preparation this week has been about playing within themselves and building on their experience.

"I think you just stick to your routine, and you go out there and understand that we're not really playing against our opponent, we're playing against the game. You've got to go throw strikes; you've got to have good at bats, you've got to make routine plays and you have to play with passion and enthusiasm," Patterson said. "Obviously that part usually isn't hard in the playoffs so sometimes it's about learning to control that passion and enthusiasm and trying to harness it. You've got to play within yourself and part of that is experience. We've got some guys that went through that last year, and they saw good, and they saw bad so we just have to learn from the bad so we can have more of the good."

The 'Cats and Hornets will begin game one at 4:30 p.m. Friday but before the game at 4 p.m. the 2002 State Champion Cullman Bearcats will be honored at Bill Shelton Field 20 years after bringing the first blue map to Cullman High School. Since winning that first state title in 2002, the Bearcats have brought home four more state championships (2007, 2008, 2015 & 2019) and finished as state runner-up seven times (2003, 2004, 2005, 2011, 2014, 2016 & 2017).

Patterson was an assistant on Head Coach Bryan Bowen's staff in 2002 and he's excited to see one of the groups that did so much to lay the foundation of Cullman Baseball receive the recognition they deserve.

"You really can't put into words how important the guys who have come before us are. Even for that 2002 group, they can point back to the Class of 2000 that didn't get to play a home game and sacrificed their home season to get a field and a stadium built so that teams following them would have something special. So, I look back at every group, and obviously this 2002 group is kind of some of the founding fathers of the program. They did something that to a lot of people around here seemed impossible and they went out and got it done," Patterson said. "So, to have Coach (Bryan) Bowen and those guys coming back is great. It got canceled once because of weather so a lot of them aren't going to be able to make the trip that they were going to make the first time but to be able to honor those guys will be great. I think it's a super important thing that we do to make sure that we connect the different generations of our program."

Game one will be Friday at 4:30 p.m. with game two to follow. Game three will be Saturday if necessary.

West Point's Rodgers signs with Tennessee Southern

Nick Griffin

WEST POINT, Ala. — West Point High School's library was full of friends, family, teammates and coaches Tuesday morning to celebrate another Warrior standout's next step in their athletic and academic career. Caiden Rodgers, one of West Point's best arms on the mound this season, officially signed his letter of intent to take his talents to the University of Tennessee Southern where he'll continue to mow down opposing batters with the Firehawks. Rodgers finished his senior season with a 2.38 ERA and struck out 69 batters in 55.2 innings of work.

Caiden got to know the campus and staff during the recruiting process and knew early on that the Firehawks were at the top of his list.

"It reminds me of home there in Pulaski and Coach (Mitch) Hill and all the coaches have been really friendly, so I love the staff," Rodgers said. "They've just been my number one choice since day one."

Rodgers has put in the work over the last several years to earn this opportunity, but he credits his coaches and teammates for helping push him to reach his goal of playing at the next level.

"Coach (Drew) Bryson always gave us the best chance for success. He gave us a good schedule and we always played really tough opponents and I feel like that helps you get ready for the next level," Rodgers said.

"I just want to thank all my coaches and teammates that I've had through the years that have pushed me to where I am today."

Warriors Head Coach Drew Bryson had his eye on Caiden when he was just a freshman but he was still impressed to see how much Rodgers developed and how dominant he was throughout his senior season.

"He was a guy as a freshman that we saw had a ton of potential and we knew if he could figure it out, he'd be really good one day," Bryson said.

"It was just a joy to see him grow up mentally and physically over the last four years and really blossom into a guy who's last six or seven starts for us this year were just unbelievable.

"With him and Eli (Folds) we didn't really have a No. 1 and a No. 2, we had a 1A and a 1B so having a guy like that step up and give us a chance no matter who we're playing was big for us. We're excited for him and to have another guy moving on and representing the program and I know he's going to do really well up there."

CULLMAN, Ala. — The Cullman City Council on Monday evening welcomed the Cullman High School Bearcats basketball team, recent Alabama 6A state champions, pausing the meeting for photos and presenting each player a trophy on behalf of the city.

"Guys, we couldn't be more proud of you," said Mayor Woody Jacobs. "It was exciting. Y'all played Coach Stu's brand – 'chaos.' It was exciting to watch." The council and mayor also took time to recognize Jeff Adams as he prepares to retire from his position as manager of the Cullman Wastewater Treatment Plant. Adams leaves with 25 years of service at the plant, 12 as superintendent/manager. His retirement will take effect May 1, when plant operator Jake Calloway will step in as interim manager.

In business, the council passed a resolution to authorize the mayor to enter into a contract with Growing Alabama for a credit allocation for "site preparation and/or infrastructure work to be undertaken on recently purchased property in Industrial Park V" in the amount of $662,658.

The Cullman City Council meets at 7 p.m. on the second and fourth Mondays of each month at Cullman City Hall. The public is invited to attend.

bowl with a spine to multiple street obstacles—such as a stair set, a hubba ledge, large bank, manual pads and a slappy curb—the skatepark's goal will be to appeal to skateboarders, rollerbladers, BMX riders and scooter riders.

Adam Eichorn, the lead project designer from Spohn Ranch, represented the company from Los Angeles stating, "We are very excited to work with the community of Cullman on their brand-new skate park. From the early planning process through conceptual design and now moving into the build phase, the process has been very positive. The support from the skate community, as well as other advocates and the municipality, has been overwhelming. This is evident in the results from the online survey which kicked off the design process back in December with nearly 200 participants."

The skatepark has been a project that the City of Cullman and its Parks, Recreation and Sports Tourism department has had its eye on for several years. With the strong support from the skate community and their families as well as the need for a safe place for those community members to practice their sport, the plans for a well-designed skatepark became more concrete in recent years.

"I feel the best projects come out of collaboration with a diverse group of people. This skatepark has been thoughtfully planned by a broad group of individuals in Cullman, including members within the skating community, local businesses, city leaders, the design experts and engineers. The finished project will be something we all will be proud of—regardless of whether or not a skater," explained Nathan Anderson, Cullman Parks, Recreation and Sports Tourism executive director.

With final plans now unveiled, city leaders are looking to an opening date of Oct. 1. The process of preparing construction documents is next as well as working with Spohn Ranch on mobilizing their build crew. Spohn Ranch anticipates construction to begin this summer and wrap up at the end of September.

Mayor Woody Jacobs expressed his approval with the skatepark plans as well, saying, "Allowing our skatepark community to have access to a fun and safe skatepark really speaks volumes to the growth and variety of Cullman's parks. We have sought out the best designers and engineers for this project and I'm excited to see this in development."

Commission (from Front)

Sara Gladney

CULLMAN, Ala. — The Cullman County Commission held an emergency called meeting on Wednesday morning, with an agenda that included the approval of a resolution to utilize the County Annual Bids for County Road 18 Community Development Block Grant Project. The grant obtained for the project is for $400,000. Economic Development Director Bradley Williams stated that the bid for the contract was received just after the last meeting and so he wanted to go ahead and approve the resolution as soon as possible so that the contractors will have their purchase order and be able to schedule the work on County Road 18.

County Engineer Bryan Cheatwood stressed the urgency of the resolution. "This has been in the works for a while. We've already been working on some of the pipes and getting that road ready, but scheduling with these contractors with all these funds coming down, if we don't get on their schedule early, we could be pushed back to where this will be done next year."

The project will be taken on entirely by contractors so the road department can continue to work on their current projects.

Cheatwood said that right now the cement plants associated with this resolution are shut down and trying to expand to accommodate the increased demand. They expect to be back up running by mid-June to July which is when the contractors will begin work on the project.

Also approved was the annual Spring Cleanup "Free Dump Day" during the entire month of May. Cullman County residents will each receive a free trip to the dump.

Certificates will be sent out in electric bills and will need to be filled out and presented at the dump. The landfill does not take paint, tires, batteries or hazardous materials.

The next commission meeting will be May 17 at 6 p.m. The next work session will be at 4 p.m. in the Commission meeting room. The public is invited to attend.

The Heehaw Show coming to Hanceville Civic Center April 30

Sara Gladney

HANCEVILLE, Ala. — The Senior Outreach Organization will be presenting their Heehaw Show on Saturday April 30 at the Hanceville Civic Center at 2 p.m. The show was first performed at the Donald Greene Active Adult Center in February of 2019. The group was unable to perform in 2021 due to COVID-19, so they are excited to bring the show back for 2022.

The cast, directed by Jamie Brown, plays favorite characters like Roy Clarke, George Jones, Grandpa Jones, Porter Wagner, Dolly Parton and Loretta Lynn. The cast will perform well known songs including, "Gloom, Despair and Agony," "Old Rattler" and "Mountain Dew." There will also be original skits written by Brown.

Tickets are still available for $10 and can be purchased at the door or at the Donald Greene Center on Tuesday and Wednesday. The Senior Outreach Center meets at the Donald Greene Senior Center every Monday at 1 p.m. The Outreach Center is a nonprofit originally created by Brown to bring meals and entertainment to seniors on the weekends. Brown writes small plays and skits for the seniors to perform as a fun way for them to socialize and show their skills. The funds raised from the Heehaw Show will go back into the center to fund the sound equipment and costumes for the skits.

Brown said, "We're looking forward to it. We've got a big week. We're going Wednesday to Wallace and doing a small skit. Thursday, we're going to set everything up, and then Friday we'll practice down there, and Saturday will be the show. We're excited."

CULLMAN, Ala. — The nation's secondary schools received their annual report cards from U.S. News and World Report this week and several Cullman area school teachers, administrators and students have cause to celebrate.

Cullman High School, despite its 2020 local spending per student of $2,619 compared to larger schools' spending such as Spain Park High School's $4,358, remained a strong hold in the state's top 25 schools with a ranking of 18.

Cullman High School principal and alumni Kim Hall shared her reaction with Cullman's repeat appearance on the list, saying, "It is an honor to be recognized among U.S. News and World Report's list of Best High Schools in America.

"This recognition is a testament to the perseverance and dedication of the teachers and students at Cullman High School. 2020-2021 was a challenging year as our faculty and students overcame the many obstacles presented through the pandemic.

"This recognition further validates Cullman High School's continued commitment to excellence. Go Bearcats!"

The yearly rankings score based on six factors: College Readiness 30%, State Assessment Proficiency 20%, State Assessment Performance 20%, Underserved Student Performance 10%, College Curriculum Breadth 10% and Graduation Rate 10%.

Of note, since many schools waived state testing for the 2019-2020 school year due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the rankings relied on previous years' scores for those areas.

West Point High School ranked 48 in the state. With a graduation rate of 96% and a college readiness score of 30.6 among its 532 students, the Warriors were the top-ranking school in the county school system and the only one in the top 50.

In response, Cullman County Board of Education Superintendent Shane Barnette shared, "There are constantly lists being created by different organizations that rank schools.

"Just recently we had Vinemont Elementary Schools reported on a list of 'high-flying' schools in Alabama.

"They were the only school in our vicinity that made the list. That list was created by AL.com researchers and it was based on students from high poverty areas achieving high test scores."

The High Flyer School award program was developed in late 2021 by state journalists who cover the Alabama public school systems. Vinemont Elementary School, selected as one of 43 Alabama High Flyer Schools, reported a student poverty level of 52.1%, English language arts proficiency of 58.1%, math proficiency of 28.6% and per student local expenditure of $793. Vinemont Elementary was the only school in the county to meet the standards set by the Alabama reporters.

Barnette continued, "I am proud of all the schools that made the U.S. News Report Best High Schools list, but this list was weighted heavily based on the number of AP (advanced placement) courses that the schools offer.

"While we do have some schools that offer some AP courses that has not been our district's overall focus.

"We have concentrated more on dual enrollment course offerings through our partnership with Wallace State Community College.

"After a student completes an AP course, they still have to pay to take the AP exam and pass the exam to earn college credit.

"The percentage of students that pass the AP exams across the state is very low."

The AP exams offers high school students the opportunity to receive college credit and placement based on scoring. The exams are scored on a scale of 1-5, with 5 considered "extremely well qualified" and 1 having "no recommendation." Individual post-secondary institutions determine what scores it allows for placement.

Barnette shared what the county school system offers instead. "With our partnership with Wallace State, every high school in our district offers multiple college courses in which the students earn college credit once they complete the course.

"Many of our students will be graduating from Wallace State with an associate's degree a week before they graduate high school.

"I would be interested in seeing a list of schools or districts that have the most high school students graduating with a college course under their belt.

"This year, every 9th-grade student in our district took a college orientation class through Wallace State. Research says that every student that successfully completes one college course is 80% more likely to take another college course.

"Our goal in Cullman County Schools is for all of our students to graduate with a career-ready credential and one successful college course under their belt.

"We want our graduates to have the confidence and tools to either continue their education or enter the workforce...or maybe both.

"There are not very many lists for schools or districts that graduate well-rounded students prepared for life."

Fairview High School was recognized as 69th in the state with Vinemont High School at 173rd in the list. To the west, Good Hope High School ranked at 182, Hanceville High School at 213 and Cold Springs High School at 224. Right behind was Holly Pond High School at 247.
