Cullman City Council welcomes Brad Smith to vacant Place No. 1 position

Amy Leonard
amy@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. — Cullman City Council met on Monday night at City Hall opening with the swearing in on newest council member, Brad Smith.

Smith has big shoes to fill in the Place No. 1 position. The seat was formerly held by Andy Page, or "Coach" to everyone who knew him. Coach's love for people and for the community of Cullman were unsurpassed and the council was left with a gaping hole when he passed on Jan. 5 of this year.

Smith was appointed to the Cullman Jefferson Gas Board as well as his new duties in Place 1 and as the chair of the Public Safety Committee.

Gleann Brook Acres providing better beef with pasture-raised Highland cattle

CULLMAN, Ala. — Scottish Highland cattle are highly sought-after livestock for their docile nature, ability to withstand harsh weather and high-quality beef. Gleann Brook Acres, family-owned and operated business since 2006, has raised more than 200 highlands in over 10 states. Their ranch is located in Bremen, where the cattle are raised on open pasture. Tracey Kerbler, with her husband Stéphane, and two kids Sydnée and Synclair, run the farm.

The highlands reap the benefits of being raised humanely on open green pasture with shaded areas for getting out of the sun, while consumers get the benefits of organic beef that is free of hormones or antibiotics. Tracey stated, "We don't confine them or overstock them to the extent that they need antibiotics to fight contagious disease from being too close. Some of our breeding herd are 17 years old this year and still producing a calf every year—that comes from slow but steady growth the way it was intended.

"Hormones are used to accelerate growth and increase feed efficiency and the results are fast growing animals that can't survive in the herd due to structural insufficiencies. Cattle aren't meant to be at market weight in 14 months. This can only be achieved with artificial means in both diet and additives. We don't believe this is in the best interest of our cattle or our clients. If one of our animals should become ill, we treat with appropriate antibiotics in conjunction with our veterinarian's recommendation—we do not use antibiotics prophylactically ever."

Grass-fed beef is also lower in both overall fat and saturated fat and has the added advantage of providing healthy omega-3 and omega-6 fatty acids to consumers' diet in much higher quantities than feedlot/corn-fed beef.

Tracey completed her B.S. in Agriculture and her M.S. in Reproductive Physiology, specifically for cattle, at the University of Guelph, Ontario, Canada. She then worked at the University of Guelph as the head research technician for their dairy facilities until 1998. She said she » PAGE 8

CULLMAN, Ala. — The Cullman Police Department is partnering with Cullman Cosmetic and Family Dentistry to host their Smiles for Life event on Friday, June 10.

"Smiles for Life is a charity organization that we partner with Ultradent to sponsor," Practice Manager Beth Jones said. "Ultradent is a dental vendor that sells dental products like teeth whitening. Smiles for Life is a charity created for underprivileged and/or disabled children to be able to get dental work done. Through this charity, they allow us to sponsor SFL, but also, a local charity in the process. We chose The Link of Cullman County." From this charity event, half the proceeds will go to Smiles for Life and the other half will be donated to The Link. The CPD encourages community members to come and join this celebration charity event. Cullman Police Officers will be providing and cooking food on-site.

"Also, the doctors agreed to participate in a dunking booth if we reached 20 donations of $300, so that will be fun," Jones said. The event will be held at 311 Sixth Ave. SE in Cullman, at Cullman Cosmetic and Family Dentistry beginning at 2 p.m.

WALLACE STATE SOFTBALL

Coaching staff earns top NFCA honor; Felicity Frame named NJCAA 1st-team All-American, Kirby earns 2nd-team nod

Russell Moore
WSCC Athletics

HANCEVILLE, Ala. – Wallace State Community College's softball program continues to rack up postseason awards.

Wallace State's softball coaching staff, made up of head coach A.J. Daugherty and assistants Cadi Oliver and Carson Owens, was named the National Fastpitch Coaches Association (NFCA) National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) National Coaching Staff of the Year on Monday, as voted on by their peers.

On Tuesday, outfielder Felicity Frame was named a NJCAA Division I 1st-team All-American and pitcher Leigha Kirby was selected to the 2nd-team, less than a week after each was named the NFCA 1st-team.

Wallace State coaching staff

Daugherty, also the 2022 Alabama Community College Conference (ACCC) Coach of the Year, and his staff led Wallace State to a 56-4 record and the overall No. 3 seed at the NJCAA Division I Championships in Yuma, Ariz. The Lions spent four weeks as the No. 1 team in Division I during the regular season.

Wallace State softball carved out one of the best seasons in program history that didn't result in a national championship, winning the program's 14th ACCC Tournament title and outscoring opponents by 391 runs.

"Our staff is honored and humbled by the recognition. The thing I appreciate the most is the award is for the staff and not a specific coach. Any person who watches us play knows our assistants are the straws that stir the drink. It means a lot they're included. People who choose this profession certainly know it's more about the staff than the head coach when you experience success," Daugherty said. "I think it speaks volumes we didn't reach the end result of winning a national championship, yet we were still recipients."

Daugherty has compiled a 260-58 career record at Wallace State, leading the program to four conference championships and four subsequent national championship appearances.

Oliver completed her third year as a Wallace State assistant. Oliver played collegiately at Jacksonville State and in high school at Sumiton Christian.

Owens completed his first season as a Wallace State assistant after one campaign at Southern Utah University. As a student, Owens served on the Wallace State support staff from 2018-2019 before transferring to Alabama.

Prior to Monday's recognition, Wallace State's coaching staff had already earned the NFCA NJCAA Division I South Regional Coaching Staff of the Year.

Frame and Kirby named NJCAA All-Americans

Frame is the first Wallace State softball player to earn NJCAA 1st-team recognition since Rachel Ragland in 2015.

Frame was a catalyst at the top of the order for Wallace State for two seasons. She led the conference in batting average, hits, runs scored and stolen bases prior to the conference tournament, finishing the season with a .511 average, 91 hits, 72 runs scored and 62 stolen bases. Frame, a Brookwood native and UNA commit, also led the ACCC with a .558 on-base percentage.

"Felicity is exactly what you expect from a leadoff hitter. If she went 2-for-4, you almost felt like she had a bad day because she's so dynamic. She's a nightmare for opposing defenses. It's rare to have a player as undefendable as Felicity. That's one thing that makes her special," Daugherty said.

Frame, also the 2022 ACCC Player of the Year, hit .511 during her career at Wallace State with 178 hits, 144 runs scored and 114 stolen bases.

Kirby was the anchor behind a stout Wallace State pitching staff that also featured Bailie Hall and Josie Thompson and finished with a collective 1.12 ERA.

Kirby, also the ACCC Tournament MVP and the ACCC Pitcher of the Year, finished the season with a conference-best 0.91 ERA. She went 19-1 with 12 complete games and 168 strikeouts in 122 2/3 innings.

WSCC

Wallace State's softball coaching staff is made up of, from left, assistant coaches Carson Owens and Cadi Oliver, and head coach A.J. Daugherty.

A Pisgah native, Kirby transferred to Wallace State for her sophomore season after one campaign at Chipola College.

"Leigha isn't flashy and doesn't throw with velocity off the charts. She hits her spots and keep the ball down most of the time, keeping hitters off balance," Daugherty said. "Leigha was a great addition to our team and pitched to her full potential."

Wallace State's sophomore class won 111 games in two seasons, earning two conference titles and making a pair of national championship appearances.

Regional champs! No. 14 Auburn defeats UCLA, advances to super regional

Jeff Shearer
AU Athletics

AUBURN, Ala. – After waiting 23 years to dogpile at Plainsman Park, a one-day delay was a small price to pay for the Auburn Tigers.

Auburn players met at the mound Monday after beating UCLA 11-4, celebrating their dominating sweep through an NCAA regional that saw the Tigers outscore three opponents 51-18.

After taking a lap around the warning track to thank fans, the Tigers gathered at home plate for a team photo as Prince's "1999" played, an homage to the last year the Tigers won a regional title at home.

"Super proud of our team," Auburn coach Butch Thompson said. "Getting to host this finally, I think we've proved to ourselves that we can absolutely play well in this setting. A ton of players contributed, top to bottom of our lineup and defensively.

"Our offense was the No. 1 key. No. 2 was our three starting pitchers. It's nice when you're at this stage and you play your best baseball of the year, and I thought we did that."

Resuming a game paused 16 hours earlier by lightning with Auburn leading 9-0 in the sixth inning, pitchers Carson Skipper and Blake Burkhalter recorded the final 11 outs to finish the gem Mason Barnett began Sunday evening.

UCLA scored two runs in the both the seventh and eighth innings to pull within five, but Auburn added two insurance runs in the top of the ninth on Cole Foster's sacrifice fly and Sonny DiChiara's single to center.

"It's just surreal," said DiChiara, the SEC Co-Player of the Year. "We're so close. I'm happy to be a part of that. To win this regional and go to the next step of a super-regional, we're out there competing and it's so fun."

The visiting team, Auburn sent UCLA to the bullpen early Sunday after the Tigers' first four batters reached against James Hepp. DiChiara singled home Blake Rambusch, then Brooks Carlson scored Foster with a sacrifice fly off reliever Daniel Colwell for a 2-0 lead.

UCLA leadoff hitter Cody Schrier doubled on the first pitch of the bottom of the first, but Barnett struck out the side to strand Schrier at second.

Barnett escaped a jam in the second inning after walking the first two batters, sandwiching a pair of strikeouts between a Kason Howell running catch in deep center field.

UCLA's leadoff hitter reached in each of the first three innings, but Barnett fanned six through three to keep the Bruins off the scoreboard, adding a pair of strikeouts in the fourth to equal his season-high of eight.

Auburn doubled its advantage in the fourth on DiChiara's bases-loaded single up the middle, scoring Nate LaRue and Rambusch to give the Tigers a 4-0 lead.

Brody Moore continued his torrid hitting, leading off the fifth with a solo homer to right that put Auburn ahead 5-0.

"We did this for Auburn," said Moore, the Regional MVP. "We did this for the university and the people who love this place."

Barnett equaled his career high with his ninth strikeout to end the fifth inning and retired the last 10 batters he faced.

Auburn pulled away with four runs in the sixth. Carlson greeted UCLA's fourth pitcher, Jake Saum, with a double to right to score DiChiara, who walked.

After a walk to Howell loaded the bases, LaRue cleared them with a double to the gap in left-center, scoring Bobby Peirce, Carlson and Howell to make it 9-0.

Barnett struck out Jake Palmer to lead off the bottom of the sixth, setting his career high with 10 strikeouts.

When a lightning delay stopped play at 10:42 p.m., Barnett exited to a standing ovation, having shut out the Bruins for 5.1 innings while allowing only one hit.

"The nerves settled down and I was able to really focus and go pitch by pitch," said Barnett, who improved to 3-2 with the victory.

"Once your name is called, you've got to be thankful for the opportunity and take as much advantage of it as you can."

Unfazed by a two-hour weather delay Sunday evening, the sold-out crowd remained engaged and enthused, cheering as the all-clear countdown clock expired and filling Plainsman Park with shouts of "Auburn Tigers!" and "Let's Go Auburn!" Thousands of fans returned Monday afternoon, determined to witness program history. Auburn extended its regional win streak to nine, outscoring opponents 117-43 in the process.

"For our people to come here and help us get to the finish line, this was a special three four days for our program," Thompson said.

Auburn (40-19) advances to a super-regional for the third time in four seasons. The Tigers will play Oregon State in Corvallis, Oregon, this weekend with game dates and times to be determined.

CULLMAN, Ala. — The City of Cullman Planning Commission met on Monday evening at the City Hall Auditorium tasked with holding public hearings on a rezoning request, several short form subdivision requests and the review of a proposed site plan.

A public hearing was heard for the rezoning of the Klein Building property, located on Third Avenue SE between Fourth and Fifth Street SE.

With no one speaking in opposition at the hearing, the rezoning request commenced, and the commission approved to make the recommendation to Cullman City Council for rezoning the property.

The committee heard a public hearing and subdivision request for a property at 413 Second Ave. SE from one lot to two lots. During the public hearing, local attorney Perry Knight, whose law firm is next to the lot in question, spoke in opposition to the lot division, stating, "It has been indicated to me that the plan is to build a swimming pool on the property.

"I am objecting and it's obviously not a good plan for a swimming pool next to a law office.

"I've been there for more than 20 years, and I just cannot see how, with all of that commercial property around, how that would be appropriate.

"I just wanted to voice my objection on a swimming pool being built next to my law office."

After Mike Voss stated that the commission was reviewing the lot lines, Knight stated he just wanted his objection to be on record.

The subdivision request was approved to move to the city council.

Three additional public hearings for properties at Cullman City Primary School, Cullman Industrial Park and U.S. Highway 278 E were held and the subdivision requests were approved to move forward to city council.

A proposed site plan was reviewed for a proposed convenience store at Second Avenue NW and Mitchell Road NW.

The commission approved with a representative on hand to confirm the builder is working with ALDOT to address the sole concern about the property.

An annexation request to move a property at 390 County Road 1320 into city limits was approved. Lastly, a recommendation was made to comment planning commission member Barrett Richard on his service and was approved.

The City of Cullman Planning Commission meets on the first Monday of each month at 5:30 p.m. at City Hall. The next meeting will be held on July 5.

member Clint Hollingsworth was happy to have Smith join, sharing, "We love that Brad is on board with us. We're excited to be a complete team on council again. Obviously, Coach Page dedicated so much time and service over the years and we loved him. I have no doubt that Brad is going to do a great job with us."

Smith's mother and Cullman Area Chamber of Commerce and Visitor Center President and CEO Peggy Smith said with joy, "We're very proud that Brad wants to serve and we're very excited. He has a great group of leaders in place to serve with and we're looking forward to seeing our community grow and prosper. Our family is proud that he wants to serve his community and we're happy that he has a great community to serve."

After Smith was joined by his family and sworn in by Judge Martha Williams, the council moved on to the public hearings. Two hearings were held with the first to rezone two lots on Third Avenue SE from M-1 Manufacturing to Central Business District; the second was to rezone the former House of Shoes property on Eighth Street to B-2 Business District.

Cullman Parks, Recreation and Sports Tourism Executive Director Nathan Anderson gave an update on its new water park, WildWater. During the park's soft opening, thousands of guests have already been welcomed. The grand opening will be Friday, June 17.

Special Event Requests were granted for the following:

• Tesha Brewer State Farm on Fisher Street to hold a celebration Saturday, June 18 from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m.

• Dr. Wilda Hameen of Law Mortuary to hold a scholarship fundraiser on Morning Drive NE on Saturday, June 18 from 6 p.m. until 10 p.m.

• Garlan Gudger of Southern Accents Architectural Antiques for an annual customer appreciation party to be held behind the business on Saturday, July 9 from 6 p.m. until 10 p.m.

• Sheila Haynes to promote voter turnout for the runoff election during the 2nd Friday event held on First Avenue on Friday, June 10 from 5 p.m. until 7 p.m.

• Sheila Haynes to hold an event on the eve of the runoff election, Monday, June 20, from 5 p.m. until 7 p.m. The Jericho Walk will take place on the city sidewalk at the Cullman County Courthouse

Cathi Bradford, an organizer for the Jericho Walk, explained, "We plan to help get out the vote. We just read a report where our Secretary of State John Merrill said that he was predicting a 28-32% turnout in the primary and we only had a 23% turnout in Cullman County. He's predicting only 10-15% for the runoff. As a result, we're trying to get out the vote. We want to pray over it and hold the Jericho Walk to get the word out."

In other business, the council passed the following ordinances:

• Appointment of officers and committees of council

• Lease with CSX for property – this is a renewal of a standing agreement

• One-time bonus for retirees of the City of Cullman

• Reaffirming existing property taxes – this is not a new tax but a yearly renewal of the standing property tax system in the city

• Property annexation on 390 County Road 1320 into the city as a R-1 Residential property

The City of Cullman Council meets on the second and fourth Monday night of each month at 7 p.m. at City Hall. The next meeting is scheduled for June 27. The public is invited to attend.

Lessons (from Front)

Sara Gladney

CULLMAN, Ala. — Cullman Wellness and Aquatic Center is currently hosting swimming lessons to get kids ready for summer water activities.

Classes will run Monday-Thursday, June 6-16, June 20-30 or July 11-21. Classes are $80 for CWAC members and $90 for non-CWAC members. Registration is open at the front desk of CWAC. Classes are for ages 3 and up. Class times are 8 a.m. and 9 a.m.

There will be four different lesson levels increasing in difficulty:

• Level 1 – Bubbles: an introduction to water. Children will learn to be comfortable in the water while learning water safety. Basic kicking and paddling will be introduced.

• Level 2 – Minnows: Children will learn more about water safety, voluntarily going underwater, breath control, bubbles out of mouth and nose, floating on back and front with limited to no assistance.

• Level 3 – Fish: Children will learn to increase the distance of swimming unassisted, tread water, dive into deep water, underwater skills and to breathe while swimming.

• Level 4 – Dolphin: Children will learn stroke technique, backstroke arms, increase distance, surface dives, breaststroke and butterfly.

Swimming comes with many health benefits and is great way to teach kids to be more confident as well as enhancing stamina, posture and balance.

Another benefit is that it makes swimmers stronger and more flexible.

Most importantly enrolling children in swimming lessons is crucial to preventing drowning accidents.

According to the CDC, "In the United States, more children ages 1–4 die from drowning than any other cause of death except birth defects."

Drowning can happen anytime, including when children are not expected to be near water, such as when they gain unsupervised access to pools.

The CDC also states, "Drowning can happen quickly and quietly anywhere there is water, especially to unsupervised children.

"It happens in lakes and oceans, pools, bathtubs and even buckets of water. Drowning can occur when lifeguards are present."

Many adults and children report that they are weak swimmers or can't swim, but if a child learns to swim at a young age, that skill is with them forever, providing them with an essential skill to improve their quality of life.

Camp (from Front)

amy@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. — The Link of Cullman County's Summer Enrichment Camp welcomed its first week of campers in efforts of keeping the children of Cullman entertained and hungry for knowledge throughout their summer break.

"We are so thankful to be provide this service to the students in Cullman County. We know that the gap in the summer can really create problems in August when the students go back to school. We want to stand in the gap. We believe that walking side by side with these students will ensure their success," shared Director of Programs Julie Hall.

Wednesday saw campers learning age-appropriate coping skills for anxiety with various breakout sessions. From yoga lessons to talk sessions and drawing sessions, the students learned ways to cope with anxiety through constructive and healthy ways.

Later in the summer, an emphasis will be on physical health, cooking skill and nutrition. Sips and Strokes will be teaching art classes during the last day of camp. Learning will be a part of each session of camp.

Through fostering a hunger of knowledge through play, The Link provides a safe place for area students on Mondays and Wednesdays from noon – 3 p.m. to move away from screen time and socialize with their peers.

The camp is currently in session and will continue through July 6. There will be no camp on Monday, July 4 due to the national holiday.

The camp is provided free of charge and available for incoming first - eighth graders. For more information, please contact Dakota Trammell by phone at 256-775-0028 or by email at dakotatrammell@linkingcullman.org.

Cattle (from Front)

fell in love with cattle in high school while doing rounds with a large animal veterinarian and ever since then had dreams of owing her own cattle.

This background, along with a few summer jobs working at different dairy and equine facilities, gave her a good preparation for farm life, but, she said, "We've definitely had to reinvent the wheel a few times transitioning from research to practical farming. Like many things, it's a lifetime of learning and everyday teaches us something new."

Tracey and her husband decided to start the farm in Alabama because Stéphane's work brought them to Birmingham. At this time, their kids were in school full-time, so Tracey searched for ways to fulfill her research background by owning cattle. She explained, "When we moved to the USA, my vocation as a dairy researcher was over. We didn't live near any universities that do dairy research. Beef was perfect for us as we didn't live on the farm when we got started. My husband recommended Highland cattle and when we did the research, they fit our situation perfectly."

After getting hooked on Highlands, Tracy and Stéphane contacted Don and Margaret Badger of Jadhore Highlands, Maple Lea Farm in Quebec who acted as their mentors heading into the venture.

They first began with heifers from Cube Mountain in New Hampshire, Black Watch Farm in Vermont, and Locustbrae Farm in New York. They purchased Black Watch Breagh Tighearnan from Frank and Liz Manafort to be their herd sire. In 2007, Gleann Brook Acre's Gleandan (AI), son of Kanaka Hill Maximilian (AI), #6783-26455 and Baker's Cube Mtn. Saba S283, #43410, were born and contributed greatly as their second herd sire. Since then, the farm has had over 200 calves born under the Gleann Brook Acres name.

Tracey said, "Highlands are easy to work with, the cows calve without issues, they are very protective of their young and the meat is of outstanding quality. Even when we got busy with kids playing hockey and long road trips, the cattle kept doing their thing. Munching grass or hay and having the most adorable babies! We sell our cattle around the USA, all the way to California, up and down the East coast and of course, to all our neighboring states. We feel so privileged to be able to share the breed with folks."

The family welcomes anyone who wants to visit Gleann Brook Acres and learn about Highland cattle. Arrangements must be made in advance to ensure that someone is available to show them the cattle. They also ask for a contribution to cover time away from other tasks.

Gleann Brook Acres visits Cullman Festhalle Farmers Market on Tuesdays, Thursday and Saturdays from 7 a.m. – 2 p.m. They can also be contacted through their website: https://www.gbahighlands.com/get-in-touch-copy/.
