PREP BASKETBALL

Addison Bulldogs, Lady Bulldogs down Winston County

Todd Walker
Tribune Correspondent

ADDISON, Ala. – Addison hosted its archrival, the Winston County High Yellow Jackets for a pair of varsity games Friday night and the packed house left happy, if you were a Bulldog supporter. The Ladies from Addison took the opener 63-43 and the boys took the nightcap, 77-71.

Addison 63 – Winston County 43 (Varsity Girls)
The ladies from Addison opened up their county schedule with their rivals from across the lake, the Winston County Lady Jackets. The opening frame was all Lady Bulldogs as "Magic" Molly Gilbreath and Hadley "Shooter" Butler were deadly from downtown. Addison jumped out to a 15-4 lead with great precision passing and excellent defense. Addison, led by Lydia "Barbie" Ergle, owned the glass in the period. Butler and Gilbreath each had two three-pointers. Winston County's Olivia Wright tried to keep the Jackets close as she put in four of her team's eight points. At the end of the first, Addison led 21-8.

The Lady Jackets went into a little lull las they dealt with foul trouble. Addison's all everything, Gracie "Bug" Manley had three fouls early in the second and her replacement Katie Barrett picked up three as well. The Jackets actually outscored the hometown Dawgs 13-11 in the period.

The visitors were led by Lynleigh Cobb who had five points and 3 boards in the period. Gilbreath and Manley had four points each for Addison. Addison took a comfortable 32-21 lead into the half.

The second half opened up with both teams splitting the first twelve points in the period. Addison then went on an 8-2 run to take the third quarter, 14-8, to take a 46-29 lead going into the fourth and final period.

Ergle led the Dawgs with six points while also posting five rebounds. Winston County's Madison Comeens led the Lady Jackets with six points in the third.

The final period was the Butler show as Addison's little point guard was all over the floor, scoring, stealing and rebounding everything in sight. This was perhaps Butler's finest moment for the Bulldogs as she and Ergle really stepped it up with several Lady Dawgs in foul trouble. Winston County's Comeens did her best to close the gap by scoring eight points for the Lady Jackets.

The difference in the game was on the boards as Addison dominated 44-25.

Addison Head Coach Bailey Boland was extremely happy after the game, "First of all, super proud of all our young ladies but especially, Hadley (Butler). We got in foul trouble, and she did absolutely everything for us tonight. I mean all the girls really stepped it up tonight. They (WCHS) are a scrappy team and leave it all out on the court.

"I don't know the numbers, but we kept them from having too many second chance points and we held them to one shot most of the night. Lydia (Ergle) had her best game and she, like all of them, seems to be playing with much more confidence recently. Our energy is good, and it is good to win this first county game at home."

Unofficial stats
Addison was led by Butler with 22 points, 10 rebounds, five assists, six steals and a block. Manley had 14 points, six boards and four steals in limited action. Gilbreath had 14 points, two boards, three assists and a steal. Ergle had eight points, 13 boards, two assists and three blocks. Barrett had three points, four boards and an assist. Brilyn Dover had two points, five boards, two assists and three steals. Lauryn "Beemer" Cunningham had three boards and one assist. Gracie Roberts had on rebound.

Addison 77 – Winston County 71 (Varsity Boys)
The game started with both teams wanting to play up-tempo. Both these teams like to shoot the three-point shot and many were thrown up on this evening. The first period was a fairly even affair. Addison outscored Winston County 21-18 mainly due to the Dawgs outrebounding the Jackets 9-4. Brady Gilbreath led Addison with 10 points. Bradley "Big Foot" Willette put in four for Addison as well. The Yellow Jackets were led by Senior Sy Blanton, who seems like he has been playing varsity basketball for Winston County since he was in the fifth grade. Blanton put in five points for the Jackets while Ethan Morgan tapped in four.

The second frame saw Addison commit multiple turnovers, mainly unforced. Addison would try and make the extra pass, but it usually ended up in a Yellow Jackets hand.

Winston County won the period, 24-15, to take a 42-36 lead into the half. Josh "West Coast" Netherton led the Dawgs with seven while Lane "Duct Tape" Tubb hit a long three. Blanton led the Jackets with 8 points and Eli Edgil had five points to go along with three rebounds.

The second half started out with Addison making a small run and then it would be answered by a Jacket bucket. Gilbreath had eight points in the period while Jed "Wizard" Wilkins had three boards and a block to go along with his solo bucket. Addison's Jacob "Lanky" McLamb had three steals in the period. Winston County had six different players score a basket.

At the end of the third, Addison had cut the lead to 54-53 and the fourth period promised to go down to the wire.

The first two minutes of the fourth were pretty uneventful as the Jackets had extended their lead to 60-55 with about six minutes to go in the game. Addison's Willette had two straight put backs and at the 5:32 mark of the fourth period, it happened. With the score tied at 60, Netherton took the ball and elevated to the rim to come down with a poster ready two-handed slam dunk that brought the house down. Addison took the lead at 62-60 and that completed a 7-0 Bulldog run. Winston County would not give up, but they would never lead again. Addison started feeding their big man, Willette, and he started rewarding them. Willette dominated the fourth as he put in 11 points to go along with two rebounds. Blanton tried to keep the Jackets close, he did, as he nailed three treys while Morgan had five more points. Addison took the period and the game, 77-71.

Addison Head Coach Scott Flynn,

"We had an up and down game. A lot of different momentum swings in this game but the big change was Josh's (Netherton) dunk. The crowd got into it and our guys seemed to take a spark from the dunk. I thought that it turned the game around. We still turned the ball over too much but a lot of that is our guys trying to get their teammates involved by making the extra pass. Happy with the win and it is always nice to start the county season off with a win."

Unofficial stats
Addison was led in scoring by Gilbreath who had a game high 25 points, four boards, two assists and two steals. Willette had 17 points, five boards and two steals. Netherton had 12 points, eight rebounds and an assist. Briley "Snake" Hayes had 12 points, four boards and three assists.

Tubb had nine points and a board. Wilkins had two points, six boards, three assists, two steals and a block. McLamb had three boards and four steals.

Winston County had Blanton with 22 points, and three boards. Morgan had 15 points and two boards. Edgil had 10 points and five boards. Braden Hudson had seven points and two boards. Landon Kelley had seven points. Eli Moore had four points and two boards.

Fairview drops area matchups with Scottsboro

Sammy Confer
sammy@cullmantribune.com

FAIRVIEW, Ala. — The Fairview Aggies returned home Friday night to host Scottsboro for a pair of area matchups and unfortunately for the home crowd, both the Aggies and Lady Aggies fell to the Wildcats. After a close first half, a huge second half by the Lady Wildcats was key as they pulled away to defeat the Lady Aggies 58-32 and in the boys' game, a close game quickly turned Scottsboro's way in the second half, and they went on to top defeating Fairview 83-57.

Scottsboro 58 - Fairview 32 (Varsity Girls)
Scottsboro jumped out to a quick 4-0 lead early in the first quarter. Fairview's Darby Nichols hit a free throw with 5:51 left to go in the opening period for their first point of the game. Later on, Ava Thomas hit three free throws to make it a 6-4 game.

A Jayla Gorham free throw made it an 8-5 game. Fairview got their first basket of the game on a Nichols layup with three minutes left to play in the first quarter to keep it at a three-point game at 10-7.

The Lady Wildcats widened their lead to 14-8 and the Lady Aggies found themselves trailing by six going into the second period.

A free throw each by Nichols and Gorham made it a 16-10 game, then Nichols drilled a three to cut it to 16-13.

Six straight points by Scottsboro pushed their lead to 22-13, but a Somer Harris basket made it 22-15. A Gorham basket down low and a pair of Thomas free throws cut it to 26-19, but a late basket by the Lady Wildcats pushed their lead to 28-19 at the half.

Scottsboro quickly went on an 8-0 run to start out the third quarter as they increased their lead to 36-19.

A Gorham made basket made it 36-21 and later on, a basket by Reagan Dunkin made it 40-23, but Scottsboro scored the final seven points of the third quarter as they took a 47-23 lead into the final period.

The Lady Wildcats quickly pushed their lead to 58-24 and the Lady Aggies went on a run at the end of the game, but the deficit proved to be too much for them to handle as Scottsboro knocked off Fairview, 58-32.

Thomas finished with nine points for Fairview (5-5), while Nichols and Gorham each added seven points.

Scottsboro 83 - Fairview 57 (Varsity Boys)
Scottsboro got off to a quick start as they jumped out to a quick 7-0 lead. With 4:38 left to go in the opening period, a three by Kobe Payne got Fairview on the scoreboard. A three by Bryson Fletcher made it 9-6.

The Wildcats quickly pushed their lead to 14-6, but another trey by Payne cut it to 14-9 with less than three minutes to go in the first quarter.

Scottsboro made it 18-11 with a little over two minutes left to go in the first period, but the three-point barrage continued for the Aggies as one by Landon Smith and two in a row by Antonio Gambrill gave them a 20-18 lead. Both teams would go into the second quarter tied up at 22.

A quick 7-2 run by the Wildcats gave them a 29-24 lead, but another Fletcher trey cut it to 29-27.

A pair of free throws by Ethan Fraiser tied it up at 29, then with a little over three minutes to go in the first half, he would drill a three from the right corner to give the Aggies a 32-31 lead.

A steal and a layup by Cylas Yarbrough saw Fairview hold onto a slim 34-33 lead, but a basket before the half by the Wildcats saw them take a 35-34 lead into the half.

A pair of Scottsboro baskets to start the third quarter pushed their lead to 39-34, but a Yarbrough basket made it 39-36.

A Yeager made basket made it 42-38 and later on, a Colt Fletcher trey cut it to 48-43. The Wildcats started to pull away from the Aggies to end the third quarter as an 11-2 run saw them take a 59-44 lead into the final period.

Another Colt Fletcher three made it 61-47, then later on, Bryson Fletcher hit one of his own from deep to swivel it down to 13 at 63-50.

The Aggies forced a turnover and Yarbrough hit the fast-break layup to make it a 63-52 game with 4:45 left to go in the game. After that, it was all Scottsboro as they went on a 17-0 run to stop any hopes of a Fairview comeback and the Aggies ended up falling to the Wildcats, 83-57.

Yarbrough led the way for Fairview (4-4) with 15 points. Colt Fletcher and Bryson Fletcher each added nine points. Payne ended up with six points and Fraiser added five points.

Fairview will stay at home Monday night to host New Hope.

agency that continues to set the bar high for special holiday events in Cullman.

Adults and children alike enjoyed roasted marshmallows while the city's 42-foot tall Christmas tree at Depot Park and 30-foot tall German pyramid next to the Cullman County Museum provided a fitting holiday backdrop.

"This year's Christkindlmarkt was a tremendous success," CPRST Executive Director Nathan Anderson shared.

"In spite of the wet conditions, we experienced incredible growth in attendance.

"I could not be more proud of our team and the support we experienced from the mayor, Cullman City Council and our Parks Board. We are looking forward to growing the market next year."

Many local vendors made their wares available in their wooden huts, an homage to German Christmas markets, including Brickyard Meats and Leldon's Wooden Arts.

Crafters and vendors from other areas made the trip to Cullman to participate in Christkindlmarkt as well.

A favorite of the children's activities was the interactive snow globe which enabled the youngsters to throw and play in artificial snow.

Face painting, penning letters to Santa Claus and creating Christmas ornaments and other memory making activities were enjoyed.

Cullman City Schools central office becomes living art exhibit

Staff Reports
Contributor

CULLMAN, Ala. — The Cullman City Schools central office in downtown Cullman will turn into a building-sized art exhibit on Tuesday, Dec. 13, from 4-6 p.m.

The Cullman City Schools Art Projection Mapping presentation will be continually projecting student artwork on the south side of the Cullman City Board of Education building, with parents and community members able to drive by and see the artwork from the street. The project is a way to highlight the talented young artists at all five city schools.

Art teachers submitted artwork that showcases an array of mediums including charcoal, watercolor, color pencil, crayons and acrylic paint.

Viewers will see creation techniques such as collages, photography, watercolor and printmaking.

Art remains an essential piece of the puzzle for Cullman City Schools, helping children with the development of motor skills, language skills, creativity, motivation and concentration.

"Superintendent Kyle Kallhoff and his staff are always looking for opportunities to showcase the fantastic abilities of Cullman City students whether it be academic, athletic or artistic achievements," Cullman City Schools' Lindsay Brannon said.

"We thought it would be a fun, festive way to highlight the artistic achievements of CCS students.

"We plan to continue highlighting various achievements through projection mapping at each of our remaining Board meetings."

Alabama man brings Pearl Harbor/Day of Infamy Flag back to Washington

Staff Reports
Contributor

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Bryan Morgan of Birmingham came to Washington Monday, Dec. 12, on a special mission. Back in 1941, his father, Earl Morgan of Cullman, was a page in the United States House of Representatives. On Dec. 8, 1941, President Franklin Roosevelt came to the House Chamber where he gave his Day of Infamy speech (the day after the attack on Pearl Harbor) and asked Congress to declare war on Japan.

Earl Morgan, knowing what a historic day this was, lowered the flag that was flying outside, above the chamber, and saved it. He brought it back to Alabama with him, where it has been ever since. His son, Bryan decided it needed to be in the historic collection of the House of Representatives. So, Congressman Robert Aderholt, R-Alabama, arranged for it to be taken into the collection. In exchange, the United States House of Representatives gave Mr. Morgan the flag that flew over the House today, Dec. 8, 2022. (There was not a flag flying over the chamber on the day of the Pearl Harbor attack. It was a Sunday, so the House was not in session.)

Members of the Alabama House Delegation joined Aderholt and Mr. Morgan in unfurling the historic flag one more time outside the House Chamber. Congresswoman Debbie Dingell from Michigan also joined them, because her late husband, Congressman John Dingell, was a page with Earl Morgan back in 1941.

"I asked the congressmen today, and they were both Republicans and Democrats, to remember that spirt of unity that the country had, Dec. 8, 1941, to defeat an enemy, foreign or domestic," said Bryan Morgan.

"Said Municipal Site Plan will be paid for out of alcohol funds and terms and conditions of agreement are made a part of this resolution upon execution."

Scams (from Front)

Lauren Estes
lauren@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. — The Cullman Police Department (CPD) said residents need to be extra vigilant to avoid scams throughout the holiday season.

CPD Public Relations Officer Adam Clark offered several ways to make sure calls you receive and items you're purchasing are legitimate.

"There are scams out there where a fraudulent website, almost identical to the legitimate website, is created," Clark said.

"These sites usually offer gifts at a discounted rate; don't fall for prices that are too good to be true.

"Make sure you are buying from a legitimate website."

Clark said although there is typically more kindness and give-back type events during the holidays, make sure the events you're giving to are in fact, real.

"Although this is the 'season of giving,' make sure you are giving to a legitimate charity," he said.

"Look for local causes such as the Cullman Police Department's Shop with a Cop, The Cullman County United Way, other options where you can see your donations going to, etc."

Clark also cautioned residents to be on the lookout for check scams.

"This time of year, we have a rise in fraudulent check scams/fraudulent job scams," he said.

"A person might be asked to be a secret shopper and receive a check as payment. This is most likely a scam, and the check will be returned as fraudulent."

For questions about a scam or to report one, contact your local law enforcement agency.

VINEMONT, Ala. — Vinemont High School (VHS) scored a historic win on Friday, Dec. 9, at the University of Alabama at Huntsville's (UAH) Innovative System Project for the Increased Recruitment of Emerging STEM Students (InSPIRESS) Division B competition.

The only all-girls team competing in the NASA-funded high school STEM competition, VHS Team RHAD "won the awards for Online Outreach, Payload Concept Proposal (the written paper component of the competition), Open House (a poster session) and the overall first place trophy for the division. The team was the only all-girls team in the competition as well as the second smallest team and won the most awards out of any team in the competition," noted Aubrey Savery of UAH's STEM Projects Advancing Research & Collaboration (SPARC) Lab division of the Systems Management and Production Center (SMAP).

"InSPIRESS is a UAH run, NASA-funded high school design competition," Savery explained. "Teams compete to design conceptual scientific payloads to travel to different locations in the solar system. This year, as part of the ARISE Mission, the teams designed payloads to investigate Europa, a Galilean moon of Jupiter. The teams are also tasked with completing online and in-person outreach activities to engage their communities in STEM and space exploration."

VHS InSPIRESS Sponsor Shannon Bridges shared, "The team was presented with the ARISE mission from UAH. ARISE stands for autonomous research investigating the surface of Europa. The team had to pick a science objective that they wanted to study and they chose the Rhadamanthys Lineae.

"The team wanted to look at the mineral composition of the lineae, depth of the water ice, radiation and soil erosion. This research would look for life-supporting elements and if organisms were found how they are able to live in an extremely cold environment and not be affected by the radiation."

From there, Bridges said, her students took the wheel and began their mission.

"The girls had to come up with a team name, design the payload, write a scientific paper about their mission, complete online outreach through social media and complete activities to our Vinemont community that discussed and promoted our mission to Europa," said Bridges.

"The girls decided on Team RHAD (Researching soil erosion, heat flow, amount of water ice, and discovering mineral composition). Their slogan for the semester was Let's Think RHADically because they had to think outside the box to complete their mission and design process."

SHANNON BRIDGES

She continued, "Their payload name in Boeotia after Greek Mythology. It is made up of three payloads. The larger payload will house the major instruments and will land inside the Rhadamanthys Lineae. The two smaller payloads will land on the outside of the lineae and measure the depth of water ice.

"They had five social media platforms that they used to inform their audience about their payload design and outreach.

"They also completed six community events which included bottle rockets, straw rockets, coke and mentos, ice cream, liquid nitrogen and design a rocket."

The InSPIRESS competition began approximately 14 years ago and Vinemont High School has had an InSPIRESS team for 12 years.

Bridges said proudly, "Out of the 14 years, this is the first all-girls team to win. Team RHAD won outreach evaluation (social media), Payload Concept Proposal (scientific Paper), Open House Session (about our outreach) and the Overall Winner for their division."

The competition provided the high school students the opportunity to further research and explore STEM fields, the value of teamwork and the power of presentation when presenting their research and design to the country's finest engineers at NASA.
