Kid Rock, Nickelback, Hank Williams Jr. to headline Rock the South 2025

Staff Reports
Contributor

CULLMAN, Ala. — Peachtree Entertainment on Tuesday announced that Kid Rock, Nickelback and Hank Williams Jr. will headline Rock the South June 19-21, 2025, in Cullman.

"Known as The Biggest Party In The South, Pepsi Rock the South will once again bring together fans to celebrate music, community, and tradition. Celebrating its 13th year, this iconic festival is a tribute to Cullman and the values of small-town America," said a media release.

Additional artists will include Three Doors Down, Gavin Adock, Treaty Oak Revival, Ole 60, Shenandoah, Clay Walker, Vincent Mason, Bayker Blankenship, Ty Myers, Hudson Westbrook, Them Dirty Roses, Cameron Whitcomb and Dee Jay Silver.

"We're really looking forward to hitting the road and visiting some amazing towns, especially in places we've never played before. There's something special about connecting with fans in these communities, and we're ready to bring our best and truly rock the country. Can't wait to see you all out there!" said Michael Kroeger of Nickelback.

"This festival has been bringing the people of Cullman together for incredible music and unforgettable experiences for over a decade, driving significant economic impact for local businesses, as well as supporting nonprofit organizations throughout Alabama," said Shane Quick, senior promoter & partner of Peachtree Entertainment. "Since 2012, Rock The South has given over $1.5 million back to our area charities."

In 2024, Rock the South raised more than $75,000 for local Alabama-based and regional charities, including Bethsadia Volunteer Fire Department, Brooks' Place, the North Alabama Agriplex, Cullman Caring for Kids, Cullman County Imagina- » PAGE 5

Duke, Freeman, Clemons sworn in for new terms

Cullman County Commission Chairman Jeff Clemons (left) was sworn in for a new term by Cullman County Sheriff Matt Gentry on Wednesday, Nov. 13, 2024.

CULLMAN, Ala. — On Wednesday, Nov. 13, two Cullman County commissioners and the chairman were sworn in for their new terms in office. District 3 Commissioner Kelly Duke and District 4 Commissioner Corey Freeman were sworn in by Cullman County District Judge Chad Floyd. Chairman Jeff Clemons was sworn in by Cullman County Sheriff Matt Gentry.

Shortly afterward, an organizational meeting was held.

"The reason we have the organizational meeting is that eight days after the (Nov. 5 General) election, by law, the commission has to meet to organize, set their schedule, meetings, go over rules and procedure...," said Cullman County Administrator John Bullard.

Freeman was elected for a second term and said he has plans for Smith Lake's Big Bridge.

"We've got some major projects such as Big Bridge on County Road 222, and that's a major project. It's probably about a $25 million project that I'm passionate about and I am working on every day," he said.

Freeman said he'd also like to see changes to how the gas tax is distributed. "Gas tax is funded by population not road miles. Cullman gets very little gas tax because we only have 90,000 citizens. Jefferson County gets the majority of the gas tax, because they are the largest county of citizens. That being said, we have more road miles that we maintain than Jefferson County, so the funding doesn't add up."

Fundraiser (from Front)

CULLMAN, Ala. — Sips n Strokes Cullman and Cullman County DHR will host their second annual fundraiser at Goat Island Brewing on Saturday, Nov.16, starting at 1 p.m. Proceeds from the event will benefit children served by Cullman County DHR. This year's event will feature a door hanger painting class, allowing participants to create a festive door hanger while supporting Cullman children in need.

The event is organized by Sips n Strokes Cullman, and owner Emily Bussman will guide painters through creating either a "Merry & Bright" or "Let it Snow" door hanger. Bussman shared her enthusiasm for the event, saying, "Sips n Strokes is proud to be a part of serving the community through fundraisers throughout the year!"

Participants can enjoy all that Goat Island Brewing has to offer during the class, including a range of drinks available for purchase. Registration is $55 per person, and sign-ups are open until Friday evening through the Sips n Strokes website at https://sipsnstrokescullman.rezclick.com.

Amy Oliver, family preservation supervisor for Cullman County DHR, expressed the impact of community support, sharing, "The kids we serve deserve to experience the same magic on Christmas morning as every other child does. The families we serve often find themselves down on their luck for a multitude of reasons, none of which are the fault of their children.

"We can't make sure that these children have the same Santa experience as every other child on our own, it takes a village and what a fun Christmas event for our village to participate in!"

Building on the success of last year's event, which saw a great turnout and enthusiastic participants, organizers hope to make this fundraiser an annual tradition, further enabling the support of Cullman children in need.

For more information about the DHR fundraiser, contact Sips n Strokes Cullman at 256-338-6333 or cullman@sipsnstrokes.com. Goat Island Brewing is located at 1646 John H Cooper Dr. SE in Cullman.

Vinemont splits season openers against Madison County

Sammy Confer
sammy@cullmantribune.com

VINEMONT, Ala. — Vinemont tipped off its season at home against Madison County Monday night and split a pair of varsity matchups against the Tigers. Four quarters weren't enough to decide the outcome of the girls' game, and Vinemont was able to come away with the 52-51 overtime win. In the boys' game, a big second half from the Tigers allowed them to pull away from the Eagles 77-54.

Vinemont 52 - Madison County 51 (Varsity Girls (OT)

A steal and a layup by Reagan Robinson got Vinemont on the scoreboard first, then a floater by Caroline Miller and a short jumper by Morgan Flanagan gave the Lady Eagles an early 7-2 lead. Madison County quickly tied the game up at seven, but Robinson broke the tie with four straight points, including a three from the left corner, to give Vinemont an 11-7 lead. The Lady Eagles took an 11-8 lead into the second period.

The Lady Tigers tied the game up at 11 to start out the second quarter, but a rebound and putback by Robinson made it 13-11.

A pair of Miller free throws gave the Lady Eagles a 15-12 lead. After Madison County tied it up at 15, Flanagan drilled a trey, and Addison Holcomb put in a basket down low to make it 20-15, but the Lady Tigers drilled a pair of late threes to give them a 21-20 lead at the half.

Vinemont got off to a quick start to the third quarter, as baskets by Carley Stephens, Vayda Yarbrough, and Miller gave them a 26-21 lead. The Lady Tigers scored five straight points to tie the game up at 26, but the Lady Eagles finished the quarter out strong. A three from the right wing by Miller, plus a pair of late treys by Flanagan saw them take a 36-29 lead into the fourth quarter.

Madison County scored the first five points of the quarter to cut it to 36-34. A pair of Holcomb free throws kept Vinemont's lead at four at 38-34, then things would get crazy after that. The Lady Tigers went on an 8-0 run, which included scoring five points in just a few seconds, to take a 42-38 lead with less than a minute to go in the game.

Vinemont picked the perfect time to get their first basket of the quarter, as Stephens banked in a big three from the right wing to trim it to just a one-point game.

Madison County split their free throws on its next possession, and the Lady Eagles capitalized on that opportunity in a big way, as Holcomb hit the game-tying basket to tie things up at 43. The game ended up going into overtime.

The Lady Tigers got out to a 46-43 lead to start out the extra period, but Flanagan drilled a pair of big threes to give Vinemont a 49-46 lead.

Madison County tied it up on a trey of their own. Flanagan hit the biggest shot of the game from the right corner to give the Lady Eagles a 52-49 lead.

A pair of Lady Tiger free throws cut it to 52-51, but Vinemont was able to hold on to get the win in its season opener 52-51.

Flanagan finished with a game-high 20 points for Vinemont, and 15 of those points came in the second half and overtime. Miller finished with nine points. Robinson added eight points. Stephens collected seven points, and Holcomb posted six points.

Madison County 77 - Vinemont 54 (Varsity Boys)

Bryson Bush scored the first five points of the game for Vinemont as they got out to a 5-4 lead. Back-to-back steals and layup by Gee Flores and Colton Gillis gave the Eagles a 9-6 lead. Madison County scored the next five points to take an 11-9 lead. A late three by E.J. Sharpe and a basket by Cheston Wilhite saw them get the lead right back at 15-11, and Vinemont would take a 15-13 lead into the second period.

Sam Marsh drilled a wide-open three from the left corner to stretch the Eagle lead to 18-13 to start out the quarter. A trey by the Tigers on the other end cut it to 19-17, but Gavin Parr scored the next seven points for Vinemont, as that gave them a 26-22 lead.

A steal and a layup by Flores made it a 28-25 game late in the first half, but a pair of late baskets by Madison County saw them take a 29-28 lead into the locker room.

The Tigers carried that momentum over into the second half, as they scored the first seven points of the third quarter, to push their lead to 36-28. Gillis stopped the bleeding with a trey from the left corner. Later on, Sharpe and Flores each added a three of their own to cut it to 41-37.

A basket by Gillis made it a 42-39 game, but five straight points by Madison County gave them a 47-39 lead. Wilhite put in a basket in the paint to trim it to a six-point game at 47-41, but a 7-0 run by the Tigers pushed their lead to double digits at 54-41. A Gillis three cut it to 54-44, but the Tigers would quickly stretch their lead to 61-45 going into the fourth quarter.

SAMMY CONFER/THE CULLMAN TRIBUNE

Vinemont's Morgan Flanagan led the Lady Eagles with 20 points in their 52-51, overtime win against Madison County Monday night.

A three-point play by Preston Lee made it a 63-48 game, but Madison County scored the next 10 points to push their lead to 73-48. Vinemont got baskets from Will Conquest and Banks Borwick, but the deficit was too much for the Eagles to overcome, as they ended up falling to the Tigers, 77-54.

Gillis led the way for Vinemont with 10 points. Flores, Parr, and Bush each added seven, and Sharpe chipped in with six points.

Vinemont will travel to play St. Bernard Friday.

Addison Lady Bulldogs drop season opener to Corner

Todd Walker
Tribune Correspondent

ADDISON, Ala. — The Addison Lady Bulldogs tipped off their season at home against the 5A Corner Lady Yellow Jackets Monday night and lost in a hard-fought game 44-40. Even though the Ladies from Addison dropped the game, there was plenty of reason for optimism for the upcoming season.

The first period opened with both teams struggling to find their rhythm. It was after all Corner's second game and Addison's season opener. In a slow paced back and forth period, Addison took the period 8-6. Addison was led by Lauryn Cunningham and Gracie Roberts who nailed a three pointer each. Katie Barrett had 3 rebounds, and the diminutive Roberts had 3 as well. Corner was led by their do all everything guard Adalyn Owens with 4 points. Kinley Willis led the Lady Jackets with 3 rebounds.

The second period was as close as the first with neither team being able to pull away from the other. Addison would score and Corner would answer right back.

The period ended with both teams notching 12 points to give Addison the close 20-18 lead at the half. Roberts and Barrett each tallied 4 points for the Lady Bulldogs while Barrett grabbed 4 more boards. Corner's Owens kept the Lady Jackets close by score 7 of their 12 points. Owens also had 3 rebounds to go with her points.

The third period had Corner winning it 11-9 and they did this by outrebounding Addison in the period 10-7.

Most of Corner's points were of the second chance variety. Owens led with 6 points while teammate Maddie Beavers tossed in a trey. Owens grabbed another 3 rebounds. Addison was led by Ava Bartlett's 3 pointer. Addison's Karson Wyatt and Barrett led the Dawgs in rebounding with 2 each. Going into the fourth and final period, the game was all knotted up at 29.

The fourth period was an exciting one as Corner actually built up a six-point lead at 38-32 with Willis and Beavers nailing a 3 pointer each. With the clock standing at 4:27 Corner had the lead and the ladies from Addison responded with back-to-back treys. Addison's Cunningham started it and then Wyatt drained the second one to tie it up at 38 with three minutes to go in the game.

Unfortunately, the Lady Yellow Jackets put the clamps on Addison and the Lady Bulldogs could only score two more points in the final three minutes of the game. Corner dropped in 6 points which led to the final score of 44-40.

Addison drops to 0-1 while Corner moves to 1-1.

Addison Head Coach Bailey Boland said, "There were definitely some things that we can improve on, but this was our first game," Boland said. "I believe that we played better in the second half than we did the first and we need to get into basketball shape. I am pleased with our overall effort, and I know once we get to bond more as a team, we will improve overall."

Unofficial stats

Addison was led in scoring by Cunningham with 11, Barrett had 10 and Roberts with 7. Addison was led in rebounds by Barrett with 13, Wyatt 10 and Emma Cleghorn had 7. Addison was led in assists by Roberts with 5 and Cunningham with 4. Cunningham led in steals with 2.

Corner was led in scoring by Owens with a game high 19. Beavers had 10 and Jolee Weathers with 6. Corner was led in rebounds by Willis with 12, Owens with 7 and Laura Boackle with 6.

Wallace State Cross Country teams place 3rd, 4th at NJCAA Championships

Special to The Cullman Tribune

HANCEVILLE, Ala. — The Wallace State Community College Cross Country teams made strong showings this weekend at the National Junior College Athletic Association DII Cross Country Championships, competing in the largest fields of competitors in both meets. The men finished on the podium in third place and the women finished fourth, a best for both teams. The day before the race, first-year head coach Tony Crider was named the NJCAA Central Region Men's and Women's Coach of the Year.

In the men's race, sophomore Luke Kennedy of Huntsville earned All-American status after finishing 10th overall with a time of 25:46.1, about 32 seconds after the top finisher in the 8K race.

Freshmen Anthony Tyler of Fort Payne and Daniel Leija of Albertville finished the race in 26th and 27th place, with times of 26:17.8 and 26:18.2, respectively. Sophomore David Robles of Springville (34th, 26:34.4), freshman Harper Branscome of Muscle Shoals (36th, 26:36.4), freshman Carson Masterson of Hatton (37th, 26:36.8) and freshman Elliot Denard of Springville (39th, 26:39.5) rounded out the field of Wallace State runners. The DII NJCAA Men's Cross Country Championship saw 315 runners competing in the race held in Richmond, Va.

Sophomore Eden Brumer of Fort Thomas, Ky., led the WSCC women's cross country team, finishing 27th among a field of 317 runners in the 5K race, with a time of 19:43.3. Freshman Raegan Parris of Bremen was not far behind at 29th, with a time of 19:44.4.

Sophomores Grace Gosline of Arab, (41st, 19:57.3), Abigale Vega of Fort Payne (53rd, 29:19.1), Claire Deaton of Madison (61st, 20:28.4) and Ivy Edge of Eva (66th, 20:33.9) and freshman Bernarda Tizapa-Robles of Cullman (104th, 21:20.09) rounded out the field for Wallace State runners.

WSCC

Wallace State Community College's men's cross country team made it to the podium at the National Junior College Athletic Association DII Men's Cross Country Championship, finishing in third place behind Lansing Community College and Des Moines Area Community College. The third-place finish is their best finish in the national tournament.

"It takes the whole coaching staff, managers and team to do something like this," said Crider.

"I'm extremely proud of the commitment and discipline these athletes have shown through several months of training and competition."

Crider is hopeful for the future of the teams and their motivation for next season.

"I think the experience and improvements they have made each year have given them a taste of what it's like to win," he said.

"And in the years to come, I would hope they take this and move forward towards an eventual national championship for both teams."

Wallace State Machine Tool Technology students fabricate hardware for NASA

Special to The Cullman Tribune

HANCEVILLE, Ala. — Wallace State Machine Tool Technology/CNC students recently fabricated hardware for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) to send to the International Space Station, providing them with valuable hands-on experience and enhancing their resumes as they pursue careers in machining and manufacturing.

Through a partnership with NASA's High Schools United with NASA to Create Hardware (HUNCH) program, Wallace State students have been tasked with machining hardware items, such as a pusher plate, which will have real-world applications in space.

The program emphasizes precision and quality, as these components will undergo rigorous testing to meet NASA's ambitious standards for space flight. Throughout the process, students learn about NASA's quality assurance protocols and the importance of thorough safety documentation, making them responsible for producing work of the highest quality.

Wallace State students' precision and craftsmanship have garnered praise from NASA, as their work on key components for satellite deployers will soon have a real-world impact in space. CubeSats, a class of nanosatellites, are cube-shaped research spacecrafts. These small satellites are launched into Earth's orbit from the International Space Station using specialized deployers, which includes the hardware fabricated by Wallace State students. Bill Gibson, hardware support specialist for the NASA HUNCH program, highlighted the importance of the students' contributions and commended their ability to meet NASA's rigorous standards.

"Wallace State Community College's Machine Tool Technology program recently delivered 20 parts to the NASA HUNCH program to be used in the assembly of miniature satellite deployers used to launch CubeSats into Earth's orbit from the International Space Station. The CubeSat Deployer is a 32-inch-long square tube loaded with a 50-inch cube-shaped satellite loaded inside. The 20 parts Wallace State produced are called the pusher plate and it is the critical internal component that pushes the CubeSat down the 32-inch-long tube and into space," said Gibson.

"Wallace State had 100 percent of these parts pass the rigorous inspection required by NASA, which will receive a special plating in Houston before being used in the assembly of CubeSats. Wallace States Machine Tool Technology instructors and students are to be commended for taking on this very difficult task and for doing such an excellent job. On behalf of the NASA HUNCH program, we offer a huge thank you."

This partnership provides Wallace State students with an unparalleled opportunity to gain practical experience in their field while building their confidence and exploring potential careers in machining, engineering and other STEM disciplines. Wallace State's Machine Tool Technology/CNC Program boasts a strong track record of graduate success, with high placement rates in area industries.

This collaboration with NASA HUNCH is expected to enhance students' skills and further solidify the program's reputation for producing highly qualified machinists.

Wallace State Machine Tool Technology Department Chair Justin Burnett emphasized how this collaboration benefits students by offering hands-on experience and insights into industry standards.

"We are proud to be one of the first college programs to partner with HUNCH, offering our students an extraordinary opportunity to work on high-level, real-world projects that go beyond typical school assignments," said Burnett.

"This experience not only sharpens their skills but also prepares them for success in the workforce with a deeper understanding of industry expectations."

Those who successfully complete the Machine Tool Technology/CNC Program at Wallace State earn multiple short-term certificates, an Associate of Applied Science (AAS) Degree, National Institute for Metalworking Skills (NIMS) certifications and National Coalition of Certification Centers (NC3) Precision Measuring certifications, along with countless hours of hands-on experience needed to succeed in the machining field.

Wallace State recently received a $50,000 grant from the Gene Haas Foundation to provide scholarships to students in the CNC program, continuing to support the education and training of future machinists.

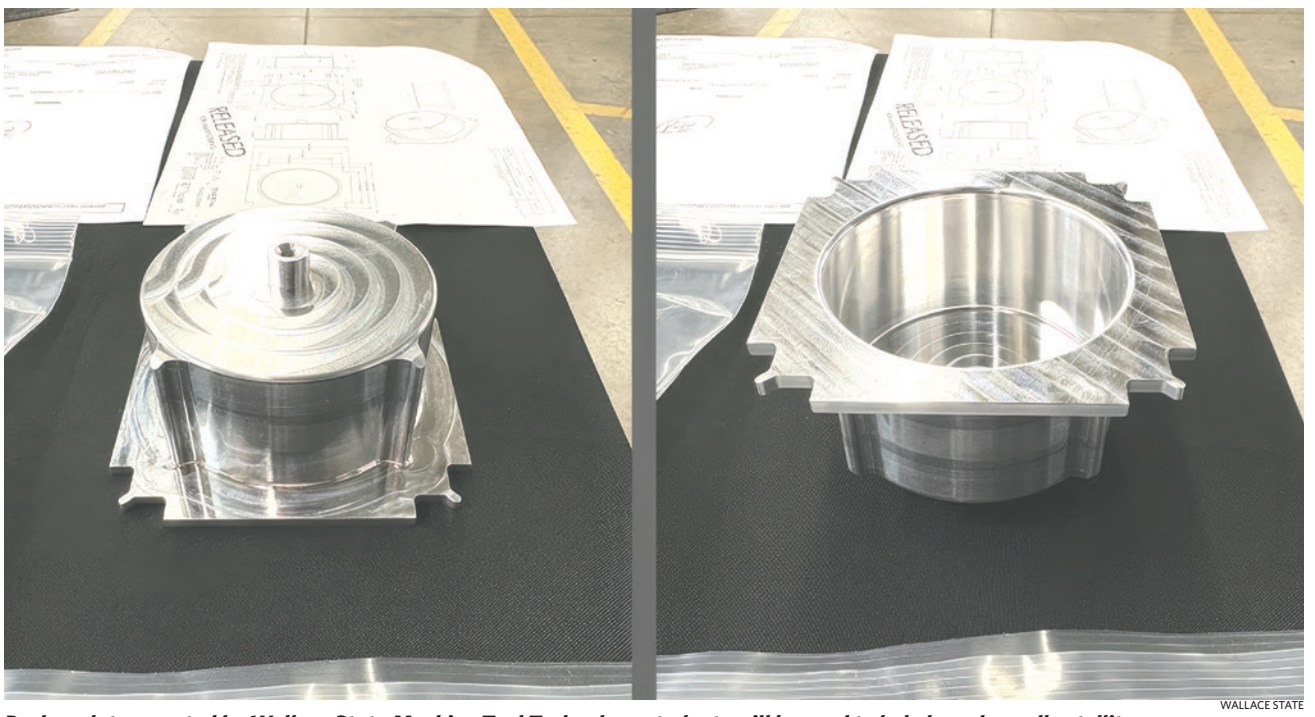

The college remains committed to addressing the skills gap in the manufacturing industry by providing students with the resources and opportunities needed to excel in their careers.

The future looks bright for Wallace State students, who are not only working on projects that will make their way into space but who are also securing the skills and experience needed to thrive in Alabama's manufacturing sector and beyond.

The WSCC Machine Tool Technology program will host an open on Tuesday, Nov. 19 from 5 to 7 p.m., in the Herb Black Machining Building on the Hanceville campus.

The event is open to anyone interested learning more about the program, which offers both day and evening class options.

For more information about the Wallace State Machine Tool Technology program, contact Justin Burnett at 256-352-8235 or email machinetool@wallacestate.edu.

CULLMAN, Ala. — Veterans with Christ hosted the inaugural Fishing with Veterans on Veterans Day. The goal was to connect veterans with new friends and just enjoy a day of fishing. The event took place at Smith Lake Park, where friends and family fished and even took boat rides.

Guests had plenty of refreshments from a food truck, and enjoyed entertainment featuring Clay Dye (stage name "Juice") and his friend "Crumb." Juice, a veteran, said, "We are really excited about doing something for vets. There is not a lot for vets, so going fishing with vets and doing a little music is cool. We are playing a little live music, a little country, Christian and Southern rock. Taking the vets fishing and letting everybody just have a day is a blast."

Outreach programs such as 13 Life Ministries and Veterans with Christ had tables set up beside the stage for veterans in need.

Founder of the fishing event, Zack Ingram, spoke about his creative idea of reaching out to veterans, saying, "Me and our local church group, Veterans with Christ, wanted to reach out to as many veterans as we could. What better way than to teach them how to fish and ask locals if they wanted to bring out their bass boat and their knowledge to come show and teach the skill of fishing here on Smith Lake. Ten or 15 boats said they would love to come out. The DJ came out for free on his time, provided the music and entertainment. A food truck provided the smash burgers, hot dogs and all kinds of refreshments."

Veterans with Christ is a community group from Desperation Church that reaches out to veterans in need of help or friendship. Veterans in need can contact group leader Larry Burns at 205-842-6541.
