CULLMAN, Ala. — A coastal addition has just expanded Cullman's culinary scene. Half Shell Oyster House officially opened its 15th location, its sixth in Alabama, on Wednesday, June 25, at Cotton Creek Warehouse, bringing Gulf Coast cuisine, a New Orleans-inspired atmosphere and a strong focus on Southern hospitality to downtown.

The restaurant was initially launched in Gulfport, Mississippi, in 2009. Half Shell has steadily expanded throughout the Southeast, growing from a single-location seafood restaurant to a popular dining place across the region. Cullman's location joins the brand's footprint in Mississippi, Louisiana and Alabama.

"We're really excited to be here," said General Manager Kayla North. "The energy downtown and the unique setting, with the connected brewery and venue, made this a perfect fit."

Known for its signature Gulf oysters and scratch-made dishes, Half Shell's menu features dishes like the Redfish Orleans — blackened redfish topped with a house-made Orleans sauce, jumbo lump crab meat, and parmesan cheese. Other selections include hand-cut steaks, pasta, chicken dishes and hearty burgers.

Marketing Director Lauren Pitts emphasized that quality and care are at the heart of the restaurant's identity. "We are a from-scratch concept, so that's really what sets us apart from most restaurants. We put a lot of care, a lot of love, a lot of attention to detail in our food, which is why our guests, I think, love it."

Guests can also expect a lively bar menu featuring handcrafted cocktails, such as the fan-favorite Pink Pearl Martini. Designed to reflect the charming ambiance of the French Quarter, the dining space is warm and inviting, with an open oyster grill adding a level of excitement to the experience and offering a close-up view of the action.

In preparation for the official opening, a whole team of certified trainers from Half Shell's home office in Gulfport spent several weeks working with local hires.

"We have about 25 to 35 trainers on-site, » PAGE 5

Karen 'Kay' Woods, 71
Karen Kay Woods, 71, passed away peacefully of natural causes at her home in Big Lake, Alaska, on June 25, 2025. She was a devoted mother, grandmother, friend, and unapologetic adventurer whose light, laughter, and spirit touched everyone she met. She was preceded in death by: Her parents, Ardis Robert Briscoe and Agnes Jewel (Johnson) Briscoe, Sister, Gladys Ann Blair, Her first husband, Allan Freeman (1979), Her husband and soulmate, Frank H. Woods (2021) She is survived by her sons: Philip (Nikki) Johnson, Anthony (Diane) Freeman, and Jonathan (Christy) Freeman. Granddaughters: Pyper J. Johnson, Rylee G. Johnson, Kristina Freeman (Amanda Ellis), Lexi A. (Austin) Franklin, Devan A. (Arick) Tanner, Satin L. Wilkerson, and Skylynn (Kimberly) Parker. Grandsons: Dalton A. Freeman, Wyatt B. Johnson, and Ryder D. Johnson Great-grandchildren: Divina Tanner, Dante Tanner La'Kiah Wilkerson, BreLynn Parker, MadiLynn Parker, Jace Henry, Eliza Kay Henry, and Baby Franklin still on the way, as well as a host of nieces, nephews, beloved chosen family, and friends. Born in Birmingham, Alabama, Kay moved to West Point as a young child and spent her early years there. As a young woman, she danced her way through local competitions as a semi-professional roller skate dancer—graceful, spirited, and always in motion, a theme that carried through her life. Kay dedicated much of her professional career to supporting families through Head Start and Migrant Head Start programs in North Alabama. She had a true servant's heart and poured her energy into helping children and parents thrive. In 1999, Kay moved to Washington to be with Frank H. "Sam" Woods, the man she described as her soulmate. The two shared a deeply loving marriage filled with laughter, road trips, and countless celebrations. They returned to West Point in 2007 and remained there until Sam's passing in 2021. After his death, Kay relocated to Alaska to live with her youngest son and his family—surrounded by moose, mountains, snow, and everything wild and free. She often joked that she had become a mountain woman in the end. Kay had a deep love for animals—except maybe snakes—and a passion for travel. She explored nearly every state in the U.S., with only Hawai'i left on her list. Her favorite destinations included the Smoky Mountains, Yellowstone, and, ultimately, Alaska. She was the life of every party and made every holiday an event. Halloween and the Fourth of July were her favorites, and her open-door policy meant anyone who showed up was welcomed like family. A true social butterfly, Kay's home was often a weekend-long gathering place full of music, stories, and laughter. She loved water—whether swimming, boating, or camping near it—and found peace in nature. She was a woman of strong opinions, unafraid to speak her mind, yet her faith remained steady throughout the many seasons of her life. And above all else, her grandchildren were the meaning she carried through everything. By far her favorite thing about Alaska was hearing someone in the house say, "The lights are out!" Knowing this meant she would once again get to step out and immerse herself in the beauty of the Northern Lights over her home. She left this world just as she would've liked- keeping us all up past our bedtimes, surrounded by her family, and holding the hands of her child and grandchild- she sailed off into the aurora under the midnight sun. A memorial service will be held at Moss Service Funeral Home with burial to follow at Ebenezer Baptist Church Cemetery in West Point (at a later date). In lieu of flowers, the family asks that donations be made in Kay's honor to the Alaska SeaLife Center. Donation Link for Alaska SeaLife Center: https://gofund.me/53b61dba Poem THE WORDS ON A TOMBSTONE Do practical things if you want your tombstone to read, "They were practical." Do what makes sense if you think it should say, "Their life made sense." Do what the world wants if you believe in the epitaph, "They did what the world wanted them to do." But if you want it to read, "They lived every second they were given."

CULLMAN, Ala. — Charles "Chuck" Shikle has announced his candidacy for Cullman City Council Place 1.

Below is Shikle's announcement, unedited and in full.

Charles "Chuck" Shikle for Cullman City Council – Place 1

After 25 years in law enforcement and service in the U.S. Army, I'm proud to announce my candidacy for Cullman City Council – Place 1.

Cullman is my home. My wife and I raised our two kids here — both graduates of Cullman High School — and I've spent my career protecting and serving this community.

I've worked in nearly every role in law enforcement, from patrol officer to SRO supervisor.

I've partnered with our firefighters and schools to keep our children safe.

I will support our small businesses — they're the backbone of our community.

Our community is growing and I believe that wise investments in our infrastructure are crucial to this growth. I'll work to make sure our public safety, schools, and roads grow with it — responsibly and with integrity.

I'd be honored to earn your vote for City Council – Place 1.

Cullman's Municipal Election will take place Aug. 26, 2025.

Whaley (from Front)

lauren@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. — Cullman County Sheriff's Office Director of Communications Lt. Chad Whaley, who has nearly three decades of law enforcement experience, announced his candidacy for sheriff Thursday morning.

Whaley said a lot of thought, discussion and a tremendous amount of prayer have gone into his decision to run for sheriff of Cullman County.

"Over the past 26-plus years, my career seems to have pointed me in this very direction," Whaley said. "In hindsight, seemingly every step of my career has helped prepare me to take this next step. I could not be more excited for the next chapter of my career."

He said his first nine years working in the jail and then on patrol helped lay the foundation for his future.

"The next 12 years as a school resource officer expanded my career exponentially," Whaley said. "Protecting the kids of this great county became my passion – my life. Our children will always be our greatest asset. From teaching in the classroom to protecting them at the school, it was without a doubt my calling."

Over the past 25 years, Whaley has trained hundreds of law enforcement officers as a defensive tactics instructor, as well as an active shooter response instructor for law enforcement.

"This training has not only been for members of the Cullman County Sheriff's Office, but for several agencies across the state," Whaley said. "At the same time, I was also able to expand my role as an instructor to the general public. I have trained thousands of citizens as a church safety instructor, an active shooter instructor, women's self-defense instructor, Citizens' Academy and Sheriff's Youth Leadership Coordinator, and firearms safety instructor. Schools, churches, businesses and any other gathering willing to listen to me, became havens for my presentations. I made it my mission to help, teach and protect as many of our citizens as I possibly could."

Since 2020, he took on a new role as a member of Sheriff Matt Gentry's command staff.

"As the director of communications, media and public relations have fallen to me," Whaley shared. "I have also been tasked as the training coordinator, where I am responsible for ensuring our deputies are some of the most highly trained law enforcement officers in the state. This includes locating and scheduling the necessary training, as well as managing the training budget. I have also continued to teach and instruct at every opportunity given to me.

"Most importantly, for more than a decade, I have had the pleasure of working hand in hand with Sheriff Matt Gentry. I believe in the path that Sheriff Gentry has put the Cullman County Sheriff's Office on, and I plan to keep the CCSO on the right course. The relationships with the community, the schools – the citizens, are what makes the Cullman County Sheriff's Office, and all of Cullman County, so unique and special. I have every intention of not only maintaining those relationships, but growing them.

"Leading a highly trained, dedicated and motivated sheriff's office paired with unrivaled support from the community will help to ensure that Cullman County remains the greatest county in all of Alabama."

The Cullman County sheriff's race will be part of the Primary Election held May 19, 2026, with the General Election slated for Nov. 3, 2026. Gentry will remain in office until January 2027.

Elections (from Front)

noah@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. — Cullman County voters face a more complex election cycle this year, with overlapping special elections and municipal contests scheduled for August. Cullman County Probate Judge Tammy Brown is urging all eligible voters to prepare early to avoid confusion and ensure their votes are counted accurately.

Although 2025 would have been a non-election year for county, state and federal races, two unexpected resignations changed that. Alabama House District 11 Rep. Randall Shedd and District 12 Rep. Corey Harbison both stepped down from their seats at different times, triggering two separate special elections.

Due to the timing of those resignations, the State House District 11 General Election is scheduled to take place on the same day as the local Municipal Elections — Tuesday, Aug. 26, 2025.

The State House District 12 Special Primary Election will take place Tuesday, July 15, 2025; the State House District 12 Special Primary Runoff Election on Tuesday, Aug. 12, 2025; and the State House District 12 Special General Election on Tuesday, Oct. 28, 2025.

"These special elections are district-based, not countywide," Brown said. "Voters need to make sure they know which district they live in."

Voters can verify their district and registration status by contacting the Cullman County Board of Registrars at 256-775-4750 or by visiting cullmancourts.org. Maps provided by the Legislature and available through the Probate Office offer a visual breakdown of current district boundaries.

Brown emphasized that only registered voters residing within a municipality are eligible to vote in that city or town's municipal election, regardless of county residency.

"Jurisdictional boundaries determine who can vote in municipal races," she said.

Adding to voter confusion this cycle are changes in polling locations. Voters who previously cast ballots at Hanceville City Hall or the Hanceville Civic Center will now vote at the Hanceville Senior Center for the State House District 11 General Election. Additionally, due to storm damage on June 7, the Kelley Community Center precinct has been temporarily moved to Friendship Baptist Church.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m.-7 p.m. on election days. Voters must bring an acceptable form of photo ID to the polls. Valid forms include a current or recently expired Alabama driver's license, U.S. passport, military ID, college ID from an Alabama institution, pistol permit with photo or various state and federal employee IDs. A full list is available on the County's website and at the courthouse.

No additional requests are needed to receive a special ballot.

"When you go to your polling location, the correct ballot will be given to you based on your registered district," Brown explained.

To keep voters informed, Brown's office is using multiple outreach methods, including her official Facebook page, signage at precincts and coordination with local media. She encouraged residents to review sample ballots ahead of time, which are available online at www.cullmancourts.org/elections.html, the Probate Office and at www.sos.alabama.gov/alabama-votes.

Election night results for both State House District Elections will be posted on the third floor of the Cullman County Courthouse.

Hanceville Fire & Rescue teaches families about fire safety

Camille Gibbs
camille@cullmantribune.com

HANCEVILLE, Ala. — Hanceville Fire & Rescue gave tips on fire safety and showered kids with water from the fire engine at the Shirley Burden Public Library on Wednesday, June 25. . Firefighters educated children and parents on smoke alarms and practicing fire escape drills at home. They also discussed "getting out and staying out" and explained which places in the yard were safe to stay in after escaping. Children were given hats and coloring books.

After their lesson, the children went outside and were cooled off by a shower of water from the department's fire engine. They were also given lunch.

Hanceville Fire & Rescue Station 1 is located at 119 Collins Ave. in Hanceville. Find the department on Facebook at www.facebook.com/HancevilleFireRescue.

making sure everyone is set up for success," said North.

"Our goal is to leave behind experts once the trainers head back home," added Pitts.

The restaurant sources its ingredients from Coast Foods Distribution, a company based in Mississippi. This allows Half Shell to control quality and consistency across all its locations.

For a touch of local flair, a collaboration with Goat Island Brewing is also on the horizon.

While details remain under wraps, the team promises a local twist that will bring the Half Shell experience outside of the restaurant's four walls.

The team sees Half Shell as a long-term player in Cullman's growing food scene.

"We want to be a go-to spot for date nights, celebrations or just a great meal out, and we want people to know the heart behind it.

"There's a whole team that really cares," said Pitts.

"We want to make sure that if you're looking for good food and Southern hospitality...we can be a part of that," said North.

BILLY BOB'S STORIES AND STUFF

We Made it to Rapid City but not rapidly

Jean and I had planned a mega road trip for the summer of 2020. The few remaining states on our bucket list of setting foot in all 50 states included North Dakota. When you live in Alabama, you don't go to North Dakota...unless...you are going to North Dakota. It simply is not on the way! We had everything mapped out and planned. We planned to fly up there and drive back. We bought our airline tickets, reserved a rental car, made the reservations and mapped out an itinerary. Then, you already know what happened in 2020. The Covid pandemic was one of the most unusual times in our lifetime. For most of that year, nobody went anywhere, including the Dakotas. We hardly left our own homes for months. We canceled our trip, got most of our money back and said, "We will go later." Little did we realize that "later" would be five years later.

When I say we finally made it to Rapid City but not rapidly, I'm not only talking about the five- year delay. I'm talking about one day that lasted longer than a day! Yes, I do realize that is not possible, but that day began for us at 5 a.m. (Central Time) on Tuesday morning and we finally got in bed around 2 a.m. (Mountain Time) Wednesday morning.

We spent about eight of those hours in an airport waiting for our connecting flight! Due to the weather, our flight was delayed seven times before it was finally canceled. They scheduled us for a new flight later that day, and it was then delayed four times. When I remembered the phrase "Good things come to those who wait," I knew we were going to have some more marvelous vacation!

Since this year was our 50th wedding anniversary, Jean and I decided to replan our trip to the Dakotas as a second honeymoon. We went to Panama City Beach for our first one. I'm not necessarily a beach guy...especially since the bottoms of my feet got blistered on that honeymoon trip. I know you just asked, "How do you blister the bottoms of your feet?" You do so by riding face down on an air mattress on the Gulf waves too long. So, we decided to go to the mountains for our second honeymoon, and to take our grandson Drew with us.

When we finally made it to Rapid City, we discovered that our luggage had not. The nice airport luggage guy scanned our baggage-claim ticket and told us our luggage was safe and sound... still sitting in the last airport. He told us it should arrive in about an hour and a half. I said, "I'll see you tomorrow morning."

Since I am a contact lens wearer and my case and solution were inside my checked bag, I then had a new problem. I have slept with contacts in before, but I was singing the Lionel Richie song, "Stuck on You," the next morning! Where do you find contact lens stuff at midnight? I found a Wal-Mart, and a drug store, but they and most everything else in Rapid City were closed. Much to my surprise and delight, the Circle K convenience store directly in front of our hotel was open and had exactly what I needed.

After a short night's sleep, I popped in my vision assistance, brushed my teeth with a paper towel and headed to pick up our luggage. We were then ready to begin our road trip through the Dakotas, as well as the eastern end of Montana and Wyoming. It did not disappoint! Please stay tuned for the rest of the story.

The Flag Goes By | By: Henry Holcomb Bennett (1863-1924)

Hats off!
Along the street there comes
A blare of bugles, a ruffle of drums,
A dash of color beneath the sky:
Hats off!
The flag is passing by!

Blue and crimson and white it shines,
Over the steel-tipped, ordered lines.
Hats off!
The colors before us fly;
But more than the flag is passing by.

Sea-fights and land-fights, grim and great,
Fought to make and to save the State:
Weary marches and sinking ships;
Cheers of victory on dying lips;

Days of plenty and years of peace;
March of a strong land's swift increase;
Equal justice, right and law,
Stately honor and reverend awe;

Sign of a nation, great and strong
To ward her people from foreign wrong:
Pride and glory and honor,--all
Live in the colors to stand or fall.

Hats off!
Along the street there comes
A blare of bugles, a ruffle of drums;
And loyal hearts are beating high:
Hats off!
The flag is passing by!
